Tukey owes England $900,000,000.

The decrease of the public debt during the month of August was $12,027,167.

The draft this country is making on the gold of Europe is making considerable of a disturbance in the finances of the old world.

Four candidates for Governor of this State are now in the field. The prohibitionists have nominated Prof. Dickie, of Albion, for that office.

The Toledo Tri-State Fair will be held at the same time as the Michigan State Fair at Detroit. Not a first-class arrangement of affairs, we take it.

More of the standard silver dollars were taken from the treasury for circulation in August than during any preceding month.

The Times thinks it no sign because Mr. Talnage stopped over night at Leadville that he should say "keno" where he used to say "amaa."

There are 18 counties in the State of Arkansas without a newspaper of any kind published in any of them. Ignorance must be 14-15 in that State.

Ten vessels, two of them steamers, were wrecked in the terrible cyclone that recently passed the Jamaica's. It was one of the worst storms known to that section of the world.

The local Democrats are not so sanguine of carrying the greater part of the North as they were a few weeks ago. The unmerciful handling of Landers, of Indiana, by his appointment is not encouraging them to any great extent.

Reports from the Russian wheat crop are that it is a failure, also that the crop in Germany is being destroyed by the heavy rains. This has the appearance that American wheat will not need to go begging for a market.

General Garfield has been invited to attend the State Fair, and now some of the over-sensitive Democrats say that if Garfield attends the state fair they will not, which is just about as sensible as the pledge to never vote because the negroes vote.

General Butler can give the same reason for returning to the Democratic party which the inebriated individual did who appeared at his own door and was asked by his wife why he came home at that hour: "Cause all the other places are shut up."

Wade Hampton has excused that Stanton speech in three different ways: First, he claimed he didn't say any such thing; second, he didn't mean it; third, what if he did say it, there wasn't any harm done, anyway.—Inter Ocean.

Contrary to the sanguine expectations of the leading Greenbackers, the Democrats in their convention did not second the nomination of Henry Chamberlain for Congress, but nominated O. W. Powers, of Kalamazoo. Bargains do not appear to prosper in the political field this year.

The Aikin, S. C., Journal and Review of August 18, 1880, says: "To forestall the plans of the radicals the first thing to be done is to organize the red shirt mounted clubs." Wasn't it Hancock that said something about a "free ballot?"

The Chairman of the Greenback Committee in Maine and Secretary of State under Garcelon has written a letter resigning his position as member of that committee, and stating that he should support Garfield and Arthur. Thus the good work goes on.

The ocean steamer City of Vera Cruz was lost in a terrible cyclone off the Florida coast last week, with all on board except eleven who were picked up the next day by a passing vessel. Her mail bags and the trunks and dead bodies of some of her passengers were found along the Florida beach.

Have you heard from Vermont? She gives a Republican majority of 26,576 over all, where in 1878 the Republicans had but 17,617 majority. This points out one of the effects of the solid south. This is the first of the Republican States to indicate the tide that is coming in November. Maine will follow next Monday.

The Arkansas election, Tuesday, gave a Democratic majority of over 40,000, yet we see no roster in the Free Press to glory over the victory. The same was true when Alabama returns were reported. The northern Democrats are not so proud of their southern victories as they were.

In 1860 Ben Butler voted 57 times for Jeff Davis for candidate for President, in the Democratic convention in Charleston, S. C. He has since been a Republican, Independent, Labor Party candidate, and Greenbacker, and is now back into his old nest in the Democratic ready to vote for Jeff Davis again.

Wade Hampton has concluded that it will be unsafe for him to make any more speeches during this campaign. He "got his foot in it" so badly the time he opened his mouth at Staunton, Virginia, that he does not dare trust his mouth open again.

The Review, a journal devoted to fire insurance, states that a mixture of pulverized charcoal and snow, or of wooden ashes and decaying wood are both fruitful sources of spontaneous combustion, and that many fires are caused by disturbing ashes that have been kept in a wooden box or barrel and allowed to remain there a year or more and kept continually moist.

The news from Maine is certainly encouraging to the Republicans. Congressman Fry, who is probably as well posted on the situation in that State as any other man, now claims 15,000 majority for the Republican ticket. Hon. J. C. Burrows, who has just returned from there, says he is reliably informed the Republican majority will not be less than 5,000.

The State whisky ring has already gone through the important maneuver of "spotting" all of the Republican State candidates who are not favorable to the projects of said whisky ring, or in other words are temperance men and will lend their influence to the enforcement of the laws on that question. It is plain that the wants of this interest are not by any means the wants of the peaceable, law-abiding citizens of this State, and they have made known their "spotting" process none too soon for the general good.

Just before the resumption act took effect the Democrats were sure that act would be a certain failure on account of the inability of the government to keep on hand a sufficient amount of specie to redeem the treasury notes as fast as they were presented. Now they are perfectly rampant because Secretary Sherman will not pay out every dollar there is in the treasury, and thus open the channel for the very evil they were so afraid of then, driving the treasury into bankruptcy by presenting the notes for payment when the treasury was empty.

The English Parliament has been discussing the propriety of expending about $10,000,000 in aid of the emigration of a portion of the thick population of southern Ireland, and the friends of the measure recommend sending these people to Canada or New York, but prefer Canada. This appears as a rather peculiar move for a country that has so much complaint about the scarcity of cheap labor as has England. The scheme, however, appears to have had its first conception at the hands of Sir John McDonald, who has charge of the building of the Canada Pacific railroad through a portion of the Province that is but sparsely settled, and is the means he is applying to furnish the population for his railroad to live from.

Hon. R. G. Horr of the Eighth District while in Maine wrote a letter to the committee of his district declining to remain on the Republican ticket as candidate for Congress on account of a disaffection among the Republicans of his district, and stating that he willingly gave up all personal interest for the sake of entering the canvass with a united front. A conference of prominent Republicans for the discussion of the proposition of Mr. Horr to withdraw, when it was decided to instruct the committee not to accept the resignation of Mr. Horr. They would look several times before they would find a better man to represent the Eighth District than Mr. Horr.

The first of a course of seventeen joint discussions between Judge Porter and Hon. Frank Landers, the candidates for Governor of Indiana, was held in South Bend last Thursday, and the large audience that was present was treated to two good speeches, and there was as much diversity of opinion as to which was the best as there was in the crowd itself. The second discussion was held next day at Fort Wayne, and the Chicago dailies, the Times included, join in saying that Mr. Porter had far the better of the game at that place, and that his chances were considerably bettered by the meeting. The prophecy of Republicans from this place who heard the speeches in South Bend was that Judge Porter would drive his competitor clear off the track before the race was completed. Landers did not stay to see the slow through at Fort Wayne, but left the stage before the closing.

The thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth amendments to the Constitution of the United States, embodying the terms of the war, are inviolable.—Hancock's Letter of Acceptance.

We, the Democratic party, intend to persevere until every vestige of your pernicious war legislation is wiped from the statute books.—Joe Blackburn, in his speech in Congress during the extra session of 1879.

The question is, during the extra session of the Democratic assembly.

Franklin Landers, in his speech at Cammerton, Ind., said that "when Hancock is elected the Democrats will carry the government back to where it was when the Republicans got it." That is just where all sensible people object to having it.

We commend to our readers the following from Hon. Wm. E. Chandler. It is a whole speech boiled down, and yet tells the whole truth: "If we elect Garfield the sectional color will be over; the solid South will cease trying to divide the North and to destroy the results of the war; the old rebel Democratic party will break in pieces; and hereafter the issues of politics will be so vital as to involve both human liberty and national existence, but safety and internal peace for the American republic will be secure for at least a century. If, however, Hancock is elected, with a Democratic Congress, no result of the war will be safe beyond dispute. The tariff system will be revised so as to destroy our manufactures; the currency will be tampered with so as to unsettle the value of our money; our present magnificent prosperity will be stopped; doubt and fear will seize our business men, and stagnation will pervade our farms, our mills, and our markets; the national credit will be ruined; the treasury will be plundered by Southern claims; while the whole civilized world will look with amazement to see the control of the foremost popular government of the earth deliberately surrendered to the hands of a party of twenty years opposed all that it accomplished, who attempted its destruction by open treason and costly and bloody civil war, and who now avow that they are still contenting as Democratic politicians, for the principles for which, with Robert E. Lee and Stonewall Jackson, they fought in the rebellion."

The Greenville (S. C.) News in its last issue published a letter to the people of that State, written by B. F. Perry, who was the provisional governor of South Carolina under Andrew Johnson, and is one of its representative men: this is an extract from it: "Every true Democrat and every honorable man should rise up in the majesty of his strength and swear on the altar of his country and his God that this (Republican) success shall not be, let the consequences be what they may. The poor, miserable, unprincipled white man who is ready to render his aid to party to power in South Carolina should be socially ostracized, and not even spoken to on the streets. He should be treated as an enemy to his race. Hostis humani generis. The colored man should be told that his leaders are taking fools of him only to gratify their pitiable ambition and have a chance of stealing his hard earnings. He should be told, too, that if he will vote to place negroes and scoundrels in office and power, no honorable Democrat will employ him in any way. This should be resolved on and adhered to throughout the State—social ostracism for the white man and no employment for the negro."

This is what Gen. Hancock said in his letter of acceptance: "It is only by a full vote, free ballot and fair count that the people can rule in fact, as required by the theory of our government. Take this foundation away and the whole structure falls."

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

GEORGE ARMSTRONG, colored, the same as was recently arrested for adultery, was arrested by Constable Evans in South Bend, Monday, on complaint of Tony Mitchell, colored, charged with the larceny of a shot gun. He borrowed the gun, worth about $30, and sold it for $2, and left the State, but was picked up in South Bend. Mr. Evans had something of a struggle to carry off his gun, for an attempt was made in South Bend to hold him with a capias. The warrant was issued by Justice Barron, of Niles, in August, and left with Mr. Lansing of that city, but he had to give up the chase as fruitless. Armstrong was brought before Esq. Barron on Sept. 7 for examination, and bound over to the next term of court, and in default of $300 bail went to board with Sheriff DeMont.

The last issue of the Berrien Springs Journal contains a rather peculiar article written by Worthy Putnam, in which he makes some prophecies regarding the future of this country. He first predicts that Hancock will be elected; next, that the South will be elected to rule and that the North will not stand that, but rebel which will be followed by war and a division of the country into three separate and distinct nations: one to comprise the Northern States, one the Southern, and the third that portion lying west of the Rocky mountains. He also repeats a statement made by him in 1860, that the Republic was not a natural government and could not endure. That the signs of dissolution were fast appearing. He evidently sees the same signs now as then. His view of the effects of the election of Hancock and the placing of the Democrats in power is not devoid of meaning and is, withal, rather a peculiar prediction for approval by a Democratic sheet.

ONE man in this place went to a certain store and in order to obtain credit, stated that he was working for one of the manufacturing establishments in town and drew his pay monthly, and that he would pay his bill at the end of the month. By this means he succeeded in obtaining credit to the amount of $11. By this time the dealer, by other means, learned that he not only drew his wages weekly and spent them elsewhere, but was owing his employers a considerable sum, and consequently stopped giving him further credit, and cannot now get pay for goods already sold. This man should know that by this little arrangement he committed the crime known in law as obtaining goods under false pretenses, and is punishable by imprisonment in the State prison, and if the dealer perceives his just duty to the public he will prosecute the criminal to the full extent of the law, that others who contemplate the same mode of defrauding dealers of their goods may take warning.

Temperance.

Quite a number of the friends, and neighbors interested in the temperance work assembled at Painter's school house, Aug. 24, 1880, pursuant to the call of the President of the town, Philip W. Cressy, to organize the Wee-saw Temperance Association. The following officers were elected: President, Alonzo Sherwood; Vice President, A. J. Morris; Sec'y, P. T. Convis; Cor., W. H. Helms; Treasurer, Mrs. Chancy Smith. Several short but satisfactory speeches were made. All was interspersed with appropriate songs. Adjourned, subject to call of President. P. T. Convis, Sec'y.

The regular annual school meeting for District No. 1, Buchanan, was held in the Old School House on Monday evening, Sep. 6. After reading minutes of last meeting, and report of director, which is published in another part of this paper, the meeting voted to raise by direct tax, for the payment of bonds 21, 22, 23, and 24, and interest on remaining indebtedness, the sum of $4,000. It was also voted that the term of school for the present school year shall be 91/2 months, or 33 weeks, and that the schools shall be kept by male and female teachers. A resolution was offered by Mr. Wm. Osborn to instruct the school board to open and keep up a primary school in the Old School building in case they find it necessary on account of a crowded condition in the primary room in the Union School building, which was adopted. During the discussion of this resolution it was announced that during a portion of last year there were as high as 150 children enrolled in that department, and 128 in general attendance, which is decidedly too many for one room and one teacher. There was but a small attendance at the meeting, there being but 39 votes, when there should have been 200 or more.

FRANK GEPHARDT, who, it will be remembered, kept a saloon in this place some years since, is likely to lose some of his duets, as is shown from the following dispatch: DOWAGIAC, Mich., Sept. 6.—James Fogle, of this city, has entered suit in $4,000 damages against Frank Gephardt, a local saloonist, for loss of a leg. On the 22d of last March, Fogle, who was working at a saw-mill a few miles from the town, came to the city and got drunk, fell off a log, and returned by way of a freight train. He was overtaken by a freight train and run over, losing a leg, hence the suit. The chances are that he will recover damages, as his evidence is straight, and he is ready to testify. He was overtaken by a freight train, and the saloonists of this city, as a general thing, have an utter disregard for the Sabbath and all the laws pertaining thereto.

Yours truly, U. S. GRANT.

General Weaver's experience in Alabama has opened the eyes of thousands of our countrymen, and in our view of the situation, viz: the fight is between the loyal Republican and the Confederate democracy. Social Ostracism of Radicals Called for.

From the News of Greenville (S. C.)—Wade Hampton's Home. We can have no feeling for those who threaten our existence and disturb our peace, but bitter hatred. They have done this in the name of justice, that we, the voters, and the people, have allowed. From now henceforth let there be no peace or toleration for the people enemies who have abused our magnanimity and spurned our forgiveness. No more peace, no more toleration for those who have declared war against us. Let them have it as long as there is one of them. We do not advocate the use of the shot-gun or the "bull whip." We do not advocate the full use of such means as we can use lawfully. We mean that the white-skinned man who joins with the corrupt remains of the party of corruption in this State should be a social leper—shunned, despised, and hated. WE MEAN THAT THE WHITE-SKINNED MAN OR NEGRO WHO DELIBERATELY ENTERS THE FIGHT FOR A RADICAL STATE TICKET WILL DO SO WITH THE UNDERSTANDING THAT HE WILL BE AFTER RECEIVING HIS VOTES, EXCLUDED FROM WHITE MEN. LET THEM UNDERSTAND THAT THERE WILL BE NO EMPLOYMENT FOR THEM WHERE IT IS POSSIBLE TO AVOID IT; THAT THERE WILL BE NO CIVIL RIGHTS FOR THEM; THAT FROM THEM THE LAST FAITHING WILL BE KEENLY REACTED; THAT THE KINDNESS OF MASTERS WILL CEASE.

We have received a book entitled "Southwestern Kansas," written by a member of the Chicago press. The book is neatly gotten up and well written, contains full map and gives full and reliable information in regard to all counties in Southern and Southwestern Kansas, the more fertile portions of the State—with map of each county. Also valuable information in regard to the great lead and zinc mines of Southwest, Missouri and Southwestern Kansas. The book is for gratuitous distribution, and may be had free of postage by addressing J. E. Lockwood, Kansas City, Mo. It should be in the hands of every person going to Kansas.

FRANK AND JESSE JAMES.—Hon. J. A. DAVIS, of St. Louis, the well-known editor and ex-Member of the Missouri Legislature, has written a carefully prepared "Life and Adventures of Frank and Jesse James," which has been issued by the well-known publishing house of N. D. Thompson & Co., of that city. Mr. Davis, we are informed, spent two years in the preparation of this work, much of which time was spent in the family and friends of the James boys, whose friendship and confidence he gained, and who gave him all the facts concerning their antecedents and associations. The book is for gratuitous distribution, and may be had free of postage by addressing J. E. Lockwood, Kansas City, Mo. It should be in the hands of every person going to Kansas.

Justice of the Peace.

From the Waupun (Wis.) Times.

"All of our readers who are afflicted with long standing or chronic diseases, such as rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica, the celebrated Analytical Physician, Dr. J. C. Watson, of Chicago, Ill., has been acquainted with him for years, have been diligent enquirers in relation to his practice, and, as a result of our enquiries, have learned that he is a skillful and successful physician, and that he has obtained relief from him when all other remedies failed, can testify. He has visited the principal cities in this section of the State regularly for years, and every place, on account of the almost miraculous cures he has performed, his fame as a skillful practitioner has spread far and wide. We are therefore, desirous that Dr. Watson should visit Buchanan, Mich., and consult Dr. Price. If your disease is beyond his control, he will candidly tell you so. If it is not, your consulting him may be the means of your enjoying a long and happy life. Dr. Price will be at Niles, Band house, on Saturday the 25th of September.

There is no one being in the way if they will be careful.

Read over the list of candidates for county offices on the Republican ticket, and how many of you find that served their country in the late war? Not one.—St. Joseph Republican. Take that back. Mr. W. I. Himes, of this place, candidate for County Clerk, was a member of a Massachusetts regiment, in active service of his country three years, and is now receiving a pension for injuries received while there. The Democracy of Buchanan can boast of having a Hancock and English club as any town of its size in the State. This don't look very favorable for Republicanism, particularly where they have heretofore predominated so largely over the Democrats. The club numbers over 200 members.—Niles Democrat. Let the Democrat not console itself that the Republicans here are all dead. The Garfield and Arthur club here numbers almost 300 members, and is still growing.
