HUMPHREYS'

Van Wyck Will Fe First Mayor of Greater New York, Going in with a Big Plurality.

LOW RUNS AHEAD OF GEN. TRACY.

George Pells a Remarkably Small Vote -Rest of th Democratic City Ticket Elected.

Correct Figures on Van Wyck, Low and Tracy Give the Tammany Man a Majority of $5,308 Ov. r Low-Republicans Cast 101 823 Votes for Tracy - Indications That the State H:s Gone for the Democrats on Judge and That They May Have the Legislature-Post Election Scenes.

New York, Nov. 3.-Tammany's vicory in the first municipal election in Greater New York is a sweeping one. The only question remaining to be settled at 11 o'cleck last night was the one of the plurality by which the entire ticket headed by Robert A. Van Wyck kad carried the great municipality. Van Wyck polled a vote which falls possibly 40.000 under the combined votes of Gen-

R. A. VAN WYCK. eral Tracy (Rep.) and Seth Low (Citizens' Union). The latter was successful to the extent of polling an aggregate vote in excess of the 140,000 pledges implied by the signatures to the petition upon which he became the candidate of an independent movement, which at the outset offered to join hands with the Republican party organization in a concerted effort to exclude Tammany from power in the greater city to come into being on Jan. 1, 1898, with a population the second in magnitude of the great cities of the world.

Grand Total of the Vote. Following is the grand total of the tes received by the three le didates for mayor in Greater New York, complete returns having been received from all of the districts: Van Wyck 235,181; Low. 149,873; Tracy. 101,823. Van Wyck's plurality over Low, $5,30$. vote will not go over 20,000. probably.

Democrats Carry the State. Rain, which prevailed generally all over the state, had the effect of keeping great many of the country voters from the polls. The result is apparent in the reduced majorities given in concededly Republican districts to William J. Wallace, the Republican nominee for chief judge of the court of appeals, as compared with the pluralities by which the same districts were carried last year. In many districts the pluralities of a year ago are reduced nearly one-half, and in few that have been reported is the falling off less than 25 per cent. Conceding to Judge Parker, Dem. a majority of 100.000 in Greater New York, it is probable that he has won in the state. The returns for assembly men are entirely lacking in the Greater New York districts, owing to the large number of candidates whose votes mus be counted before the assembly nom: inees are reached.

They May Also Have the I egislature. The indications are that the Democrats will have a small majority of the state assembly. In the Greater city it is estimated from very meagre returns. that there will be 51 Democrats and 10 Republicans, while in the upper part of the state there are said to have been changes from Republicans to Democrats in twenty districts. In the last assembly the Republicans had a ma jority of 78. Conceding all that is claimed by the Democrats the next house will have 10 Democratic majority State senators were not elected this in the matter of the estate of William J. H. ceased Notice is hereby given, that in pursuance of rider granted to the undersigned. Executor the estate or said William J. Hall, deceased, the Hon. Judge of Probate f r the County of B. ien, on the 20th day of September, A. D. Ish there will be sold at public vendue, to the higher of der, at the premises, in Buchanan township, tounty of Berrien, in said State, on Monday, t. 9th day of November, A. ENOS HOLMES, Executor. year. Other estimates give a Republican majority in the assembly of 3.

Half a Million Votes Cast. The offer was declined on the ground that in such a movement the Republican organization could participate only coincidently with the other party to the compact, and the Citizens' Union, on the other hand, refused to recall its nomination of Low in order that the form of selecting a candidate might be carried out conjointly with the Republican organization. The total number of votes cast was not far either way from 500,000. The indications are that Van Wyck received 210,000; Low, 145, 000; Tracy, 100,000, and George, 15,000 The aggregate is swelled by a few thou sand votes cast for Gleason (Independent Democrat). Saniel (Socialist). and Wardwell (Prohibitionist). On the city ticket with Judge Van Wyck, Bird S. Coler is elected comptroller and Randolph Guggenheimer president of the municipal council.

Republicans Were Soon Weary. Chairman Quigg, of the Republican city and county committee, was very glum and left the headquarters early. He refused to make a formal statement and was very loath to discuss the situation. At the headquarters there were few prominent Republicans present, and they left the place shortly after Quigg did. No one would make a statement. The Republicans kept up their appearance of confidence until the early returns showed the gains for Van Wyck, and then collapsed entirely. It is impossible to describe the gloom at the Republican headquarters. If anything the depression was more apparent than at the George headquarters.

Not Many Votes for Henry George. Whatever might have been the result had Henry George survived the campaign, the indications from the earliest eeturns were that the substitution of the son for the father as the mayoralty candidate of the Thomas Jefferson Democracy had proved a failure from any but the sentimental point of view. In fact the George candidacy has made but a beggarly showing in votes. Although in the case of the Thomas Jefferson Democracy's ticket the ticket substituted was of the same name as the candidate who died, the election board held that the letter of the law should be observed and pasters were ordered printed and distributed in the prescribed manner. The distribution was ot done in all cases, and consequently voters were under the necessity of writing in the name of the second Henry George or voting the ticket as it stood. neither of which, it is claimed, was a literal compliance with the law. In some cases citizens who had intended to vote for George would not do so. anticipating that an attempt would result in the vitiating of the ballot as a whole. GREAT CROWDS IN THE STREETS. scene at Night When the Election Returns Weré Bulletined.

The attraction of the newspaper bulletin board for the crowds was not a whit less than it was last year-a presidential election. The spaces in front of the buileting were filled with people.

leaving only narrow ranes through which men, women and children pushed one another until they got out at the ends. Then they breathed freer and adjusted their clothing. With very few exceptions every morning and evening paper in the city had bulletin boards in front of its main office, while some had them at their branches. Some had two and three big sheets stretched in front of their buildings displaying, with their election figures, photographs and colored views and the pictures of the candi-

City Hall square was a living mass. From the south side of Nassau street to the park front of the city hall there were but two lanes in the enormous mass of people and these lanes were just wide enough for one man to get through. When the people tried to pass one another there was pushing and shoving and much grunting and some bad words, but in general the crowd was good-natured and good-tempered. The crowd ran more to noise this year than last. There were more horns blowing than is usual on an election night and at times it seemed like New Year's Eve when Trinity's chimes are drowned by the horn blowing. There was much peripatetic noise made by promenading crowds of young men and boys whose lung power was something tremendous. Some of them had horns so big that they had to use both hands to handle them In front of each white sheet was a dense mass of people. Each of these masses was a conglomeration of people of all parties. When at the beginning of the show of pictures the candidates' faces were exhibited on the screens cheers greeted all of them. The Demoratic candidate seemed to have the most adherents or they had the most lung power, at any rate. They cheered their man with an astonishing vigor. Low was not much behind. There was a curious kind of cheer for George at all the screens. One would imagine that nearly everybody was cheering for him, but there was not that burst of enthusiasm that greeted Van Wyck. It apeared as if everybody wanted to express his sympathy for the dead man and at the same time do it quietly. When the returns hegan to be shown and each return gave Van Wyck bigger and bigger pluralities, the Democrate drew on the reserve power of their lungs. When about a third of the city had been counted up the cheering for Van Wyck, which had been incessant, was augmented and the noise they made was something startling.

How the neonle's throats stord it is a wonder. At one time some of the crowd in front of the Park Row side of City Hall park climbed over the railings and jumped on the grass. A big policeman jumped on them and they climbed back in a hurry. This caused a fam and there was a panic on the part of some women in the crowd. A few screamed, but strong men kept them safe.

THERE WERE SCENES OF JOY HERE. Van Wyck's Readq parters Full of People

The headquarters of Robert A. Van Wyck at the Bartholdi hotel was the scene of great, enthusiastic joy as the returns began to indicate a sweeping nany victory. A score or more pe ple were in the rooms where the returns were being received and they cheered continuously. But it was a feast without the host. Mayor-elect Van Wyck did not appear at the headquarters at any time during the night. He left the headquarters at 4 p. m. going to police headquarters with former Mayor Hugh J Grant, where he entered a private room in the office of the boiler inspector. He stayed there until 7 o'clock receiving returns. He then left presumably for the Murray Hill hotel. It was expected that he would be at the headquarters some time during the night, but at 10 o'clock the mayor-elect's private secretary announced that he would not come at all, and could not be seen. He also said that Judge Van Wyck could not be seen at all.

Twenty-five cases of alleged diegal voting were disposed of in Center street court yesterday. The last was that of Captain Benjamin R. Roberts, U. S. A., who registered in the First election district for the First assembly district. Captain Roberts is now at Governor's island and the arrest was made on th ground that he is not entitled to vote from there. Captain Roberts explained to Magistrate Mott that he had been in the United States army for over thirtythree years; that he had been or the Pacific coast for some time and had recently returned to Governor's island. He contended that the statutes provided that soldiers in the army may vote from the place they are stationed. Magistrate Mott said that he was right and dismissed the case.

SETH LOW ON THE RESULT. Better to Have Fought and Lost Than Not to Have Fought. New York, Nov. 3 .- The following statement was given out by Seth Low shortly before midnight: "It is not possible to discuss the results of the election in New York city at the present moment without discrimination. A few things. I think, stand out on the surface of the figures. The year has been a heavy Democratic year everywhere Tammany has felt the advantage of this strong tendency. I think this circumstance shows the absolute necessity, if it also shows the difficulty, of separating muricical from state and national issues, if the cities are ever to be governed

"In the light of the event it is clear that the Citizens' Union has made a gallant fight for principles that are rital. It is better to have fought and lost in such a cause than not to have fought at all. There is no need to despair of good government in the city when such a struggle could be made against such odds. The returns show that there was no possibility of Republican success on contest on party lines, nor is it easy to imagine a time when in this city there will be. "For the sake of the city I greatly deplore the result, and yet I would urge all whom my voice may influence not to lose heart. We have laid the foundation, it may well be hored, for future success and ours is not the first cause that has suffered at the outset a heavy reverse. I bespeak for the new mayor and his associates the co-operation of all my supporters, as I pledge my own, in an effort they may make to administer the government of the city in the interest of the people."

RECEPTION OF THE NEWS ABROAD. London Papers Print Special Telegrams of the New York Election.

London, Nov. 3.-All the morning papers print special telegrams from New York city giving the results of the election. The Times, commenting editorially on the election of Judge Robert Van Wyck, as the first mayor of Greater New York, says: "It is clear that a majority of the Democrats whom Mr. George would have rallied to his standard drifted back in the confusion due to his death to the Tammany camp; while the inability of the Republicans and the reformers to come to terms has practically given the game over to the skilled Tammany machine men. "If Mr. Low had been elected an interesting experiment would have been tried, though even a stronger man than he might have found himself overmastered by his environment. We know what use Tammany will make of its victory. The merchants and bankers, the wise and cultivated men, the hones and philanthropic citizens will be as impotent under Croker's domination as the Italian or Hungarian patriots were under Metternich's benumbing rule, and who can deny that 'the people love to have it so?" The Daily Chronicle also attributed Judge Van Wyck's election to the death of Henry George and to the fact that the Republican party, though nominally hostile to Tammany, "really depends for its existence on a secret working alliance with the sachems who follow

Todd, the present incumbent, at from 3,000 to 3,500. The entire Democratic ticket is undoubtedly elected with him. Contrary to the expectations of many the election was a comparatively quiet one. There was not a great deal of scratching, and the minor personal issues were lost sight of when the voters came to decide on those involved in the struggle between the leaders. official count to determine the result, especially on the political complexion of the legislature. The Republicans and the Democrats are both claiming the state, and the legislature with such persistence that it will require the official count at least to get one or the other to concede defeat. Incomplete returns indicate the election of the Republican stateticket by from 10,000 to 12,000, but the result on the legislature is so close that no definite figures can be given on it now. The Republicans claim 54 representatives and 17 senators sure, or 71 votes on joint ballot-73 being necessary to elect a senator. They aslo claim all of the welve representatives whose counties

Both sides are watching the count very carefully, especially on the legislative candidates that are in doubt. These returns are from all narts of the state, including both city and country precincts, and it is believed that the ratio established thereby will be substantially maintained. Nov. 1, 1897. Both the grain and stock markets are in a most healthy condition, and at the beginning of the winter months the farmer finds himself in a better position than he has occupied for

from the high prices that have obtained for farm products during the last two months. In that time wheat has sold above a dollar a bushel, and has been below 90 cents for a day or ' so only, the price at present being about 97. This excellent price is caused solely by the actual demand in other countries for our principal cereal, and this feature of the situation has been an agreeable surprise to those who feared that the quick rise in the price of wheat from 65 cents to a dollar would be ephemeral. that the European demand was a mere temporary affair, and that the shortage here and elsewhere had been overestimated. Schwartz, Dupee & Co. were practically the first to point out the true situation in Europe. This firm's foreign connections are so extensive that information came to it from every European country concerning the shortages. The reports sent out months ago predicting a continued wheat demand from abroad have been verified, and today wheat is selling close to a dollar a bushel, solely on its intrinsic value. That it will continue on a generously high plane for months to come is not doubted by those who are aware that the acreage sown to winter wheat this year, is, by reason of the drouth, very much less than for several seasons past. Until definite information that a good fair crop of winter wheat is assured has come there cen be no valid reason for any material recess-

Oats have commanded better prices during the last week than for some time, it being argued that the high price of wheat will cause them to come into mere extensive use for food than ever before. Corn is not being marketed by farmers at present prices, but with such a visible supply it will be hard matter for the market to rise just now. Later on it can easily happen that prices may seem

R. G. Dun & Co,s Review says: The testing of retail trade is in progress, but results are remarkably retarded by long continued mild weather, and also by the fever in southern districts. Even from that quarter some large orders lately received show better distribution than was yet expected. In spite of unseasonably warm weather, which greatly hinders retail dealings in winter goods at all points east of the plains, the large number of supplementary orders with urgent pressure for quick delivery make it clear that the sales in many branches have exceeded the expectation of dealers, so that replenishment of stocks is not yet finished. Meanwhile wholesale trade and orders to manufactures have been smaller than when the rush was greatest, but have never-the-less been large for this stage, even in a year of general prosperity. for the payments through the principal clearing houses have for the week been 3.9 per cent. larger than in the same week of 1892, and for the month 6.1 per cent.

Six Men Killed in Kentucky and the Suicide of an Ohio Man. Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 3.-Election day was ushered in by a blocdy encounter on the streets between Republicans and Democrats at 1 a. m., resulting in the death of three men and the wounding of two more. The difficulty began when Frank Egbert (Rep.) organized a party to head off a party of Democrats under the leadership of Ben Marshall, who, as Egbert claimed, had taken a number of negroes to the country to prevent their voting yesterday. Egbert, it is said, with his party awaited Marshall's return and fired on him from ambush, wounding him seriously, James Smith slightly and injuring Alex Graham, a negro. Deputy Sheriff Deakins then organized a posse and attempted to arrest Egbert and his party.

The latter appeared on the street brandishing their revolvers. The two parties met and firing began. Fifty shots or more were fired, and Egbert was instantly killed, while Deakins was mortally wounded, dying at 6 o'clock yesterday morning. Howard Glore, one of Egbert's men, was also killed, and Walter Gains, a negro, severely hurt. It is reported that he has died. Mayor Julian organized a large body of special police in view of the excitement, as he feared further trouble at the polls, owing to bitter feeling between the workers of the two political parties and the friends of the men killed andinjured. She had been Mr. James Harris of Chicago was driven out of one of the other universities by the students before she went to Halle. There she resorted to a diplomatic method of securing admission. She found a home in the family of an eminent scholar under the pretense of studying the language, and through him became acquainted with one of the professors whose lectures she desired to attend. One day she asked him for that privilege. He was very polite and said that he had no objections himself, but he did not know how the students would like it, and thought he would better consult them before giving his consent. The next day he addressed the students on the subject and told them that a very profound scholar from America, a young woman, had paid him the compliment of expressing a desire to attend his lectures, and he asked their permission to invite her to do so. With one accord they shouted "Hoch!" which is the student way of signifying assent. But the good professor was still puzzled as to the manner in which he should receive his guest and consulted an American student, who tells me the story. At first the professor proposed to invite her to sit with him upon the platform, but the young American told him that would never do in the world, as it would make her too conspicuous. After a consultation with the young lady it was decided that the professor and the American student together should meet her at the fountain in front of the university building a few minutes before the lecture began and escort her to the room They did so, and the professor offered her his arm as they entered the door. She took a modest seat in the rear of the room and occupied it daily

Seventeen years ago Mrs. Florence Elizabeth Cory founded in New York city the School of Industrial Art and Technical Design For Women, the only one of its kind in the world. Resignation Offered at Sunday Morning Service and the Same was Accepted at the Congregational Meeting last Evening.

Rev. Joseph M. Rogers resigned the pastorate of the Church of the Redeemer (Presbyterian) on Sunday morning last, the resignation being presented in writing and read by Elder W. B. Thomas, in the absence of Rev. Mr. Rogers, who went to lower Michigan to attend the burial of his aged mother whose death occured the Friday previous.

A congregational meeting for the consideration of the resignation was then called for Thursday evening, October 28th. John Mosher was elected chairman of the meeting and C.

R. Orr, secretary.
At the meeting Thursday evening, Rev. Mr. Rogers reviewed at some length the reason for dissolution of pastoral relations. The resignation was then formally, accepted. The following resolutions were then read and after some discussion were unani mously adopted:

WHEREAS, The Rev. J. M. Rogers after more than five years of faithful service as pastor of the Church of the Redeemer, has given his resignation to this congregation, WHERRAS, In his resignation we lose a faithful and devoted pastor, one who has done much for the advancement of Christ's Kingdom in this community and the upbuilding of this church, and WHEREAS, During these years of relationship between pastor and people, harmony and peace have continually prevailed and ties have been bound that makes the severing of pastoral relationship a difficult one, therefore be it Resolved—That we express our regret of his decision by a rising vote and that pastorate relationship. Be it further Resolved-That our earnest prayers gowith him and that his work may be crowned with abundant success.

Messrs. John Mosher and C. R. Orr were elected a committee to represent the congregation at a special meeting of the Lake Superior Presbytery to be held at Escanaba on Tuesday Nov. 9th. where action will be taken for dissolution from the Presbytery. Rev J. M. Rogers commenced his pastoral services in this city five years ago last June, coming here from Galesville, Wis., where for four years he was president of Gale Cottages. New York, Oct. 30.-Henry George, the candidate of the Jeffersonian Democracy for mayor of Greater New York. died in the Union Square hotel at 4:45 o'clock Friday morning. Death is thought to have been due to apoplexy. Mr. George arrived at the hotel about 1 o'clock in the morning. He had just come from several large mass-meetings in the borough of Queen's and Brooklyn. The work of the night seemed to have told on him. He complained of being tired, but his friends and relatives who awaited him thought it only the natural fatigue that follows such hard campaign work as Mr. George had been doing. Not long after reaching the hotel he retired. Mrs. George awaited him in room 22 of the hotel. It was about 3:30 o'clock when Mrs. George was awakened. She found Mr. George sitting in an arm chair.

Lapsed into Unconsciousness "I am not feeling quite comfortable," said Mr. George to his wife. "Won't you go back to bed?" inquired Mrs. George anxiously. "I will sit up here awhile," was the

Mrs. George at once grew anxious as to her husband's condition. Mr. George gradually grew incoherent and lapsed into semi-unconsciousness. Mrs. George was now thoroughly alarmed and called her son. Henry George, Jr., from an adjoining room. Frank Stevens was also called in. Mr. George was now un-

A call was sent to Dr. Kelly of 117 East Fifty-ninth street and he came without delay. Mr. George was still unconscious. All efforts to revive him failed. Without sign of recognition to those around him he passed peacefully away at 4:45 o'clock. Mrs. George was prostrated and was cared for by the friends of the family at the hotel.

Telegrams of Sympathy. Tom L. Johnson was immediately sent for and arrived at 5:10. He announced that a meeting of the George leaders would be held at the Everett House to determine, upon the course of action. Richard. Croker and John C. Sheehan sent by special messenger to Mrs. Henry George the following letters of condo-

"To Mrs. Henry George: I deeply sympathize with you and your family in the great loss you have sustained.

"JOHN C. SHEEHAN." R. I. Roskoph, one of the campaign managers, was at the Union Square hotel early in the morning. He said "The movements of the Jeffersonian Democracy will go of _3 steadily as ever. Mr. George has said that should his election be not possible he preferred Mr. Low as next mayor. I believe the votes that would have gone to George will be thrown for Seth Low." #### FUNERAL OF HENRY GEORGE. Thousands of People Look Their Last Upon the Dead.

New York, Nov. 2.—Thousands of disciples of Henry George and thousands of others who did not agree with his teachings but admired his honesty and manhood heard the public funeral services in the Grand Central palace Sunday. Another multitude viewed the body during the early hours of the day. No such impressive funeral has ever been known in this city in honor of a private citizen. Able representatives of many denominations united their praise of the man who had died in his battle harness. The eulogiums dealt with his life. The spirit of politics for a time bowed before the greater spirit of united humanity. In the vast auditorium where the dead rested, inspired men, teachers of all faiths-Jews, Christians, Catholics, and Episcopalians—with hearts wrung with pain, spoke words which confessedly fell far short of the great way s of emotion that sought to find utterance. While the body of the dead philosopher lay in state 30,000 people reverently passed the casket and looked upon his face. From 9 o'clock in the morning till 3 in the afternoon a stream of men, women and children poured into the hall. The immense throng was composed of representatives of all classes, of all shades of life and all religious The procession which accompanied the remains to Brooklyn was in many respects the most remarkable ever witnessed in New York. The catafalque was a magnificent creation of black breadcloth, and at the base was twelve feet wide. There were five steps leading to the top. The horses, of jet black, were covered with black silk netting and were led by sixteen grooms. The only emblem on the top of the casked was a small white wreath.

The organizations that paid honor to Mr. George by following the funeral car fell into line from the side streets off-Madison avenue and below Fortysecond street. There were marks of respect all along the line. Bared heads were the rule on both sides of the street and many men and women were noticed to be crying.

Simple private services were held at 10 o'clock Monday morning at the family residence. The Revs. George and Lattimer of Philadelphia. cousins of the deceased and both Episcopal clergymen. officiated. The body was carried to Greenwood and interred in the famfly lot of the Ocean Hill looking on the Atlantic.

NEWS OF GENERAL INTEREST TO OUR READERS.

Important Happenings in the State During the Past Few Days Reported by Telegraph-Matter Selected for the Benefit of Our Own People.

Battle Creek, Mich., Nov. 2.-The Advent people of this city are greatly excited again. They have received a special communication from Mrs. White, the "prophetess." that the time for the application of the parable of Luke 14, 16-23, is now due, and are commanded to go out into the highways and hedges and give the "last call of the last call to supper." Under this impulse the principal street corners are occupied, and saloons invaded by enthusiastic gospelers every night. In the immense tabernacle great crowds continue to assemble under the leadership of Rev. Jones and Rev. Ballenger, expecting the Holy Ghest to come down with fire from heaven. To this end all are exhorted to unconditionally accept the visions of the prophetess, and to conform to her precepts, which command them to pay tithes and to abstain from all flesh meats, butter. etc., (1 Tim., 4, 1-3.). Having ascertained that some 500 members are remiss in the matter of paying tithes, they have been repeatedly branded as thieves from the pulpit, and scores have been whipped into line under the scathing denunciations of the prophetess. Notwithstanding all this, real estate continues to change hands, the cattle trade receives due attention, and marriage ceremonies are solemnized in due form among them. Battle Creek is the headquarters of the Seventh Day Adventists' church in America. Diphtheria in Michigan Towns. Ironwood, Mich., Oct. 29.-Several cases of diphtheria have been reported to the health authorities here the past few weeks, and there has been some talk of closing the schools for fear the disease might become epidemic. The Bessemer schools have been closed the past week for that reason. Hurley has a few cases. The disease has raged all along the range for some time.

NEWS OF THE ELECTION

Persistent Rainfall in Greater New York.

BUT VOTERS TURN OUT EARLY.

Claims of the Four Leading Campaign Committees - It Cost the City $2,000 to Vote Four Men in Central Park—Presi dent McKinley Casts His Vote at Canton -Not Much Interest Taken in the Iowa Election—Fatal Riot at Frankfort, Ky.

New York, Nov. 2.-Rain, which fell more or less persistently throughout the forencon, had little effect to restrain the voters of greater New York from giving expression to their preferences for city and berough officials. The polls opened at 6 o'cled; and within two hours a good third of the votes had been polled in the residential sections of New York and Brooklyn. From that time forward the polling proceeded a little less rapidly, though still with enough animation to keep the clerks of election from gossiping, so that there was at noon but a small fraction of the registered vote remaining uncast. In the suburban precincts the voting was little behind. It cost $2,000 to vote four of the seven registered men residing in Central park. These four men voted at One Hundred and First street and Eighth avenue where a special booth had been built for them. Inspectors, ballot clerks and police had to be furnished for the four voters. The men live in McGowan's Pass tayern. By 9:30 o'clock all had voted and the inspectors and ballot clerks were free to discuss politics or anything else until sundown, but the booth had to be kept open in accordance with the law until 5 o'clock. The other three voters in the park were named Conway, the shepherd, and his two sons. who live at the sheepfold and vote at Eighth avenue and Fifty-sixth street, where there is a big district. Van Wyck and Low Vote.

Robert A. Van Wyck, Democratic ominee for mayor, voted at 6:40 o'clock, casting ballet No. 19. He spent thirty seconds in the booth. There was no crowd at the polling place and there was no demonstration. It was nearly two hours later when Seth Low appeared at the place where he was registered. He spent two minutes in the booth. His coming and going were not marked by any demonstration. The ante-election "claims" of the chairmen of the four leading campaign committees is as follows: Democratic estimate gives Van Wyck a majority over all other candidates combined of 20,000 and plurality over Low, the next highest, 130,000. Republican estimate gives Tracy a plurality of 75,000; Citizens Union estimate gives Low a plurality of 15.000; George estimate gives George a plurality of 65,000. There are 1,522 election districts and, of course, as many polling places in greater New York, divided as follows: Borough of Manhattan and the Bronx, 883; borough of Brooklyn, 516; borough of Queens. 76; borough of Richmond, 47. To reach total of 500,000, ar average of nearly 250 votes for each district must be attained. In 1896 the total vote in this same territory was 526,254.

PRESIDENT CASTS HIS VOTE.

Marks Hls Ballot in a Carpenter Shop by Candle Light. Canton, O., Nov. 2.-At 10:10 President McKinley left his mother's home to vote. He was accompanied by Mr. George B. Frease, editor of The Repository. It was five blocks' walk to the Fulton street polling place, Precinct C, First ward, which was in a carpenter shop. On the way Judge Ricks and his old neighbor, Judge McCarty, joined the president. He entered the precinct voting place at 10:20. "William McKinley, 815 Tuscarawas street, No. 164," read the clerk. The president was in the booth one minute and twenty seconds, put his cross on the blanket sheet with eight tickets by candle light, the curtain of the booth resting on his shoulder, and the president being in plain sight of the crowd that had gathered. Entering and leaving he returned the salutations of all the election officers. After voting the president took walk about some of the streets of his home city, dofting his hat in reply to the salutation of people, who made many manifestations of their love and admiration for their fellow-citizen. Columbus, O., Nov. 2.-At the governor's office there was a lack of news from the state but advices from various parts of this city indicated that half the registered vote of Columbus was cast by 9 a. m. Hon. George K. Nash, chairman of the Republican state central committee, said Republicans in Ohio were too busy voting and getting the vote out to send him messages. His information from this city shows a peavy vote, notwithstanding the rain. Cleveland, O., Nov. 2.—The weather was dismal and dreary and the rain fell in a constant drizle. The indications throughout the Western Reserve are that if the proportion continue throughout the state the vote will fall off by 200,000 over last year.

INTEREST LAX IN IOWA.

The Weather Was Favorable but Few Voters Made Their Appearances. Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 2.-The polls opened at 7 o'clock. The weather was cool and crisp, a perfect autumn day. The temperature was so low that frost covered everything. The country polls opened at 8 c'clock. At 8:30 o'clock the vote was remarkably light, but 50 per cent. polling in comparison with last year. Some city precincts showed as light as 75 per cent., but enthusiasm was almost dead. Many voters failed to register and did not come to the polls

RIOT IN KENTUCKY.

Four Men Are Killa. During an Election

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 2.-A riot in which Frank Egbert of the Frankfor fire department was riddled with bullets and Deputy Sheriff Teakins, John Smith and Howard Glore were fatall; wounded, occurred at 1:45 a.m. The tragedy was the result of an attempt on the life of Een Marshal and other political workers about midnight. The dead are: Howard Glore, Frank Egbert, Deputy Sheriff Teakins, Walter Gains colored. William Smith is probably fatally wounded. Several are wounded slightly by the shots fired. Egbert and his party claimed that the Democrats were corraling negroes outside of the city to prevent them from voting. Lexington, Ky., Nov. 2.-The election in this city and county was a most bitter contest. The Republicans and National Democrats, led by W. C. Brechenridge, had a fusion ticket opposed to the silver Democrats. Every hardware store sold out its stock of firearms.

The Keystone State. Philadelphia, Nov. 2.-Rair fell almost continuously. This hal its effect and even a lighter vote was cast in the early hours than had been anticipated. In the city there is no doubt that the Republican city ticket headed by Colonel Clayton McMichael for city treasurer, will be elected by majorities exceeding 50,000 and that the plurality for the Republican state ticket will also go beyond that figure. Swallow, the Prohibition candidate for state treasurer, received many votes from those who have not heretofore voted the Prohibition ticket.

Rainy Day at Detroit. Detroit, Nov. 2.-A steady, drenching cold rain with no apparent prospect of cessation was the kind of weather furnished for the Detroit municipal election. Mayor Maybury's adherents claimed that it was Democratic weather and tended to add to the Democratic majorities which they have confidently been predicting. The Republicans insisted apparently with equal confidence that Clarence A. Black will be the next mayor, but they did not claim as large majorities as the Democrats.

Muddy Roads in Colorado. Denver, Nov. 2.-The weather was clear and cool, but the roads are so muddy in the city as well as in the country, on account of the heavy snowstorms one week ago, that many voters did not take the trouble to go to the polls. The small groups at the various polling places in this city when the polls opened at 7 o'clock in the morning were in marked contrast to the crowds in line last year, and there is no doubt the vote will be much smaller than that

Cloudy Weather in Virginia, Richmond, Va., Nov. 2.-Weather was cloudy in Richmond and all over the state, with rain on the coast. The vote in one half of the city exceeded expectations while in the other half it was very light. A dramatic incident of the campaign and coincident with the tragic end of Henry George was the death at Staunton of Colonel James Cockrane, the Republican senatorial candidate for the Ninth district. He expired suddenly after a vigorous cam-

Demccrat, 28. Boston, Nov. 2.-Rain prevailed all over Massachusetts, and as a consequence voting during the early hours was slow. The feeling which has been general that Governor Wolcott is sure of re-election doubtless also affected the volume of the vote.

Election in Nebraska. Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 2.-Few reports have come into political headquarters from over the state. In a few of the larger towns outside Lincoln and Omaha nearly an average vote was polled, a majority of ballots going in early. The blanket hallot did not cause the confusion expected, but it is feared by political managers that the count will be Downpour in Maryland. Baltimere, Nov. 2.-The polls opened during a perfect deluge of rain that apneared to have extended to all parts of the state and effectually checked the voting in the first hour. It also had a tendency to keep the party workers away from the pelling places, and the result was one of the quietest times ever seen here on such an occasion. Little Inter st in Kansas.

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 2.-Bright, clear weather prevailed throughout Kansas. As there were no state officers to be elected and no considerable part of the state was interested in the election or defeat of the same men, the campaigns have been thoroughly local, and little general interest was taken in the re-

The troubles of the whole party are caused by the climate. They are suffering from pneumonia and kindred complaints-diseases which it would be supposed they could ward off the best. Instead of contracting pneumonia from the cold they apparently contract it from the heat. They complain much of the "excessive heat" and long for a sight of the ice-clad fields of their native land.

Postmaster Turns Burglar. Richmond, Va., Nov. 2.—Postmaster James Feagles of Newborn, Pulaski county, was killed while in the act of burglary. A stcrehcuse, which had en repeatedly robbed, was guarde by two men, who saw a man unlock the outer door and also an inner door. While leaving the house with a bag of wheat the man was halted. He attempted to draw a pistol and both guards fired, killing him instantly. Both were astonished when they found the dead burglar was the postmaster. False keys fourd in Feagles' pecket fit other buildings in the town.

Four Láborers Killed. Denver, Nov. 2.—A special to The Times from Victor, Colo., says that four laborers were killed and several others were injured by an explosion of dynanate near that city. The men were blasting rock in grading for the roadbed of the Cripple Creek District Electric railway.

TWO MEN ARE KILLED.

Fa-alities Attend an Attempted Robery at Aurora, Ills. Aurora, Ills., Nov. 1.-Two men shot dead in the night, one a respectable merchant of the city, the other a robber who attempted to hold him up and rob him of his day's receipts, is the story of one of the worst tragedies in the history of Aurora. About 8 o'clcck Peter Braun, who conducts a little grocery at 208 Pierce street, on what is known as "Pigeon Hill," in a remote section of the city, gathered up what bills he had in the cash drawer and took them over to his house, which is located just across the alley, next door. About 9:20 o'clock the usual closing time. Braun let a few neighboring loungers cut of a rear door. and putting the silver, which was in the cash drawer, into a bag and placing it in his pocket, he and his brother Harry. who is a clerk and a delivery man for the store, closed up the place. Hardly had the two men stepped outside and locked the front door than a tall man sprang from behind a lilac bush in the immediate vicinity and, flourishing a revolver, commanded them to throw up their hands. According to the story told by Harry Braun, the only witness, before any resistance whatever had been offered a second robber, a small man, sprang from behind the bush and began firing at his brother. By mistake the bullet struck the tall robber and he fell to the sidewalk. Seeming angered by his mistake the short man fired a volley of shots at Braun and then bending over his companion to ask him "Are you dead?" he quickly left the scene. Harry Braun, the brother, fled from fright at the first alarm of trouble or he, too, would undoubtedly have been killed.

DROPS CONTEMPT CHARGES. Judge Spurrier Leaves Ballot Case with

Iowa Supreme Court. Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 29.-Judge Spurrier of the Polk district bench has announced that he would inquire into tne writ of supersedeas issued by the supreme court in the Populist ballot case and determine whether he would hold the state election board in contempt. For the present he has concluded to let the matter rest with the supreme bench, assuming the "supreme court would correct all manifest errors." using the same language as did the supreme court a few days ago in dismissing the writ of certiorari directed to the district bench. The hearing on the supersedeas will be before the full supreme bench. The granting of the writ of supersedeas brings the case before the supreme court on appeal, which cannot be heard before the January term, as court adjourns soon, and the abstract cannot be filed in time to advance the case this "Middle of the Read" ticket goes on the ballot urder the head of the People's party. Without the courts determining rights the "Middle of the Roaders" use the name.

An Interesting Reminiscence.

A. Wilder of Newark, N. J., writing to the New York Voice, gives the following reminiscence: "In the autumn of 1852 the national woman's rights convention was held at Syracuse. I was present and reported the proceedings for the Associated Press. The lights of the cause were present, Lucretia Mott, Paulina Wright Davis, Elizabeth Oakes Smith, Ernestine L. Rose, Clarissa Nichols, Martha Dickinson, Susan B. Authony, Lucy Stone and Antoinette L. Brown. The latter two had recently graduated from Oberlin Mrs. Mott presided and displayed parliamentary ability and tact of a superior character Miss Brown evinced her logical ability, Mrs. Rose her characteristic energy, Miss Stone her readiness and grace of delivery She was the star, but the others supported her well. This, however, is not the point. There was free speech on all sides, and some of it was very free. Several men were far from complimentary, and the defects, the petty spites and other naughtinesses of women were forcefully depicted. One evening a lady whose name I forget took the platform, 'We read,' said she, 'that God made heaven and earth in six days. Then he created man. After that

LITERARY NOTES.

On some accounts the most important feature of the American Monthly Review of Reviews for November is an illustrated article entitled "From the Lakes to the Sea," by Carl Snyder. Mr. Snyder describes the various inventions which have made feasible, through cheapened methods of construction, a great ship canal connecting the Great Lakes with the Atlantic Ocean. It would appear from the figures and estimates set forth in Mr. Snyder's article that the Chicago Diainage Canal has been a fruitful object-lesson to engineers. - It shows how cheaply and rapidly canal construction can go on with the new devices for cutting and dredging. Outing for November, bright and bracing as a November day, appears

sport most prominently depicted with out and within, as it should be, is Football. This is the month when all other events in the world of sport are temporarily lost sight of in our enthusiasm over the latest achievements of our favorite football team, and Walter Camp satisfies the appetites of football enthusiasts with an exhaustive article fore-casting the season. Thousands at this season are devoting their attention to their equine beauties and with great pomp and ceremony displaying their fine points before the critical eyes of the judges. The interests of this class are well cared for in "The Round of Summer Horse Shows," by A. H. Godfrey, with 25 illustrations, and "Fox Hunting on the Eastern Shore of Maryland,"by Hanson Hiss,"Yachting on Northwestern Lakes," by Captain Walter S. Milnor, is exceptionally well written and will interest yachtsmen everywhere. Other features of a very strong number are: "Lawn Tennis Honors of the Senson," by J. Parmly Paret: "Turkey Hunting on the Wekiva, Florida," by L. L. Canova; "A Day Over Dogs," by Ed. W. Sandys: "Thanksgiving with the Steelheads," by M. S. Gibson; "From Genoa to the Bay of Biscay," by Paul R. Jenks; "Thanksgiving With the Jacks," by I. A. G.; "His Majesty the Moose" by Parker Syms, M. D.; "Lullaby Mullen of Poryhyry Gulch," by P. V. Mighels, and the usual monthly record department. giving a digest of the affairs of the month in the world of sport.

The Household for November has a handsome full cover illustration of the Pilgram Monument at Plymouth, and gives an unusually interesting lot of appropriate stories that are in keeping with the season of Thanksgivnig. The recipes and departments are as usual fully up to the high standard of this interesting magazine. "An apparent mechanical impossibility may be accomplished by simple means, using a copper cent, and a cork, with a common cambric needle as accessories," writes magician Harry Kellar, describing "How I Do My Tricks" in the November Ladies' Home Journal. "Announce that you will drive a small needle through a coin, and few will be ready to accept your statement, yet it is very simple and any one can do it, Take a copper coin, place it upon two small blocks of wood, leaving a very narrow space between the blocks. Now, having selected a Stock and Petroleum exchange. The good, sound cork, force the needle failure is said to be a small one. Assets through it until the point just appears at the other end. Break off the portion of the head of the needle showing above the top of the cork. Place the cork upon the coin and strike it a fair, smart blow with a hammer. The needle will be driven entirely through the penny by a single blow."

> An article by Mark Twain written in the style of "The Innocents Abroad" and illustrated by A. B. Frost and Peter Newell, is a promise that magazine readers do not have held out to them every day. It is in the November number of McClure's Magazine that this rare feast of humor is to be served. One might expect much more than ordinary entertainment from any one of the three items of pictures by Frost, pictures by Newell, and an "Innocents Abroad" article by Mark Twain; but the editors of McClure's, in their profusion, engage to serve all three at once. The Mark Twain article will consist of chapters from the forthcoming book on his recent journey around the world, and is the only part that will be published in advance of the book itself. It follows, those that have read it say, the earlier Mark Twain manner, which is undoubtedly the most popular: on a thread of pleasant travel are strung no end of wise and witty reflections, quaint and quizzical observations. comic adventures, and plausible impossible tales.
