A MINISTER, stationed less than fifty miles from Buchanan, is reported as praying that a famine might devastate this country, in order to bring the people to a realizing sense of their religious duty. And all because his congregation consisted but four persons, and the minister, correspondingly, had but one sermon to preach.

THE advertisement of the petition for the franchise for building the dam across the St. Joseph river, at this point, appears in this paper, and has been sent to one paper in each county through which the river flows, and to Detroit for publication, according to law. It is expected that the Council will soon be able to determine just how much money will be required to pay for all of the contemplated improvements, and the people will be given a chance to say, by their votes, whether they want them made or not. The vote will decide the whole matter, and there is but little question about how that decision will be.

MR. AND MRS. G. F. BROWN, and little daughter Jessie, of Caro, came Thursday last for a short visit with relatives. Mr. Brown returned home Saturday, while his family remained until yesterday morning, going to Dowagiac, from which place they will go home Saturday.

PERFUMERY AND FUR.—Arrangements are being made for the establishment of a skunkery in this vicinity. Capital has been subscribed by a few for the purpose, and the citizens may expect shortly to be able to procure this perfume without the trouble of importation. Several such institutions are now in existence on a paying basis.

SOUTH BEND papers contain every day an account of from one to three runaways. What's the matter with your drivers over there?—Niles Sun.

IT is the famous thoroughbred stock South Bend sportsmen have been importing from Kentucky, that is to blame for the mischief. The account of the purchase made by Mr. Nippold, recently published in the Tribune, ought to make the matter plain.

THERE was a snow storm here Monday forenoon, and Monday night a heavy frost, freezing a crust of ice an eighth of an inch thick over water left exposed in shallow vessels. It is difficult to determine just the amount of damage to fruits. Strawberries which were caught out will hardly be gathered when the harvest comes. Peaches, plums and cherries were not far enough advanced to be very easily damaged.

FIRE broke out in the upper story of E. B. Harris' store building in Galien, Monday afternoon. By sharp work of the paid brigade the blaze was confined to the roof, which was quite spoiled. The property is insured in the city and village mutual. Whether upon the same basis as the Three Oaks loss, we are not informed.

THE South Bend Tribune tells of a crowd of sports from that place who came to this side of the state line, on the Niles road, early Sunday morning, to operate a cock-pit, some Niles sports meeting them there. Five battles were fought and three of the birds killed.

DIED.—Mrs. Emma J. Morley, wife of Alvin Morley, died at their home near Hill's Corners, Sunday afternoon, May 5, 1891, after several weeks' sickness of lung trouble brought on by an attack of La Grippe. She was the eldest daughter of Mr. B. D. Harper, of this office, and was 21 years of age. Her husband and three small children (the eldest 7 years and the youngest 15 months of age) survive her. The funeral services were held Tuesday forenoon, at the Baptist church at Hill's Corners, conducted by Rev. J. F. Barntness of the United Brethren church of this place, and the interment made in the Weesaw cemetery.

ON May 1 Mr. and Mrs. George W. Rough had been living together twenty-five years, and about one hundred and seventy-five of their relatives and friends made that the occasion for giving them a friendly greeting, and it was a happy meeting had at their pleasant home. Among the guests was Rev. Wm. Prouty, who spoke the words which made them one, in 1866, Mr. Prouty delivered a short and pleasing address. A genuine Rough feast was thoroughly enjoyed by the guests, and the evening made one of enjoyment. The guests made a large collection of valuable presents.

BENTON HARBOR had a committee in Lansing last week to work against the name proposed by the legislature for the new city. They want it called "Britain," in honor of Maj. Calvin Britain, who came to Berrien county in 1826. He was the first settler where Benton Harbor and St. Joseph now stands; pre-empted the lands and bought them from the government. He was successively a member of the Territorial Council, Senate and House of Representatives. He also attended the constitutional convention in 1850, and was Lieutenant-Governor in 1852. Why not call it Bartlett, in honor of Capt. A. C. Bartlett, the first white child born in St. Joseph and still living in this country. "Britain" sounds "so English, you know."

It is expected that the Council will soon be able to determine just how much money will be required to pay for all of the contemplated improvements, and the people will be given a chance to say, by their votes, whether they want them made or not. The vote will decide the whole matter, and there is but little question about how that decision will be.

IT is the famous thoroughbred stock South Bend sportsmen have been importing from Kentucky, that is to blame for the mischief. The account of the purchase made by Mr. Nippold, recently published in the Tribune, ought to make the matter plain.

THERE was a snow storm here Monday forenoon, and Monday night a heavy frost, freezing a crust of ice an eighth of an inch thick over water left exposed in shallow vessels. It is difficult to determine just the amount of damage to fruits. Strawberries which were caught out will hardly be gathered when the harvest comes. Peaches, plums and cherries were not far enough advanced to be very easily damaged.

FIRE broke out in the upper story of E. B. Harris' store building in Galien, Monday afternoon. By sharp work of the paid brigade the blaze was confined to the roof, which was quite spoiled. The property is insured in the city and village mutual. Whether upon the same basis as the Three Oaks loss, we are not informed.

THE South Bend Tribune tells of a crowd of sports from that place who came to this side of the state line, on the Niles road, early Sunday morning, to operate a cock-pit, some Niles sports meeting them there. Five battles were fought and three of the birds killed.

DIED.—Mrs. Emma J. Morley, wife of Alvin Morley, died at their home near Hill's Corners, Sunday afternoon, May 5, 1891, after several weeks' sickness of lung trouble brought on by an attack of La Grippe. She was the eldest daughter of Mr. B. D. Harper, of this office, and was 21 years of age. Her husband and three small children (the eldest 7 years and the youngest 15 months of age) survive her. The funeral services were held Tuesday forenoon, at the Baptist church at Hill's Corners, conducted by Rev. J. F. Barntness of the United Brethren church of this place, and the interment made in the Weesaw cemetery.

ON May 1 Mr. and Mrs. George W. Rough had been living together twenty-five years, and about one hundred and seventy-five of their relatives and friends made that the occasion for giving them a friendly greeting, and it was a happy meeting had at their pleasant home. Among the guests was Rev. Wm. Prouty, who spoke the words which made them one, in 1866, Mr. Prouty delivered a short and pleasing address. A genuine Rough feast was thoroughly enjoyed by the guests, and the evening made one of enjoyment. The guests made a large collection of valuable presents.

BENTON HARBOR had a committee in Lansing last week to work against the name proposed by the legislature for the new city. They want it called "Britain," in honor of Maj. Calvin Britain, who came to Berrien county in 1826. He was the first settler where Benton Harbor and St. Joseph now stands; pre-empted the lands and bought them from the government. He was successively a member of the Territorial Council, Senate and House of Representatives. He also attended the constitutional convention in 1850, and was Lieutenant-Governor in 1852. Why not call it Bartlett, in honor of Capt. A. C. Bartlett, the first white child born in St. Joseph and still living in this country. "Britain" sounds "so English, you know."

THE advertisement of the petition for the franchise for building the dam across the St. Joseph river, at this point, appears in this paper, and has been sent to one paper in each county through which the river flows, and to Detroit for publication, according to law. It is expected that the Council will soon be able to determine just how much money will be required to pay for all of the contemplated improvements, and the people will be given a chance to say, by their votes, whether they want them made or not. The vote will decide the whole matter, and there is but little question about how that decision will be.
