Popped the Question by Cable. An incident of an interesting and somewhat remantic nature has arisen out of the visit of the British farmer delegates to Canada. Mr. H. Simmons, of Wokingham, England, found at Moosomin, N. W. T., a bachelor friend of his who has been settled in the ter-ritories for some years and has done well. Mr. Simmons was so delighted with the surroundings of Moosomin that he purchased the section adjoining his friend's farm.

A daughter of Mr. Simmons is engaged to be married to a young Surrey farmer, the happy event being fixed to take place immediately upon Mr. Sim-mons' return to England. It was the intention of the young couple to proceed. to Australia to settle, but Mr. Simmons cabled them of his land purchase, and intimated that he desired his son-in-law and daughter to locate upon the property at Moosomin. The reply was promptly flashed back that they would do so.

It appears, however, that Mr. Simimons has another unmarried daughter, and the Moosomin man suggested that, to make the little family arrangement complete, this lady should become his wife and the two families would be living side by side. Mr. Simmons confessed that the arrangement would suit him, but he could not speak for the young lady. However, he was urged to send a second message over the cable conveying the offer of marriage, and a prompt "Yes" came back .- Cor. Toronto Empire.

How to Get Rid of Icebergs.

One of the greatest dangers to Atlantic navigation, and therefore of great practical interest to seamen, passengers and owners of ships, is the possibility of col-lisions with icebergs. This year these huge products of Artic winters have been unusually common, and it is stated that more than twenty have been sighted in the course of twenty-four hours in the track of steamers plying from New York to Liverpool or the Clyde.

A correspondent in The London Times makes a suggestion that these icebergs might be used as targets by cruisers, and thus broken up and dispersed. The suggestion is well received in England, and it is urged that the British meteorological department follow the example of that of the United States, and mark on charts the area within which icebergs are to be expected. The captain of a cruiser setting out with such charts in his possession would have a comparatively easy task in finding where the target floated at which he was to fire.

An English Dake.

William John Arthur Charles James Cavendish-Bentinck, sixth duke of Portland, who with his wife is about to visit America, is described as an extremely democratic and level headed young man of 32. His simplicity and bonhomie are attributed to the fact that he was born a commoner, and until he was 22 years of age remained the inconspicuous Lieut. Cavendish-Bentinck, succeeding to the title on the death of his cousin, the fifth duke. Only two other English dukes were not born to the strawberry leaves -the duke of Bedford, who was plain Mr. Russell, and the duke of Devonshire. who was Mr. Cavendish. The beautiful duchess of Portland was Miss Winifred Dallas-Yorke, only daughter of Mr. Thomas Yorke Dallas-Yorke, of Walmsgate, Lincolnshire, who is said to trace his pedigree in an unbroken descent from Adam, and to look down on the whole British peerage as parvenu.-Harper's Bazar.

Rich from an Accident.

Ensign Jackson's Good Fortune Congress has done a very creditable act in authorizing the president to appoint Richard H. Jackson, of Alabama, an ensign in the navy. Young Jackson, having finished his studies in the naval school, was sent on a two years' cruise, at the end of which a part of the class, under the law, was retired and the others made ensigns. Jackson fell among those retired. But when he was on h cruise he distinguished himself so grea. ly that this special law has been passed to retain him in the navy. It was at the great storm at Apia, Samoa. At a critical moment, when the Trenton was about to drift on a reef, he led the men aloft, where their bodies had the effect of a sail, and this saved the ship. Admiral Kimberly highly complimented Mr. Jackson on his bravery in time of such peril, and in a report to Secretary Tracy says that he not only saved the Trenton's crew, but also that of the Vandalia, who would all have been lost had not the Trenton drifted alongside and rescued her men. Contesting a Live Man's Will.

In the probate court at Cincinnati the case of Mrs. Josephine Fee against J. J. Hopple was heard by Judge Goebel. It is a case in which the daughter sues her father to prevent the carrying out of his will, instead of waiting until after his death to contest it. on the ground that he has, by undue influence, disinherited her not only, but been led to aver that she was not his daughter, by reason of some alleged flaw in his marriage to her mother, his first wife.

That good woman died years ago, and it is about twenty years since Mr. Hopple married a Miss Boone, who had been his nurse through an illness. Mrs. Boone-Hopple did not like her stepdaughter Josephine, and it is alleged that she induced Hopple to destroy a will in which he had provided for Josephine as his "beloved daughter," and to make the new will, leaving the latter practically without share in his $50,000 estate. It is a case interesting and unique.-Cor. Philadelphia Record.

Hearst's Rich Gold Mine.

"The Homestake mine, in the Black Hills, of which Senator Hearst is a prin cipal owner, is the richest gold mine in the world," said H. C. Rorapaugh, of Deadwood, S. D., at the Metropolitan. "It is the biggest in a group of mines in the immediate vicinity of Deadwood. The company has 3,000 men at work in the mines, mills and woods. For fourteen years they have never missed a dividend, and every month take out from $150.000 to $200,000 in gold. There are 1,200 stamps in operation. The vein of the Homestake is 300 feet wide by about two miles in length, and there is ore enough in sight to run all the mills for the next twenty years."-Washington Post.

Self Winding Clocks. A chain of synchronized self winding locks is being established here through the efforts of Henry Denver, manager of the Western Union Telegraph company. The time pieces do not obtain their motive power from electrical action, thus being subject to hindrances resulting from entire dependence on electrical currents, but instead gains the necessary force from the action of a fine spring, as does an ordinary clock. Two small cells of battery are placed in S.e top of the case. connected with a magnet secured to the lower part of the movement. As the center wheel, driven by the unwinding of the spring, advances, a lever is raised that unlocks the armature and allows it to spring back into position ready for winding. When the lever drops the circuit is instantly closed, the spring being wound by the pawl fastened to the armature. The action of winding breaks the circuit when the winding is completed. The contacts are made so short that the action of the battery is very slight, thus enabling it to perform the work of winding for over a year without renewal or alteration. Each clock is provided with a simple attachment by means of which its hands may be controlled automatically by electricity. To secure absolute uniformity of time throughout the city the clocks will be connected with a time wire just before 12 o'clock each day. During the brief period of connection the standard clock at Washington through the repeating lines takes possession of the wire, temporarily controlling all clocks in its circuit.-Springfield Republican.

A Trackless Street Car. An exhibition run of the "carette," a diminutive street car without a track, which has been in use in Chicago for several weeks, was given the other afternoon. The "carette" is light and easy in motion, and no jolting or discomfort was felt in riding in it along the part cobblestone paving of Chestnut street. It cannot run on the ordinary street car track, the distance between the wheels being greater than the car track width. It avoids delays or blockades, and stops at the curb to receive or discharge passengers. It seats twenty persons, is drawn by two horses and has a conductor and a driver. It is said to be very popular in Chicago among ladies and children,-Philadelphia Times.

An Unfinished Story.

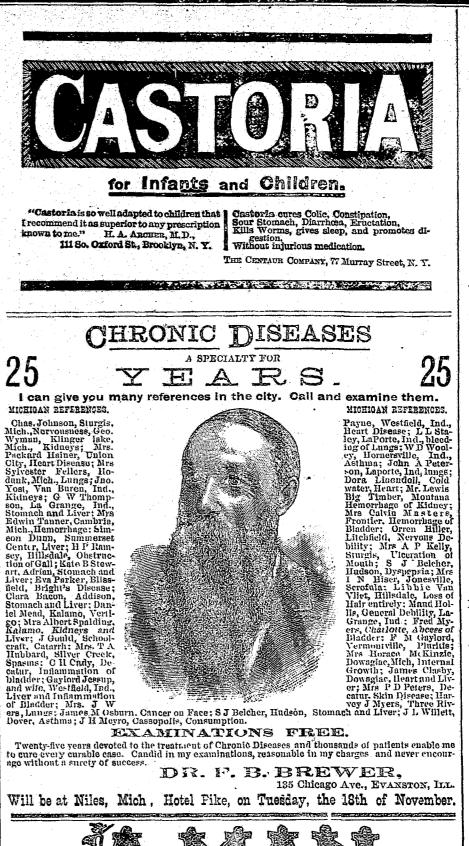

If one Springfield baby didn't have the colic one night recently, it is because grapes agree with some infants. One of the many baby carriages that line the sidewalk while mothers are shopping was pushed against a fruit stand the other afternoon. And then one by one the grapes went down baby's throat, and just as the little one reached for another cluster mamma appeared .- Springfield Republican.

An innovation in the method of handling green fruit at the port of New York is about to be put into practice. The new arrangement consists of a steam heated wharf. In the past fruit has been landed on the wharf without regard to the weather, and when the

A remarkable instance of the fickleness of fortune which occurred in Butte, Mont., several weeks ago, has just come to light. Dave Evans, a young miner, had been to see his best girl Sunday night. Returning home late he fell into an abandoned prospect hole, and was compelled to remain until the following morning, when, in ascending by means of a rope, he scaled off a portion of the wall and discovered a rich lead of silver. He leased the mine, and is now taking out ore that yields $300 a ton in silver and a considerable quantity of copper. He has been offered $50,000 to cancel his lease, but refuses to sell. He will become a millionaire, while the fellows who leased to him have already become hopeless lunatics .-- Cor. Chicago Times.

A Sugar Candy Jubilee.

Gondal is a Lilliputian Hindoo state, in the Bombay presidency. Its area is about eight times that of London; it has 140,000 inhabitants, and rejoices in an army of 600 sepoys, with sixteen cannon and a squad or two of cavalry. The rance, or queen, of this state may, possibly enough, have asked whether the maharanee, or great queen, of England distributed sugar candy among the population of the British Isles on the occasion of her jublice. It is what the Hindoo queen would have done. She dispensed sugar candy among her subjects of Gondal the other day in gratitude for her recovery from sickness.-London Standard.

Puss Charmed by a Snake. A monster rattlesnake was killed Monday at "Wormsloe" plantation, nine miles from this city. It was discovered near the house of a colored woman named Lizzie Jones, and it had her house cat charmed. The cat seemed to be unable to move, and the snake was just about to strike when Lizzie threw a billet of wood, which caused the cat to spring into the air as though it was released from an enthrallment. The snake was shot by one of the neighbors. It measured seven feet, and had twentytwo rattles and a button.-Savannah News.

The Fulminate Cap.

A railroad laborer named Johnson at McLean & Janse's camp, about three miles east of Mullan, Idaho, attempted to commit suicide by means of a cap used in setting off giant powder and exploding it. He placed the cap between his teeth and struck it with a small hammer. The attempt was not an entire success. It had the effect, however, of completely shattering the inside of the man's month.-Rocky Mountain News.

Near Gladstone, Mich., a few nights ago, a locomotive on the Soo line killed three deer. The engine was running thirty-five miles an hour, when a buck and two does stood in the center of the track "fascinated by the flash of the headlight." The engineer could not stop his train in time to avoid the col lision, which resulted in injury only to "the poor dappled fools."

A jury at Syracuse, N. Y., a few days ago found a verdict for the defendant. but the foreman blunderingly announced a verdict for the plaintiff, and the court recorded the same and gave judgment accordingly. When the mistake was discovered after the jury's discharge the judge said he could not change the rec-ord. The case furnishes a riddle for the lawyers.

While swimming in the Marine dock, St. Louis, a few days ago Richard Jackson felt a sharp, stinging pain in the leg, and thought he was bitten by a snake. Dressing himself he was on his way home when he fell screaming in agony. Investigation disclosed that the "snake bite" was a two inch sliver of wood.
