THE DEVIL'S DEATH.

I dreamt that Hell was flooded,

That the fire was all put out,

That the Devil, broken-hearted,

Ran frantically about;

While the thirty souls of sinners

Drank the water as it ran,

Laughing, in their steaming garments,

At the Great Salvation Plan.

"We were damned," they cried aloud,

"And the water, too, was damned."

For ages we have suffered,

All the years with tortures crammed.

Once by water sinners perished,

Now by water sinners saved.

See, the fires are all extinguished;

Look, how Hell is widely paved

With innocent good and noble.

And we broke when the water came,

Thinking we would win redemption

If we sang our hymns and prayed."

Then uprose a mighty chorus;

"We give the glory to thee, O God;

It has tortured us so often

In his flames sulphuric blue.

Catch him there and hold him tight!

What canst thou do, O God, to-night?"

The Devil's voice in agony fell:

"Wouldst you sound in Hell,

Now, we'll duck him in the water;

Let him have the pangs of death;

Let him have the pangs of death;

As he draws his feeble breath;

See, he's kicking with his heels;

What canst thou do, O God, to-night?"

To imagine how he felt:

There, he's quiet; let him slide;

Let him go by his own will;

Let him have the pangs of death;

Let him have the pangs of death;

As he draws his feeble breath;

See, he's kicking with his heels;

What canst thou do, O God, to-night?"

To imagine how he felt:

There, he's quiet; let him slide;

Little Lela thus has left us,
The days do seem so long;
Your presence was our sunshine,
But the light of you has gone.
Yes, we miss you, dearest Lela,
How much we miss you none can tell;
But we know you are happy, darling,
For God doeth all things well.

THE citizens of Watervliet township are making the climate decidedly warm for a teacher there, who tells the children that if Jeff Davis and his generals were guilty of treason, Washington and his generals must as much be charged with the same crime. The stars and stripes float over that school house and it is not the intention to take them down, but to make that teacher get out from under them and seek other employment.

THE Democrats in the Senate plead for the Friedlander case that as he married his second wife more than six years ago the crime is outlawed. The fact in the case is that so long as he was undivorced from the first wife there can be no marriage with the second, and he is to this day living in adultery with her, a state prison offense, and at the same time occupying a seat in the senate belonging to another man, and the Democratic senator from Berrien county upholding him in it.

SPENCER & BARNES and their ladies went to Benton Harbor, Tuesday, to see whether they want to accept $18,000 and move their factory to that enterprising town. Up to date of our latest information no definite arrangement had been made. It is to be hoped by all Buchanan that none will be made.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Mr. Henry Vite died suddenly at his home, four miles south of this place, at noon Tuesday, March 17, of heart disease. He had been sick but a few days and not bedfast at all. Tuesday morning he was in considerable pain in the region of the heart and sent for the doctor, who relieved him quite materially of his pain, when he expressed a desire to go to sleep, laid down and within a minute was dead. Mr. Vite was a native of Pennsylvania, but has been a citizen of this vicinity over fifty years. He would have been sixty-four years old in June. The funeral services were held in Portage Prairie Evangelical church this forenoon.

THE excitement in the State Senate over Friedlander's two wives somewhat abated Thursday and Friday, a small amount of business was transacted, among which was the passage of the house bill to reincorporate the village of Buchanan, and will soon be doing business under a new charter. It has been the expectation of the RECORD to publish the bill of incorporation so the people may know something of its character, but up to date we have not been able to secure a copy. It appears to be very much of the character of private property, and any one who dared to ask any questions about it is pronounced as against the interests of the town and its improvement. We have five citizens, one of them a member of the Council, who have seen the bill and heard it read.

MORRIS' THE FAIR.

DEAR reader, have you seen the Lansing fringes in this light? There are sixteen of the most dignified Democrats the State is supposed to be able to produce, forming the majority of the highest law making power in the State, engaged in the dignified (not of keeping an acknowledged criminal in hiding under lock and key a week to prevent his arrest for the crime which he confesses. Isn't it a picture to be proud of? One of the leading citizens in the north end of Berrien county, whom everybody supposed to be a law abiding citizen of the first quality, is one of the criminal hiders. Nice, isn't it?

THE committee appointed by the Republican and Democratic caucuses last week, to select a union ticket, presented to the two caucuses which met Saturday evening, the following: President, Harvey D. Rough; Trustees, one year, John M. Rouch, John F. Reynolds and Clyde H. Baker; Trustees, two years, Joseph L. Richards, Joseph P. Beistle and LeRoy H. Dodd, leaving the two caucuses to choose the balance of the tickets to suit themselves. Mr. H. D. Rough allowed his name to appear for the presidency, and Mr. Wm. R. Ro his stand in for the vice presidency. The following: For Clerk, F. W. Clark, For Treasurer, John Shook; For Constable, Samuel Bunker. The Democrats in their caucus selected the following for the balance of their tickets: For Clerk, William Osborn; for Treasurer, Harvey D. Rough; for Assessor, Harry O. Weaver; for Street Commissioner, Darius Smith; for Constable, Gideon Rouse. This puts two tickets in the field which are alike in the council and for President.

MR. E. R. BEARDSLEY, of Waldron, Ind., cousin of S. L. and D. E. Beardsley, formerly of this place, was here last Friday, by recommendation of the Lefell Water Wheel Co., to present a plan for a dam in the river. A large meeting of citizens was held in Roe's hall, in the evening, at which he presented and explained the plan of his dam. The only fault anyone has found with it this far is that the cost is so far below the expectations we have been entertaining that it makes the ordinary citizen gasp for breath. The estimate for the entire plant, including the race, being less than $10,000. The feeling of nearly every one is that the town will be tickled to death to be able to have that dam for three times that amount. Mr. Beardsley is well known in this vicinity, having made his home in Elkhart for many years, and his references are first class. He also gives a list of those who have had his work in this line, and it is a very easy matter to learn of the character of the work; besides, there are two dams already built in this town, upon the same principle as the one proposed by Mr. Beardsley, the difference being in a few minor details only. The new Council most likely will have further correspondence with him. His visit here materially changes the phase of the dam question from that given it by Mr. Blackmer. The dam will be built.

LARRY HAND was held up and robbed of $10 in West Niles, on Friday. The young man who did the job is well-known, and officers are on his track. The affair has been kept very quiet, in hopes that the thief would be caught.—Niles Star.

THE Michigan Central has made a survey in prospect for a bridge near the dam. Let the good work go on.—Niles Sun.
