Through Borrowed Eyes.

BY ELAINE GOODALE.

I can't see and I can't hear,
I can't read the meaning clear,
Its music falls like summer rain,
Now on the trial ear.

A music played me from above,
Now wholly by another hand;
It comes as comes the tenderest tone
Of stringed instrument.

He read it once, and by his side
I dreamed the magic hours away;
I thought he never could divide
From that he loved to say.

His voice a hoarser meaning brought;
He breathed his soul in every line;
And with it—sweet and pure and thought—
And with it—sweet and pure and thought—

I listened deeper than I knew;
I neither looked nor spoke nor stirred;
No more I felt he broke them through;
That voice alone I heard.

My spirit rose to passionate height
Or deep in calm immortal mood;
I drank of his distilled life,
I hoped, I scorned, I loved!

He is not here, he will not come;
No more I feel he broke them through;
No more through him the words grow dumb
And leave the thought complete.

Yet still I turn the volume o'er,
And dream above the printed page,
As one who reads for comfort,
Through lines grown dim with age.

THE CHURCH ROAD.

BRIDE'S INTERVIEW WITH THE RAIL-ROAD BRAKEMAN.

On the road once more, with Lebanon fading away in the distance, the passenger drumming idly on the window pane, the conductor came along, and the thin little passenger reading "General Grant's Tour Around the World" and wondering why "Green's August Flower" should be printed above the doors of "A Building Temple at Bonanza" to me comes the brakeman, and, setting himself on the arm of the seat, says:

"I went to church yesterday."

"I went to church yesterday," said the passenger, with an air of interest.

"Which church did you attend?"

"Which do you guess?" he asked.

"Some union mission church?" I hazarded.

"No," he said, "I don't like to go to church, and when I do, I want to run on the main line, where you can see and go on schedule time and don't have to wait on connections. I don't like to run on a branch. Good enough, but I don't like it."

"Episcopal?" I guessed.

"Limited express," he said, "all palace cars and two dollars extra for a seat; fast time and no stops at the stations. Nice line, but too expensive for a brakeman. All train men in uniform, conductors' punch and silver-plated, and no train boys allowed. The passengers are all allowed to talk back to the conductor, and it makes them too free and easy. No, I couldn't stand the palace cars. Rich road, though. Don't often hear of a conductor being killed on a branch line. Some mighty nice people travel on it, too."

"Universalist?" I suggested.

"Broad gauge," said the brakeman; "do you know any other kind of gauge? Everybody travels on a pass. Conductor doesn't get a fare once in fifty miles. Stops at all flag stations and won't run into anything but a union depot. No smoking car on the line. Train orders are rather vague, though, and the train men don't get along well with the passengers. No, I don't go to the Universalist, though I know some awfully good men who run on that road."

"Presbyterian?" I asked.

"Narrow gauge, eh?" said the brakeman, pretty thick, straight as a rule; tunnel right through a mountain rather than the side of it. He was a little grade; passengers have to show their tickets before they get on the train. Mighty strict road, but the cars are a little narrow; have to sit one in a seat and no room in the car. I don't like it. There's no stop-over tickets allowed; got to go straight through to the station you're ticketed for, or you can't get on at all. When the car's full, no extra room for anybody. I don't like to go to the shops to hold just so many and not body else allowed on. But you don't often hear of an accident on that road. It's run right up to the rules."

"Maybe you joined the Free Thinkers?"

"Scrub road," said the brakeman, "dirt road bed and no ballast; no time and no train despatches. All trains run wide and every engineer makes his own time. Just as the passenger says, 'I don't like to travel on a road that has no terminus. Do you know, sir, I asked a division superintendent where the road run to, and he looked at me for a minute and asked him if the general superintendent asked him, and he said he didn't believe they had a general superintendent, and if they had, he didn't know anything more about it. By a late decision of the Superintendent of the census, the ladies are made eligible to appointments as enumerators.

The District of Columbia sends one Blaine and one Grant man to the National convention.

General Grant and party were caught in a railroad smashup in Cuba, but came out with whole skins and no bones broken.

Congress has authorized the issue of $500,000,000 government bonds to draw 3 1/2 per cent. interest to be used for refunding purposes.

Mrs. Chisholm has received an appointment as clerk in the treasury department, with a salary of $1,200 per year.

Hon. E. B. Washburne gives the people of the United States distinctly to understand that he will in no case be a candidate for the Presidency.

Gathering political straws will be a favorite pastime now until time for the conventions.

The Chicago Times saw its mistake in advancing the price of the daily to six cents and has returned to the old price, and you can now get a Times for five cents once more.

The National Bank statistics for 1878 show that the net average profits of the National Banks throughout the country amounted to a 2-10 per cent. during that year.

United States Government bonds drawing four per cent. interest sold in Wall street Monday for 107 1/2. This is not a bad story for the credit of that corporation.

Blaine politics seem to be gaining a decided advantage in Ohio. If Mr. Blaine can have the votes of that State in the convention, it will be a great victory for him.

President Hayes has issued a proclamation warning the white settlers from invading the Indian Territory, and stating that the military force will be used if necessary to prevent such invasions.

The Pioneer Magnet has been gathering up the opinions of various prominent men in the vicinity of Big Rapids, regarding their choice for President and for Governor of Michigan, and finds Blaine ahead for one and Mr. Rich for the other.

The balance of cash in the State Treasury Feb. 7 was $1,149,893.38. Receipts for the week ending Feb. 14 were $100,311.84; payments for the same time, $4,684.89; leaving a balance Feb. 14, 1880, of $1,245,610.43; increase for the week $95,626.95.

The vacancy caused by the dismissal of Indian Commissioner Hayt, will be filled by a Michigan man, and R. E. Trowbridge is liable to be the man. There are more temptations to that than any other government department, and it stands the Secretary well to come to a good State for a man to fill the position.

A late decision of the Supreme Court of the United States is to the effect that employers must not needlessly expose the persons of their employees, and that when a servant reports defective or unsafe machinery, it is the place of the proprietors to correct the errors, or become responsible for all accidents that may occur.

Another attempt was made Tuesday to kill the Imperial family of Russia. A mine had been prepared under the imperial dining-room and a charge made to explode at about the time the entire family would be at dinner. Fortunately they were a few minutes late, and the explosion took place before they reached the room. Five persons were killed and thirty-five wounded.

The California Legislature has passed a bill giving effect to a new constitutional provision, prohibiting corporations or public works from employing Chinese laborers. This is in opposition to the treaty between the two countries, and if enforced will lead to a serious trouble.

Secretary Sherman has issued a circular making a proposal to buy Government bonds to the amount of $1,000,000 per week until further notice. His purchases for this month, which were completed as early as the 3d, amounted to $1,400,000. This is closing in upon the public debt at a rapid rate.

Demar, the last of the Union soldiers employed in the House of Representatives, has just been discharged by the Democratic majority to make room for another of the ex-confederates. The only reason for his not going with his comrades last year is that he was needed to instruct the new men, the Democrats had placed in the various positions, in their several duties, and the only visible reason for his removal is his brave opposition to the rebel army, which is attested by the empty sleeve he carries.

There are three prominent pension bills now pending before Congress: One to pension the widow of General Custer, who fell in battle in his country's service, one to give $75,000 to Fitz John Porter, who was court-martialed for deserting his post in time of danger, and one to pension all those who served in the Mexican war, including Jeff Davis. The first is favored by the Republicans and bitterly opposed by the Democrats. The latter two are bitterly opposed by the Republicans and as earnestly favored by the Democrats. Ex-soldiers will please remember the difference, and pass judgment on them at the next opening of the polls.

President Hayes is now having considerable trouble about his famous executive order No. 1, which prohibits Federal officers from taking part in political affairs of any kind. He is being forcibly reminded of violations of the order by letters from those who were discharged from office for violations of the same kind. He now awaits evidence of a neglect of official duties before discharging offenders.

So far as canvasses have been made the first choice among Republicans for a candidate for the Presidency has been Blaine, with Grant for second choice, yet the present indications are more in favor of the nomination of Grant by the Convention than of Blaine. There are a large portion of Republicans who, while they look upon Grant as the greatest man the country contains, are not in favor of his being nominated for a third term, notwithstanding there are no legal objections to such a move.

The Charlestown, S. C. News and Courier urges the Legislature of that State, which is now in extra session, by which means, pass a registry law, by which no man can vote unless he can write his own name. It says that the negroes form a clear majority of the voters of the State; that they always gravitate to the Republican party and cannot be converted into Democrats; that the white people will never permit them to rule the State no matter what their majority may be; that the methods of gaining Democratic victories in recent elections have been "irregular, uncertain, unpleasant," and attended with "a horrible strain" on the political machine; and that if each voter is compelled to write his name before registering, many more colored men than whites would be excluded, and the confederates can thus capture the State and hold it under the form of law. The News and Courier urges that the bill be rushed through so as to take effect before the next election. How would such a law suit the News in New York City, where the elimination on account of ignorance would be from the Democratic ranks. We would then hear from the trampled rights of the poor with a vengeance.

Mr. Conger's speech in the House of Representatives, on the question of removing the political disability of Goode, of Virginia, a general in the confederate army, is being made the subject of pertinent remarks of all kinds, but is not much in favor with the Democrats. The New York Tribune has the following comment: "Mr. Conger's indignant speech in the House was certainly justified. The beggar who insists upon a choice of a miracle of humility compared with the rebel who objects to calling his crime by the right name in the petition which is to gain him a free pardon. The United States exhibited a clemency toward the participants in the great insurrection which has never been equaled in the history of the world, and our only reward for it, in some cases at least, is a sullen unwillingness on the part of the rebels even to admit that they were rebels. The very petitions in which they ask congress to remove their disabilities often refer to the war only as one 'between the States,' or as in the case discussed yesterday, the war of 'the confederacy.' If these papers ever call it honest 'the rebellion,' the public does not hear of it. Mr. Conger's declaration that there is a continuous effort on the Democratic side of the House to embody in its literature 'sounding words for the rebellion, and treason, and insurrection,' is sufficiently confirmed by Mr. Goode himself, the sponsor of yesterday's bill. This gentleman was indignant that any such act as the Michigan member should be raised, 'after years after the termination of the war.' If confederate insolence grows at this rate, it will not be long before the north is told that the south never needed our insubling forgiveness, and will have no piece of it."

Some of the farmers of Byron township in this county, because hay and feed are so high, are shipping their cattle to Iowa to winter and fatten, believing that they can do so cheaper than by keeping them at home. Many of them will be brought to Chicago in the spring and sold for fat cattle. This sort of movement has been quite general in Allegan county the past month, and it is stated that about seventy-five car-loads of cattle have been shipped from there. Some 200 head were to be shipped from Dorro on the 11th. —Grand Rapids Eagle.

Mr. A. Taylor, a salt water sailor, is now visiting at the Pomeroy residence. They are distant relatives. The firm of Martin & Sutherland's grocers, have dissolved. Martin continues the business. Theodore Thaldorf, of this place, has started a blacksmith shop in Michigan City. Two young men from Union Pier, one a son of A. K. Clark, have rented a portion of the Sheffield building and will make a patent bed spring. Several here are favorable to Gen. Chamberlain, of Maine, as the "dark horse" in the Presidential contest. Miss Alice Chamberlain has been unable on account of sickness to teach her school. Miss Tina Churchill acted for her.

I think I am correct in making the statement that there were but two Democrats in this township at the last spring election. Miss Edathy Kelsey, of Grand Rapids, met her sister Alice here. They are visiting at Postmaster Sawyer's. Expensive hens, artificial, never lay or cackle. As to its hatching qualities, is not limited as to time or number of eggs. It might be called a lightning hatcher. Costs $75. J. U. Parry has one.

It is very healthy in Three Oaks. The Doctors' only complaint is that the roads are so bad people cannot bring their produce and products to town, and therefore cannot pay their Doctor bills.

Some of the M. C. R. R. trackmen have received letters from those higher in authority, which pleased some and made it unpleasant for others; but such is life, especially among railroad men. Quite a number of tramps put up at the calaboose, and use the school district wood, which makes the school board declare they will prosecute some one. Our Marshal being a generous, whole-souled fellow can't refuse to open the calaboose to those who have no home. I suggest that all the tramps be sent from here to Niles to work on the court house and jail yard, or to Buchanan to work on the narrow gauge railroad.

A canvass was made on Saturday last at the post-office. 50 Republicans expressed themselves as to their first choice for President. Result: Grant, 22; Blaine, 14; Gen. Sherman, 2; Sec. Sherman, 4; Washburne, 6. Seven others stated they were not in favor of Grant as first choice, but had no choice as between the others. Two of the seven said they would not vote for Grant. One very prominent Republican did not commit himself, but stated that if any of the leading ones failed

THAT RAILROAD.—We have made a good beginning toward raising the necessary funds for building a railroad from this place to Berrien Springs, but all that is necessary has not yet been done. Our citizens must remember just what the situation is. If the road is not built now it never will be built through Buchanan. If it is not built now the county seat will be moved, and that will cost you more than the railroad to take in taxes. If the road is built now it will be an everlasting benefit to Buchanan of greater magnitude than any other enterprise possible to bring here. It will reduce our fair to Chicago, during the warm months, at least one dollar each way, and our freights proportionately. Now, is it not better, by far, to pay $100 now, for what will be a benefit to us for all time to come, than to pay $2000 after a while for what will build up our neighbors at our expense? Farther than this, the time will come when, unless this enterprise is made a success, and it must not fail, that the bridge at Crocker's mill will be built again, and thus Niles secure a good portion of the trade that belongs here. This is the way the railroad question stands before the citizens of Buchanan, and we trust every man will see that it is to his interest to take hold with his might and help NOW. Don't wait for or depend upon your neighbor, but be first in making your subscription. Notes for this purpose are ready for signatures and amounts at the Farmers' and Manufacturers' bank. Step in and do what you can. Let us have the full amount raised before another week shall have passed, and the work of building may then begin at once.

To receive the nomination he would like to see Gen. Joshua Chamberlain of recent Maine state house fame nominated. A few of the Grant men say, they think Blaine is really entitled to the nomination and they wish Grant would say he will not be a candidate. Most of the Grant men want Blaine if Grant declines.

A Concord citizen has a fiddle 270 years old. A Decatur man has got the "perpetual motion" bad. Ann Arbor reform club is to build an $18,000 opera house. Kate Claxton is doing this State with the play "The Two Orphans." The bonded debt of Ann Arbor is $21,256. Enough, surely. Over eleven thousand spring beds were made at Allegan last year. The free delivery of mail will be commenced in Jackson March first. The administrators of the estate of Zachariah Chandler have settled up the estate and been discharged. The Allegan Journal gives as a reason for Governor Croswell not marrying, that he cannot keep house on his present salary. A dummy street railway between Battle Creek and Goguc lake is talked of. J. J. Woodman, of Paw Paw, is the latest one to show himself as candidate for gubernatorial honors. The Ypsilanti Sentinel is going to cut off delinquent subscribers and send half-sheets to exchanges. The high price of paper is the cause. There were nine railroad accidents in this State during the month of January, four of which resulted in the loss of life. Eleven deaths resulting from violence have occurred in the village of Dundee since Christmas 1878. The natural inference is that Dundee was founded under an unfortunate star. Decatur has a "Donkey club." The members meet in front of a village church every Sunday night about the time service ends. The salt production of the State was greater by 38,000 barrels in Jan., 1880, than in the same month last year. The number made in January, '80, was 137,857 barrels. A twelve-year-old boy in East Sautgatuck has been expelled from school for throwing kisses at his girl across the school room. The Sautgatucks think they can stand no such nonsense. The Michigan Central Company is adopting the electric light for their night signals, and have them in operation in their large yards. The city physician of Muskegon reports 320 cases of diphtheria in that city since the breaking out of the disease. The cases now average two a day. The mill-race, at Augusta, Kalamazoo county, was broken by the storm, Feb. 11, and over 500 cubic yards of earth were carried away. A Plainwell woman has just completed a bed quilt containing 3,393 pieces. A little boy named Adam Singars of Irvington was choked to death by a chestnut kernel last week. A three-years-old child in Antrim county was scalded to death January 20 by falling into a kettle of boiling maple sap. A case of grave robbing is creating something of a stir in Howell. Mrs. Gates was buried there Feb. 4, and on the 10th it was discovered that her grave had been robbed. The body was found in Ann Arbor the 14th. Several arrests have been made. The "census takers" tackled a man near Bangor lately, asked him all sorts of questions and played the game to perfection until it came time for him to sign their report. He happened to be one of the sort who reads the local papers and he wouldn't sign. They have a darkey in Paw Paw who places matches at a discount. He lights his fires by simply breathing on the kindling or whatever he is to light. Is 24 years old and first discovered this wonderful faculty when about twelve years of age. No one attempts to explain it. By means of correspondents the Detroit News has interviewed a large number of Republicans in the large towns of the State, and finds their preferences for candidate for President to stand thus: For Blaine, 1,600; Grant, 827; Sherman, 611; Washburne, 56; with a few each for Edmunds, Garfield, Conkling and Hayes. A farmer named Seth Holmes, living in the township of Athens, about thirteen miles north of Battle Creek, on Nottoway Creek, has discovered what promised to be an inexhaustible mine of coal on his farm; also gold dust in paying quantities along the banks of the above named creek. The announcement of the above discovery made a decided advance in the price of lands in the immediate neighborhood, and the adjoining farmers are sinking shafts to see if their farms are not resting on the same bituminous bed.

REMOVED.—The undersigned has been duly appointed agent for all various insurance companies formerly represented in this place by Mr. A. F. Ross, and shall be pleased to receive the patronage of his old customers, and also new ones as shall need insurance against loss from fire. Eight of the best companies are represented. Also an insurance against accident that should claim the attention of those employed in the factories. J. J. HOLMES.

The East Saginaw school board have authorized a check of $111.70 in favor of Prof. J. Jones to reimburse him for cash expended in defense of a suit brought against him for punishing a boy. Sound.

A bullet was found in the heart of a beech tree which was cut down in Cooper, Kalamazoo county, a few days ago. Mr. A. H. Stoddard being on the spot counted the concentric layers, and found that the bullet had been covered 150 years.

Mrs. E. H. Lathrop, of Three Rivers, went to Blissfield a few weeks ago to be treated for the opium habit by Dr. Baker, and was apparently doing well, when she was suddenly taken sick and died. And now Dr. Baker is being investigated. A post mortem examination has been held, and her stomach has been sent to Ann Arbor for analysis, which showed evidence of poison in its contents.

In reference to the "suffocative tumor" removed by Prof. Franklin, of which mention was made last week, we hear that it measured throughout its long circumference 10 inches, and at its short circumference 6 inches, being the largest diseased growth that has ever been removed entire from within the nasal cavity, so far as he could ascertain.—Ann Arbor Democrat.

A few days since a little three-year-old girl of Fred Kemp, of Hubbardston, while playing about the barn, swallowed a screw nail which she had in her mouth, and died from the effects of it within ten minutes after the accident occurred. It is supposed that the screw must have lodged in some of the air passages leading to the lungs, as the poor child expired before medical aid could be summoned.

On the 12th, a tramp who had failed to get work at Mr. Richard's house, near Chesterfield, Macomb county, re-neged himself by setting fire to his barn, destroying the building, three horses and a threshing machine. After a two hours' chase he was caught and is in jail.

The Coldwater Reporter says that the judgment for $9,600, rendered by the Supreme Court against Robert H. Morrison and in favor of the Grand Lodge of I. O. O. F. of Michigan, was in effect a judgment against Daniel H. Hawley of Sturgis, one of Morrison's bondsmen, a man over 65 years old, who is now a wanderer on the face of the earth, stripped of every dollar through the treachery of a friend.

1,897 valentines were mailed at Lansing. The little folks made a wholesale business of it.

Several weeks since the Ingham County News, of Mason, published an article stating that one Dan Edwards of Lansing "had his official career blocked by well grounded suspicions of ballot-box stuffing" and Edwards sued for libel. The case was tried before the justice in Lansing, Saturday, February 14. The jury, after three hours' deliberations, rendered a verdict of guilty, and the justice imposed a fine of $25. Fuller appealed to the Circuit Court for a new trial. The Lansing Republican had made the accusation against the same party, but he did not seem to care to tackle the Republican, but took the weaker member for the purpose of "teaching these journals a lesson."

The next term of the United States court for the western district of Michigan begins March 2. The following are the traverse jurors drawn: Darius Brown, Berrien Springs; Charles Marr, Comstock; Philander Allen, Allegan; George B. Turner, Cassopolis; Charles Gay, Big Rapids; S. T. Kidd, Orleans; Ionio county; Charles H. Fralick, Ludington; Edward Nickerson, Pentwater; Charles Hale, Richmond; William Reynolds, Hubbardston; Foster Kelly, Gaines, Kent county; Daniel McGovern, Tustin; Myron Harris, Talmadge; Alfred P. Horton, Laketon; Ira Stowell, Woodland Center; Thomas Shepard, Martin; Luther T. Wilcox, Three Rivers; Thomas B. Eldred, Climax; Marshall Teachout, Big Prairie; William Miller, Eaton Rapids; Reuben Warner, Lawrence; Orson Kellogg, Grand Rapids township; Henry Jewett, Charles D. Lyon, city.

During the March term of the Kent circuit court was tried the ejectment case of Charles D. Blanchard of Detroit vs. George W. Powers, a young farmer of Sparta township. The plaintiff claimed to own Powers' farm through a title based on the original patent from the United States, while the defendant based his ownership, among other things, on the tax deed to the property given by the auditor general after the course of sale. In the suit in the circuit the plaintiff's attorney attacked this tax title and, putting the supervisor who made the assessment on the witness stand, offered to prove by him that he had assessed the property in question, as well as the rest of the real estate, at only one-third of its cash value, as said supervisor had sworn in his assessment roll certificate. To the admission of this evidence the attorney for the defense objected on the ground that the supervisor's sworn certificate was conclusive and could not be impeached, and that the supervisor especially could not be permitted to thus impeach his own certificate. Judge Hoyt sustained the objection, a verdict was rendered for the defendant, and the case was taken to the supreme court by the plaintiff's attorney on this one clear cut point. On Wednesday the supreme court decided the case on briefs. The supreme court affirmed the ruling of Judge Hoyt. The point was one which had never been raised in the supreme court, although Judge Withey, in one of the late Ludington ejectment cases, decided the same point in the same way.—Grand Rapids Democrat.

MR. AND MRS. BERNARD, of the "Arcade" clothing store, have been in Peru, Ind., the past week, on account of the death of her father, Moses Falk, which occurred on Sunday evening last.

MR. C. B. CHURCHILL has had special experience with concrete pavements that are entirely satisfactory to him. He tried to see how hard Julius Russell's walk was by sitting down on it.

LAND SALE.—Mr. George Scott has bought the Chaucery Pope property, consisting of 100 acres of Portage prairie land and 40 acres of timber land. The price paid is $18,000.

BEN WATSON did not propose to see Charley Snyder suffer for want of more walnuts and so donates a half bushel, for which Charley returns thanks. About time to "whack up" for the "ad," isn't it, Charley?

A Kalamazoo man has been making a trip through the fruit region of this county, and publishing in the Telegraph some figures that show a pretty healthy state of things, notwithstanding the yellows.

SPRING BEDS are being offered in this place now for $2.50 each. The boom in prices seems to have worked the wrong way on them. They were sold here about one year ago for $3.00 each.

AN Indian tried the softness of feathers by laying one on a rock and stretching himself upon it. There are some who try the virtue of advertising on the same plan, and with similar results.

MR. W. I. HIMES went Monday to attend the Grand Lodge I. O. O. F., at Lansing, as a representative from Buchanan Lodge No. 75. He has been appointed a member of the Finance Committee.

MR. WILLIAM P. MILLER has sold his farm of 40 acres to his father, Mr. Jacob Miller, for $1,200 and bought the Edgar Pennell place of 42½ acres, about four miles further north, in Oronoko township for $2,000.

OUR butchers have come to the conclusion that they have lost money enough by selling meat at low rates, and will hereafter charge 12½ cents for best cuts, and other meats in proportion.

If the woodchuck is foolish enough to stay in his hole such fine weather as we have had during the past week, simply because he saw his shadow on the second of the month, we cannot say we admire his judgment.

DIED.—Master Will Tichenor, son of Mrs. Anna Tichenor of Niles township, died Monday evening of inflammation of the lungs, after a very short sickness. His age is about sixteen years.

If anyone thinks there is not much business done here, he has but to visit the various manufacturing establishments about town and be convinced of his error. They are all crowded with work to their utmost capacity, and more orders coming every day.

LUCKY BALDWIN, well-known in this place, and mentioned some time since as having been arrested in California for defrauding the Government out of whisky revenues, has been acquitted.

It is just 100 years since the roads in this vicinity were in a worse condition than now. A man should have his life insured who would undertake to travel ten miles over the public highway, now.

THE papers in other parts of the State seem to be getting acquainted with David B. Cheesman. The Union City Register tells of his confidence game played in that place. He will find some fellow yet who will put him out of the way of the dogs.

It was a pretty good hit by the Niles papers to copy that part of the Reporter's article on the county seat question which seemed to favor them, and omit the remainder of the article, thus changing its meaning.

The annual advertisement of the American Express Company, for the sale of unclaimed parcels, appears in Friday's Evening News. One parcel for J. W. Harrison is mentioned from Buchanan. One also appears in the Cassopolis list for Rough Bros.

THE State Fish Commission has a supply of trout fry for distribution. Farmers in Berrien county, who have brooks of clear water on their farms, should apply for some and try trout raising.

THE St. Joseph papers contain an account of a rather ridiculous accident that occurred to Charles Aiken, formerly of this place. He fell through the bridge over the river, catching by his feet where he hung until relieved. He had been trying to drain some of the saloons.

Boys, it is getting to be dangerous to court the girls unless you mean business. One in Romeo, in this State, has just obtained a verdict of $1000 a year, for five years spent in courting her just for the fun of it, as the result of a breach-of-promise suit. Better mean business.

MRS. ADELA STITT, sister of Capt. A. C. Bartlett of this place, died at her home in Chicago, on the 14th inst., of consumption, aged 47 years. She was buried in St. Joseph.

A traveling man informed us that yesterday morning as he was coming down from the depot he found six men (?), all of whom wore beards, trying to tie a tin can to a dog's tail. He expresses his opinion that they ought to have been in jail. Guess he was about right about it.

THE Journal says that Mr. John Reddick, of Niles, is building a steamboat to ply between the mouth of the St. Joseph river and Niles, for freight and passenger business. If he doesn't have some fun climbing the rifle just below the Buchanan bridge, we are mistaken in river navigation.

A meeting was held in the interest of the St. Joseph Valley Railroad at the Coveney school house last evening. It was one of the worst nights of the whole winter to be out in, but there was a good attendance and a good interest manifested. Those living in that vicinity express themselves as willing to do their portion toward building a railroad to the county seat.

TUESDAY evening an economical fellow who wanted to go east from this place undertook to take a free ride on the Accommodation train by crawling under the tender and lodging his carcass on the trucks, but one of the boys who saw him told the conductor, and he was made to climb from his resting place.

The Chicago Times has a correspondent who plies back and forth between Berrien Springs and Niles, whose room is better than his company. He makes himself prominent by sending in false reports concerning the project of a railroad from this place to Berrien Springs, and other matters.

A LETTER received from Berrien Springs yesterday announces that they had, at the time of writing, over $20,000 pledged for the railroad, and that they expected to swell the amount to $25,000 by Saturday. They are far ahead of Buchanan, and unless our citizens come forward with the subscriptions they will have their portion of the required amount raised first, which should not be allowed.

MRS. STEVENS, of Niles, does not seem to be pleased with our mention of her subscription toward the building of the narrow gauge railroad from this place to Berrien Springs. We are sorry, for we were and should be pleased to announce a dozen more just such donations next week. Perhaps we should have mentioned that she owns a large farm near Berrien Springs and expects to be benefited by the new railroad.

DIED.—MR. A. Z. WAGNER, who was mentioned in last week's RECORD as being very sick with lung fever, died Friday evening. The funeral was held Sunday under the direction of the Odd Fellows of this place, of which lodge he was a member. Mr. Wagner was one of the oldest citizens of this vicinity, and was well known by nearly every one.

MRS. P. B. DUNNING wishes to tender her sincere and heartfelt thanks to the neighbors and friends for their kindness and assistance during her sickness and also Mr. Dunning's sickness and death.
Respectfully yours,
MRS. P. B. DUNNING.

HOWE, the auctioneer who made so much noise with his mouth in this place a few months ago, is having a legal combat with the authorities of Marshall because they revoked a license they had granted him. It is doubtful whether he could get another here or not. His experience seems to be about the same wherever he goes.

MR. JOHN MANSFIELD has commenced a new practice in dentistry in this vicinity. A lady from New Carlisle called on him, a few weeks since, with a very bad tooth to fill, and he pulled the tooth out, filled it in good shape and put it back in its old place. The tooth was some a few days, but is now in good condition and ready for business.

A VERY small allowance of ice has been packed here, or in any place in the southern part of the State, thus far, and the prospect is not the most encouraging for a cut yet this winter. In the northern part of the State millions of tons have been stored away, and will be ready for shipment when our supply is exhausted.

Some time last Fall the RECORD announced that Postmaster Alexander proposed making an addition to the boxes in the Postoffice. He is now at work at it, adding ninety-six boxes to what he thought, when he was appointed, to be enough for the next ten years to come, at least. This is a good meter by which to determine something of the increase of business in Buchanan.

THE editor of the Benton Harbor Times is a jolly fellow and bound to be on the good side of everybody. He favors both the railroad to Berrien Springs and removal of the county seat. It may require a sharp critic to discover any very brilliant wisdom in his words on the subject, but that is the stand he takes. To an ordinary mind it has much the appearance of foolishness.

THE date of the Remenyi Concert has been announced as Friday evening, February 27—one week from to-morrow evening. During the first day after the announcement of the date, Mr. Kinyon discovered that his hall was not large enough to accommodate the crowd, and has accordingly engaged Rough's Hall for this entertainment. Tickets for reserved seats are being disposed of at a rapid rate, and there is a probability that those who do not procure seats early will miss the concert. We have heard Mr. Remenyi play and know him to be a first-class performer on that best of all musical instruments, the violin. He will be accompanied by three artists who are first-class. Their names and the parts they perform are announced on the bills.

MONDAY, Feb. 9, was Otis Sterns' fifty-third birthday, and this gave about one hundred of his friends and neighbors an excuse for making a raid on his hospitality, which they did. They brought along the oysters and other eatables, however, and made things lively around the Stern mansion for a few hours. The joke of it was Otis didn't know what was coming until it was all there.

SEVERAL persons in this place have followed the proposition of J. N. Stephens, and have placed money in his hands to be invested in mining claims in Colorado. Sometimes such investments are successful and sometimes not, but Mr. Stephens has had experience in the business, and will be better able to make a good investment than would a green hand in the business.

LECTURE.—The lecture of Col. Sanford in Kinyon's hall, last Friday evening, was one of the best entertainments that has been given in Buchanan for many a day. There was a good attendance and all were highly pleased with the Colonel's manner of describing his travels over the world, and especially in China and Japan. We learn that an effort will be made to have him come again in a short time with another of his popular lectures.

MR. EYCHAMER has just issued an eight-page tract attacking the Coveney monument, making a prominent point of the errors of punctuation in the inscription on the monument, but as unfortunately for him, as for Mr. Coveney, his printer did not know as much about punctuation as did the man who did the carving on the monument, and his tracts are, if possible, worse in this matter than is the monument. Mr. Eychamer's points of morality and Christianity as expressed in the tracts are well taken.

Fees of Doctors.

The fees of doctors is an item that very many persons are interested in just at present. We believe the schedule for visits is $3.00, which would tax a man confined to his bed for a year, and in need of a daily visit, $1,000 a year for medical attendance alone. And one single bottle of Hop Bitters taken in time would save the $1,000 and all the year's sickness.—Post.

New York Butter Market.

In reporting the market prices for butter, the New York Tribune, of May 20, said, "Choice packages to the retail trade reach 19 to 20 cents, but light colored goods are hard to dispose of, and several lots were thought well sold at 8 to 10 cents. This stern logic of dollars and cents is rapidly convincing dairymen that they should use the Perfect Butter Color made by Walls, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt. It gives the perfect June color the year round and dairymen that use it never send light colored goods to market."

Kidney-Work will cure Kidney and Liver diseases and worst cases of Piles.

NEW STORE IN BUCHANAN.

A Striking Temperance Speech.
A workman from Manchester, England, recently made a very effective temperance address in which he held a loaf of bread and a knife. The loaf of bread represented the wages of the working man. After a few introductory remarks, he said, "I have a loaf of bread. This," he said, "is what you give the city government." He then cut off a piece more generous slice than the one he gave to the general government. Then, with a vigorous flourish of his carving-knife, he cut off three-quarters of the whole loaf. "This," he said, "I give to the brewer." By this time only a thin slice remained. He set aside the greater part of this to the "public-house." "This," he said, "I give to you, and this you keep to support yourself and your family." The response of his auditory of fellow laborers showed that they keenly appreciated the force of his illustration.

Improvements September, 1878

Endorsing the VICTOR has long been the peer of a Sewing Machine in the market—a fact supported by a host of volunteer witnesses—we can confidently claim for it greater simplicity, a wider and more perfect action, and a more perfect combination of desirable qualities. It is, in fact, a beautiful specimen of mechanical art, and takes rank with the highest achievements of inventive genius. Note.—We do not mean to say that Sewing Machines, therefore, have no need to patch up and re-varnish for owners.

Send for Illustrated Circular and prove until you have seen the Most Elegant, Simple and Easy Running Machine in the Market.—The Ever-Reliable VICTOR.

Mrs. FRANC WHITMAN, Agt., Buchanan.
In Bradley's Photograph Gallery.

"What twenty-five cents for one pound of sausages? Why, I can get that for ten cents," said the first man. "Twenty cents," "Vell, den, vy didn't yer?"—"Cause Schmidt was out of 'em."—"Vell, vy I was out of 'em, I'd sell 'em for twenty cents."

A nobleman ventured, in a moment of conviviality at the Duke of Wellington's table, to put this question to Lord . . . "Allow me to ask, as we are all friends of the 'if' and 'when' tried at Waterloo?" To which the Duke replied: "No; but I am now."

An attempt was recently made to ascertain, where the bodies of the victims of the Tower of London were lying. A lady was taken out in a yacht and mesmerized. She pointed out the place where a body was lying, and said, "I'm pretty sure it's dead, and when gnapnels were used the collar of an overcoat was brought up. The bodies were afterward declared that twenty bodies lay underneath the girders."
