THE Marshal of St. Joseph is appointed by the Common Council. An amendment to the charter is now offered in the Legislature, making that officer elected by the people.

ACCIDENT - Mr. Philo Smith had the misfortune to have one of his thumbs sawed nearly off, while fooling with a circular saw Sunday. You ought to have gone fishing, Philo, and that wouldn't have happened.

Now is a splendid time for those in charge to know to a certainty that the river bridges are all properly secured. The ice is taking its down-stream trip and will be trying to all such structures.

THE Era appears to have taken upon itself the task of hiding Berrien Springs of the presence of J. K. Turner. That's right. If he isn't a proper man to have about give him a boost.

A BELL telephone exchange is being established in St. Joseph. It is a splendid arrangement but costs too much: $50 per year for business houses and $40 for dwellings, payable quarterly in advance. This would be a fair price if connections were made with the entire county, but of course this cannot be done in a minute.

At the annual election of the Berrien County Mutual Fire Insurance Company, held at the Secretary's office last Saturday, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, James Badger. ITEMS FROM GALLEN. January thaw comes in February this year. Sleighting almost played. A young man well dressed, put up at the Haskin House one night last week, representing that he was running for a boot and shoe house in Detroit. In the morning he left a square package very nicely done up, with the landlord and said he would go to the depot and get his samples. He went, took the train and skipped out. As soon as the landlord ascertained he had gone, he examined the package and found two chunks of stone coal wrapped up in an old newspaper.

Last Saturday night a tramp stopped at this place, stayed most of the night at the depot. The next day went to the Haskin House was taken sick with brain fever and now lies at the point of death. His name is John Lotz, a German.

George Patterson from Iowa, is in town visiting friends and relatives. The Baptists are talking of erecting a church in Galien. They have quite a class here.

The Good Templars were compelled to have a new election on account of the ballot box being stuffed at the first trial.

Anderson Shearer has been laid up several days with a felon on his right hand.

Galien village is incorporated, and we have a code of by-laws, and what does amount to? Nothing. Not a single law is enforced.

THREE OAKS ITEMS. Feb. 9, 1881. James Osmith, formerly of Three Oaks, living near Crymo, Ind., lost his house and contents by fire, on Sunday last, while the family were absent at Sabbath school. The people of Three Oaks are subscribing liberally to aid Mr. Smith.

Capt. R. A. Pamer gave three lectures on temperance at this place. Mr. P. is a fine and earnest talker, and drew crowded houses here.

The Sabbath school concert, at the Congregational church on Sunday evening last, was largely attended, and the audience was well pleased with the concert.

Rev. Mr. Cole, of the Christian church, held services at Davogiac last week.

Considerable real estate changing hands in this vicinity lately.

Rev. Mr. Wilkinson, of the Baptist church, has held a series of meetings at Galien, commencing about December 15. About 20 persons are to be baptized at Galien soon, and a church organization effected as a result of the work.

We have lost all faith in the woodcock sign.

The post-office has moved again down across the street from where it was, and is now in our hands.

Green, New Buffalo.

THE coroner's jury in the case of Major Joss, who was killed by the overturning of the Air Line passenger train last week, appeared rather brisk on the railroad company. The evidence given before the jury shows that two freight trains had passed over the broken rail before the accident occurred, and that the company had full knowledge of the defect but failed to notify the managers of this train. Following is the verdict as rendered by the jury:

At an inquisition held on the 2d and 3d days of February, A. D. 1881, in the township of Howard, county of Cass, before Almon Gott, a Justice of the Peace in and for said county, upon the body of John C. Joss, then and there lying dead, to inquire into and determine the cause of his said death, we, the undersigned jurors, duly empaneled upon our oath, do say that said deceased was killed by the overturning of a passenger car on the Air Line Railroad near Barron Lake, Howard township, Cass county, Mich., and we further find that the cause of said car being thrown from the track and overturned was a broken rail, and we further find that some one or more of the employees (unknown to us) of the Michigan Central Railroad Company, were grossly or criminally negligent in not notifying the persons in charge of said passenger car of said broken rail, or in not causing the same to be repaired before said car was allowed to pass.

HOME CORRESPONDENCE. BUCHANAN, Feb. 9, 1881. MR. EDITOR: Dear Sir, - The Niles Mirror in its issue of the 9th has the following item: "Basswood Miller, of Benton Harbor, claims patents on certain pieces of machinery placed in the Buchanan Excelsior Factory, and will make it hot for the Buchanan Company unless they comply with his demands." Why, bless our souls! Did you ever? We should like to present our compliments to the Mirror and Basswood Miller, through your paper, and say to them, that Niles nor Benton Harbor cannot make it any hotter for Buchanan and her manufacturing establishments than it is now. We carry a hundred pounds of steam and keep our safety valves tied down. The Narrow Gauge Railroad nearly completed; eleven manufacturing and other establishments run by steam power, and four by water - that's all - and the Niles Mirror and Basswood Miller mad because we are starting more, among them an Excelsior Factory. We try to treat our neighbors well when they come to see us; give them a good square meal, show them through our manufacturing establishments, never refusing them admittance for fear they will steal some of our valuable patents or infringe on us by using them; show them our comfortable residences, stores, and anything else we have that might interest them; invite them to come and live where people sleep with "one eye open" for the "main chance," and send them away (if they do not conclude to stay) rejoicing. Come and see our Excelsior Factory, Mr. Mirror, and bring Basswood Miller with you. We will give him a check on the Farmers' and Manufacturers' Bank for all he may claim from us for infringements on his Patent Basswood Curled Hair Excelsior Machinery. Truly yours, EXCELSIOR.

WE have been having extremely cold weather during the first days of February, and if this is a forerunner of what is to come, many will be made to suffer.

The teamsters still continue the log hauling business, notwithstanding the mill-yards are full. Truly this might be said to be a lumbering country.

Dayton Mills says that the woodchuck did not see his shadow, for the reason that he could not work his way out of the snow banks.

Our weather prophet predicts six weeks sleighing in March.

W. J. Hanover goes to Chicago Monday to replenish his stock of goods. He has been in the mercantile business long enough to ascertain the wants of his customers, and is now determined to supply them.

Three of the elite of our village went to Galien to assist in the institution of an Old Fellows' Lodge a week ago, and one of them came back Sober.

Belden Haynes is truly a happy man. His wife presented him with a fine boy, but the lad will not be able to attend school for a few days.

John Beckwith is preparing to build a farm house. John Babcock will do the carpenter work.

Charles Stephens has gone to visit his grand parents at Valparaiso, Ind., and will be absent some time. Charles is a good boy, and we miss him.

PEDAGOGUE.

COUNTY PRESS. [Niles Democrat.] We understand that the matter which has been in controversy between S. M. Finley and David Gitchell, for some time past in regard to that portion of the dam property, upon which the woolen and knitting factory was situated, has been compromised and settled. S. M. Finley gets Gitchell's interest and also an interest held by Dr. Douglas, of Ann Arbor. Mr. Finley has leased the property to parties to Syracuse, N. Y., for ten years. These parties will rebuild the building destroyed by fire, and start a paper mill for the manufacture of paper boxes. Other manufacturing pursuits will undoubtedly be connected with this box factory.
