All of the Anarchists are members of the democratic party.

The republican parade at Republic, was egged Thursday night.

Eighteen more days in which to battle political, when comes the final tug.

Republicans have never been more enthusiastic or confident of a rousing success since the sixties.

There have been 544 cases and 313 deaths, from yellow fever in Jacksonville, Florida.

Natural gas has been discovered in Trenton rock at Wabash, Ind., only thirteen feet below the surface. The well is on a farm ten miles south of town.

The most appalling railroad disaster for 1888 was on the Lehigh Valley road near White Haven, Pa., Oct. 10, in which 55 persons were killed and 40 injured.

A number went to Goshen Tuesday to hear Dan Vorhes. Some of them doubtless expected to hear him explain why he said "Not another man, not another dollar to carry on this unholy war," but he doesn't explain such things unless Senator Ingalls gets a grip on him.

Republicans should be careful about making bets on the election. We want all of your votes, and a challenge from some democratic friend on the strength of a bet will shut you out.
While the field is most promising, your vote is of more importance.
Don't bet.

The republicans have every reason for being on their guard for breakers.
It has been openly boasted that Burt had put $250,000 into the campaign, and all past experience teaches just how such sums of money in a campaign.
The greatest vigilance must be exercised and any move in the direction of corruption promptly quelled.

There is no place in this country where a democrat may not vote just as he pleases, and have his vote counted and reported just as he cast it, but there are a number of states in which republicans do not enjoy this privilege.
If there were no other question before the people, this one should make every northern man a republican.

Will the democrats who are prating about high state taxes, be kind enough to tell us: What state institutions would you party cut out in order to economize? Would you send the inmates of the soldier's home back to the county poor houses? Would you stop providing for the insane by the state and send them back to the county poor houses? The Asylums are over-full now and a large number of pauper insane, who cannot be accommodated. Would you make no effort to take care of them? They are on our hands and there is but one way to get rid of them with little expense, to bury them. Would you economize in that way? No charge is made for the republicans have spent the money for anything unnecessary, but the amount of money raised is increasing, and in order to stop you must elect democrats.
States which have been electing democrats as a steady diet, are not so well pleased with their state management as we are here in Michigan.

The Republican meeting, Saturday afternoon, was in every way a grand success. Large delegations from Gallen, Three Oaks, Berrien Springs and Weesaw arrived in the forenoon, and in the afternoon a large audience filling the Ross corner lot as far back as people could hear, listening to a short speech by Hon. J. C. Burrows, whose remarks were cut short by hoarseness that prevented him from talking. He was followed by Mrs. J. Ellen Foster, who delivered the best speech we have heard during the campaign, devoting her attention almost wholly to the temperance phase of politics. There is probably no person in America better qualified to speak upon that question than she. In the evening a special train of thirteen cars brought 700 people from Dowagiac and Niles, and such a torch light procession as Buchanan has not seen in many years was had, nearly 1000 torches being in line, besides about fifty Chinese lanterns carried by the young lady's clubs of Buchanan and Berrien County, and bands from Three Oaks, Galien, Niles, Dowagiac and Buchanan and the drum corps. After the procession Col. Brigham delivered an excellent address from the stand. The exercises of the day were interspersed with excellent singing by the Niles club. The rain which commenced about four o'clock and lasted about two hours, drove many home earlier than they would otherwise have gone, and prevented many others from joining the ranks. There were a number in the ranks who have heretofore been against the Republican party, either as Democrats, Greenbackers, Prohibition-ists, or those who thought four years ago they wanted "a change" and now want another worse than they wanted the first.

A Pennsylvania postmaster failed to deliver a lot of Sunday school tracts for over a month because they thought they were political documents. Ohio and in other states the democratic postmasters shove their party political documents into the folds of republican newspapers delivered from their offices, and there are many other indications of rottenness in the postal service.
The rascals should be dumped out in a heap.

In Dakota, out of a total of over one hundred thousand votes on the delegate to congress, the Democratic minority polled 87,000 votes, with a free and untrammeled ballot. Contrast this with Georgia. She elects 10 Democrat congressmen for whom are cast a total of but 27,000 ballots, or 10,000 less for 10 congressmen than one delegate to congress received from the minority party in Dakota. And yet it is these 10 Georgia congressmen that prevent the admission to the Union of Dakota as a state.

Is not this of itself enough to fill the entire country, except the solid south, with republicans?

Pertinent and Impertinent.

ard?—Youngstown Telegram.

coln, ever freed a slave?—Washington

Yes. It is in the Republican platform in plain United States.

Is Cleveland Beaten?

Mr. H. V. Boynton, the well-known and trustworthy correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette, says that the Hon. W. L. Scott has been setting forth in very plain language to the Democrats in Washington his views of the situation.

He has told them flatly that, as the case now stands, Mr. Cleveland is beaten, and that unless something can be devised to change the situation there can be no hope of success. He gave them as his main reason that the fear of the free-trade tendencies of the Democracy had so permeated the laboring and manufacturing classes as to insure the defeat of their party unless some showing could be promptly made which would check the current now settling so strongly, the country over, toward Harrison and Morton among these classes. He expressed a decided opinion, and in very emphatic language, that the sending of Mills and Breckenridge and other Southern free-traders around the North to astray was the only way to insure the success of their party, and that Northern manufacturers and workmen had proved a serious mistake.

Supervisors.

The supervisors met Monday and all the members were present but two.
The special committee reported favorable on buying the acre wood lot for the poor farm. Action was taken on the same Friday morning.

The county director commissioner presented his report and the same was accepted.

same as the past two years; clerk, $1,000; treasurer, $1,400; prosecuting attorney, $1,600.

A. W. Marks was elected county superintendent of the poor, having received 10 out of the 23 votes.

Claim of St. Joseph county for trial of Ben Harrison for work against C. W. & M. R. Co. was allowed, $202.65.

Committees on the Weesaw drain taxes reported that they found the claim of the Supervisor of Weesaw certain amount of drain taxes, amounting to $1,005, to the Board of Supervisors of 1887 and that for some reason, to the committee unknown, the same was omitted from the report of the finance committee and was not spread; that this present Board cannot authorize the Supervisor of Weesaw township to spread the same, unless the clerk of said township will include the same in his report of this year. A special messenger was sent for the clerk of the Supervisor of Weesaw

the clerk of said township will include the same in his report of this year. A

St. Joseph Republican.

caught thirteen black bass weighing 40 pounds, Monday. Mr. McKeller, of Benton Harbor, has the plans and specifications for the Detroit & Cleveland Street Passenger Railroad, and and the company will probably be ready to receive bids in a few days.

County surveyor Graves is preparing drawings for the same.

Niles Republican.

Mr. JOHN HAMILTON, at his home two miles north of the city, on Saturday last, fell from a low, slanting roof and broke both bones of his ankle.
As Mr. Hamilton is well along in years for some time. His son, Alexander Leeds, a son of Judge A. B. Leeds, of this county, was a gallant soldier in the Sixth Maryland Infantry, and after serving as a postal clerk for sixteen years without missing a day on his railroad, has been dismissed. This is the way President Cleveland reforms the public service.

4,200 pounds.

A son of Joseph Grose, of Maple one day last week, and the poor little victim lived 24 hours before death re-

Two sons of Mr. Broadhead, residing about two miles from St. Louis while at work the other day, discovered a large animal crossing the field.
They secured a gun and gave chase, and in about 30 minutes succeeded in bagging their game. It proved to be a lynx, which measured five feet in length and weighed 35 pounds.

A sad accident took place at the home of Al. Miller, a farmer living near La Grange, which resulted in the death of the four-year-old son of James Soerlock. The boy was playing with the little daughter of Mr. Miller, and seeing a target gun in a cupboard, took it out. The children commenced wrestling for the possession of the gun, and it was accidentally discharged, the shot striking the boy in the face killing him instantly.—Dowagiac Times.

The Old Fashioned Tired Man.

This is the day when the "tired man" who is engaged to work on a farm for a season, reports to his employer, of course, that there is somewhere a farm on which such a relic of a bygone age as the hired man is to be found this year.
What an institution he used to be in the olden times, and how much he has lost! A price was put upon his head, and all sorts of traps and ambushes were prepared for him. It is said that one of the most famous of the olden times was a hunter named "Old Man," who was known for his skill in the art of hunting. He was a man of great strength and courage, and he was known for his skill in the art of hunting. He was a man of great strength and courage, and he was known for his skill in the art of hunting.

Every great newspaper represents an intellectual, a moral, and a material growth; the accretion of successful efforts from year to year until it has become an institution and a power; it is the voice of the people, the twenty, or thirty years of honest labor with the public, and just discussions of current questions, have given.

South Bay Duck Shooting.

A Day in a "Battery" with Gun in Hand.
"Batteries" with Guns in Hand.
There is a fascination to many sportsmen in shooting ducks from a South Bay battery, though a more cramped and uncomfortable position than that found than that required by the gunner. The battery consists of a box about eighteen inches deep and long enough to admit the outstretched body of a man. A rubber coat is stretched over the sides and a sandbag serves for the pillow.
From the box extends on each side a flat, riflelike screen composed of wood and brown canvas, which serves to float the box and trap the ducks as they as they dash up against it. By means of weights the box is sunk in the water and iron decoy ducks hold it in place. A hundred decoys are scattered about the box in a natural manner. The gunner then lies down flat in the box, with his shell on one side and his gun on the other. With a parting instruction to be ready and keep down the gunner battery man sails away, leaving the gunner alone on the sea.

To the man first trying the sport the situation is a peculiar one, and the sensation the same. All alone, surrounded by the little flock of decoys, and the waves pounding up with a swish against the gun and the box, he feels somewhat insecure. As he lies flat in the box, his body and head are below the level of the water. Sometimes, if the wind is blowing pretty strong, a wave will break over the box, tickling his face with briny drops and sending cold streams of liquid down his back. If he is a sportsman he will only laugh at this and take a pull at his whisky flask to prevent catching cold. Sometimes the waves are so high that the gunner is compelled to bail out his box or it will become a fish pond in the sea. The sun beating down on his head and the heat in about ten minutes.
Meanwhile the salt sea is lapping at the bay to stir up the ducks. A bunch of birds is aroused, and as the birds go skimming along the water they spy the gunner and the decoys and they are breathing peacefully feeding, slapping their wings and making a low, steady course toward them. As they sail up to the decoys they soon perceive they are deceived and wheel away. Just as they come about is a good time to fire, and if the gunner is expert while they are getting away he has time to slip in another shell and fill the back of the rear duck bullet. The gunner stands up in the battery, which is a signal for the sailboat men to come up and gather in the fowls that have been shot.

The gunner stretches himself out again and waits for another flock. If the ducks are thick and not in a suspicious mood he will not wait to remain so long before another wave will be along and more birds will be blowing away. Sometimes favorable morning there is a constant booming of guns on the bay, and big headloads of ducks are brought in. It is an uncommon thing in the autumn for a man to shoot fifty to eighty ducks from A Village Destroyed by Ice.

Advices from the fishing village of Koroon, in Kola, a peninsula on the White Sea, describe a wonderful phenomenon, new in Arctic annals, which took place on January 5 last.
At 4 o'clock in the morning the fishing boats were awakened by a series of heavy, dull detonations, like heavy artillery. Shortly afterward a great ice wall to the north-west, several hundred feet high, began to move toward the village, which they completely enclosed, and kept onward for a mile inland.
The ice traveled a mile and a half in four hours. The villagers saved their lives, but little else.—Philadelphia

Republican Meeting!

O. W. COOLIDGE,

—AND—

E. L. HAMILTON

WILL SPEAK AT

DAYTON,

Thursday Evening,

October 25.

The young men's republican club raised one of the prettiest poles in the county, for Will Sparks, last evening. 48 torches were out.

The Niles and Benton Harbor High schools each contribute one to the Freshman class in the University literary department, this year.

It may not be out of place to note that Prosecuting Attorney Brigidan has cleared the boards of criminal causes again at the present term of court, and no cases thrown out of court.

L. A. DUNCAN, of Niles has been appointed a member of the executive committee of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Association of South-western Michigan.

THERE appears to be something wrong with the third-party prohibitionists, since Saturday. One would think by their actions that they had been caught out in a cyclone.

SPECIAL TRAIN.—A special train will take those who want to go to Niles tomorrow evening, and return after the republican meeting. All who can should go. Fare 40 cents for the round trip.

Mr. WILL HAGAR, who has run the laundry business in this place for some time, has closed his business and goes next week to Michigan City, where he will work at the same business for a salary.

It is reported that some one in the procession, Saturday evening, took an umbrella away from Mrs. Oman's little daughter. Such an act deserves severe punishment, and an effort should be made to find the mean thief.

THERE will be a school entertainment, at the school house in Hill's Corners, Saturday evening, Oct. 27, for the benefit of the school. All are cordially invited to come and bring 10 cents.

HON. J. C. BURROWS will speak in Gales to-morrow afternoon, and in Niles in the evening. There will be a torchlight procession in Niles in the evening. Buchanan Republicans will take part in the demonstration.

The Cassopolis Democrat credits the Mirror's eel and fish stories to natural gas. It is not that. The Mirror editor could tell the largest fish stories of any man in America, long before natural gas was thought of.

The firm of E. Allen & Co., who used to sell dry goods in Niles and made a great spread, but moved to St. Paul for a larger field, has just busted for $70,000.

THE W. R. C. desire to return thanks to Wm. R. G. for the use of his room for their dinner, Oct. 13. Also to the citizens of Buchanan and surrounding country for their liberal donations.

By Order COM.

The rain Saturday evening had a dampening effect upon the political meetings in this place and Niles, but did not prevent ours being a first-class success, with the largest and most brilliant display known to Buchanan in twenty years.

THERE was a republican pole raising at Eli Roe's and another at Baker-town Monday evening, and the democrats one for "Button" Evans Tuesday evening.

The democrat banner broke its support again Tuesday and came down into the mud. Some charitable person removed it to the sidewalk, where it remained until Burns Helmick came to its rescue.

THE RECORD yesterday finished the press work, on a job of 200,000 circulars of 8 pages each, for a firm in western Illinois, the second of the same kind done since March.

SOME of the abuse that is being heaped upon Mrs. Foster by the prohibitionists and so-called christian temperance workers in this vicinity is simply outrageous. No lesser title will describe it.

Among those who are in favor of "a change" may be counted Mr. Will Scott. He is a good republican, but has three girls in his family. The youngest, weighing 11 pounds, was born Sunday.

The meeting of the County Grange has been quite well attended, although not a large meeting. There was a good program, well carried out. The next meeting will be the regular annual meeting in Berrien Centre, on the second Tuesday of January.

LOT BONINE, of Vandalia, one of the most widely known farmers in this section of the state, has just issued a circular which closes as follows: I have voted the democrat ticket for 13 years but I now hurrah for Harrison and Morton.

Chicago harbor is so crowded that there is talk of not allowing the City of Detroit, that is to be put on the St. Joseph line next season, to enter the river, but keep her on the lake front, and the same with all other excursion and fruit boats. The Detroit is sixty-five feet wide, and will obstruct one side of the draw bridge she stands near three or four hours every day.

DR. OSTRANDER has moved his office to the front corner room in Redden's block. He has there one of the finest rooms and most pleasant locations to be found in the county.

MR. SAMUEL PENWELL, of Chamberlain, Dakota, is visiting in this county. Mr. Penwell is a staunch Republican, but as he is disfranchised by the power that attempted to disrupt the Union, and cannot take part in the election, he proposes to remain in Michigan and see others do the work.

ONCE more Tom Hurley is out of the Berrien county journalistic field, the Gazette having suspended. This brings the number of papers in the county down to the small number of seventeen, which ought to keep a community of 87,000 people pretty well posted on local affairs.

An attempt was made to rob the safe in the Michigan Central freight office, Sunday night. The door was shattered and the safe ruined, but the fellows were scared away by their own noise and failed to secure the $2 which the safe contained.

THE FARMERS and MANUFACTURERS bank which has done business, either as national or private banking institution for thirty years, closed its business Tuesday evening, and yesterday morning the new First National, with John F. Reynolds as cashier, opened for business.

ONE of the best attractions lately introduced in Chicago, is the Cyclorama "Jerusalem on the day of crucifixion," now in the building erected for the "Siege of Paris," is said to be one of the finest and most interesting in the city. Well worth a visit.

M. N. LORD was bounced from the post-office at Glen Lord, in this county, because he failed to come down with $10 for the support of the Cleveland campaign. An amount almost equal to the total receipts of the little office. Of such is the Cleveland idea of civil service reform.

The Bertrand Republican club had a good turn-out and a rousing good time, at Bakertown, Monday evening. They had a pole-raising, a speech by Joel H. Gillette, and added several new names to the club list. The next meeting will be held at the residence of Joel H. Gillette, Tuesday evening, at 7.30.

C. L. S. C.—The Alphas had a very pleasant and profitable meeting Monday evening, at Mrs. H. F. Kingery's. They will hold their next meeting, Monday, Oct. 29, at Mrs. Dodd's, at 7 sharp.

PROGRAM:
Roll call—Response, quotations suited to the character of Pericles.
Paper—Life of Pericles, Miss Haller.
Sketch descriptive of the Acropolis in the time of Pericles, Mrs. Rhinipon.
Questions on Pericles in Oct. Chautauqua. A class contest.

History of Greece, Chapters 5 and 6, each member to bring a written question.
Story of the Anabasis, told by each of two persons. Positively the names are not to be known till the meeting.

A SCHEDULE is now being worked up to build another dam across the river between South Bend and Bertrand, and transfer the power back to South Bend by electricity. The low stages of water in the river are becoming so frequent and lasting that the factories at South Bend find themselves without power during a great portion of the season when they should be most busy. There is no immediate prospect that the proposed dam at this place will be built at once, although it should be done.

The Democratic county committee made a trip through this section of the county a few days since, and now we hear of money being left for the purchase of votes. It may be well for those who engage in that business, either directly or through an agent, to know that they will be guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of $200, and the Republicans are of just that temper this campaign that they will prosecute any attempt of the kind that can be detected.

MR. WILLIAM SANBORN DENNO was born April 8, 1846, in St. Joseph county, Ind., and died at his home, in Niles township, Oct. 13, 1888. The disease that terminated his mortal career was typhoid fever. A wife and seven children mourn their sad loss. Mr. Denno made a profession of the religion of Christ about twelve years ago, and after his removal to Michigan he took membership in the Christian church at Buchanan. He was an affectionate husband, a kind father, a loving neighbor, and an honest man. On Monday afternoon the funeral service was conducted at his late home by Elder Wm. M. Roe, and was largely attended.

The Democrats, in order to get up their banner, put up a short pole in the lot next to the livery stable, and Thursday evening attempted to raise the banner by a wire stretched from that to the hotel, but the wire broke and the banner came down. A new support was secured but that also broke and down came the banner again. Next morning, however, a rope strong enough to bear the weight was procured and the banner raised. During the day the large flag and streamer intended for the 200 feet pole were used to decorate the hotel.

WHAT'S the matter with Buchanan young republicans? They're all right. The Detroit Tribune yesterday morning announced that the banner it offered to the largest club, who shall pledge to cast their first presidential vote for Harrison and Morton, proportionate to the vote of the town on governor in 1886, had been won by the Buchanan first voters' club. In 1886 Buchanan cast 433 votes for governor, and the club numbers 433 total voters, 10 to 10 per cent of the total vote. It may be well for local democratic candidates to keep in mind the existence of this club. There are quite a number in the republican club who will vote their first republican ticket this fall, but who have heretofore voted democratic. This is a great element that is spreading a great amount of fatigue through local democratic ranks.

A THIRD gas well has been placed in working order in Port Huron, by the torpedoed process. Niles has let the contract for another job of boring there, and their prospect of success is flattering. It may pay Buchanan to keep watch of their discoveries, and make a study of the underpinning of this section. We would rather have natural gas than the railroad, but with the gas the other will come as soon as it can get here.

It is earnestly requested that all voters who are going to cast their first Presidential vote for Harrison and Morton, will meet at S. O. V. hall on Friday evening to dedicate the prize banner which has been awarded our club, and go to Niles in a body on the special train which will leave Buchanan at 6:45. It is hoped every member of the club, and many others, will be present.

W. R. HARPER, Sec.

MR. FRED CARLISLE was here again last week for a short time in connection with his railroad business, and appeared somewhat displeased with something and indulged in some threats to run three or four miles west of town. Buchanan is awaiting developments from him and Mr. Smith, who is said to have bought the narrow gauge mortgages, but is not going to crowd her property upon either one of them without first knowing what they must have and why they must have it. A very good way for Mr. Carlisle would be for him to come here with his plans and specifications in a business-like manner, and then Buchanan can accept or reject the propositions in the same kind of manner.

AFTER copying the RECORD account of the egg-throwing transaction in this place, the Niles Republican says: On Monday last young Antislavery was voluntarily taken to Buchanan by his father, where the young man placed at the city and $12.45 fine and costs, one-half of which was paid by the hotel keeper, from whose window the eggs were thrown.

It will now be in order for the Buchanan correspondent to the Star to write that Niles contains an editor who uses his paper to "lie about and slander respectable citizens," and ask the Republican to please copy. The boys talked considerably about the egg-throwing before their time was paid, when they talked much less. Perhaps the whole story may come to light in time.

THE Republican Convention for the Second Representative District of Berrien county met in Town hall, Three Oaks, Friday afternoon. Hon. Wm. Chamberlain, of Three Oaks, was made chairman and Chas. T. Dickson, of Niles, Secretary. An informal ballot was taken for candidate for representative which gave B. D. Harper, of Buchanan, 90; John M. Glavin, of New Buffalo, 13; and Sherwood, of Three Oaks, 30, scattering. 2, when on motion of Mr. Glavin, seconded by Mr. Sherwood, the nomination of Mr. Harper was made unanimous by acclamation. The Chair appointed for District Committee, for the ensuing year: Alvah Sherwood, of Three Oaks; Joel H. Gillette, of Bertrand; Frank Treat, of Buchanan. Music was furnished by Buchanan serenading club. A procession of about 200 torch lights, Harmon y band and Buchanan drum corps occupied the time after the election until the arrival of the Kalamazoo accommodation, which brought Col. L. M. Ward, who gave them a good speech. Report reaches us of more egg-throwing being indulged in that evening.

CHICAGO'S STRIKE.

BRIEF AND CONNECTED 'RECAPIT OF ITS CAUSES AND HISTORY.

Showing the Regular Rates Which Govern the Evolution of Events in Strike—Some Scenes of the Trouble, Both Grave and Gay.

At 6 o'clock one October morning, A. D. 1888, the last night car in North Chicago entered the barn and a strike began which before it was concluded extended over the city and almost paralyzed business.

The cause was as usual. Charles T. Yerkes, president of the North Chicago Street Railroad company, and its directors, had been paying the men in one section twenty-one cents per hour and in the other by trying to get the men to work on Saturday. At least fifty men applied at drug stores for the picture of the strike, showing how severe the action had been. And with similar scenes elsewhere, thus passed the third day.

The next day was but a repetition of the third, on a larger scale, 500 policemen at one time being engaged in a desperate clubbing match with a mob of perhaps 10,000 people. The men in the usual procession, committees of citizens made the usual attempts to settle the difficulty, and the usual phenomena followed—that is, the riding got worse and the men who started it, and all the enemies of order began to take a hand. Dynamite was alleged to have been found upon the tracks, and the strikers are said to have received offers of bounties.

THROBING OF THE THIRD DAY.

The strike development brought the managers of the street railroads face to face with the fact that unless there was a settlement of the strike very soon its operations would shortly be extended to the lines controlled by the same people in other cities, notably New York, Brooklyn and Philadelphia. So the strike was settled without unnecessary delay, and a modicum of peace between labor and capital was restored.

DEATH OF HENRY MONETT.

A Well Known and Popular Railroad Official.

Henry Monett, the general passenger agent of the New York Central railroad, who died a short time ago, was one of the most popular railroad men in the United States. He knew every one, and was liked by every one. He climbed to his comfortable position, at the age of 34, by his own business capability and energy.

Mr. Monett was born in Columbus, O., in 1854. His father being connected with the Journal of that city. In 1880 he became messenger and ticket agent in the office of the general passenger agent of the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and St. Louis railway at its native place, and held the position up to 1883.

Mr. Monett was connected with the Pennsylvania's lines until 1882, during which time he held the position of general passenger agent of the Pennsylvania company that he became a temporary correspondent of the Philadelphia Journal, and made a creditable record as a lively collector of news.

When the New York, Chicago and St. Louis railroad (the "Nickel Plate") enterprise was launched by Collis S. Barker and his associates, Mr. Monett was made the general passenger agent of the road, where, however, he had little opportunity of adding to his reputation before he was secured for the same position by the West Shore railroad in 1883. When the New York Central absorbed the West Shore Mr. Monett's position was again changed, but he remained quiet working in his departments until the death of Daniel S. Kendrick, general passenger agent of the New York Central, whose successor he was made on Feb. 1, 1887. He administered the affairs of his department with exceptional ability, and he had laid the foundation for a career as a railroad man which, had he lived, would have been one of the brightest in the annals of railroad history.

A Domestic Philosopher.

James—That girl is certainly a desperado, and I wouldn't trust her; but if you are sure of her, why don't you take chances and marry her?

Bliss—Wouldn't do, old fellow, the risk is too great; she'll break the heart of any man who marries.

"Are you going to give her up?"

"No; but I'll wait until she marries some one else, and then I'll doze with her."—Philosophical Record.

JOURNALS OF THE WEST.

HOW, WHERE, WHEN AND BY WHOM THEY WERE STARTED.

The Log Building in Which the First Newspaper West of the Alleghenies Was Printed—Portraits of Two Journalistic Pioneers—Interesting Reminiscences.

The centennials of Ohio have brought out all the preserved copies of old papers and books, and the papers contain some racy stories of old time journalism beyond the Alleghenies.

THE FIRST OFFICE OF THE KENTUCKY GAZETTE.

Mr. William Henry Perry, of Louisville, has been the editor of the Kentucky Gazette since 1858. He has been the editor of the paper for many years, and has been a pioneer in the field of journalism. He has been a pioneer in the field of journalism, and has been a pioneer in the field of journalism.

There was a night of discussion by the public authorities with strikers and operators, but nothing was agreed on, and both sides entered on the third day grim and determined. "This is the third day," said a strikers' spokesman, "and we are in a buggy. They were struck by missiles, and without hesitation drew their revolvers and fired into the surging crowd, but, strange to say, only one man was killed. This was Peter Bergan, a laborer, who received a bullet in the thigh. The horse reared and then ran away, tearing his way through the dense crowd of men and scattering them right and left, knocking many to the ground. The two men fired shots apiece. This was the only thing that saved the lives of the men in the buggy, for there was a scattering, and the men were scattered in a desperate mood and ready to kill them.

The car started, 5,000 people blocking the street. It was driven by a white fella named Delphian, named Gordon Curtis, who looked so frightened that even the crowd took pity on him. The front and rear platforms were covered with policemen, and the occupants of the interior of the car were policemen and reporters. A patrol wagon filled with officers preceded the car and another followed it, the officers walking by the side of it.

Then a regular battle began, 150 policemen against 5,000 men. The air was filled with stones and sticks, and there was that sickening sound which accompanies the sudden meeting of a policeman's club and a citizen's head. Not an officer escaped being hit, but that didn't matter. Madison street was reached where there was a scattering, and the policemen took a rest. Every foot of ground had been fairly won, and there wasn't a bluecoat who didn't have blood on his club. Fully 100 officers were struck in the face and head, some of them two or three times, and when the command was called together at Madison street there was a uniform with blood on his face. The morning paper reporters were in the head of the Kentucky Gazette, the first newspaper on the upper Mississippi, had started for the regions above and below the river, and had been in the field for many years. In 1843 Gen. Thelma A. Howard, charged with the duty of the United States to Texas, and the paper in Rockville, Md. where he resided, devoted just half a column to the life, death, burial and the meeting of the citizens to pass resolutions. But every issue of the paper contained a full speech of Henry Clay, John M. Stuart or other prominent Whigs, and frequently the entire paper was filled by speeches, editorials and extracts from New York papers. Nowadays one may find the complete social history for many years of any country town in the west in the files of the local paper.

The oldest existing paper of Kentucky is the Louisville Edition of the Paris Free Press, in 1808. Two years later the noted Humphrey Marshall established The American Republic at Frankfort. Later he established two other papers, one of which, The Harbinger, had under its title head the cut of a rattlesnake in coil, and the motto, "Wallo snakes." Marshall died while writing many other papers, and had a stormy life. His son, Shadrach, Penn issued the first daily paper in Kentucky, The Public Advertiser, at Louisville, April 4, 1838. This was a native of the state, and was published in the magnificent building of The Tribune, the newspaper which was founded and built up by the genius and labor of Horace Greeley.

Alexander Doyle, the celebrated American sculptor, has the work in hand. He has just completed the model. The monument will consist of a bronze statue in sitting posture in the proportion of a nine-foot standing figure. In sculpture it would thus be classed as heroic. In the design model Greeley is represented sitting in an easy and natural position, and they would be the design of the old fashioned type. His attitude is as careless and unassuming as that of old Rip Van Winkle.

The discussion calls to mind the peculiar handshakes of the Sisseton and Wahpeton Sioux, who have, with rare exceptions, remained at peace with the whites from the first and were yet overruled in the general changes that followed the Minnesota massacre of 1862. In 1851 they sold all their lands in Iowa and Minnesota save a reservation on the upper Minnesota river, and were to receive $50,000 a year for twenty-five years. Little Crow, one of the chiefs, and a few of his followers joined in the raids of 1862; but most of the bands remained peaceful. Nevertheless, in February, 1863, the United States abrogated all the old treaties, and the Sisseton and Wahpeton Sioux lost everything. A new treaty was made in 1867, by which they received a reservation further west, and those Indians have since made considerable progress in civilization.

1884 his adherents outside of the German speaking countries were very few and scattered, but in that year it invaded Holland and Belgium, and a great many societies sprang up in those countries. It was introduced to the French nation in 1883 by Professor Kerkhoffs, and many noted Frenchmen became interested. It is now studied enthusiastically in the United States, especially in Boston and New York. It is not altogether impossible that it may some day actually be what its inventor intended it to be—the universal language.
