THE past few days of moderately warm weather has enlivened business, especially those branches in which teaming forms a considerable part.

The different parts of a good fat sheep, recently butchered in this place, gave the following weights: Carcass, 40 1/2 pounds; pelt, 18 1/2 pounds; head, 10 pounds, and total weight of live sheep, 113 pounds. Another of the same kind shed a 20 pound pelt, with carcass enough to carry it about.

THE Portage Prairie Cornet Band gave an exceedingly fine entertainment at Mount Pleasant church, on Saturday night, there being a splendid attendance, many being present from this city. All speak in highest terms of the music given, and would hail with delight a repetition of the same.—South Bend Times.

CHARLES CASTLEMAN, whose people live in this county, and who has served three years in the penitentiary, was found guilty, January 28, of burglary of a saloon in Jackson. Since his release from prison he has been working for the Michigan Central, as machinist, but drinking led him to the burglary. "The prisoner made a speech to the jury, in which he commented upon the fact that saloon-keepers took men's money, gave them drugged stuff which crazed their brains, and then brought their hangers-on to steal or do anything they wished. His speech was at times eloquent, and made quite an impression on the judge, jury and spectators."

THE RECORD, in its last issue, labored under the hallucination that because Judge Smith was seen in this place on Monday of last week that court was in session, but such was not the case. The narrow gauge railroad was snowed in, and because there was no way to get down to Berrien Springs but to ride down in a sleigh, he adjourned court to the first Monday in April, when a new set of jurors must be drawn, and the poor devils who are cooped up in the jail must stay there two months before they can have a trial, when, if it does not happen to rain so that the Judge cannot go to court, they may be either liberated or otherwise. The case appears from all quarters as if Judge Smith had become too old to try to fill that position longer, and should either be on hand or let some younger man into the harness.

A PETITION is being circulated in this vicinity asking the legislature to amend the liquor law that the funds arising from the saloon tax should become the part of the poor fund. It will depend somewhat upon how this is done whether the arrangement will be any improvement over the present law. There are a few counties in the State, Berrien in the number, in which the several townships care for their own poor. It is a well-known fact that townships having large villages have more paupers in proportion to population than the rural townships, and it is from the villages alone that the liquor tax comes. To take this money from the village coffers and place it in the county poor fund and still leave the village to care for their poor would not be quite a fair change. Under the present arrangement in such townships as Buchanan the village gets the liquor tax and the township supports the poor fund, while in cities like Niles, having a representation on the Board of Supervisors, the city has both funds to care for.

THE Soldiers' and Sailors' association of North-Western Michigan met in Kalamazoo Monday. Among other business they appointed Col. D. Bacon Secretary, and the following Executive Committee: R. L. Warren, Albion, chairman; Geo. M. Buck, Kalamazoo; J. G. Todd, Paw Paw; C. E. Dexter, Centerville; J. A. Kellogg, Niles. A resolution was adopted requesting the Michigan members of Congress to use all honorable means to secure the establishment of a soldiers' home within this State, and that the locality in which the next reunion is to be held must provide for the expenses of the reunion and furnish rations of bread, coffee, meat and vegetables. A number of towns are on track of the reunion and the bidding is likely to be lively when the time arrives. Benton Harbor and Kalamazoo are already on the alert for any move in the association.

Golden Wedding. Mr. and Mrs. E. Beck celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding last Saturday evening, Jan. 31, by inviting a number of their friends to a social gathering at their home. There was a goodly number of friends and relatives present, and the evening was spent in a most enjoyable manner socially, and beautiful refreshments were served.

Mr. FRANK LANDON, chief of the Niles Democrat, and Miss Bell Finley, former manager of the Niles telephone exchange, were married at Trinity church, Tuesday evening, Rev. C. C. Tate officiating. The bride has since resided. They have lived to see their children, ten in number, two sons and eight daughters, all married and settled in homes of their own, and once only has their circle been broken by death.

The guests, after leaving a goodly number of golden tokens, departed about 11 o'clock, wishing their hospitable host and hostess many more happy anniversaries.

THE farmers' institute, held in Berrien Springs Tuesday and Wednesday appointed a committee Tuesday consisting of Hon. Thos. Mars and Messrs. King and West to draft resolutions to be presented next day, condemning the action of Judge Smith in adjourning court. Following is the work they evolved, which was adopted by the institute. Pretty brash, to say the least:

WHEREAS, In communities of great population or extended territory it becomes necessary for individual men to surrender certain natural rights to an organization called society, to secure to themselves better protection of persons and property than individuals can enforce, certain agents or public servants being appointed to perform the various public functions which it is not convenient for the people to perform on their own; and

WHEREAS, These agents or public servants are, in the State of Michigan, paid a sufficient compensation for their time and efforts, and are, by law, permitted to resign the offices they hold, and surrender the performance of their public trusts to others whenever they deem their compensation inadequate or are unable or unwilling to longer continue in the public service, therefore, so long as they continue to occupy these offices as public servants and to draw their pay from the people, they are bound by law and by every consideration of public decency to attend to the services they are delegated to perform, and any failure to perform these services is a default on their part, which should be held strictly accountable. If such default is caused by physical or mental disability it can be excused but should not be continued; if by indifference or neglect it can be excused but should not be continued; if by willful neglect it can be excused but should not be continued; and if by willful neglect it can be excused but should not be continued, and should be sternly reprobated, and

WHEREAS, In Berrien county the administration of justice is confided to a public servant called a Circuit Judge, who is held to the same standard of duty as the sheriff, and is required by law and paid to do, for the reason, as he asserts, that the authorities of this county have failed to perform those duties, and

WHEREAS, Said authorities have, to the best of their ability and in the opinion of those who have inspected said place, rendered it comfortable, and

WHEREAS, Said Circuit Judge has, of his own motion and without inspection of the place, held it to be comfortable, and has adjourned court for three months a term of court at which the largest amount of business ever accumulated in Berrien county demanded adjudication, thereby entailing upon the taxpayers of this county the expense of attorneys' discomfit and expense of trips to and from the county seat which availed them nothing, and upon accused persons a longer wait before they can be permitted to look up their heads among men, if innocent; therefore

Resolved, By this gathering of farmers and tax-payers, that we deprecate the course of the public servant who has inflicted this wrong upon us, and do hereby respectfully request him to do the duty for which he is paid or to resign the office he holds to the end that a man learned in the law and with physical and mental strength to do such duty may be employed.

Resolved, That our Senator and Representatives in the State Legislature be requested to use their influence to procure the passage of a concurrent resolution for the removal of said public servant, and that J. Smith, from the office of Circuit Judge for the Second Judicial District, as provided by Sec. 6, Article XII, of the Constitution of the State of Michigan.

NEW ORLEANS Excursion via Great Wabash Route.

Any one intending to visit the World's Exposition at New Orleans at any time during its continuance, should not fail to avail themselves of the benefits to be derived from joining the Special Family Sleeping Car excursion, leaving Buchanan and Three Oaks Tuesday, February 10. Arrangements are complete in every detail, and these cars will be run through to New Orleans without change, traversing some of the finest farming and timber lands on the American continent. Those interested in fruit culture cannot fail to be interested while passing through the fruit belt of Arkansas, the future of which can only be imagined, so great are its possibilities. A probable stop of a few hours at Little Rock will give all an opportunity to inspect samples of products and minerals of Arkansas, displayed in the building of Land Department of St. L. M. and S. Ry. This exhibit and the beautiful town of Little Rock will entertain the party for a number of hours.

M. H. Baum, Agent M. C. Ry. of Three Oaks, will accompany the party and look after the interest of excursionists. H. D. Armstrong, Passenger and Land Agent, will go with the party and make all necessary arrangements for stop over enroute.

Cars will remain in New Orleans ten days for special use of excursionists convenient to street cars and boats running direct to Exposition grounds, for which a small charge will be made, not to exceed two dollars for each passenger. Plenty of room in these cars for lunch boxes and baskets, as the space under each seat will contain a box 13 inches high, 18 inches wide and 32 inches long.

Do not forget that a party of sixty nice people are now assured, and room remaining for a few more. Come and join us on Feb. 10. Train leaves Buchanan at 2:14 P. M.; Three Oaks at 2:40 P. M.; Bend at your names to M. H. Baum, Three Oaks, or A. F. Peacock, Buchanan, and they will assign you accommodations as soon as a deposit of ten dollars is received.

No failure—the party goes without fail, as advertised, interested competing lines and soreheads to the contrary notwithstanding.

H. D. ARMSTRONG, Passenger and Land Agent Wabash and Mo. Pac. Rys.

The Adjourning of Court. Following is Judge Smith's side of the story as told by a letter from the Judge published in the Niles Mirror yesterday:

CASSOPOLIS, Mich., Feb. 2, 1885. EDITOR MIRROR.—Your statement of the record as to last Fall I adjourned cutting a hole in the Court House, under the lawyers, did not contain all of it. In the preamble and resolution the supervisors put themselves upon the record as saying that the house is in a dilapidated and unsafe condition (perhaps the most truthful record they ever made), and it was in such a dilapidated condition that cutting a couple of holes in the floor would not remedy the evil. The house, back of where the Judge sits in panel work about five feet high and wood work along the seats on each side, perhaps 18 inches high. The wind blows through the panel work that I could feel the draft when sitting six or seven feet from the wall and I frequently had to get on the front side of my desk, so that it would break the force of the current. The house is in a bad condition, but it is not a matter of less pity, yet if there is a current of cold air pouring in upon you from the outside, you will take cold—which is just the case in that house. I called the attention of the supervisors to the condition of the panel work, and learned from Mr. Lambert they had done nothing about it. If the gallery had been closed and the panel work either closed or covered up, the cold air would not have been used in the winter. As it is, it is better to adjourn court than to kill your jury-men. As to this blow about my adjourning court and business being done on a waste of time, and the adjourning of the term, after trying the criminal cases, until after election. It was against my desires and convenience. After election I held court in November and again in December, after the term in Cass county closed.

For the six years I have been Judge, there has been no delay of the court on my account. The only complaint I have heard is that I held court too many hours in a day. The fact is the Court House is a miserable old shell, a mere shanty, and it is the people of Berrien county who know that fact, and I have confidence in the wisdom and honesty of the people of Berrien county to believe that when they knew its condition, they would either repair it so as to make it comfortable for the winter term, or else rent a room for the winter term that is comfortable. I don't believe that they would wish the house held in the winter time in a house that a majority of them would not consider warm enough for their horses. In the summer if the house is too hot to hold court in, I can hold it under the shade of the trees in the court yard. Yours truly, A. J. SMITH.

THREE OAKS ITEMS. Feb. 4, 1885. It is raining some here this morning, but the teams are thick on the street loaded with wood and logs. Dr. Conner has a little girl that is not expected to live. She has the whooping cough.

Joseph Palaski lost a little boy yesterday with the same trouble. I. J. L. McKie is spending a few days at home. His family did not come with him.

Wm. A. Copeland, of Brookland, N. Y., spent the Sabbath here with his parents. The Featherbone is running again, but not a full set of hands. They are making a very nice whip.

Mrs. H. M. Russell has been sick for some time, but is getting better now. Olmstead thinks it is a bad time for cutter riding. They tip over so easily.

A. A. Finley, of Hatch's Mill, Ind., was in town last evening. Wesley Wilkinson, of Lakeside, was in town Tuesday.

Miss Minnie Peck, of Racine, Wis., is visiting her sister here, Mrs. Payne. B.

GALLEN ITEMS. Gallen has a date. Mr. and Mrs. Hulert are keeping house.

Mr. M. H. Smith and wife have gone to Elkhardt to spend a few weeks with relatives and friends.

Mrs. DeArmond, of Buchanan, was in town last week the guest of Mrs. Fox.

Dr. J. F. Bowers was in town last week visiting friends.

Some of the boys of our village from the ages of 15 to 17 years have been buying cider of a man living within the village limits and getting drunk on the same. We advise the cider vendor to read Sec. 2268 Compiled Laws of 1882.

Mrs. Henry Rennie was in town Saturday. A goodly number of the ladies attended the rag social at Mrs. Noggle's Saturday. The social was a success in every respect. Among the many enjoyments of the day was the sumptuous dinner prepared by the hostess, to which the guests did ample justice. When the day was well spent the ladies returned in sleighs which the gentlemen were kind enough to furnish for their accommodation.

NEW TROY ITEMS. Feb. 2, 1885. Miss Linnie Smith, who has been teaching school in Wisconsin, is expected home this week.

Mrs. A. W. Pierce is quite ill. Preaching at the M. E. church next Sunday morning at 10:30.

Dance at Jennings' hall next Friday evening.

Mr. R. B. Jennings is bound to lead; at least one would form that opinion after spending a half hour in his large and well-stocked general store.

Mr. A. W. Pierce says that if a certain announcement in last week's correspondence proves true he will be two dollars ahead. But the bride, oh, where is she?

Several of our citizens are engaged in harvesting ice. Taft's is a drug on the market owing to an over production of the love-inspiring article.

Dr. J. S. Pardee and family spent Sunday with their friends across the State line.

Mr. Charles Russell and wife were at Dr. Pardee's Saturday.

Dr. Pardee delivered his lecture on "Ventilation" last Friday evening. The doctor handled his subject in a manner which could not fail to convey his exact meaning to the minds of all his hearers or fail to impress thereupon the importance of pure air in the home, school, church or other assembly.

H. L. Potter will deliver a lecture on language Feb. 13, 1885. As the money raised by these lectures is for a public benefit it does seem as if they ought to receive more hearty support than they do.

The Township Sunday School institute was held at Painter's school house last Sunday and the program was carried out with two exceptions. Owing to the time devoted to the election of officers the usual discussion of the various topics was somewhat limited. The same officers were re-elected for the ensuing year with the change of Mr. Sherwood for Miss Maggie Miller as secretary.

Cupid is in search of hearts. Look out for him for he is on the war path, sure. [Benton Harbor Expositor.] Sheriff Peck went 800 miles to get a witness who was wanted at the January term of court. He got him, but his case was adjourned till April. He had to let him go again. The expense to the county was something like $200, which was are creditably informed will not be deducted from the Judge's salary.

[Niles Mirror.] Mr. Mortensen, a Dane, who for several years has done a prosperous business among us, and who was once in the employ of B. Jarvis as a farm hand and superintendent, had made several trips to his native land and engaged young men to come with him to this country. But on his last trip, a short time ago, it did not turn out very successful. His monarch, the Royal Highness of Denmark, politely invited him to adorn himself with one of his nation's uniforms and a gun, to perform military duties for seven long years.

The Michigan association of spiritualists will hold their annual convention at Science Hall, Grand Rapids commencing at 2 p. m. Friday, February 27, and closing Sunday, March 1, next. Good speakers and mediums will be in attendance. Reduced railroad rates may be obtained by addressing the secretary, Dr. J. A. Marvin, at Lansing.

A Bohemian oat man came to grief up in Northfield a few days since. He stopped at the residence of Wm. P. Greer, and sitting down by the cheerful stove commenced expatiating upon the great wealth there was in the Bohemian cereal. It was a glowing picture he portrayed, and the old gentleman looked on with eyes constantly bulging and growing larger. Finally when the time came to sign the contract, he arose and said: "I am subject to strange spells of temporary insanity, and I feel that one of them is coming on now! Here, John, John, bring me my shot gun, quick." It was enough. No second invitation was necessary for the oat man. He lit out and meeting the hired man outside the house, advised him to have the old fellow taken care of at once, as he was liable to hurt some one. "Yas," replied the hired man, but I am used to him.—Ann Arbor Courier.
