THURSDAY, JUNE 14, 1883.

OUR WESTERN TRIP.

Monday morning found us within two hours' ride of Pueblo, in a more broken country, the alkali whitening the ground that bore sage brush from one to three feet in height, and a very scanty allowance of Buffalo grass. The chief crop appeared to be jack-rabbits, prairie dogs, and once in a while a few poverty stricken cattle, with their masters equally poor. Along the river bottom were a few seraglio trees of some kind of oak, and a few...

We arrive in Pueblo for breakfast, to which we all do justice, as our two or three hours' ride since sunrise had whetted up a ravenous appetite. After breakfast we get aboard the Denver and Rio Grande narrow gauge train, and put out for Leadville, 115 miles distant and about a mile higher up in the world than where we breakfasted. This road follows the winding course of the Arkansas river, which is about as straight as the path of a snake in the dust. At Pueblo the river is about two-thirds as wide as the St. Joseph at Buchanan, and holds this size up to Canon City, where it narrows down to about forty or fifty feet in width, and grows gradually less as we go up into the mountains, but as the stream narrows the current increases. We were somewhat surprised to see the stream nearly as muddy as the Missouri, which is said to be the muddiest river in the world, as we had all read about the crystal clearness of the Rocky Mountain streams, but Capt. W. E. Tibbets, our guide from Pueblo, an old Michigan boy from Wayne, informed us that this condition of the water was owing to the Placer Mining in the vicinity of Leadville. At Canon City we take an observation car, which is about like an ordinary coach with the top removed down to a level with the top of the seats, so that passengers might view the Royal George, through which the train passed in the next eleven miles, and in this part of the road also concluded that in no part of the eleven miles can two cars be placed in a straight line, we must look as we go, as but a short part of the road is in view at any one time, and to see forward or back is impossible. We stopped fifteen minutes at the bridge. This bridge is built across a curve in the river, where there are no room between the water and the mountain side for a road bed. It is 400 feet long and is swung under two arches that are supported by notches cut in the solid rocks at either forty feet wide at this point. From the bridge you may look straight upon the right-hand side, one-half mile to the top of the rock. We will not try to explain how it seems to look half a mile up the side of a perpendicular rock, as no explanation can ever enable any one to comprehend it. There is no way but to see it. This bridge was the first part of the road built from Pueblo to Leadville, as this was the gate to the right of way, and was built by men who were lowered from the top by rope slings. The top may be reached by teams from the opposite side, by some pretty tall climbing. The cliff on the left side of the river is fully as high but not perpendicular. On this part of the route we chanced to be seated about midway of the middle car of the train, and by putting our head out through the window we noticed that at points, quite numerous, we could see but one ear each way, the rest of the train being hidden behind the rocks; and it was no uncommon thing for those in the rear car to see the locomotive by looking out at the window at the opposite side of the car from where they were sitting. The rest of the ride was a continuation of this rift in the rocks, but not so high, and at some points a valley of perhaps a mile in width, where some poor deluded mortal was trying to make some kind of vegetables grow, by irrigating. It looked like a hopeless case.

At Salida, 64 miles from Leadville, we stopped for dinner, and found the city band out to greet us, and here met a committee of Leadville's prominent citizens, consisting of Mayor Pleasant, Dr. D. H. Dugan, brother of Dr. Douglas VanAlstyne, formerly of Niles, and others to the number of seven or eight, who had come down to this point to meet us. At Malta, Capt. Tibbets came through the train and announced, "Five miles to Leadville, and in this five miles the average grade is 220 feet to the mile." Our readers who are accustomed to traveling over

St. Joseph Valley road may form some idea of this when they remember that the heaviest grade on that road is 90 feet to the mile. But a railroad up Front street hill, and then bend it into the shape of a mule's shoe, with the narrow part about twenty rods wide and the entire shoe not over half a mile long, and you have a picture of the railroad as it is between Malta and Leadville. Just before we reached Leadville we noticed the cloud that was hanging about the top of the mountain at the opposite side of the valley from the railroad, commenced suddenly to lower, and the next we knew we were in the midst of a brisk snow storm. We all knew what it was. Overcoats and heavy wraps went on in a hurry. Upon stepping on the platform we discovered a peculiar feeling about the head, and had not known better we might have expected to have been walked off by a policeman to the station house for being intoxicated. It was the same kind of feeling, so some of the party who were accustomed to that feeling said. We were afterwards informed that was owing to the altitude and rarity of the atmosphere; but as the feeling passed off after a few hours we should have thought it was caused by the motion of the train in swinging around the crooks, had it not been that two or three of the party were obliged to repair to their beds, and stay there. Nearly everything strange in Leadville is accounted for by the altitude and rarity of the atmosphere. At the depot were carriages for free transportation to the Glendon House, where board was free to us for $3 per day; $4 to ordinary mortals. In a small office in the second story of a two-story brick block we found R. L. DeLay, better known in Berrien county as Bob, settling a jawing match between two females of color, as Justice of the Peace. Took tea with Mr. and Mrs. DeLay, after which the entire party saw Leadville by electric light, which is considerable stronger than gas light. The sights were equally strong. The impression was received by some that the chief enterprise of the city was devoted to gambling. It is probably not worse in this regard than any mining camp. Harrison avenue, the principal street of the city, is built up with brick store buildings, not far unlike Main street in Niles, for quality of buildings and grade of the street. No pavements. The greater part of the Leadville dwelling houses are either board, hewn logs or slabs, built after the manner of those mentioned above, all bearing a new appearance. Not painted.

Tuesday morning the carriages were drawn around to the hotel, and the party divided in three, visited the Matchless, Henrietta and Carbonate mines. Those who were accompanied by ladies visited the latter, as this one was entered by a car led down an inclined plane, at an incline of about 21 degrees, and the mine was cleaner and dryer than the others. The lot of the writer was cast with those who visited the Matchless. Gov. Tabor's mine. Here we were lowered in a cage, two at a time, to the first level, 70 feet, by a hoisting engine, like going down into a square, curved well, that is perfectly dark. Each person carried a candle. The miners are dropped into this hole at a rapid rate, but the engineer handed us very tenderly. "Didn't want to scare any one," he said. In this mine the ore is of about the consistency of a clay loam, dark brown in color, and runs $125 to $250 per ton. It costs $20 per ton to take it out and prepare it for market as bullion. The body of mineral here is about 75 feet thick, of this quality, but there is a vein about one foot in thickness, running through the body of mineral, at an angle of about 60 degrees, that is said to be worth $10,000 per ton, mined at the same expense as the other. Count up the special guidance of Mr. J. N. Stephens, he kindly secured for the writer a specimen of this ore, about the size of a man's fist, which he said probably contained $3 worth of silver. We could see the silver, and took his word for the two dollars. The walls and roof of the mine are supported by heavy timbers, which are put into this mine at an expense of $40,000 for the lot. The sale of this mine is now being negotiated for $5,000,000. By the time we had perambulated the tunnels and byways of this underground dungeon about two hours, we brought up at a different shaft from where we were lowered and 210 feet below sun light. Forty feet below us was the bottom of the mine. Some of the most ambitious climbed up the ladder to the surface. The hoisting engine is the easier way. Had it not been for our guide, the gentlemanly manager of the mine, once into the mine we should have stayed there for a time at least, for no one of us could hardly tell up from down, much less any other direction. After returning to the hotel a fire alarm was given at the street corner just opposite, and here came two hose companies and a hook and ladder company down the street, pell mell, and in 63 1/2 seconds from the alarm one of the companies had water, and about as soon there was a man at the top of a ladder, ready for business. The city is supplied with water from a reservoir up in the mountains, above the city, (Leadville is not quite at the top) that is supplied by a stream from farther up, a very inexpensive arrangement when once built. The vegetation here consists of mountain pines, a few geraniums, grown indoors, and vast forests of oak trees, some of them reaching the enormous height of eight feet and growing as much as two inches in diameter. This is one of the largest. The Christian name of this oak is "Scrub." Leadville contains all kinds of people excepting Chinamen. John says, "Too deep here than mulesh in Leadville." Two of the Celestials timidly ventured in with their washbasin, but there was a double China funeral, and no more venture in.

One o'clock P. M., Tuesday, the carriages pulled up at the front of the hotel to take us to the train, and we are "homebound."

War between France and China. Not good news to tea drinkers.

A father's home is to be established near South Bend by a Chicago lady, of wealth.

Six hundred "assisted" immigrants left Galway, Ireland, Friday, for the United States.

The champion talking match of the world is the Star Route trial. A perfect go-as-you-please match.

The Dakota capital commission has settled upon Bismarck as the capital, while the territory remains as one and of north Dakota for all time.

The Michigan Legislature adjourned sine die, Saturday, June 9. The closing ceremony was the singing of the negro melody, "In de Mornin' by de Bright Light." It was a solemn occasion.

Of the 144,005,689 silver dollars that have been minted in this country, 36,006,222 are in circulation, 37,717,727 are in the U. S. treasury, and 71,721,739 are also in circulation, but on deposit for silver certificates which are in circulation.

There is talk of a Legislative excursion to the northern peninsula some time in August. There has been an appearance that the session has been one grand round of excursion, usually lasting from Friday noon to Monday nights.

The New York and Brooklyn bridge is becoming a great source of vexation. It troubles the managers greatly how to prevent jams and panics among the foot passengers. Already two have occurred. One of them with sadly fatal results.

Harvard has been in the habit of conferring the LL. D. on all Governors of Massachusetts, but when Ben Butler comes to the front the good professors hold up their hands in amazement. No LL. D. for Mr. Butler until he knows more.

China is negotiating for some of our naval officers. We can spare them just as well as not. A country with so extensive a Navy can spare a part of it without danger. It is only small bodies that need to be kept solidly together.

The Michigan Legislature has formed a bankrupt law that contains some very good points. It also contains some that are objectionable. It is a protection to both creditor and debtor than the old United States law. One of its provisions is such that a debtor is released from only such claims as are owned by those who will sign such a release, while the others stand as before the assignment is made.

The cyclone has been getting in its work again. Monday afternoon, Belet, Wis., Galena, Ill., Bush Creek and Tripoli, Iowa, were somewhat shaken up by those unwelcome guests. At Belet one man was killed, and a number of others badly injured. At Galena a railroad train on the C. & N. W. road was lifted bodily several feet from the track, the locomotive alone remaining in its place.

While the question of high tax for the liquor business is agitating the legislature in Illinois, Joliet steps boldly to the front and sets the good example of placing a tax of $1,000 on the saloon business in that city, and making it payable in advance. The Council also adopted an ordinance prohibiting anything like a concert in connection with the saloons. The same amount of tax is levied on the brewing business. The tax is expected to have a prohibitory effect.

An Adrian boy has a pet bumble-bee. Kalamazoo will be a city after April, 1884. Commencement week at Hillsdale college. Of the 134 teachers in Grand Rapids 130 are ladies. Muskegon county has an immense crop of strawberries. A young lady in Rives 20 years old weighs only 55 pounds. Grand Trunk Junction is no more. They call it Springswell, now. The estimate of the coming Michigan wheat crop is 22,000,000 bushels. Cut-worms are doing damage to spring crops in some parts of the state. The Michigan wheat crop is reported in better condition than that of any other state.

The annual meeting of the State Pioneer's Society was held at Lansing June 13 and 14. A bayonet of 1812 was recently found nine feet under ground, on Main street, Jackson.

A new post-office known as Palmerville, has been established in Newaygo county, ten miles east of Paris. The estate of Asa Kingsbury, who recently died at Cassopolis, has been appraised at $203,755.00.

The annual encampment of state troops will be held at Island Lake, near Brighton, August 9 to 13, inclusive. A Battle Creek mechanic has built a complete locomotive, which, with the tender, is only 10 inches long. J. H. Calder, of Kalamazoo, observed two wild geese alight with his flock and follow them into his coop. He clipped their wings, and now they contentedly stay with the town fowls.

Eight sheep and a lamb were killed by a stroke of lightning in Parma, on the farm of Frank Campbell a few days ago. They were insured. The Round Oak stove works at Dowagiac recently received a consignment of 100 tons of pig iron direct from Glasgow, Scotland.

The Adrian Record says there is a German woman in that city who is a mason by trade, and who does the work of two men. Benjamin M. Davis of Springwells lost about 25 chickens recently and supposed they had been stolen, but their bodies were all found in a pile under his barn where they had been killed by weasels or rats.

PHACTS AND PHYSIC. Twenty billion wooden hoops are used annually in this country for barrels only. Mr. George White, Ludington, Mich., says: "I was sick, had no appetite, and was unable to work. Brown's Iron Bitters cured me."

The Methodists of all branches in the United States number about 4,000,000 while the Presbyterians of the same number about 3,000,000, and the Baptists of all kinds about 2,000,000. Flies, roaches, ants, bed-bugs, rats, mice, gnats, chigunags, cleared out by "Rough on Rats."

The crowns of the Emperor and Empress of Russia, the two collars of St. Andrew, and the globe and the scepter, with all of which the imperial pair have been invested, are worth $2,000,000. Decline of Man. Nervous Weakness, Dyspepsia, Impotent Sexual Develpment, cured by "Wells' Health Renewer."

The Chinese call a blistering fellow a paper tiger. Vast lot of Texas cotton will go to waste for want of pickers.

Only 200 persons went to hear Camilla Urso at Dowagiac. Her music could do double that work in a music-loving town like Dowagiac.

John J. Raser of Ann Arbor gets a five years job in State prison for bigamy, and another man from the same part of the State pays $50 as a penalty for the same crime.

No domesticated animal is so much abused as the sheep killing dog. Now comes a protest against his running at large in Kalamazoo county, just because he has recently demolished seven or eight flocks of sheep, there.

Volinia township boys slaughter woodchucks with dynamite. They put a cartridge down into the hole and blow the whole woodchuck family to the surface. 25 cents a sack is the inducement.

The Yassar Pioneer arises to remark that when the house of W. D. Wilson was struck by lightning last week, "the top of the stove was covered with a thick coating of sulphur." The statement may be taken at its market value, but when an editor begins to smell fire and brimstone the symptoms are suggestive.

An old man was robbed of his purse containing $50, in a passenger coach in front of the Michigan Central depot at Jackson, Monday, in the presence of a car load of passengers, none of whom offered any assistance. He was pushed down across the back of a seat and his pockets rifled by two young men, who deliberately walked through the crowded car and escaped.

Sturgis is truly to be pitied. Sunday afternoon another cyclone passed through the place, and now Hobson's circus is there, "busted," and the town full of the worst gang of rousts that ever meddled that way. Sturgis has the heartfelt sympathy of the entire State.

The Flint Journal says Palmer Card, of Otter Lake, was demonic enough to tie a whiplash about the tongue of a bulky horse, nearly pulling the tongue out. Not satisfied with perpetrating this diabolism, Card took a knife, cut the end of the horse's tongue, and cut gashes in the horse's face. At last accounts the animal was still living, but will undoubtedly die. Said that man to Ann Arbor for the doctors to practice on. That is all such a man is fit to live for.

James Brown, a Grand Rapids druggist, has had to pay Miss Edith Marshall $4,000 damages for a mistake of his prescription clerk in selling her sulphate of zinc for Rochelle salts, which caused Miss Marshall a severe fit of sickness. She brought a suit against Brown and obtained a verdict of $1,500 in the circuit court. The defendant appealed to the supreme court, and a new trial was granted. A second trial in the lower court resulted in a verdict of $4,000. The case was again taken to the supreme court, but Mr. Brown concluded that it was best to settle.

Henry Graf of Unionville, Tuscola county, has a patent on an invention which substitutes sand for sand in mixing mortar, whether for plastering or brick and stone laying. The special advantages claimed are that the mortar is much lighter, and therefore less liable to break from ceiling or wall; that it makes a firmer wall, and the absence of sand renders it impervious to moisture; and that walls and ceilings can be manufactured in sections and put on with nails by any carpenter, the joints being filled up with fresh mortar.

On Wall Street. George Alfred Deane, a young man who sold his seat in the New York Stock exchange about a year and a half past. Said: "What do you think about Wall street?" "I consider the market at the highest price but one or two overvalued for a seat in the stock exchange. I got $50,000 down."

The Michigan wheat crop is reported in better condition than that of any other state.

Webster's Last Words. A coroner's inquest was held on the authority of a gentleman intimately related to Daniel Webster's family, some explanations of the circumstances attending the death of the late statesman. He says that in answer to a question from an attendant at the bedside of Webster, one of his physicians in substance said: "You may give him a spoonful of stimulant at 10 o'clock; and if he still lives, another at 11 o'clock." These directions were followed with exactness with the exception of the last mentioned, when the attendants were undecided about administering another dose. "It was the middle of the doubts that the dying statesman partly raised his head and feebly remarked: "I still live."

THE DEERING.

First Born of all the Twine Binders, Views with pleasure the efforts of its children to emulate the virtues of their progenitor.

We work for no blue ribbon. No competition fearing; We rest our cause entirely upon The merits of the Deering.

Probably no harvesting machine has stood so confessedly at the head of its class as the Deering Twine Binder stands to-day. Acknowledgements of its supremacy have come from all quarters, not merely from those who use them, but even competing agents and manufacturers are forced by their own convictions to confess its admirable qualities.

B. T. MORLEY: DEAR SIR—Having recently heard that it is being reported that you paid me a bonus to induce me to trade my Minneapolis Binder for a Deering, I take this opportunity to contradict the statement. The truth is, I was not at all pleased with the work of the Minneapolis Binder, nor its construction, and took pains to examine the different Binders in the market and became convinced that the Deering was as good or better than any other, and this conclusion led me to propose a trade to you and pay the large difference I have done. And if the Deering works as well as its construction indicates, I shall have no reason to be sorry for my trade. F. FREEMAN FRANKLIN.

Mr. R. T. MORLEY: I notice that Wood & Samson publish, over my name, that I would not exchange my Minneapolis for a Deering Binder for $50. I never authorized such publication and you are at liberty to publish this to contradict such statement. MOSES SHEOK.

I have used two Deering Twine Binders. The first one, for some reason, did not work satisfactory, but the second one worked to perfection. The last day of harvest I cut 25 acres in about 9 hours. My fifteen-year old boy drove the most of the harvest and could handle the machine with ease, and I am satisfied that Mr. Deering and his agents will deal justly with their customers in all cases. JOHN C. MARBLE.

I bought the Deering Binder which John Marble condemned and it worked all right. There never was anything the matter with the machine, but the failure was owing to the inexperience of drivers. The expert sent here fixed it in half a minute after he got here, and I like the machine. I cut more after supper that day than I had done with my old one in all the forenoon. It is a light draft machine and did not fatigue the team as much as light plowing would have done. WILLARD MARBLE.

The Deering Binder for 1883 does away with the plunger bolt and 20 other pieces, and substitutes a shaft and gear instead. Do not fail to see it. B. T. MORLEY, Agent.

THE tax paid by the St. Joseph Valley Railroad amounts to one-fourth of one per cent. on the total cost of the road, and the tax of the Michigan Central is fifty-five one-hundredths of one per cent. of its cost. This road pays the highest tax in per cent. on its cost, and on the mile of road of any road in Michigan.

IN the case of Geo. Richards vs. Rough Bros. Wagon Works, for damages for injuries received while at work at a power punch in the factory, the examination of witnesses was closed yesterday. The pleas of attorneys are being made to-day, and a decision may be reached this evening.

BAD ACCIDENT.—Monday afternoon, Burns Helmeck's little boy about eight years of age, was at Oakland station where some men were loading some cars with wood and by some means got in front of the car when the men were pushing it up the sidetrack and fell across the rail. The car-wheel ran upon him enough to fracture his thigh bone, near the knee before it could be stopped. Dr. Sloum attended the fracture when the boy was brought to town, on the return of the train. The great wonder connected with that railroad is that a half dozen or more boys have not been killed by their reckless antics about the train when in motion. Their actions appear to indicate that they thought there was no danger about this road because it was of narrow gauge.

THE marshal is gathering in the shekels of those who contribute to the support of the village government. His office is in the council rooms, second story of the engine house. Remember that by settling with him before the last Friday in this month you can save three per cent. on the investment, and as it is a forced investment it is well to take the benefit of all percentages.

ONE FOOT OFF.—The two-year-old son of Vitellus Baker, of Bakerstown, was playing with a small hand saw, Monday afternoon, and when his sister, four years old, tried to take it from him he struck her foot with it cutting off one of her toes. The little girl was brought to Dr. Baker's office and the piece, which was still hanging by a small shred of flesh, put back to its place.

THE telephone line to Benton Harbor, St. Joseph, Berrien Centre, Pipe-stone, and surrounding country, was in working condition last Thursday. It is understood that mankind is never satisfied with a good thing. What we want now is to be connected with South Bend via Niles, as that city is expecting to soon be within talking distance of Chicago and we all have business with Chicago.

THE officers of the Vandalia railroad company met in South Bend with some of the prominent citizens of that city, and submitted to them the proposition that they would build the road from Plymouth to South Bend providing they may be granted free right of way through the county and into the city. The citizens of this county are interested in any project for the building of a north and south railroad that points towards the harbor at the mouth of the St. Joseph river and the extension of this line would be very pleasant to them.

THE new time-card on the Michigan Central took effect last Sunday. Trains pass Buchanan as follows: Going east—Mail, 10:30 A. M.; Kalamazoo Accommodation, 9:37 P. M.; Night Express, 1:40 A. M. Going west—Mail, 3:27 P. M.; Kalamazoo Accommodation, 7:10 A. M.; Evening Express, 4:22 A. M. Do not forget that all trains are now run on Detroit time, which is about fifteen minutes faster than Buchanan time. This arrangement is made by the company because of Detroit being near the central point of the company's lines, which now extends from Chicago to Buffalo, N. Y.

DIED.—Mr. James H. Phillips, a resident of Terre Coupee Prairie for over fifty-three years, died at his home on Friday, June 8, aged 71 years. Mr. Phillips was a native of North Carolina, and came to St. Joseph county, Ind., in 1831, with his brother, Isaac W. Phillips, who is now living in Niles. They came from Ohio on foot, carrying their supplies in knapsacks, and for a great part of the distance following an Indian trail. Mr. Phillips has been unable to walk for over seven years, being the victim of a nervous disease resembling paralysis, that deprived him of the use of his legs.

IT is a great pleasure to get acquainted with a man who comes into a town of the size of Buchanan, makes a great parade of his abilities and virtues, makes the strongest plea for the patronage and support of his business, and when he wants any dry goods, or anything else, either goes to Chicago to buy it or sends his wife. He expects the local papers to laud him to the highest point, and when he wants a few letter-heads, a Chicago printer gets the job, and no question asked the local printers. We have that kind of "critters" here.

REV. GEO. SICKAFOOSE, who has resided in this place for the past seventeen years, left Tuesday morning, with his family, for Portland, Oregon, which he expects to make his future home. He has been assigned a field of labor in that section by the general board of missions of the U. B. church, while Mrs. Sickafoose has been appointed to the same body to take charge of the schools of that society, for the Chinese, on the Pacific coast. Both are excellent appointments. The Record will endeavor to keep Mr. and Mrs. S. posted on the affairs of their old home.

THE township boards of Niles, Bertrand and Buchanan townships met in this place, Tuesday, to receive bids for building bridges at this point and at Bertrand. There were nine companies represented, and bids for both bridges put in by each, as follows: Buchanan—Wrought Iron Bridge Co., Canton, O., $4,600; Berlin Iron Bridge Co., Berlin, Conn., $14,500 per lineal foot; Massillon Bridge Co., $4,800; Penn Bridge Works, Reaver Falls, Pa., $3,694; Mt. Vernon Bridge Co., Mt. Vernon, O., $4,895; Morris Bridge Co., Youngstown, O., $4,500; Smith Iron Bridge Co., Toledo, O., $4,850; King Iron Bridge Co., Cleveland, O., $4,825; and Milwaukee Bridge Co., $4,487.

FOR Bertrand, by the same companies respectively: $4,900, $15,75 per lineal foot; $3,150, $2,999, $3,542, $3,500, $3,811, $3,860, $3,623.

THE choice of the commissioners was for the Milwaukee bridge, which was to be a two span bridge with truss twenty-one feet high, cross braced overhead, and of iron, excepting the braces, which were so arranged that when one needs replacing it may be taken out in twenty minutes. But as Niles-township lacked in her share of the funds, by $243.50, the commissioners were obliged to accept the offer of the Penn Bridge Company, a much inferior bridge of four spans, and with an inferior substructure. It was the opinion that the Milwaukee bridge was by far the best bargain for both townships. The Buchanan bridge is to be completed within sixty and the one at Bertrand in ninety days. This does very well in the absence of the ability to get anything better.

LATER.—The above may be too soon, as the Niles Supervisor refuses to pay interest on the orders from the time the work is done until they can be paid at four per cent. per annum, which would amount to about $40 for that township, and may yet postpone the matter indefinitely. He has gone to consult with his constituents before deciding.

There will be a grand band tournament at St. Joseph one week from next Saturday, June 23. This is pretty short notice for a tournament that is to take in all bands in Michigan and Indiana, and offers $220 in prizes, and asks no entrance fee. The Buchanan band does not want much time to practice to take in all such shows and bring home the first prize, $100. Excursions on the lake and a display of the Life Saving Service at St. Joseph will be among the attractions. Excursion trains will be run on the West Michigan and Wabash roads.

THE High School graduating exercises were held in Rough's Opera House last evening, the hall being crowded to its utmost capacity, and many going away, unable to obtain seats. The following program, interspersed with music by the Arrian Club, and by the quartette, Messrs. J. H. Roe, J. B. Moulton, Ed. Barmess, and Misses Alice Pennell and Edie Fox, was carried out: Prayer, Rev. W. I. Cogshall; essay, "Fledglings," Edie Fox; essay, "The mill will not run with the water that has passed," Priscilla Ryerson; essay, "Changes," Huldah Ehn; essay, "Can and Could," Stella Baker. Dedications conferred; Benediction, Rev. H. V. Warren. The essays of the members of the graduating class were well written and well read, and the entire exercises passed off in a pleasing and satisfactory manner.

Can there be nothing done to deepen our harbor channel? Where we had 17 feet of water last year, there is but 12 1/2 at the present time, and this is far too shallow for our commerce, which in a majority of cases is carried on by vessels of the larger class which find a great deal of difficulty in entering when the lake is perfectly calm, and when any sea is running they must either lay at anchor outside, until the storm is past or else pound over the bar into deeper water, and run great risk in sinking in making the passage. Would not a little dredging in the proper place give us a good channel once more.—St. Joseph Republican.

Let's see! Was not the St. Joseph Republican one of the papers that joined in the frantic howl because J. C. Burrows voted for the river and harbor improvement bill?

GALIEN ITEMS. On the 5th inst. the boarding house in this place burned down. The supposition is that it caught fire from Blake's mill. It was occupied at the time by Charley Wooley and family.

Captain Sam Jordan, better known as "Bucksin Sam," was in town the fore part of the week.

The Odd Fellows have moved into their new hall. The Good Templars occupy the same hall with them. Their new quarters is a decided improvement.

Crook Warren has lost his horse. Daniel Swann, of Wessau, rode the goat last Friday night. A. Clark has built an addition to his house.

Several of the Galienites went to Chicago on excursion tickets, last Tuesday. Miss Nettie Vanderlin is teaching a select school of little folks at the school house in this village.

What is the racket, anyway, between the Sun editor and Record correspondents at the Corners? Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Fry, of Michigan City, were in Galien over Sunday. It looked natural to see Walt leaning on the hitching post again.

The new Baptist church is nearly enclosed. The Sunday School Convention for Galien township was held at the Olive Branch church, south of the village, last Sabbath. It was well attended, and pronounced a success. The following officers were elected: M. L. Sherrill, Pres.; Timothy Smith, Sec.; Mrs. Wm. H. Brewer, Treas.

NDROD. NEW TROD ITEMS. June 11, 1888.

Much in the past has been said derogatory in regard to the society existing in this place. But it may be stated with honest pride, that few villages surrounded by like temptations and governed by as loose social bans, can present a better class of young men and ladies than is to be found here. True-representatives of those who call them by the endearing title of children, and honorable associates, for all who may come within their influence.

Although isolated from the many railroad facilities enjoyed by their more fortunate brothers, yet the few in number who represent the mercantile interests here have, by their conscientious dealings with the mechanic, laborer and farmer, succeeded in establishing a home trade of no mean dimensions.

The citizens here and in this vicinity give their cordial and unbiassed thanks to Hons. L. C. Frye, W. A. Keith and L. A. Duncan, for their honest endeavors to secure the passage of wise and beneficent laws, affecting not only this section but the whole State.

Mr. De Lapp, the new owner of the Golden place, arrived here yesterday from his old home in Missouri. At the present time of writing, Mrs. Vine Morley is dangerously ill.

In order to obtain room to stack the lumber cut by the mill, Mr. Shetlerly has been obliged to slip a number of car loads of the dry stock.

[Niles Mirror.] Just as we go to press we learn that the high water has undermined and about 80 feet of the dam on the west side has sunk down. Malicious persons have broken 25 panes of glass out of Niles' Green Hall, and put down a shade tree, and $10 reward is offered to catch the vandals.

Peterson's Magazine for July is on our table, ahead of all others, and even more brilliant than usual. The leading illustrated article is entitled "Where Colonel Newcome's Grandfather Will be read, with the greatest interest, by every admirer of Thackeray. The principal story is "A Fifth Avenue Romance," a novel of which the first four chapters are given, and which, besides being written with great spirit, is evidently from the pen of one entirely at home in the society she describes. The other stories, however, are all exceptionally good. A new volume begins with this number, affording an excellent opportunity to subscribe. The terms are but two dollars a year, with great deductions to clubs of five or more. Subscriptions taken at this office.

[Niles Republican.] Arthur Hahn, the telegrapher, is an enterprising young man. He is visiting in the city, and to accommodate Mr. Riddle, the night operator at the M. C. R. H. depot, has been filling his place the past few nights. He worked Monday night, went to Allegan Tuesday morning, there met by previous arrangement Mrs. May Thomas, of Three Rivers, made the lady his wife, returned to this city the same evening, and was on duty in the telegraph office all Tuesday night just the same as though nothing had happened. Congratulations are extended.

EDITOR RECORD, "Dear Sir"—As many people compare me to Mr. Leary Bronson's Jersey stock, I wish to state through your paper, for the benefit of all who wish to raise Jersey cattle, that while traveling, last year, my business brought me constantly in contact with farmers and raisers and importers of Jersey cattle. Being a great lover of stock I investigated first the genuineness of the claimed redeeming qualities of the Jersey cattle generally, for I never liked to be humbugged. Being satisfied in my own mind as to the best and most pure stock of the kind, that I might purchase some for my own use. I was then, as I am now, satisfied that there can be no better stock found in the United States than Mr. Bronson's Jersey, Duke, which, I am sorry to say, I was obliged to sell, and Mr. Bronson was the lucky man. I think a man who is used to Jersey cattle needs only to see Duke to assure him that he is of the very purest blood, which can be proven by his record. I think he is the best I ever saw.
