

ECZEMA From early childhood until I was grown my family spent a fortune trying to cure me of this disease. I visited Hot Springs, and was treated by the best medical men, but was not benefited. FROM When all things had failed I determined to try S. S. S., and in four months was entirely cured. The terrible Eczema was gone, not a sign left, my general health built up and I have never had any return of the disease. I have since recommended CHILDHOOD S. S. S. to a number of friends for skin diseases, and have never known a failure to cure. SSS Never fails to cure. It is the only medicine that cures. It is the only medicine that cures. It is the only medicine that cures. SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.

JOSHUA VAUGHAN HOLMES.
 Elder Joshua V. Holmes died at his home, Elk Point, S. Dakota, on Saturday, July 27, aged 91 years. Mr. Holmes will be well remembered by the people of Buchanan who were his twenty years ago, as he was then a prominent figure among them, and known by nearly every man, woman and child in town. He was for many years a prominent preacher and editor of the Advent faith. The first steam power press used in this county was put in by him, in the building yet standing in the rear of the Oak street Advent church, where was printed The Voice of the West, an Advent paper with a large circulation, and where tracts by the million were issued. During that time Mr. Holmes was almost continually traveling, preaching and collecting money for the spread of the Gospel as he understood it. He was a great worker, always busy, and ever looking out for the welfare of others. Mr. Holmes became a preacher of the Gospel at the age of 19, first in the Christian church. About 1857 he united himself with Father Miller and commenced to preach Adventism, which he continued until a few years since, when he was received into the Episcopal church, and ordained a Deacon. He was given the appointment at Elk Point, and continued pastor of that church until his death.

 FRANK ENGLISH, Secretary,
 JOHN G. HOLMES, Vice Pres.,
 Dated, Buchanan, Mich., July 25, 1895.

After some discussion the council decided that it was necessary to have a village attorney, and Mr. A. A. Worthington was appointed for the balance of the year. A committee of two, consisting of Bishop and Graham, was appointed to confer with the village attorney in regard to the petition from Messrs. Holmes and English, after which the meeting adjourned to meet Wednesday night.

The adjourned meeting was called to order about 8 o'clock Wednesday night, by President Hinman, with Trustees Bishop, Graham, Phelps and Dalrymple present. The committee on the water power asked for more time, which was granted, after which the council adjourned to meet at the call of the president.

Roe filled the pulpit at the Christian church, Sunday. J. H. Lacy of Rolling Prairie, Ind., preached on Wednesday and Thursday nights, at the Christian church. The social at Geo. NEW TROY.
 From our Regular Correspondent.
 July 30, 1895.
 These last rains are the making of the corn and potatoes. We have a great grocery war between New Troy and Sawyer, growing out of the carrying of the mails. So far there is no blood spilled, but "heep talk".

Commenced threshing oats. Yield well, according to straw, but the trouble is there's not enough straw. T. H. Morley and wife are both in Chicago. Mrs. Morley is getting better. Spencer, Barnes & Stuart will have quantity of wood cut, this winter, to clear up some of their land. The Township Board will, put in, with the help of the Highway and Drain Commissioners, eight steel bridges, this year. They will cost about $1,800, or $200 each. We are fixing for an elegant tax, this winter. Jno. T. Beckwith has struck a flowing or artesian well at a depth of ninety-six feet.

Letter from Boston.
 Boston, Mass., July 20, 1895.
 A brief description of some of the sights of this old city may be of sufficient interest to command space in our home paper nearly a thousand miles away. First, a correction in our former letter. The number of strangers here during the Y. P. S. C. E. convention was estimated at 60,000 to 70,000. The types made it 6,000 to 7,000. Many of them lingered a week or two, sight-seeing. Some of them made a trip over the route traversed by Paul Revere during his famous ride. Yesterday we attended the Fourth St. Baptist church. The regular pastor, Rev. Wheeler, was absent and his place was filled by a young minister, who was formerly a member of that Sunday school, who preached a good sermon from 1 Tim. 1:11.

Toward evening we went to City Point in South Boston, where stands the splendid statue of Admiral Farragut looking out over the harbor. The pose and expression are very fine indeed, and looking at it one finds himself watching to see the breast heave and the drapery move as the sea breeze passes by it. There is no inscription, only the name of the sculptor, Kitson, and the date 1891. We walked over the pier and bridge to Castle Island, where stands old Fort Independence. It is grim and massive and one could almost imagine those stern old soldiers peering out through the portholes. Three cannon are in position behind a low stone wall, as if ready to fire on the enemy's boats in the harbor. Quite a number of others are lying around on the green grass, like old veterans taking a rest. Boats were passing to and fro, Nantucket steamers, pleasure yachts, etc. One vessel came in, looking so different from the lake boats we are accustomed to, as it had no upper decks. A cattle boat lay broken in two, a few rods from the shore, where it was stranded a month or two ago. It is to be blown up and removed. While we sat under the shelter of the old fort watching the beautiful, shifting panorama before us, the harbor lights came mellowing out as the shadows fell, the sweet, mellow tones of a bell came floating across the waters. We thought it was some distant church bell across the harbor, calling to evening service, but on inquiring found it was a bell boy placed about twenty feet from the cattle ship, near a sunken rock, which, when the tide was out, became a point of danger, and the rocking of the waves made the bell give forth its sweet and warning tones. There is a whistling buoy a little farther around the island that sounds when the wind is high.

We intended, on the way home, to go to one of the big charity churches for evening service, but were too late, and seeing a tent over to the right, from whence came the familiar strains of "Hold the Fort," etc., we went in. It was apparently a mission service, held by an Episcopal clergyman for the poorer classes of South Boston. There was a song service led by a piano, violin, cornet and bass viol; responsive readings, recital of the Apostles' creed and a very good sermon.

Boston is already making arrangements for the great convalescence of the K. T. to be held here next month. The line of march marked out, etc., and if the Knights are welcomed as heartily and entertained as royally as were the Christian Endeavorers, there will be no room for complaint. We are curious to see whether the gates which guard the precious and historic dead of two centuries ago will open also to them.

The climate here is not good for any one suffering with catarrh or asthma, as it is so often damp and there is a great deal of east wind. The water supply is very inferior, at least in taste, to that of Buchanan or Benton Harbor. We are staying at present with a sister-in-law on N. street, South Boston, and are within a few rods of Dorchester Bay, where there are about two hundred pleasure yachts lying at anchor. We have seen but a little as yet of the many interesting things in and around this staid old city, and shall probably remain a week or two longer before taking the "Flying Yankee," which goes through to Point-du-Chene, Canada, by rail in twenty-four hours.

Half Rates to Colorado.

NEWS BRIEFS.
 Menominee had a $300,000 fire yesterday. The Governor's Foot Guard of Hartford, Connecticut, which is the oldest Military organization in America, will visit the Cotton States and International Exposition on Connecticut Day as an escort of honor to the Governor of Connecticut and his staff. The Guard is distinguished by its picturesque uniform, a knickerbocker suit. They will furnish one of the picturesque features among the military events of the Fair.

There was a $6,500 fire in the business part of Union City, Mich., early Monday morning, and nearly all the remaining frame structures were destroyed. The fire started between Evers' drug store and Waterman's saloon. The losses are: Mrs. Louisa Evers, drug store and building, $3,000; partially insured; J. J. Banford, building, $1,000, insured for $500; H. H. Chase, jewelry and building, $500, no insurance; Dwight Waterman, saloon, $1,000, no insurance; Charles Brooks, billiard hall, $400, no insurance. The Paddock house narrowly escaped burning.

Crushed pea vines from the canning factory, at Hart, Mich., will be about the only green stuff the farmers in that section will have to feed their stock this winter. Sprinkled with salt, this makes excellent fodder. The proprietor of the factory has an arrangement by which the poorer class of farmers may register their names and receive a load of these crushed pea vines. He refuses to sell them.

The German Evangelical Lutheran church of St. Clair, will celebrate its thirty-eighth anniversary, next Sunday, in the Oakland grove. The congregations from Columbus, Lexon and Mt. Clemens and members from New Haven and Port Huron will be present. There will be preaching by Rev. Mr. Schnessler of Port Gratiot, in the morning, in German, and by Rev. R. Smukal of Detroit, in the afternoon. Rev. H. Charles Bauer the founder of the church, is expected to be present.

R. G. Dun & Co's Weekly says: It is not the season for the tide of business to rise, but there is perceived scarcely any shrinkage except that which came naturally with mid-summer opening of the year. The volume of spring trade threw heavy settlements into the second week of July, and Clearing House payments are now almost a quarter of a million in excess of what they were a year ago. The volume of new business is small compared with recent months, but large enough to encourage more opening of long credit work and more advances in returns to labor. Important strikes show that the advance is not enough for some, but seem not more threatening than a week ago. The small shipments of gold count for nothing, and money markets are undisturbed. A graver cause of apprehension, if current reports were reliable, would be the injury to wheat, which has affected the markets more this week than at any other time since early in June, but with reason or without, the reports are generally believed to be exaggerated, and the dispatches to Dun's Review are much more favorable.

HEK "TAM O'SHANTER."
 When first across my path her eyes sped,
 I saw her smile and her hair was red;
 What made me fall in love with her?
 With sweet face beneath her "Tam O'Shanter".
 Was it that sparkling eyes of heaven's blue,
 Or the long drooping tresses of her hair,
 Or the sweet smile that lit her face,
 That made me love her "Tam O'Shanter".
 Was it the wind-tossed mass of golden curls,
 That set my beating heart in such a whirl?
 Or the sweet smile that lit her face,
 That made me love her "Tam O'Shanter".
 Was it those lips that I had long beguiled,
 That set my heart in such a whirl?
 Or the sweet smile that lit her face,
 That made me love her "Tam O'Shanter".
 Or, better than her eyes, her lips, her hair,
 Was it her heart that took me prisoner there?
 Was it the smile that lit her face,
 That made me love her "Tam O'Shanter".
 I know not what it was that sealed my vow,
 I only know that I feel better now,
 Before me sits that selfsame "Tam O'Shanter".

 D. W. Feller, of Canajoharie, N. Y., says that he always keeps Dr. King's New Discovery in the house, and his family has always found the very best results follow its use. That he would be without it, if procurable. G. A. Dykeman, Druggist, Catskill, N. Y., says that Dr. King's New Discovery is undoubtedly the best cough remedy; that he has used it in his family for eight years, and it has never failed to do all that is claimed for it. Why not try a remedy so long tried and tested. Trial bottle free at W. F. Runner's Drug Store. Regular size 50c, and $1.00.

 S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with neuralgia and rheumatism, his stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., has been running sore at his eye for eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had a large cancer over his eye, his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold at W. F. LITERARY NOTES.
 Frank H. Stockton, the author of "The Lady and the Tiger" and "The Wonderful Story of How Henry and the Lion got Married," has just published a new story, "The Story of the Boy Who Was Taken for a Girl." Stockton's story is more than 100,000 words long, and is the longest story ever published in this country. It is a story of a boy who is taken for a girl, and who grows up as a girl, and who finally discovers his true identity. The story is full of interest and is a masterpiece of fiction.

Harper's for August is strong in fiction. The "The personal recollections of John Jay" relate the story of Jay's examination by the bishops, but the chief interest is in the recollections of his campaign against the enemies of the French King. Mr. Hardy's "Hearts Assurance" is a story of a woman who is married to a man who is a member of the House of Commons. The story is full of interest and is a masterpiece of fiction.

 Hood's Sarsaparilla Purifies the Blood and Restores Health.

Mr. J. W. Stottell, Wilmet, S. Dak.
 "G. C. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:—About four years ago my wife was troubled with salt rheum. Although we tried nearly everything it got worse instead of better. Finally she came to you and we bought two bottles of your Sarsaparilla and when we had used them her hands were entirely healed and her face was restored to its natural color. In December, 1892, my neck was covered with boils of a Scrofulous Nature. There were sixteen of them and as soon as they healed others would break out. My neck finally became covered with ridges and Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures. I then commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and after taking four bottles the boils had all healed and the scars had disappeared. I recommended Hood's Sarsaparilla to all suffering from disorder of the blood."—F. W. ECKHART, Wilmet, South Dakota.

We note with pleasure the early receipt of the Michigan Registration Report (Vital Statistics) for the year 1895, directly from the Secretary of State. Until last year these reports were transmitted through the offices of the county clerks, under which system many failed to reach their destination and accumulated in large quantities until finally destroyed as worthless. While our registration laws are very imperfect in many important respects, nevertheless data of great value have been collected under them, and could this information be placed in the proper hands much good to the state would result. Every health officer should have a set of these reports, in which he could examine the comparative mortality and special causes of deaths prevalent in his locality from year to year, and thereby learn in what direction his attention should be chiefly turned. The report appears to be excellently arranged for reference, has a general analytical index, diagrams and colored map (showing the distribution of mortality from typhoid fever), and may be obtained by applying to the Secretary of State at Lansing.

The New Furniture Factory.

Work was commenced last week on Kompass & Stoll's new furniture factory, which is to be built on Front street, just below the old Volant and Dakota mills. Seagle & Dougan have the contract to do the work. The building will be 80x50 feet, two stories high, and will have, so to speak, three fronts, one on Front street, one on Michigan street, and the other on the Big Four railroad, making an arrangement for shipping goods and receiving supplies. In addition to the main building there will also be built an engine boiler house, and other buildings for the storage of lumber and various other purposes. The location is an excellent one for the factory, being convenient to water and its railroad shipping facilities will be at its doors.—Niles Republican.

Mrs. Lewis F. Hahn and Mrs. E. F. Hahn, while riding east on Michigan street, toward the cemetery, on Tuesday, narrowly escaped a serious accident, and as it was, Mrs. Lewis Hahn had an arm broken. When driving the South Bend riding track they heard a whistle, but, waiting some time and seeing no train approach, they thought the train must be on the Big Four track. Moving ahead and when about to cross the track they were surprised to see a train come dashing toward them. They had not time to cross the track and had to turn the horse's head to the left to keep him from being struck by the engine. Mrs. Lewis Hahn jumped from the buggy and had her arm broken. Dr. F. H. Belknap set the fracture.—Niles Republican.

Private D. L. Bradley of Co. F of South Bend was first place in the Indiana National Guard at target practice, at a distance of 600.
