How Deer Act in a Snow Storm. From a gentleman recently down from the mountains, the Marysville Appeal learns the strange experiences of various deer, when they are caught in a blinding snow storm, huddle together and tramp round and round in a circle, beating down the soft snow, so that when a very heavy fall occurs, say twelve or fifteen feet high, they themselves in a snow pen, with walls above them; and if they commence to tramp on top of several feet of snow during a storm, they often find themselves in a corner of snow, with a wall curving to a height of ten or twelve feet, when the snow clears off, being virtually imprisoned in a snowy prison pen, from which escape is impossible until the spring thaw of the season.

There lives an old miser on Canon creek, in Sierra county, several miles above Brandy City, who was taking a stroll near his cabin last winter after one of the heavy snows, when he came across a number of deer in the snow, with walls fifteen feet high. Upon the man's appearance the deer became quite excited, and huddled together and dodged from one side of the pen to the other. However, as he came closer they became more docile, and the frequent visits of the man, with bows and buds from adjoining trees, which he threw into the pen as food, caused the deer to be as tame as a pet dog.

Richard Fletcher was more astonished than ever, but he was for the moment utterly at a loss to account for Miss Wingo's strange repudiation of her own words.

"Surely," he said at last, "no one could have willfully altered your letter. But might not your father have accidentally substituted John Harvey's name for mine?"

"He could never have made such a mistake." "Is there any means," asked Fletcher, after a brief pause, "of comparing the copy of the original?"

"Yes," cried Ada, "I have always kept it. I have it here in my desk." In a few moments she had found the precious document, and turning over the leaves she exclaimed, "This is my own hand writing."

Richard Fletcher took the letter and perused it carefully, line by line, comparing it word by word with the copy he had in his hand. There was no difference between the two, except in the circumstance that whereas the original covered four sides of a sheet of small note paper, Mr. Wingo had compressed its contents within the space of two pages.

"Yes," observed Fletcher, in a calm, cold voice, "it is an avowal of your love for John Harvey and a rejection of my offer."

"I can't believe it," she cried, "I cannot believe that there is some dreadful magic in it. Give it to me."

And she almost snatched her own letter from Richard's hands. Then she began to read aloud.

"MY DEAR FATHER—I have been thinking long and anxiously over the proposition made to you by John Harvey and Richard Fletcher. I know them both to be excellent men, and I am sure that one likes me as much as the other. I have, therefore, accepted the offer of Richard Fletcher."

"There, there!" she cried, "Richard Fletcher—read for yourself. There is no mistake. It was your name I wrote here, not John Harvey's."

Once more Fletcher took the letter and perused it through carefully, turning it over from page to page, comparing one with another. He shook his head doubtfully; then suddenly he started with surprise.

"Well, heavens!" he cried, "there has been indeed a mistake, and all due to Miss Wingo, it is of my own causing. I see it all now. I like your father, have read from page to page as in a printed book, while you intended that the letter should be read in the first and the fourth the second, and thus the whole purpose and meaning of your message has been reversed."

And so it was. Let the reader revert to the copy of the letter as printed above, and he will see that there are in the unlucky error arose. Transpose the second and third pages as Mr. Wingo read them, and the names of the two suitors will change places.

For Ada, who had adopted a peculiar system with ladies, and had, moreover, forgotten to number her pages.

It was a sad mistake, and might have been a fatal one. Fortunately it was found out and repaired in time. The end may readily be anticipated. Ada Wingo's wedding took place in due course, but not with John Harvey as her bridegroom. His treachery in concealing the mistake he had discovered, and in taking a mean advantage of it, was, of course, easily recognized, and when he next called on Miss Wingo, he was informed that she was "not at home."

What is that, Richard? "Will you give me three, or write three upon page three, or page three upon page two, so long as you live?" And Ada answered, "I will."

Pearls of Icebergs. The steamer Portia, which lately arrived at Buchanan, has effected a marvellous escape from destruction by an iceberg off Fogo Head. Captain Ash says that a berg 150 feet high and 600 feet long broke in three pieces just as the Portia, going at full speed, was passing it. One of the pieces, 200 feet long, which had sunk, came up under the steamer, lifting her. She remained for some minutes resting on the huge cake of ice, when a tremendous sea set her free.

"It was to all appearances a large solid block from five to six hundred feet long and from eighty to one hundred feet high. I have at times passed near enough to see the iceberg touch it with my hat. I have often, when sailing, tied up to an iceberg for a week at a time. Certainly I never knew one to behave as this one did."

Just as we got abreast of the first piece of ice, the iceberg began to touch its square face. Then I told the man at the wheel to steer to starboard. In ten seconds there were three bergs instead of one. The break was accompanied by terrible noises.

There was a tremendous sea ahead of us tipped so that its submerged part arose directly in our course, lifting us almost out of the sea, there being not more than three or four feet of water under us. The propeller began to go around rapidly. I stopped the engines. We had run squarely upon a shelf about one hundred and twenty yards from the main body of the berg. Then the commotion of the waters caused by the striking of the propeller on the wave that swept onward while we were trying to go ahead. I signalled the engineer to proceed at full speed. That was the critical moment. Had the berg continued to roll, it would have carried us over an iceberg and not that we have helped us, our ship would have been high and dry on that mountain of ice.

We left a broad streak of red paint on that iceberg, and the waves that saved us swept quantities of ice aboard."

A Phonograph to Record on Two Cylinders. A phonograph to record on two cylinders simultaneously, so that one may be retained as a file, or so that a message may be repeated from one cylinder to another, is one of the most recent improvements in this line. The construction is said to permit listening to the record on one cylinder and simultaneously therewith dictating a reply to the other cylinder, or to all the cylinders, to dictate at the same time. It will also reproduce two like messages simultaneously, thereby greatly increasing the volume of sound or a cylinder bearing a record may be placed in the phonograph with one having no record, and the record be reproduced on the plain cylinder while the operator listens. This phonograph is a patented invention of Mr. James P. Magenis, of North Adams, Mass.

Mortuary Gold. The French scientist, Mr. Victor Mennier, as the result of careful inquiries, asserts that the American dentists insert in American teeth, each year, the enormous amount of 800 kilograms (about 1,800 pounds) of the precious metal, which represents nearly $450,000. This gold is never recovered, of course, but is buried with the person in whose mouth it is placed. Making allowance for the rapid increase of the population of the United States, and for the continued deterioration of American teeth, it appears that in less than one hundred years the American cemeteries will contain a larger amount of gold than now exists in France.

A farmer in an exchange says that he cleared his farm of Canada thistles by getting the soil where the thistles grow in a good state of cultivation and sowing to clover. The clover and thistles had made a rank growth he mowed them on a very hot, muggy day. The thistle stalks were hollow and very juicy and fermented, causing them to rot. He administered a good amount of manure to the soil, and since then his farm has been free from Canada thistles.

A Justice of the peace who had married a couple, turned to a man, and said: "I don't believe the woman will love, serve and obey him."

"I don't know," some one replied, "she seems to be a very amiable woman."

"I don't think she is," the justice replied. "Why so?"

"Because she said to be my wife."—Arkansas Traveler.

The Great Spring Medicine. It will be gratifying to all who realize the vital necessity of purifying the blood, to know that Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup can be relied upon as a blood medicine. Mr. B. C. Robinson, of Marshall, Mich., says: "I have suffered intensely from biliousness and rheumatism for over three years, and had tried so many remedies that I had lost all faith. Hearing of Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup, I bought a bottle and found it helped me. I have now used four bottles, and it has restored my liver and kidneys to healthy action, and done more to purify my blood than anything I have ever taken. I am pleased to recommend it as a wonderful blood medicine. Very truly yours, B. C. ROBINSON, Marshall, Mich. Sold by all druggists. Prepared only by The Charles Wright Medicine Company, Detroit, Mich."

JACOB IMHOOF and Chas. Hoffman returned, Monday, from Missouri, where they were prospecting in the timber business. They think they have discovered a bonanza.

BENTON HARBOR heard a married woman lecture, Friday, on the question, "Is love a failure?" Her own record of experience should be known to fully appreciate her remarks.

REV. J. F. BARTNESS will preach his last sermon for the conference year next Sunday. He will go to conference, at Bremen, Ind., on Tuesday, Sept. 9.

REV. J. H. BUTTELIAN will start next Monday for conference, so if you want to hear him preach his last sermons in this conference year go to the M. E. church next Sunday.

SOUTH BEND dealers sell the carpet for the Episcopal church in Niles, and Niles business men who support the church go down into their little pockets for the money to pay for it.

This is said to be a Christian country, but where is the town or city where the churches exceed the saloons in number?—Niles Star.

MR. CROXON returned, Monday, to his old place in the market, occupied by him for so long a time, and will be glad to wait upon his old friends once more.

If your children are not in school this week be sure and have them there next Monday. They can earn better wages there than in any other place you can keep them.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN COVERDALE wish to thank the friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted them during the sickness and death of their little daughter Lennie.

JAKE BAKER is turning out some of the finest harness work ever made in Buchanan. He has just made a set for A. J. Carothers and another for Geo. Black, which are daisies.

NILES is figuring on electric street cars, says Detroit News. They will perhaps get it at about the same time Buchanan gets electric lights, or perhaps later.

The School Board held its first meeting last evening, and organized by the election of G. W. Noble, Moderator; Robert H. Rogers, Director and John E. Barnes, Assessor.

The bulk of the new wheat crop in this vicinity will be put into the ground this week. The ground is in most excellent condition, and with a warm fall there we be a very heavy growth.

The Michigan Central agent, at South Bend, has been in a stew over some lost melons, stolen from cars shipped from that place. One lot for Niles and another for this place fell short quite a number.

MISS Emma and Manda Cox returned to their home in Salem, Ohio, last Thursday, after spending a very enjoyable three weeks at the home of their aunt, Mrs. J. W. Nutt, in Buchanan township.

F. A. WHITE, administrator of the estate of Hiram Babcock, will sell a lot of stock and other personal property at auction, one and one-half miles northwest of Niles, on Saturday, Sept. 13. N. Hamilton, auctioneer.

LIST of letters remaining unclaimed for in the post-office at Buchanan, Mich., for the week ending Sept. 2, '90: Mrs. Jennie Smith, Frank Ralliffe, Mrs. E. C. Gillem.

JOHN GRAHAM, P. M.

The water has been drawn from the mill-race this week, and some boys are at work cleaning the rubbish out of the race-bed with garden rakes. A few days work with a team and scraper might make some showing towards cleaning it. Meanwhile the people who live along its banks should hold their noses and take quinine as a regular diet.

HEAVY tilings being placed in what is known as the Clear lake ditch where it crosses the Copper farm. This is a heavy cut, from eight to twenty-five feet deep and about twenty-five rods long, between the Clear lake and Drydread marshes, and drains a large scope of marsh land. It has been giving considerable trouble by caving, and its great depth makes it a difficult job to clean it.

Mrs. CHAPMAN heated some water in a jug, Monday, to place by the side of a sick person. She forgot to take out the cork until a good head of steam had formed. She is now doctoring a scalded face and eyes.

The Enterprise this week contains a glowing account of how a beautiful widow, named Mathews, had been shot in Cassopolis by her dead husband's brother, because she refused to marry him. The beautiful was one of Calvin's "cullud population," and the affair occurred early in August.

REV. M. L. TRESSLER has been attending the Y. M. C. A. camp-meeting at Geneva Lake, Wis., the past three weeks. He will occupy the pulpit at the Presbyterian church next Sunday. Morning subject, "Give Me Thy Hand." Evening, "Christ in the Home."

DR. E. L. MOORHEAD, examining physician in Cook Co. hospital, Chicago, visited his class-mate, Dr. W. J. Bradley, of this place, during the early part of the week. The gentlemen spent Sunday in South Bend, visiting friends in that city.

For Prosecuting Attorney.

I respectfully announce myself as a candidate for Prosecuting Attorney of Berrien county, subject to the decision of the Republican County Convention, at Berrien Springs, Sept. 17.

J. C. COVENEY, BENTON HARBOR, Sept. 2, 1890.

Mrs. J. C. MARBLE left this place this morning for a trip to Chicago via St. Joseph Valley road, steamer May Graham and across the lake. She was accompanied by her husband's cousin, Mrs. Elmira Pierce, of Vermont, who has been visiting in this vicinity the past two weeks.

KOMPASS, STONE & STOLE had their first shipment of tables ready to go Monday. They have a fine line of stands and tables, and have orders for all they can do. Fifteen men find employment already, and others have been sent for to do bench work for them. These gentlemen are getting out a fine line of work, and it needs only careful business management to keep them on the straight road to success.

The dissimilarity about Buchanan is something alarming, and the town has long since been recorded as past redemption.—Niles Star.

Increase of population in ten years, 110. Decrease in population of Niles City, during same time, 4. Boom the town.

MISS ESTELLE FIELD, of Kalamazoo, is the guest of Miss Freddie Henderson this week. Miss Field is the daughter of the preceptress of Niles High School and graduated in the class with Miss Henderson last June. The ladies will be room-mates in Ann Arbor this year, having chosen the University of Michigan as the college in which to complete their education.

The Benton Harbor Palladium announces the candidacy of B. F. Earl for Sheriff, before the Republican County Convention, Mr. W. A. Palmer, of this place, is also a candidate, although he has not authorized the Record to say so. Mr. Palmer has been Deputy Sheriff for several years, and it has come to be pretty well understood that business placed in his hands is well attended to.

R. C. ANDERSON, who lives near Berrien Springs, was at work in Earl & Rought's saw mill, twelve miles southwest of Buchanan, in Indiana, Tuesday, as head sawyer, when a small piece of wood slipped between a big saw and a board, and he put in his hand and got it fast between the rapidly revolving saw and board, burning the flesh all off inside the palm of the hand, edge of wrist and ball of thumb, making a curious and serious injury. He was brought here and the wound was dressed by Dr. Henderson.

The farmers of Berrien and surrounding counties enjoyed a four days' general campmeeting in Benton Harbor, last week. The weather was by all orders for the occasion, and everything passed off smoothly and in a highly satisfactory manner. There were not far from 2,000 farmers and their families present. Speeches were delivered by a number of prominent speakers, among them Gov. Luce. On the whole, the meeting was a most enjoyable and profitable one.

MINNIE GARDNER was quite seriously hurt in the Wagon factory Monday evening. She has been going to the factory evenings to help her father, who is night watch, clean up, and this time she arrived before the machinery was stopped, and was playing about the planer and was caught between the end of a board, as it was passing through the machine, and the sidefall of the building, squeezing her into a space of about four inches. She has not been able to move from her bed since the accident, and the symptoms are such as to lead to the belief that her spine is seriously injured.

A YOUNG gentleman, that is, a human who is old enough to be a gentleman, was arrested for disturbing the meeting in Portage Prairie Evangelical church Sunday evening. He was brought before Justice Dick, Tuesday, and his frolic cost him $6. This is a kind of nuisance that has long existed in that church as well as in some of the churches in this place, especially at special entertainment meetings. It may be a good thing that the members of the Prairie church have taken an active move toward stopping it.

A FARMER named Carpenter, living on the Michigan road, three miles west of South Bend, near the Mt. Pleasant church, was in this place Tuesday looking for Under Sheriff Palmer. Thieves had visited him during the previous night, and he missed a gray team, broad tread wagon and a load of wheat in sacks. He had found the wheat where it had been unloaded in the woods, and thought he tracked the wagon to Gitchell's, but on investigation this was found to be wrong, and if they came this way it was not so far before turning off from the north road. Mr. Palmer went with him as far as the Bertrand road and discovered his trace was wrong. The team was found Tuesday, but we have not learned where.

CHARLES MATHEWS' little boy and some other children, south of Dayton, were playing yesterday in the woodshed at their school house, one of them having a knife and sitting in the window whittling. He jumped down, and in doing so struck the knife into young Mathews' wrist, cutting a gash about two inches long, severing a small artery. He was brought to town this morning and in Cassopolis by her dead husband's brother, because she refused to marry him. The beautiful was one of Calvin's "cullud population," and the affair occurred early in August.

LAST week Wednesday a large-sized buck shot came into the Record composing room through an open window, struck the ceiling and fell into the type case in front of one of the compositors. It most likely took its start from a sling shot off south of the mill yard. A few years since the publisher of the Record caused the arrest of three boys for the reckless use of these nuisances, and they were let off with a lecture by Justice Dick. The next lot are not coming out of the fracas in that way, and there is very likely to be another attempt made to abate this nuisance, soon.

A SAD accident occurred near Niles last evening, which resulted in the death of Ed. Ballard, a young man of excellent character. On the Ballard farm is built a silo, a deep pit for storing ensilage. Mr. Ballard went into this pit for the purpose of making some repairs, and while in there was overcome with heat and gas, and before he could be gotten out was dead. Mr. Ballard was a graduate of Niles High school, was organist in the Presbyterian church in Niles, and was highly respected by the entire community. He was about 24 years of age. Two other young men were in with him, but succeeded in getting out.

The case of the Stevens county, Kansas, county seat war, by which Jerome B. Chamberlain, formerly of this place, and four others, have been convicted of murder, and sentenced to be hanged in December, is attracting considerable attention, it being the general impression that they were innocent and their conviction brought about by means of perjury. The Cook Brothers, two of the convicted men, were natives of Nashua, N. H., and the citizens of that place have raised $1,500 toward bearing the expense of securing a new trial. The K. of P. lodge and traveling men's association are also contributing liberally to the same purpose.

LAST week's South Bend papers contained the account of some fellows who had been doing business in Hoosierdom, taking photographs, and collecting part of the pay as they went along. The customers had been waiting long enough, they thought, to have their pictures and they failed to show up, and the operators are being advertised as frauds. We understand that a similar institution is operating in this place. It is a poor policy to pay money to strangers for something to be delivered in future, besides, if you want photographs, we have an artist or two who are prepared to do such work in good style, and are responsible for what they contract to do. The man who is photographing this place is not the Hoosier fraud.

Still Another.

Another scheme has been started by another sharper for the purpose of extracting dollars from the gullible public. The Laporte Herald says: "Another sharper has worked the city and gone on his way rejoicing. He said his name was Sileo, and he sold a preparation of some kind. He claimed that the strange mixture would insure a much desired kink in the friz and bang if applied according to directions. His mind is to come into town with a bluster, sell to several local dealers the 'exclusive' right to use the compound, retail all that he can, and then take the wings of the morning and fly to his old pastures new. He went out of this city worth a great deal more money than when he came here, and we understand he is now working South Bend."—Tribune, Tuesday.

We understand that he is now working Buchanan.

MR. ELLOIS sent up a fine 35-foot balloon from his store, Saturday evening, which sailed off beautifully toward the south, and subsequently alighted on the farm of Judge David Hinman, eighteen miles from Benton Harbor, where it was found and returned to Mr. Hollis by Mr. Joel McFallon.—Palladium.

HARRY WOOD, of Buchanan, Mich., who has been working in the city, will reside on east Jefferson street.—South Bend Tribune.

MR. AND MRS. CLAUDE VAN RIPPER leave today for Jackson. They will make that city their home while "Cash" is on the road.—Niles Star.
