

D. H. BOWER, PUBLISHER AND PROPRIETOR. THURSDAY, MAY 24, 1894.

A GREAT TREAT For the Readers of the Record. We have been fortunate in securing for our readers one of the greatest of treats, and we will take pleasure in announcing that we publish as a serial in the columns of the Record the literary sensation of the times. It is the novel entitled "Ships that pass in the night," and is by the talented young authoress Beatrice Harraden. The first chapters will appear in our issue May 24th and the serial will run about six weeks. Be sure to send us your name in order to begin with the first chapter. Remember $1.50 pays for the Record and the Detroit WEEKLY TRUSTEE for one year.

If there is a prettier spot on earth than Belle Isle, where on earth is it? -Detroit Journal. Right on the banks of the St. Joseph river at Buchanan.

U. S. Vaughn and Miss Mary N. Jeffries, both of South Bend, were married at Volina on May 12.

Owing to the prevalence of small pox in Chicago the proposed excursion of the Dodge Relief Society of Mishawaka has been given up.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Republican newspaper publishers, held at Detroit, a resolution was passed favoring Grand Rapids as the place for holding the State Republican convention.

The bridge over the Lily lake still hold at Laporte, Ind., on the C. & W. M. R. R., has gone down again. The railroad men have been engaged for the past six months in trying to reach bottom, and a few weeks ago thought they had succeeded.

The Grand Rapids Eagle is booming Fred A. Maynard for Attorney General of Michigan. Not having the pleasure of a very long residence in this state, nor the pleasure of Mr. Maynard's acquaintance, we say like Abraham Lincoln once said, "If the people want that kind of a man, why that is the kind of a man they want."

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

The Buchanan Power & Electric Company started up the new arc light machine furnished by the Standard Electric Company of Chicago, yesterday. The machine has a capacity for 60 arc lights and works beautifully. The Company are also busy engaged in putting up a twelve hundred light incandescent machine which they expect to have running next week. Nearly all the wire contracted for is completed, and any one who is contemplating putting in the light will have to attend to the matter at once, if they want to get the benefit of the company's liberal offer of free wiring.

A Bank of Clay.

Monday evening Mr. J. G. Holmes was exhibiting with a great deal of pride a vase that had been made from clay taken by him from the bank on the property of the Buchanan Power & Electric Company. The vase was molded and then burned in a kiln. The clay is similar to that from which flower pots are made but of a much finer grade. The bank was bored for a depth of eighteen feet without showing any perceptible difference in the quality of the clay. Surely Buchanan will have no need to fear the lack of industries when the resources of our village become known.

Mr. Frank Munson, engineer at the pumping station, has invented a very simple attachment to be placed on steam boilers, for the purpose of feeding kerosene oil into the boiler with the water. Kerosene oil is recognized by engineers as an excellent preventative of scaling in boilers, and also moving any deposit that is already in the tubes. The problem heretofore has been how to get the oil into the boiler at the right time and in the proper quantities. This problem Mr. Munson has solved with his invention, and the amount of oil supplied to the boiler can be regulated from a teaspoonful or less every twenty-four hours, to any quantity desired. The principle upon which it works is the difference in the specific gravity of oil and water. Mr. Munson has had papers drawn up and will apply for a patent.

Memorial Day.

The members of Wm. Perrott Post No. 22, G. A. R., have completed their arrangements for the observance of Memorial Day. The members of the Post, together with all ex-soldiers and sailors, are requested to meet at the Post rooms on Wednesday afternoon, May 30, at 1:30 sharp, and proceed to the Evangelical church, where Rev. Geo. Johnson, the pastor, will deliver an address at 2 o'clock. After the address they will march to Oak Ridge cemetery where they will decorate the graves of the veterans buried there. The Modern Woodmen have engaged a band, and have tendered the G. A. R. an escort, which has been accepted. All who wish to contribute flowers for Memorial Day are requested to send them to the Engine House, on Oak street, as early as possible on Wednesday morning, when a committee will be in attendance to receive them.

JOHN M. ROUGH, President. C. D. KENT, Clerk.

Last Week's Storm. Last Thursday was an extremely hot day, the thermometer registering 91 degrees above zero at noon. About half past eight in the evening a terrific rain and wind storm burst upon the town, and for several hours the rain came down in torrents, the wind driving it in sheets before it, and for several hours every one had pressing engagements indoors. The violence of the storm displaced the bridge over the St. Joseph river just above the dam, letting one side of the bridge sag down about two feet, and rendering it unsafe for teams to cross, although it was not particularly dangerous for foot passengers. One of our butchers who happened to be on the opposite side of the river, had to lead his team over, one horse at a time. The bridge is not seriously damaged, as it can be put back in place with comparatively little expense. On Friday the temperature went down to 50 degrees, a drop of 41 degrees in less than twenty-four hours. On Saturday the weather was still colder, making every one skinnish around for heavy overcoats and thicker clothing.

About Wheat.

BUCHANAN, Mich., May 24, 1894. One week ago to-day cash No. 2 red wheat in Toledo sold at 53 1/2 c, or within 1/2 cent of the panic price of the latter part of July. Detroit wheat has sold at a less price than it did during the currency panic referred to. This morning wheat opens at 54c in Detroit, 54 1/2 c in Toledo, 55c in Chicago, and unless exports improve during the day there will be a decline from these figures.

FROM NEW TROY.

May 21, 1894. The saddest death around here for some time was the death of Mrs. Burwell Hinchman of Sawyer, who died Friday evening of heart disease. She was sick but a few hours, and died before any of the doctors got there. She had a host of friends in this vicinity. If it didn't quit raining this week the farmers will have to use boats to plant their corn. The water is all over now, and the cat fish and sturgeons are eating up what few crops that have been planted. The dog fish are after the sheep and have to corral them every night. The winds have injured the fruit some, and keeps the strawberries back. Our school will end this week, and Prof. Kittelle will go to Fairplain for the next year. Uncle Peter Umphrey is no better, and chances are he will not be. Pitt J. Pierce has been weather bound here for a week. We also saw Levi Redden here buying wood.

GLENDORA.

May 24, 1894. Farmers are getting uneasy. Corn planting is fairly begun. The storms of last week did considerable damage in this section. Corn and oat fields were badly washed and wheat blown down so badly that it will probably never rise. The prospects for fruit was never better in this section. Frank Penwell shipped a case of strawberries today. Miss Burl Williams, of Buchanan, is visiting friends in this vicinity. Mr. Schlappi, who has been sick a long time, is reported to be slowly recovering. Our boys who have bicycles are wondering when they can use them.

FOUR CITY OF WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., was four feet under water on Tuesday, and all that section of Pennsylvania and Southern New York have suffered from floods.

BERRIEN CENTRE. From our Regular Correspondent. May 23, 1894. It rains, and the days are long and dreary for invalids and rheumatic farmers who must remain within doors, but brightly young men and boys are at home on the lakes taking in the little fishes out of the wet. Farm labor, highway improvements and out door work of all kinds are suspended by the incessant heavy rains, and hay making and potato planting are likely to come together. Our Supervisor, J. L. Bishop, and his review members, Henry Hess and Edward Cady, are too deeply interested in the assessment roll to think of their agricultural interests just now. Highway Commissioner J. H. Fisher has called in his men and teams from the highways and gravel pits and with the town clerk is now assessing a labor tax to be applied on the roads in the good time coming when the rains have passed away. Our good friend C. S. Brownell, who has been sick for several weeks, is becoming quite feeble. His daughter, Mrs. Emma Peck of Buchanan, was called to see him last Saturday. Rev. Wm. J. Funky, of Berrien Springs, will deliver a memorial address at Berrien Centre Lutheran church, Sunday, 27th inst., at 7:30 p. m. Our blacksmith shop, recently vacated by John Hubbard, is now occupied by Mr. Uriah Hoffman, of Grand Rapids, who is prepared to do good work in his line. Farmers of Berrien Centre, give him your patronage, and don't let him have time to go fishing and hunting. Mr. Lewis S. Wosner, proprietor of the cider and vinegar mill here, has purchased lot No. 45, on which the mill now stands, and also lots 43 and 44, recently owned by James Hoyt. Hon. Thomas Mars left here Tuesday for Tennessee to attend the National Conference of Correctional and Charities.

Michigan Berries in the Market.

The fruit season at the Berrien Harbor. The fruit season was open Monday night by the first shipment of the year from Benton Harbor. It consisted of strawberries, raspberries, and will arrive in Chicago early Tuesday morning. These strawberries are the prize winners for both the fruit grower here and the commission man who sells them on South Water street, and the honors of the first shipments are always eagerly sought for. The crop of strawberries promises to be large beyond all precedent.

GALIEN.

From our Regular Correspondent. The recent rains in this vicinity have caused no particular damage, with the exception of preventing spring work. The majority of farmers have not yet finished plowing for corn, and those who have planted will have to replant, largely on account of washing and rotting. It is impossible to tell at this time the effect of these rains upon pears, apples and other large fruit, but judging from the rains of two years ago it will be very injurious, as at that time even after the fruit was well formed the rain caused it to drop off. Wheat and oats are looking well, and hay exceptionally so. Strawberries are beginning to ripen in this vicinity. Memorial Day will be observed in this place Sunday, May 27, with appropriate exercises at the M. E. church, beginning at 2:30 p. m. Rev. C. P. Birdsey will deliver the memorial sermon. The exercises incident to the closing of the school, this week, are as follows: Sunday evening, May 27, vocal exercises, by E. A. Blackles, at the M. E. church. Friday evening, June 1st, exercises at the M. E. church, and at 10 o'clock p. m. the annual meeting and banquet of the alumni at the Swan House. The order of exercises for Decoration Day are as follows: At 8:30 comrades meet at G. A. R. Hall and proceed to decorate graves at Vessaw cemetery. At 1:30 p. m. comrades again meet at the Hall and form in line of march to the grove where the exercises of the day will be had. Prof. W. M. Milham will deliver the oration, and music will be furnished by drum corps, cornet band and male quartet. After the exercises the Post will march to decorate graves in Gallien cemetery. M. J. Smith "stole a march" on his many friends in this place, last week, by quietly slipping away to Southern Illinois and getting married. The happy event took place at the bride's home, near St. Elmo, Ill., and Mr. Smith immediately brought his bride to the neat little home he had already prepared for her in this place. Congratulations are extended. Bur.
