SQUAW winter.
"Spellin' bee" prevail at the county capital.

Mr. D. Weston is building a cement walk at the front of his residence.

The Blaine-Sentinel libel suit has been set for trial on December 23.

The first flurry of snow for the season struck this place this morning.

Mrs. FRANK PARKER, of Oswego, Ill., is visiting the family of Dr. J. M. Wilson.

C. B. Churchill and Joel Benson, of Berrien Springs, have been granted a patent on a garden plow.

A child of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McKie, of Three Oaks, was brought to this place Saturday for interment.

Mr. L. S. BRONSON succeeded in capturing five first premiums at the Xiles fair, on hogs, cattle and grain.

ELSTON slips printed at this office are warranted to elect if the proper number are put into the ballot box.

Mr. KERR is preparing the most elegant sign on Front street, that will be out when the weather is fair.

GREAT SCOTT! This refers to Miss Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will J. Scott. Weight twelve pounds.

The poor village of St. Johns is truly a subject for pity. She has two skating rinks and is now building a third.

The Board of Supervisors have authorized the county treasurer to borrow $6,000 for the current expenses of the county.

Mr. A. F. Morley, of Bridgman, has found some pretty good sized Burbank potatoes in his patch. Two of them weigh 61 ounces.

THE "REV." Mr. Deyo can be credited with adding at least one straight vote to the Republican list by his speech, Monday evening.

Mr. H. OPPENHEIM has rented the Scott residence on Oak street, and will remove his family from Stanton to this place in a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. P. CARROLL, of Schoolcraft, Mich., parents of Mrs. Samuel Wells, are in this place for a visit of a few days.

ALEX. EMERY of Flint, formerly of Gallen has settled in this place for the practice of law, and will be located for the present in rooms over the bank.

The skating rink has reached the part where the roof is to be, and will soon have that very necessary adjunct. Don't get nervous. You may skate in a few days.

Mr. GEORGE H. ROUGH was in town Monday afternoon with a stool of wheat grown in his field this fall that measured twenty-seven inches in length.

TWENTY-two years ago yesterday was rather a warm day in Buchanan. It was then that the part of town between Main street and the creek was burned.

Mr. GEO. MCCOY brought to this office, Monday evening, a handful of nice red raspberries, very ripe, and as fine as is ever found in their natural season.

A LITTLE six-year old boy, Jay, son of Riley Hague, of Niles township, cut his foot by stepping on a corn cutter some days since. He has nearly bled to death several times from the wound. Niles Republican.

Some of the farmers living in the vicinity of Cottage Hill have been having some and experience with sheep-killing dogs. Mr. J. B. Wells has had a number of sheep killed and more wounded.

At last a good brick walk has been built on the north side of Chicago street, between the creek and Oak street, and foot passengers on that route are no longer in danger of stumbling over themselves and breaking a neck.

We have now on hand the finest assortment of wedding invitation goods ever brought to Buchanan. If you want anything in that line, don't send to Chicago until you have seen our stock and work.

The Michigan Central Railroad will sell excursion tickets to Chicago, Oct. 23, good to return Oct. 26, for one fare the round trip, on account of the Blaine reception on the 25th. The tickets good on any train that stops at this station.

The election will be held one week from next Tuesday, Nov. 4, the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November. The roll will be open for registration up to Saturday evening, Nov. 1. If there is any doubt about your name being on the register, attend to that before time and not lose your vote.

THE little boy named Murphy, mentioned in these columns a few weeks since, as having been accidentally shot while his father was handling a revolver, in Benton Harbor, has since died. Warnings of this sort make no difference with others who handle firearms carelessly.

FARMER'S MEETING.—There will be a Republican mass meeting of the farmers of Berrien township, at the Mars Grove, at the home of Hon. Thomas Mars, to-morrow (Friday) afternoon, Oct. 24, Hon. C. G. Luce, Hon. J. J. Woodman, Hon. J. C. Burrows and Col. DeLos Phillips will speak.

A postal card from Mr. Albert Nutt of Hastings, Barry county, a former resident of Buchanan township, announces that he finds on one stalk four ears of corn, 1,760 kernels, and another three ears, with 1,638 kernels, and wants to hear from the fellow who beats that.

GEN. R. A. ALGER, Republican candidate for Governor, was in this place Tuesday getting acquainted with the people. It was announced that he was to be present at the meeting Monday evening, but some unexpected complication arose in Detroit that detained him there until next morning.

List of letters remaining uncalled for in the postoffice at Buchanan, Mich., for the week ending Oct. 23: J. W. Isles, Luan & Pub. Co., Mich., Melvin Rainey, Mrs. Mary Hoffman Rouch, Mrs. Evaline Sherman, Mrs. Addie Wright.—Postal cards—Joseph Shape, Mrs. James Sheridan.

L. P. ALEXANDER, P. M.

THE hallmarks to the Republican banner, at the corner of Clark and Chicago streets, were cut by some outlaw Monday night. Of course it was a Republican who did it. The Democrats never conduct their campaigns in that way, and get mad if you tell them that they do. There are times that we enjoy seeing people get their mad up to a white heat. They seem to feel so good when they are cooling down.

Did it ever occur to the citizens of this place just what condition we would be in should fire get a good start in some of the wooden rows in various parts of town. Our fire-fighting machine would not amount to as much as a garden sprinkler, and the fact will probably not be fully appreciated until it nicely tested. We need a good steam engine.

THE Mirror evidently does not know what it is talking about when it speaks of the Mormons in Berrien county not voting for Hon. J. C. Burrows. The branch of the Mormon church that is represented in this county is made up of as respectable a lot of people as is found in any church, and as rabidly opposed to polygamy as any one can be, and besides they are as universally Republicans as the Utah Brighamites are of the other political faith, and they will all vote for Mr. Burrows, notwithstanding the great surprise it will give the Mirror.

As is usual in such crowds as congregated in South Bend, Saturday, the pick-pockets got in their work to the best advantage, and quite a number of pocket-books and watches were taken. Among others, Mr. John Reamer, Dr. Spreng, Aaron Miller, and a few others, lost their pocket-books. One of the light-fingered gentry, who was working the car platform, made an attempt to capture Mr. Editor's watch, but without success. The case with Charley High is without a parallel. He lost his overcoat, and for a man to stand quietly and allow pick-pockets to take his overcoat, is an unheard-of circumstance.

THE Blaine reception brought together the largest crowd that South Bend has ever known, variously estimated at from 30,000 to 50,000 people. The train from Michigan City carried into the city about 1,500, and there were equally large trains from all other directions. The ticket sales at this place numbered 163, and as many more went by private conveyance. There was an industrial procession, that was one of the wonders of the world, but by one of the unaccountable arrangements of the Michigan Central railroad company the train from this way was held in Niles until it was too late for any of that train load to witness the procession or hear any of the speaking.

REGISTER.—There appears to be a slight misunderstanding about regarding registration. The law of 1881 requires an entirely new registration of all voters in the State to be made in 1883, and each ten years thereafter, making the next full registration in 1893. In the city of Detroit a new registration is required every four years, just before each presidential election. If you have registered in 1883, or at any time since, and have not changed your place of residence, you need not register in order to vote on November 4. If you have changed your home, or just become 21 years of age, see to it that your name is placed on the register before Saturday, November 1, as every man who is entitled to place a vote in the ballot box should not be deprived of the privilege because of a failure to attend to this essential requirement. Do not rest on the thought that there is time enough, but call upon your township clerk at once and attend to it.

The Board of Supervisors are in session, having adjourned from Saturday to yesterday. They are having a quite spirited contest over the review of the tax rolls. Among the curious circumstances of the meeting was the appointment of a Superintendent of County Poor. There was strong talk of selecting John T. Beckwith, the Greenback Supervisor of Weesaw, but the law was just such that the Board could not select one of their number. A strange desire for office caused Mr. Beckwith to go home, desert his trust given him by his neighbors—by resigning his office as Supervisor, and returned, begging to be elected Superintendent of poor, and on Saturday morning was elected. The Weesaw township Board has appointed Peter Smith to fill the vacancy in the Board of Supervisors, and all are now well satisfied.

The Michigan Central Railroad will sell excursion tickets to Chicago, Oct. 23, good to return Oct. 26, for one fare the round trip, on account of the Blaine reception on the 25th. The tickets good on any train that stops at this station.

Democratic Rally!

Hon. Morgan Weir,

Of Laporte, Ind., will address the citizens of Buchanan and vicinity, in this place, on the political issues of the day, from a Democratic standpoint, on Thursday Evening,

October 30, 1884.
Come every one and hear him.
COMMITTEE.

The largest political gathering held this year in Buchanan was on Monday evening. Mr. Robert Frazer, of Jackson, spoke for the Republicans, and Rev. Deyo for the Democrats. Hon. E. M. Plimpton, of Benton Harbor, followed Mr. Frazer, both giving the audience most excellent speeches. The Republicans had a torch light procession of about 300 torches, partly by mounted carriers, and headed by the Buchanan corner band. The Democrats had intended to have a like procession, but for some reason failed, and a number of them marched to martial music, without torches. Mr. Frazer spoke from the stile at J. D. Ross' residence, because of the crowd being larger than the opera house could accommodate, the first intention being to occupy that room, and Mr. Deyo from a stand erected on Day's avenue, just east of the hotel. Mr. Deyo was next morning reported as having said that Hon. J. C. Burrows had robbed a poor weak minded orphan of his pension. We did not hear him make the remark, and trust he did not, for if he did he probably knows that he lied, just as well now as if some one were to tell him he did. The Republicans were highly pleased with the success of their meeting, and hope the Democrats were with theirs. It seems a little queer to them, however, that two or three days after a Republican meeting is advertised here it invariably happens that the Democrats announce a meeting for the same time. Of course this is purely accidental, and has nothing preconcerted about it, as Democrats never do anything to interfere with Republican meetings. It is against their religious principles to do anything of that kind.

We have received a letter written under a finely printed head, with considerable display, from Mr. Harvey C. Sherwood, the successful candidate for State Senator, making serious objection to the mention the RECORD made of his capacity as a farmer of the kid-glove class. He was also kind enough to inclose a fine lithographic view of his elegant farm in Watervliet, a copy of what appeared in the recent published "History" of Berrien and Van Buren counties, the regular price of which varied from $75 to $200, owing to the gullibility of the victim. We made the statement on good authority, and said nothing objectionable to Mr. Sherwood, either morally or intellectually. The best we can learn of Mr. Sherwood is that he is a man of considerable wealth, a native Virginian, with the dignity and aristocratic ideas that almost invariably accompany that nativity. That places his hands in kid-gloves, and a silk hat on the head when driving out, and places the hired help at the other table for dinner, yet who observes strict rules of business integrity and gentlemanly courtesy with those he comes in contact with. We have no personal acquaintance with Mr. Sherwood, nor has the RECORD any desire to injure him in any other way than to fairly defeat him at the polls. It is not Mr. Sherwood who's making a special pose before the public as a farmer, but it is the confusion that has placed him in nomination that is doing it for him, and it is our attempt to explain this "farmer" candidate. The Editor of the RECORD might also pose as a practical farmer because the first twenty-two years of his life were spent at that most honorable occupation, but to say now that he is a farmer and demands special recognition at the polls because of that claim would be anything but fair.

The Detroit Evening News contained the following very complimentary notice of our fellow townsman, Dr. F. H. Berriek:

Dr. Francis H. Berriek was born in Chelmsford, Middlesex county, Mass., September 18, 1823. His father was a soldier under Napoleon. After receiving a common school education the young man learned the trade of a machinist, and followed it nine years down to 1832, studying theology meanwhile. Entered Harvard law school in '39, graduated in 41—continued legal studies under Judge Perkins, of Salem, Mass., and was admitted to practice in '41. Notwithstanding a good practice and flattering prospects there was something about the business of the law which he disliked. Turning his attention to medicine, he graduated at Hahnemann medical college in Chicago, removed to Buchanan in 1863, where he has since resided. Besides enjoying a large medical practice he has for several years been a theological training in preaching. Is tall, well-proportioned, dignified, of commanding presence, well-trained mind, conservative thought and with capacity and inclination to do several men's work. Take him all around he is perhaps the most noble person in Buchanan. In politics, a democrat. He represented Berrien county in the state senate in '75-'76, having turned a large republican majority into a minority. When in state senate 1875, introduced a bill for establishment of homeopathic medical department of university, and conducted it to a successful issue. Owned and edited the Buchanan Reporter—never aspires to office—dislikes the trade of the politician—would make a splendid governor or United States Senator. Has a strong bias for religious and moral teaching. Fills pulpits frequently at home, in Indiana and Chicago. Preaches a whole hour, interesting the audience throughout. He is a man of great energy, and for twenty minutes. Is sympathetic, benevolent, and the law of kindness is in his speech.

The Evening News in its Saturday's edition takes a portion of what it knows of Hon. J. J. Van Riper, in this way: "Jacob J. Van Riper, of Buchanan, has held the highest office in Michigan ever held by any citizen of that state, and is worthy of the distinction. He was born at Haverstraw, N. Y., March 8, 1838, and went to New York and Brooklyn at an early day, and continuing in the part of the city in 1861, when he moved to Cass county, Mich. Having received an academic education in New York, he taught school in Michigan for a time, commencing in 1861, and in 1862, of which he attended lectures at the university in '60 and '61. Was admitted to practice in 1863, opened an office in Dowagiac and remained there until 1879, when he removed to Buchanan. He early took an interest in politics, and was deputy collector for Cass county during the war. Was a member of the constitutional convention held in 1877, where he served on the judiciary committee and the committee on the bill of rights, taking advanced ground and arguing against railroad aid schemes, for which he received the congratulations of Governor Croswell. He was elected Prosecuting Attorney of Berrien county in 1870 and re-elected in '78, appointed Regent of the University by Gov. Croswell, elected Attorney General in 1880, re-elected in 1882, and will probably be the next Republican nominee for Congress in the fourth district. In person Mr. Van Riper is full height, erect, fine featured, neatly attired, courteous in manner, conscientious in thought and action, and an indefatigable student and worker. His home life is the most pleasant, and when the business of his office will permit, he devotes his leisure to his family, and he can always be found there, as he is very much in love with Mrs. Van Riper.

THREE OAKS ITEMS.

Oct. 22, 1884.
Sherwood Martin and wife have returned from O'Neal, Neb., where they have been visiting their sons, Isaac and Abram, for several weeks.

J. L. McKie buried a little boy on Saturday last, the remains were taken to Buchanan for burial.

Mrs. E. H. Vincent returned home on Saturday night from Wisconsin, where she has been visiting friends. The featherbone factory will shut down soon, to put in heating pipes and for other repairs.

Chauncey Pope, a former resident of Portage Prairie, who has been living with Dr. Churchill for two years past, died on Monday morning. The funeral services were held at the Dr.'s house, and his remains were taken two miles south of Buchanan for burial. We are informed that he was an uncle of the Dr.

[Benton Harbor Express' Letter.]

Capt. John Robinson's little four-year-old daughter, Agnes, met with a painful mishap on Friday of last week. She was driving to her school, and hitting his horse to a post in front, entered the house. The animal began eating the grass that it could reach. The little girl was also out in front of the house, and approached the horse, began tugging at his bridle. This evidently aggravated the animal, for it made a move with its head toward Agnes, and catching her by the clothes in his mouth, he moved and threw the child clear over his head. She fell several feet from where the horse was standing, and she struck the ground in such a manner as to break the bone in her right thigh.

The West.

BEARDSTOWN, Ill., Oct. 20, 1884.
EDITOR RECORD.—Having recently traveled extensively throughout various States, and having noticed that a number of Democratic and Independent newspapers have classed the States of Iowa and Kansas as doubtful, I wish to give your readers the conclusions formed after a careful inquiry, listening to and participating in a number of discussions in these States. Why does the Democracy claim either of these States? Is it on account of their principles? Who is it that are assisting them indirectly to even stand a slim chance in obtaining control in these States? The disaffection in the Republican ranks is largely among the foreign voters, especially the Germans, caused by the passage of prohibitory laws in these States by Republican legislatures. To say that there is a coldness and even a bitterness of feeling among this element, as well as those engaged in the liquor business, toward the Republican party, is true, and may influence some who have hitherto voted the Republican ticket to cast their first vote for the Democratic nominees. It has gained some strength by the passage of these laws, but many of the converts, instead of remaining in the party and assisting them, are casting their votes and influence for candidates representing the Prohibition element, thus deserting the party that carried out their wishes in passing prohibitory laws. Other than this the Republican party is strong and united. I have seen but one Independent in all my travels west, hence it is not the principles of Democracy that attract them, but a question that both parties are silent upon. The same voters who desert the Republican ranks in these States and cast their votes for the Prohibition candidates are decidedly assisting the election of a ticket which is opposed to Prohibition, opposed to high license, and in favor of the freest use of liquor. It does seem that in pursuing such a course they are not repaying their friends, but courting the defeat of their cherished ideas at the hands of their sworn enemies.

The result in Ohio has thrilled the hearts and voices of every member of the true Republican party, coupled with its protective tariff policy, its past history, and under the leadership of such experienced, honored and loyal men as Blaine and Logan, will sweep every northern State with handsome majorities, and stand a "fighting chance" in several southern States.

Mr. Blaine will be at Springfield on the 24th, and preparations are being made to have the grandest meeting in its history. The home of Lincoln, with superior railroad facilities, will enable people to come from all directions. This city expects to send one thousand people, and it is calculated that twenty thousand plumed knights will be in line. Put Iowa, Kansas and Illinois, each, down for 35,000 majority. Yours truly, F. T. PLIMPTON.

State Senator.
Mr. Harsen D. Smith, the Republican nominee for State Senator, is visiting this part of the district for the purpose of becoming better acquainted with our citizens and giving them an opportunity of seeing him; and we know they will find him a pleasant and courteous gentleman, ready to serve every true interest of the district. He is well known in Cass and the southeastern part of this county as a leading citizen of Cassopolis, a lawyer of high attainments and a law partner of Judge A. J. Smith, of our circuit court. He held the office of Prosecutor for Cass county with great credit to himself and satisfaction to the citizens of every part of the district, and ready lawyer has with the good opinion of all who know him. He is one of the ever-gentle men, ready to meet all classes of persons kindly, and with no ostentation or show of self-importance, as is usually the case with the more pretentious, but with the more fortunate; and this, not as a mere matter of favor, but from the generous instincts and the kindly spirit distinctive of the man. He shows a lofty idea of superiority, but meets all classes as one anxious to be of good service to them.

H. OPPENHEIM & SON, Buchanan.

One objection, by great stretch of false ideas, may be urged against him, to-wit: He is a lawyer. But what public station is more in need of a good lawyer than the State Senate. Here the legal character of all bills is to be scrutinized. The notion that certain vocations need to have a representative in the State Legislature is to our minds a fallacy. Is it necessary that printers, or blacksmiths, or doctors, or carpenters should insist upon having a senator or representative from their own particular class? No other profession is required to master the details of all other callings and industries as does that of a lawyer, and in no place is it more important to have men of legal attainments than in the legislature. But, of those most often complaining of wanting one of their own number in the legislature, let them ask: Have these any cause to find fault? Have they not had full credit for their high claims? Let us see. For the last few years we have had none but farmers to represent us in the Senate, and the present incumbent, Maj. Duncan, and he is not a lawyer. Chapman, Chamberlain and Mars were all farmers. Have not the legal fraternity some claim now to recognition? Mr. Smith will be elected, and justly, and he will be found a man who will honor the station his predecessors have so creditably occupied.—Benton Harbor Palladium.

Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly. There are three articles in the November number, which render it one of the most interesting yet issued. "Money Panics," by Richard B. Kimball, LL.D., traces the history of panics from that of 1866 in London, to that of May, 1873, in New York; and Charles Gayley relates the particulars of "Washington's Surrender at Fort Mifflin," in 1754—both articles are finely illustrated. The third feature is the commencement of a thrilling serial story by Mr. Garrett Walker, of New Orleans, entitled "The Death Mark." The author is both bold and paralyzed, and yet with beautiful cheerfulness and energy supports himself upon his writings, which he dictates to an amanuensis. There are, also, the usual variety of choice reading matter in the 128 quarto pages, and the embellishments number over 100. This is unquestionably the cheapest magazine in existence—the price is only 25 cents a number, or $2.50 a year, post-paid. Mrs. Frank Leslie, Publisher, 53, 55 and 57 Park Place, New York.
