SUNDAY SCHOOL EVANGEL.

EDITED BY REV. O. J. ROBERTS.

This column is open to any who have any communication bearing upon practical Sunday school work, or has any news concerning the progress of the same.

Seventeenth Annual Convention of Berrien Co. S. A. Association.

The seventeenth annual convention of the Berrien Co. Sunday School Association was held in the Town Hall at Berrien Springs on Tuesday and Wednesday, Oct. 29 and 30.

The convention was opened by a song service, led by B. E. Jennings, of South Haven, Miss. H. M. Orono, of Berrien Springs, presided at the piano.

The afternoon session was attended by nearly four hundred persons, and was called to order promptly on time. The following was the afternoon program:

1:15—Song Service. 1:30—Miscellaneous business. Township reports. 2:00—What proves a teacher's efficiency in service? J. O. Lovrie, D. D., Niles.

Our report closes with this session, and next week we will have a full account of the balance of the convention which promises to be the most interesting ever held in Berrien county.

This section of the state ought to be well and largely represented at the State Sunday school convention at Detroit, Nov. 19-21.

We clip the following from The Gospel Messenger published at South Bend by Alfred Cull:

Berrien County, Michigan, will hold their Sunday school convention Oct. 28 and 30. We wish them a God speed in all their work of building up the Sunday school.

The Sunday school work in this county is moving on slowly but surely to the "front line."

We are in receipt of the October number of The Ashtabeker, the organ of the Sunday school association of Indiana, published at Indianapolis. It is a wide awake publication, admirably qualified by its contents to "thrust" the workers.

We clip the following from the Ashtabeker: If a county Sunday school can do more for ten cents than a church can for a dollar, don't give up the church!

But, suppose it does cost a county president and secretary, a little money to secure the workers needed and have the work done? What if you pay out $10 to $25 or $50 for printing and postage and live it right out of your own pocket?

We were told by one of our district presidents last week that he made three trips into one of his counties, in working up a single convention, and he intends making a fourth trip when the convention is held, and he added, "It cost me $25 of my own money to be district president last year, but I don't mind that."

County officers, if it costs you $5 or $10 or $25 of your own money to make of your county a "Banner County," put up the money, and thank God you can it in it where you will go so far.

For county and township officers give us men who will give us time and money, and we can make the Sunday school association of Indiana work.

LESSON OF THE LILIES.

Dear lilies of the field, they grow in sweet profusion by the road, where passed the Sunday people through to worship in their church nooks.

Then the victory was won, but not on the side of duty. And only then, when she had fully determined on her plan did she find peace or rest.

That night she averted herself in her room, and she had also looked more beautiful. The graces themselves might have envied her.

It was after the midnight watch had been called, and the palace was in darkness that a figure enveloped in a black cloak glided through the wide corridor to the king's apartments.

Nissus slept, and the daughter slowly awoke, and she saw a noble he looked, but the girl stole her heart against him!

When the king beheld her, he thought so lovely a woman had never before walked the earth, but when holding out the purple cloak she said, she gave up her city, her father, herself, he spared her from him.

"Shall Orete," he cried, "where Jove himself was cradled, be polluted by this resting place? Infamous woman, begone and mind and nor see adorned this resting place!"

"Alas!" cried Orete. "For thee have I given up everything! Aye, I am deservingly dead, but thy hand should not be the one to deal the blow!"

As the ships were departing Seylla jumped into the sea, and grasping the wall thereof, she begged for mercy. Minos was carried along with it till an eagle, into which her father had been changed, darted down and pecked at her with its beak and claws.

When this day the eagle pounces upon the gull, ever seeking vengeance for the old crime,—Virginia Horton in Philadelphia Times.

MINING OF PHOSPHATES. Where Deposits Are Found and How They Are Prepared.

The Florida phosphate deposits are of great importance, yet their existence was discovered so recently that few persons not engaged in the sale of fertilizers had any knowledge of them.

The phosphate region in the world known today that possesses so many advantages for successful mining is the Florida deposits. The grade of material is the highest average that is being worked anywhere.

"The mining camps are generally well regulated, and proprietors and employees are satisfied with the results obtained in other mining operations, and the cost of a plant with sufficient land to work upon is within the reach of small investors.

HAVE YOU THE TIME?

THE ODDS ARE TWENTY TO ONE THAT YOU HAVE NOT.

Some of the Reasons Why or Least One of the Ways—How Your Time is Recorded Daily From Washington.

Ninety-nine men out of a hundred keep no account of time. Ninety-nine men out of a hundred are just in the act of regarding their watches in front of a window when they are called to work.

If you ask a man the time, and his watch is wrong, he is invariably going to the watchmaker for every day to have it put in order. No one has any idea of keeping the correct time. All believe that they have it in their pockets, and none ever gets it except at the moment of setting his watch.

If you have a friend in the railroad business and stop him in the street with a friendly "Hello, old fellow, what's the time, it's always late," he will tell you that he has a watch in his pocket, and he will give you the hour and a half.

There was no minutes' difference between them. Every time the station boss laid strikes a hundred men pull out their watches with a confident air of being correct and put them back into their pockets.

An experienced jeweler and watchmaker, when asked the reason why so few people kept good time, said that nine-tenths of the causes of bad running watches was due to carelessness and irregularity in winding.

A watch should be wound at the same time every day, and it ought to be regulated on one or two occasions a month, when both hands come together.

The finest watches cannot be made perfect, and the best way to detect any difference between the two hands is to rest them at 12 o'clock, and if they are not exactly together, make them so by holding the longer and winding the hour hand up to it.

An expensive jeweled watch ranging from $500 to $1,000 is very seldom in good running order simply because the owner is not careful in the way he winds it and does not dare touch it himself.

In a large city correct time, absolutely correct time, is a matter between some dozen or two of men who follow almost every stroke of a pendulum and correct the two or three times a day.

Correct time comes into Philadelphia by way of the Pennsylvania Railroad. The United States time observatory at Washington, where the "drop ball" makes an electric contact that sends the signal all over the country.

The Washington observatory clock runs for years together and has never varied more than six seconds for any one year.

It is kept true by continual quadrant observations on the altitude of the sun at its meridian. As the earth's revolution becomes slower only by the fraction of a second in a thousand years may be said that time is constant.

At the MERCY OF A CATARACT. Perilous Adventure of an Aeronaut Under the Niagara Falls.

"I was pretty near heaven for half an hour," said H. O. Prentice, the aeronaut, who had just returned from his trip under the Niagara falls.

Prentice's adventure was a most interesting one, and he has written a book about it, which is now being published.

WHEN RICHARD LOVELAKE CAME TO WOO.

The feet of time make fast their pace, And we, the players in a play, Strut up and down our little stage, And act our parts as best we may.

And much we marvel as we trace The fends and fables passed away, White power and pride and pride of place Troop down the years in grand array.

In doublet and hose of lace, The lover sought his love to woo, With such a form as might be seen In any of the golden days of yore.

Whoever has a dime of 1894 coined by the San Francisco mint is a coin for which $5 has already been offered, and when all the facts are known regarding its scarcity it is not unlikely that it will command a much higher premium.

Inquiry at the mint elicited the information that during the fiscal year of 1894 only 24 dimes were coined at the San Francisco mint.

All undecanted subsidiary coins—viz, those containing other than the design now being used—when received at the treasury are not again allowed to go into circulation, but are sent to the mint to be received with the current design.

In no instance does the profound difference of national character in England and France appear more striking, says our Paris correspondent, than in the views held on both sides of the channel regarding breach of promise.

The very small number of suits for breach of promise have always been supported by a plea that the lady was not a virgin when she was betrothed, and that she had been guilty of some act of immorality.

The writer remembers very well to have heard a very fastidious lady, a member of the Speed household, say that, though at that time Lincoln had none of the polish and gracefulness to be expected from those acquainted with the usages of society, he was one of nature's gentlemen because of his kindliness of heart and innate refinement.

Lincoln's Good Breeding. Beggars Battered the Postman. Last week a citizen of Boston was "touched for a dime" four times in walking two blocks on Broadway, New York. All of the beggars were well dressed. It was rainy, and two of them had silk umbrellas.

A GAME OF NINEPINS. A Munchausenlike Story of a Battered German Criminal.

In an unpopulated city late a criminal was necessary to be benighted who had a singular itching to play at ninepins. While his sentence was pronouncing he had the temerity to offer a request to be permitted to play once more at his own game at the place of execution, and the warden said he would submit without a murmur.

As the last prayer of a dying man his request was granted. When arrived at the solemn spot he found everything prepared, the pins being set up and the ball ready to be played with no little earnestness, but the sheriff at length, seeing that he showed no inclination to desert, privately ordered the executioner to strike the fatal blow as he stooped for the bowl.

The executioner did so, and the head dropped into the culprit's hand as he raised himself to see what had occurred. He immediately aimed at the nine, conceiving that it was the bowl which he grasped. All mine falling, the head loudly exclaimed, "I have won the game!"—From the German.

His Account With His Dentist. Brown has the reputation of being one of the most miserly of men, but he plumes himself on his scrupulous sense of duty, and he has been known to contribute $22 for filling a front tooth with gold, refusing to pay it because he said the bill was exorbitant.

There are two sides to every question—ours and the wrong side. Mozart had a memory for music and for nothing else. On attending the opera at the Sistine chapel he was greatly impressed with the musical service and asked for a copy, but was told none could be given him, as the music was not allowed to go out.

The Newburgh (N. Y.) Daily Journal of Oct. 26 had an account of the wedding of Mr. Grant Kenny, of Brooklyn, and Miss Edith Symington Dickey, daughter of City Treasurer and Mrs. J. N. Dickey, of Newburgh. It may be of interest to RECORD readers to know that one of the bridesmaids at this wedding was a Niles young lady—Miss Anne Beeson—and the bride was a schoolmate of Mrs. D. H. Bower, of Buchanan.

Married, at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eli Helmick, in Buchanan, Mich., Oct. 24, 1895, by Rev. Geo. Sicksafoose, Mr. Fred C. Hathaway and Miss Wilmer Helmick. After the ceremony an elegant wedding supper was served, to which the guests did ample justice. Mrs. May D. Pearl, widow of Joseph F. A Correction.
In our issue of last week we published an excellent communication from Mr. F. J. Miller relative to a young man's reading room. Our types made us say something which was not the intention of either Mr. Miller or the Record. We intended to say "papers devoted to pugilism excepted" but the misplacement of a type made the sentence read "papers devoted to pugilism expected" which is needless to say was an unintentional error on our part.

Canal.
Mr. J. M. Russell, who, with Mrs. Russell, will soon leave for Selma, Alabama, to spend the winter with their son, Ralph, was the subject of a surprise at a regular meeting of Buchanan Lodge No. 68, F. & A. M., on Monday evening. Quite a large number of the members were present to congratulate the veteran Mason and witness the exercises. When the proper time arrived Mr. F. A. Stryker, who was the principal mover in the project, arose, and in a feeling manner made the presentation, on behalf of the Lodge, of a beautiful and valuable gold headed ebony cane bearing this inscription: "J. M. Russell, from Buchanan Lodge No. 68, F. & A. M., 1895." Mr. Russell was so surprised and overcome that it was impossible for him to make a response, begging to be excused from trying at this time.
Mr. Russell is one of the oldest members of this Lodge, being the first to receive the degrees after the institution of the Lodge, in 1854, and from that time has continually taken an active interest in the affairs of the order, filling many of its offices, and for many years has been chairman of the relief committee, his conscientious performance of the duties of this position securing his reappointment year after year, and now, in the fullness of years, is assured that he holds a warm place in the affections of his brethren.

MIKADO.
A Fine Performance.
The Buchanan Concert Company under the direction of Mr. F. J. Millar, made their bow to the Buchanan people, last night, in Gilbert & Sullivan's comic opera, of Mikado.
When the curtain rose, the opera house was well filled with an appreciative audience. The performance was one that reflected great credit on all who participated. The choruses were excellent. F. J. Millar's interpretation of Koko, Lord High Executioner, was capital; Nankipo was portrayed by Mr. L. Boardman in an excellent manner; Mrs. D. L. Boardman, as Yum Yum, was charming, her solos being well rendered; Katisha, impersonated by Mrs. H. D. Rough, was excellent and her solo work effective; Claude Moulton interpreted the most difficult character of Pooch Dah in an exceedingly creditable manner; Mrs. John R. Bishop as Pitti Sing, Bettie Peck as Peep Da, Mr. Wm. Monroe as the Mikado, and J. W. Beistle as Pish Tush, all filled their role in an excellent style, not forgetting the standing army of Japan, as personified by Walter East as Yeng. The chorus of ladies and nobles of the court were comprised of Mrs. Robt. Blake, Mrs. Dr. Peck, Mrs. Fred Eaton, Misses Grace Palmer, Daisy Emery, Emma Hamlin, George Wilcox, and Will East, B. F. Bressler and Wm. Monroe.

The entertainment will net a very neat sum for the young man's reading room, which is to be opened here this winter. It was decided to repeat the performance this (Thursday) evening, with a reduction in the price of admission to 25 and 35 cents.

Editors BUCHANAN RECORD.—Last Saturday evening a party of young people met at the home of one of their schoolmates. After having an enjoyable time their party broke up and they dispersed to their several homes as was supposed. But eight of them, four girls and four boys thought to enjoy a great deal of fun at the expense of one of their companions. They concealed themselves behind the owl shed near the narrow gauge track on the Niles hill and when Hugh Stephens after accompanying his friend home was coming down the hill one of the boys dressed in a sheet came out and met him, threw him down, took his watch from him leaving him to conjecture who his assailant was. Fortunately young Stephen had presence of mind and quickly concluded it was one from the party trying to frighten him or it might have resulted disastrously to one or the other of them. The rest of the girls and boys were hidden in the shadow of the building enjoying the fun as they termed it. Wouldn't it be well for the parents of these young people to give them some wholesome instruction of the great risks they run in such sport as this. A curfew bell would not be out of place in Buchanan.

Shipp-Strong Ceremony.
Miss Lillian Myrtle Strong and Mr. John C. Shipp were married last evening. The ceremony took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. McCord, 604 East First South street, and was witnessed by a few relatives and friends.
Promptly at 9 p. m. Miss Sinclair struck the opening chords of the Lohengrin march and the bride and groom descended the stairway and entered the parlor.
The alcove window had been changed into a bower of autumn leaves, relieved by crimson and white roses. Under this canopy stood the Rev. Clarence T. Brown, and as the bride and groom stood before him he read the service making them man and wife.
It was a very pretty wedding. The white and green color scheme was carried out in all the decorations. Smilax hung from the chandeliers and was entwined in the woodwork, while the white cosmos and white roses were used in great profusion.
The bride wore an elegant gown on DeWitt's East First South street, and on trains and with large puff sleeves. The neck was cut high, and the trimmings were of Duchesse lace. The veil was worn clasped at the crown with a white rose.
The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howell F. Strong of South Bend, Ind., and is guest of Mr. and Mrs. McGarrin. The groom is a well-known young business man. Salt Lake will be their future home.
At the conclusion of the ceremony, last night, and after all had congratulated the young couple, the guests sat down to a dainty wedding supper, covers being laid for sixteen. The table was beautifully decorated in white and green and lighted by many wax tapers. The menu was delicious, and the incident of the mountain on Wednesday. The wedding presents were numerous and very handsome. Salt Lake City (Utah) Tribune.

Tuesday, a party consisting of Rev. J. F. Bartmes and wife, S. E. Bartmes and wife, Prof. Nauman and Perry Taylor went up to Cloud Cap Inn. The gentlemen of the party made the ascent of the mountain on Wednesday, in company of Will Langele. The day was clear and the view perfect. All returned Thursday, after an enjoyable trip.—Hood River (Ore.) Glaizer.

It isn't usual to talk about Christmas presents in October, but it should be remembered that we have an unusual store.
The ordinary way is to wait till a few days before Christmas and then hurry around and buy presents without giving the matter the consideration it ought to have.
Considering the outlay, nothing is more acceptable than a pair of nice slippers for a gift. Our assortment is large now. This is the time to make desirable selections. Pick out a pair and we'll lay them away until the holidays.

"For Charity Suffereth Long."

Mrs. Laura C. Phoenix, Milwaukee, Wis. "Mother of a Benevolent Home and knowing the good Dr. Miles' Nerve Tonic has done me, I wish to help others, overcome my dislike for the publicity, this letter may give me. In Nov. and Dec., 1893, The inmates had the 'LaGrippe' and I was one of the first. Resuming duty too soon, with the care of so many sick, I did not regain my health, and in a month I became so debilitated and nervous from sleeplessness and the drafts made on my vitality, that I was a question if I could go on. A dear friend advised me to try Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve Tonic. I took 2 bottles and am happy to say, I am in better health than ever. I still continue my occasional use, as a nerve food, as my work is very trying. A letter addressed to Milwaukee, Wis., will reach me." June 6, 1894. Mrs. LAURA C. PHOENIX. Dr. Miles' Nerve Tonic is sold on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. It will be sent prepaid, on receipt of proof by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.
