THE PATRIOTS' GRAVES. BY NEIL MACDONALD. I beg your pardon, sir," said the major with ominous calmness, "did you apply that term to me?"

When still the arms that you entwined Before your quiet place of rest. Yet in a nation's heart enshrined Your deeds shall garish tale and song.

COLONEL AND MAJOR. [Copyright, 1895, by American Press Association.] The colonel and the major sat on the hotel piazza playing cribbage.

THE COLONEL SOBBED ALOUD. Her man nor devil, who led wherever hope was most forlorn, who was always where the fight was hottest, who fell at last, a just on his lips, struck to the heart by the death of a comrade.

FROM THE FRONT. [Copyright, 1895, by American Press Association.] It was a two story frame house, painted white and with green blinds.

Remembrances of Roses. When slowly falls the curtain of the night and the stars are twinkling in the sky, when the western sky is dying red.

A Sentiment by Garfield. If silence be ever golden, it must be here beside the graves of those 18,000 soldiers, whose lives were more significant than those of kings.

THE NATION MOURNS ITS PATRIOTS. When the nation is doctored, the people rejoice, but when a patriot dies a nation mourns.

DRIVEN BY THE DEACON HIMSELF. The building covers 600,000 square feet of land or nearly 13 acres. It has 18 columns, 88 staircases, 15 elevators, 85 fountains and 5,000 feet of painted fresco.

"I AM NOT A REBEL, SIR!" suddenly rolled the strain of an old army song, stirring in its measure, pathetic in its melody.

more moderate pace, and as he approached the little general store where the postoffice was kept his footsteps lagged. He was afraid he would receive the same answer that he had for days.

"That's just the answer the boy did receive when at last he crept into the store, between rows of two lined bookshelves and wooden hand racks, but there was this addition: the kindly old postmaster to the dreaded words that told the story of his mail!

"Oh, your mother that we may get another mail today, and if we do we'll send anything that comes for you right up."

"Dear Lord, my heavenly Father," quavered the deacon in tones of urgent concern. Then he stopped. What was that?

"DEAR WIFE AND SON JOHN - I have been a little and my job is field night, but it is not serious, and I shall not even have to go to the hospital. So do not be worried. We have won a great victory, and our God will keep me safely to the end and bring us all together again!"

"How do I look?" asked a young wife who stood before her husband dressed to attend a party with him.

"There was an looking - it is dead now - no use to say to his wife, 'My dear, you are looking charming this evening,' or, 'I love you best in that blue dress of yours.' He was a poor stick of a man in the way of worldly success, but his widow canonized him for other things.

Beautiful Tributes and Great Thoughts by Poet and Sage. Sleep, calm and rest. On this field of the grounded arm, where foes no more molest, nor sentry's shot alarms.

Oh, tell me not that they are dead, that generous hearts that they are laid to rest. They live in the hearts of those who love them, and their names are on the lips of those who honor them.

Oh, brothers, the days grow longer, and the nights like a glory shine. And the stars are brighter than the heat and the fire of vision.

Oh, my country, my country! Heart of my life, my life, my life! O my dear land, in your defense, whose eagle eye grew dim in the smoke of battle, and whose brave heart was cooled by the waters of the sea.

Brothers, who fought for more than empty honor. My land united might be free, my soil forevermore upon our banner.

This day is sacred to our heroes dead. Upon their tombs we have laid our wreaths of spring. This is a day for memory and tears.

Bring flowers to strew again. With fragrant purple rain. Let the straws like those of the sea. Scatter the tributes we lay on each bed.

R. N. Vannatter, aged 73, has purchased his own tombstone and that of his wife, and is having them erected on lots in the cemetery at Watervliet. The Vannatters are in medium good health. They never had any children, and there are no near relatives to attend to matters after they are dead, so intend to make sure of tombstones. Vannatter intends to have the tombstones set up ready for Decoration Day, when they will be viewed by hundreds of people.

Henry C. Morton, the oldest resident of Benton Harbor, passed away Thursday morning at 3 o'clock in the old homestead he helped build, half a century ago, on Morton Hill. Mr. Morton was born at Alexandria, N. Y., Jan. 27, 1817. He moved to Benton Harbor in 1838 and was proprietor of a log hotel there, it being the terminus of the old stage route from Detroit. Mr. Morton owned 400 acres of land and planted the third peach orchard in that section. He went to the legislature in 1862 but resigned on account of the Democratic majority in the House. The death of Benton Harbor's oldest resident is keenly felt. A proclamation was issued by the mayor requesting that all business be suspended on Monday, when the funeral took place.

The Month of Roses will be celebrated by a special edition of American Gardening devoted to Roses and Rose Growing. Prominent amateur and professional rosarians will assist in making this the finest and most attractive number of the kind ever issued. A beautiful supplement, lithographed in many colors, illustrating one of the best and most popular of the new roses, will be given away with each copy. This special Rose number will also be profusely illustrated by half-tone engravings, etc. We have made arrangements with the publishers (American Gardening, P. O. Box 1007, New York) to have a copy of this number sent free to any of our readers who may apply for it.

The Buchanan Advance.

The members of the Ladies Aid Society of the Presbyterian church have for some weeks past been engaged in preparing an edition of a sixteen page paper in the interests of their society, and the town. The paper was published last Friday and is named the Buchanan Advance, and is a paper that reflects great credit upon the ladies who have had the matter in charge. It is printed on a fine quality of calendered book paper, the size of pages being 10 1/2 inches by 14 inches. The contents comprise articles on "Buchanan of Today," "Our Public Schools," "Presbyterian Church," local items, communications from former members of the church, biographical sketches of Rev. O. J. Roberts and Mrs. Abbie M. Stebbins, several contributed articles, poems, and a choice selection of miscellany. In addition to this very flattering amount, showing that the ladies have worked indefatigably to achieve success. As to the typographical appearance we think it will compare favorably with any other production of its class and, we are proud to say, that the Advance is a product of the Record job department.

A Safety Bicycle Free.

The publishers of Home Life (a family paper) are giving away a strictly high grade, pneumatic tire bicycle, any size or style, as a premium to those who will agree to send in a certain number of subscriptions, and it is sent in advance to get the subscribers with, under certain conditions. You can easily earn one. Write at once for full particulars and canvassing outfit, to Home Life, Caro, Mich.

Clairvoyant Examinations Free.

The first and most important thing for the proper understanding of an individual treatment of chronic or lingering diseases of any kind, is its thorough examination and true diagnosis. You can secure this with a full explanation of the cause, nature and extent of your disorder free of charge by enclosing a lock of hair, with name and age, to Dr. E. F. Butterfield, Syracuse, N. Y.

Prosecuting Attorney Frazer of Detroit dismissed the case against Wm. J. White alias Whitney, and signed an order delivering White to Detective Bagnerello, of the Brooklyn detective force, who took White to Brooklyn Tuesday night, to answer to the charge of grand larceny. Deputy Sheriff Hathaway was summoned to Ann Arbor on Saturday by a telegram from Mrs. Tomlinson and left on the evening train. In an interview with Mrs. Tomlinson at Ann Arbor she stated that her attorney, Thomas Navin, told her on Saturday that if she would not appear against White in the bigamy proceedings that White would stand trial at Brooklyn, and if she would allow the officers to take him to Brooklyn there would be $4,000 in cold cash paid to her. This statement may be a solution of the action taken by the Detroit authorities.

Found the Missing Papers.

An Echo of the Vetter Assault Case at Buchanan.

Last November the murder of August Vetter was attempted by his father-in-law, George Swearenger, who was tried, convicted, and is now serving a fifteen-year sentence at Jackson. At the time of the murder an insurance policy on Vetter's life, together with deeds and other papers turned up missing, and the suggestion was that Swearenger had taken them, and that the assault was made with a view of realizing on the policy. Last Thursday Vetter and his wife had some difference and Mrs. Vetter left him, going back to his mother at South Bend. Vetter refused to give up any of the goods belonging to Mrs. Vetter, whereupon she sent Constable John Wenger to Vetter's home to get her effects.

While in the garret getting some articles a value belonging to Vetter was found which contained all the missing papers. How they came there is a mystery, as no one seemed to know who put them in the valise or for what purpose.

An Important Announcement.
"M. Quad," the Famous Eucorist, Takes his Old Place on The Free Press.

We find great pleasure in announcing to our readers that Chas. B. Lewis, the famous "M. Quad," has resumed his former place upon The Detroit Free Press. Since his retirement from The Free Press four years ago Mr. Lewis has been writing for one of the leading syndicates. His preference for direct newspaper work, however, led him to abandon that connection, and hereafter his popular writings will appear only in The Free Press. Mr. and Mrs. Dowser, Brother Gardner, Arizona Kicker, Zeb White, Abe Crofoot, Mrs. Gallup, and many new characters, will appear regularly.

The publishers are making a special four months' trial offer of the Semi-Weekly Free Press for 25c to introduce their paper to new readers, and we would advise those looking for a great bargain to send in their subscription at once. The offer is good only until August 1st.

The Largest Shipment of Paints on Record.
The largest single shipment and bonafide sale of manufactured paints ever sent out by any house in the world was made by Heath & Milligan Manufacturing Company, of Chicago, this year. This mammoth order required a solid train of fifteen cars, averaging 24,310 pounds to the car, all the manufactured product of Heath & Milligan Manufacturing Company, and all sold in a single order, on sixty days' time cash, without consignment of any portion.

In this connection, some idea may be obtained of the facilities of this company for turning out goods, which will account for the promptness displayed in shipping orders.

The order was from Campbell Glass and Paint Company, of Kansas City, general western agents for Heath & Milligan Manufacturing Company, for twelve cars best prepared paint, one car climax tinted paint, one car railway white lead, one car colors in oil and Japan. A total of fifteen cars, averaging 24,310 pounds.—Paint, Oil and Drug Review, April 3.
