Prudence Plants that Necessity May Reap.

From five to nine dollars will secure a certificate for one thousand dollars in good reliable companies. The great feature in this plan is economy, always giving relief to those in need, each member being his own treasurer, and keeping his money until assessed for a loss by death, while in ordinary insurance Companies the policy holder must pay annual large sums in excess of the actual cost of the insurance.

Reliable and energetic Agents wanted. No other need apply to M. B. GARDNER, Gen. Agt., Buchanan, Mich.

WAIT FOR THE WAGON.

Every Day Before Dinner.

When you hear the bell ringing, And hear those plaintive cries, You may know that we are coming, With our BREAD, CAKES and PIES.

Be sure and have your change all ready, Or you'll tickle your hand, For we've got a dashing team out - A horse that will not stand.

MY BOY.

BY G. W. CLAY.

Oh what shall I do with my boy? There's a yell That rivals an engine's steam whistle and bell; That cries a crash that my peace completely de-

A silence appalling encroaches each noise. He's restless with hands, he's tireless with feet; But oh, when he's good, he's wonderfully

He runs far away, he's a mischief, a bother; But oh, bless his heart, he's just like his father.

Oh what shall I do with my boy? Here he lies, The tears on each cheek, and the tears in his eyes;

His shoes are kicked off, and his stockings kicked out. And he went to his dreams with a botanous shout.

His mouth is still puckered to a scream "hollo," And those teeth scratched asleep as if longing to

I've found he's some temper, and yet for no other. Why, though papa's boy, the pride of his mother.

Oh what shall I do with my boy? Ah, my tears! Unbidden will come, for I know that the years, That are given to childhood, as swiftly will

As shadows of faces that sit over glass. God grant that his scribble on life's record will traces. God give for our boy and his evil effluence; That when aged and gray, we shall sit by our fire, He'll still be the pride of his mother and sire.

Zadkiel's Prophecies.

"Zadkiel's Astrological Almanac" for 1882 has just appeared in London. From the fact that several of the year predictions made by Zadkiel for the year passed were fulfilled, those of the coming year are attracting considerable attention.

"The twelve months that have rolled away since we addressed the public have been prolific in the manifestations of planetary influence. The most autocratic of the planets, Mars, has been the assassin for many years, has at last fallen a victim to the bombs of the nihilists, in the year which we foretold would be his last on earth.

On the 12th of December, 1881, Saturn, in order to the sun's entrance into Capricornus, Dec. 12, 1881, at about 9 p. m., New York time, in the ingress. "Venus and Mercury in the meridian will improve the day for every citizen."

"It is unfortunate for theatres and places of amusements, and the burning of one (probably in New York) is only too likely to take place about the 27th to the 28th of December, 1881."

"The 13th of January, 1882, is the seventh house, and in square to Mercury, the lawyers are promised plenty of work, while there is a prospect of especially lively times in our divorce courts."

"At the close of Saturn in the station of house, which presignifies that taxation will press very heavily upon the people, the taxation threatened most probably have reference to the advance of the effects of Saturn in the sign of violence in the United States, and some great man will suffer degradation or meet with a violent death."

At the same time we are assured that our railroads will be improved.

January, 1882, we are reminded that no less than five large planets - Mars, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, and Neptune - are to retrograde at the beginning of the year, while the planet of Saturn in the station of house, which presignifies that taxation will press very heavily upon the people, the taxation threatened most probably have reference to the advance of the effects of Saturn in the sign of violence in the United States, and some great man will suffer degradation or meet with a violent death."

THURSDAY, JAN. 19, 1882.

John R. Clark, the temperance lecturer is at work again.

On and after Feb. 1, the Postoffice Department will not redeem spoiled postal cards.

Guiteau does not object to be found insane, but does not like the idea of his council arguing him a fool.

Sibley Dudley & Co., wholesale grocers of Chicago, have made an assignment for the benefit of their creditors whom they owe $200,000.

The adverse sentiment toward Mormonism is finding expression in public mass-meetings. One of this kind is to be held in Farwell Hall, Chicago, next Monday evening.

Representative Ford, of Illinois, has introduced a bill proposing that the government take charge of all telegraph lines, with a view to cheapening the message rates.

Seville proposes to bring suit against the Chicago Herald for libel, on account of an article published in the Herald accusing him of dishonesty in his legal practice.

Gen. Singleton proposes a cure for polygamy to compel the Mormon husband to keep all of his wives under the same roof. His idea is that the wives will make it too interesting for him to stand very long.

The Post & Tribune is rushing the season somewhat. It is already telling how much the shipment of breadstuffs from this country, from December 31, 1881 to December 31, 1882, amounts to.

Indiana has a law making it the duty of a constable to kill every dog he finds not legally ornamented by the township trustee, after April 1, next, and subjecting the constable to a fine of $25 for neglecting his duty.

Mishawaka is in a high state of excitement over the mysterious shooting of Joseph Tallmer in that place, at about one o'clock on the morning of Jan. 1. His brother came to his house and fired his revolver twice, as a New Year salute, and went away.

At Ganesville we strike the Florida Southern railroad, upon which our friend Clark's mill is situated. The road is graded, and the cars will soon be running as far as Ocala. Like our St. Joseph Valley, it is a narrow gauge, but unlike it, it is being pushed to completion very rapidly.

People here in the south are generally very social, friendly and anxious to cultivate the acquaintance of northern people, and in some cases I think have considerable ambition, yet generally lack the nerve and energy necessary to bring them up to the northern idea of business; although in many places they are moving in the right direction.

A terrible railroad accident occurred on the Hudson River railroad in New York, resulting in the loss of a number of lives and crippling a number of others.

The express from Chicago to New York reaches Albany twenty-two minutes late. Owing to the great crowd of legislators and others who desired to leave the capital, fifteen additional cars were put on, eight of them being palace coaches. The extra engines were also attached and the train got under way. It was filled with notes and prominence of both the Republican and Democratic parties.

The train got under way and when at East Albany the signal to stop was received, and the palace car (Idewild from Troy) was hitched on to the rear of the train. There were some ten passengers on board this car. The run was made safely until Spuyten Duyvil junction, where at seven o'clock, when a heated axle made necessary a stoppage to give time to cool. Conductor Hanford ordered brakeman Melius to signal the Tarrytown special, which ran at the rate of 25 miles an hour, came round the curve under Collins cut and struck the rear palace car Idewild, in which were twelve passengers. The engine ran under the platform into the car and drove the Idewild into the engine with such terrific force as to render it necessary to cut it out with a saw and ax. The stove and lamps in the parlor cars were upset, and ignited the woodwork and upholstery. The passengers were jammed between the seats and the sides of the car, and held while the flames rose around and enveloped them. Of the twelve passengers in the Idewild nine are not immediately taken in an ambulance to the 99th street hospital, probably fatally injured; another, a lady passenger, Miss Mary Daniels, twenty-five years old, of the Sherwood house, New York, was returning from a visit to Vermont, is badly scalded about the arms and breast, and is lying at a hotel near the scene of the accident. Oliver B. Kealey, a stove manufacturer of Spring City, Pa., had his right arm and hand a crisp, and was also burned about the body. He was taken out of the car by detective Dakin and died at midnight at the hospital.

Removals of another Labor War in Chicago, Jan. 18.—The managers of the Chicago railroads are concerned over the sweeping reduction in the operating force on the Wabash. Word has reached here that a remonstrance was being circulated for the signatures of discharged employes on all divisions of the road. It is stated that this remonstrance, which is addressed to Jay Gould, contains a threat of revenge if the discharged employes are not immediately re-employed. A discharged employe admits that a threatening remonstrance has been circulated, but as yet only a few signatures have been affixed. He says that a few of the more vicious ones, who aspired to a leadership of some kind, were undoubtedly conspiring to precipitate another labor outbreak next spring, and were intending to break this reduction of the railroad force as a pretext for the uprising. The officials of railroads entering Chicago think that the move made by the aggrieved employes will only lessen their chances of ever securing work on either the Wabash or any other railway. They do not believe, however, that any such conspiracy as is hinted at is in process of organization.

Lawyer Walker, in his argument on the part of the complainant in the Peoples-News libel suit, argues that it is no more dishonorable for a newspaper to sell its influence to a scheme than for an attorney to sell his to his client. We fear that Mr. Walker would not hold to this theory in his judgments in actual practice.

Commissioner Nichols was lifted out of his seat and hurled over the head of Maurice F. Holahan, and was badly bruised. Edward Kearney was thrown violently against the side of the car, and was injured by the concussion and broken glass. Assemblyman Sheehy, Robb and Chapin, of Brooklyn, Commissioner Ulrich, and Spinney and Lyman, correspondents, were enclosed in the telescope. A portion of the roof for the car, consisting of a box and from which there seemed to be no escape. Axes were brought into speedy use, and inside of the car a hole was cut, and through this all were dragged out.

Florida Letter. FERNANDINA, Jan. 9, 1882.

EDITOR RECORD.—Since writing last we have shaken the dust of New Orleans from our feet, boarded the splendid ship Hutchinson, and had a ride of one hundred and ten miles down the Mississippi and three hundred and forty across the Gulf of Mexico to Cedar Keys, and thence by railroad across the northern part of Florida to the Atlantic coast at Fernandina. Our ride down the river from New Orleans to the Gulf was very nice, passing a few fine orange groves and many large sugar plantations. Each of the latter has, for the accommodation of the necessary help, what seems to be a neat, orderly little village of its own. We happened to strike the Gulf when it was a little rough, consequently the trip across was not so pleasant, yet all who enjoyed regular meals fared nicely, while others had a better appetite after getting across and commenced anew.

Cedar Keys is a small, rough, hard-looking place, said to contain three thousand inhabitants; but I think two thousand would be an exaggeration. Here we saw the first churches without glass windows, using shutters only, which are opened to admit light during service. I find that nearly all the ordinary buildings in the south are apparently just thrown together without any regard to keeping the cold or winds out, and yet people who live here complain of having had what they call a cold snap last week, (which was three light frosts), being about as cold as it usually gets here.

From Cedar Keys to this place we passed through some very poor country. Ganesville is a nice little town of (I should think) about two thousand inhabitants, a good proportion of which I take to be northern people as much enterprise as men who live in the south a few years can have. There is some very nice high country about Ganesville and Waldo; also some nice orange groves. In one near the latter place is said to be the oldest and largest orange tree in the United States. It has yielded as high as nine thousand oranges in one season.

At Ganesville we strike the Florida Southern railroad, upon which our friend Clark's mill is situated. The road is graded, and the cars will soon be running as far as Ocala. Like our St. Joseph Valley, it is a narrow gauge, but unlike it, it is being pushed to completion very rapidly.

People here in the south are generally very social, friendly and anxious to cultivate the acquaintance of northern people, and in some cases I think have considerable ambition, yet generally lack the nerve and energy necessary to bring them up to the northern idea of business; although in many places they are moving in the right direction.

A terrible railroad accident occurred on the Hudson River railroad in New York, resulting in the loss of a number of lives and crippling a number of others.

The express from Chicago to New York reaches Albany twenty-two minutes late. Owing to the great crowd of legislators and others who desired to leave the capital, fifteen additional cars were put on, eight of them being palace coaches. The extra engines were also attached and the train got under way. It was filled with notes and prominence of both the Republican and Democratic parties.

The train got under way and when at East Albany the signal to stop was received, and the palace car (Idewild from Troy) was hitched on to the rear of the train. There were some ten passengers on board this car. The run was made safely until Spuyten Duyvil junction, where at seven o'clock, when a heated axle made necessary a stoppage to give time to cool. Conductor Hanford ordered brakeman Melius to signal the Tarrytown special, which ran at the rate of 25 miles an hour, came round the curve under Collins cut and struck the rear palace car Idewild, in which were twelve passengers. The engine ran under the platform into the car and drove the Idewild into the engine with such terrific force as to render it necessary to cut it out with a saw and ax. The stove and lamps in the parlor cars were upset, and ignited the woodwork and upholstery. The passengers were jammed between the seats and the sides of the car, and held while the flames rose around and enveloped them. Of the twelve passengers in the Idewild nine are not immediately taken in an ambulance to the 99th street hospital, probably fatally injured; another, a lady passenger, Miss Mary Daniels, twenty-five years old, of the Sherwood house, New York, was returning from a visit to Vermont, is badly scalded about the arms and breast, and is lying at a hotel near the scene of the accident. Oliver B. Kealey, a stove manufacturer of Spring City, Pa., had his right arm and hand a crisp, and was also burned about the body. He was taken out of the car by detective Dakin and died at midnight at the hospital.

Removals of another Labor War in Chicago, Jan. 18.—The managers of the Chicago railroads are concerned over the sweeping reduction in the operating force on the Wabash. Word has reached here that a remonstrance was being circulated for the signatures of discharged employes on all divisions of the road. It is stated that this remonstrance, which is addressed to Jay Gould, contains a threat of revenge if the discharged employes are not immediately re-employed. A discharged employe admits that a threatening remonstrance has been circulated, but as yet only a few signatures have been affixed. He says that a few of the more vicious ones, who aspired to a leadership of some kind, were undoubtedly conspiring to precipitate another labor outbreak next spring, and were intending to break this reduction of the railroad force as a pretext for the uprising. The officials of railroads entering Chicago think that the move made by the aggrieved employes will only lessen their chances of ever securing work on either the Wabash or any other railway. They do not believe, however, that any such conspiracy as is hinted at is in process of organization.

Lawyer Walker, in his argument on the part of the complainant in the Peoples-News libel suit, argues that it is no more dishonorable for a newspaper to sell its influence to a scheme than for an attorney to sell his to his client. We fear that Mr. Walker would not hold to this theory in his judgments in actual practice.

STATE ITEMS.

Marcellus is credited with a number of cases of small-pox. A Charlotte man recently sold $708.50 worth of beans, the crop from seventeen acres for last year, an average of $41.01 per acre. About what the land was worth.

Never attack a newspaper, or sue one for libel, unless you are the possessor of an angelic record and a history that if printed will not send you to the penitentiary.—Old Union.

A rumor regarding railroads, is that a narrow gauge line is contemplated from Elkhart, Ind., to Alleghen, via Cassopolis, Decatur, Paw Paw and Gobeleville. Parties interested have been partially over the route and assert the ability of those interested in the organization to push the road through with all possible dispatch, should it be fully decided upon.—Kalamazoo Telegraph.

We are told by the Vermontville Hawk that little Willie Hill, of that village, fell from a fence recently and put his thumb out of joint. Mr. Hill called two surgeons to reduce the trouble, and they were unable to make it stay; and advised him to take the boy to Ann Arbor. He did so Monday, but it baffled the skill of the entire faculty. They asked him to leave the boy, but Hill declined. Hill is a blacksmith, and he says he is making a machine that will adjust the thumb, and if it works, will beat the best thumb in the State.—Ann Arbor Courier.

The jury in the case of Hugh S. Peoples against the Detroit Evening News for libel, rendered a verdict for the defense. The News' article indirectly pointed out Mr. Peoples as the murderer of Martha Whitla, but when asked for $50,000 for damages done by this article, the association proceeded to substantiate the accusation as pointing to Peoples with the above result. Peoples was immediately arrested on complaint of the prosecuting attorney, charged with murder, and put into jail to await trial. Suing newspapers for damages to reputations does not appear to be the most profitable business engaged in in this State.

Our Tobacco Production.

The fifteen States of Kentucky, Virginia, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Tennessee, North Carolina, Maryland, Connecticut, Vermont, Wisconsin, New York, Massachusetts, Illinois, and West Virginia, in the order named, still produce, as in 1870, more than ninety-nine per cent of the tobacco of the United States, although it is reported in twenty-two other States and six Territories. Of these fifteen, only Missouri, Illinois, Indiana and Massachusetts produce less than in 1870. Kentucky produces thirty-six per cent of the total crop, and is followed by Virginia, which holds the second place; Pennsylvania has advanced from the twelfth to the tenth; and North Carolina, Connecticut and New York, which gained one point in the rank of tobacco States. Those that have not retrograded in relative production are Massachusetts, Maryland, West Virginia, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri and Ohio.

When a man chooses the profession of law he does not expect to be a musician and a journalist also; he knows that if he would succeed he must devote himself to the one chosen calling. When a woman marries she realizes that in order to reach lofty heights she must be independent she must sacrifice lesser aims. She must be willing to lay aside the delightful occupations which have made her childhood pleasant, and must know that from the hour when her betrothal is in the cradle, dressed with loving thought, to that darker hour when the mature man lies down in his last sleep, she will give up all her pleasures and words, "Constant care." That her mind once unfettered will be at liberty to do more, but is bound by ties stronger than life or death to those who have come to her from out of the great unknown. Wait a while, girls; think it all over before you promise to become wives—to take these duties and burdens upon you. Sweet and satisfying as are the obligations of matrimony, they are not to be taken lightly. A husband must not be looked upon as a sort of perpetual ban, and children as expected, unless the man and mother are not to be taken lightly. A husband must not be looked upon as a sort of perpetual ban, and children as expected, unless the man and mother are not to be taken lightly.

Rich Find in a Trunk. A young fellow who was one of the "reserves" in the order of the Great East, to serve the usual fourteen days. He had no trunk. His funds were low. He asked a maiden aunt to lend him a trunk. She had nothing but an old-fashioned portmanteau, which was a queer he refused to take it. He could, however, find no other, and ashamed as he was to be seen in such company, there was no help for it, shoulder it he was obliged to do. Offered employment in a hotel, he made his home. He trunk lay hidden and forgotten in a dark closet, until one day while rummaging he came upon it. He determined to send it back to his aunt. As he was about to do so, he found a double bottom; he opened this double bottom; he found in it $16,000. He carried them to the bank and found the money good. He hoped for joy, not only with his legs but with his tongue, so news of the discovery reached his aunt's ears, and she found the money belonged to her, and she found the trunk which had no lock, but she was willing to become her witness that fact, but added: "Zat drunk ees my rights and zat monish ees mine." So they have all gone to law.—Paris Correspondence New Orleans Picayune.

A SURPRISE party of about twenty persons gathered at the home of Mr. John Reamer last Tuesday evening to have a social chat. The immediate cause of the unusual proceedings was the fact that John was forty years old on that day.

THE one-story dwelling house belonging to Fred. Smith of Dayton, with nearly its entire contents, was burned at about 4 o'clock Saturday morning. The loss was probably not far from $1,000. Insured in the City and Village Mutual.

A NEW manufacturing establishment is to be started in Niles, for the purpose of manufacturing grocer's plates from wood pulp. It is to be managed by a stock company with $50,000 capital. Buildings will be erected at once, and work of manufacturing commenced at an early day.

THERE was a surprise party of about forty persons gathered at the residence of Mr. Jared Chittenden last Friday evening. It was for the benefit of Mrs. H. D. Badgley, that being her twenty-sixth birthday. The entertainment of the evening was interspersed with fine music.

THE case against J. E. DeMott, of Niles township, for selling diseased pork, is attracting considerable attention at Circuit Court yesterday and today. This is a case that interests a large number, owing to the previous good standing of the accused.

MR. N. HAMILTON returned from Amboy, Ill., on Friday last, bringing with him the body of his little granddaughter, which was buried in Oak Ridge cemetery on Saturday. Mrs. Hamilton remained at Amboy and will return soon with Mr. Eastman's family, who intend to make Buchanan their future home.

COL. COPELAND, well known in this place, is having great success as a lecturer. In a number of places in Pennsylvania the sale of tickets had to be stopped on account of want of seating room, and hundreds of people were turned away.

THE officers of Buchanan Grange No. 40, a list of whom was published last week, were publicly installed at Grange Hall last Saturday. The occasion was improved by the preparation of a feast by the Grangeresses that would cause the mouth of the epicurean to water.

MR. ENOS MARBLE of Weesaw township went to Iowa a few weeks since to see the country. Word now reaches the RECORD that Miss Verina Anderson will return with him as Mrs. Marble. They were married Jan. 3, at Frankville, Winnishiek county.

THE DOWAGIAC Times complains because Cass county pays upwards of $100 for publishing the report of the business of the Board of Supervisors while the St. Joseph county Board gets the same done for $5. In this county the same is done free. We have some very cheap printers in Berrien county.

TRE-MAXWELLS are billed for two entertainments in Rough's Opera House this week. The Celebrated Case to-night, and Two Orphans to-morrow evening. The MAXWELLS are too well known in this vicinity to need any introduction on the part of the RECORD.

Two of the sub-contractors of the C. W. & M. railroad extension, named John Hicks and Robert Burke, had a free whisky jamboree in Niles last Friday. In the course of the frolic Hicks stabbed Burke four times, probably fatally. Hicks surrendered and is now in jail at Berrien Springs.

In our State exchanges we see frequent notices of the performance of the Carreno-Donaldi Concert Company where they have given entertainments, and the invariable rule is to speak well of the company. This becomes of interest from the fact of the company being engaged for an entertainment in this place on Wednesday evening, Feb. 1.

ENGINEER GRAVES is still at work on the survey and work of securing right of way for the extension of the narrow gauge railroad from Berrien Springs, and report reaches the RECORD that he has completed the work to Berrien Springs, and work of building the road can be commenced in a short time, if the weather is such as will permit, and it is not delayed by trouble in securing right of way.

THE citizens of Royalton, St. Joseph, and Oroonko should know that no work will be done toward the extension of the St. Joseph Valley railroad until the right of way has been secured, so that those who are to be dealt with in this particular should not delay the work, but help it along by speedily completing this preliminary work.

REPORT of the Buchanan Home Mission Band for the month of December: Articles donated to the band: 2 coats, 2 pair of pants, 1 vest, 3 pieces of underwear, one flannel shirt and 1 pair of socks.

Articles given out: 3 dresses, 1 pair of pants, 1 coat, 1 pair of gloves, 1 nubia, 1 handkerchief, 2 hoods, 2 aprons, 4 pairs of mittens, 4 pairs of drawers, 9 pairs of hose, 2 pairs of socks, 1 cap and 1 pair of wristlets.

Work donated by the band: 1 wrapper, 1 basque, 2 pairs of drawers. Material given out for 1 coat, 1 vest, 1 pair of pants, 2 undershirts and 2 skirts, Mrs. J. ADWIN, Ch. Ex. Com.

IF any one has an idea that Michigan people are not being enormously swindled, let him buy a gallon of kerosene in Michigan and then buy another just across the State line in any direction. He will find a difference of from eight to fifteen cents against this State. We suppose that it must cost about that amount to roll a barrel across the State line.

THE mask social by the Hose Company, Tuesday evening, and the dance that followed gave the net profit of twenty dollars and a few cents, besides any amount of sport. In this connection the boys wish to return their thanks to the Beistle Brothers for their liberal attendance. So far as the citizens are concerned, they expect to have that made up when we have a fire.

THE RECORD is pleased to announce that after a great amount of persistent begging on the part of the committee a sufficient sum has been guaranteed to secure the completion of the telephone connection between this place and Berrien Springs. Just why the citizens of Buchanan should be so loth to invest in this enterprise is among the unexplainables.

THE South Bend court has a right view of the whisky question. James Kennedy who was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary, fined $10, and disfranchised for two years, for stealing a pair of shoes, asked for leniency on the plea that he was drunk and was kindly informed that he had no business to be in that condition and the sentence was enforced.

AN OLD-FASHIONED DONATION.—There will be a donation and oyster supper in Dayton Hall on Wednesday evening, Jan. 25, for the benefit of Rev. B. W. Smith, of the M. E. church in that place. A first-class oyster supper will be served for the moderate sum of 25 cents. A small fee will be charged at the door. Everybody will be cordially welcomed by the committee, and everything in the shape of provision will be acceptable as donations. Good music will be gratis. BY ORDER OF COMMITTEE.

MR. GEORGE MCNEIL has bought the west two lots of the Seelye property, at the south-east corner of Front and Detroit streets, for $2,000. Generally considered a pretty small price. Mr. McNeil informs the RECORD that it is his intention to divide the land into four lots, two facing Detroit street, and two facing Front street. Divide the house into three, on three of the lots and build a new veneered brick house for his own use on the corner lot. This will be a great improvement to that part of town.

A Farmers' Institute will be held at Egbert's Hall in Dayton, Jan. 28, commencing at 1 o'clock P. M. The following is the programme of exercises: Why are Agricultural Profits so Small Compared with other Industries—Levi Sparks. What is the Most Equitable Method of Taxation—Burns Hellock. Money Tax or Labor Tax for the Improvement of Highways—G. W. Parkerton. The Social Position of the Farmer's Family; what it is and what it should be—Sarah A. Howe. W. J. JONES, Sec. of Com.

TOM FAWCETT, of New Carlisle, is in trouble again. This time he is the one who deserves the punishment. Last Friday he attacked G. M. Fountain, editor of the Gazette, with a revolver, beating him about the head with the handle, and finally putting the revolver into Fountain's face and firing. Fountain, however, saw what was coming, dodged his head to one side and saved being hit. The trouble is supposed to have arisen from Fountain's courting Fawcett's widowed daughter, Mrs. Clara Ramstead, and going with her for a visit of two or three days away from town. This is Fountain's story for it, and if true, his assailant has a fair prospect for a ticket to Michigan City. He has been arrested and placed under $500 bonds to appear for trial. The village authorities, in their wrath and dignity, fined Fawcett $2 for the offense.

CAMP FIRE.—William Parrott Post, G. A. R., will give another entertainment, at Rough's Opera House, on Tuesday evening, Jan. 24, and will make it so entertaining that all will want to attend. The price of admission has been placed at 10 cents, with reserved seats at 15 cents. The following is the programme: 1. War Song, by Choir. 2. Select Reading. 3. Speech. 4. Song. 5. Enlisting Recruits. 6. Awkward Squall Drill. 7. Song. 8. Pantomime. 9. Camp Life, Long Roll, &c. 10. Song. 11. Farce.

MORE GAME CAPTURED.—On Friday night, about 10 o'clock, while Ed. Egbert's horse and buggy was standing hitched in front of the Dunbar house, a very valuable buffalo robe was stolen therefrom by some unknown thief or thieves. Constable Evans was notified of the theft by A. J. Crandall, who suspected that it was taken by one of three tramps who were known to be in town. That evening Constable Evans got out a posse and searched the village with no success, but covered one Thomas Curreant, who lived here about ten years ago, and on Tuesday succeeded in gaining information enough to warrant an arrest of Curreant, and in company with Crandall proceeded to Bakertown and arrested Curreant, who denied all knowledge of said robe, but before officer Evans left Bakertown he was rewarded by finding the robe. Curreant had, on Monday night, carried it to the center of the mill pond, cut a hole in the ice and attached the cast iron running gear of a mowing machine, sinking robe and cast iron in about five feet of water. Curreant was brought before J. C. Dick, Esq., on Wednesday and pleaded guilty to the charge of larceny. Justice Dick imposed a fine of $30, and in default of payment of said fine and costs, committed him to the county jail for sixty days.

A GARD.—On the 18th inst. a goodly number of the members and friends of the Advent Christian Church made us a donation visit, and as a number of the donors could not be present we take this way of expressing our heartfelt thanks to all, and especially to the ladies for their acceptable present to Mrs. Wright of an elegant upholstered patent rocking chair, and to the young ladies of our Sabbath school for a beautiful tidy to match. The Pastor's purse was considerably enlarged during the evening. After a brief religious service and the company had dispersed with a happy good night we found we were over $50 richer than when they came. Such manifestations of substantial sympathy and the cheerful and hearty manner in which it was bestowed will render our work in their midst more than ever a labor of love. Truly and gratefully yours, GEO. W. WRIGHT.

DAYTON ITEMS.—About four o'clock Saturday morning the cry of fire aroused the inhabitants of this village, and those who were not too sleepy hastened toward the light, where they found the dwelling of Fred Schmidt enraptured in flames, it being a low one-story building. By the thoughtfulness of those present the adjoining house of his son was saved. We learn it was amply insured.

Mr. Eli Egbert, who has been suffering for the past ten days with the laryngitis, is now slowly recovering. Protracted meetings are being held at Mount Zion church, with a good attendance. Dayton affords as fine a skating rink, naturally speaking, as one wishes to patronize. Admission free.

I hear it rumored that the M. E. choir of this place contemplate giving an Old Folk Concert, Feb. 22, in hopes to purchase a new church organ. Come on, organ agents.

J. Eastman Johnson, of Niles, and Geo. Blakelee, of Galien, were in town Monday morning, looking up the burnt district in this place.

Drs. Callis and Henderson tapped Mrs. Fred Schmidt, of this place, drawing off fifty pounds of fluid from the abdominal cavity. She seems to be wonderfully improved since the operation, and is resting better than she has for months.

A good time is expected at the donation on Wednesday evening, Jan. 25. See notice elsewhere.

J. K. Eastwood has a very severe attack of lung fever, but the timely aid of Dr. Henderson, it is hoped, will prevent it proving fatal.

ACORNS FROM THREE OAKS.

Jan. 17, 1882.

Miss Hilton, sister of J. M. K. Hilton, is here from Lockport, N. Y., visiting him.

Mrs. Maggie Churchill is sick with lung fever.

Mrs. Wm. Chamberlain has been sick for the past week.

Mrs. Joseph Wyeth is ill.

Business on the increase in this locality.

It is said that a runner from Chicago was here the other day with varioloid, and that he circulated around town with it, and that he knew what was the trouble. If this be so, hanging will be to good for him.

Mr. Mac. Shedd died of small-pox about six miles south of here, last Friday night.

Temperance meetings are being held here this week, every night, in the M. E. Church, Mr. Ross of Indiana being the speaker.

Prof. Rice has moved his family here, and will make this his home.

Samuel Hess and C. C. Brown left for Berrien this morning to attend the duties of Jurors.

James L. McKie is on the sick list this week.

Mrs. Fanny Russell has been suffering from a felon this week, and has not been able to be in her shop.

We are to have a full fledged printing office in town shortly, and it will be located in the post-office, under the supervision of the postmaster.

Wm. Chamberlain is still away from home, and is at Pontiac this week.

Bradley of Buchanan is occupying Mrs. Churchill's photograph and picture gallery, and intends to remain with us for a while.

Mr. Gibson is still confined to the house from his recent illness, but is improving.

A Human Body.

Probably that of Zach Norris found in the River Near Berrien.

Mr. J. C. Perucker, who lives north of the city in the vicinity of Bertrand, came to town about a week ago, and notified Sheriff Johnson and Coroner Myers that a man's body had been found lodged in the river about half a mile above Bertrand. The body was first discovered by Mr. James Claffey, who teaches school in the northwest part of German township, and resides on the other side of the river in Bertrand. There being no bridge at this point, Mr. Claffey crosses the river to and from his school in a skiff. In going over this morning he was started to find lodged in the roots of an over-turned tree near the west bank of the river, the body of a man. Mr. Claffey had time to notify Dick Rhinestart and Mr. Perucker, neighbors of the same circumstance, and was then obliged to leave for his school. These gentlemen went to the spot and found the body firmly caught by the head and shoulders in the tree. The back of the head and one shoulder was all of the body above water. The body appeared to be in a good state of preservation and was clothed in dark colored goods of heavy texture. It was about ten feet from the shore, and had probably been lodged there for some time. The men did not disturb it, but came immediately to this city to notify the authorities. As the locality where the body was discovered is in Michigan, however, the coroner of Berrien county will have to hold the inquest.

16.35 close to the body, one of the legs being found on the bridge a short time after. The whereabouts of Norris is still unknown.

While workmen were tearing away the floor and raising the sills of the old Guernsey house, on Tuesday, in one part of the building, in under the sill, they brought to light some bones, apparently having at one time belonged to a child 6 or 8 years old. Another mystery?

Editorial Courtesy. A Wausau paper recently referred to a rival editor as a "whisky-swilling dead beat, whose breath was a pestilence," etc., but this was probably a figure of speech, and not intended to be construed literally as a sort of poetic license.

A Suggestion to Commissioner Loring. A Nebraska man, writing to the New York paper, says he has made chinch bugs a life study, and all his observations go to show that the bugs are being more numerous and destructive every year, though their operations are confined strictly to spring and not to winter wheat.

How it Feels to Drown. It is not often that you hear of an editor with a curiosity. Most of them accept earthquakes, tornadoes, murders, fires and floods as every day occurrences, and even a nitroglycerine explosion next door does not interrupt the routine work of the sanctum very long.

May Chillon. There is a beautiful tradition that the first flock which passed the snow-capped rock of Plymouth was that of May Chillon, a fair young maiden; and that it is the surviving of those heroic pilgrims, the illustrious French noble, who first purveyor of twelve out of the thirteen colonies which formed the nucleus of the United States.

Notwise is easier than fault finding. No talent, no self-denial, no brains, no character, are required to set up in the grumbling business. But those who are not wise in the home of youth had arranged the gorgeous shades of embroidery, compounded the rich venison partly as her share of the home-keeping, now pounded the coarse Indian corn for her children's bread, and bade them seek God's blessing ere they took their scanty portions. When the snows sifted through their miserable roofs upon the little ones, she gathered them close to her breast, and taught them the evening prayer and the hymn through the war-whop of the Indian raven through the wild. Amid the untold hardships of colonial life she infused the holy faith, the love of God, and her firmness, and soled his "hour by her love."—Mrs. Lydia Stinson.

Ships Without Sailors. It does not seem to have occurred to those who are so successful in the American commerce by subsidies that even if they were to succeed in launching a fleet of American steamers, there would be no American sailors to man them. Naval officers might be sent to take command of merchant vessels, but it would be impossible to find American sailors enough to make up a crew fit for a first-class ocean steamer.

There is Fraud in Murder. In this age of glucose and stuff we are prepared to believe there is fraud in almost everything, but we had hoped that these terrible Western white, who are a bully enter a bar-room, call all hands up to drink, and laconically kills those who refuse, would never be other than the genuine article.

It is a small thing to be wronged, but a horrible thing to wrong. A man is a mere animal impulse. Indignation comes in when that impulse has been adopted by the reason and moral sentiments, and has become a mere rational revolt from evil.
