A Copper Cent.

There are restaurants in Chicago conducted on the London coffee-house plan, where each article is priced separately in one figure on a bill of fare. For example, a man orders a dinner as follows: Soup, five cents; roast beef, fifteen cents; potatoes, three cents; coffee, three cents; bread, one cent; butter, one cent; and he pays the cashier twenty-eight cents.

I was lurching in one of those places one day, three years ago (said a well known club member, who had come in, and seating himself opposite me, the same table, ordered a plate of graham bread, which was listed on the bill of fare at one cent.

"You will pay for the cashier's desk," said the waiter, as with a perceptible sneer he gave the man a one-cent check and moved away.

"He passed the coin over to me," "Eighteen hundred and fifty-two," said the waiter, "which he sadly needed, he said."

"I never thought to spend that copper, and I wish you would keep it for me, and allow me to redeem it when I am in the best of luck," said the man, and he handed me the coin, which I brought to a baby girl who was my playmate," he continued. "She wore it as a charm about her neck. In 1880 she became my wife."

"She stopped for a moment to brush away the tears that were gathering in his eyes."

"Two years later the old copper coin was hung about the neck of baby Nell; but death soon claimed her, and after a few days she was buried in the city of May and Flossie, who had come to take the place in our hearts that sweet Nell had held for two short years. Two years ago I lost them all. The fever died, and my little family was alone with that old copper coin, and the sacred memories it calls up."

"I had been in business," he continued, "but my misfortune, which caused despondency, unfitted me for my management, and there came a financial crash. I worked then for others, and became a mere laboring machine, earning barely enough to provide the necessities of life, and my little family found myself out of employment and almost without money."

"Since then I have tramped the streets of this big city from morning until night, and have seen many such advertisements, but luck has been against me, and, save for a few short jobs, I have found no means of earning a living. Three days ago my last dollar was exhausted, and nothing short of absolute starvation staring me in the face could have induced me to part with that old copper coin."

"I returned him the copper coin and a dollar with it, and he, in return, uttered words which inspired him to new efforts."

"A week later he returned both the dollar and the quarter. He had secured a position, and he was now ready to be paid for his month's paper while waiting for my dinner. As I glanced up my eyes met a face opposite me that looked familiar. For a moment I failed to recognize him, but no sooner had he spoken than I recognized my hand. It was the man whom I had befriended three years before."

"The expression of those gray eyes had changed to a look of satisfied contentment, and he was smiling broadly. Wrought a mighty change. The erstwhile pauper had developed into a solid business man, and to-day he owns a good chunk of stock in one of the leading business houses of Chicago."

"Don't Overrate Yourself."

In asserting that some young people rather over-estimate their importance, we are not advising a new or startling idea. Every one has met the youth who knows everything there is to know. One of these, a dry goods clerk, recently received a wholesome lesson.

It was in the habit of saying to his associates that the concern would find it pretty hard to get along without him. These remarks came to the ears of the clerk into the inner office. "Mr. Jenkins," he began, "you have been very efficient and we have highly appreciated your services, but we have heard it said that you were to be discharged. This could not possibly survive the loss. This has worried us a good deal, for you, like all the rest of us, are liable to drop out suddenly. We have concluded therefore to give you a peace of mind, to experiment while we are both in good health, and see if the concern can bear up under your loss. You will accordingly consider yourself dead for one year, and we will pay you, without you for that length of time."

"Business and Things."

China is to have four mills. Our railroads employ 3,000,000. Illinois leads in railroad mileage. Uncle Sam is worth $62,500,000,000. New York has 60,000 night workers. The world has 325,000 railroads. A new locomotive consumes its smoke. London buttonhole makers get 25¢ a day. Missouri has the biggest fruit farm, 3,000 acres. Spanish quicksilver miners get 20¢ a day. Hungarian miners get from 34 to 32 1/2¢ a day. Boston cigar makers have $30,000 in their treasury. There are 200,000 oil holes in the earth. They cost $600,000,000. London omnibus drivers gained $90,000 a year by winning their strikes. A wire nail mill for the coast will be started at Port Gardner, Puget Sound. Three and two-tenths grains make one carat; 150 carats in one ounce of Troy weight; 1,800 carats in one Troy pound of 5,760 grains.

"Your Money or Your Life?"

Such a demand at the mouth of a "six-shooter" sets a man thinking pretty lively. With a little more of the same kind of talk, however, think of the terrible results of neglected consumption, which might easily be averted by the timely use of Nature's Great Specific, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a constitutional disease, and requires just such a thorough and effectual constitutional remedy! Taken in time, before the lung tissues are wasted, it is guaranteed a radical cure. Equally certain in all scrofulous and blood disorders. Large bottles, one dollar, and any druggist.

A Thoughtful Girl.

She wears a veil to protect the rose of her cheek, but don't take it ill, if the only roses that she has are those, and her lips are reticent still.

Three and two-tenths grains make one carat; 150 carats in one ounce of Troy weight; 1,800 carats in one Troy pound of 5,760 grains.

"I was kicked by a horse when I was little and knocked senseless," said Chapman. "How soon do you expect to recover," asked the cynical Maude.—Judge.

IF people from the country were to dump their garbage along our village streets there would be trouble. Is there any less reason for making trouble when the village dwellers dump their garbage along the country roadside? Whoever is doing so, better do so no more.

September 1, 1891.

J. I. H. DODD,
President pro tem of the Village of Buchanan.

P. A. TREAT,
Clerk of the Village of Buchanan.

The removal of the corset company from Three Oaks to Kalamazoo gives the Featherbone company plenty of elbow room, and we may expect to see the machines which have been in operation here removed to Three Oaks in a short time.

The latest report from the famous Bonine-Williams foot race occurred Friday, when Charley Wirz, of Niles, came over here and gave Button Evans a whipping, at the urgent solicitation of Mr. Evans himself. A truce is now in order until terms of peace may be agreed upon or a capitulation settled.

The Evangelical camp meeting in progress in the Gano grove with a fair attendance. Twenty-seven cottages tents are occupied. Special young people's services will be conducted Saturday. On Sunday there will be three sermons by Rev. S. P. Spreng, and on Monday there will be services for old people.

The County Drain Commissioner has been working on a survey of Gannett River with a view to straightening and cleaning it, called for by the citizens of Weesaw. We have a communication from R. B. DeLap, calling attention of the public to the work contemplated, and protesting against it.

The Noss Family entertainment in the Opera House, last evening, was well attended, and the audience well pleased with the performance. They have a number of clever musical novelties. This is the first company to appear in Buchanan carrying their own pipe organ.

The Michigan Central will, on Sept. 6, 1891, sell tickets from Buchanan to Michigan City and return, at the rate of 50c, children, 25c, good going on special excursion train, leaving Buchanan 8:20 a. m. Return, leave Michigan City 6 p. m.

A. F. PEAOCOK, Ticket Agent.

The story is told that one Weesaw farmer, by accident let his chickens get some of his hog cholera medicine, and ever since his hens have been laying two eggs each a day, and his Bremen rooster lays three. John Cuthbert vouches for the story, and there is no denying it.

An adjourned meeting of the Common Council was held in the council chamber, Tuesday evening. But four members were present. The business of correcting the election notice to correspond with the new election law was completed. A cement walk was ordered built along the east side of Day's avenue, the entire length of the street. This will be a great improvement to one of the principal thoroughfares of the town, but will come a little tough for a number of the property owners there, as they have not sufficient income to build a cement walk, or any other kind for that matter.

The fire mention in last week's RECORD as being seen south-west of this place was the burning of James Reynolds' barn, near New Carlisle. This is the third barn burned in that immediate neighborhood within three weeks, and in each case the fire when first discovered was on top of the hay, in the peak of the barn roof. It looks as if some incendiary work were being done thereabout.

LEAH M. MARSH, wife of Alonzo Marsh, died at their home, near Buchanan, Aug. 29, 1891, aged 54 years, 7 months, 19 days. She leaves a husband and one daughter, Mrs. Frank Lister of this place, to mourn their loss. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. F. Bartness, at the residence of the deceased, Aug. 31, and the remains were interred in Oak Ridge cemetery.

We have the report that Lew Boyle has bought a large stock of dry goods in Hillsdale and is in business there. Hillsdale is a good town and Mr. Boyle ought to do well there. The city has 3,000 inhabitants. The college brings to the town more good looking, bright, girls than Lew is used to, and there may be a chance of a break in his bachelorhood record if he remain there.

MR. C. G. ELMORE, of Englewood, is canvassing this place for portrait work. He is the gentleman who delivered the work ordered of North-Western Portrait Company, last spring, whose method of doing business was criticized in these columns. Mr. Elmore does not do business upon the plan of asking pay for his work before it is done, which was criticized at the time. He has had a considerable business with citizens of this place, and is giving satisfaction, or he would not continue.

JOHN M. ROUCH is having a cement walk built at the front of his lot, on Day's avenue. This is a good start for the street. A petition is being circulated asking for an order from the Council for a walk, the full length of avenue, and it will most likely be of great benefit. There are some along that street who cannot afford to build any kind of walk, but for the appearance of things it should be of cement and without a break from one end of the avenue to the other.

THERE has for years been a rule in schools like the one in this town, requiring pupils to have excuses from parents for absence, and there is complaint among teachers that this is not given the attention by parents it deserves. The rule is for the benefit of parents, and that both the parent and teacher may know that the child is not a truant, but when absent from school there is a valid excuse for such absence, and teachers ask that parents attend to all absences by sending in the excuse promptly.

MARRIED.—Mr. F. W. Bosworth, of Nappanee, Ind., and Miss Mabel French, of this place, were married last evening, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. French, Eld. Birdsall officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Yost and "Mother" Yost of Cassopolis, and Mr. and Mrs. Moon of Marcellus, relatives of the contracting parties, were the only invited guests. They were made the recipients of a valuable collection of presents. They left last evening for their home in Nappanee, where he is engaged in a general merchandise business. Mrs. Bosworth has a large circle of friends who wish her a long life of happiness.

The special election to be held September 21 will be the first under the Australian system of voting, new to this state. By a copy of this law, received since the issue of the election notices last week, it was discovered that a change was necessary in the form of the notice which made a postponement of the election necessary. It is now calculated that the notices are in correct form, and all will run smoothly. So much time has now been used that it is altogether likely that nothing further will be done toward the building of the water works than to collect the material upon the grounds in readiness for work next season.

Last year we thought the village schools opened with a large attendance, but this year shows a healthy increase. The attendance in the various departments at the opening this year is as follows:

High School.....	33
Eighth Grade.....	34
Seventh ".....	37
Sixth ".....	42
Fifth ".....	44
Fourth ".....	52
Third ".....	40
Second ".....	39
First ".....	66
Total.....	447

Last year the numbers in the several grades were respectively, 83, 28, 35, 38, 48, 52, 43, 41, 52, Total 416.

The unknown man who was writing the story in the Boomer must have committed suicide for we have not heard him for some time. He must read it in the Boomer and then died, what a death he must had—Coloma Boomer.

Some reader of the story has doubtless discovered him and shot him on the spot.
