THE M. E. church society held services in the Oak street Advent chapel last Sunday, and will again hold services at the same place next Sunday. In the meantime the repairs on their church building will be pushed forward as fast as possible.

THE Michigan Central company expect to have their iron bridge across the St. Joseph river at Niles completed ready for use next week. It will be one of the best bridges on the road when done.

SATURDAY evening, after the speaking there was a slight diversion by way of a few questions by R. V. Clark, which, our reporter informs us did not bring a great amount of glory to the questioner, or his cause.

CAPT. G. H. RICHARDS, Wm. Pears, H. F. Strong and John Alliger have got on hand a supply of square brick for the purpose of building a brick walk in front of their respective residences.

THE first legacy ever left to our State University was by a lady in Chillicothe, Ohio, four years ago, and is just come to the possession of the University. Regent Van Riper has gone to look after it. The amount is about $5,000.

Mrs. ISAAC MARBLE died at her home near South Bend, Tuesday morning aged 54 years. Mrs. Marble was a sister of Mrs. Geo. Witter, of Warren township, and was quite well known by a number of citizens of this vicinity.

THE Times and Palladium, of Benton Harbor are now quarreling over their respective circulations. Better keep still about it. Neither have enough to make you sick.

MR. A. D. CHENEY, of Three Oaks, gave us a call Tuesday. He is now engaged in placing before hair workers a device for hatching, gumming and rooting hair for switches, and other "fixins," that he has just been patenting.

FRANK HATCH, the circulator of the South Bend Daily Tribune, won the first prize in the bicycle race at the Laporte fair, making the half mile in 1:55. He will contest in the race in Niles to-morrow.

A parlor concert will be given at the residence of Mr. Geo. McNeil on Wednesday evening, Oct. 6. This is the first of a series of concerts to be given for the benefit of the M. E. Church. Some of the best musical talent of the place has been engaged to assist on this occasion, which is expected to be a very enjoyable one as it is something new in this village. All are invited to attend. Admission free. The BENEFIT depending on the generosity of the company.

GEORGE PARSONS has engaged to teach the Cottage Hill school in district No. 1, Warren township, the coming winter, commencing the first Monday in November. That has the reputation of being the best country school in that county.

THE Niles Republican contains a very pointed communication protesting against the manner in which meats for the city markets are handled before killing, by fast driving and beating, and then slaughtering while the meat is still in this heated condition.

THE Dowagiac Fair Association has our thanks for a ticket of admission to their union fair to be held in that place October 11, 12, 13, 14. One of the novelties of their fair is to be a nail-driving contest. It will be fun, but we can't tell you about it half as well as you can go and see it.

FARMERS, I am prepared to insure your buildings, giving you a policy covering damages from lightning, whether fire occurs or not, and give you permit to use thrashing machines without extra charge. Call and see. JOHN G. HOLMES, Agent.

MR. O. S. TOURJE has sold his meat market to a man named Frank Mearson, from Chicago, a meat packer in that place, who will take possession about October 15. Mr. Tourje was afraid of another attack from his favorite, rheumatism, if he continued in the business during the winter months.

THE St. Joseph Valley Railroad Company expect to have four or five cars delivered in this place some day next week, one of which will be an iron laying car, and they expect to commence the work of laying track soon after the arrival of these cars. They come from Towlerville, in Southern Ohio.

A gentleman has been at work in this place making smoothing irons out of the ladies' sardins. He called at our house, and now the lady of the house thinks she has the nearest arrangement for doing up shirts in the market, and we guess she is right about it.

ABOUT sixty went by special train from this place to South Bend, last Thursday evening, to hear Col. Ingersoll. Enough more went from Niles to crowd four coaches full. They heard one of the best Republican speeches that has been delivered in this campaign, and took part in a torch light procession that was over a mile long.

THE question of docking the marshal for ten days' wages, in this month's bill, for the time he left the village to do township work, was up for discussion at the meeting of the Common Council, Friday evening, but they finally allowed the full bill, notwithstanding the two days he was at work for some one else.

THE Mirror contains an article stating that it is informed that Henry Chamberlain had withdrawn from the nomination as candidate for Congress on the Greenback ticket. The Mirror holds this as indication that Hancock is to receive another vote in Three Oaks. That is the rank we had always classed him in.

OWING to circumstances over which he had no control, Hon. J. C. Burrows has been obliged to make a few changes in the dates of his meetings in this county. See announcement in another part of this paper. Date for this place will be announced in due time.

ONE class in this place has at last found its proper name. The notices posted up by its members last Monday read, "Flat Lunatics, come and hear them, at Kinson's hall to-night." Some people thought Mr. Kinson was opening up the entertainment season with some new fangled show, when it was nothing but a Greenback speech, by a "rattler" from Hartford, named Cook.

FOR the office of Judge of Probate, the man who has the handling of dead men's fortunes, a man who can conduct his own business affairs successfully, and keep accounts correctly, is far preferable to one who can do neither. Will you remember this when you come to vote for a candidate for that office in November? We have both kinds in the field, and you can make a choice.

BRIDGMAN, Mich., Sept. 27, 1880. ED. RECORD.—There was a Garfield and Arthur Club organized here some three weeks ago. The officers are: President, W. C. Babcock; Secretary, Dr. J. F. Berenger; Treasurer, Dr. S. Mauldin; Corresponding Secretary, A. E. Whipple. The Club meet every Wednesday night at the Odd Fellows' building, and intend to have a good speaker at every meeting. The greenback element here is on the wane, many having gone back to the old parties. L. S.

BECHANAN loses another of her old and respected citizens to-day, in the person of Mrs. Sarah Hermance, now Mrs. John Felty, of North Bend, Ind. The change in her name was to have taken place in South Bend this afternoon. She and her husband leave that place this evening for a visit in Pennsylvania for a few weeks when they will return, making their home in South Bend. Mr. Felty is employed as foreman in Studebaker's factory.

THE question, How long are we to be pestered by the miserable scamps who make repeated attempts to break into houses in this place, without making some effort to get rid of the nuisance? is what now agitates the mind in this place. It is evident from their unsuccessful attempts that the ones who do the work are amateurs at the business, and undoubtedly live in Buchanan. There appears but one way out of the dilemma, and that is for every man to prepare himself with a battery of light artillery, and be ready to shoot in any direction at an instant's warning. About one charge of lead in the right place will be apt to effectively stop all further annoyance in this line. If any one has a better way of getting rid of the rascals let them speak out.

THE Mirror accuses one of the Studebakers of importing negroes from Calvin, Cass county, into South Bend to vote. An angel would not be above the accusation of the Mirror. Should one appear in Niles, the Mirror would accuse him of stealing his pass from the "Pearly Gates."

YUM! YUM! YAM.—Captain Peck, now clerking in the Grange Store in this place sent to this office, last evening, a yam measuring 9 1/2 inches in length, 18 inches in circumference and weighing 5 1/2 pounds, and grown on his farm in Berrien township. Let the fellow who has beaten that in the yam business, hold up his hand for a medal.

GOOD EXERCISE.—Wood & Samson were not here at the times subscriptions were being taken for aid to build the St. Joseph Valley railroad and consequently their name does not appear on the subscription list, but they make it up now by presenting the company with a Round Oak heating stove, zinc and pipe for their office, valued at $20.

SPRING CLEANING.
The house is on leaving home, around a glance. All that is left of the year is a memory. The dog and cat are the only ones left. The house is empty, and the only sound is the ticking of the clock. The house is empty, and the only sound is the ticking of the clock. The house is empty, and the only sound is the ticking of the clock.

An Irish Farm.
Imagine a level country, with a few trees and no forest, cut up into very small irregular fields by stone walls. It is of such land that Irish farms are composed. In most counties there is a great deal of boggy, swampy land, from which the farmers cut peat, which serves them as fuel.

An Irish farm is generally about as large as an ordinary village green of New York or New England, say, from five to fifteen acres. In some districts, however, the farms are much larger, and it is often the sole support of an immense family—father, mother, ten children, and, perhaps, an old grand-mother.

The farm-house is generally one story high, and very often consists of a single large room, with, perhaps, a recess for a bed. It is commonly built of stone, with a roof of thatch, but many of the houses are made of earth, with a hard floor of mud or cement. In this one room the dairy work is done, and all the family live, the pig coming in and going out as he pleases.

Are the people then miserable and degraded? By no means. When the harvest is good and the rent reasonable they are among the most cheerful people in Europe, and in all the world there is no land where the peasant is so happy and contented. The children are generally clean and neat. The people enjoy life so much upon these little black, boggy farms that, when they emigrate to America or Australia, they sometimes find it of homesickness. In many instances a poor Irish girl among us never goes to bed for six months, after leaving home, without crying a little for the old house of mud and thatch and the old folks within it.—Youth's Companion.

The Animal in the Box.
There is a sad young man up Michigan avenue to-day. He got up very early on the morning of the 1st, and rigged up a box and hung upon it a sign reading "Don't annoy a baboon." A great many people looked into the box and were annoyed by boots and bells, and the inventor of the sign was vexing fat, when along came a six-foot farmer, wearing a water-tight coat and a pair of gaiters. When he saw the box and the sign he hitched his team and made an inspection. There was no baboon in the box. No, sir; there wasn't even the faintest trace of one. The farmer was leaning against the fence laughing his sides sore, when the farmer approached and asked:

"Did you have any baboon in that box?"

"No, of course not."

"Then why that sign? If there is no baboon there how can he be annoyed? Did he like a man who'd annoy a baboon of mine?"

"Why, it's only a sell," explained the young man.

"What's a sell?"

"Why, to-day a April-fool day."

"Never heard of any such day in my life. Young man, don't you dare lie to me! I can take a joke as well as the next man, but I can't be babooned to death or any other day. Where's that animal?"

"Never had any."

"Never had a baboon in the box, yet you hang out a sign that people must look into it and annoy him! Boy, that's false pretenses!"

"But can't you take a joke?"

"A joke? Where is the joke in forbidding us to annoy the baboon when there isn't a baboon within a thousand miles of us? Other folks may not resent it, but I can't be imposed on without a rumpus!"

He hauled the box down, kicked off the sign, and then he picked up the young man, turned him over for end, twisted him up, and jammed him into the baboon box. It was an awful close fit, and there was a heap of kicking, but the baboon got there all the same, and, after the farmer had driven away, they had to pull the box apart to get the living curiosity out.—Detroit Free Press.

How an M. P. Became Rich.
I related the other week an interesting episode in the life of a well-known Irish member, which resulted in his finding a writ in the hand he had received, and to take what he thought was a vote of confidence passed by a public meeting of his constituents. A correspondent, a colleague of the chief's in the representation of Ireland, said he was interested in the story, and, in an unexpected manner in which means were forthcoming for the payment of the little bill.

Napoleon as a Man of Feeling.
During the preparations for important coming events, said Madame de Remusat, it was decided that the Emperor, with those members of the court who had accompanied her, should remain at Marseilles. M. de Remusat was in waiting, having the superintendence of her entire household, and M. de Talleyrand was also to remain until further orders. Just before the Emperor's departure my husband was present at a scene which made a great impression on him. M. de Talleyrand was in the Emperor's cabinet, where M. de Remusat was reading the final instructions; it was evening, and the traveling carriages were waiting. The Emperor sent his husband to summon the Emperor; he returned with her in a few minutes. She was weeping. Agitated by her tears the Emperor held her for a long time in his arms, and seemed almost unable to bid her farewell. He was strongly moved, and M. de Talleyrand was also much affected. The Emperor, still holding his wife to his heart, approached M. de Talleyrand with outstretched hand; then, throwing his arms round both at once, he said to M. de Remusat, "It is very hard to leave the two persons one loves best." As he uttered these words he was overcome by a sort of nervous emotion, which increased to such a degree that he wept uncontrollably, and almost immediately an attack of convulsions ensued, which brought on vomiting. He was placed in a chair, and drank some orange-juice, but continued to weep for fully a quarter of an hour. At length he mastered himself, and, rising suddenly, he shook M. de Talleyrand by the hand, gave a last embrace to his wife, and said to M. de Remusat, "Are the carriages ready? Call the suite, and let us go."

Sarsaparilla.
Is a compound of the virtues of sarsaparilla, stillingia, mandrake, yellow dock, with the addition of potent and powerful blood-purifying, blood-cleansing, and blood-strengthening elements. It is the purest, safest, and most effective blood medicine known or available to the public. The science of medicine and chemistry have never produced so valuable a remedy, nor one so potent to cure all diseases resulting from impure blood. It cures Scrofula and all scrofulous diseases, Erysipelas, Rose, or St. Anthony's Fire, Pimples and Face-grabs, Pustules, Blisters, Boils, Tumors, Tetters, Humors, Salt Rheum, Scald-head, Ring-worm, Uterus, Sores, Rheumatism, Mercurial Discharge, Strains, Female Weakness, and Irregularities, Jaundice, Affections of the Liver, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility.

By its searching and cleansing qualities it purges out the blood corruption which cures the liver and causes indigestion and decay. It stimulates and enlivens the vital functions, promotes energy and strength, and preserves health, and infuses new life and vigor throughout the whole system. No sufferer from any case which arises from impurity of the blood need despair who will give AYER'S SARSAPARILLA a fair trial.

It is fully as effective with the numerous low-priced mixtures, of cheap materials, and without medicinal virtues, offered as Sarsaparilla, and is far the best, cheapest, and most reliable blood-purifier known. Physicians know its composition, and prescribe it. It has been widely used for forty years, and has won the unqualified confidence of millions which it has benefited.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.
