

BUCHANAN RECORD.

VOLUME XXXII.

BUCHANAN, BERRIEN COUNTY, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, AUGUST 18, 1898.

NUMBER 29.

FOR GOVERNOR. HAZEN S. PINGREE.

PLATFORM: Equal Taxation. Special Privileges to None. No Free Franchises. Uniform Railroad Rates.

As usual Admiral Dewey has been heard from and Manila surrendered to the forces under Admiral Dewey and General Merritt last Saturday, August 13th.

The action of the Common Council of the village in refunding the floating indebtedness at 5% by issuing refunding bonds instead of carrying bonds at 7% interest is a good move, and will result in a saving of 2% interest on $8,000 which is certainly worth saving.

Col. John Atkinson, one of the best known and ablest lawyers of the State, died suddenly on Sunday morning, in Detroit. The cause of death was neuralgia of the heart. Col. Atkinson has been prominent in political matters in the State, and was the one who introduced the taxation reform measures in the last session of the legislature. Col. Atkinson was to be greatly missed by this great State of Michigan.

Last Friday two men hired a boat from E. W. Strong, of Niles, for a fishing trip. Not returning with the boat, Mr. Strong notified Marshal Toll and Under Sheriff Ben Earl. Mr. Earl telephoned Deputy Sheriff Wenger who ascertained that the boat had passed the dam at this place and he immediately started after the men. Upon reaching Berrien Springs, Deputy Sheriff Earl Stove joined in the pursuit, and the two men and boat were captured at Twin Springs. The men gave their names as Van Clifford of Bridgeport, Conn., and H. Howard of Newburgh, N. Y. The men were held, and it has since transpired that Clifford's real name is Herman Vom Cleaf a nephew of the celebrated cutlery manufacturer, Vom Cleaf was found to be wanted in New York for embezzlement and an officer was sent from there to Niles, who took Vom Cleaf back yesterday. The officials are to be congratulated upon the work done in this case.

The Big Double Store is arranging for a big sale; watch for it.

Many wagons loaded with peaches and apples go to South Bend every night.

A large number of Lady Macabees are having a fine time at their picnic at Clear Lake today.

The annual reunion of the Miller-Zeigler-Roe families will be held next Thursday, near South Bend.

Chas. Charlwood was arrested by Deputy Sheriff John G. Wenger on charge of larceny, in breaking into Wm. Guberson's house Saturday night. He will have a hearing before Justice Keller on August 23rd.

At a meeting of the School Board held last Saturday evening, Miss Anna B. Treat was promoted to the position of preceptress and Mrs. Anna E. Cook was engaged to fill vacancy caused by the promotion of Miss Treat.

A large delegation of the members of Wm. Perrott Post G. A. R. left yesterday morning for St. Joseph to attend the annual encampment and reunion of the Berrien County Battalion. There were over fifty in the party.

Messrs. B. R. Desenberg & Bro. are firm believers in printer's ink, as will be evidenced if any one will read this week's Record. It also follows that they find a judicious and liberal use of the columns of the Record invariably produces satisfactory results.

During the storm of Tuesday night, lightning struck and killed three very valuable steers, for Frederic Andrews. The cattle were insured in the Berrien County Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Company, and Pres. Rough settled the loss with Mr. Andrews promptly on Wednesday.

The majority of farmers have threshed their wheat and with only a very few exceptions have splendid yields. A big crop of corn, the result of the very timely rains, and a good yield of wheat makes the farmers feel a little more as though they lived on "Easy Street" this year.

Shortly after midnight Monday night, fire was discovered in the machine shop of Mr. Ben Field on Portage street. The fire alarm quickly brought the fire department to the spot and the blaze was quickly extinguished. The loss is quite heavy, owing to the destruction of valuable patterns, and is estimated by Mr. Field at about $800.

Miss Emma Moodie-Critic, teacher of the Dayton Normal School attended the Summer School at Kalamazoo last week. While there she gave a delightful talk on "The co-operation of teachers and parents." The members of the Board of Education of that city expressed themselves as being pleased with her method of handling what is called "the bad boy."

Miss Moodie who has been spending the summer with Maj. and Mrs. Jno. B. Laughlin, has returned to her home in Dayton.

On Tuesday the work of repairing the washout to the dam was completed and the coffer dam was removed by dynamite. This washout occurred on the 18th day of May and ever since that date a large force of men have been employed by the Beckwith Estate in repairing the break and building new head gates.

The estimated cost of the work is close to $10,000 and the town should pride itself on being so fortunate in that the horse had an old harness that Mr. Boyle has never thought of using, and the harness had been taken off, a halter put on and the horse placed in the stall. Mr. Boyle is around this morning feeling all right with the exception of a stiffness of the neck, which he thinks must have been caused by being thrown out on his head, and is busily engaged in finding out "where he is at."

F. C. BAKER.

A Strange Experience.
One of the most singular experiences we have ever heard related occurred to Charles Boyle, yesterday. He arose in the morning and gave his horse on the farm the necessary directions about the work of the day and told him to haul in a load of wood and then go to plowing. The man did as directed and in the afternoon came to the house, when he noticed a broken cart in the barn yard, and on going to the house he found Mr. Boyle lying on the couch, and could get no intelligible answers to his questions. He immediately went to Mr. Dutton's for some assistance and some of the family returned with him. His condition seemed to be improved. Upon investigation it was found that the horse had evidently run away after Mr. Boyle had fallen or been thrown out. Mr. Boyle says he has no recollection of being thrown out or of hitching up the horse nor in fact of telling his man about the day's work.

A place was found where the rig had gone between a stump and the board fence where the horse had evidently left the cart, about 80 rods from the house. Mr. Boyle had evidently dragged the broken cart to the yard, although he has no recollection of it. Another peculiar thing is that the horse had an old harness that Mr. Boyle has never thought of using, and the harness had been taken off, a halter put on and the horse placed in the stall. Mr. Boyle is around this morning feeling all right with the exception of a stiffness of the neck, which he thinks must have been caused by being thrown out on his head, and is busily engaged in finding out "where he is at."

THE NIAGARA MILLS.
Bainton Bros., Proprietors.

A Model Milling Plant.
Through the courtesy of a member of the well known firm of Bainton Bros of this town a representative of the Record was shown through their extensive flouring mills situated on the south side of River street just east of Portage.

The Niagara Mills, a cut of which appears on this page, though very commodious are full of the latest improved milling machinery. This machinery can be driven either by water power or by steam. The foresight of the firm is shown in having at their command a Corliss engine of 85 indicated horse power to keep this immense plant running should any accident happen to the great 50 horse power turbine wheel that drives the machinery during ordinary running seasons.

The Messrs Bainton have built a side track to their mills which connects with the Michigan Central and also with the Milwaukee, Benton Harbor & Columbus Ry., thereby giving them the very best facilities for loading and shipping their large output of flour and mill feeds.

When running at full capacity these mills have a daily capacity of about 100 barrels of their superlative Patent Flour.

The machinery is so nicely arranged that every bit of available floor space seems to be utilized for the different

"rollers," "bolters," "scalpers" and "accumulators." The Corliss engine is in a building of stone with corrugated iron roof and the coal bins with the capacity of three twenty ton cars of coal are convenient to the boiler rooms. The track on which the cars are brought to the mill is so close to the bins that the coal is shoveled down into them direct from the cars. The flour is loaded right out of their door into the box car.

This firm has been in business since 1886 and have an extensive trade to point to as the result of their untiring energy and good business management and now report an increasing trade in their several brands of patent flour. They are large buyers of wheat here in home market.

Certainly no mill could be better equipped than theirs with first class machinery and their facilities for cheap power and quick railway transportation give them the advantage of being able to compete in distant markets both with their flour and mill feeds.

The special brands are known as "Best Patent," "Golden Wedding," "Lucky Hit" and "Sunshine." Besides these brands of flour the mill turns out about a carload per day of bran; middlings and other feeds. The firm have their barrels made here in town by Joseph Voorhees and all their packages are neat and tasty.

ARMOUR'S PURE ANIMAL FERTILIZERS For Wheat and Grass.

GRAIN GROWER. Especially prepared for wheat. An excellent fertilizer for $21.00 per ton.

AMMONIATED BONE WITH POTASH. A highly ammoniated manure, bone basis. $23.00 per ton.

ALL SOLUBLE. Running high in Phosphoric Acid. An extra fine wheat manure $28.00.

Two hundred pounds per acre of either of the above pure bone fertilizers at a cost from $2.10 to $2.80 will not only increase yield of wheat but will insure you a better crop of grass. Having had several years of experience in growing wheat, with aid of fertilizer in the East (Maryland) I am prepared to give purchasers any information they may desire on this point. Drop postal to

U. S. Department of Agriculture, Climate and Crop Bulletin of the Weather Bureau, Michigan Section, for the week ending August 8th, 1898.

WEATHER.

The mean temperature for the week ended Saturday, August 13, 1898 was 68.6 degrees, or 1.6 degrees above the normal. This is 2 degrees warmer than the week preceding. Quite a number of the nights were very cool, although most of the days have been warm.

The average total precipitation; 0.64 of an inch, 0.12 of an inch more than the normal. It was rather unevenly distributed.

The sunshine averaged 52 per cent of the possible amount.

Very beneficial showers have occurred during the week and there is a general improvement in the condition of corn, late potatoes, pastures and the soil for plowing. Some localities in the eastern part of the central counties have not had any rainfall, but most of the counties of the State have been quite generally visited by showers. Corn has shown a better growth than for some time back and in southern counties is now beginning to glaze; it has eared fairly well and reports from all counties indicate that the Michigan corn crop will quite generally be safe from frost by September 15th. Early potatoes are a very poor crop but late potatoes show considerable improvement and are now in a fairly promising condition. Pastures have improved and are now affording fodder. The rains have improved the ground for fall plowing and that work has been well advanced in the central and southern counties and quite generally begun in the northern counties. Out cutting is nearing completion and most of the grain has been secured. The dry weather of July has damaged the bean crop so that it is now in poor condition, although somewhat benefited by the recent rains. Reports regarding fruit indicate that plums, peaches and pears will be fairly plentiful but that apples will be a short yield, especially in winter varieties.

FARM AND DAIRY.

Conducted by Percy G. Skirven.

Linseed Oil Used With Success.

In a letter to Hoard's Dairyman, Mr. U. J. Hindert of Woodford Co., Ill., gives the following experience:

As I have read so much about calf cholera, and its supposed cause and cure, I thought I would write what I know and have learned by actual experience.

Having had the handling of calves for no less than thirty years, I have never seen but two bad cases of calf cholera that did not prove fatal, and those were the last two. The disease is too common to need to be described. The calf usually gets sick before it is two days old; sometimes the disease does not take more than three days to claim its own. I have nothing but Jerseys, and some of them I prize very highly, especially the heifers, and in December last we lost a calf with this cholera; in January another (from one of the best cows) after doing anything and everything that we could think of. The calves were each in a large box stall, with plenty of fresh straw for bedding.

In April, we got another calf that took sick the same as the others. We gave it all kinds of tea, but it got so bad it could not stand up, and while lying down it would pass blood, and it began to get spasms and cramps its jaws seemed to be locked. I told my hired man that I would take ten cents for the calf, as I did not think it would live ten minutes. Just then the thought struck me, what was good to produce a physic, might cure a physic, so I got a large bottle of pure castor oil, and put the neck of the bottle into the calf's mouth, and let her run, till I thought it might be enough, and when I looked I saw that I had given the calf four ounces of the oil. I said let her get at that till tomorrow, and to our surprise, we found the calf on its feet but not able to suck the cow; so we gave it half a pint of raw linseed oil. In the evening, we found the calf sucking the cow, but not over the cholera, so we gave it another half pint of oil, and from that time to this the calf has been as well as a calf could be. One month ago, we got another calf that took sick the same as the others, and it was so bad

Linseed Oil Used With Success.

In a letter to Hoard's Dairyman, Mr. U. J. Hindert of Woodford Co., Ill., gives the following experience:

As I have read so much about calf cholera, and its supposed cause and cure, I thought I would write what I know and have learned by actual experience.

Having had the handling of calves for no less than thirty years, I have never seen but two bad cases of calf cholera that did not prove fatal, and those were the last two. The disease is too common to need to be described. The calf usually gets sick before it is two days old; sometimes the disease does not take more than three days to claim its own. I have nothing but Jerseys, and some of them I prize very highly, especially the heifers, and in December last we lost a calf with this cholera; in January another (from one of the best cows) after doing anything and everything that we could think of. The calves were each in a large box stall, with plenty of fresh straw for bedding.

In April, we got another calf that took sick the same as the others. We gave it all kinds of tea, but it got so bad it could not stand up, and while lying down it would pass blood, and it began to get spasms and cramps its jaws seemed to be locked. I told my hired man that I would take ten cents for the calf, as I did not think it would live ten minutes. Just then the thought struck me, what was good to produce a physic, might cure a physic, so I got a large bottle of pure castor oil, and put the neck of the bottle into the calf's mouth, and let her run, till I thought it might be enough, and when I looked I saw that I had given the calf four ounces of the oil. I said let her get at that till tomorrow, and to our surprise, we found the calf on its feet but not able to suck the cow; so we gave it half a pint of raw linseed oil. In the evening, we found the calf sucking the cow, but not over the cholera, so we gave it another half pint of oil, and from that time to this the calf has been as well as a calf could be. One month ago, we got another calf that took sick the same as the others, and it was so bad

As the time for holding the state convention—September 21st—approaches, it becomes apparent that Governor Pingree has an absolutely clear course for the nomination as his own successor. If there is opposition to him in any section of the state, it is small and wholly lacking the vital force of organization, so that there is no remaining doubt that he will be nominated by acclamation. We are aware that the Governor has some personal enemies, but we are also aware that a majority of them are so much in favor of many of his propositions of reform as to greatly modify their antagonism if indeed not to an extent to enlist their support of him. There are few to be found who do not agree that he is right in the main, and the worst being said now is that his position upon certain questions is that if less extreme would be right. It is not likely that the Governor expects all that he has asked and will be found to meet his opponents in all matters pertaining to the welfare of the state upon reasonable grounds. That he is open to conviction is well known of him, so that if there are those who disagree with him they have little to fear, in view of so much to commend him as the party candidate.—Negaunee Iron Herald.

Monday's rain was a timely one, and will be of great benefit to this section. An excursion from St. Joseph to Notre Dame came over the "Benton Harbor Route", Monday. There were four coaches well-filled in the train.

Messrs. C. E. Russell and Will Sparks enjoyed a ride on E. S. Roe's tandem last Friday. When last seen they were headed toward South Bend. Mrs. Geo. H. Richards had a very handsome night blooming cereus in bloom last Friday night and a great many of her friends dropped in to see the beautiful flowers.

The Crystal Springs Camp Meeting closed Sunday and the most of the Buchanan contingent reached their homes by Monday or Tuesday. All report having had an enjoyable meeting.

It will interest the many friends of Messrs. H. H. Mason and F. A. Mason, who recently removed with their families to Fremont, O., to know that both gentlemen and their families are now located at Perry, N. Y.

A Business Men's Convention will be held at Detroit, August 23, 24 and 25 and a big time is in preparation for those who attend. Boat rides, trolley parties, fireworks, musical entertainments are provided for the visitors. The railroads have granted a one fare for the round trip and the convention promises a large attendance.

During the recent strike in the newspaper offices in Chicago the business of the big advertising houses fell away to nothing, and the strike convinced them of the necessity of newspaper advertising. Not only does persistent bargain offering bring business to the advertiser, but it brings trade that otherwise would go to some other town. This has been demonstrated here, as well as in Chicago, and that class of advertisers look upon advertising as a necessity. Few concerns can be made prosperous without the aid of the newspapers.

A state official that deserves a unanimous re-nomination is Auditor General Dix. One can say that Mr. Dix is the best auditor general Michigan ever had without disparaging the work of any of Mr. Dix's predecessors or invoking the language of adulation. Under Mr. Dix's direction the intricate machinery of the auditor general's office moves like a nicely adjusted piece of mechanism. There is no friction or waste of energy anywhere. The business of the office is always well in hand, and rich and poor are shown equal courtesy and consideration. The fact that Mr. Dix has saved the state thousands of dollars by his vigilance in the collection of taxes will appeal eloquently to the electorate, winning numerous votes from the opposing candidate. In the auditor general's office the people have a first-class business man, who looks after state affairs as if they were his own, and they intend to keep him there.—Bay City Tribune.

Quietly Wedded. Miss Lois Mays and Mr. Fred Marshall made Man and Wife. Last evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Mays, St. Joseph avenue, Miss Lois Mays was joined in wedlock to Mr. Fred Marshall, of Fremont, Ohio, by Rev. L. Grosebaugh. The wedding was a quiet but very pretty affair and about 50 guests were present. At 8 o'clock the bridal procession marched into the parlor and took their places under an arch that was made of flowers and flags. The match, "Sweetest Thoughts" was rendered on the clarinet by J. William Knott. Miss Anna Hess was bridesmaid and Mr. Lute Webber, cousin of the bride, acted as best man. The bride was attired in a handsome dress of blue dotted mull and carried white roses. She was the recipient of many pretty presents. Mrs. Marshall is well and favorably known here, while Mr. Marshall is slightly acquainted, as he has been working in Buchanan for a time and played baseball here in the capacity of pitcher for the Buchanan Blues. After visiting in Niles and vicinity for a few weeks the couple will go to Fremont, Ohio, to make their future home.—Thursday's Niles Star.

EDITOR RECORD.—In my last I followed our trip to and including Edmonton. Being pleasantly here, I will continue the narrative to this evening. The journey back to Calgary from Edmonton was necessarily slow, because of the lack of ballasting on the road which has, in fact, but recently opened up this new country. Leaving Calgary at 12:10, Tuesday morning, we traveled through the foothills and mountains to Banff. Marvellous was the sight that greeted our eyes, upon rising Tuesday morning. Great snow-capped mountains completely surrounded this beautiful little town; dense spruce woods cover the bases of the peaks, gradually losing their size and numbers, as the giddy heights are reached. Startling precipices and jagged rocks inspired us all with awe, and many were the expressions of wonder to be heard on all sides. But the most wonderful of all the wonders in Banff's vicinity are the great springs of hot water dashing from out the solid rock in a dozen different localities. At many places deep pools have been made where the most delightful of baths can be taken. The water is at about 84° and as deep as you want it, with a fine bottom. The water holds sulphur and other minerals in solution, making it medicinal as well as otherwise enjoyable. Leaving Banff at 11:30 we strike at once into the wildest and most sublime of Rocky mountains. I must follow the stereotyped phrase and say that language fails entirely to picture the grandeur of these scenes. I must also use the oft-repeated sentiment, that these mountains must be seen to be appreciated and understood. Pardon, please, my personal allusions, as follows: From Banff to Field an immense four-driver locomotive dragged us around curves so that the engine, on the cow-catcher of which I rode, would be going in just the opposite direction from the rear car, and down grades so steep that, honestly, nearly every wheel of the sleepers was smoking from the application of the air brakes. Beyond Field, for miles we follow the Kicking Horse, remarkable the world over for its terrific wildness. But I have neither words to describe, nor have you the patience to listen, to a minute narration of the lovely little cascades, the great rush of waters of the river, the towering summits of snow-clad mountains. Through this great panorama of wonders our train rushes at thirty to thirty-five miles per hour, and it is not until we reach Donald, at 4:45, Pacific time, that the great mountains recede somewhat, and we enter the valley of the Beaver, everywhere covered with great spruce trees. At Glacier is the greatest glacier of America, from one to two miles wide, thirty miles long and eight hundred feet deep. A large number of small streams find their source in this great field of snow which is, however, drained away only a few feet each year. A fine sight here is a snow storm on the mountain summit, while it was very comfortable at the hotel. From Glacier we follow the Thompson river to Lytton where the Fraser unites with it to form the Fraser river proper. Across the great Fraser canon can be seen the old government road, built in the sixties and abandoned because of the building of the Canadian Pacific. Frequent landslides have demolished the trestle work, and in most places the road still remains passable. At Missouri Junction, where we arrive at 12:50, Mt. Baker can be plainly seen, thirty-five miles away, in Washington. As we now gradually leave over-hanging cliffs and snow-topped mountains, evidences of farming appear, except where the great pines cover the ground. Vancouver is reached at 2:40. After dinner we are shown over the magnificent boat, "The Empress of India", which runs from here to Shanghai and other points of China. A ride aboard the steamer Rochester on the bay occupied the evening. One story of the Fraser river is that the salmon are oftentimes so thick that many are crowded out on the shore, and the hogs come down to eat them. Leaving Vancouver about 2 o'clock on Thursday morning, we get to New Westminster at 4:40; leave here at 5:20, via the steamer "R. P. Bithel" for Victoria, en route a salmon cannery is visited. The entire work of canning, except the final cleaning of the fish and packing into cans, is done by machinery. The rapidity of the work proved most interesting. Indians and Chinamen are employed for the most part. Along Virginia bay we may see Mt. Tacoma, over two hundred miles away. Victoria is reached by 2:30, when we immediately embark aboard the "Quadra", to visit the British first-class cruiser "Imperieuse", lying at the naval station, five miles away. This visit was referred to by all as the greatest thing yet. The warship is 880 feet long and has a crew of about 600. She is heavily armored with large guns and small rapid-firing Hotchkiss. The exact number and size of her guns I was unable to get. This vessel will be remembered as the one that lately beat the Olympia. The party remained at various hotels in Victoria over night and left for Seattle the "City of Kingston" for Seattle at 8:10, Friday morning, July 29. Landed at Seattle at 2:30; took street cars at once to Lake Washington, where a sight was given at the sea lions. Madison park, a most beautiful place, was reached by boat on Lake Washington. After strolling and resting here, cars conveyed us to the Government Assay office. Here we were permitted to lift gold bricks worth $25,000, and weighing about 100 pounds. Gold dust and nuggets were plentiful. The officials here informed us that over $10,000,000 worth of gold had, by this time this year, been brought from Klondyke. In speaking of the prospect, the officials stated that it was only those who, by their own fault had failed to get the gold, had sent out such deplorable reports of the country. He said, further, that the supply of gold could not be exhausted for many years and that, at least, 200 men who had struck rich had deposited in Seattle banks. He asked the newspaper men to discourage, through their periodicals, the route to Klondyke through Edmonton, from the fact that that course is impossible. He may have had selfish aims in saying this, but his words were only a repetition of what we had heard all along. He recommended the "Chilkoot and White passes."

FALLS CHURCH, Aug. 9, 1898. TO THE EDITOR.

Dear Sir:—I received a Record from Buchanan that had the letter written by W. O. Strawser, and I wish to correct it a little. It was all right, as far as it went at Camp Alger, but I will tell you how it has been the last week: We have been on a forced march for seven days, and it has rained for every day or night since we left. We got up at 2:30, packed up, got breakfast at 3:15, and start out at 3:30. We marched twelve and thirteen miles a day, until yesterday when we marched twenty miles and it rained all day in torrents, and we had to walk through mud and water all day, besides fording two streams.

We are now camped at thoroughfare Gap, Va., in the Blue Ridge mountains. On the march through, from Camp Alger, all we got to eat for the seven days was one meal, in the morning, of each day consisting of hard-tack, pork and coffee, and the rest of the day we got what hard-tack we had in our haversack, and the canteen of water we had on the start would last all day. Our Major Slavin said we would stay here two or three weeks, then we would go to Shenandoah Valley. We made the march in heavy marching order. Our load consisted of a knapsack in which was an extra suit of clothes, extra suit of underwear, three pair of socks, a razor and razor-strap, brush and a big woolen blanket, and rolled on top was our pup tent, a rubber blanket or poncha, a haversack with our hard tack and cooking outfit in it, and a canteen, and also a gun, bayonet and seaboard. So you better believe we were loaded out. There were a lot of the boys given out, on the march. I guess about 2,000 out of the 20,000 that started out, but Strawser and I got through all right. It is still raining, and I guess it will never stop. I will close, for mess-call has sounded and I will have to go and eat.

Yours respectfully, WALLACE HANOVER, Thoroughfare Gap, Va. Co. I 3rd Mich. Vol. Recruits. Locates at Ironton, Ohio. Mr. A. C. Stephens Secures the Palace Hotel. The following clipping from the Ironton, O., Republican of Aug. 9, will be read with interest by the many friends of Mr. A. C. Stephens who wish him success in his undertaking: A deal was consummated, Monday afternoon, by which Mr. A. C. Stephens of Buchanan, Mich., becomes "Mine Host" at the Palace Hotel. Mr. Felix, who has been conducting the past eighteen months, has no defined business plans for the future but, with Mrs. Felix, will visit with Virginia friends for a few weeks.
