JOHN G. HOLMES, Editor.

THURSDAY, NOV. 17, 1881.

There is talk of resuming the coinage of the nickel five-cent piece.

Chicago has finally sent $80,000 to the Michigan fire sufferers.

The Republicans have a majority in the New Jersey Legislature, and will elect the successor to McPherson, Democrat, in the United States Senate.

Of the premiums awarded at the last stock exhibitions at Chicago, last week, Frank Wilson of Jackson captured eight.

Col. Ingersoll and Judge Jere Black are now engaged in a discussion of theology in the North American Review, which is attracting considerable attention.

Mahone has succeeded in entering a wedge in Virginia that breaks a piece from the solid Democratic South. Virginia did not go Democratic this time.

Guiteau insists upon being called a patriot with Washington and Grant, and demands that the press report him as Guiteau the patriot instead of the assassin.

The bottom dropped out of the market for Confederate bonds, and it is difficult to give them away. The rise and fall of Confederate bonds in '81 is a good subject for the next discourse by Jeff.

Considerable uneasiness is being manifested on account of the delays in the prosecutions of the star route cases. They appear to be assuming the appearance of looseness that looks dangerous to the cases.

There is a prediction that a panic exceeding in extent anything ever known in this country is to occur at no distant day. Everybody is making money and spending it faster than was ever known before, and the far-sighted ones are seeing this end in the distance.

The publishers of Russian newspapers who have been convicted of publishing matter that did not please the government, and are now enduring punishment for the offense, are to be granted general amnesty. A grand place for free speech, free press, and those other freedoms that human beings love to enjoy.

According to an official schedule of property in Europe and America, belonging to the late confederacy, its total gold value is $40,832,992. Of this amount $11,000,000 is deposited to the credit of the rebel government in Vienna, Brussels, Amsterdam, Frankfurt-on-the-Main, Paris and London. —Evening News.

This after a denial on the part of the press of these places that any deposit exists to the credit of the defunct confederacy.

John Bull appears to be taking great pains to make a showing of friendship toward the United States. Asked for an invitation to attend the celebration of his own birthday, and now on Lord Mayor's day, in London, the procession carried American flags, and the band played such airs as "Yankee Doodle," "The Star Spangled Banner," "Rail Columbia," &c. This all sounds pretty, but it is well understood that the moment we get into trouble with anybody, Johnny will be our enemy from the start, and some Alabama performances indulged in at our expense.

Jesse Baldwin, an eccentric wealthy man residing near Youngstown, Ohio, some time since presented about $75,000 in bonds for redemption, and would take nothing but gold, which was given him, and he took it home. This was a good advertisement for burglars, and they came—four of them—on Tuesday morning about three o'clock, and robbed his little safe of $30,000 in gold and $100,000 in bonds. They had his own carriage in waiting, and escaped in that, notwithstanding the fact that fire was opened upon them by members of the family who were awakened by the explosion of the safe. $10,000 reward is offered for the arrest of the burglars.

The board of canvassers of the Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., met at Detroit on Tuesday and counted the votes cast in the several Lodges for Grand officers last June, and found the following to be the lucky ones:

W. M. Grand Master—George W. Westerman of Adrian.

R. W. D. Grand Master—Harrison of Jackson.

R. W. D. Grand Warden—L. N. Burke of Kalamazoo.

R. W. D. Grand Secretary—R. H. Whitney of Lansing.

R. W. D. Grand Treasurer—B. D. Pritchard of Allegan.

R. W. D. Grand Representative to the grand lodge at Baltimore—Samuel Adams of Detroit.

Thanksgiving Proclamation.

During the past year universal distress to the country was caused by the murder of the President; yet have the people cause to be thankful that our government was wisely preserved from the father that it passed unimpaired the assault of the assassin, as it had withstood every assault since its formation. For some eighty days during the presidency of President Garfield after he was shot, the government was without an executive head, yet peace and good order prevailed, and with much regularity public business was conducted. Commercial activity and prosperity is also a feature of the year past.

In the special calamity by fire which has fallen on a large district of Michigan, we recognize the hand of an inscrutable Providence, and yet to temper the blow to the bereaved and suffering inhabitants of that section, came generous and munificent donations from men of all parts of our Union. For this relief of affliction we owe many thanks.

Mindful of these chastenings, yet are we thankful for the general prosperity which assures remuneration for labor, abundance for the needs of our people, and for the absence of plague, pestilence, or general misfortune in the States.

To show our submission to our Heavenly Father and to attest our thankfulness for the blessings vouchsafed to us, I recommend to the people of Michigan that they assemble in their respective places of worship, on the day hereinafter named, and in humble supplication to Almighty God, ask for His continued kindness to us as a people.

Therefore, under the authority vested in me as Governor of the State, I hereby designate Thursday, the 24th day of November instant, as a day of Prayer and Thanksgiving throughout the Commonwealth.

By the Governor: DAVID H. JEROME.

Wm. JENNEY, Secretary of State.

Oregon Correspondence.

PORTLAND, Oct. 31, 1881. EN. RECORD.—Mr. George Pullen, of your county, is here in Oregon, and will take a close survey and very careful inspection of our country. He has a brother living here. Mr. Pullen is capable of judging fully of the future prospects of this or any other country, and he will report, upon his observation, when he arrives at home, and those of his acquaintance wishing to come here can rely upon what he says. While the eastern States are filled and crowded with highly colored parades, setting forth the great resources of this country, let every one that reads them remember that they are paid for by the great railroad and steamboat companies, for the only purpose of getting a great flood of emigration to fill their own pockets. We have a good country, as Mr. Pullen will tell you, yet no man has any business here without means to help himself get a start, especially with a large family.

Mr. Pullen has called to see us twice; stayed two nights and four days, and we have traveled all over Berrien county, revived old memories, and talked of all the old friends there. I tell you that our latch string is always on the outside for any old Michigander that comes up here from Berrien county.

There is a great abundance of all kinds of the blessings of life here, and crops are always good. A failure of crops was never known in Oregon. It is now fully settled that Portland is to be the great center and terminus of all the great railroad systems of this North Pacific coast, and that direct connection will be made with Chicago and the east by all rail inside of two years; and while this is the fact, yet the producers of Oregon will be in the hands of this great gigantic monopoly that is like the jaws of grim death upon the purse-strings of all producers. It is only just beginning to develop itself. In 1880 the old Oregon steam navigation company sold out to Henry Villard for four million dollars, which he watered up to $6,000,000. The balance was pocketed by him. Last February it was increased to $12,000,000. I will give you a little illustration of its workings under the old rule. It would cost $8 per ton for freight to the Dallas. Now it is $22, so I am told. A man at the upper Cascade bridge in Portland twelve sacks of potatoes and was obliged to pay 85 cents per 100 pounds freight on them, while the original cost was only 75 cents in Portland. The cause of this terrible extortion is watered stocks and the effort of forcing shippers into paying dividends upon fictitious valuations.

The productive power all over the country is already strained by taxation of this sort to its utmost tension, and something will give way before long. A dollar is a dollar, but four bits is not a dollar at all. That is just what Gould, Vanderbilt, Villard and others are doing now. They are trying on all occasions to make $4,000,000 represent $12,000,000. Some of these days there will be a civil war worse by far than free labor was compelled to wage against slavery. Then there will be a scattering of hiring congressmen and time serving and mercenary editors. We shall feel this terrible more and more as the years pass, and than you will in the States, for there you have a chance for competition; here nothing of the kind, for one railroad company own all the railroads, all the steamboats, all the ocean steamers, in fact every vestige of the transportation facilities of this country. I do not state one word against this country, but present the facts as they begin slowly to unravel.

The great Woman's Suffrage Convention closed its annual session in this city last week.

A new 16 page paper has just been started in this city.

The great Mechanics' Fair closed a very successful term last night. Your humble servant took a prize of a fine medal for pure flavoring extracts.

We can pick roses and flowers at any time here now.

I will always try to give your readers the correct facts from Oregon as I am able to obtain them without prejudice, for we all like Oregon.

We would like to hear from Dr. Myers, of Sacramento, Cal.

J. L. SMITH.

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Nov. 15.—The stores of C. H. Dickinson, hardware; Mullin & Young, book and stationery; and H. Stearns & Co., clothing house, were entered by burglars last night, and a considerable amount of plunder obtained.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

CASS COUNTY court has had a liquor case similar to those from New Buffalo, in which Arick Hayes was prosecuted for selling liquor on Sunday. The case was dismissed on account of the law having been repealed.

The editor of the St. Joseph Republican proposes to warm up the climate for the fellow who started the story about his applying for a pass and then trying to sell it to the same company. Catch him first.

Owing to the damage done by the rain last Friday, the St. Joseph Valley train did not succeed in reaching Berrien Springs in time to accommodate those who wanted to attend the Laura Dainty entertainment, Monday evening and about forty ticket holders were disappointed.

ASPECIAL to the Free Press says that Henry Riechy of the St. Joseph Republican applied for a pass to Kansas City and return at the Chicago office of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy road, and that in trying to sell the passes he mistook the upper office for a scupper's establishment and had the ticket taken away from him.—Evening News.

JOHN R. CLARK, who lectured on temperance in this place several months ago, is in hard circumstances and poor health, at his home in Tuncumseh, and an appeal is being made to the temperance people to send him the contribution box, and money or other aid may be sent to him or that paper.

If all reports are true, and they appear to be, Major Duncan is the subject for congratulation. So many feints in this direction have been made, that one could hardly credit the story when true. The leading reason heretofore for doubting the Major's soundness of judgment of human affairs, is that he has not entered the matrimonial hall long ago. However, better late than never.

MR. J. L. HILL has commenced the work of building a large fine dwelling house on the lots that he has purchased of Mrs. C. C. Collins, at the corner of Chicago and Detroit streets, and will push the work forward to completion as fast as possible. Mr. J. D. Borden of New Troy has charge of the carpenter work.

Twice this week the citizens of this place have been called out by the alarm of fire, but happily in both cases the fire was of small dimensions and did no damage. Buchanan has been extremely fortunate during the past few years in not having any extensive fires, but it is well to keep up a vigilant watch lest our time come with other places who are suffering heavy losses, and it is best to be always prepared for an emergency.

The Uncle Tom's Cabin troupe that operated in this place Tuesday evening had a crowded house, but some parts of the performance were good. We thought the hiccups of Uncle Tom were about as (ho) natural as anything we ever heard. Perhaps this had some effect on the other actors, but for some reason they did not improve on the best rendition of the writer's first intention of the story.

THE St. Joseph Valley Railroad Company has secured 4,000 feet of dockage ground at St. Joseph, and a subscription of $12,000 has been made up. The matter of the extension of the road to that place is now hanging fire on the addition to this of $3,000, but the fire appears to hang a long time. Can the amount be raised or not? The matter has been delayed so long now that the work of construction cannot be done to the best advantage, and must most probably be delayed until spring, when it should have been completed ere this time.

The very heavy rain that lasted nearly all last Friday and well in to the following night washed out a small fill on the Narrow Gauge railroad, leaving about thirty feet of the track forming a suspension bridge across a ravine about half way between this place and Berrien Springs. It also softened up the mud slide at Moon's spring so that it obstructed the passing of the train during a greater portion of the following day.

SOME of the young men who attend our high school need a little watching. They have commenced the work of destroying the walk that leads to the school house on Detroit street, and now have the walk so filled with holes that those who know of its condition do not dare use the walk in the dark. A healthy application of the legal punishment for the wilful destruction of property might have a beneficial effect on these young rascals. In the meantime those holes ought to be repaired before some one gets a leg broken there.

"FACT," in the last number of the Mirror, tells some wholesome facts for people who practice buying their goods away from home, instead of patronizing home dealers, when the same quality of goods can be had of them at a less price. We have some of the same class here, and it is probable that other towns have, as well. They depend upon home custom for their own bread and butter, but are not willing to contribute their share to the support of their neighbors.

A NEW firm in the lumber business has been formed in this place, the members being Messrs E. J. Roe, J. H. Roe and Solomon Rough. They start in business by buying the lumber on 287 acres of land lying about four or five miles south-west of Dayton, or the Reynolds brothers, and a lease of Jacob Mutchler's two saw mills. The timber on this land has never been cut and is said to be as fine a lot as there is anywhere in this part of the country, and costs the firm $30 per acre, the whole transaction, including labor, involving an outlay of about $30,000. The work of getting out the lumber will be commenced at once and pushed forward to the full capacity of the mills, and will give employment to about thirty men and a dozen or more teams.

THE Pennsylvania Graveyard Insurance Association. PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 15.—Patrick W. Murray and P. C. Hammer were arrested this evening and placed under heavy bail, on a charge of conspiracy to defraud, and with making false returns to the Pennsylvania Insurance Association, which was organized by the Golden Rule Mutual Aid Society, of Berks County, Pennsylvania; the State Capital Mutual Aid of Pennsylvania, the Commonwealth Mutual Relief of America, the National Relief of Gettysburg, Pa., and other insurance companies. The charges are made by Assistant District Attorney Petty, for the purpose of breaking up the death-bed insurance schemes. Several men of the name of Murray are named in the charges. It is strange how much more liberal people will be with other people's property than they are with their own. The new railroad company finds a little hard work in getting through the City of Niles, and those whose property it doesn't touch stand aghast at the want of liberality on the part of the others in not giving the right of way across their property. "Twas ever thus when railroads were built.

Our Public Highways.

When anything pertaining to the public welfare demands the attention of the people, it very naturally and properly becomes a subject of more or less comment and conversation. Thus it is to-day with our public highways. Notwithstanding the fact that our public highways have been in use since the first settling of the country, it has been but a few years since the public became aware that our highways, and the manner in which the work thereon was being done, year after year, was being sadly neglected. Many years ago, when but few men inhabited this country, the traveler could almost truly say, that the only improvement to be seen was that of the highways, and upon either side lay a vast wilderness. But to-day, in many localities, and in the same country, the scene is reversed. That which was once the wilderness is now where the improvements are seen, and the highway becomes the wilderness.

It is an old saying and a very true one, that, which belongs to every body belongs to nobody; and probably for this, more than any other one reason, do we see our highways not only neglected, but actually imposed upon.

In gathering up the many loads of stone and stumps which annually find their way to the surface upon our fields, we throw them in the highway in order to have them entirely out of the way. When we repair or rebuild our fences along the highway we always remove such rails and material as is of any value to us, and the refuse is left, not only to be run over by the traveling public, but to kill the grass which would otherwise have grown up to ornament and benefit our highways. If we have a cart load of decayed vegetables we throw them in the highway, because we have no suitable place for such refuse matter inside; and for this reason our highways become a kind of catch-all for our dead cats, dogs, pigs, rats, and in short everything that is offensive to both the sight and smell of the traveler.

It is our highways and their condition which, in a great measure, make the impression upon the minds of the new comer, for either a good or bad opinion of our country. And for this reason, if for no other, we should give more attention to our highways. We may make our farms everything that it is possible for us to make of them, and erect elegant and costly buildings thereon; we may dot our country over with churches and schoolhouses, and if our highways are neglected the country presents an unfinished and gloomy appearance. If the present condition of our highways compels us to make three loads of that which could easily be drawn at two, under an improved condition, it becomes evident to us all that such improvements as would both benefit and ornament our highways cannot be done too speedily. Under the present system of highway labor, about all that is accomplished is repairing the worst places, and the heavy grades remain about the same from year to year. Every feature of our highways, together with the public welfare of our country, demands not only a tax system, but such change as would bring the highways of a few years ago to the condition of a few years hence.

One census head is enough. Watts invented the electric engine; Morse, the electric telegraph; Whitney, the cotton gin, and Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., discovered and prepared the "Favorite Remedy for Catarrh of the Nose." It is worth a fortune, because it saves life and cures disease. It purifies the blood, drives bile from the system, cures those delicate diseases peculiar to women, and is in short, the best remedy for Catarrh of the nose. Don't spend your money in paying doctors, when for one dollar a bottle you can have the "Favorite Remedy" always on your shelf.

Baking Powder.

A Paw Paw family has just had an experience that will be a warning to them to forever after remember David Crockett's motto. The story is about as follows: John Poorman and his family moved into a house where a couple of young ladies had been living. The ladies left in the pantry several boxes and bottles which they said they did not want. Mrs. Poorman got ready Thursday to bake some pancakes but had no baking-powder, and not wishing to wait and send down town and buy some, she searched among the cans left by the ladies and finally found a baking powder box with what she supposed to be the article wrapped up in a paper. She used it, and the members of the family ate heartily of the cakes, while she baked them. Before the meal was over Mr. Poorman became violently ill and told his wife that there was something wrong about the cakes. The paper in which the powder was wrapped was closely examined and an arsenic label was found on it. The services of the doctor was immediately secured, but before noon Mr. Poorman and one of the children died. Other physicians were called, and it is thought the lives of the rest may be saved.

The Lansing Republican says: "The latest device in the mutilation of coins is to cut the money into three parts, file off a portion of the silver, then fasten the curtailed parts together with a fine wire, and the counterfeit in this way are not so much smaller than the original that they can be distinguished by other than actual comparison. In addition to this cutting off of the silver, the counterfeiters use the edges and silver taken therefrom replaced by a base metal, and the edges polished so as to make detection almost impossible. Several specimens of these counterfeit coins have been received by the Treasury Department in Washington."

THE Evening News has just learned that cows are not allowed to run at large in Berrien county.

THE great hunting party at St. Joseph brought in 88 mud-hens. Not a very good place either.

BERRIEN COUNTY has to put up with little over half of a State Senator after this, being obliged to divide with Cass county.

"BOSS" COUTRIGHT is a happy man to-day. A little boy came to his house last night, who will live with him in future.

THE Evening News says that Niles is threatened with a coal famine, and the Mirror denies the truth of the report.

REMEMBER the church social at Geo. B. McNeill's, Friday night. Music, recitations, etc. A general invitation extended.

ALMOST four times as much rain fell in October, 1881, as in October, 1880. The figures are 5.12 and 2.23 inches respectively.

THE temperance convention being held in this place is well attended, and considerable interest is manifested in the temperance work.

LAST call! Those who want THE ECO for 1882 had better subscribe at once. Single copies 75 cents; for 18 months $1. Clubs of four $2.

MR. HENRY LOVEN and Miss Lennie Roe were married at the residence of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Roe, last Thursday evening.

MR. ZEPHANIAH REDDING of Gallien and Mrs. Rosalinda Howard of Terre Coupee Prairie were married, at the residence of Mr. Wesley Redding, last Sunday.

THE Rough Brothers offer a handy little machine by an advertisement in this paper, that ought to be in the hands of every farmer. See the advertisement.

POTATOES are being shipped from Oceana county to supply the demand. It has been a long time since Berrien county failed to raise enough potatoes to feed her population.

ATTORNEY GENERAL VAN RIPER has been busily engaged during the past week in preparing forms for blanks to be used by the drain commissioners of this State.

MR. GEORGE H. ROGERS is still confined to his bed with the sickness that attacked him several weeks since. He has been having a pretty serious siege of it and lacks considerable of being out of it yet.

THE steam ferry boat Edith, that has plied between St. Joseph and Benton Harbor, has been sold to a Saginaw party and will be used in the fishing fleet at that place.

MR. C. H. REA has concluded to settle for his business, harness making, at Gobleville, a town on the South Haven division of the Michigan Central railroad, in Van Buren county.

THE following letters remain in called for at the post-office in the village of Buchanan: Mrs. Julia Barren (dead letter), Chas. H. Kinzie, Mr. N. C. Smith.

L. P. ALEXANDER, P. M.

THE tax law commission is in session and engaged in their work at Lansing. Hon. Wm. Chamberlain of Three Oaks is one of the three men appointed for this important work.

A NEWS STAND was opened by Messrs Severson & Folk at their store on Front and Main streets, Monday. Two news stands in Buchanan ought to furnish the citizens with plenty of reading matter.

MANY of the farmers of this vicinity, after having cut their crop of clover seed are losing it on account of the wet weather preventing them from properly securing it.

We have a young fellow in Buchanan who does on bananas. He eats a pound in one minute and fifty five seconds, and his eyes water for more the next five seconds.

FRED SMITH, the carriage painter over S. Alvord's blacksmith shop, has put up a fine sign, informing the people who pass by where he may be found.

LOST.—I lost $10 in money in Buchanan, on Wednesday, Nov. 3. Think I dropped it while making change. Will pay a reward for its return to the Record office or to me.

JOHN EISELE.

THE fire seen off the lake from St. Joseph, as mentioned in the last issue of the Record, proves to have been the burning of 9,000,000 feet of lumber at Spring Lake, near Grand Haven.

WITH this issue of the Record we commence the publication of the real estate transfers for the second representative district, as shown on the Register's books.

ON TRIAL.—We now offer the Record on trial three months for 25 cents, and for 50 cents will send the Record and Chicago Weekly Tribune to any address three months, on same terms.

THE article in another column, headed "Our Public Highways," was read before the Grange at Berrien Centre recently, and is given for publication by Mr. Murphy at the request of the Grange.

NILES people don't appear to care so much about a railroad as they thought they did. It looked better on paper than it does in their front door yards. Hence a good amount of employment for the attorneys.

A LARGE share of the corn crop is still in the field, the farmers having been unable to gather it on account of the continued wet weather. The same cause has about ruined many fields by causing many of the ears to grow to such an extent as to be worthless.

BUCHANAN merchants are occupying a good share of space in the Berrien Springs Journal with their advertisements. They are of a class of men who know that the money invested in printer's ink will bring them a better return than any other investment.

If you want to buy horses, sheep, cattle or other personal property, remember that Samuel Priest will hold an auction sale of this kind of property at his premises, 2½ miles north of Avery, Saturday.

MR. J. L. HILL has bought the three lots at the corner of Chicago and Detroit streets, near the school lot, of Mrs. N. B. Collins, paying $300 for them, and will put up a fine dwelling house thereon at once. This will make a great improvement to that part of town.

THE annual meeting of the Berrien Co. Agricultural society for the election of officers, etc., will be held at the Secretary's office, Niles, on Saturday, Nov. 26, at 1 o'clock p. m.

W. J. GILBERT, Secretary.

IT has cost the Village of Buchanan $1,352.24 so far this fiscal year for highway purposes, not including the $450 paid for the gravel bank. What will the amount be by the time the year is up, next March?

THE State Telephone Company has 500 subscribers in the Saginaw valley. This connection is to be extended to all parts of the State as soon as the work can be done. Buchanan ought to be connected in the circuit, and may if she will. Shall we, or not?

THE Michigan Legislature is getting all kinds of denunciations for the repeal of the liquor law, with making provision for the suits already commenced under it. A Cass county case of a Newburg man who was run over by the cars while drunk and killed, is the latest one heard from.

THE Niles & St. Joseph stage came this way Saturday. Couldn't get across the flat on the opposite side of the river from Berrien Springs. It would be a good place for the C. W. & M. railroad to have a depot at the top of the bluff at such a time. Passengers would have a chance to swim to town.

If you want to know the amount of high priced property in a town or city, just try to run a railroad through it. The C. W. & M. Company found out how it was when it started their line toward Geo. H. Jerome's fish pond in Niles, and he demanded $5,000 for spoiling it. The court will decide how much it is worth.

WHILE the board side-walks about town were covered with about two inches of snow and slush, Monday morning, the black ones were perfectly clean, the snow having melted as fast as it fell on them, and the next day they were still clean while the brick walks were covered with ice.

THE Michigan Central Company are paying $3.00 per solid cord for wood cut two feet long, from sound body beach and maple, and delivered at Avery. The dealers here want two-thirds of that amount for a small wagon box full.

PETER HAINES recently sold George Gardner a load of four foot wood for a cord. It looked so small that Gardner piled it up when it measured just half a cord. Yesterday he had Haines arrested for the fraud and the culprit was glad to get out of the scrape by making that half cord of wood measure a good big cord and a quarter.—Charlotte Republican.

A couple at Niles recently went on a nuptial expedition during which the boy for he is scarcely more, was not altogether decorous in his deportment toward the girl, whereupon she chastised him so severely that he was obliged to keep his bed several days. Both being to very respectable families, and the girl is highly commended for her conduct in the case.—Evening News.

MR. A. C. ROE went to South Chicago, Ill., this morning. Mr. Roe goes there with the intention of making that his future home and entering upon the practice of his profession, law.

A barn belonging to Mrs. Geo. Metcalf, of Niles, and $500 worth of hot house frames burned Friday night. Total loss $900. The fire was incendiary, and adjoining property would have been destroyed but for a heavy rain falling at the time.—Evening News.

MESSRS. HUGHES AND WARD, the great temperance speakers, will be in Buchanan on Tuesday, Nov. 22, and will probably remain several days, for work in the temperance reform. We have not learned where these meetings will be held, but notice of this will be given at the churches, and in some other manner, so that all may be informed. They have the reputation of being the best workers in the temperance field, and will no doubt do some good here.

Mrs. LAURA E. DAINTY opened the section of the Buchanan Library and Lecture Association, at Rough's Opera House, on Monday evening last, to an audience about one-half as large as it should have been. Those who attended were treated to one of the best entertainments that has visited Buchanan.

HERE is the introduction of the Mirror gives its Hoosier neighbors. They undoubtedly fully appreciate the compliment: "In Elkhart one man gets up in the morning before his neighbor and very kindly slips out and milks his cow and confides the milk. They have been chicken thieves and charivari newly married couples. These are the kind of Hoosiers we shall soon be introduced to by rail, but if they can beat the Wolverines at that game they will do well.

MR. E. A. SMITH, after a visit of a few weeks in Nebraska, has returned, with the conclusion that he will go west and grow up with the country. He has bought a small farm of 200 acres near Ashland, in that State. Mr. Smith has left with us two sample ears of Nebraska corn, and a head of pampas rice, an article of food resembling the head or sorghum seed, grown in Nebraska. The two ears of corn measure two feet in length and are enough to keep us in hominy during one dinner, at least.

ON last Thursday forenoon the body of a drowned man was found lodged among some drift wood at the upper point of Grand Island, about one and a half miles above Berrien Springs, by Jesse Gorham, a lad engaged in setting his traps on the river bank. "Squire Murdoch, with the Sheriff and a jury, visited the spot immediately. Verdict, "Unknown and came to his death by drowning." The body was badly decomposed, and is probably that of the tramp who fell through the railroad bridge at Niles, Oct. 29. On the body was found $1.54, a new pack of cards and an ear of corn. On the shirt, in front, were the letters II. of C.

MR. J. C. LAWRENCE, the efficient Secretary of the board of county examiners, furnishes us the following list of applicants for teachers' certificates, who passed a satisfactory examination at the meeting of the county board held in this place on Saturday last. There were 50 applicants:

Eda Beardsley, Frank L. McCall, Amy Smith, O. H. Eldridge, E. S. Lamphere, Ed. A. Bartmess, J. L. Smith, Ed. J. Louder, Geo. E. Howe, Ira M. Long, Meda Sherwood, Nellie Knapp, Julia E. Hogue, Julia I. Ainsworth, Mattie Smith, M. C. Ainsworth.

To South Bend.

In the struggle to get a direct southern outlet and secure the Grand Trunk shops for this city, our people have almost forgotten the narrow gauge road, which, if built to this place will give us a direct outlet to Lake Michigan. Mr. W. W. Graves, chief engineer of the St. Joseph Valley Railroad Company, was in the city to-day to see our representative business men and manufacturers and, if possible, awaken an interest in this line. He stated that the enormous expense attending the building of the ten miles between Buchanan and Berrien Springs, which is now in running order, is no criterion to judge of the cost of the rest of the line. The distance from here to the Lake Shore terminus at St. Joseph is forty miles, and he is confident the thirty miles yet to build will not cost more than $90,000, which was the cost of the ten miles now built. Mr. Graves says the company have received some sixty-five acres of dock between St. Joseph and Benton Harbor and will be able to accommodate lumber, iron and other shippers better than any other place on the Michigan City, while transportation rates will always be lower.—South Bend Tribune, 9th.

THE DETROIT ECHO contains a complete weekly summary of all the important home and foreign news, original and selected stories, spicy State items, pungent editorials, choice miscellany, and carefully prepared market reports of THE EVENING NEWS, and for those not favored with daily mail service THE ECHO meets every want. Having reduced condensation to a fine art it gives more reading for the money than any weekly in the country. Single copies one year seventy-five cents; four copies two dollars.

YESTERDAY afternoon a traveling man named Smith and one of St. Joseph's young men got on a spree and went to bed in a room in one of our business blocks. About six o'clock in the evening Mr. Smith was found at the foot of the front stairway in a bruised condition and conveyed to the Lake View House, where he had been stopping. This morning he notified Marshal Hays that he had been robbed of about $145. The Marshal investigated, and after patient search, located the money with Smith's companion, who finally owned up to taking the money while they were in the block together. The man has been settled by the return of the stolen money to its owner.—St. Jo. Daily Herald.

Justice is pretty cheaply satisfied in some places.

[Niles Mirror.]

Chas. Morrill has furnished us with a sample of the second growth of grapes, principally of the Concord variety, quiet ripe and excellent flavor.

REV. J. F. BARTNESS has received a card from the attending physician, stating that Rev. A. G. Johnson, of the Bristol Circuit, was sick with the small-pox, and asking him to postpone the U. B. quarterly meeting that is to be held in that place.

THE President of the United States and the Governor of our own State have made proclamation, calling upon the people of the nation to meet on Thursday next, the 24th of November, and return thanksgiving to Almighty God for the blessings given. Is not such recognition of God and of our dependence upon Him, and of such expression of our gratitude becoming and obligatory? Will the people of Buchanan respond to such a call? All are cordially invited to join in a Union service, at the Oak Street Advent Church, at 10½ o'clock A. M., on Thursday next. The business men of the place are invited to close their places of business from 10 to 12 o'clock and unite in such service. The address will be given by Rev. J. D. McCord.
