92 in the shade, Tuesday, and some people called it warm.

SEE new advertisement of Scott & Brownfield, in this paper.

TRAMPS are uncommonly thick in this part of the world just now.

THE St. Joseph skating rink will be lighted by electricity.

A BENTON Harbor man named Barnum has mysteriously disappeared.

RICE the restauranter has been fitting up his dining room in the style.

THE Greenback county convention is called for August 7, at Berrien Springs.

Mrs. MARY STRAW and daughter Mattie returned from their Northern trip Monday.

FIVE new brick business buildings in one season is not a bad start for Buchanan to make.

THE walls of Bins' and Nash's buildings are growing quite rapidly toward the second story.

IT cost $16,007.50 to run Niles schools last year. $8,007.50 of this was for teachers' wages.

HAVE you any Canada thistles? If you have now is the time to make a bonfire of them.

REVS. C. G. THOMAS and H. V. WARREN are at Island Park, attending the Assembly, this week.

NILES citizens have erected a band stand on the school grounds, at an expense of $100. Right.

THE Buchanan cornet band put in their time Sunday at Diamond Lake, and had a good time.

NEARLY everybody and their family went on the excursion to Michigan City yesterday and had a good time.

THE St. Joseph Republican has changed hands, and is now owned by Ricaby Brothers, instead of "Bill" Ricaby.

BENTON HARBOR is having her usual patronage on excursions from Hooledon. Three large parties were there last week.

O. McKAY, mine host of the Bond House, Niles, and his brother-in-law, Geo. Hunt, of Colorado, were in town yesterday.

HOWARD & SLATER have been having a good business in the telephone business in Dowagiac and other neighboring towns.

AS usual, the advertisement in the Record last week, asking for rain, brought the desired article. We have never known it to fail.

DR. AND HARRY PIERCE returned Tuesday evening from their tour to Idaho, both looking as if they had enjoyed the trip.

THERON P. DAVIS, of Sodus township, has been held for trial on a charge of bastardy, preferred by his wife's sister.

BENTON HARBOR finding that her school rooms are not sufficient to accommodate her schools has concluded to build a four room ward school building at once.

THE story telephoned to this place, that Perry Fox went up in one of the balloons at Michigan City yesterday, and lost in the lake is said to be false, although nothing has been seen of Perry to-day, and the mill is shut down.

The rain of yesterday and this morning makes the owners of corn fields happy.

THE Niles beer peddlers find a rich harvest in Decatur, where they take the benefit of the local option law and allow no saloons to be opened.

RAILROAD meetings are of quite frequent occurrence, and the air filled with rumors. The chief operators in railroad stocks in this county are in town this morning.

No. Don't ask us any questions about when the St. Joseph Valley railroad is to be extended. We are not answering that kind of conundrums. Some time, perhaps.

MR. F. R. HARDING, of Niles township, is the second to report on wheat crop. His 43 acres averaged 24 bushels per acre, and from 20 acres he threshed 600 bushels.

Now comes the Evening News with this slander on the St. Joe:

"The water in the St. Joe river is so low that the fishes have to carry parols to keep the sun from warping their dorsal fins."

THE prospect of a skating rink being built in this place has faded with dim past, and the owners of roller skates will be obliged to cling to the cement sidewalks for their amusement.

MR. SAMUEL WELLS, President of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Association of South-Western Michigan, and lady, are attending the G. A. R. reunion in Minneapolis, Minn., this week.

A MOVE is being made to have Mrs. Riford appointed Postmistress at Benton Harbor for the unexpired term of her deceased husband's appointment, which is the right thing to do. She knows how to run the business.

THE Beistle Brothers have bought the lot formerly occupied by Iahn's larder house, and will erect a two-story brick building thereon for the accommodation of their business. This will be a grand improvement to Oak street, and we hope that more shall follow.

If you want your cabbage patch kept free from worms manage to have one or more families of the common sparrow locate their homes near your patch. They grow fat on the worms, and know just where to find 'em.

THROUGH the courtesy of Major Samuel Wells Mr. Stephen Scott has received an appointment as aid-de-camp, to attend the grand encampment G. A. R. at Minneapolis, and started for his post of duty Monday morning.

THE publisher of the Benton Harbor Expositor has embarked in the excursion business, and will run one from Benton Harbor to Goshen, next Tuesday. May he grow rich in his new ventures.

NILES is talking of electricity as a street and store light. If they fasten had street lamps they would be fixed. They are the most economical known. It costs nothing to run them here.

BY request of a number of our readers, we this week renew our visitors' column, and request those who have company from abroad, or are going abroad themselves, to be so kind as to report the facts, and they will be duly mentioned.

THE village authorities have at last concluded that the village of Buchanan is not a temporary structure, and have commenced putting in stone crossings that will stay, instead of plank that will have to be renewed every two or three years.

THERE was a small sized battle at the depot, Monday, when they fastened on Howard Wagner, in which Wagner took second money. Bird was arrested, plead guilty and was fined $10 and cost.

CRYSTAL SPRINGS camp meeting will commence one week from next Tuesday, August 5, and close on Thursday, August 14. Posters giving full particulars may be seen in prominent places about the district.

JOHN SIMMONS had a team standing at the depot, Monday, when they became frightened and ran away, throwing John out and landing him feet upwards on the ground. No serious damage done.

MR. "MARK" PRICE thinks his land is not to be discounted by all of the rest of the country. He has left at this office two timothy heads measuring 11 and 11 1/2 inches in length. Also a bunch of clover stalks that are 4 1/2 feet long, from his farm, on the north side of Weesaw.

THE damage the late drought has done growing crops in this vicinity is inestimable in amount. Corn has been cut short, potatoes will be small and few in the hill, and blackberries and raspberries reduced to nearly nothing. We want rain.

LATER.—We always get what we advertise for. The rain has come.

MONDAY afternoon Joseph Covell repaired a revolver for a young chap, and when done handed it to the owner, who started off snapping it, when presently it exploded and the shot lodged in Joe's shirt sleeve, having first taken a point of the bone in his elbow off. He will draw the cartridges when he repairs revolvers hereafter.

HERE is an item that will be good reading for a number of Buchanan teamsters who know considerable less than the horses they pretend to drive: "Phlander Rose of Battle Creek has been sent to Ionia for ninety days in default of payment of $100 fine for cruel treatment of a horse which he drove till the poor creature dropped dead. Little enough."

MR. ELI WADE'S 100 acres of wheat, on Terre Coupee prairie, averaged a little over 30 bushels per acre. George Boyle had sixty acres, two miles west of Buchanan, that averaged 23 bushels per acre, but twenty of the sixty gave him 670 bushels. Theo. Rittenger's crop on Terre Coupee prairie, averaged about 33 bushels.

Mrs. G. F. Brown and son Guy, of Caro, are visiting relatives in Buchanan.

There was some lively work caused by a fire started in the "lawn" at the cemetery Saturday. It was learned after the fire was started that we had been having pretty dry weather and that nearly everything was in a burnable condition.

It seems that the old story of two competitive picnics under the caption of Young People's Picnic is to be repeated next month. The only original Y. P. P. A. will be held in Berrien Springs, and the traveling branch at St. Joseph, both on the sixth of August, and as a result there will be two half attended lifeless gatherings. Better throw up both, sink your reminiscences in lake Michigan and have one good picnic each year, and only one, and make that a good one.

THE premium list for the State Fair is ready for distribution. Apply to J. C. Sterling, Secretary, Monroe, Mich. The fair is to be held in Kalamazoo, September 15, 16, 17, 18 and 19. The usual special rates have been secured on the railroads. The fare for the round trip will be, from Niles, $1.45; Buchanan, $1.65; Dayton, $1.75; Galesburg, $1.85; Avery, $2.00; Three Oaks, $2.05; New Buffalo, $2.25; St. Joseph, $2.35; Benton Harbor, $2.35. Articles for exhibition at the fair will be transported by the railroads free, to and from the fair.

LIGHTNING struck Mr. George A. Blakesley's large farm barn at Galien this morning, burning the barn and contents, and a number of small out-buildings. There were in the barn about fifty tons of tame hay, 500 bushels of new wheat, and 400 bushels of shelled corn, which were burned. Two men, one of whom was Henry Hobart of this place, were in the barn doing chores when the barn was struck, but neither was hurt. The horses, harness and machinery that were in the barn were saved. The loss is partly covered by insurance in the Berrien County Mutual.

A NUMBER of years since a tubular well was put down to the depth of about 240 feet, at Bridgman, in this county, for the purpose of furnishing water for a saw mill. At one point there were indications of coal and so strong a jet of gas arose from the pipe that it was lighted. Still further down, and at the point where the well was finally abandoned, the water was quite strongly impregnated with salt, strong enough to produce a teaspoonful of salt from a pint of the brine. While there is so much salt being found on the east side of the State it would seem that these indications would point strongly to the same being found there. It might be worth their while to make the test, to the depth of one or two thousand feet.

THE school board have elected their corps of teachers, with salaries same as last year, except that of Principal and Preceptress: Principal, O. E. Aleshire, $800; Preceptress, Miss Carrie Iteaton, $450; Grammar, Miss Flora McDonald, $35; 1st Intermediate, Miss Annette Dainton, $30; 2d Intermediate, Miss Lizzie Young, $25; 3d Intermediate, Miss Wilda Searis, $25; 1st Primary, Miss May Haller, $30; 2d Primary, Miss Eda Beardsley, $25; 3d Primary, Miss Nellie Baldwin, $25. With the exception of the first two named the price mentioned represents the monthly wages. So far as is known to us the selections are good ones, and we shall live in hope that we may have a good school.

FIRE.—Tuesday afternoon William Gantt's steam threshing machine was at work at Mr. David Best's stack yard, on the farm of Hiram Baker near Bakertown, and had threshed about sixty bushels when one of the stacks was discovered to be on fire. Every effort was made to extinguish the fire, but as there was no ladder near it could not be reached, and the entire yard, including not far from 300 bushels of wheat, was burned. It is but a few years since his father, David A. Best, met with a similar accident. One peculiar thing in this connection is the fact that Mr. Best clung to the old-fashioned horse power long after his neighbors had adopted the new steam power for threshing, simply because of his fear of fire, and he and his son have since been twice the victims of the fire that he so dreaded.

EXCURSION.—The excursion to Michigan City, yesterday, under the auspices of the Oak Street Advent Sunday School, was a grand success as to numbers and social enjoyment. In the morning the weather was such as to somewhat dampen the feelings of the picnickers, and by the time Michigan City was reached the rain was coming down in torrents, keeping the people in the crowded cars for nearly an hour. As soon as the rain ceased, nearly all repaired to the skating rink, the grove being too wet, where the picnic dinner was partaken of and speeches and music listened to. After dinner the ten crowded cars were hauled to the state prison yard. Here an hour or more was spent in going through the various departments of the prison, after which the train was returned to the depot in the city, and everybody left to enjoy themselves as their several tastes dictated. The Buchanan and Berrien Springs bands enlivened the occasion, and the city too, with some of their best selections. By the time the train was ready to return home the picnickers were all ready and were landed home in the evening tired, as such parties usually are.

THE MEN WITH THE PIG.

The Dales, "Just From Scotland" - What Was Forgotten.

A few days ago a party who were afterward found to be Detroiters, arrived in a town about fifty miles to the west of this, leading a pig. It was perhaps big enough and heavy enough to be called a hog, but they called it a pig, and the landlady who over in they proposed to rest for the night, one of the men exclaimed:

"The awful carnal with that pig. He's a daisy, a new breed just from Scotland. We've sold him to a farmer out here for $50, and we don't want anything to happen to him."

The landlady looked the pig up and then began to think and cogitate and suspect. When the strangers had gone to bed he called in some of the boys and said:

"The fellows twinged the racket; then two fellows are sharper, and that's a guessing pig. To-morrow they will give you a chance to guess at his weight at 10 cents a guess, and you'll be cleaned out."

"Nonsense," said the man who will weigh the pig and beat their game. "Nobody slept until the pig was taken over to the scales and weighed. He weighed 170 pounds."

"The villagers went home and hunted up their nickels and dreamed of pigs and scales and sharpers through the remainder of the night."

"The next morning the pig was led around in front of the house, and every soul on the street gazed at it with curiosity. It was curious that unanimity there was in the guessing, but the pig men didn't seem to notice it. When all had been given a chance the pig was led to the scales and lo! his weight was exactly 174 pounds!"

"You see, gentlemen," explained the spokesman, "while this animal only weighed 170 pounds on the 11th of the night, we fed him about five pounds of comment in the morning before weighing! You forgot to take this matter into consideration."

Then somebody kicked the landlady, and he kicked the justice, and the justice kicked a merchant, and when the pig men looked back from a distant hill the whole town was out kicking itself and throwing empty wallets into the river.

M. Delaunay, (British Medical Journal) made an extended and careful investigation to ascertain if, in the majority of cases, the right upper and lower extremity be crossed over the left or the left over the right, and what side most commonly be crossed when in the sitting posture.

Sobering Drunken Men.

(Chicago News.) I remember that the captain of a lumber schooner came to me one night and said he must have his men on board immediately drunk. He soberly said he was compelled to sail at once. I went with him and we found them at Sailor Sally's. There were seven of them and they were all very drunk. Well, we carried them on board one at a time and carried them up. The captain then uncovered the water cask and we plugged one fellow in. It only took about a minute for the wet to sober him. Then we pulled him out and served the other men in the same way, one at a time. Within twenty minutes the whole of them were as sober as judges. They went to work with a will, and when I left they were singing and yo-yoing at the ropes.

Plant Not Trees.

(Baltimore Market Journal.) The idea of planting nut bearing trees where shade is desired, instead of those which are solely ornamental, is not new, but the suggestion is one that will be thought of soberly by those who contemplate planting shade or ornamental trees. Chestnut, walnut, hickory and butternut trees are all nearly as fine in appearance as horse chestnut and maple, and, aside from the source of revenue, will yield to their owners from the fruit, the timber of such trees is always in demand, and the tree itself may become profitable and become desirable at any time to remove it.

Always Alling.

(Buffalo Express.) When Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt's children are ill, she has the medicine prescribed for them put in candy. In consequence, Vanderbilt children are never quite well.

The Widow's Woe.

"Chips," the Chief Oars' widow, has 6,000 sheep located on Douglas creek, near the lake of Utah, that have not been shorn for three years, and is willing to give half to some one who will shear them.

Breaking Bridges by Vibration.

In answer to the question, as to the marching of a body of soldiers, in regular military step, has been known to cause the falling of a bridge? The Manufacturer and Builder has the following: The statement is substantiated by the strongest kind of evidence. We believe that it is a rule observed by marching armies when they cross a bridge, to stop the music, break step and open column, lest the measured cadence of a condensed body of men should cause the bridge to vibrate so greatly as to endanger its stability or to cause it to fall. Numerous instances of accidents caused by the neglect of this rule are recorded by the strongest kind of evidence. A bridge, near Manchester, gave way beneath the measured tread of only sixty men who were marching over it.

Speed of Thought in a Dream.

(Cor. Scientific American.) A telegraph operator was one night during the Russo-Turkish war, receiving a press dispatch regarding the war, in which the name of Gortschakoff was mentioned. The operator, who was not familiar with the name, was surprised to find that the first syllable of the name was "G." He went to sleep and dreamt he went to his mother's house, where he met a young friend hunting with some Indian friends; had a great deal of sport, and went through an experience which would take days to perform, and finally, after a very long and hard hunt, the division of their game, he woke up in time to hear the final syllable of Gortschakoff's name, and succeeded in making a complete copy of the message. At the rate of 100 words per minute, at which telegraphing is usually done, you will see that the time of the dream, which commenced when the middle syllable of Gortschakoff's name was being read, was a third of one and one-hundredths of a second, or forty-four one-hundredths of a second.

A Little Absent-Minded.

(New York Truth.) A Whitehall woman, about to boil an egg for her husband's breakfast, asked the loan of his watch to time the boiling.

"Your watch has stopped," she cried; "the egg is in and I can't tell how long it ought to remain in the kettle."

The husband hastened to the stove, and was horrified to find that the good woman had dropped his elegant gold watch into the kettle, and was holding the egg to her ear.

Cement for Patching Shoes.

(Texas Sitings.) The cement used in patching the upper part of the shoes is generally made by dissolving gutta percha in chloroform until the mixture is about as thick as syrup. Scrape and pure clean around the hole to be covered, and then carefully fill with a long chamber the edges of the bit of leather to be applied. Only a little of the cement is needed, but the surfaces must be pressed close together. The parts will adhere firmly in a few minutes.

How Rich New Orleans Editors Do.

(New Orleans Pheasant.) Some time with a newspaper got up when the steam whistle blows. Real comfort is found in lying in bed until one feels like getting up.

Among the Alligators.

(New York Sun.) "Will you kindly tell me whether the wind blows from the north or the south of the mouth of the Florida river?" "Certainly, sir," replied the landlady, stepping to the door, "the wind now blows due north, sir."

He Means to Be Musical.

(Buffalo Courier.) It is the custom to regard the howling of a dog at a noise, such as that caused by ringing bells, blowing a horn or playing a piano, as an evidence of canine disapproval. Observation, however, seems to indicate that it is rather an indication of the dog's gentle love of harmony. In fact, the more likely to display anger or excitement by barking.

Matrimonial Intelligence.

(Texas Sitings.) They had not been married very long, but she had grown cold and listless; so one evening she told her husband that she had decided to leave him. "You seem to be so cold and indifferent, Malvina. Have you forgotten those happy days when I was paying you my love?" "You had better not forget those happy days before we were married. I never had less than three fellers of an evening around me, paying me attention."

But, dearest, haven't you got me to pay you attention right now?

"Yes, I suppose I have. You are doing the best you know how; but you don't love me as much as you used to do. You are doing your best to three, do you?"

The Parties are both well connected, and move in the highest of Austin society.

A Man Without a Face.

(London Globe.) There is to be seen at Landreecis, in the department of the north, an inviolable artillery soldier, who was wounded in the eye of the forehead by a bullet, which was horribly mutilated by the bursting of a Russian shell. The man's face was literally blown off, including both eyes, there being left behind some scars, remnants of the osseous and muscular tissue. The wound was perfectly covered with hair, and well healed, so that the man had a most hideous and ghastly appearance.

This disfigurement has been completely concealed by a mask which was made for him under the direction of the principal medical officer of Val de Grace, in Paris, whether he had been transferred from the army to the navy.

The mask was constructed by a surgeon-dentist named Delain. It includes a false palate and a complete set of false teeth; and it is so perfect that the functions of respiration, which were necessarily completely arrested, are almost completely restored to their normal condition, and the voice, which was rather husky, has resumed its natural tone. The man speaks distinctly, the sense of smell, which was entirely disappeared, has returned, and he can even play the flute. He wears two false eyes, simply to fill up the cavities of the orbits, and the pupils represent the eyes in the mask's outline. The mask is so well adapted to what remains of the real face as to be considered one of the finest specimens of the prosthetic art that could be devised.

The man himself, whose name is Moreau, and who is in perfect health, is looked upon as a living curiosity, and travels on a good deal of our way to see him. His wife, or rather his mother, is of a most expressive and peculiarly his special senses, particularly that of touch, are extremely developed, and he goes by the sobriquet of "homme a la tete cie ave." He wears the military cross of honor, and although he knows what he had gone through during the war. To add to his meager pension he sells a small pamphlet containing a full description of his wounds, and of the manner in which he was completely re-created. He is to be seen at the museum at his last presentable to his fellow creatures.
