If Berrien county could only give her railroad heroscape a twist and know positively what is to be, what a contented people some of us would be!

In the comparison of Decoration Day orators in the RECORD last week, we meant the one delivered three years ago instead of two years, as was erroneously stated.

ONE St. Joseph citizen has served an injunction upon the railroad builders to stop them from trespassing upon his premises before right of way has been settled.

LIST of letters remaining uncalled for in the post-office at Buchanan, Mich., for the week ending June 11, '89: Mr. Amos Snyder.

IN this paper we publish in full that "offensively partisan" oration delivered in the opera house by Rev. W. I. Cogshall on Decoration Day. The RECORD requests its readers to carefully study the partisanship in that oration.

NILES Star kindly informs Buchanan and Dowagiac that we can get along well enough without having the trains stop. We can go to Niles whenever we want to take a train. Now it is extremely kind of Niles to permit such unheard-of generosity.

More surface gas has been discovered in the vicinity of the Niles gas well and stock is booming once more. This time the inflammable stuff comes up in a cornfield. There is nothing more enduring than the perseverance of the Niles gas seeker.

MR. E. W. SANDERS has presented the Portage Prairie Shooting Club an elegant championship badge. By virtue of some of his fine shooting Charley Snyder now carries the badge, and will continue to do so until June 22, when the rest of the boys will try to take it from him.

MR. ABRAHAM ESTES made his first pilgrimage upon the street yesterday forenoon since the operation upon his eyes. The operation was unsuccessful owing to his great age, and his sight is but little better than before the operation.

The railroad meeting held in S. O. V. Hall last Thursday evening was well attended, and by a resolution passed without opposition, instructed the committee to inform Mr. Dillin that the village of Buchanan will give ten miles of right of way for an extension of the Vandalla road.

Appleton's Annual Cyclopaedia. There is no more interesting commentary than this register of important events. It is the most reliable and complete book of reference that could be devised. No professional or business man can afford to be without it, for it enables him to trace the development of the human thoughts that bear in mind or in any way affect any enterprise in which he is investing his capital, or in a few moments he may become master of the details of a question, of which a press dispatch or a sentence is but a single link.

Mr. JESSE ROE has been treating his home to a brand-new piano. He sold his organ a few months since and lived as long without an instrument in his house as he could stand it. A Roe without music is to be compared somewhat to a chicken without its head.

CHILDREN'S Day was appropriately observed in the M. E. church last Sunday forenoon. In the evening Prof. B. F. Buck delivered the Baccalaureate address to the graduating class in the church, giving them one of the finest addresses, both in point of merit and delivery, ever given on like occasions in Buchanan.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Berrien county, will hold an Institute in Buchanan at the Evangelical church, on Tuesday and Wednesday, June 18 and 19. All ministers and friends of temperance are cordially invited to attend.

DR. ORR performed an operation upon George Charr's favorite family horse for Bronchocoe, removing an enlargement of the Thyroid gland that weighed eighteen ounces. The operation occupied about fifteen minutes. He has the horse at his stable doing finely, and Mr. Charr is one of the best pleased men of Berrien county.

The work of laying track on the St. Joseph Valley road commenced Monday morning. The old light rails are being laid upon sawed hemlock ties, standard gauge. Tuesday the village had two teams at work filling the gap made at the Sixth street crossing. The bridge across Bainton Bros. pond has been strengthened so it will be safe for light weight standard locomotives.

LAST Friday night, May 31, the ground was covered with snow, at 3 o'clock in the morning the snow was 3 inches deep (so we was told). The oldest settlers of this vicinity say they never saw the like as long as they have lived here. What will come next, the crops was not hurt, only by the frost last Wednesday night.—Coverd News.

It is now plain enough to be saw what is the matters with Covert.

THERE was another grand spectacular parade of harvesting machines in this place Saturday, joined by the dog show which was on exhibition in the hall Saturday night. It makes a good advertising scheme. There has been a hot contest between the two agents, B. P. Needham and C. B. Treat, to see which would get rid of the most machines during the season. Thus far Mr. Needham is ahead, but he is an old hand at the business.

While Mrs. John Sutter was at work in her garden a stone from a sling shot in the hands of some boy struck her spectacles with great force, knocking them off. It came very near putting out her eye. This is dangerous work, and boys have no business with sling shots.—Star.

Since the arrest of three lads in this place some time since for such work, sling shots have been somewhat scarce in Buchanan.

The Trade Carnival conducted by the ladies of the M. E. church in Rought's Opera House, last Friday evening, was one of the most successful social events of the season. Notwithstanding the disagreeable wet weather the hall was comfortably well filled. About twenty-five of the various trades had active representatives, some in neat and unique costumes. On the whole the entertainment was well planned and the several parts neatly executed.

The worm of the still is the bait that tempts the sucker to swallow the hook that is tied to the line that winds itself up with the reel of the drunkard. It is far better, therefore, to be caught with the bare hook of a cow than to fall a prey to the worm of the still. The paragrapher who supplements this with "Yes, in a horn," will be fined.—Detroit Tribune.

The fellow who gives that paragraph a thorough milking will discover more than one horn in it.

LAKE street, where the new road machine was used Tuesday, is almost enough better to equal the rest of the machine. While the village pays about two-thirds of all of the highway tax of the township, this is about the first instance on record where the village has had any direct benefit from it, the entire amount being expended outside the village, while if there be any bridges to build, as there was at the foot of Day's avenue near the hotel a few years since, the village pays for it. Perhaps the use of the road machine may materially lessen our annual street expense, or give us better streets with the same outlay.

MR. McCOMBER, who has been serving as agent for the Lake Shore railway at New Carlisle, announces in the Gazette that he will tell the farmers of that vicinity all about how that company and the Michigan Central rob them of their grain, by taking more than their weight accounts for in order to make themselves whole from all wastage. He announces a public exposition in New Carlisle tomorrow. Mr. F. A. White has been interesting himself in this question for several months, and is making preparations to bring suit to stop the practice. He has a quite extensive subscription taken among the farmers to defray the expenses of the prosecution.

SEVERAL of the Buchanan young ladies have been out teaching district schools this spring. A few days since two of them, one a graduate and the other a tenth grade pupil, met in the post-office lobby, and for five or ten minutes happily discussed their experiences and prospects. It happened to be the lot of the RECORD to overhear a portion of that portrayal of happiness, and such a mass of slang we never before heard amassed into any five minutes of conversation. The RECORD has since learned that the schools taught by these ladies are practical failures. A stranger would have decided at once that the users of such language were failures, both as masters of language and as ladies. Slang was the mass of the conversation, but it was not worse than may be heard every day wherever two or more of the young generation meet and talk. It is slang every where and at all times. As teachers, slang mongers are failures. In any other occupation requiring talent and example, they will be the same.

THE FAIRY BUCHANAN, MICH. JOHN MORRIS, Proprietor.

THE latest fraud is that of a gang of sharpers selling fruit trees. The agent calls on the farmer, not to ask him to buy the trees, but to plant them on shares, the company to get half the fruit for twelve years as price of the trees. The farmer binds himself to pay for the trees at the rate of $1.50 if he sells his farm. He gives a bond to the agent for $500, and without his knowledge it is registered against the land. Another man comes and wants to buy the farm, offering more than it is worth. Before he pays down the money he wants to see and examine the records, and they proceed to the register's office. A bond is registered against the place for $500, and rather than miss such a sale the farmer pays the $500 in order to give a clear title. But where, oh, where, is the friend who purchased the farm? Then he learns that he is out just $500.

SOMEONE entered Cass DeArmond's store in Dayton, Thursday night, stole a small amount of cash, a few stamps from the post-office, and ruined the safe door by trying to drill into it. They have not yet been captured. A couple of well-dressed strangers called at some of the farm houses this side of Dayton, Friday, and tried to exchange jewelry for a dinner, and Friday evening were arrested by Under Sheriff Palmer, who found them lying behind a pile of ties by the west semaphore. He took them to his office and searched them, but as nothing incriminating, farther than carrying concealed weapons, could be found about them, they were discharged.

Mr. Glympe lives at Marshall, but he is no relation to Mr. Look, of Pontiac, or Mr. See, of Port Huron.

GALLEN is about as highly excited over railroad prospects and rumors as Buchanan and Berrien Springs. A meeting was held there Saturday afternoon, attended by Mr. Dillin, in which he asked that village to donate twelve miles of right of way in case the road be located there. This the citizens did not feel able to do, when he proposed to buy the right of way for $55 per acre, and asked the Galenites to pay what may cost above that amount. This appeared easier to them. Up to date his line has not been located. Mr. Miller, president of the Indiana and Lake Michigan company, was here Sunday, and by his conversation it is inferred that the contract between that company and the Vandalla is still in incubation, and that as soon as that instrument is signed, sealed and filed, active operations may be expected to begin. Buchanan and Galien are both impatiently holding the hat, ready to catch the prize, whichever way it may drop.
