BUCHANAN, MICH.

Hon. E. L. Hamilton spoke in Allegan Tuesday evening.

Niles was in darkness Tuesday night by reason of the breaking of a shaft at the electric light station.

After a few months' rest, the Workers' Union met at the room over Mrs. Parkinson's store today.

Miss Emma Hamlin will sing a solo at the Christian church, Sunday morning, entitled, "Ave Maria."

The Blues go to Benton Harbor tomorrow, where they play a return game with the Benton Harbor Blues.

A number of the local Democracy went to South Bend today to hear Mr. Bryan speak at that place this evening.

School began Monday, and judging from the manner in which the start was made, everything points to a year of excellent work.

A large delegation of Buchanans have gone to Niles today to attend the Republican convention and nominate John Needham for county clerk.

Mr. Orrin Montague has left a basket of peaches at the RECORD office that are beauties. They are of the Mountain variety and are fine.

A meeting of the executive committee for the Sunday school rally to be held here Sept. 12, will be held in the Presbyterian church tomorrow (Friday) at 7:30 o'clock.

Treat and Marble have traded their farm for a grist mill property at New Paris, Ind. and Mr. Marble has gone to that place to take charge of the mill and operate the same. His family will join him later.

A straw vote taken on an excursion train on the Big Four railroad, last week, resulted 75 votes for Bryan and 200 McKinley. This is about the way it will be in November, when the vote is counted.

Miss Maude May, only child of Mr. L. Lambert died Wednesday morning, from typhoid fever, at their home in this place. Funeral services held this afternoon, and interment made in Oak Ridge cemetery.

The hearing in the case of the St. Joseph Valley Railroad against Chas. Redden, for trespass, was to have been held Tuesday but the railroad people admitted the weakness of their case by failing to put in an appearance, and the case was dismissed.

List of letters remaining uncalled for in the post-office at Buchanan, Mich., for the week ending Aug. 31, 1896: Miss Alice Melsler, Mr. Thomas Williams, Mr. Harry L. Welch, Mr. James McColgan.

Representative Cancels.
The Republicans of Buchanan township held their caucus Saturday, for the purpose of electing delegates to the Representative Convention at Niles, Sept. 8.

D. E. Hinman was made chairman and W. A. Palmer secretary. The following were named as delegates: D. H. Bower, Geo. Seales, A. A. Worthington, J. C. Wenger, J. W. Needham, M. Gardner, G. W. Noble, B. F. Needham, L. L. H. Dodd, Claude Moulton, J. B. Peters, F. A. Andrews, W. A. Palmer, D. E. Hinman, W. W. Treat, W. Brooks, W. Burrus, H. F. Kingery, W. H. Thayer, G. B. Richards, D. O. Montague, John Graham.

Annual School Meeting.
The annual school meeting is called for next Monday evening. This meeting should be well attended by our citizens. A number of items of important business will be transacted, including the election of four members of the School Board, as follows: Two for full terms of three years each, in place of D. E. Hinman and M. M. Knight; one to fill unexpired term of two years, in place of E. W. Sanders, and one to fill unexpired term of one year, in place of C. B. Treat.

These meetings should be well attended, and it is important that a wise choice should be made as to whom we entrust the interests of our school. Make it a point to be on hand and be prepared to vote.

The executive board of Buchanan and Bertrand S. S. Union met at the Second street school room Aug. 31, at 4 o'clock. Five Sunday schools were represented. The meeting was opened by prayer by the President, Rev. O. J. Roberts. It was moved and supported that the September convention be held at the Evangelical church in Buchanan, on Sept. 19 and 20. That the overflow meeting for Sunday evening be held at the U. B. church.
By motion it was carried that a committee of three constitute the program committee, that the President act as chairman and have power to choose two assistants. That the music be left to program committee. We then adjourned.
The coming convention is important. No doubt a good program will be carefully prepared. Watch for it, and then let every school within the two townships be represented by as many delegates as possible. Remember the last township convention for the year 1896 will be held Sept. 19 and 20, Saturday and Sunday.

The Bicycle Races.
A Big Success and a Good Crowd Present.
The bicycle races on Saturday were the most interesting and exciting of any that have been held on the track. The attendance was large, there being quite a number present from out of town. The first event was the third-mile race, which was run in heats, the best two out of three heats. The first heat was won by G. P. Rose of South Bend; J. Phillips of Dowagiac, second; E. Moshier of Dowagiac, third. The second heat was won by C. Paul with G. Richards second. The final heat was won by Rose of South Bend, with C. Paul second. Time of this heat was 47 seconds.

After this race Miss Davis of Niles rode an exhibition mile paced by Alva Paul.
The exhibition was followed by the five-mile handicap, with 17 entries. The race was won by C. Paul (200 yds), with White (300 yds) and Page (400 yds).
The match between Blish of Dowagiac and W. House of Buchanan was won by House in 3 min. 1 sec.
The management did their work in goods, hard and are to be congratulated on the success of their efforts.

Addressed a Large Gathering.
Hon. E. L. Hamilton, candidate for Congress from Buchanan, Tuesday evening, addressed a large and enthusiastic meeting at Sawyer, Saturday night. The Republicans of Sawyer and vicinity formed a McKinley and Hobart club of large membership. Mr. Hamilton delivered a splendid address and for fully an hour and a half his audience eagerly listened to his remarks, and applauded him vigorously. The next Representative was elected to Sawyer by a large delegation of Three Oaks citizens, accompanied by the Three Oaks band.—Niles Sun.

KILLED ON THE CARS.
E. H. Mendenhall of Summerville Loses His Life in a Railroad Accident.
The following account of the sad death of a former resident of Buchanan, is clipped from the St. Louis Globe-Democrat of Aug. 19, from a special dated Topeka, Kan.:
By the derailing of a stock train on the Rock Island road, five miles west of Topeka, four men were killed—E. H. Mendenhall, Summerville, Mich.; B. H. Miles, Okla.; Geo. T. Canfield, Jacksonville, Ill.; and an unknown man.
The body of Mendenhall had both legs broken below the knee, the left arm torn off, a deeply incised wound over the left eye, and the chest crushed in until the heart was visible.
It is not known where the men boarded the train. In the clothing of Miles were letters from a brother, L. A. Roberts, to his wife, and a number of letters signed "Della," which were dated at St. Louis, and written him in Cripple Creek, Colo., and Coolidge, Kan. "Della" is supposed to have been his wife. Clarence, with presence of mind, was directed to him by the train conductor, and he was taken to the hospital at St. Louis. There was also a letter addressed to Mrs. J. E. Mendenhall, Summerville, Mich., which he had started to write but never finished.

Little Helen Carrett
Wins the Gold Medal in the Demarest Contest.
A very large crowd gathered at the Methodist Episcopal church, Saturday evening, for the contest of the Demarest medal contest, the last to be given here. There were only three speakers in the contest, and the prize, a beautiful solid gold medal, was won by Miss Helen Carrett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Carrett of this city, and the youngest speaker in the contest. Miss Carrett delivered her piece splendidly, and it was the unanimous opinion of the judges and the audience as well that she was entitled to the prize. Her rivals also did very well.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Gauthier desire to express their thanks to all who so kindly aided them during the recent illness and death of their little son.
The M. C. R. Co. will, on Sept. 3d, sell excursion tickets to Niles for one and one-half fare for the round trip. Train No. 23, leaving Niles at 6:27 p. m., Sept. 3, will stop at Buchanan, Gallen, Tree Oaks and New Buffalo to let of passengers.
A. F. PEACOCK.
The M. C. R. Co. will sell excursion tickets to Dowagiac, on Sept. 23 to 25 inclusive, good for return Sept. 26th, at one and one-half cents per mile each way for the round trip. Account of Dowagiac Union Fair.

Fair at South Bend, Ind., Sept. 7 to 11
The Fifteenth Annual Exhibition of the Northern Indiana & Southern Michigan Agricultural Society is now near at hand. The Board of Directors are using every effort to make this exhibition superior to all previous ones held by the Society. It will be the banner District Fair in either Indiana or Michigan, being located in one of the most fertile sections of earth, with communication as good as the best. Come and spend a few days among nature's bowers. Compare the progress and improvements that are constantly going on in the shop, the factory and the farm. Set the week of the fair aside as a vacation from the trials and worry incident to a busy life. Come one, come all.
For a good meal, go to Athur's Restaurant.
In a recent letter to the manufacturers Mr. W. F. Benjamin, editor of the Speculator, Rushford, N. Y., says: "It may be a pleasure to you to know the high esteem in which Chamberlain's medicines are held by the people of your own state, where they must be best known. An aunt of mine, who resides at Dexter, Iowa, was about to visit me a few years since, and before leaving home wrote me, asking if they were sold here, stating if they were not she would bring a quantity with her, as she did not like to be without them." The medicines referred to are Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cures of colds and croup; Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism, lame back, pains in the side and chest, and Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaints. These medicines have been in constant use in Iowa for almost a quarter of a century. The people have learned that they are articles of great worth and merit, and unequalled by any other. They are for sale here by Barmore, the Druggist. Sept.

We have made special and exclusive arrangements with the author for a series of new and charming fairy stories by Walter B. Guile.

THE FROG'S PARTY.

Copyright, 1930, by Walter B. Guile, Boston. CHAPTER II. In exact time to the music the couples advanced, bowed before their host and hostess and followed Felinus and me.

Just after the introductions were formed in line for a grand promenade. As Felinus and I were the only guests who were not natives of Frogland, we each had a very talented and richly dressed frog princess as companion in the march.

After marching a few minutes the high chief usher stepped aside, and we passed him he bowed to each guest and especially to having invited one who would pretend to be a good boy for the same time would hide his name.

"If it true that you can run!" said he to me. "Yes, sir, your most high and mighty frogship," said I, and all the young frogs had no sooner heard my reply than they strove down beside the table and each picked up a stone.

"Look a here, young fellow," croaked he in a most ferocious voice, "do you reckon we can't throw stones?" Every frog glared at me indignantly. "Put your eye on that lily head over there," said he, and he pointed toward the river.

"What would that Boy Felinus do if there weren't no stone?" he demanded of me. "About the same as the frogs," said I in return. He turned up his nose impudently, pulled his boots in the right hand and the green when he pressed the keys one would touch a corner or a life there came forth beautiful notes.

"We are a peaceful people," said the king, "and all my frogs must behave politely." Felinus, who was always trusted by every one in Frog river, now stepped up beside me and made a little speech which was to occupy at the banquet.

"I noticed that one of the frogs had come in very late and had no sooner sat down than he commenced to talk very earnestly to his neighbor. He talked just a few seconds, and then he and the neighbor looked at me. I looked in another direction, as it was neither polite nor pleasant to stare at them, but the next time I looked at that side of the table there were a dozen or more frogs who seemed to be very sober and rather staid. They were passing along some story from one to another around the table.

You know how we play gossip sometimes—that is, one will whisper something to the next one on the right something that the person on the left hand has told. The next one passes it along, and then each one, after the gossip goes around the room, tells what he thinks he heard. These frogs were whispering in the same way. It wasn't polite, but it seemed to be very important and something which must be told immediately.

When the story had got nearly around the table, it was told to one of the waiters who stepped up to the king and whispered a few words in his ear. King Jumpfar looked very much shocked and quickly rose at the head of the table. "In order to understand the news which has been told me," said he, "I will ask each tenth guest to tell the story as he or she understood it." The late arrival who had started the story around the table stood up and said, "I met a frog from the outside world who said that boys in his neighborhood ran and chased each other and threw stones, and some of them killed frogs."

The next speaker said, "Slip-up told me that this boy ran and chased frogs and threw stones and killed them and broke their bones."

And especially to having invited one who would pretend to be a good boy for the same time would hide his name. "If it true that you can run!" said he to me. "Yes, sir, your most high and mighty frogship," said I, and all the young frogs had no sooner heard my reply than they strove down beside the table and each picked up a stone.

"Look a here, young fellow," croaked he in a most ferocious voice, "do you reckon we can't throw stones?" Every frog glared at me indignantly. As Felinus and I were the only guests who were not natives of Frogland, we each had a very talented and richly dressed frog princess as companion in the march. The band came up from the edge of the river, and we could see on what they were playing. Their instruments were of different shells, into which the king and the queen when they pressed the keys one would touch a corner or a life there came forth beautiful notes.

After marching a few minutes the high chief usher stepped aside, and we passed him he bowed to each guest and especially to having invited one who would pretend to be a good boy for the same time would hide his name. "If it true that you can run!" said he to me.

"Yes, sir, your most high and mighty frogship," said I, and all the young frogs had no sooner heard my reply than they strove down beside the table and each picked up a stone. One stone boy frog more impetuous than the rest gave a leap across the table and began playing with great rocks as if they had been jackstones.

"Look a here, young fellow," croaked he in a most ferocious voice, "do you reckon we can't throw stones?" Every frog glared at me indignantly. "Put your eye on that lily head over there," said he, and he pointed toward the river. "What would that Boy Felinus do if there weren't no stone?" he demanded of me.
