THE MORTGAGE ON THE FARM.

BY LIZZY BULL.

Ten years—and the hair on my temples

Is turning and mixing with gray,

And my face has grown aged and careworn,

His lines deepening day by day;

My comrades are young and vigorous,

They've clung to me close for years,

And I've borne them with unflinching patience

Though laden with troubles and fears,

This eve, while the sun has been dipping

His rays down the fair, rose west,

I've been over the farm once more,

With hope of some day and rest;

But to-morrow a white covered wagon,

On its long westward journey will start,

And Mary will smile, though she's hiding

A weary and desolate heart.

I've walked the last time through the orchard

This autumn its first fruit will yield;

The vineyard is laden with clusters,

And yellow with corn in each field.

When full of youth's hope and ambition,

My wife and I had come to this place,

With only the blood-boughten pittance

I'd saved from a "private's" poor gain.

But Mary was happy and cheerful

And I strong with vigorous health;

With eighty-two acres of prairie

We seemed on a sure road to wealth.

So first, for a home and a shelter,

A poor little shanty was built—

How poor! but one room and unplastered,

So meager its poverty felt.

Then stables and horses and cattle,

And harvest and grain and seeds,

And hundred chickens unthought of,

That ever a pioneer needs.

And everything came at the highest,

And called on my stock of cash.

Till I found, ere I'd half done with buying,

My dollars had gone like a flash.

For five dreary, desolate winters,

With summers of labor between,

We suffered, yet thankful if autumn

Awarded with a scanty grain.

And there, in that kitchen and parlor,

And chamber combined, one bright morn—

With poverty everywhere "round them,"

Our little two children were born.

And later our Mabel, and Edna,

Came to us, yet soon died away,

And there were no more to be greater

Than what—that sad burial day.

And I built to the house an "addition,"

And for it we mortgaged the farm.

Then "hard times" grew harder, and ever

Misfortune was following us,

With failure and loss of crops,

And no mortal foresight could stay.

The mortgage is closed and our homestead

Is gone for its half and is sold;

Now for its half we have no justice,

And avarice holds the gold.

So out—heaven help us—we wander,

Our youth and our labors are lost;

Ah, little we dreamed when we signed it,

The anguish that mortgage would cost;

Out over the prairie to-morrow

We'll wander, and long and hard,

And shall take a last look at "the home,"

The place that was ours and is sold.

ARRANGEMENTS have been completed for the erection of a brick church building, to be about 80 by 70 feet, by the Evangelical Association in this place, during the coming summer. The Association has bought the west half of Mrs. Foster's lot, facing Oak street, paying $400 for the same. Enough money has been subscribed to insure the building of the church.

A recently recorded plat of Ammerman's addition gives the street leading north through the center of the addition, the one leading north from G. W. Noble's place, the name of Cayuga street. It has heretofore been known as Ammerman street.

GEORGE FOX sold his front street property to his father and Burton Jarvis and left for his Kansas home Tuesday. This is the last of his possessions in Buchanan and it may be expected that he will not return again soon.

FROCK DAVIS has returned from his ninety days sojourn in Ionia prison and sends special request to the Record to announce to the people that he has returned and that they should look out for their chicken coops. We never heard before that Frock was in the poultry business, but as that is his request we make the announcement.

BRETHREN of the press. If an uncouth looking chap bearing a leather grip, his nose on one side of his face, one eye open, his hair scoured off the top of his head, one ear in its place, pigeon toed, and generally demoralized saunter your way, that's Brown, the traveling man who slanders the Editor of this paper in the columns of the Detroit News last month. He had the cheek to come this way again Tuesday.

CAPT. EMORY M. PELTOW, died at his home in Benton Harbor, Saturday, of dropsy and heart disease, aged 62 years. Mr. Peltow has practiced law in this county over thirty years, was a captain in the fourth Michigan cavalry during the war, served one term as member of the legislature and was widely known throughout the State. The remains were brought to this place for burial, this having been his home for many years. He leaves a widow and seven children, two of whom are now living in California.

MR. JAMES WILSON, a well-known citizen of Galien township until a short time since, died at the home of his son, in Marysville, California, last week. The remains are to be buried in Galien. Mr. Wilson was one of the early settlers of Galien township, and was for many years engaged in the lumber business, at what is known as Wilson's crossing, between Dayton and Galien.

AN organization is being formed in the north end of the county for the purpose of enforcing the local option law. It is made wholly non-political, and starts out with the firm determination of enforcing the law. All parties are invited to join, and a special invitation is extended to the saloonkeepers, as they as law-abiding citizens are expected to assist in enforcing the will of the decided majority, fairly expressed. Had the vote been the other way there would have been no attempt on the part of temperance people to violate the result.

THE Three Oaks Sun job press has been running by steam until very recently. The engine was one that Bro. Sawyer found in a pleasure boat at Paw Paw. The boiler when full held about one painful of water, and was apparently strong enough to stand a million pounds pressure, but last Thursday it took a whim and exploded. There were four persons in the room and while none of them were injured they were probably the worst astonished persons that were ever in the Sun office.

MR. RUNNER has consented to try for a while keeping the township library open at all business hours, and if he finds it to not require too much attention will continue the practice. This will certainly please the patrons of the library, especially those living in the rural part of the township better than the two days per week arrangement. The fee of the librarian is $100 per year, and the library in a business place will be likely to attract a few people into the store who might not have gone there otherwise. When there, some of them may buy.

SATURDAY will be registration day, and all who are not registered on the township poll list on or before that day will not be allowed to vote next Tuesday. There are many in town who do not appear to understand that two registrations are required before they can vote in both townships and village elections. Over forty voters were deprived of their votes at the village election, the most of them thinking that the registration for the local option election, in February, was sufficient for both elections.

THE Sheriff was in this place Saturday and subpoenaed President Harper to appear in Circuit Court, in April, and answer to the charge of the village of Buchanan having damaged B. T. Morley $5,000 worth, in removing his stock of pig iron from the gutter and not returning it. On this suit hinges the question of the power of the Council to keep the streets and gutters free from obstruction, and this is about as good a time to decide the matter as later. If it cannot be done under our present laws, new ones cannot be made too soon, as they are not good for anything but to enforce.

JUDGE O'HARA has appointed Mr. Patterson, of the firm of Reeves & Patterson, bankers of Berrien Springs, receiver of the St. Joseph Valley railroad, vice Geo. H. Richards, deceased. If there can be any more closing up of the affairs of the road than have already taken place, Mr. Patterson will be most likely to close them up. It is thought that about $15,000 will place the road in running order, that is, as good as it has ever been in, and it is supposed to be the desire of the Berrien Springs people that the road be set in motion once more, and then kept moving. The repairing of the track will be not far from the same as laying new track, as new ties must be furnished throughout, the bridges thoroughly overhauled the gravel banks dug out, the locomotive rebuilt, besides other jobs of greater or less magnitude. It will be a great advantage to both towns to have the road operated, and as the powers of receiver are such as to make such a thing among the possibilities it is to be hoped that Mr. Patterson will conclude to make just that move.

BUCHANAN girls say they'll have no young Lochinvar in theirs, and they have organized an athletic club. This is considered a direct challenge to the Chicago sports who come over into Berrien county a-pursuing—Detroit News.

OF the 150 teachers who attended the recent examination here, about 80 per cent received certificates. This is also about the same proportion, who, in naming the eminent jurists, headed the list with Judge O'Hara—Cassopolis Vigilant.

Republican Caucus.

The Republican Caucus, held in S. O. V. Hall, Saturday afternoon, was well attended, and by a number who have not heretofore affiliated in that connection.

The caucus was called to order by A. A. Worthington, and J. G. Holmes chosen as chairman. On motion, Salma Barmore was chosen secretary.

L. P. Alexander was nominated as Supervisor, and Robert Rogers for Clerk by acclamation. Five ballots were taken for Treasurer resulting in the selection of Alfred Richards. For School Inspector, B. Chamberlain was nominated by acclamation. A ballot for Commissioner of Highways resulted in the choice of Wm. Burrus. Wm. Broceus was nominated for Drain Commissioner by acclamation. For Justice of the Peace, Joseph Coveny, Jr., and for Constables, Joseph Swartz, Wm. Coveny, Leander Banker and Chas. Snyder were nominated.

On motion of W. A. Palmer, the chair appointed W. A. Palmer, Wm. Burrus and Robt. Rogers, as a committee to present to the caucus the names of three persons to act as township committee, for one, two and three years respectively. The committee reported the name of L. P. Alexander for one year, Robt. Rogers for two years, and A. A. Worthington for three years. The report of the committee was accepted and adopted, when the caucus adjourned with a good ticket to work for next Monday.

C. L. S. C.—The Alphas met at Mrs. Geo. Blower's, on March 26, with a full attendance. The next meeting will be at Mrs. Binns', April 9, at 7:30 sharp, with the following program:

Roll call; Response, a literary conundrum.
Report of critic—Mrs. Ferguson.
Paper, Martin Luther, his life work—Mrs. S. L. Hamilton.

Paper, The causes and results of the thirty years war—Mrs. E. S. Roe.
Dishes, Frederick the Great, the purpose of his reign—Miss Ida DeArmond.

Question, What was the true of God?—Mrs. H. Y. Warren.
Question, The burial places of President. The Shakespeare game for April 23d will be the four plays, Comedy of Errors, Hamlet, Macbeth, Othello. A class exercise, by Mrs. Ida Spreng.

WE are pained to record the death of Jas. H. Wilson, father of W. S. Wilson, of this city, which occurred Tuesday morning at his home here. He had got up as usual and gone out to feed the horses, and remaining out longer than usual on looking him up it was found that he was lying on the hay, dead. Mr. Wilson was of advanced age, and had suffered from severe disease, though in apparent good health at the time. It is supposed he died from paralysis.

Since writing the above we have received the following facts from W. S. Wilson:
His father was 78 years of age, and died as he had often expressed a wish to. His remains have been embalmed and sent to Galien, Mich. He leaves three sons and four daughters—two sons here, one at Hegewich, one daughter in Mattison, Ill., one at Clinton, Ia., one at Terre Coupee Prairie, Ind., and one in Galien, Mich.—River-side Call, Echo, March 25.

THE funeral services on Mr. Wilson were held in Galien today, a number from this place attending.

THERE is a rather peculiar hole in the highway at the south-west corner of this township that needs the special attention of the voters at the election next Monday. The township has been trying about twenty years to make a road across a little strip of black ash swamp about five rods across, and at the present time it is dangerous for a man not a good swimmer to attempt to walk across the place. The roadway has been built up three feet above the surface a number of times but each time settled down by the following spring so that the road is not discoverable. Arrangements should be made next Monday to either take up the road and build around this sink hole or make it solid so that there would be no further trouble with it. If puttered with as in the past the township will be called upon to pay some heavy damages for injuries received in passing through the place. Not long since a valuable horse was injured in the place and last winter John Lamb was thrown from his wagon and badly hurt while driving over it. There should be a special appropriation for that place and then repair it as it should be.

WEASA.V.

There has been considerable gossip for the past few days back implicating one of our best citizens just because some one has, during a passion, started a villainous lie, and another party, no less villainous in his attempt has encouraged an unexperienced youth to take steps he knows to be wrong and tried to institute and confirm a statement that is false from the beginning. No one entertains the least doubt about the falsity of the statement except those who wish to injure his reputation and standing and the very man who is doing the most to propagate this slanderous lie is one who avows his loyalty to his brother in Christ. Is he doing as he would be done by, when he takes the lowest possible means to tear down a brother's standing, that by so doing possibly it may make him more prominent? Is it not unwise to prefer charges against one who has lived in our midst for seven years and proven himself to be one of justice and honor, merely for the gratification of a few who have been but a generation of vipers polluting society and violating the law ever since they have been in our midst? Take these things into consideration and see which have been the most liable to society and who are the most liable to abide by our laws.

A.
Can't tell what this all means but it must be that some one down in that neck of woods has been hit, judging by the fluttering.

OF the 150 teachers who attended the recent examination here, about 80 per cent received certificates. This is also about the same proportion, who, in naming the eminent jurists, headed the list with Judge O'Hara—Cassopolis Vigilant.

At a school teachers' examination recently held in Van Buren Co., one candidate said: "Dickie is now one of the president's cabinet." "Don M. Dickinson is attorney general, and J. C. Burrows is secretary of the interior;" while another said "Texas was bought of Mexico for $2,500."—Edwardsbury Argus.

THE Detroit Journal, Tuesday, has the following regarding a former Buchananite:

It is now asserted that ex-Representative Robert Blacker, of Manistee, is in the field for the nomination for governor on the Democratic ticket. If "Bob" stays in the fellow that raises him out" will have to have a good hand.

every needed element for a little nation. Rock, coal, iron, timber, soil, etc. it has more varieties than any other equal area in the world. The climate is not severe, and the soil is fertile. The population is the pick of the world. From all the nations of the world, the best of the best have come to settle in this region.

the traveler who now takes his seat in the cars of the new line of leading roads and northward from Marietta or Gallipolis, and is whirled in soothing motion through ever varying scenes of beauty, can by no effort of the imagination picture the country as it seemed to the pioneers. If it is in the growth of the new nation, it is in the growth of the new nation.

ALICE AND PHOEBE CARY. built and located their log houses with a view to defense; it is needed; and in 1815, when the half-breed appeared at Terre Haute (or We-a-ta-no) and announced that his name was Girty, there was an ominous growl on several faces, and some of the old settlers were heard to say, as his name was "about as good as a dead warrant."

On the morning of "Mad Anthony" Wayne in 1794, permanent peace to the Ohio east of the Big Miami. The Indian titles were rapidly extinguished. The state was admitted to the Union; the seat of its government removed to Chillicothe, then at Zanesville for two years and at Chillicothe four more, and was permanently established at Columbus in 1816. For the next generation all Ohio's energies were devoted to material development. In 1831 the present liberal constitution was adopted, and Ohio seemed to enter at once upon her career of greatness. It would fill but little like this to give a list of her men and women who have since become eminent in war, statesmanship, finance, science and literature, and the most modest statement of their achievements would sound like an extraordinary eulogy.

warm beams the banner decorated tower, St. George's chapel and the wedding party passing from the one to the other. In the interior of the chapel the rays, subdued, variegated, rich, by passing through the stained glass windows, rested on the velvet robes of the bridesmaids and the bridesmaids, and the jeweled attire of Indian princesses. There the young prince in his purple mantle, and the young princess in her white gown, were joined in matrimony, and it is said that "a prouder princess and a more gallant prince were never seen out of a fairy tale."

cola. Only two years later he was nominated for congress, and entered the house of representatives in 1830 with Rufus and Garfield, all three for the first time. He was placed on the committee on public lands and on roads and canals, and his first speech, in May, 1831, was in favor of a bill giving money in the army and navy homesteads on confiscated or forfeited estates in the insurrectionary states. This was probably the most radical measure he ever advocated; for, as a rule, he has been cautious and conservative, paying more attention to financial and business matters than any other member of congress.

ton in 1796; and it is a curious fact that though his brief excited the whole nation, the American people have generally forgotten it. John Jay, the first chief justice, sat on the bench in 1796, and in 1801 he was succeeded by John Marshall. John Marshall, of South Carolina, held the place for a few months, and Oliver Ellsworth, four years, and then came John Jay. John Jay, of New York, was succeeded by John Marshall, from 1801 to 1835. Roger B. Taney followed for twenty-nine years; and thus the terms of these eminent men spanned the whole history of the republic.
