TWENTY-TWO prominent citizens of St. Joseph and the same number from Benton Harbor were in Lansing this week, talking to the joint House and Senate Committees on municipal corporations about their corporation quarrel. A report in the Inter Ocean says the contest is bitter.

In October, 1887, Julius E. Fletcher was killed by an accident in Niles, while he was under the influence of liquor, and his widow soon after commenced suit against W. S. Forster for damages, she claiming Forster sold him the liquor that was indirectly the cause of his death. The case came up in our circuit court last week, and the jury acquitted the defendant.

THERE is a new swindle approaching this neighborhood. It is now operating in Cass county, and is a lot of fellows who sell cooking ranges for about double what they can be bought for from local dealers. The plan is to take a long time note. A MEETING of the directors of the Farmers' Mutual Insurance Company will be held at the secretary's office, in this place, next Saturday, Feb. 7. A report of the business of the new company for the first year, and of the thirty-third year's business of the old company appears in this paper. They show a prosperous condition of the company's business. The company is rapidly increasing in membership and amount at risk.

L. H. KEMPTON moved his store from Hill's Corners to Glendora, three-fourths of a mile west, Wednesday of last week, leaving the Corners without a store. They, however, retain the post-office, and will make a big fight to keep it. We are told that Mr. Gardner, the owner of the store building, contemplates putting in a stock of goods, if he cannot get the building, though he would prefer to rent.

The Kolofed Komikal Koons kombination failed to combine their komikalities in such a manner as to know themselves with glory. In other words it was not a roaring success. It appeared to roar, but not success. The actors took their salaries from the losses, and the manager is doubtless wondering when the people will learn to pay twenty-five cents to see a lot of nonsense, which may be seen gratis any warm Sunday afternoon upon the flats.

THERE appears to be a connivance in the legislature against our county seat. Representative Lambert, of this district, has introduced a bill in the house providing that two of the four terms of court in this county be held in Niles, and Benton Harbor proposes that her representative shall see that an amendment be placed on to the bill providing that the other two terms shall be held in Benton Harbor. If these pass it will not quite be equal to moving the county seat but it will be a plan near it.

An application will be made to the Board of Supervisors at its meeting, on the 23d day of February, to alter the boundary line between Niles township and Buchanan. The Record thinks that the dam there will not be built unless they get a part of Niles township. Better give the whole township to be damned rather than not have any at all.—Niles Star.

Mrs. BELLE PLATT, superintendent for the Niles district of the "White Cross" movement, a branch of the W. C. T. U. work for the promotion of social purity, addressed the regular monthly gospel temperance meeting of the Baptist church of Benton Harbor last Sunday evening, the Congregational church uniting in the service. There was a large audience. Her address was well received. In the afternoon of the same day she read a paper of much interest at the "Mother's Meeting" held in the M. E. church.

F. L. WILLIAMS, who lately published a paper of wide celebrity at Covert, Van Buren Co., is said to be trying to lease or purchase the material of the lately defunct Coloma Courier, with the intention of resuming the publication of the same. If Coloma's citizens want to be thoroughly advertised, it will pay them to purchase the outfit and give it to Williams. In six months their town will be known far and wide as containing the most original editor in eleven states, and advertising always pays.

ONE of South Bend citizens came to Niles, last week, to meet the Michigan State Fish Commissioner and secured 450 young brook trout for the Blylev pond, near the brewery just this side of South Bend. The creek which runs into the St. Joseph river at that point is a good place for that kind of fish, and if South Bend fishermen know how they may be able to find them there. The St. Joseph river has been stocked by this state, and there is nothing to hinder them from crossing into Hoosierdom.

C. L. S. C.—The next meeting of the Alpha will be at Mrs. Estes', the 9th inst., with the following program: Roll Call—Quotations from Milton. English History—Chapter XVII, class exercises. Chaucer to Tennyson—Chapter IV, conducted by Madames Worthington and Johnson. Paper on Shakespeare—Mrs. Plimpton. Paper on Chaucer—Mrs. Tressler. Questions on Living Rulers, in January Chautauque.

THERE seems to be some question about who is to bear the expense of constructing the proposed dam, the question being used as an argument to oppose the change of the township boundaries. The entire business thus far has been conducted by the village, and there is no intention that it shall be otherwise. This was also incorporated in the report of the committee at the public meeting held Monday, Jan. 5. There are legal reasons why the township cannot take part in such enterprises, and it must be entirely the work of the village, excepting what may be given by individual donations by those living outside of the village limits.

In the north end of the county the fight waxeth hot. Benton Harbor has a representative in the legislature. They elected him to be all their own and of course he is. He has a bill for incorporating Benton Harbor as a city without reference to St. Joseph, excepting to include some of her township territory. St. Joseph wants a city charter to include both towns, and now by the kindness of one of the representatives from Wayne county, has the bill before the legislature. The Palladium dubs it a force bill. Just how the city business will finally end is hard to predict. It looks from this distance as if St. Joseph had the best of the argument, but finds it necessary to go a long ways for an advocate.

DEATH claimed a shining mark in the person of Miss May Hinman, whose bright young life was closed at 5 o'clock Friday morning, Jan. 30, 1891, at the home of her uncle, Mr. W. A. Palmer, with whom she has made her home during the greater part of her life. Miss May fell into a general decline of health in the early part of last summer, and by her unwillingness to complain nothing was known of her ailment until it had so far progressed as to be past curing. Miss Hinman is the daughter of Judge D. E. Hinman; was a graduate of the Buchanan High school, and one of the most popular of Buchanan's young people. She was 23 years of age. The funeral services were held from the home of Mr. Palmer, Monday afternoon. By her request Rev. J. F. Buttelman, of Cassopolis officiated at the funeral. The remains were interred on the family lot in Oak Ridge cemetery.

It is learned that a remonstrance to the proposed change in the township boundary has been quite extensively circulated and signed in Niles township. Just what will be the effect may be hard to predict. On two previous occasions the question has been brought before the Board of Supervisors, both times asking for territory lying east of the range line, and in each case the members of the board expressed their willingness to vote for the change as requested, and at the January meeting Supervisor Bestie was so assured of the certainty of the measure to pass that he secured an adjournment to February 23 for that expressed purpose. It is not likely that the remonstrance will greatly affect the vote, it would be a miracle, however, to undertake any measure looking to a great improvement without finding some jokers, and this case does not appear destined to be one of the miracles.

COL. HENRY A. MORROW, of the First U. S. Infantry, died at Hot Springs, Ark., on Sunday. Col. Morrow was born in Virginia, but came to this state when quite young. In 1862 he raised the 24th Mich. Inf. and was commissioned Colonel Aug. 15. He was a good officer and was several times promoted until he ranked as Bvt. Major General of volunteers. After the war he was made Lieut. Col. of the 80th U. S. Inf., and in 1879 was commissioned Colonel and assigned to the First Reg. Inf. He was married before the war to Miss Belle Graves, daughter of the late Maj. Wm. Graves, of Niles, who, with four children, survives him. He was about 62 years of age. Funeral in Niles, tomorrow, at 2 o'clock.

ROADMASTER MURPHY, of the C. W. & M. road, has signed a local license that can be procured at the rate of thirty miles an hour. The first trip with this machine was this morning from Elkhardt to Benton Harbor.—Niles Star.

MASTER IRVIN J. STEININGER, the six-year-old Hoosier orator, spoke to a large audience Tuesday evening in Rough's opera house. His subject, "The Inequalities of the People," was a big one for so little a fellow, but was handled in a masterly manner, and in a strength of voice plainly heard and understood in every part of the hall. The long words rolled from his infant lips as easily as the monosyllables, while his gestures were without fault, and his bearing on the stage as self-possessed as might be expected from a veteran speaker. He held the attention of the large audience from the commencement to the end of his address, and was frequently and heartily applauded. Besides giving our people a treat the Evangelical church parsonage fund will be increased about $40 by their getting the little orator here.
