THREE OAKS up to a few years ago was an unpretentious hamlet. A genius discovered a means of utilizing feather bone and squatted at Three Oaks. Now that burg is on the list of presidential offices.—Kalamazoo Telegraph.

ST. JOSEPH is hilarious over having secured an ebonized wood factory for piano and organ keys, paying a bonus of $2,000 for it. The new comers agree to purchase their plant and operate at least twenty men steadily for five years. A broom factory has also been induced to locate in that enterprising town. May they live long and prosper.

THERE is some talk in Niles of having the city council license a number of saloons to run there after May 7. The Star says the council is built that way. Better not do it. The balance of the county is interested in that question, or appeared so on February 28, and some one is likely to get into trouble, if any such attempt be made to violate the law. Would the saloon-keepers expect any protest or attempt on the part of the temperance people of the county to violate the result of that vote? Not very much. The growling and threats to violate the law are but evidences of weakness and that they are in the wrong.

SUICIDE—Sunday evening, after returning from church, Horace Howe took a strange freak at handling a revolver. He snapped it twice at his wife but it failed to discharge and gave her time to get out of the house and run to her father's. On the third attempt he turned the weapon toward himself and the bullet passed near enough to his heart to kill him instantly. He was about thirty years old; son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Howe. No cause can be given for the deed unless it be despondency caused by poor health and trouble about getting employment at remunerative wages. The remains were buried in Oak Ridge cemetery, Tuesday, and the funeral largely attended.

BERRIEN township Republican club organized with the following officers: President, Thomas Mars; vice-presidents, J. S. Wright, S. Z. Waltz and A. J. Dean; secretary, J. K. P. McCullough; treasurer, Joseph Tennant; reader, J. H. Crall; executive committee, one in each school district as follows: A. S. Ricketts in No. 2; R. Smith Pennell, No. 3; B. F. Mars, No. 4; John H. Ulrey, No. 5; Austin I. Ulrey, No. 7; S. W. Becker, No. 8; Edward M. Hursb, No. 11; Alvin Michael, No. 12, fractional; C. B. Groat, No. 20, fractional; Thomas W. Jones, districts 10 and 21, fractional; and John H. Rogers, in No. 21, fractional of Niles. Bylaws sent out by Republican state committee were adopted. This is a good pattern for the other townships of the county.

THE Journal gives the Buchanan Dramatic Company an excellent notice for the rendition of the Social Glimpse, in Berrien Springs, highly complimentary to the members for the manner in which they handle the play.

ORONOKO AND BERRIEN townships are in about the same predicament as were Buchanan and Niles, a few years since, over a bridge across the St. Joseph river, and there is a likelihood of another cheap rattle trap being built there. A few of these cheap bridges with damage to property lost by their tumbling down will pay for good ones. It looks like a short-sighted poor policy, brought about by the two townships having conflicting interests in connection. The proper thing would be for the county to build and keep up all such bridges, as does Indiana. There does not lack much of being as much travel across that bridge by residents of Niles and the northern townships as by those of Berrien.

BERRIEN TOWNSHIP Republicans adopted the following at their caucus last week: Resolved, That it is the sense of this Convention of Republicans, now assembled, that we pledge ourselves to the best and earnest endeavor to see that the local option law is strictly enforced, and that we will not support any candidate for township, county, state or national office who are not pronounced and outspoken temperance men, both by precept and example, in all that the words imply. And that we will endeavor and labor to have engrained in our state and National platform temperance planks so broad and comprehensive that all temperance men can stand side by side, regardless of past party affiliations, and all join hands and make common cause in the elimination and extermination of the open saloon.

C. L. S. C.—The Alphas met April 9, at Mrs. Binns' with good attendance in spite of the storm which prevailed; in fact, storms have nothing to do with the enthusiasm of the Alphas. The next meeting will be held at Mrs. Post's April 23, at 7:30 sharp, with the following program: SHAKESPEARE'S DAY. Roll Call—Response, a choice selection from each assigned play. Plays to be used in the game: Comedy of Errors, Hamlet, Merchant of Venice, Macbeth.

Obituary. In the death of Hon. John D. Ross, who died at his home, in the village of Buchanan, on Saturday, April 7, 1888, we have lost one of our most important and highly respected and beloved citizens.

MR. ROSS was born Jan. 2, 1807, in Trumbull county, Ohio. In early life he was a blacksmith, having learned his trade in Cincinnati. In 1827 he was married to Eliza Labatay, and that year settled in Navesmick, Ind., where they lived several years and there reared his wife and three of their children, all of whom died suddenly of cholera. Their other child, a son, Thomas J. Ross, now of Topeka, Kan., came very near dying at same time with same dread disease. In 1834 Mr. Ross left Newcastle and went to Niles, Mich., where he remained about a year, and was then engaged as foreman in the establishment of Wheeler & Hoyt. He removed from there to Hudson Lake, Ind., where he married his second wife, Jane Conner. Remained at Hudson Lake but a short time, going from there to Plainfield, Ind., and there started a "tavern". After a short time in that business, he pulled up and went to Terre Coupe, Ind., where he located and went into the dry goods business, continuing but a short time in the business. There his second wife and one child died, during the sickly season of 1838. One of their two children, now Mrs. T. M. Fulton, of Chicago, is still living. Mr. Ross was postmaster at Terre Coupe, from which place he moved to Hamilton, in the same state, taking the post-office with him. In 1839 he married Miss Martha A. DeArmond, who survives him. Only one of their children, Alfred F. Ross, cashier of the Farmers & Manufacturers Bank, of this place, is now living, making one of each of the children of his three wives living. From Hamilton Mr. Ross moved to Valparaiso, Ind., in 1842, and there went into the dry goods business, and in 1847 removed from there to this place and again engaged in general merchandizing, doing a large and extensive business. Also purchased the flouring mill, continuing in milling and merchandizing for many years. In 1867 he engaged in banking. He was the first postmaster in this place, having secured the establishment of the post-office in 1848, being the postmaster several years and resigning same. He was elected Representative to the state Legislature in 1854. In 1859 he was elected President of this village, and elected again in each of the years 1861, 2, 3, and 6, and again in 1871, 1880, 1 and 2, in all of which official positions he was an efficient, faithful and most honorable public servant. He built the first brick residence in Buchanan, where he resided from 1854 until his death. He was interested in the first brick business block in the place, a three-story structure. Subsequently erected two other business brick buildings. He took the greatest interest in building up the town and its business interests, even in his very last days was deeply interested in the improvement of streets, etc. He was highly successful in business. His social qualities were seldom equaled. Always cheerful and pleasant to all.

The writer can say that, after forty-one years intimate acquaintance, nearly one-half of which we were associated in a very large and extensive business, that the deceased was what the "book of books" calls the "noblest work of God," an honest man.

The wife of Mr. Ross, who survives him, being his junior by many years, by her ever devoted, kind, faithful and watchful care, not only prolonged life, but made it happy and cheerful to the last moment.

The funeral was at the residence, on Tuesday afternoon. Sermon by Dr. Berriek, who eulogized the deceased highly, and was attended by a large number of sympathizing friends, who followed the remains to its last resting place, in Oak Ridge cemetery. L. P. A.
