Jesse James' mother and widow have brought suit against a St. Louis publishing house to recover $12,000 royalty on the life of the desperado.

William H. Vanderbilt has sent his check for $500 for the benefit of disabled policemen and the families of deceased members of the force in New York.

Sitting Bull and his companions created a sensation in Philadelphia last Sunday by attending the services at St. John's Catholic Church in their Indian costumes.

In the last custom house auction sale in New York were several cases of slippers. The soles were of felt, stitched, and the uppers of cloth, lined with the gray hair of human beings.

Honolulu is no longer a city of grass huts, the cool and healthy dwellings of the natives, but consists of well laid out streets, lined by buildings of brick and timber.

The army worm, or that which is called such, is doing a great deal of damage to fall wheat in localities about Havana, Ill., in some instances sweeping the fields bare.

England's trade with her West India colonies has fallen off to such an extent that the imports of raw sugar have decreased from $2,633,564 in 1870 to $1,713,491 in 1883.

A gigantic earthquake has just been sent from the Cape Colony, Africa, to the Royal Zoological Society of England. It is six feet five inches in length and thick accordingly.

The State of New York has 241,050 farms, of which 207,373 are of all New England has but 207,373 farms of twenty acres and over. Only two other States have a larger number—Ohio has 247,189, and Illinois has 255,741.

The largest cargo of frozen meat ever brought from New Zealand was landed at San Francisco last week. It consisted of 22,038 carcasses of beef and a large quantity of mutton, fish and game, all of which was in prime condition.

Mr. Hapfenberger finished lately at Munich the figures for the Garfield monument to be erected at San Francisco. The figure of Garfield is ten feet in height and is a likeness in the matter of features; the other figure, an ideal of Columbia, represents a woman seated at the foot of the statue.

There is a cell in the Leadville jail said to be haunted, and prisoners are put in it for special punishment as good as a Courtland buggy. I never saw a two-horse cultivator, or a wind-mill to pump water. I never saw corn raised without hoeing, or natural grass cut by hand.

In a suit of breach of promise the other day in England the defendant's counsel asked the plaintiff: "What is the best of the defendant's agreement to marry you?" "Well, not exactly," she replied, "but he courted me a good deal and told my sister he intended to marry into my family."

Buffalo proposes, as soon as Niagara Falls shall have become a public park, to erect a fine building, to be known as the city of the falls. A continuous avenue from Delaware avenue, the finest boulevard of Buffalo, for about twenty miles, will then make one of the most beautiful drives in the country.

The first kind of whistle that steam was applied to was an adaptation of the common toy whistle. It did not work well and was devoid of any leading capacity for ear-piercing noise. The first whistle was invented by the late Wm. Stephens, a workman at the Downhills iron works in Wales, about sixty years ago.

The Asbury Park Journal says that many physicians in that place put prescriptions on which is written, "Sps. frument. Q. S." "Freely trampled in bread and water." "Give this to the patient." "Well, not exactly," she replied, "but he courted me a good deal and told my sister he intended to marry into my family."

Canvasser—"Good morning, sir. I have called for the purpose of finding out how you stand here on the Presidential question." "Man-of-the-house—"Ah, yes, Wall, I'm the only voter here. My wife and sister want me to vote for Butler, but—

"Allow me to ask how your wife's mother stands?" "Oh, she is strong for Belva Lock—" "Thank you, sir. House 40, Steen street. Lockwood, 1.—New York Star.

There are two boys—Field by name—living at Lyander, N. Y., who have some remarkable facts connected with their history. One of them will be a voter at the next November election, and will cast his first vote. The second youth is the twin brother of the first, but cannot vote at this election, from the fact that he is six weeks younger than his brother. They are both strong in looking fellows, sons of a farmer, and follow their father's vocation.

Dr. Schveininger of Munich has discovered a new mode of reducing the bulk of the human frame. It is, never to eat and drink at the same time, but to let two hours intervene. He has, it is said, cured Prince Bismarck of a tendency to obesity in this way. Fat people have now their choice between four systems. 1. The original banting, which consists of eating nothing containing starch, sugar, or fat. 2. The German banting, which allows fat, but forbids sugar or starch. 3. A Munich system, which consists of being clothed in wool and sleeping in flannel blankets instead of sheets. 4. Not eating and drinking at the same time.

Sunday theatricals are tolerated by law in five of the principal cities of the United States. They are San Francisco, Cincinnati, St. Louis, New Orleans and Chicago. There are eleven regular theaters in Chicago, to say nothing of museums, panoramas, concert halls, and other resorts. If there is any difference to be found in them on Sunday nights it is that the lights are brighter and the fun more uproarious. It is the custom to give during the week eight performances, and with Sunday night it runs up to nine. In some theaters a matinee is given on Sunday afternoon.

Scene at the White House, 1883—"What do you burn it there for?" "To purify the bed, my child?" "Well, mamma, the folks down in hell must be very pure, then, for they have stood it a good while."—Boston Sunday Times.

A correspondent of the Boston Herald describes the manner of churning in Palestine. He says: "A woman leads a sheepskin filled with milk, which was suspended from the roof. Seizing the two hind legs of the sheep, she pushed the big back and forth violently, causing it to hit the wall each time. The butter, when it came, was pure white, saltless and tasted like the butter in all eastern countries."

Very Pure. "Mamma, what is that you are burning under that old bed?" "That's brimstone, my child." "What do you burn it there for?" "To purify the bed, my child?" "Well, mamma, the folks down in hell must be very pure, then, for they have stood it a good while."—Boston Sunday Times.

A Freck of Nature. A subscriber, and therefore an honest man, informs us that he has an apple tree which, to all appearances, never blossoms, and yet the blossoms seem to be there, but it has no petals, though in every other way it seems to be perfect. The tree bears a fine eating apple of a peculiar shape, being large near the stem and small near the end, just the reverse of the pear. This apple has seeds, but they are not in their natural place, being in the end of the apple, partly visible from the outside, while the core in every other respect seems to be perfect. This year the trees seem to be more peculiar than ever, bearing all shapes of apples, some being double and having two cores and one stem, and others with a small apple growing out near the stem, a sort of child to the larger parent.—Natick, Mass., Citizen.

Artificial Sea Air. Amny, indeed, are the luxuries that the magician's wand of invention now brings into the midst of our homes. As an instance, to produce a sea atmosphere for the sick room, a foreign contemporary suggests the use of a solution of peroxide of hydrogen (one ounce strength) containing 1 per cent. of ozonic ether, iodine to saturation, and 2 1/2 per cent. of sea salt. The solution placed in a steam or hand sprayer can be distributed in a fine spray in the sick room at the rate of 2 fluid ounces in a quarter of an hour. It communicates a pleasant sea odor, and is probably the best purifier of the sick room ever used. It is powerful disinfectant, the same author writes, as well as deodorizer, acting briskly on ozonized test solutions and papers. It might be well to test the subject in some of our hospitals.—Scientific American.

Love and Intellect. "Oh, My little Daisy Bumpsey—How has it been getting on since its Freddie left? Does it kiss its little sweet self for its Freddie every two free minutes as it used to do?" "It won't forget for seven o'clock this evening." "Please don't. Bump, oh, bite on, kiss on, squeeze on, pound on fat head on the wall." OWN FREDDIE.

Key to the Above—This is one of those affairs that need a "map" with it. It is a copy of a bona fide letter written by a young man suffering in the last stages of a somewhat frequent disease called "long engagement." It is a sad case. He was formerly known to the writer as a bright young person. The doctors only hold out one hope now. They do say a good dose of marriage will cure him. "Bumpsey" is a girl called by some people, "Fannie." Boston Globe.

WEARING THE GREEN.

Oh, Paddy dear, and did you hear the news that's going round? They say they'd give us to the polls, like cattle to the pound.

They'll make us vote for Cleveland all—no more man shall be so good as he. Vote for the man whose votes roar the wearers of the Green!

They say we Irish have no minds, but vote just as we vote. We're a lot of us, and when they swear, the country 'd be well rid!

"They love him for his enemies," 'tis treason they mean. John Bull and O'Grady, and all wearers of the Green.

Our Sundry Sullivan spoke out, Pat Egan spoke out plain, Who'll give us the Irish stock, Jack Logan and Jim Blaine.

But Englishmen and England's friends, all Ireland's foes, I swear, Say 'Vote for O'Connell and Free Trade, the Red Coat for the Green."

For Cleveland thinks that Irishmen should work for pauper pay, Car-drivers and conductors slave for sixteen hours a day.

All laboring men, all veterans, he thinks are low and mean. He loves the English Red, and hates the Boys, He thinks we're poor, dumb drab fellows.

We'll show him what we think of England's free-trade friends, who'll rob our pockets of our money.

Who bays poor helpless women that upon his promise lean, "But we'll not forget his victims," swear the boys that have an stand on bearers just the boys that we would choose.

Whose very names make Ireland's face to tremble in their shoes. For they know a better ballot cast by us for Blaine, will mean

A bullet shot straight at the hearts of those who hate the Green. The man who choked Paddy Morrison they can't swallow, and the fellows who

No frangman shall be President, at least by Irish votes. But well vote for Blaine and Logan, and a Dawning brightly in November for all wearers of the Green.

New York, Oct. 6.

How I Became "Particeps Crimini."

"Now, you're not a bit afraid, Mollie?" "No, indeed; you're a hundred," I replied, mockingly.

"And if I've traveled all the way from Cincinnati to New York by myself, I don't know why I can't go from Leamington to London."

"Yes, but this isn't America, you know. And girls are so silly. I don't see what can happen to you, unless you get your head out of the window too far, and get it knocked off. Now don't be dignified. I'm telling you this to keep my spirits up. I'm afraid my leaving, but I can't let up about my shooting, and the fellows will be waiting. Hello! here's the train! First class to London, guard. Nobody in the compartment? All right, Polly, jump in. Make my peace with the mother if she is vexed. Er, ha, ha, cried my brother, giving me a hug and kiss. The door slammed. I was going to London all alone, when it opened again. A man rushed in pell mell—gun, bag, fishing-tackle.

"Ay, ay, sir." "There's a shilling for your trouble. All alone, eh?" "No, sir; a young lady, sir."

"This little bit of trouble and secrecy, the key was turned, and the guard disappeared.

It was half-past four o'clock. A damp, dull afternoon. I looked at myself in the little mirror opposite. It was the same old, same old, same old, but with a different complexion, and neat traveling dress. A very young person, eighteen at best, and a very strong and healthy one. We, my brother and I, had been in London, and he received a telegram from some college mate, bidding him meet them in the North; they had formed a shooting party which was to start the next day. My mother was in London, and we determined, rather than destroy his pleasant trip, that I return to her alone. The train was going at full speed, fifty or sixty miles an hour. I could scarcely see the telegraph posts, and long red hair; heavy red whiskers covered his face. He wore a shooting jacket and a loose flannel blouse. He fixed his eyes on me for five minutes without speaking. At a certain station the guard, our guard that was, got out and passed the window. I saw another official get on. Our guard touches his cap and boarded an outgoing train. I was feeling alone and lonely, and the slightest degree embarrassed by my close proximity to my unsober companion, when he got up from his seat, opened his trunk, and took out a pair of shears, and putting his hand on my shoulder, said: "I want you to cut my hair."

"Cut your hair?" I cried, too amazed to be alarmed. "Are you crazy? Cut your hair?" "Yes, cut my hair immediately." "I will not!" I exclaimed. "Guard, come to me, this man is crazy!" I rushed to the door; it was locked, of course; and the guard, who I now knew was, was miles away, having changed at the last station.

"It is useless to make a disturbance," said the fellow. "I intend that you shall cut your hair, if you do not, I will kiss you, take your choice. I'm trimming I took the shears.

"Wait, Pat, a bowl around my neck, there. Thanks, very much. Now, carefully."

For a half hour I cut away; it had grown quite dark, only the dim light of the railroad-lamp illumined the compartment.

"Is it off?" he asked, producing his glass and peering at the cropped crown.

"Not bad for a beginner. Now, for the first time I saw this member hung helpless by his side.

"But I will not!" I screamed; "I will not!" "You will, you will," said my persecutor. "You will do just as I tell you. Kneel down here, in front of me and cut my beard."

"I will not. I will not!" "Very well." And he advanced toward me.

Instantly I was on my knees cutting away at the forest of undergrowth.

"Is it close as you can, my dear. You will find the shears sharp. I don't believe you've left a hair on my head."

This took me longer to do than my previous job. The beard was stubborn, and moistest very particular.

"All my long love-locks and my lady-locks—But necessity," drawing a sigh—"necessity, necessity, knows no law."

"He threw me a kiss with the tips of his horny fingers.

West is candidate for Vice-President in every State but his own. There is no Greenback electoral ticket in Mississippi.

Bets are being made in Chicago on the general result of next Tuesday's election, $10 to $7 and $8 being freely offered in favor of Blaine.

Grover Cleveland inquires of Mrs. Beecher, "Where can I see Mr. Beecher to tell him what I cannot write?" Why can he not write it? Did he not say some time ago, "Speak the truth?" Is the truth so shameful to write?

At a Democratic meeting in Chicago the speaker made a great ado because United States Deputy Marshals had been allowed to appear at elections. He gave a warning that they must not make an appearance in Chicago, for "We are ready for them." Anything that looks like an effort to protect the ballot from fraud always has been a great terror to that party.

Henry Ward Beecher, in his speech in defense of Grover Cleveland, said that "If every man in New York State who has broken the seventh commandment will vote for Cleveland he would be elected by 200,000 majority." In other words, a large majority of all of the male and female population of New York State are adulterers. Still the members of Brooklyn church pay this vile slander of American ladies and gentlemen $20,000 a year to preach the gospel of Jesus Christ to them.

Some inquisitive newspaper man has just discovered that David Preston, the candidate for Governor on the Prohibition ticket, owns a building in East Tawas that is rented as a "temperance" saloon, where people play pool, billiards and cards, drink pop and root beer, but nothing stronger without a wink, and that newspaper man has been just wicked enough to publish that story in his paper, and now there is great danger that David Preston, deluded man, will never be elected Governor of Michigan.

The better-half of Henry Ward Beecher was not satisfied with the various newspaper reports about Grover Cleveland's moral character, and so the good lady wrote him a letter of inquiry, and inclosed a newspaper clipping of the German girl story. The Governor wrote a reply in which he disposed of the matter in three words:

"The contemptible creatures who coin and pass these things appear to think that the affair, which I have not denied, makes me defenceless against any and all slanders."

"The affair which I have not denied" is the Maria Halpin case.

Grover Cleveland visited the city of his birth, Newark, N. J., last week, for a social time with his old neighbors and the friends of his childhood, and when they gathered about to greet him he read from manuscript a few brief remarks he had prepared to say before the country is now wondering whether he used his manuscript because he does not know enough to make a speech without, or because he is afraid he will say something on some public question if he allows himself to wander from the studied care of his desk. The New York Sun says positively that it is the former.

American made steel rails are now quoted in the market at twenty-eight dollars per ton. As this is just the amount of the tariff on imported steel rails, we caution Mr. Morton to tell the people in his old speech altering it for the occasion that steel rails are given away in England, and that the manufacturers will gladly transport them to New York and lay them down for nothing a ton. In no other way can he hope to show that the tariff is always added to the cost of protected articles in this country and the people are swindled just that much every time they buy a ton of steel rails.—Ez.

OHIO IN TROUBLE.

The Ohio Supreme Court, by its three Democratic members, and opposed by its two remaining Republican members, on Tuesday, decided the Scott liquor law of that State to be unconstitutional. The constitution of that State prohibits licensing the sale of liquor. This law placed a tax of $300 on the sale of distilled and $100 on brewed liquors, and makes the tax a lien on the property in which the liquor is sold. The law was before the Supreme Court once before, on the plea that the law was a license law because it was a tax law, but the court sustained the law; but now these three Democratic judges decide the law unconstitutional on a far weaker point, that because the tax is made a lien on the property it is a license law, and therefore unconstitutional. The effects are varied. This leaves the liquor traffic in Ohio absolutely without restriction even on Sundays. During the past two years in which the law has been enforced, taxes to the amount of over $9,000,000 have been collected from the business and used for police and charitable purposes, and this amount with interest must now be refunded to the saloonists, which will amount bankrupt a number of cities and villages. Ohio is truly in hard luck.

THE PROSPECT.

The prospect for Democratic success next Tuesday cannot be very flattering at best. If we start by conceding to Cleveland the solid south with their 153 electoral votes, a returning of which he is by no means certain, he must obtain 45 more in the north, in order to elect him, and for these he cannot look to other States than Connecticut, New Jersey, Indiana, Nevada, California and New York, the latter being necessary with all of the others, and his chances are very slim for carrying any of them. Connecticut and New Jersey will vote for protection, which is surely not Cleveland, and he cannot have California. The other northern States that he can by any possibility carry will not be sufficient to elect him without the 35 votes of New York, and at her last election that State elected the Republican ticket by majorities ranging from 16,219 to 18,742, and while the vote of that State is an absolute necessity to Cleveland, Blaine may be elected without it. On the whole the Republican party has nothing to worry about, so far as the head of their ticket is concerned, and not in need of voters. Under the present vigorous canvass, this is not likely to occur.

SOLDIERS, READ THIS.

It is a well-known fact that during the struggle of 1861-5 for the life of the Nation the sympathies of Tom Hendricks, the Democratic candidate for Vice President, were strongly with the wearers of the gray, and his every action and utterance for them, but it is not generally known to what extent he carried these sympathies. Read the following before you vote next Tuesday for men who are expected to place that man in the high office he seeks: YONKON, La. Oct. 27.—The Hon. A. J. Baker, Republican candidate for Attorney General, in his speech in this place last Saturday night, told the following incident: "I was to-day in the office of Dr. G. Blythe, of Vera Springs. In the course of our conversation he led me an incident in relation to Thomas H. Hendricks that made my blood boil. Dr. Blythe was a soldier in the Union army, and was severely wounded in battle, and he came home with a wound and while at home went with his father to Indianapolis. His father's sister was the wife of Hendricks' brother, and the families were socially intimate. While in Indianapolis they called at Hendricks' office. Hendricks shook the hand of the father, but refused that of the son because he wore the Federal uniform. The young son indignantly turned on his heel, and left the office. After he went out Hendricks said to the father: 'Mr. Blythe, I should like to invite you to my house to dinner, where you are always a welcome guest; but I cannot ask that boy to dine there with you while he wears that uniform.' The father cursed Tom Hendricks, and told him that he did not nor did his son desire to be entertained by a Copperhead. The incident created quite a sensation in the audience, and several soldiers cried: 'We would rather hang him than vote for him.' The Tribune correspondent afterward learned that Dr. Blythe had told the same story to soldiers when he resided here. Dr. Blythe was a Garfield Elector in 1880. Beecher and His 'Dollar a Day.' TO THE EDITOR OF THE N. Y. SUN.—Sir: Some years since the following incident occurred in the State Street Baptist church, in Springfield, Mass.: The pastor, Dr. Potter, was absent, and his pulpit was supplied by Earl the Evangelist. At the morning preaching service Dr. Earl gave notice that instead of preaching in the evening, he would appoint a praise meeting, at which he desired to praise the Lord. He mentioned nothing which they specially praise the Lord. The hour of service came, and an immense congregation was present. One spoke up and said: 'Pastor, you had had joy in the evening, and I praise the Lord for that.' Another mentioned a passage of Scripture which had specially helped him, at which he desired to praise the Lord. Still another repeated a precious hymn from which he derived much comfort, and said: 'I praise the Lord for that.' While the different occasions for praise were thus mentioned, and the exercises were deepening in interest, an Irishman, at the time a Roman Catholic, arose and said: 'Henry Ward Beecher recently said that a dollar a day was given to every laboring man, and ever since the papers have been giving him hell for it, and I praise the Lord for it.' Cleveland and the Workingmen. Henry Ward Beecher is the most conspicuous advocate of Grover Cleveland at present; and the sentiments of the country may fairly be inferred from the expressions of the representative. Beecher who is an avowed free trader, holds that the workmen of our country get altogether too high wages. 'It was true,' he said in 1877, 'that one dollar a day was not enough to support a man and five children if the man would insist on smoking and drinking beer. Was not a dollar a day given to every man? If so, then we are giving Beecher's own words—'Water costs nothing. Man cannot live by bread alone, it is true, but the man who cannot live on bread and water is not fit to live. When a man is educated away from the power of self-denial he is falsely educated. A family may be good, but if the father has no morning, water and bread at midday, and good water and bread at night. Such may be called the bread of affliction, but it is not that man should eat of it. He would be very glad of a dollar a day, and it added to the sin of the men on strike for them to burn around and say to those men, 'You can do so, but you shall not have any special consideration of hardship, but the great laws of political economy cannot be set at defiance.' These are the sentiments of Cleveland's great advocate and laborer. He thinks Cleveland is good enough for President of the United States; and he thinks that bread and water make a fit diet for working people. It is also worthy comment that every one of the free trade journals that are laboring for the election of Cleveland, is loud in praise of this man Beecher. But the workingmen, who have been so long deceived by their men a different lesson next Tuesday.—New York Sun. (Dem.)

The Democratic Secret Circular.

A Card from Mr. Burrows Lays Bare His Falsehoods.

The following communication with the two letters it encloses speaks for itself: HON. GEO. M. BURCK, Chairman Republican Congressional Committee.—Dear Sir: My attention has been called to the secret circular, now being sent throughout this district, charging that in 1855 the firm of Knapp & Burrows collected a state bounty of $100 for one Alva White, and retained the money until two years ago, and that F. Giddings held my individual receipt therefor. The whole statement is a bald falsehood. The following letter from the Rev. A. A. Knapp, now the Presiding Elder of the Albion District and my partner in 1855, fully discloses the entire original transaction and groundlessness of the charge: ALBION, Mich., Oct. 16, 1884. The second aspersion is that he cheated the soldiers while acting as their agent. I am sorry to hear of his conduct in this line of business, and I never knew him to wrong one of them a penny. As to the particular transaction referred to in the case of White, I permit me to say that Mr. Burrows was the wronged and not the wrong doer. I will state the facts briefly: This young man upon enlistment came to our office to have his bounty money paid to him. He was accompanied by his father, who assured us that he was in the habit of acting for himself in business matters, and desired to sell his State bounty certificate so as to have the money to leave in his hands, and we were ready to do so as a personal accommodation if he would advance it to him and wait for the State to provide for its payment, which we did in the presence of his father, and he was to be watched by us until he was paid. This is all there is of the case. In equity, if not in law, all the facts were against the administrator, and he collected the $115 by way of compromise rather than to have the matter carried forward a suit in the attempt to collect $100 and interest upon it for 17 years. In simple justice to Mr. Burrows, I wish to state that the money he received was a major and not a minor, and acts with a different party than the one does who is so cruelly misrepresented. Yours for the truth, A. A. KNAPP, Presiding Elder Albion District. The foregoing statement shows that instead of cheating Alva White out of his state bounty of $150, we advanced him the money thereon, taking from him an assignment of the certificate, and afterwards reimbursed ourselves by collecting it, and that two years ago the administrator of Alva White, through his attorney, demanded a return of the money, and that we refused upon the ground that White was a minor and was legally incompetent to transfer his bounty certificate and receive the money therefor. This transaction finds its parallel in the case of the farmer who hires a man under age, and after paying him for his labor, his father or legal guardian demands repayment upon the ground that his boy was a minor and not authorized to receive his wages, and the farmer pays it over again. Fair minded men have little difficulty in determining, in such a case, who is the injured party and who the thief. It should be remembered, too, that the whole matter is within the special knowledge of the Rev. Mr. Knapp, as it appears from examining the assignment on the back of the certificate that it is in his hand writing. The next secret circular further states that T. F. Giddings, Esq., whose name appears in the assignment and which was inserted in a matter of form to enable him to sign the pay roll, "cleared his reputation from any stigma, by producing for that dead soldier's bounty of one hundred and fifty dollars the individual receipt of Julius C. Burrows." The utter falsity of this statement is shown by the following letter from T. F. Giddings, Esq., the present county clerk of Kalamazoo county: HON. J. C. BURROWS, Oct. 27, 1884. HON. J. C. BURROWS.—Dear Sir: In relation to the Alva White bounty matter, lately published in the South Haven Sentinel, in which it is stated that no such interview as alleged took place between myself and any person, and that I do not now, nor ever did, hold your receipt for any bounty money, I beg to say that no such interview (as far as my memory serves me) with you in regard to bounty matters; and the whole matter regarding such pretended interview as a falsehood! Respectfully yours, T. F. GIDDINGS. Comment is unnecessary. I have too much confidence in the intelligence of the voters of the fourth congressional district and in their sense of justice, to believe that such falsehoods, if circulated, would be taken into consideration with the hope that it is too late to expose them, will have any other effect than to cover the authors of them with deserved rebuke. Yours truly, J. C. BURROWS.

The British of It.

Of course American Free Trade would be greatly to the interest of British manufacturers.—London Spectator. The Republican candidate is a strong Protectionist, in which respect he is in full accord with the great bulk of the American people. Moreover, he is the champion of the movement looking toward a revival of the American shipping. If, by the election of Mr. Blaine, the leading American Protectionist to the Presidency is to be the signal of a revival of American shipping, the outlook for our merchant navy becomes the reverse of hopeful.—London Shipping World. The nomination of Gov. Cleveland as the Democratic candidate for President is a heavy defeat for the Irish party. The Democrats may be congratulated on having made a wise choice, and there seems every probability at present of their carrying the Presidency. From an English point of view, Gov. Cleveland is to be preferred to any other candidate. He is Irish and blustering, and is a much stronger Protectionist than his rival.—London Globe. Register before Saturday afternoon.

Bad weather on the fuel pile is getting alarmingly near.

There will be a Republican rally in this place to-morrow evening.

GRUBBY SATUR, an old and prominent citizen and fruit grower of Benton Harbor, died Monday.

Mrs. Dr. E. W. ROK, of Braceville, Ill., is in this place for a visit with her people.

The Berrien Springs fair gets the benefit of the $200 donation by the board of supervisors.

A series of revival meetings are now in progress at the M. E. Church addressed by Evangelist Webber.

MR. AND MRS. E. J. ROE returned last Thursday from their trip to California, highly pleased with their trip.

They do say that Buchanan is to have an elegant opera house, if nothing happens larger than a mountain, to hinder.

PEARL WOODWORTH has left in this office a radish thirty-three inches in length, that has grown from the seed this year.

Mrs. WILL HAYES, nee Miss Hatfield Brown, of Jackson, is here for her first visit to her parents since her removal to Jackson.

MR. LLOYD BARTNESS has returned from Galveston, Texas, where he has been employed at his trade, machinist, the past three months.

If you have a right to vote, be sure that you do so. It matters not to what party you belong, it is your duty, and especially so if you are a Republican.

TEACHERS, the regular examination for this county will be held in Berrien Springs Friday and Saturday of this week, Oct. 31 and Nov. 1.

The Graham, Morton & Co. steamer, City of St. Joseph was quite lately injured by fire Saturday, while lying at her dock in Benton Harbor.

MR. CARSON GEYER spoke to a crowded house in Rough's Opera House Saturday evening, for the Republican cause, and made one of the best speeches of the campaign.

The Blaine and Logan club went out to Torace Howe's Friday evening to assist him in raising a pul, and he now has a Blaine and Logan banner flying to the breeze.

The Democrats are having their grand pow-wow in this place to-day. Morg. Weir is to speak this evening. Go and hear him, and you may get better acquainted with Democracy. He is a Democrat, pure and undefiled.

The Buchanan Cornet Band is an organization that is subject to more misfortunes than any corporation in town. It disbanded last week and has reorganized again this week.

FRANK COLLINS, formerly of this place, was in town Tuesday. He is traveling for the A. W. Chase Medicine Company, of Detroit, and is now making his home in that city.

The plate glass for Nash's new building arrived Monday afternoon, and will be placed in position in a few days, making the fifth front of that kind placed in this town in two months.

A CAT is small and by no means formidable animal, but A. McKay, of the Bond House, at Niles, had his wrist broken the other day while trying to put an obstreperous feline out of the house.—Evening News.

The State Evangelist of the Christian Church, Eld. A. S. Hale, will preach at the Christian church each evening this week, and Sunday morning and evening. Come and give some attention to Christianity and the life beyond.

MR. A. B. SABIN was in this place yesterday for the purpose of trying to arrange with Redden Bros. to fit up the unoccupied part of their block for a hotel. At the time of our going to press the arrangements have not been settled upon.

THAT NO WRONG impression shall be cast by our account of the election of J. T. Beckwith, by the Board of Supervisors, we will state that he was elected before it was discovered that the election was illegal, when he resigned his office of Supervisor and then asked a re-election. He was strongly opposed by Drew, a brother Greenbacker.

LIST of letters remaining uncalled for in the postoffice at Buchanan, Mich., for the week ending Oct. 30: John C. Denio, Andrew Peterson, Oliver Shinn.—Postal cards.—Andrew Peterson, Mrs. T. M. Heard, W. M. Keeler, Wm. Keeler, Mrs. Emma Wood, Robert Wilcox.

L. P. ALEXANDER, P. M.

A FELLOW drove into town Sunday with a load of wood, an oil can, and other preparations for doing an extensive trade. When he stopped on Front street he remarked that it was rather dull about town, and was told that it usually is on Sundays. He concluded to return to his home and keep better record of time in the future.

MAJOR PENNINGMAN, who speaks here for the Democrats this afternoon, in a speech in Detroit Tuesday evening, said the Democrats did as much to save the Union as the Republicans, "and if you say anything different you lie." In another four years you may expect to hear the Democrats claim that there were no Republicans in the Union army.

WHEREVER Mr. Potter, the successful candidate for Judge of Probate, has opened his mouth to make a speech in this county he has driven votes from him by his rank and unwarranted abuse of everybody of opposite politics. His opponent, Mr. D. E. Hinman, is a gentleman, and will have the heaviest vote of any candidate on the county ticket.

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., Oct. 28.—A little 3-year-old son of August Langer while playing around a cistern yesterday fell in and was drowned. It seemed that on Saturday night Mrs. Langer dreamed that her son would be drowned, and upon missing him yesterday she immediately went to the cistern, and with a long succeeded in grappling his body brought it to the surface.—Evening News.

The annual meeting of the Berrien county Anti-Horse Thief Association was held Tuesday, at New Troy. The following officers were chosen for the ensuing year. Alonzo Sherwood, President; S. A. Dennison, Vice-President; W. J. Keith, Secretary; John Miller, Treasurer; Charles Evans, Captain of the riders. No member of the association reports having had anything stolen during the year. The meetings of the association are now held semi-annually instead of quarterly.

MR. A. C. ROE of this place, successful candidate for Prosecuting attorney, made a speech at Three Oaks a few days since in which the Sun reports him as follows: "The speaker said he was in favor of a free vote and a fair count. The Republicans were responsible for ballot-box frauds in the South, as they were in power; and if the President would act as old Andrew Jackson did he would say, 'By the eternal this must stop.' That is a style of counterfeit logic that the speaker advanced in general."

CHARLEY HIGG appears to be agrieved because we inferred in last week's issue that Charley was carrying his overcoat about in his pocket, and had his pockets picked, of the coat. We did not think for a moment that any one would seriously believe that Charley had such enormous pockets, or that he would object to a little harmless sport. The fact is, he hung his coat up in the Oliver House, took a check, and will get pay for it. Those who lost their pocket books are less fortunate, but enjoy the joke just as well.

The Democratic papers in this district, notably the Paw Paw Free Press, is making desperate effort to prove Mr. Yapple a soldier's friend, by the statement that he voted for the Mexican soldiers' pension bill. He stated that fact as the closing remark to his speech in this place. He said the same as do his defenders, that he voted for it both times it was before the house, and also said that any one who said he did not was a LIAR. We have yet to see the first one to say that he did not vote for that bill both times. The first was a vote to pension Jeff Davis and a number of other prominent rebels. The second time it was not for the bill but had been overhauled by the Republican Senate.

ONE peculiar thing about the Deyo meeting here last week Monday evening, is the fact that the Democrats deny any responsibility for the meeting, and lay it all to the Greenbackers. One prominent Democrat, upon having his attention called to the difference in the crowd there and the one further up Front street, replied that that was no meeting of theirs. That was a Greenback affair. It is rather difficult to tell, truly. John Dick and "Button" Evans, both Democrats, were quite effusive as a committee on arrangements, and Wm. Osborn was chairman of the meeting, but the meeting was closed by chiefs, first for the speaker then for Cleveland and Hendricks, and then for Butler and West.

THERE is a strong probability that before many days work will be resumed on the extension of the St. Joseph Valley railroad. It is stated that parties have taken the contract and that there will be no danger of their "mysterious disappearance," as was the case of the lamented Parker. The citizens of this place need not be surprised if trains are running over this line, ere the daisies bloom again.—St. Jo. Republican.

We think there must be some one in that part of the county who are attempting to mislead the Republican. The company has no legal method of knowing that the lamented Parker has abandoned his job, although to all outward appearance he has, and there is little likelihood that anything will be done by the company until the expiration of the time stipulated in Parker's contract, which is January 1, 1885.

THOMAS O'HARA is sowing, with considerable recklessness as to quantity, a circular in which he attempts to show to the people that he has had no more deputies than the law allows, and that they have been perfectly fair in their work of naturalizing foreigners. This may all be and probably is, but there has been a large sized stir made by the action of some of his deputies in the north part of the county. This scare in Benton Harbor of course arises in there being two deputy clerks in that small village, when one is more than they usually have. Of course it is all right to have all of the foreigners in the county naturalized so long as it is legally done, and Tom would probably do nothing illegally. He ought to place the most of those clerks in the north part of the county, where the fight is located, to do the most good.

Republican Meeting.

Rev. F. A. Blades,

Of Detroit, will speak at Rough's Opera House, on Friday Evening,

October 31, 1884.

"Come every one and hear him."

JOHN SOLOON CHASE, the champion Greenbacker of Maine, gave a good farmer's talk in Rough's Opera House last evening. His effort was mostly to show his Greenback brethren the error of their way in entering into any fusion. He fully explained "Them Steers," and made a number of good hits, and his speech was well received.

A Democratic mob broke up a meeting that Col. Atkinson, Republican candidate for Congress in the first district, was trying to address, Tuesday evening, in Detroit, by continued interruptions and cheers for Maybury. A part of the mob was addressed by the Major Penningman, who speaks for the Democrats in this place to-day.

A SPECIAL train will run from this place to Niles this evening, for the accommodation of those who wish to attend the Republican rally at that place. The fare for the round trip will not exceed 30 cents. The train will leave at 7 o'clock.

MR. S. K. WILSON, formerly of the firm of Needham & Wilson of Dayton, has been located at Hazelhurst, Miss., the past season, buying lumber for the Pullman Car Company. Hazelhurst is the seat of the Wheeler-Matthews murder, of which so much has been said and printed. Mr. Wilson says that no attempt at secrecy is made regarding the affair, that Print Matthews was an old citizen, spoken of by all in the highest terms, and whose only offense is that, as a Republican, he had the impudence to try to organize the "niggers" for the purpose of getting out their vote, and after doing that had the bravado to go to the polls himself and vote, notwithstanding the fact that he had been warned that if he voted he would be killed. Mr. Wilson says this killing is not looked upon as a crime, but he, Matthews, ought not have tried to vote. He says no objection is made to any white man being a Republican and voting, but if he values his life he must let the "niggers" alone, as they are not expected to vote, neither is any white man expected to make any extra effort to get them to vote. This is one of the leading causes of the solidarity of the south, and so long as any small portion of this country is kept "solid" by such means there is a question before the American people that is of greater importance than tariff, prohibition, or civil service reform. It is plain that the party that is being kept solid by these methods will never so much as attempt to regulate them, and until they are properly regulated the mission of the Republican party will never be ended. The settlement of this one question of whether any man shall be deprived of his vote simply because of his politics, in any part of this country, should be sufficient to decide which way a fair minded citizen should vote.

The Supervisors.

The committee on county buildings reported that they had expended $130.22 for repairs.

The board refused to concur in the report of the committee on equalization and referred it to a new committee, consisting of Supervisors King, Walden, Crook, Hancock and Winick, which made a report, which was adopted. Peter Smith appeared as supervisor from Vessaw in place of Mr. Beck with, resigned.

Supervisors King, Drew and Howe were appointed a committee to settle with the county treasurer.

The board regulated salaries for the ensuing year as follows:

Treasurer, $1,400.

Prosecuting Attorney, $1,400.

Clerk, $1,000.

The sum of $200 each was voted to the Niles, Benton Harbor, Three Oaks and Berrien Springs agricultural societies.

The following sums were ordered to be raised by tax:

State tax	$16,631.93
Rejected tax	338.90
General expense	14,000.00
Warranty	5,500.00
July	5,000.00
Stenographer	800.00
Officers salaries	4,700.00
Agricultural societies	800.00
Indebtedness of townships	700.00
For support of township	ship poor by the county	657.13
Total	$46,428.04

This is $8,398.90 less than last year.—Berrien Springs Journal.

FROM BERRIEN CENTRE.

Oct. 27, 1884.

We congratulate Brother James Jenkins upon the excellent choice he has made of a life partner. Miss Lina Murphy came from an excellent family and possesses many sterling qualities which go to make the true wife. May they find that life is real, with many choice blessings to round up their pathway.

C. E. Powers and wife, of Quincy, Mich., are here on a visit to see his daughter Grace, who lies very low with that all destroyer, consumption.

W. H. Becker and wife were hastily called to Harrisburg, Pa., on Thursday morning last, to the bedside of her father, who lay at the point of death.

Our young friend William McNeal was called by telegram to Harrisburg to attend his mother's funeral. He left on the Friday morning's train for the east. During the five years he has been in our midst he has made many warm friends by strict honesty and gentlemanly conduct, and our sympathy goes out to him in his loss of a dear parent.

Farmers find the quality and quantity of their corn very good considering the dry season just at the time it was making itself. Wheat, so far, is doing well.

Grant S. Peck is back again from Dakota, and will spend this winter in Michigan, teaching the young ideas how to shoot.

A real Democratic excursion went from Niles to Benton Harbor on Friday evening last. Judging from the amount of bad whisky and loud language used, Mr. Yapple must have received a very warm reception.

The farmers' meeting at Grange hall on Friday afternoon was a complete success. The topics of the day were briefly but ably discussed.

Mr. Francis McOmber, an old pioneer of Berrien township, was buried on Thursday last.

Mrs. Geo. W. Wyman started on Monday morning to Kansas to visit friends. Miss Lillian Powers accompanied her as far as Concordia, Kansas, where her mother resides.

Cleveland's Overcharges.

Mr. Beecher says: "He (Cleveland) began public life as a sheriff. * * * It has been laughed at that he charged for 800 days in a year of service, as if there were 800 days, and yet the people who are laughing do not know that more than half the work of the sheriff is done by deputies, and every deputy's services is counted by the day."

The trouble with such a defense as that set up by Mr. Beecher is that it is not a defense at all. It is a denial of any knowledge or in utter disregard of the facts.

The sheriff in this case are the men who are charged with the duty of enforcing the law, and it is their duty to know the law, and to enforce it. The sheriff is not a judge, and he is not to be held responsible for the actions of his deputies. The law is the law, and it is the duty of every citizen to obey it.

The Art Amateur, always practical, is notably so in its excellent November issue. "Lessons in Wood Engraving," "The Art of Embroidery," "How to Paint on China," "Materials for Oil Painting," "Working Art Clubs," and the pages of "Art Notes and Hints," and answers to correspondents, are of especial value. The large array of designs embraces decorations for a cup and saucer (knobbed), six buttons (various colors) and a frame (honey-suckle), a tea caddy (jasmine), an alter front (sixteenth century Spanish work), a figure panel for painting, four panels of carved wood, a page of butleries, and a variety of designs for industrial art work. Among the more striking illustrations are two delicate yet spirited groups of nymphs and cupids by Solon, pate-sur-pate decoration, "Love Letters," and "The Master's Study," two full-page facsimiles of etchings by A. Legros, "Sir Frederick Leighton," and "Death and the Woodman," some bold figure studies by Joseph de Nittis, and a carved hanging palmette designed by Benn Pittman of Cincinnati. "The Modern Home" series is concluded with capital articles on "The Bedroom," by Roger Rionard and Clarence Cook. The Art Amateur announces the early arrival of three designs in color by Miss Dora Wheeler, viz.: a decorative figure composition; a fan with cupids; and a charming decorative head of a child for a plaque. Price per annum, $4.00; single copies, 50 cents. Sent by Mail, Free Marks, Publisher, 28 Union Square, New York.

"Our Little Ones" is now added to the list of American Magazines reprinted in Great Britain. Thus one more triumph is gained for American Artists and Wood Engravers. It is admitted by every one that "Our Little Ones" is far superior to the European Juvenile Magazine as are "The Century" and "Harper's Magazine" to their respective rivals. The English edition of "Our Little Ones" will be issued by the name of Messrs. T. Nelson Sons and negotiations are pending for the publication of editions in both France and Germany.

Clouds and darkness are round about ex-Senator Joseph McDonald of Indiana. He thinks that if the Democrats of Ohio had taken an uncompromising stand on free-trade they would have fared better. Another prominent Democratic physician, Senator Beck, of Kentucky, says that "if the Democrats had nominated Thurman at Chicago all would have been well last Tuesday." Mr. McDonald's proposed remedy would have proved a failure, for even with that ablest champion of free-trade in America, Frank Hurd, a Democratic majorities of 5,700 appeared in its place appeared a Republican majority of 300 as an exponent of protection to American industry. A gain of 6,000 votes in two years is not a distant thought to the eyes of even dried-in-the-wood bourbon as J. E. McDonald all to the fact that the American people will have nothing to do with the pernicious doctrine of British free-trade. Mr. Beck's deductions are based on a better foundation. Mr. Thurman's ability as a statesman, and personal popularity, might have ended somewhat the Democracy in the battle in his own State, but his candidacy would have been futile to stem the Republican tide which began to rise in Maine and swept over the Buckeye State last week. The voters of the United States will never trust governmental affairs in the hands of a party that once tried to destroy this Nation by rebellion, and which now seeks to deliver the markets of this country over to the accumulated capital and pauper labor of old England. The Ohio election teaches that Americans are going to stand by America and her beneficent institutions, among the greatest of which is protection to home industry.—Lansing Republican.
