Republican Caucuses.

The Republican caucus of the township of Buchanan, Mich., held at Buchanan, Mich., on Tuesday, March 24, 1880, at 2 o'clock P. M., for the purpose of selecting delegates to the county convention to be held at Buchanan, Mich., on Tuesday, May 4, 1880, to elect delegates to the State convention to be held at Lansing, Mich., on Tuesday, May 11, 1880.

March will leave us next Wednesday.

Assessor Strong is busy taking the village assessment.

Mr. Samuel Miller, of Three Oaks, was in town this morning.

Next Sunday will be Easter. Have you got your eggs?

The St. Joseph Traveler-Herald has gone into the real estate business.

Our school will close tomorrow, after a pleasant and profitable term.

Circuit Court is in session, and lawyers and jurymen are all down to Berrien.

Whooping cough is having a sort of free frolic among the little ones in Dayton and vicinity.

Farmers are beginning to look for lands, and making other active preparations for their spring work.

A comic opera troupe is advertised for entertainments in Kinyon's Hall Saturday and Monday evenings.

Charles Simmons is building a dwelling on the lot recently purchased by him on Detroit street.

Mrs. Sarah Henshaw will start in a few days for a two or three months' visit with her friends in Iowa.

Ed. Bellin and Rob. Parkinson start for Leaville Monday next. May they soon make their fortunes.

Several ladies have gone from this place to attend the Liberalists and Spiritualists Convention in Battle Creek this week.

The Good Templar's Lodge will give a Maple Sugar Social in Kinyon's hall on Tuesday evening. Go and get sweetened.

Dr. J. M. Roe will commence the erection of a dwelling house on Clark street as soon as the weather gets a little warmer.

Leonard J. Merchant has been elected by the President for postmaster at St. Joseph, Mich. Another Republican editor entered into his reward.

The street sprinkler was on duty for the first time yesterday. It was much needed, for the streets were in a terribly dusty condition.

Services at Kinyon's Hall next Sunday at 2 1/2 P. M. Subject—"Christ the savior of all men and the special savior of those that believe."

Elm tickets and gummed slips printed at this office on short notice. Committees will please send in orders as early as convenient for the caucus.

Maple sugar makers have been having a good "run" the past ten days. The sugar season has the appearance of being of unusual length this year.

No well regulated newspaper ever publishes any communication what ever without first knowing the author's name. It takes but little more ink and always looks better.

Mr. John Graham and family started from this place to Kansas Saturday evening, going to Niles where they stayed over Sunday, and going from there Tuesday.

Sheep are more in demand this spring than any other kind of stock and have been sold in this vicinity as high as $7.50 per head, for common stock sheep.

The Record will publish the names and address of persons wishing to engage schools for the summer, gratis, if they will but hand them in. It may secure you a school.

Frank Langley, of St. Joseph, has sued B. F. King of the same place for $10,000 damages because King's dog ate Langley's right hand about half off.

New Buffalo people are on the alert for an appropriation for the benefit and improvement of their harbor. There is a splendid place for a harbor, but not very much use for one.

Tuesday was a most disagreeable day to be out on account of the high wind that blew all day keeping the air filled with dust. A thing not usual for Michigan March.

Mrs. Upton, of Decatur, will speak on the subject of Temperance at the Union meeting, Friday evening, at Kinyon's Hall. Good music will be furnished.

Ralph Russell came down town Monday for the first time since his injury. He says he is all right except his head and neck, which he carries as if he thought more of them than of the rest of his body.

Buchanan was not alone in the political insignificance of her charter election. The elections in all parts of the State were mixed affairs in which but little politics were taken into consideration.

Authentic report comes from Berrien Springs that they will have their full amount for the railroad raised by Saturday evening certainly, and will then be ready to commence work. Will Buchanan be as near ready by that time?

Mr. Maitland, who was mentioned last week as having been injured on the railroad, at Howard crossing, is still alive and shows slight symptoms of improvement, the most important of which is that he does not get any worse.

Mr. Exos Marble has bought the Elijah Hall farm, at the southeast corner of Weesaw township, consisting of 100 acres, for $2,200, getting with it an interest in a 75 acre wheat crop.

Mr. Alfred Hamilton started for the West last Tuesday, with Iowa for the prospective point. He pays for the Record two years in advance, and orders it sent to him. Sensible. He knows how to appreciate a good paper.

Correction.—The examination of teachers by the Township Superintendents will be held next Saturday, March 27, instead of yesterday, March 24, as was announced in these columns.

Mr. and Mrs. Joel Gillette, of Bertrand township, whose marriage was mentioned in these columns a few weeks since, gave a grand reception to their friends, at their home, Monday evening.

The call for the Republican County Convention appears in another part of this paper. Let Township Committees make arrangements for caucuses to appoint delegates to this Convention.

Concert.—Prof. S. A. Johnson's singing class gave a concert in Kinyon's hall Saturday evening that was a success, both as a musical effort and financially, giving the audience satisfaction and the managers $12.50 for their trouble.

Saturday, April third, will be registration day. If your name is not on the township register attend to getting it there if you want to vote. Remember it is not sufficient to have your name on the village register. It must be on both to vote in both places.

A large black horse belonging to Sebastian Smith, of Watervliet, recently fell into a cistern filled with water. The work of getting him out of this uncomfortable position resulted disastrously to the cistern, but the horse was all right for another trip.

Hox, J. J. Van Riper has been absent this week in his new role of business, attending the regular meeting of the regents of the university, at which there were 175 young lawyers and 24 tooth carpenters turned loose upon the public with full commission to commence business at once.

Republicans, read the call for township caucus in this paper. Let every man who expects to vote the Republican ticket attend the caucus and help make it up, and then you cannot be dissatisfied because nominations are made that do not suit you.

Mr. Michael Hess has sold his farm, just south of Bakertown, to Mr. John Best, and he has sold his, just west of Howe's school house, to Mr. John Redden and William Haslett who divided the place between them. We are unable to give prices.

A well-known citizen of this place who happened to be in Huntington, Ind., on business, a short time since, was somewhat surprised to meet Dr. McIn, of long-time race notoriety, and reports that he found the Doctor finely situated, doing a thriving business, making money, married and spoiling all of the whisky he can get hold of. That all sounds natural enough.

Entertainment.—Mrs. Mina G. Clayton gave her second entertainment in this place at Kinyon's Hall, last evening, to a full house. Notwithstanding the fact that she was suffering from a severe cold, she did exceedingly well. All missed the charming little singer, Miss La Marsh, who was too ill to be present. Her place was supplied by Miss Owens, of Chicago.

Entertainment.—Mrs. Esther Owens Flint, one of the best readers of the land, assisted by Celeste, the wonderful pianist and organist, will give an entertainment in Kinyon's hall, next Thursday evening, April 1, under the direction of the Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. Church. Celeste performs on both the piano and organ at the same time when deprived of the senses of hearing, seeing and feeling.

One of the "widow's mite" socials mentioned by the Benton Harbor Times was held in Rough's hall Tuesday evening, for the benefit of the railroad fund, and an amount raised, that, according to the calculations of the Times, would build the road in about four months, which is good enough for this place. The net proceeds of the frolic was $83.44, or about enough to buy a ton of iron, or pay for the surveyor's services, at least.

We frequently have calls for forty or eighty acres farms for purchase. Any one having real estate of any kind may be accommodated with a purchaser by advertising in our real estate column. Try it if you want to sell at reasonable prices. If you do not, better keep still about it.

The fire department was out Friday morning in full force to put out a fire in a chimney in the Tremont building. The fire did no damage, but it was in a pretty risky pile of kindling.

A second copy of the Black Hills Daily Pioneer, with an extended complimentary notice of our former town-boy, E. D. Mansfield, has reached us. He seems to have met with great favor on his first visit to the Hills, and carries away with him an order for about $25,000 worth of boots and shoes.

A chap canvassed this town the latter part of last week selling linseed oil, or some other oily substance, for furniture varnish. He had it put up in bottles, with about two cents' worth in each, which he was peddling out at twenty-fivescents each. Of course those to whom he sold were the ones who were beaten. It never pays to buy of traveling strangers when you can get what you want of local dealers.

There is evidently something in Niles that reads the Mirror for authority on statements made in the Record, and then undertakes to comment by an article in the Democrat in form of a communication, and without a signature. Anyone who is not man enough to make such an attack over his own name, that we may know whether it is a man or mule that is kicking, is not man enough to deserve recognition.

The Democrat Lady's Magazine for April is one of the most interesting periodicals for ladies' reading that reaches us. Each number contains either a beautiful chromo or an elegant steel front piece that are always specimens of a high order of workmanship. Besides there are other full-page plates. The reading matter is of the best. Each number is accompanied by a full-sized pattern, which is of no small value.

Owing to an error made in the complaint made by the plaintiff's attorney, in the case of Mrs. Ashcraft vs. the Village of Buchanan, the case was continued to the October term of the United States Court. The complaint was made against the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Buchanan, instead of against the corporation itself, as it should have been. The consequence was, the witnesses who went from this place had only to come home again and wait for another call.

The examination of Ed. Ryan, who was implicated in the confession of young Hobert and arrested by Marshall Hathaway of this place in Cass county, was held in Cassopolis Tuesday. He waived examination and was placed in the Cassopolis jail to await trial at the June term of court. The out-look is fair for Mr. Hathaway to get the reward, which rightfully belongs to him in case of conviction, although the Cass county Sheriff is working all manner of means to beat him out of it.

There will be one more railroad meeting held in this place, in Rough's Hall, Saturday afternoon, that is to decide whether any more will be held or not. If subscriptions do not come in pretty liberally, a resolution will be passed to abandon the project at once and for all. There are a number of persons in the vicinity who have been waiting until the last day in the afternoon, who are informed that that time will be next Saturday, and if they intend to help at all, then will be the time to do so.

Presentation.—On last Thursday evening a social of the Presbyterian church was held at the residence of Rev. W. W. Wells, on which occasion Mrs. Graham, who has been a member of the choir of that church for a number of years, was made the recipient of a fine diamond ring from the members and society of the church. The presentation speech was made by Rev. W. W. Wells and the response for Mrs. Graham by Prof. D. Howell. Both speeches are highly spoken of by those who heard them. The attendance was large and the surprise to Mrs. Graham complete, she having had no previous intimation that it was designed to make her this present previous to her departure for her new home. All enjoyed the occasion very much.

The Minstrels.—Hi Henry's Minstrels will give an entertainment in Rough's Hall next Wednesday evening, March 31. Hi Henry will be remembered by many in this place as a wonderful cornetist, who visited this place several years ago. The Lockport Journal has the following concerning the troupe:

"This troupe gave a first-class entertainment to a thoroughly appreciative audience at the Opera House last night. The jokes were new and sparkling with humor. Every piece upon the program was encoored and responded to. The music by the orchestra formed a pleasing feature of the entertainment. The cornet solos by the well-known soloist, Hi Henry, were well received by the audience. He was heartily encoored three different times."

Tickets are now on sale at Rough Bros' Hardware.

Many business men of this city complain because some of our citizens go out of town for their goods. They want the printers to blow them up for it and do all possible to prevent it. Now it is a fact that some of those same men send out of town for their printing. With three printing offices here, with all the facilities for doing work as neat and as cheap as any place in the Union, still an agent comes along from Dayton, Ohio, (and other places) and these chaps get their printing done there and pay more for it. They want the printers to do all for them and the patronage to go to Ohio printing office and the agent brag wonderfully at his success. It is all right, gentlemen, you have a right to get your printing done where you choose.—Niles Mirror.

We have a few of this class of men in this section. Their motto seems to be, "sponge" all you can of those printing offices, which help to build up home, public and private enterprises, but pay the cash to outside concerns which never give a penny for the benefit of the town.—St. Joseph Traveler Herald.

Yes, we've got 'em here, too. They expect gratis notices of their business every week, and send their job work to Chicago when it can be duplicated here, both in price and quality, and at a living profit. It is a pleasure to publishers to spend about half their time following such people up to keep their business constantly before the public.

MORE GAME BAGGED.—On Saturday last, while Mr. Maitland Wilson, of Oronoko township, was absent from home his hired man, Royal Voorhes, called at the house and informed Mrs. Wilson that her neighbor, Mrs. Shafer, living about one and one-half miles away, wished her presence immediately. Mrs. Wilson repaired to her neighbor's house. On arriving there learned that Mrs. Shafer had sent no such word, and returned home, finding her house in disorder and her pocket-book, containing $3.06, her husband's revolver, also his boots and pair of socks missing. The hired man had also taken his leave of the premises. Mr. Wilson arrived home late at night and learning what had happened in his absence, came on to Buchanan early Sunday morning and turned the case over to Constable Charles Evans, who started in pursuit of the thief, and succeeded in capturing him at Chester, Indiana, and hurried him on board a train at Porter, arriving in this place at 3 o'clock Monday, and brought him before John C. Dick, Esq., where he pleaded not guilty, and was examined this forenoon and bound over for trial, and in default of $300 went to jail. When he was arrested he had the revolver, pocket-book and socks in his possession.

These people of the north part of the county, we are pleased to learn, are not so wild on the county seat question as was supposed, as note the following from the News, of St. Joseph, and from our Benton Harbor correspondent, who is usually pretty accurate in his estimates on such things. It is at least a pleasure to learn that from the people of that vicinity are not represented by the paper there that does the most blowing on the question: "With the county seat at Niles it will take you three days to go there and back; you may succeed in saving a dollar on the way, but you will have to speak of. A lively team will carry you to Berrien and back in one day, and at a less expense. The farmer cannot see that it will benefit him, for he will take his team to attend court, and he will have to go to Niles. Let every man in St. Joseph and Benton Harbor vote against the removal of the county seat."

It must have cost Niles a little cash to fold up the sheets inside of several of the county papers. Yet, she saved money by printing them at home, then sending them to the papers favoring the removal of the county seat. The supplement contained favorable extracts on the removal question. The expense created by this movement will be small amount. The News does not wish to say that Niles will not pay the $30,000 to erect the county building at that place, if it is privileged to do so, but it will state this: It will take longer drives and more money to reach the county seat at Niles than it does now. Add to this additional hotel expenses and time required, the removal question has no peculiar charms. The great majority of the people will not be accommodated by the removal. Vote against it."

BENTON HARBOR, March 20, 1880. EDITOR RECORD.—Rest assured that this part of the county is sound on the County Seat question, notwithstanding the newspaper talk. Benton township casts nearly 650 votes, and of that there will not be 30 in favor of removal. Yours, N. HAMILTON, Auctioneer.

Some of the county papers, opposed to the removal of the county seat in the absence of any argument having merit, are and have been trying to make the taxpayers of this place believe that the proposed issue of bonds to secure the county seat here is illegal and a swindle. Let us look dispassionately at this subject. It is an old saying that what has been done once, can be done again. It is a fact, as the official records show, that this city voted $47,500 school bonds, and $32,000 bridge bonds, in precisely the same way that the county seat bonds, proposed county seat removal bonds, and the best part of this story is the fact that we have been true in spirit and letter to our obligations and have paid every one of them just as they came due. Of these bonds but $7,000 remain yet unpaid, $5,000 of bridge bonds, due next August, and $2,000 school house enlargement bonds, all of which will be paid on maturity. In August next, if the county rejects the offer of $50,000, this city will be entirely out of debt, a happy condition enjoyed by but few cities in this or any other State.

In view of this state of facts, isn't it cowardly and mean for our opponents to charge Niles with intentional fraud and dishonor? What better evidence of good intention and future honor can be given than a life-time of strict integrity and faithfulness to obligation in man or corporation? This test the City of Niles has stood, and her record is without stain.—Niles Republican.

Yes, Major, but was either of the amounts you mentioned voted to be raised to donate to an institution entirely foreign to the city, as in the case of the $50,000? And was not the $47,500 voted by the school district, instead of the City, two distinct organizations, although occupying the same territory? No one doubts the ability or willingness of Niles to pay every cent of her debts, such as are legally authorized and for purposes allowed by her charter, but when it comes to levying a tax for money employed in a way directly forbidden by your charter, is when the kicking will commence, be taken to court and never paid, simply because the debt is an illegal one and no court will give a judgment for its collection.

MARSHAL HATHAWAY met with peculiar success in the arrest of young Will Hobert, mentioned in last week's Record. After arriving at Cassopolis, Hobert confessed to Mr. Hathaway that he had murdered and robbed William Young last December, but afterward recanted his confession and stated that his pal, Ed Ryan, did the killing, and they divided the money. Mr. Hathaway hastened to secure Ryan, a lad of 19 years, arrested him and placed him in the Cassopolis jail. A statement of the case is given more fully in the sworn testimony of Mr. Hobert, as published in the Cassopolis papers, as follows:

"I will be 15 years old the 22nd of next July. I live in Howard, was born there; knew Wm. Young in his life time; live just a mile from his house; knew Edward Ryan; have known him for eight years; he lives about 100 rods from my house, and a mile from Young's house. Ryan and I have been attending the same school this winter; I first met Edward Ryan on the 15 day of December last at a hay shed near James Shaw's, on Shaw's farm. Howard met him there about eight o'clock a. m.; he asked if Mr. Young had any wood cut; I told him I didn't know; he said, 'Come on up and we will cut him a little'; he said he wanted to see him, and that we could go to school from there. We went together to Young's; I cut an armful of wood and took it in, and built a fire. Ed. went into the house before I went in with the wood; when we first got there we went in together; Ed. sat down, and I got the ax and went out and cut the wood; we sat and talked with Young about half an hour; Young sat in a chair by the side of the bed; Ed. sat on a box by the side of the fire place; Young was looking out of the south window, showing me what long to chop next, when he suddenly fell over on the bed; his hat fell off in the bed. When Young fell, the blood was gushing out of a wound on the back of his head; I heard the blow; when the hat fell off, Ed. Ryan gave him another light crack on top of the head; he caught him by the shoulders and dropped him in the fire place; he told me to get the money, and if I said a word, he'd kill me; Ed. struck Young three blows with the ax after Young was in the fire place; first struck with the back of the ax under the nose; second over the right eye with the back of the ax; third under the chin with the back of the ax. Young was dead; he never spoke or groaned after the first blow; I got the money in Young's pants pocket; got a hundred and sixty dollars, also two dollars in silver; I left a small pocket book in Young's vest pocket, took nothing but money; saw Young's pocket knife, a small two-bladed; left it on the floor by Young; it dropped out of Young's pocket while I was getting the money; after Young was on the fire, Ed. placed his, Young's, cane across his, Young's, forehead, and said he'd burn up, and it wouldn't be known but that he felt the fire; I told him I didn't think he would burn up; then we left; I gave Ed. all the money as soon as we got out of the door; he said he'd keep it until we got down to the hay shed, then we divided the money equally; he told me if I'd ever told he'd kill me; we then went to Ryan's and got dinner; Mrs. Ryan was at home, no one else. From there we went to Shepard's, when we got the Johnny Shepard and another fellow were grinding an ax; left Shepard's after three o'clock in the afternoon; we met Mr. Coulter and Thomas Council on our way home; I got home after school was out."

W. H. HOBART. HIS MARK.

A reward of $500 was offered for the arrest and conviction of the murderers, and for this Mr. Hathaway applies, but the Sheriff of Cass county is making equal efforts to beat him out of it. The suspicion of Mr. Freeman Franklin in the Grange Store, where Hobert attempted to pass a $30 bill mutilated, was what led to his arrest.
