

BUCHANAN RECORD.

JOHN C. HOLMES, Editor. THURSDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1886.

REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

For Governor, GYRUS G. LUCE, of Branch. For Lieutenant Governor, JAMES H. MACDONALD, of Delta. For Secretary of State, GILBERT R. OSBURN, of Wayne.

Republican County Ticket.

For Sheriff-BENJON B. STERNES. For Clerk-HERBERT L. POTTER. For Treasurer-EDMUND D. STORMS.

Mrs. A. T. Stewart is dead.

The Port Huron Times charges that Consul Hill, at Sarina, has been in his office but once since May 1, and that the duties are performed by one Johnston, a British subject.

Why is it that in states where Democrats rule the state expenses and debts invariably increase, while in those controlled by Republicans for a series of years, the opposite is true?

The veteran Van Buren county Democrat, Capt. J. H. Henery, writes to the Detroit News that if such men as Mayor Hill, Wm. L. Webber and Wellington R. Burt don't like the Democratic party they had better leave it.

The Grand Rapids Telegram has gotten out a large sixteen-page issue in honor of its having acquired a new Perfecting press, with accompanying machinery.

The closing act of the Grand Assembly of Knights of Labor, at Richmond, was to pass a resolution of sympathy with the condemned anarchists of Chicago.

Fusion in the Eighth district has been receiving some severe backsets. Arthur Hill, Mayor of Saginaw, a prominent Democrat whose influence is felt throughout the Saginaw valley has denounced Tarsney and Yapple and their free trade dogma.

The following special from Ann Arbor to the Chicago Tribune is interesting in showing the state of affairs as they exist in the Second District.

The small majority by which the present Fusion Congressman was elected makes affairs in this district very interesting and the outcome of the election rather uncertain.

He Wants to be Our Congressman. Hon. H. C. Sherwood of Watervliet, as predicted in this paper, has been nominated Fusion (Democratic) candidate for representative to congress from this district.

tracts them, but enter the tunnel only a few feet, as the walls seem unbound and the way uninviting. Evidently this is an abandoned mine.

Galena is a straggling village of one street, lying between high hills, whose sides are dotted with mines. Driving through the village, where our outfit attracts the attention of the "natives," we halt in the Silver Spring Canon beyond.

A fair-haired miner who is making biscuits in his cabin, furnishes us fire for coffee making and a handful of oats for our horses.

Our dinner is spread on a rock by the wayside, and while the coffee is making, we cultivate the miner's acquaintance, and are shown some fine specimens with free gold showing plainly.

The Hester A. mine, owned by Gerken and Collins, is four hundred feet up the mountain side, and in full view from our dining hall.

After dining, we follow a trail to the mine and enter 200 ft. in a tunnel. The "pay ore" lies between beds of limestone and quartzite, and dips and widens as the hill is entered.

Our first pause is at a crushing mill. A ragged, red-shirted man escorts us into it, and gets us some nice specimens of the ore. To be sure, the sparkling yellow spots are valueless, but they are pretty, and there is gold in the rock if invisible.

Our raggard friend points out Supt. Allison of the Orofino mine, who goes with us to the entrance. Three of our party enter the cage and descend the shaft 250 ft., and are shown through the mine by Foreman Dodd.

We are beneath while a blast is made, but we hear only the dullest of thuds. While waiting for the explosion, the scribble makes a note or two, and when she makes the usual error of a "greenhorn," mistaking pyrites of iron for gold, a general smile is seen.

On leaving the mine, we go to the "dump pile" where we find some curious crystallized forms of rock; and with considerable addition to our stock of specimens, we turn our faces homeward.

He Wants to be Our Congressman. Hon. H. C. Sherwood of Watervliet, as predicted in this paper, has been nominated Fusion (Democratic) candidate for representative to congress from this district.

Edgar White lights his house at Port Huron with natural gas, a vein of which he struck at 300 feet. He will go down 600 feet.

There are five hundred men at work in the Corronna coal mines, The Michigan Central has tested the coal, and will use 5,000 tons monthly.

Wexford county is located in the corn belt, but just the same the farmers are there are rejoycing in a second crop of oats for the year, the volunteer yield exceeding that from the original seeding.—Detroit Journal.

South Bay City boasts of a man 24 years old who is in good health and yet is supported by his mother. The woman is cook in a lumber camp and pays the lazy dog's board. Shoot him for his mother's sake.

Woodmen's wages are said to be higher at Grand Marais than at any other point on the peninsula. Contractors are paying all the way from $25 to $30 per month. Along the railroad men are more plenty and wages are in consequence somewhat lower.

Mr. Murphy, a resident of Jonesville, Mich., who was consul to Germany, has recently died and by his will, as published some months ago, he left his large and valuable library to the university.

Mr. Leitzkyshomzquarkinzsky, an employe in Peck, Woods & Co's. salt block, slipped and fell into one of the vats, Tuesday, and came out with a badly crushed foot. Mr. Leitzkyshomzquarkinzsky will be laid up for several weeks.—Oscoda Monitor.

E. J. Wilcox, sixty years old, committed suicide at the house of Wm. Kidney, near Burlington, Sunday night, in a terrible manner. He went out of the house after the family had retired, placed a dynamite cartridge under his arm and touched it off. He was blown to pieces.

A large cottonwood tree at Orion was recently chopped down. It measured five feet at the butt. One of the axes dislodged a large chip, near the heart of the tree, containing a hand-made iron spike which was imbedded in the center.—Detroit News.

An Iowa child fell into a cistern, and his mother being sick called to a neighbor to fish the child out. The neighbor called back: "Let the kid drown," and she turned her back on the drowning child. Another neighbor, possessed of some heart, saved the little fellow.—Detroit Journal.

WATERMELONS IN MISSOURI. Selling Them to Dealers Along the Road. A Quick Sale. Probably there is no place in the United States where water melons are so much raised, or where they are grown with less labor and expense, than in certain counties of southeast Missouri.

From the last issue of the Niles Democrat we clipped the following: "Some years ago Cyrus (the) farmer, now he is vice-president and director of a large stockholder in a Coldwater bank. Some years after Cyrus ceased holding the plow and took to slaving notes, and for such he lives in Bohemian out notes."

W. K. SANNEY, Esq., My Dear Sir: Some time ago you were furnished with enclosed as advised. So far as those slanders are concerned, I pass them by as the idle wind. In reply to the marked paragraph, will only say what I can prove, etc.

Living in a Cold Climate. Dr. A. Tucker Wise, an English angler, writes that day's weary drowsy cure, the effects on the Anglo-Saxon race of living in a cold climate may be seen in Canada and some of the northern states of the American Union.

PHACTS AND HYSC. Sluggish Sullivan is said to have drawn about $230,000 by his professional exhibitions. His generosity and expensive habits have thus far left him without a bank account.

A GOOD prohibitionist who was in our office this morning to pay his subscription, says he cannot vote for the Democratic party or its "aid society," the political Prohibitionists. Many more of the staunch prohibitionists all over the State are of the same opinion.

The Democrats of this State have secured the assistance of Senator Jones, of Florida. He spoke in Niles Saturday evening. It is he who, instead of attending to his business in the U. S. Senate, was making himself obnoxious to one of the young ladies of Detroit, who would not recognize his amorous attentions: He is a good representative of the faith he preaches.

At the Democratic Representative Convention, in this place, one of the delegates carried a cane made in representation of a copperhead snake, with a steel pointed tail, and a savage set of teeth. He had this cane made during the Rebellion, and carried it as an insignia of his loyalty to the party represented by the snake. He is proud of it.

A Democrat named Clark spoke in Rough's Opera House, Tuesday evening, to a small audience. The performance is said to be equal to the best circus that has been in the county in many years. The speaker waited at the depot for a committee and the band until the bus had gone and no committee appearing, he walked, and when he reached the hall was obliged to ask some one of the audience to introduce him. John Mansfield came to his relief.

A FINE PRESENT.—The Wm. Perrott Post, No. 22, G. A. R., at their meeting, last week, were presented with an elegant morocco bound volume of Memorial pages, for making the personal and military record of each of its members, to be kept as a permanent history of the post. Each page is finely lithographed and neatly arranged. The names of the donors are burnished in the front cover in gilt, and are: J. J. Van Riper, John Graham, F. H. Berriek, M. W. Sloum, L. P. Alexander, E. E. Barnes, John Weisberger, D. E. Hinman, A. C. Roe, E. S. Dodd & Son. The Post wish to publicly express, so far as possible, their thanks for the elegant present. The presentation address was delivered by Hon. J. J. Van Riper.

After copying our remarks of last week about Niles people attending the fair, the Star adds the following remark: "Now, neighbor Holmes, that is another slander of your slanders on Niles. The stockholders claim no such thing, and you know it. It is a little strange you can come over here, beg for printing, then go home and publish such falsehoods."

That the managers of that fair in past years, and the stockholders this year, complain of the treatment they received at the hands of Niles people is a fact, notorious to all interested, in this vicinity; and it was only week before last that two of the officers were here to have the Record publish the list of premiums granted this year, because Niles papers would not do it, excepting for an exorbitant price and all because the printing, which was let to the lowest bidder, was not done in Niles. Poor specimen to equal Mr. Star, you are, because one little fact of that kind happened to point your way

THE Michigan Central Company's special detective was in town Monday, and picked up two or three boys for jumping on to moving trains.

THE Democratic papers are loudly proclaiming the fact that Hadley has been captured, as a reason that Beck should be re-elected Sheriff of this county. They fail to mention his herculean exertions toward capturing the thief who robbed John Holloway. He never moved in that direction.

A NEW passenger steam-boat is to be built at Benton Harbor the coming winter, for the passenger traffic of the line between Benton Harbor and Chicago. The vessel is to be 150 feet keel and 29 feet beam, with 2434 engines which will be attached directly to the main shaft. The wheel will be eight and one-half feet in diameter with a sixteen foot pitch, and with the power used will have a mean speed of 180 revolutions per minute with a possible 200 with higher pressure. The boiler will be 8 1/2 by 10 feet, built to carry 135 pounds ordinary working pressure, and will be exactly the size of the one on the Lorain.

M. V. RORER. He used to write Rev. before his name before the Michigan M. E. Conference kicked him out of the pulpit. He is the fellow who held political meetings in this place last Sunday. There was nothing very striking about the speech except that a third or more of it was devoted to abuse of the Editor of the Record, for what was said last week about holding political meetings on Sunday. We are pleased to note that we are not the only one in this place who merits his abuse, as at least two of the ministers, in their sermons, took occasion to denounce the practice. Such fellows change no one's opinion, and are barely worthy of notice.

The chairman of the Democratic Committee is busy circulating some bills containing the statement of some persons, that they have worked for Harvey Sherwood and were well pleased with their treatment. The next duty of the committee will be to call on N. L. B. Peirce, a man of wealth and influence in Watervliet, and get him still, and they will have the business secure. There is but little use of worrying over Mr. Sherwood, however, as he is about as near Congress as his "Ole Virginia Home," where the methods he is accused of here are custom and not thought of as in any way wrong. By the way, it is not a peculiar state of affairs when a man finds it necessary by an affidavit to refute the statements of his neighbors that he does not treat his employees decently?

As it is the intention of the RECORD to do no one any injustice, by any mention that is made in these columns, we give space to the following, from the Palladium, in explanation of the article copied last week from that paper:

EDITORS PALLADIUM.—I wish to correct an impression reported in your paper of the 24th inst., as prevailing here, which reflects upon A. C. Roe, our Prosecuting Attorney, for not attending to his official duty. The facts in the case are these: The case was commenced before me and continued until Thursday, within one day of limitation of statute. Mr. Roe was notified by Mr. Hamilton of the pendency of said suit. Mr. Roe sent a dispatch that he could not be here that day, but to continue the case until Saturday. I returned an answer that the case could not be continued until Saturday, as he requested. He then said: "Dismiss the case and commence again and I will be here," which he did on Saturday, as he agreed. In the meantime I had learned some facts, or supposed facts, that did not look favorable for the prosecution, and I told the Prosecuting Attorney what I had heard. So the matter was left for further investigation before commencing again. I have had some business with Prosecuting Attorney Roe since he has been in office and must say in all candor that I have the first fault yet to find with him in that or any other respect. Fraternally yours, J. W. BREWER. ST. JOSEPH, Mich., Oct. 19, 1886.

BEFORE New Year's day dawns Benton Harbor expects to have a new brick factory building, 50x100 feet in size and roofed with iron ready for the machinery.—Detroit News.

W. G. HOOKER, of Berrien Centre, is enjoying a visit from his brother, the Rev. Leroy Hooker, of Simcoe, Ont. The former is 68 and the latter 48 years old, and they look upon each other now for the first time.—Detroit Journal.

THE Red Book as usual makes its appearance just when wanted, and the state edition this year abounds with statistical information of the character now most in demand. The little publication has become the standard political text-book, and not only is it of unquestioned value as an authority upon election results, but is a model of clean and most artistic typography. As of old it is sent without money and without price by enclosing stamp to C. K. Lord, Baltimore, Md.

[St. Joseph Republican.] Fifty persons find shelter at the county house. The prohibitionists of this place are publishing a weekly campaign sheet called the LORAIN. The voters Royalton at the coming election will vote on a proposition to purchase site for a new cemetery.

[St. Joseph Herald.] Sunday afternoon last, Mr. George H. Scott, of Royaton, was severely injured in attempting to bridge one of his horses in the pasture lots. The animal kicked him on the side of the face and neck, producing several cuts. Mr. Scott was quite alone, but yet able to return to his home, after which he became in a measure unconscious from a nervous shock. The patient may be obliged to keep to the house for awhile, as his age precludes a speedy recovery.

THE twelve-year-old daughter of Mr. Hans Madison, residing south of town, in Royalton, was accidentally shot in the cheek by her younger brother about seven o'clock this morning. The boy had a pistol which he playfully pointed at his sister in the usual manner, protesting that it was not loaded. The girl who was lying in bed, declared that the weapon was loaded, whereupon she said she would "let" it, and snapped the trigger with the customary result, only fortunately the ball in this instance glanced along the cheek and, passed near the ear of the girl, making only a deep scratch. Confusion and alarm followed, and the girl was brought in haste to Dr. John Bell, who dressed the wound, which is not dangerous.—Benton Harbor Palladium, Oct. 27.

SAWDUST.

THREE OAKS ITEMS. Oct. 26, 1886.

The political pot begins to boil over, we should judge, by the number of candidates we find outside the political kettles, and in our streets so glad to call a fellow. It is really a comfort to grasp their ever willing paw, as it is so cordial. We would name the candidates who have given our village their attention, but it would be easier to mention those who have not. We have not seen the candidates for fish inspector, and there is some fear that they are sick, or incapacitated to see so small a "fry" as Three Oaks. All the nominations are now made and the voter can shut his eyes and cast his vote, with the usual degree of certainty of clothing the man who gets the most of them.

Mr. Van DeVenter of Sturgis, this State, tells the people of Three Oaks and vicinity, on Wednesday evening, this week, why he left the Greenback party.

Our factories are still running at full speed, and turning out goods for the world. The Featherbone company have had their goods put into several coats, which are being worn by some of the fair employes, for the purpose of testing the utility for this use. The boys about town are disposed to find fault with the shipping clerk of that institution for misuse of the goods, claiming for it more than the inventor ever did; he never advertised that it would stand much hugging pressure. The clerk makes no complaint, and informs his friends that it responds with a will, which will bring it into general favor with the young people the world over. We understand the clerk has applied for a patent, and that he is to take a young lady into the company and divide the bone.

James Paddock is still very feeble, and it is feared that he will never be able to make our village another visit. He has been a very useful man, and leaves a useful family as a reminder of his younger days. We hope that the Paddock seed may fall into good ground and bring forth an hundred fold, patterned after the old stock.

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., Oct. 19, 1886.

Mr. Bass and family, of Iowa, are visiting at the residence of his sister, Mrs. C. Scott. Mr. Bass has been sick for over a year, and has come to Michigan to regain his health.

Baptist social at Tom Roberts' last Thursday. A goodly number attended. J. R. Mell's having quite a severe attack of sickness. He is reported some better this morning.

Jacob Klanser is going to sell his farm stock, and move to town. It is reported that he will invest in the grocery business.

Mr. Rees, who has been living at Buchanan the past summer, has moved back to Galien.

Mr. M. G. Owen has returned from the northern part of the State, where he has been spending the summer, and states that he will winter here.

John Chilson is building an addition to his house north of town—quite an improvement.

Galien has been wholly ignored, as far as political speeches are concerned, thus far in the campaign, but the town is billed for two this week; one by the Hon. E. M. Plimpton, who will speak for the Republicans, and the other by that man from St. Joseph, who (they say) actually expects to be our next Sheriff. No show at Galien; better not waste your wind, for the next Sheriff of Berrien county resides right here in Galien.

We wish to correct one error in last week's issue, i. e., in the item relating to Mr. Pyle, instead of Mr. "Pile."

Mrs. Tim Smith has presented Mr. Tim with a boy baby.

Our high regard for Buchanan is what prevented us from telling where Chris. Beck got his liquor last week, but since the editor has conveyed the idea that Chris. got it Galien, we deem it our duty to exonerate our temperance little town, and state the facts that Chris. was liquor to Buchanan that day and got his liquor just a few doors east of the bank. The editor is certainly well acquainted with the place. [No lake water sold there, En.] This is the last issue before the election, and it is to be hoped that the voters of Galien township will do their duty in helping to elect the entire Republican ticket, for we can see by experience that the Democratic party's rule in Berrien county has been a failure; its officers are inefficient to the duties they have to perform.

About thirty friends gave Rev. Columbus Scott and wife a very welcome surprise, last Wednesday morning, by repairing to their residence and building them a neat little woodhouse. The ladies were present, and at noon invited the gentlemen to partake of a most delicious dinner. About three o'clock all was finished, and Mr. and Mrs. Scott are made to know that they have many friends in Galien.

This community was startled, Friday morning, upon hearing the death of Mrs. Freeman Yaw. She and her husband were on their way to Ephriam Yaw's, where they were going to make a visit. While on the road, Mrs. Yaw was taken with a stroke of paralysis of the brain, of which she died a short time after reaching Ephriam Yaw's house.

Mr. and Mrs. Yaw are among the first settlers in Galien township, having lived here about thirty-five years. Her past life has been marked with Christian goodness; her ways were kind and gentle. She leaves behind many friends to mourn her loss. Mrs. Yaw was 70 years of age; thus she had reached a high mile stone in the road of life, and has quietly laid in that sleep which has kissed her eyelids down forever.
