BUCHANAN RECORD.

JOHN G. HOLMES, Editor.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 8, 1885.

Market reports show a decided advance in prices of produce at the large business centers.

It is quite likely that Illinois will not succeed in electing a United States Senator this trip.

Gov. Bogle's exonerating address contains about 6,000 words, and doesn't mention the pardon business, either.

In two months lacking three days Grover Cleveland will begin to fully appreciate the weakness of humanity.

The last month's business at the United States treasury resulted in an increase of $841,383 in the national debt.

Frank Hurd, of Ohio, has filed his contest for his old seat in Congress, and will probably get it, notwithstanding the 5,000 majority against him.

The legislature convened Monday and was organized in both houses by the Republicans, which is about as far as the business has proceeded at this time.

Among the indications of a change in business prospects are reports from different parts of the country of manufacturers starting up with a nearly full force.

As Mr. Taple has about concluded to not contest the election of Mr. Burrows, we propose that he be given the German mission. It is just the man to explain that pork business to Mr. Dismarec.

Congressman Cox, of New York, has a bill providing that the Bartholdi statue be used as a light house. As the statue is now in Paris and likely to stay there, the bill looks a little premature.

Spain has been receiving a series of shiverings by earthquake during the past ten days. A number of cities have been ruined and the inhabitants to the number of 3,000 or 4,000 killed or wounded by falling buildings.

London has had another dynamite explosion. It is the underground railway that was blown up this time. There appears to be a class in England who want to do something desperate, with no particular aim in their movements.

The Democratic politicians are now talking up a scheme to make two states of Michigan. That would be a smart trick. It would give the Democrats a new state to manage, and a state that would not be a good investment for itself or any one concerned.

An Englishman who has six children has five paupers, or persons who depend wholly on the charity of others, or upon the sweat of their brow in very adverse circumstances for a subsistence. The oldest son inherits the entire estate in that country, and the remainder of the family are his lackeys. This is one of the beauties of life under the crown.

The present Legislature should make some move to abridge the pardoning power of the governor of this state. Although the state may never be so unfortunate as to have such another Governor as the one just out, such may be her lot, and the experience of the past two years should be sufficient inducement for providing against such an emergency. The pardoning power is too near absolute when entrusted to such Governors as our last, and should be divided with some others of the state officers.

The Judge, Sheriff, Prosecuting Attorney, Constable and City Marshal, who were interested in the prosecution and sentence of Van Waggoner, have sent a statement of the case to the Evening News. The statement of the crime is as follows:

"On the 25th day of April, 1877, Henry Turner, a young farmer of Portage, was passing along a road which led through a field owned by a few miles south of Kalamazoo, when he met a man staggering and covered with blood. It was Hewitt. A short time before Turner had seen Hewitt and Van Waggoner together. He had been badly cut about the head and chest with pruning shears. Three bullet wounds were in the region of the heart. The pistol from which the lead was fired had been held so close that the flash of the powder singed Hewitt's vest.

A brief investigation showed that Hewitt and Van Waggoner, afterwards found to be Van Waggoner, had a few hours before engaged a livery team of S. H. Wattles, now city marshall of Kalamazoo, to drive into the country. Van Waggoner had returned alone with the team, and stated at the stable that his friend would stop overnight with a farmer in the country; also stating to Mr. Wattles that the roll of money he had displayed in paying for the team had been collected of farmers in the country. Lyman M. Gates, then the Sheriff, at once started a search for a man answering Van Waggoner's description. He was traced to the Burdick house, and shortly afterward Mr. O. W. Powers, a lawyer of this place, and John Die, a porter at the Burdick, discovered him in the store of James Deming, purchasing articles of wearing apparel. They pointed him out to Charles C. Jennings, a constable, who arrested him. Van Waggoner gave his name as Smith, and denied his own name, claiming that his arrest was a mistake, and saying he would be back shortly to complete his purchase. In the presence of Mr. Powers he attempted to draw a revolver on the officer.

The money taken from Hewitt, papers in Hewitt's name, and a revolver from which four shots had been fired were found on his person. He maintained the strictest silence about the affair. When questioned in regard to it, he replied: "You can do the talking and I will do the listening." The next morning Van Waggoner was taken into Hewitt's presence, refused to talk, or in any way recognize his victim. Hewitt identified Van, calling him, as he expressed it, his "pard."

There are some quite strong hints being sown about the state that $5,000 of the sum near that amount was raised for the purpose of securing the commutation of Van Waggoner's sentence, but no one, of course, says that Bogle had any of the "chuck." That would be accusing him of a crime.

Every now and then a great hubbub is raised about the embezzler Capt. Howgate, wanted at Washington by the authorities. If they are in earnest, he probably can be found, we are informed that he has been, and probably is now, residing in the upper peninsula, — Ontonagon Miner.

While boring for a well on the James Goble farm on the Pokagon road, a short distance from this city, a vein of coal about four feet in thickness was discovered about ten feet from the surface. The extent of the vein is not known. The farm is an old one, and wells have been dug in various places in the vicinity of this one, yet the indications, even, of coal have never before been discovered there.

The nature of the soil is such that it would be expensive to mine, yet if there is coal there of any great amount it would pay to get it out. We have samples of drift coal in this office that were found last summer on Frank Oyle's farm, west of town, and two or three miles from the Goble farm. James A. Lee, of Silver Creek, who has had considerable experience in mining, says the samples indicate that there is more in that vicinity, and a vein of but six inches in thickness is worth mining. An experimental shaft on the Goble farm would settle the question; it should be tried at once. — Dowagiac Times.

This is the case in which Ex-Governor Bogle made his greatest record at "turning the rascals out." If there was ever a man who was born for filling a State Prison cell, it would seem to be this man Van Waggoner.

NIOWARA, Neb., Jan. 5.—A stage driver reports that seven men have been frozen dead on the road between here and Long Pine. Two were in one wagon, and two other teams were found, each with a dead driver. The men were on their way home from railroad work. Cattle were badly scattered by the storm, but as the snow is light they can get at the grass.

In five years, 1870 to 1883 inclusive, our imports of cotton and woolen goods and of iron and steel and their manufactures, valued at $25,116,718. It is said that our trouble over the tariff is why import $25,000,000 yearly of articles for which we have the raw material in abundance at home? These imports represent the labor of many thousands of workmen employed abroad, while as many American artisans and laborers are deprived of work. Free-trade means more imports, less employment at home, and money going out to pay workers in other lands. Democratic tariff-tinkering points that way. — Devoit Post.

Not That Governor. By the way, rather a funny incident occurred at ex-Governor Bogle's farewell reception at his parlor in the capitol, during the recent meeting of the State Teachers' Association. One of the lady callers had absorbed the idea, somehow, that the reception was being given by the incoming governor rather than by the one whose term was just on the point of expiring, and under the impression that he was talking to Gov. Briggs, she clasped Mr. Bogle's hand with both her own, and with intense enthusiasm informed him that she had prayed to God day and night for the last six months that he might win the gubernatorial election, and now she sincerely thanked him for his prayer had been answered. It is said that the expression on Gov. Bogle's face, as he heard this surprising conversational frankness, was worth going seventy-five miles to witness, and nearly deprived him of the power of speech for the next five minutes. — Lansing Republican.

State Items. The three clothing men in Ann Arbor occupy more space in the city papers than the editors do. Saginaw county pays $500 per year for an assistant prosecuting attorney, regularly employed.

The editor of the Grange Visitor was 63 years old on New Year's day, and is as fresh as at thirty.

The salary of Prosecuting Attorney of Iosco county has been cut down from $1,050 to $800.

It is said that in Holland City taxes are $2 on every $100 valuation, in Grand Haven $2.00, and in Muskegon $4.

$500 will buy a good lot and small house, on Lake street, now rented for $5 per month. A good investment. Call at this office.

Cram's Unrivaled Atlas of the World is now offered on such liberal terms that every family can afford a copy of this valuable work.

Remember Cram's Unrivaled Atlas of the World is the only atlas which shows the distances between towns marked on the map.

It is said that a lady in Ann Arbor has become so excited over the Crouch murder trial that she hides all the butcher knives to prevent murder.

Swindlers are traveling all over the country with divers schemes to victimize the unwary. Keep your name off any and all papers. — Flint Journal.

A family near Coldwater were visiting and their child aged three years and a piece of cake covered with "rough on rats" and died from the effects.

John Mack, of Bay City, fell through the sidewalk last summer while the city was paying the streets and injured himself badly, and now sues the city for $5,000.

Professional men, teachers, students, families and general readers of all classes who desire a handy reference atlas will find Cram's Unrivaled Atlas of the World adapted to meet their wants.

Will Green, manager of the Shore stage line, captured a large eagle between Alcona and Black river last week. The eagle was caught by throwing a robe over him. It is now at the stage barn in this place. — Oscoda Saturday Night.

A fellow stole a pair of pants from a Saranac lake. He was arrested and admitted his guilt, and said he stole to get into the Iowa prison for the winter. The justice turned him over to the circuit court, where he pleaded guilty, and Judge Smith surprised him by sending him to Jackson for one year. — Ionia Mail.

In five years, 1870 to 1883 inclusive, our imports of cotton and woolen goods and of iron and steel and their manufactures, valued at $25,116,718. It is said that our trouble over the tariff is why import $25,000,000 yearly of articles for which we have the raw material in abundance at home? These imports represent the labor of many thousands of workmen employed abroad, while as many American artisans and laborers are deprived of work. Free-trade means more imports, less employment at home, and money going out to pay workers in other lands. Democratic tariff-tinkering points that way. — Devoit Post.

Not That Governor. By the way, rather a funny incident occurred at ex-Governor Bogle's farewell reception at his parlor in the capitol, during the recent meeting of the State Teachers' Association. One of the lady callers had absorbed the idea, somehow, that the reception was being given by the incoming governor rather than by the one whose term was just on the point of expiring, and under the impression that he was talking to Gov. Briggs, she clasped Mr. Bogle's hand with both her own, and with intense enthusiasm informed him that she had prayed to God day and night for the last six months that he might win the gubernatorial election, and now she sincerely thanked him for his prayer had been answered. It is said that the expression on Gov. Bogle's face, as he heard this surprising conversational frankness, was worth going seventy-five miles to witness, and nearly deprived him of the power of speech for the next five minutes. — Lansing Republican.

State Items. The three clothing men in Ann Arbor occupy more space in the city papers than the editors do. Saginaw county pays $500 per year for an assistant prosecuting attorney, regularly employed.

The editor of the Grange Visitor was 63 years old on New Year's day, and is as fresh as at thirty.

The salary of Prosecuting Attorney of Iosco county has been cut down from $1,050 to $800.

It is said that in Holland City taxes are $2 on every $100 valuation, in Grand Haven $2.00, and in Muskegon $4.

It is said that a lady in Ann Arbor has become so excited over the Crouch murder trial that she hides all the butcher knives to prevent murder.

Swindlers are traveling all over the country with divers schemes to victimize the unwary. Keep your name off any and all papers. — Flint Journal.

There are some quite strong hints being sown about the state that $5,000 of the sum near that amount was raised for the purpose of securing the commutation of Van Waggoner's sentence, but no one, of course, says that Bogle had any of the "chuck." That would be accusing him of a crime.

Every now and then a great hubbub is raised about the embezzler Capt. Howgate, wanted at Washington by the authorities. If they are in earnest, he probably can be found, we are informed that he has been, and probably is now, residing in the upper peninsula, — Ontonagon Miner.

While boring for a well on the James Goble farm on the Pokagon road, a short distance from this city, a vein of coal about four feet in thickness was discovered about ten feet from the surface. The extent of the vein is not known. The farm is an old one, and wells have been dug in various places in the vicinity of this one, yet the indications, even, of coal have never before been discovered there.

The nature of the soil is such that it would be expensive to mine, yet if there is coal there of any great amount it would pay to get it out. We have samples of drift coal in this office that were found last summer on Frank Oyle's farm, west of town, and two or three miles from the Goble farm. James A. Lee, of Silver Creek, who has had considerable experience in mining, says the samples indicate that there is more in that vicinity, and a vein of but six inches in thickness is worth mining. An experimental shaft on the Goble farm would settle the question; it should be tried at once. — Dowagiac Times.

This is the case in which Ex-Governor Bogle made his greatest record at "turning the rascals out." If there was ever a man who was born for filling a State Prison cell, it would seem to be this man Van Waggoner.

NIOWARA, Neb., Jan. 5.—A stage driver reports that seven men have been frozen dead on the road between here and Long Pine. Two were in one wagon, and two other teams were found, each with a dead driver. The men were on their way home from railroad work. Cattle were badly scattered by the storm, but as the snow is light they can get at the grass.

THE G. A. R. boys had a jolly time at their installation of officers last evening. The old war songs, such as "Mary had a Little Lamb," could be heard ringing from their quarters, as the boys were enjoying their hard-tack and "sich."

The teachers in Buchanan schools issued to the pupils of the several departments, report cards that were for the benefit of parents, and as many of the parents have not seen the cards, the teachers request that parents call for the cards, sign them and have them returned.

DIED.—Gracie May Powers, daughter of C. E. Powers, born Dec. 16, 1869, died of consumption, at Berrien County, Mich., Jan. 4, 1885, aged 15 years, and 17 days. Gracie's sufferings were long and painful, but she endured them with true Christian meekness. Many dear friends mourn her early death.

The time is coming when the village of Buchanan will be called upon to issue more bonds to settle for a broken neck of some chap who falls upon the ice roof gutters deposit on the sidewalks. There are four such places in town, and at icy times are dangerous, besides being disagreeable at all times of wet weather.

AMONG the commendable enterprises in this place is the Young Ladies' Reading Club, that meets one evening each week to read and discuss on scientific and literary subjects. The meetings serve as a great improvement, both socially and intellectually, and may be made of greatest value to the members.

The meetings of the association have heretofore proven of interest and value to participants and it is expected that this will not be an exception. There should be a good attendance.

WIDE AWAKE, published by D. Lothrop & Co., Boston, for young folks, would be our choice among American juvenile magazines for a boy or girl of ten years of age or upwards. It contains first class matter and is quite free from all hobgoblin and fairy stories. A falling that is too common among juvenile journals, is to deal too freely with this class of reading that can be of no benefit to the younger's mind.

THE Niles Democrat has set up a howl of a half column, because the waterworks company has seen fit to employ twenty Italians to do a job of shoveling, and makes a great ado over the laws of the country that allows the company to do such an act. Yet this same paper pretends to despise a demagogue worse than it can the devil. The Democrat would have probably been perfectly satisfied if the company had employed Irishmen or Germans. Niles workmen, but the fact that they did not does not make good sense of the Democrat's article.

PARTIES thinking of going to New Orleans this winter, take notice, and don't fail to see J. B. Frawley, traveling agent for the Wabash, St. Louis and Pacific Railroad. He will be at the Major House in Buchanan, Tuesday, January 13, day and evening; at the Hotel Oropoko, Berrien Springs, January 14, day and evening; at the Gardley House, Benton Harbor, January 15, afternoon and evening; at the Park Hotel, St. Joseph, day and evening, January 16; at Stevensville, Saturday, until 2 P. M. He is getting up an excursion party and will offer you big inducements to go via Wabash, St. Louis and Pacific to St. Louis; St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern Railway to Texarkana, and Texas Pacific Railway to New Orleans. He has maps of route and cuts showing exterior and interior view of the cars they will use.

All persons knowing themselves indebted to us will please call and settle, and oblige TREAT & REDDEN.

THE "SPELLING" SKULE.

You didn't attend the spelling match, well, I declare it was very amusing—you should have been there.

A patch work quilt was offered as a prize to the one who succeeded in spelling all the rest down. Judges were elected and stand right by. And decide whether it was best to prophesy or prophesy.

They chose sides the same as when I was a lad, Quackery and good spellers first and reserving the bad. After all was arranged the director with book in hand, looked as if he had the whole world at command.

But with all respect he some grave blunders made, By pronouncing words foreign to persons, profession or trade. Now what would a Jeweler know about cock-nut? Or how would billions make a Minister feel? And no Druggist would want a meditation, of course.

And for a "Gorilla" to ruminate would even be worse. While a seneca tree in India I very much fear. Would have no influence on inhabitants here. Or for students to impugn or even generate, Could so great match have but little weight. And how could an old teacher be expected to see another all tangled up in chénille. But a lady soon untangled the knot that fastened the man.

Then, turning the tables, which she presented to the Society again. And now they'll have another, you'll be sure and go. Maybe you'll get the quilt, and you'll enjoy it, I know. SPECTATOR.

COL. SAMUEL WELLS and Col. J. C. Everest, members of the National Committee of Transportation of the Grand Army of the Republic, met the representatives of the Eastern trunk lines at the office of Chairman Moore, in Chicago, Monday, and secured the adoption of an agreement making the rate to Portland, Me., and return $25 from Chicago, to members of the Order and their families, and members of the Woman's Relief corps auxiliary to the G. A. R., who desire to attend the Grand Encampment at Portland, June 22. Tickets will be good to return for thirty days.

Mr. M. H. BATM, of Three Oaks, and H. D. Armstrong, of Jackson, passenger agent for the Wabash road, were in this place Saturday to arrange for the excursion to New Orleans, that is to leave Three Oaks, February 10. The arrangements that are being made will give those who go a most pleasant trip at a minimum expense. The party will not leave the car during the entire trip, but will have for living accommodations while in New Orleans, and return in it to Three Oaks.

LAST year the county had one thousand copies of a pamphlet containing the proceedings of the Board of Supervisors printed, and the same matter published in a paper, for which was paid 95 cents a page for the pamphlet, the newspaper work being donated. The same job goes to a Benton Harbor paper this year at 83 cents per page, newspaper work, the same price as last year. A very narrow margin over the cost of composition. A soft snafu for the county, but death to the foolish printer, and no one to blame for his foolishness but himself.

The following officers of Buchanan Lodge No. 75, I. O. O. F., were installed Tuesday evening:

L. T. Eastman, N. G. Chas. A. Simonds, V. G. Elias Eaton, Jr., Rec. Sec. John C. Dick, Per. Sec. Joseph M. Bliss, Treas. Wm. Hurlbut, Warden. Warren McDaniel, Con. John Hanover, R. S. N. G. Peter Weese, L. S. N. G. C. O. Hamilton, R. S. V. G. B. S. Crawford, L. S. V. G. Alex. Robinson, R. S. S. Adelbert Jordan, L. S. S. George Bush, I. G. Allen Emerson, O. G. After the installation services were concluded a social time was enjoyed by the members.

Now comes Wm. Batten who lives in Galien township, in the vicinity of that road at the south-west part of this township, and states that the citizens down there are willing to donate the sand if some one will draw it, but they do not propose to invade the realms of the laboring class by drawing it. That is a most excellent way to get a good road, as the experience of that place for the past twenty years shows. He says: "As Mr. Burrus got you to give us a breeze about the road for a parcel of honey, if you will give us a rest for a while, we will furnish the buckwheat flour to eat the honey with." Not much! Do you imagine the Record is to be bribed with a parcel of buckwheat? The only way to get a rest on that road is to fix the road. There is a most excellent gravel pit about one mile east of that crossing, and one day's work with each team kept within one-half mile of that crossing, will deposit enough of that gravel there to make a good road, and no one will feel a penny poorer in a week. Fix the road and the Record will give you the asked for rest.

His STUDIED.—The announcement came to this place Tuesday evening that Gottlieb Abele, a German living in the north-west part of this township, had been found in his house dead. Justice Dick and Constable Evans went immediately to the place and found the body lying face downward on the floor. The Justice gave instructions to have the body prepared for burial and returned, to hold an inquest next morning. In lifting the body a revolver was discovered under the body and a bullet hole in the center of the forehead, when the burial preparations were postponed until a jury might view the body as at first discovered, which was done yesterday and a verdict of suicide rendered. A chair was standing near the body in such a position that would indicate that he was sitting in it when the shot was fired. He had been living alone during the past six weeks, his wife having left him at that time on account of the disagreeable manner in which he conducted himself. He was about 45 years of age, and leaves four children, the oldest being about eleven years of age. Mr. Abele was considerable of a lover of hard cider, which was one of the prime causes leading to his end.

Our worthy citizens met at the town hall last Friday night, and organized a Lyceum. All are invited to take part. Married, Dec. 31, 1884, Mr. Henry Klammer and Miss Nellie McMaster. Dr. Bonine, of Niles, was in town last Friday. JUMBO.

NEW TROT ITEMS. Jan. 5, 1885. Mr. Harry Nixon, of Lake, was in town Sunday. Miss Dell Morley and Mr. Albert Morley, of Chicago, spent the holidays with their relatives and friends here. Mr. I. N. Slater and wife have returned from their northern trip.

The holiday exercises at the M. E. church, were a failure, owing to the lack of energy on the part of the young gentlemen members of the general committee.

Preaching at this M. E. church next Sunday morning at 10:30. Absent friends will return, hence never cry over spilt milk.

BUCHANAN TID. S. W. COR. } Jan. 5, 1885.

EDITOR OF BUCHANAN RECORD.—As I am the only resident in the south-west corner of Buchanan township, except a few tenants, I naturally conclude that the "score" in regard to that piece of bad road was directed mostly at me.

If the law requires us to pay from $1,000 to $2,500 highway tax in this township, why should our public spirit be so great that we should mend a bad and expensive piece of road at the cost of one or two persons in the immediate vicinity? This is a township line, and is a direct road between Galien and Buchanan, and all the travel by public highway between the two towns is over that road.

It is a fact that it is about impassable, and is one of the worst pieces of road in the township and is only about twelve rods long, but would cost $300 to fix it well. Why did not the public spirit you spoke of cause the citizens in the immediate vicinity of the bridge over the St. Joseph river, close by Buchanan, to fix that bridge at their own expense instead of voting a tax for that purpose. One is as sensible a proposition as the other, and would have taken no more, proportionally, from the pockets of the people in the vicinity of each.

If some of that highway money was applied it ought to be made passable in less than forty years. Probably the trade of the people in this neighborhood is worth nothing to Buchanan, and as there is a good road to Galien, and somewhat nearer, the people are finding that out.

Yours, ALONZO POTTER. Mr. Potter is mistaken about the "score" being directed specially to him. It is at all who are interested. The Highway Commissioner took his part, in our Christmas issue. It is to get a good road at the point in question, is the only object the Record has in the discussion. The road has been a disgrace to the township, road district, neighborhood and county for over twenty-five years, which appears to the Record to be about long enough.

NEW BUFFALO CHIPS.

January 6, 1885. School began last Monday with a good attendance.

On New Years night the pupils of the high school gave an entertainment at the M. E. church, and notwithstanding the storm had a good audience. We understand it is their intention to give another soon.

Skating on the pond is good; and if any one desires to lay aside the rollers for a day, and try a good old fashioned skate on the ice, let him come down here.

The other evening Charles Lee went home after an absence of several days, and found the door locked upon the inside. He went round to the back door just in time to see a man and woman leaving the house. He attempted to follow them, but the man presenting a revolver, persuaded Charles to return home.

Last summer Mrs. Ashem, who lives in the country, on her way home lost her pocket-book containing several dollars. Last week Mr. Ashem, her husband, found it in the road where it had lain six months and been run over by hundreds of wagons, but the money, even the paper was as good as new. THE DOCTOR.

GALLEN ITEMS.

"When our hair has silver grown, By the frosts of years that've flown. Oh, my darling, oh, my own! May we ever no change have known."

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Critchett celebrated their golden wedding on New Year's day. It was indeed a grand time, there being present their children and grandchildren, numbering in all thirty-four persons. Among the rest was a grandson from Kansas, who had never before seen. Peter Critchett was born in Pennsylvania in 1815, came to Ohio when a boy sixteen years of age, stayed there three years, then went to La Porte, Ind. He was married to Margaret Redhouse in 1838, and came to Berrien county in 1839. The county was then largely inhabited by Indians. Niles was a small village. He plowed and farmed the ground on which Buchanan now stands. They are the oldest settlers in the township. They are the parents of fourteen children, five of whom are still living. Among the presents was a beautiful gold mounted hair watch chain, presented to the groom, made from the silver hairs of his aged bride.

Our worthy citizens met at the town hall last Friday night, and organized a Lyceum. All are invited to take part. Married, Dec. 31, 1884, Mr. Henry Klammer and Miss Nellie McMaster. Dr. Bonine, of Niles, was in town last Friday. JUMBO.

NEW TROT ITEMS. Jan. 5, 1885. Mr. Harry Nixon, of Lake, was in town Sunday. Miss Dell Morley and Mr. Albert Morley, of Chicago, spent the holidays with their relatives and friends here. Mr. I. N. Slater and wife have returned from their northern trip.

The holiday exercises at the M. E. church, were a failure, owing to the lack of energy on the part of the young gentlemen members of the general committee.

Preaching at this M. E. church next Sunday morning at 10:30. Absent friends will return, hence never cry over spilt milk.
