Diok Trevellick is on the war-path again. "Labor and Money" is his theme now.

Secretary Sherman has advertised for purchase for the Government, $11,000,000 of six and five per cent. bonds.

The first Republican State delegation to the national convention comes from Pennsylvania, instructed to vote for Grant.

The Supervisors of the census have been appointed and the appointment confirmed by the Senate so that they can go to work promptly.

Mardi Gras carnival in New Orleans next Tuesday, Feb. 10. Are you going? It will cost only $30, round trip from Chicago.

Rumor says that Prof. Watson will assume the management of Lick observatory in California, and do his star gazing from that place in the future.

The total coinage at the United States Mint and branches for the last month was $9,576,700. Of this amount $2,450,000 was in standard silver dollars.

A bill has been introduced in congress for the reduction of the tariff on paper. Such a bill should it become a law, would be very apt to place the price of paper to where it was two months ago.

Russia is getting scared because of the additions being made to the German military forces, and has ordered her army reinforced by 150,000 men. Things begin to look considerably like war over there.

Tilden pledges himself to oppose the election of Gen. Grant for a third term, with all his mind, might and strength. It may be safely assumed that he will as vigorously oppose the election of any other Republican for a first term. Tilden is in the position of the fellow who forbade the bans at the wedding, because "he wanted the girl himself." - Pioneer Magnet.

Masonic emblems have been discovered in the foundation of the obelisk at Alexandria, Egypt, recently taken down for removal to New York under the pedestal on which it was set by the Romans. Drawings were made and the emblems preserved as they were found. This shows something of the age of this order.

Eleven millions, fourteen thousand, two hundred and sixty three dollars less, is the report of the treasury, for the public debt for January. It was his expectation to reduce the debt to $2,000,000,000 by the first day of February, but he failed by $784,240. This, however, will disappear during the present month, so that the next monthly statement will show the debt to be $2,000,000,000 or less. The reduction of the debt for January was the largest that has been made since 1872. There is a constant increase in the revenue of the country, the internal revenue for the last six months of 1879 being more than $3,000,000 greater than for a corresponding term in the year previous. Besides there was an increase in the customs receipts of $18,000,000 for the corresponding terms.

A DAY AT THE UNIVERSITY. On Tuesday of last week the members of the Michigan Press Association, after their preliminary meeting held in the Court House, at Ann Arbor, were conducted through the various departments of the State University, with President Angell to lead the van. There was a visit to the library where 28,000 volumes are crowded into a room that will accommodate about 60 students, while it should be of a capacity to accommodate at least 300. From there we went to the law lecture room, where Judge Cooley was lecturing to about 400 students on the subject of marriage. Our next visit was to the dental rooms, where about 60 students are at practical dentistry. Persons wanting work of this kind done can be accommodated here the simple cost of the material, and good work done. Although the work is done by students, it is under the supervision of an able Professor who is very careful that nothing should be improperly done. Next we visited the "Old School" hospital, where persons who have been treated for various complaints are kept under the care of good nurses until they are so far recovered as to be able to go their way in safety. In this department there is no charge for treatment, and the only cost a patient is subject to is for board and nurse fees—$5 per week—and medicines at actual cost. We then wandered our way to the Homeopathic college where we found Prof. Wilson lecturing to his class on the formation of the eye. He however discontinued his lecture and gave the association an impromptu on the inconvenience his department was being subject to, and the imaginary injuries being done them by the other departments of medicine. The work with this department was going on at a good rate, and it will be ready for occupation in a few weeks. The boiler room was the next place we visited. This building is built in the central portion of the large campus, and contains a series of large steam boilers that furnish heat for all of the other buildings by means of steam pipes. A hurried trip through the extensive museums gave the members an opportunity to hastily glance at a few of the many thousands of natural and artificial curiosities that are displayed here. One whole week could be spent with profit in this department. Next was a short visit to the capacious University hall where all general university entertainments are held. This room has a seating capacity of about 2,500 persons. We made our stop here short, but went thence to the laboratory where students have the privilege of actual experiment with all kinds of chemicals. We found in this building, also, an assaying department, where the young miner is prepared for his life in the mountain mines. Our next visit was in the upper lecture room in the medical college, where Prof. Ford gave us a lecture on anatomy of the heart, illustrating his lecture by a fresh subject which he had conveniently arranged on his revolving table, and with the heart to its immediate neighbors exposed to the plain view of the class and association. By way of a diversion, a few of our number, under the kind guidance of Prof. Dunster, took a short peep into the dissecting rooms. This, however, was made very brief. The next visit was to the lower lecture room immediately beneath the one mentioned above. Here we were entertained by a lecture on electric light by Prof. Langley, who has charge of this department. By the use of the powerful electric machine which requires the full power of an 18-horse engine to drive it, he gave us some practical illustrations of the older methods of lighting by electricity. From this apartment we repaired to an elaborate supper prepared in one of the large apartments by the faculty. This was followed by pleasant and pointed toasts by various members of the Association and President Angell. These were pleasantly interspersed with characteristic college songs by some of the "boys" who had been invited to be present. The festivities over, the Association repaired to the law lecture room where the remaining business of the Association was completed, and the several members commenced to think about the quickest method of reaching home, from which the greater part of them had been absent nearly twenty-four hours. The editor of the Record, however, stayed until the next day and attended clinic. This exercise was held in the upper lecture room of the medical college, and where all patients are taken here for the class for treatment. The first was a lady who came to be treated by Prof. Frothingham for cross-eye. The Professor, however, refused to operate because she could not remain in the hospital until entirely cured. His portion of the clinic included two surgical operations for diseases of the eye and one to remove a foreign substance from the ear of a little boy who was brought here for the class. Prof. McLean then took the class with his department of general surgery. Among his patients were one with swelling of the glands of the neck and which was pronounced an incurable case; a little boy with club feet, when a continuation of the treatment already commenced was recommended; a little boy who had been treated for a dislocated ankle; a little girl who was badly afflicted with ossification of the bones of the leg, arm, cranium and cheek. Her parents were in destitute circumstances and unable to pay the hospital fees, and consequently the only thing to be done with the case was to allow her to return to her home, probably to die. Each of the two professors last mentioned took occasion, during their lecture, to give vent to their feeling toward the Homeopaths.

Our visit to the University pointed out to us the following principal, and most pressing needs of the institution: 1st. The erection of a substantial fire-proof building for the library, and an appropriation of about $25,000 for the purchase of books. 2d. A set of free beds in the hospital for the accommodation of poor patients, like the little girl mentioned, who are not able to pay the fees. 3d. An eternal quietus to be placed upon the fight between the two departments of medicine, which is a curse not only to the schools themselves but the institution, and should be stopped at once. 4th. Some arrangements by which county superintendents of poor may send the pauper patients to the hospital for treatment, either at the expense of the county to which they belong or of the State at large, and in this manner render many of them self-supporting.

A fine commodious building is now being erected for the reception of Prof. Steere's collection of curiosities. There are now in attendance 1,415 students, all of whom are abundantly employed.

Notwithstanding an untimely down or fifteen occasionally find time to burn a few dry good boxes, or raise a fight with the police now and then, the remaining 1,400 are busy with their studies and escape the notoriety of their few mates. Withal this is the institution which, above all others, Michigan can justly be proud, and should not begrudge the miserable pittance required to make the necessary improvements and render the support needed.

CHANCE FOR A BUCHANAN COMPANY TO

BUCHANAN, Mich., Jan. 27, 1880. EDITOR RECORD, Dear Sir:—A good many friends and acquaintances have made inquiries to me about various matters pertaining to Colorado, its mining interests, and what they should do out there with a little money. Perhaps it will not be out of place for me to say a few words through the columns of the Record, with a few suggestions, etc.

Leadville is the focus, the great head center of the mining country. From thence, radiate in all directions and at various distances new and valuable mineral discoveries, and of a more or less permanent character, argentiferous or silver bearing ores, yet often yielding considerable gold. The city is of magic growth, and now contains an estimated population of thirty or thirty-five thousand. Many fine buildings grace its streets and nearly every branch of trade and business is there represented, but all is subservient to and dependent on the vast mining interests.

Hundreds of rich paying mines and twenty-five smelters are in constant operation night and day turning out the "bullion in bars and stacking it up like cord wood. Any man of spirit or enterprise going there to engage in trade or business of any kind is sure to drop into mining features of greater or less magnitude, such as he or she (some ladies make ventures too) think they can carry safely with the profits of their trade; or business, hiring the work done on their mines. Usually several persons join in buying a claim, sharing pro rata in the work of development. Then if it does not prove valuable the loss does not fall so heavily as if one tried to carry it alone, and if it turns out well it makes a good thing for all. Then each individual has an "absolute" tangible interest in the claim or mine—a one-half, one-fourth, one-eighth, one-fifteenth, or one-twentieth, as the case may be—according to the number interested and amount invested by each. A very different thing, and probably outcome vastly greater, than in buying an "interest" in stock in a mine or claim already valued at hundreds of thousands.

Everything had a beginning. Valuable mines or discoveries are bought in their infancy at very low figures, and such chances are occurring all the time, but great care, best judgment, knowledge of minerals, etc., are essential in making selection; then there is a prospect for a vast outcome and profit. Now I will suggest a plan for parties who wish to make an investment as a venture, yet do not feel like risking all they have by going out there themselves, leaving their homes and business to suffer by their absence for months or years. To be able to know how to act intelligently and with judgment, a long expensive schooling there is necessary, and everyone who goes there has the same to learn about mining, minerals, character of rock, different formations, etc. Hence the advantage, importance and economy of one representing many. I have business there, and of course shall return at my own expense, and having some experience, believe I could make good investments for any parties who will join together and put up some certain amount of money, and I will take an interest with them myself.

Persons investing in that way with me would not have to bear all of my expenses out there. Only such as actually incurred in examining claims for me, or mines which I proposed to buy for them, and deposit the money in the City of Niles, subject to the order of the Board of Supervisors, for the purpose of purchasing grounds in the City of Niles for the County Seat, and erecting the necessary buildings for county purposes, and the cost of the removal of the County Seat shall be determined by the vote of the people of said county as aforesaid.

A freight train broke in two near the depot. In backing up the cars came together, with such force as to slide one flat car over another, throwing both car-loads of Jackson light wagons to one side of the track, breaking several of them.

January was a very dull month for business. Feb. 2 the roads were in a condition that cordwood for the M. C. R. R. and bolts and logs for the mills began to arrive. It appeared quite lively. - IREMER.

Readers of standard books will be pleased to notice the great progress of The Literary Digest, which is being published by the AMERICAN BOOK EXCHANGE, New York. Among their books just issued, or nearly ready, are a very complete set of the Koran of Mahomet, complete, 28 cents; Macaulay's England in three volumes, $1.50; Milton's Poetical Works, complete, 50 cents; in the Annals of Biography, 12 volumes formerly published at $1.25 each, now issued in one volume for 50 cents; in Modern Classics, Vicar of Wakefield, Rasselas, Piccolini, Paul and Virginia, and Undine, all in one volume 50 cents; nicely illustrated green and ebony bound volumes, Arabian Nights, Robinson Crusoe, Pilgrim's Progress, Baron Munchausen and Gulliver's Travels, each 50 cents, and a book of humor and wisdom by the Author of Spangrow's papers; all in good and some in large type, and well and handsomely bound in cloth. Descriptive catalogues will be sent free on request.

Library of Universal Knowledge. Volume IV. of this great work, published by the AMERICAN BOOK EXCHANGE, New York, is ready January 15, and volume V. will be issued about ten days later. They have been delayed some days by the printing of the large editions of the previous three volumes and the other publications of the house, their facilities for manufacture having been taxed far beyond their capacity. Removing January 1st to the Tribune Building, and to the large building No. 26 Beckman and No. 18 Spruce street, where their facilities will enable them to manufacture from 5,000 to 8,000 volumes a day, the publishers expect to complete the entire work within the year, as announced. The volumes thus far issued being only the reprint of the last edition of the well-known Chambers' Encyclopaedia, nothing more need be said of them than that they are well printed and bound; that they are vastly more convenient than the usual unwieldy quarto or octavo and their price is cheap beyond all precedent. In fact, it is so that the uninitiated it is a mystery how so much can be given for a little money, but to the practical printer and bookbinder, who is the greatest element in modifying the cost of books is the number of buyers among whom the investment cost is to be distributed, the wonder would be if the books could be made for less than the price but that the number of buyers should be counted except by millions. Those who take pleasure in the dissemination of useful knowledge and choice literature will do well to give their influence an enterprise so altogether worthy. The publishers will send any quantity of descriptive catalogues, to those who may apply, for distribution among acquaintances.

Agents Victorious. At the International Dairy Fair, held in New York December, 1879, a committee of the most expert butter makers made the most careful tests of all the different Butter Colors. The result was the unanimous award of the only prize to Wells, Richardson & Co's Perfected Butter Color. Again this original and best colored and vitriol-free Butter Color has been awarded the highest prize by the same jury of experts. It is honest and fair competition with all of its competitors. Sold by Druggists and Merchants. Take no other.

THE friends of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gano treated them to a genuine surprise party last Thursday evening, at their cozy residence in the bend of the river. The attacking party, to the number of about seventy-five, met at Mr. John Jackson's, near by, and marched over to the Gano residence in a body. The surprise was complete. The party entered the house without ceremony and assumed absolute possession, and proceeded to make merry the passing moments. They brought along baskets well filled with provisions and spread out an elegant supper.

AT the meeting of the stock-holders of the St. Joseph Valley Railroad Company, held in this place last Monday, the following officers were elected: William R. Rough, President; R. D. A late copy of the Dallas, Texas, Daily Herald and Chronicle has reached this office with an article marked which takes the Battle Creek Herald and Review, the Adventist paper, severely to task. It is a church fight, in which the Dallas paper claims the people of Texas have been abused wrongfully. Shouldn't wonder if they had nearly everybody who enters into such a frolic on either side usually does.

"THE Wilkinson's" gave a rendering of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" in Rough's Hall, last Saturday evening, in a most splendid manner. 402 reserved seats were sold nearly filling the hall, so that but few tickets were sold before persons were turned away without admission, a thing that has not been known in this place in our recollection. All who were fortunate enough to secure reserved seats were well pleased with the evening's entertainment. There were 827 persons present besides small children.

Sam Bunker, W. T. Bert Niles, W. M. Flora Wykoff, W. D. M. Valeria Begole, W. I. G. Wm. G. Evans, W. R. S. Emma Smith, W. L. S. Nettie Jordan, W. L. G.

Yes, Major. The way freight does go east in the morning, sometime at four o'clock and sometimes at noon, and returns at all times between six and one or perhaps three o'clock in the night. So that no one pretends to depend upon that train when it has any business to attend to. It is a fact that the railroad accommodations for traveling west from any place in this county are better than for traveling east, with any reference to doing a day's business.

A SUBSCRIBER'S SOLILOQUY.

To pay, or not to pay, that is the question—Whether 'tis better for me to retire To take a local paper, and depart My family from reading all the news, Or pay up promptly what the printer asks, And, by such payment, cheer him? No pay, no paper. Then no more shall I be posted on the news And local facts throughout the town, And divers topics—'tis a consummation That I long have feared. To pay, or stop? To stop! perchance to lose—ay, there's the rub; For in that stop no interest do I take In any of the affairs which move the town, And such a shutting off of all that good Must make me pause. There's the respect Which every editor maintains for those Who come down with the cash and ne'er delay To settle up "that little bill." For who would bear The pointed quills and pungent paragraph, Which far too often reflect upon the man Who falls to settle his subscription bill? Till he me now onto the editor. And, with my purse plucked in my hand, Will settle up in full, one year from date, By paying to him from my ready cash, The sum which is his due.

ONE few remarks on the removal of the County Seat seems to have created quite a disturbance among the Niles editors, and they all hasten to make light of the influence of the RECORD. The RECORD does not pretend to wield the influence of a metropolitan journal, such as the Mirror or Republican, but there is a vast deal in directing a small amount of influence in the right direction.

THE great Adelaide Hill, supported by Hill's New York Theatre Co., comes to us with the finest press notices of any company on the road, and on Monday evening they will appear in the latest New York success, the five act drama of Ingomar. The Union City Register, where this company recently played, says: "Adelaide Hill is the finest actress that has ever appeared on our stage, and in the character of Parthenia the Greek girl, in Ingomar, she is unsurpassed, and Mr. Hill, as Ingomar, is the finest we have ever seen. The support is excellent." We hope the citizens of this place will give them the welcome which they so richly merit. The prices are in reach of all. General admission 25 cents. Reserved seats 35 cents, now on sale at Rough Bros. store.

AT a no distant day there will be a public meeting held in this place for the purpose of soliciting subscriptions to the fund to build a narrow gauge railroad from this place to Berrien Springs, and it is to be hoped that there will be a general response in a substantial manner. There is not a person living either in this place or in the range of five miles of the place, be he property holder or not, but that will be benefited by the building of this road, and they must all do what is within their means to do in order to make it a success, and it is not often the style of the citizens of Buchanan to allow any such enterprise of improvement to fail in such a way. Make up your minds just what you can give, and then come to the meeting and make the subscription. If you have not decided upon the amount do not stay away, but come anyway. The date of the meeting will be announced in due time.

LATER.—The date decided upon is next Tuesday afternoon.

THERE will be a railroad to Berrien Springs very soon, and "don't you forget it." They always build one when the removal of the county seat is talked of, but we all have to go to Berrien by team just the same. Will some one please look over the list of subscribers to the capital stock of the new railroad? If they do not find parties down for $1,000 or more, who if the entire Michigan Central railroad and branches was placed on the market at a dollar and a half, would be troubled to get the wherewithal to buy the South Bend Division. Why, then—well, no matter what. Just please look over the list, somebody, and see how near rich we are. That's all this time.—Niles Democrat.

Yes, Jes so. Of course Brother Horn has seen that list or he would not speak in such confident terms. But there is but one man on the list who cannot pay his subscription, and he has already paid in his five per cent, and stands ready to put down the remaining 95, and farther, there are men in that list who are able to buy and sell any capitalist in Niles with perhaps one exception, and besides this, those already in the company are abundantly able, if they see fit to do so, to build, equip, and operate a narrow gauge railroad from Buchanan to Benton Harbor; and farther, that road is going to be built. "That's all this time."

Proceedings of the Common Council of the Village of Buchanan.

A regular meeting of the Common Council of the Village of Buchanan was held at the Council Room, in Engine House No. 1, on Friday evening, Jan. 29, 1880.

Present—J. D. Ross, President; B. D. Harper, Recorder; Trustees Johnson, Rea, Roe and Rose.

Henry Wood, draying, " 1 25

A petition signed by E. J. Roe and twenty-one others, asking that the slaughter-houses of Ingomar Bros. and Tourje & Yamer be declared a public nuisance and be abated accordingly, was received and read.

Moved by Mr. Roe, supported by Mr. Johnson, that the petition of E. J. Roe and others be referred to a committee consisting of Trustees Rea and Rose and Health Officer Van Riper, to examine into the complaint of said petition and report at the next meeting of the Common Council. Motion adopted.

The committee appointed to examine the bills presented at this meeting reported the same all correct, recommending their allowance.

Moved by Mr. Roe, supported by Mr. Rea, that the bill ordered, correct by the committee be allowed, and the Recorder directed to draw the proper orders for their payment. Motion adopted.

Moved by Mr. Rea, supported by Mr. Roe, that the Chief Engineer be authorized to purchase four belts and two rubber coats for the fire department at the expense of the village. Motion adopted.

Moved by Mr. Johnson, supported by Mr. Rea, that the Common Council adjourn. Adopted.

PROPOSALS FOR WOOD.—Proposals will be received by the School Board of Buchanan, District No. 1 (graded No. 1) of Buchanan, up to Saturday noon, Feb. 7, 1880, for 150 cords of wood, three feet long—good sound body wood—beech or maple, or either, for the use of said District. Sealed proposals may be addressed to the School Board, endorsed thereon "Proposals for Wood." The School Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.
Dated Buchanan, Jan. 28, 1880.
L. P. ALEXANDER, Director.

THE editor of the Buchanan RECORD gives but one good reason why the county seat should not be removed, and that is, it might lead to a division of the county. As this division is plainly and unmistakably made an impossibility by the Constitution of the State, the RECORD ought to be frank and manly enough to come out boldly in favor of the removal.—Niles Democrat.

IF our brother of the Republican will examine section 2 of article 10 of the Constitution of the State, and with both eyes, he will find that the division of a county depends on a majority vote of the people in that county, and that it depends upon nothing else, and he certainly has lived long enough to know that to secure a majority vote on such a question is not among the impossibilities. Within five years from the time the county seat is moved to Niles, if it ever is, our prophecy is that the voters of this county will be wrestling with that very question, the division of Berrien county. As we have said before, the RECORD opposes the removal of the county seat to Niles, and that is not all, it is not going to be moved there.

SOME time has elapsed since Buchanan has had a lecture delivered here by an noted orator and traveler as Col. Sanford, who has crossed the Atlantic seventeen times and visited every Kingdom, Empire and Republic upon which the sun shines. Having a wonderful memory, great descriptive powers, and the rare faculty of combining wit with wisdom, he keeps the audience convulsed with laughter from the commencement to the close of the lecture. All who do not attend this lecture at Kinyon's Hall, Friday evening, Feb. 13, will certainly miss a rich treat. Turn out and patronize an entertainment of high order, otherwise we may not get another of the kind to stop here.

HE is the most eloquent man in America to-day. We have heard Wendell Phillips, Bayard Taylor, and all the celebrated American lecturers, and none of them can hold an audience as Sanford can.—Atlanta (Ga.) Telegraph.
I liked Sanford with all my might. I couldn't help it. He kept me and his audience in a roar. He is as full of wit, wisdom, humor, pathos and inspiration as any man I ever saw as an egg of meat.—Birmingham (Pa.) Paper.

IT is, in truth, no extravagant praise to concede Col. Sanford the power of entertaining an audience beyond that of any other modern lecturer who has visited Detroit.—Free Press.

His eloquence is wonderful, his humor and pathos are irresistible, and he laughed and cried alternately.—Williamsport (Pa.) Telegraph.

Wednesday night, Col. Sanford delivered a temperance lecture. It was vastly superior to anything that Francis Murphy or John B. Gough ever uttered.

EVANSVILLE, IND., Jan. 26, '80. Col. J. P. Sanford gave his fourth lecture here last evening, to an audience of three thousand people. The success of Col. Sanford here is unprecedented.
