A LEAF YEAR EPISODE.

"I would not marry John Marratt—not for fifty thousand dollars!" said Miss Penney.

She said it, too, exactly as if she meant it,

with red-tipped cheeks, eyes full of hazel fire,

and two small dimpled flats clenched tightly.

"My dear," said Penelope Paxton, one of the most lovely girls in Buchanan, "you are not legally, do be quiet!" said Miss Penney, stamping her foot in genuine annoyance. "You know what I mean."

"No, I don't," said Penney, "and I don't know what you do mean."

"He said it was leaf year," pleaded Miss Penney.

"So it is," said Penney. "Get the almanac and look for yourself. Four into a hundred and eighty-four goes—"

"Penelope," cried Miss Paxton, "can you not talk common sense?"

"To be sure I can, if you will let me set the example," gravely responded Miss Paxton.

"And he told Doctor Darien he wasn't coming to our party to-morrow night!"

"I don't want to be married against his will!"

"Well, after all, there's something in that,"

said Penelope, reflectively. "I never was a man myself, but I can imagine what it would be like to have a man come and say to you, 'You are to be married to-morrow night, and you are to be married to a man who is not coming to your party to-morrow night!'"

"I'm sure I don't know why," sobbed she. "I hate John Marratt, and I think he is a scoundrel."

"I don't know what you mean," said Penelope.

"I don't know what you mean," said

The United States Supreme Court has passed judgment on the McKinley law and pronounced it good in all its parts.

South Bend papers tell of a fraud who is doing the dead and dumb racket to secure contributions from citizens of that town. He talks fast enough when off begging duty.

The Supreme Court decided the case of the Chicago Anarchists, Fielden and Schwab, who sought release from Joliet prison through writs of habeas corpus. The writ was denied.

The two Chicago sports, who were going to swim across Lake Michigan, made their start from Rush street bridge Friday. They went about 200 yards, which was considered quite a success.

The high state of civilization of the state of Arkansas was demonstrated last week in Texarkana, when a mulatto had his clothes soaked with an oil that he had poured over him, and he was burned to death. He was accused of assaulting a farmer's wife, but denied his guilt, and was given a trial. The woman herself applied the match. This is the tenth lynching in Arkansas within a year. The Sioux Indians, who make no professions to civilization, do better.

The hot headed Kaiser, of Germany, thinks that he wants all who are dissatisfied with his way of governing, to leave Germany. There is a chance that he might have a lonesome time if, should the change actually occur. A riot raged in Berlin last week. It is quieted now, but no man can say that it is dead nor how soon it will stir all Germany to revolution. The situation is looked upon as a critical one.

Iowans conclude that they have found a solution of the liquor problem, in the bill just introduced in the State Senate by the republican Senator Gatch, of Polk county, providing for county option and high tax. The bill provides that the present law shall stand in all counties excepting in those which vote to permit the sale of liquors, under not less than $500 tax and strict restrictions. This places the burden of securing the vote upon the liquor business, just where it should be.

The democrats have what they are pleased to call the bureau of publication located at Lansing, whose business it is to write letters to the local democratic press of the state, and attempt to besmirch the past republican state officials by distorting errors and lying about facts, and they appear to understand their business pretty well. They appear to be making out that the republicans have never elected any one to office in this state but a gang of mountebanks and thieves. It is a wonder how this state has flourished so finely under such administrations. Denton Harbor Bannor is the agent for this bureau in this county.

Hereafter all elections in this state will be held under the new election law. All of the tickets will be printed on one sheet. The voter will be handed a sheet, which he will take into a booth and while in there stamp the ticket, fold it, return it to the inspector, who places it in the box. In stamping the ticket he will stamp the straight ticket with a stamp mark opposite the heading of the ticket he wants to vote and no more. Should he want to vote, for instance, a full republican ticket with the exception of one or two names he will stamp opposite the head of the republican ticket and then if he wants to vote for governor on the democratic ticket he will stamp opposite the name of the democratic candidate for governor and cross off the name of the republican candidate. If he fails to cross off the name on the ticket of which he has stamped the head it would be voting for two candidates and neither would be counted. The voter must not show his ticket to any one after he has stamped it so that it may be taken and the voter loses his vote. No slips will be in the market, and no electioneering done. The voter is supposed to know enough to fix his own ticket without the assistance of the hard worker. There will be a great many mistakes made, by which people will either lose their vote or vote for a different ticket than they intend. One step more will make it necessary for a man to read and know something in order to be able to vote at all.

The Democratic party, not Cleveland, is on trial now. If democracy does not own both Tammany the country will disown both. -Niles Reorder, Dem.

This Settles the Presidential Question. We see nearly every one of our exchanges say something about Gen. Alger's "War record," what is there in it if anyone's business how he performed his duties at the war. A number of the state press has from three to four columns about it is it any of your business, No! it is not. But some men will find fault if they were going to be hung. We don't want to hear from such men, they are no good. Gen. Alger does as much in the last war as any other man, but the Gen. now talks of being nominated as Vice President, and there is where the stick is, Gen. Alger, if nominated will receive our vote and will be elected, to Gentlemen of the press, dry up, on such talk, the Gen. is to the front. -Colome Boomer.

The editor of the Goshen Democrat in speaking of the display of the "Northern Lights" a week ago last Saturday says: "It means nothing more than the reflection of the sunlight upon the icebergs at the north pole, and supposed to be of electrical origin." The Democrat is not lucid enough in its explanation of this profound subject. The real cause that superinduces this electrical phenomenon is on account of over-charge of water from the polar dynamo, producing vibrations of the helix. This causes a tremendous bandianity of the detonator that probes the etherial ether. This causes a flash of light, and the electric sparks asserted colors. See? -Nagamese Advance.

It does not require a profound scholar to comprehend it after this lucid explanation, Detroit News.

Tariff Pictures.
In 1860 Great Britain was making most of our woolen goods for us. Her woolen mills consumed 300,000,000 pounds of wool and cost only $8,000,000. In 1890 we made that year Great Britain consumed 470,000,000 pounds, but our manufacturers 400,000,000 pounds. The American farmer pays the increase. How do the facts bear out that assertion? Here are two facts that certainly do not:
The English laborer consumes only $24 worth of our agricultural produce per capita annually; the American laborer $50.00 per capita. Of course, the Englishman consumes more from somewhere, but he doesn't get it from our country. The English farmer is just as American farmer's best customer. -A. Y. Press.

Detroit vs. Albany.
The city of Detroit, true to its name, put the Tammany Albany democratic convention in the straits last evening. Cleveland carries the democracy of the Senatorial State in its vest pocket. Enough of them got out of his pocket to give him a reception at the Hotel Cadillac.
It is well understood that he and his faction would like to see the Tammany and the Albany democratic, and chuckle over the alliance with the Roman church, their crushing out majority rule, their perjury and fraud in violating the ballot law; the Tammany Senatorial and Assembly seats, then turning out the State Superintendent of Schools with the aid of votes of men who the courts have decided were not elected, and the general tyranny and chicanery of Hill.
The voice of Albany democracy, stifled and avary by force, may hiss out "Hill" but the voice of the same party in Michigan, without being checked, distinctly utters "Cleveland."
"Cluckly, for the peace of the democracy even in Detroit, there were unrepentant and successful guests at the banquet."
That staunch republican leader, Gen. Russell A. Alger, proved to be "all right," as he mingled in the crowd. He accompanied by the other staunch republican, from Oregon, Senator Dolph.

These men were the air of coming republican victory, and among the terrified democracy by the serenity with which they smiled upon the deified worship of the past noble grand of the democratic order.
This promises well for the redemption of every Detroit from the misrule of the majority-throting party.

Reform in Naturalization Laws.
Representative Oates' bill to amend the naturalization laws will, it is expected, be favorably reported to the house from the judiciary committee. It provides, says a Washington dispatch, "that no alien who has ever been convicted of a felony or other infamous crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or who is an anarchist or polygamist, or who immigrated to the United States in violation of any of the laws of the country, or who cannot read the constitution of the United States shall be naturalized."
The effect of this amendment is to place certain new restrictions upon the acquisition of citizenship. About all that is asked of prospective citizens under present laws is that they forswear allegiance to foreign powers. The Oates amendment establishes an educational qualification, and excludes from citizenship alien criminals and aliens who have violated our immigration laws. It also abolishes the declaration of intention, except for the purpose of land entry. Of these new provisions the most important is that requiring practically an English education as an essential qualification. A provision of this kind will shut out thousands who are now seeking citizenship. It would tend to Americanize our future alien citizens, and to their assimilation to our institutions.
Aliens vote, however, in many of the states, prior to naturalization. They may participate in elections all their lives without naturalization. They do this by voting on "best papers," or declaring an intention to become a citizen. The abolition of this system would be a good thing if the states follow it up by making citizenship a practical qualification. Only citizens should vote, and aliens who have been only six months in the country are not citizens. -Detroit Tribune.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.
MESSRS. C. E. COON & Co. of Upper Sandusky, Ohio, are in town for the purpose of making a thorough survey and submit to the Common Council, plans and specifications for waterworks for the village.
THE dog ordinances, published last week, is a good one, and we trust the village authorities will see that it is rigidly enforced. There is a lot of worthless good-for-nothing dogs kept about town, and no pains should be spared to make the keeping of them as uncomfortable as possible. Only last week the little daughter of Nathaniel Swank, living two miles south-west of Dayton, was made to suffer untold misery and came very near losing her life by blood poisoning, resulting from the bite of a worthless bulldog.

DAN F. BOMMERSCHMIDT, recently removed from the postmaster's office at Three Oaks, an important presidential postoffice, is turning crank. He has expressed a letter to the Postmaster General, and in the letter has written "Dictated by God Almighty." -Detroit Times.

The session and trustees of the Presbytery church of Buchanan, meeting Feb. 20, 1892, unanimously adopted the following minutes:
The official boards of the First Presbyterian church of Buchanan, knowing of the departure to the better land of so many of our faithful members, recently, desire to recognize the same by appropriate official action.
From among our communicants have been removed within a few weeks, Mr. Nelson Pratt and his wife and Mr. Samuel French and his wife, all faithful and earnest members of our church, the loss of whom we mourn, and whose co-operation and sympathy we shall greatly miss. It is our desire to place on record our appreciation of the christian worth and integrity of these friends, each one of whom have for many years been loyal servants in the kingdom of the Christ. As a session we are deeply sensible of the loss we have sustained

Rev. Mr. Klump of the Evangelical Church Tells What He Thinks of the Ballroom and the Theater.
In accordance with the natural curiosity in the human breast to learn the ideas entertained by the clergy on a certain worldly subject, and to hear the views expressed from the pulpit, there was a good congregation at the Evangelical church last Sunday evening. There is no doubt that the church would have been filled had it not been for the inclemency of the weather.
At the conclusion of the opening exercises, Mr. Klump arose and said that the ministers of Buchanan had decided to preach on this subject, and that as a suggestion of the standpoint from which he intended to speak he would read the 31st verse of the tenth chapter of 1st Corinthians—"Whether therefore you eat or drink, or whatever ye do, do all to the glory of God." Also the 23d verse of the 5th chapter of 1st Thessalonians—"Abstain from all appearance of evil." His theme was "Amusements from a Christian standpoint"—not from a worldly or even moral standpoint, but from a Christian standpoint.
He started out by saying, that Jesus Christ did not come into this world to amuse or even entertain people in the sense the word is used to-day. He did not cater to the world, the devil or the flesh, but he came to save sinners. That's the mission of the Christian church to-day. There are those who defend amusements and then ask why speak against them, saying, the theater and dancing is no worse than card playing, or kissing parties, or even talking about your neighbors; no worse than a good many other things. He did not hesitate to say they were about right. But two wrongs do not make one right. There is no argument in a statement like that. It does not lessen the evil one bit. Others say they think that such trifling matters are beneath the dignity of the pulpit to call attention to. Then Paul called attention to a trifling matter when he spoke the words of the text. I think, and my brother ministers think, that this question is one of the greatest questions of to-day. Some well-minded people will say, "You will make enemies by condemning amusements." Well, I cannot help that. I am here to do my duty. He said that he was glad to know that his members and all spiritual Christians of Buchanan were with him on this question. Reasons say that no matter what you say about amusements, you can't put it down. I do not expect you, people will dance and gamble, and go to theaters when you and I are in heaven. I believe that God calls on me to speak the truth, and I expect to keep some people from sin, and try and persuade others from sin. If I can't persuade them my time has gone for nothing. Dancing is a healthful exercise, some persons say. A young woman asks me: "Mr. Klump, is it wrong to dance?" She would like to have me say no! I reply, "In keeping with your position is there any good in it?" She says it is good exercise. Well, there may be something in that. Now if you don't get exercise enough, I would advise you to go to your room, dress properly, take some other girl with you and dance. I think, however, if you will help your worn-out mother round about the house, you will get all the exercise that your frail body needs. I want to tell you that hundreds of girls have danced into an early grave. It is said that dancing schools lead to graceful manners and a cultivation of deportment necessary to life. This may be so in regard to the body. But what about the cultivation of the character? Do you think that a hooknose Frenchman, or any other fellow, who makes his living by giving dancing lessons, and gets full on bad whisky, is the proper person to instruct your girls how to be graceful? Now what is the character of the witnesses who testify in behalf of these amusements? Refined gentlemen and ladies of culture, some members of churches, speak in favor of these things. Then there are some who are not so refined. Then comes the large class whose feet are on the crumbling verge of that awful pit, where virtue is unknown and decency is unborn. Is that not so? Now what is the character of those who do not favor these amusements? All spiritual minded ministers and Christians of all denominations. People who pray, and whose influence is a sweet savor in the community. They are the best people in Buchanan or anywhere else. The first thought against these amusements is that they do not glorify God. They have rather the appearance of evil. Will anybody deny the appearance of evil in the round dances, the walks, the theaters, where mugs at religion and mock prayers are made, the so-called kissing parties, or even church soirees, where all kinds of nonsense is perpetrated for the sake of getting money from the world? These things cause grief to the Christian people. The best people of this town are grieved on account of these things, which are being practiced in our midst. Think of the thousands who are being ruined by the amusement era. Think of the broken hearts and ruined families. In conclusion, Mr. Klump said: "Suppose you were to die to-night. Who would you desire to have with you? Would you want actors or actresses or dancing masters around your dying bed? Would you want these to hold your hands when you were going down to the deep waters of death to-night? No one in this congregation has this desire. You would want some goodly person to pray with you. That's the consolation that we all desire when our end comes."

Obituary.
After a severe illness of three months, Mrs. Mary Jane Wilson quietly passed away. She was born Aug. 12, 1832, and died March 25, 1892, aged 59 years. Mrs. Wilson came to Buchanan over 20 years ago. Her gentle, quiet disposition and kindness endeared her to many friends. She was for many years a member of the Episcopal church. There being no church of this order here, she, with her husband, united with the Methodist church. The funeral services were conducted by the writer at their home, when her remains were taken to Niles for interment. "Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of his saints." W. W. WELLS.

BRICK are being quite commonly used for street paving purposes, and with good results. It might not be out of order for those who contemplate paving Front street to investigate this material.

REV. JOSEPH ROGERS, well known here and a brother of Mrs. LeRoy Dodd, is paying his Buchanan friends a visit, and last Sunday preached in the M. E. church in the morning and in the Presbyterian church in the evening.

FOUND, by the Station Agent at Dayton, Tuesday morning, March 1st, under the bridge in front of the oil house, two robes, which the owner can have by giving a description of the property and paying for this notice.

THANKS.—To those who have been so generous in their help and kindness during the sad change which has overtaken me, I have not words to express my feelings. J. M. WILSON.

A LARGE number of the Masons of this place went to Niles, Tuesday, to attend a school of instruction called by Hon. A. M. Clark, Grand Lecturer, and they report a good time, notwithstanding the fact that Mr. Clark could not be with them in the evening, on account of sickness.

THE Modern Woodmen are leaving nothing undone in the preparations for their banquet to-morrow evening, and all who attend may be sure of an enjoyable time. Several new neighbors will be adopted, and their "goats" is said to be in fine condition, and eager for the fray.

THERE is some talk of attempting to pave the part of Front street which is in the business part of town, during the coming season. The mud of the soft part of winter is likely to produce such a feeling. Asphaltum or cement, such as is used on the Chicago boulevards, would make a nice paving.

THERE were about 16,000 square feet of cement sidewalk built in Buchanan last season, and we hope to see twice that amount, and of a better quality, during the coming summer. When the pine walks about town were new, Buchanan had the reputation of having the most and best sidewalks of any town of its size in the state. This should be the case again.

To The Public.

In view of the fact that the High School has been closed on account of one reported case of scarlet fever, we deem it of importance that every citizen should take steps to prevent the further spread of the disease. Every household should air their cellar and flush the water closet with copperas water. Those who have scarlet fever in their families are strictly forbidden communication with those who have not. By order of BOARD OF HEALTH. Per M. M. KNIGHT, Health Officer.

BENTON HARBOR will vote on the proposition of bonding the city $16,000 to cover the cost of new ward schools. —Detroit News.

GEO. A. McOMBER, of Niles, has bought from Dr. D. C. Randall his preparation and formula, and the exclusive right to manufacture his famous medicine, known as Dr. D. C. Randall's Electric Balm. This purchase also includes the right to the "trade mark" of "Dr. D. C. Randall's Electric Balm," and his plates for labels, &c. To use or sell a medicine by that name without Mr. McOmber's consent, hereafter, will render all people so vending medicine by that name, liable to an action by him. This is a valuable right. The doctor has used this name as a trade mark for perhaps fifty years, and those who infringe upon it must look out for Mr. McOmber.
