The decorated special train which left the Pennsylvania railroad ferry slip in Jersey City at 1:50 in the afternoon was fully in keeping with the distinguished passenger. It was said by the railroad officials and trainmen that the ovation during the run from New York to Washington was the most remarkable demonstration that has ever taken place along the line.

All along the line every train. freight or passenger, that passed the special saluted it with a long-drawn blast of the whistle and in all the larger towns where the flyer slowed down within the city limits there was a continual roar of steam from factories, machine shops and the shifting engines and trains on the sidings. The train, as it reached the line of the District of Columbia, stopped for a few minutes at the little station of Deanwood while the reception committee went through the formality of presenting the nation's guest the freedom of the district. The ceremony was performed by District Commissioner Wight. John Addison Porter, secretary to the president, first extended President McKinley's greetings, to which the admiral returned his thanks very briefly.

and altogether the civic paradiants of a SEVERELY had a most creditable representation, worthy one. As the rear of the column passed the public fell in behind and passed before the reviewing stand for an hour to get a glimpse of their hero. After the procession the admiral proceeded to the home of his hostess, Mrs. Washington McLean. Mrs. McLean welcomed the admiral and turned over the house to him for his use during his stay in Washington. Mrs. McLean and the members of her family then left, going to her country residence. Beauvoir, in the suburbs of Washington. Luncheon was served at 9:30 and then the admiral retired.

New York, Oct. 2.-Rear Admiral J. G. Walker, Alfred Noble, Col. Peter study the work of the Panama Canal company, returned here Sunday on the shricked the poor woman, as several New York. Col. O. H. Ernest remain in Paris.

The committee have been abroad for six weeks. They spent a month in Paris and afterward went on a tour of inspection visiting some of the great canals in England and on the continent. Rear Admiral Walker said that the committee had some hard work while abroad.

"For one month we have been at work in the office of the Panama Canal company in Paris," he explained. "We have studied the reports, the plans and the work that has been done. We have also consulted the engineers. I cannot say what the result will be. We will report to Washington.

"The committee will go to the Isthmus in the near future and will spend the winter there studying the situation and going over the ground. We are much encouraged by what has been done so far and there is not the least doubt that the canal will be cut through. Of course I can't say when, but the people have seen the necessity for the canal, and built it will be."

While the committee of the commission have been in Faris the other members of the commission have been busy. Surveying parties have been or-

Mrs. Lehman is the victim of a gasoline stove. She was about to prepare the evening meal and, after lighting one of the burners on the stove, attempted to fill the tank containing the gasoline. As she poured the oil the burner flared suddenly up and set fire to her dress. Little damage was done to the building and the baby was in no danger at any time.

At the hospital it is stated that Mrs. Lehman may not recover. Her head and face are only slightly burned, but her body is baked all over. The burns, however, are not very deep, and she is not internally burned. Mrs. Lehman is 30 years of age.

> Lansing, Mich., Oct. 4.-It has developed that the inheritance tax law passed by the last legislature is full of holes, and it is generally understood that it will not stand the test of the that tribunal.

The defects in the law were discovand a system of books in order to carry it into effect. The law was found to be ambiguous, unintelligible, and crudely constructed. It was with considerable difficulty that a workable system for carrying the law into effect was devised. An inheritance tax was enacted by the legislature of 1891 and it was declared unconstitutional, and this fact accounts for the general belief that it is impossible to prepare a law for the taxation of inheritances that will stand the scrutiny of the courts. The present law was drawn without the assistance of the attorney-general's department and the fact that it is full of defects leads to the conclusion that its author may not have avoided the constitutional objections raised to the previous law.

As the train arrived at the brilliantly lighted depot in Washington the throng choked the streets for blocks about. The carriage which the admiral occupied in going to the White House was strikingly handsome and was drawn by four spirited nags ridden by postillions.

As the admiral's carriage swung around the treasury toward the White House a brilliant spectacle was spread out before him. To the right Lafayette square was ablaze with electric lights, the great trees and flower beds sparkling with many-hued lights, while in the mist shone in huge electric letters "Welcome, Admiral." The navy department beyond was ablaze with lights, as were the White House grounds. As he stepped from the carriage Col. Bingham, representing the president, stepped forward to escort him to the east room, where Secretary Long, who was at the door, grasped his hand and with enthusiasm said:

"Admiral, I welcome you home. This is the navy department for the moment and your associates of the navy are here to give you a hearty greeting.'

"Thank you, thank you," responded Atimiral Dewey, first exchanging a few words of greeting with the secretary and then with Mr. Allen and the other officials. After the greetings Secretary Long invited the admiral to accompany him to the president's library. where Mr. McKinley and the members of the cabinet were awaiting him. As Secretary Long entered with the admiral, the president came forward to greet the famous sailor, and grasping his hand wished him a hearty welcome. The admiral acknowledged the cordial sentiments expressed by the president, and then asked as to the lealth of Mrs. McKinley, saying he had heard with regret that she had not been well. Returning to the library, the president invited his cabinet assocates to meet the admiral. Former Secretary Alger was also present, havine been requested by the president ion officials with regard to the cable to join the party, and was among those to meet the admiral. The Horrors of the Wreck of the Scotsman Are Greatly Increased by Fiendish Acts of Crew

Montreal, Canada, Sept. 29.-The steamer Scotsman of the Dominion line, which sailed from Liverpool on Sept. 14, and was several days overdue, lies a wreck, hard and fast, on the rocks in the Straits of Belle Isle, at the entrance to the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

The steamer carried eighty-eight first-class, 100 second-class, and eighty steerage, passengers, making a total passenger list of 268.

Rimouski, Que., Sept. 30.-The story of Se wreck of the Scotsman, which went on the rocks off Change Island, in the Straits of Belle Island, early in the morning of Sept. 21, as told today by passengers brought here on the steamer Montford, involves the plunder and maltreatment of helpless and panic-stricken women by a drunken crew, and the drowning of thirteen people, if not more, whilst disembarking from the steamer in a boat from which the plug was missing, and and which sank almost immediately on being lowered.

Of the surviving passengers of the Scotsman 249 were brought here by the Montfort. Nine more, with fortyfive of the crew, were taken off by the Monterey and delivered to the Grecian, which is bringing them here also. The remaining fifty-six are on the Monterey, on the way to Liverpool.

Members of the crew who are now on the Germanica will be arrested as soon as that vessel touches at a British port.

The Boers continue to concentrate in considerable strength between Utrecht and Volksrust, where their artillery is known to have moved, and now threatens Laing's Nek. Large commands have also assembled on the western frontier of the Transvaal, near Kimberley.

"From Mafeking come rumors that the Transvaal intends its attack on Tuedsay, but the impression is, however, that the Boer movements are merely a counter demonstration to the massing of British troops in Natal. Nevertheless, if war is declared the Boers will certainly make an immediate dash for Laing's Nek and probably break the railway north of Kimberley. "No anxiety is felt for the safety of that place. as it is probably able to hold its own now."

Apparently reliable reports declare that the Boers are massing on the Natal frontier, not in small squads, but in numbers sufficient to alarm the home government.

That the Boers will strike the first blow is generally predicted, this, according to reports, being the plan advocated by Kruger. The exodus from Pretoria and Johannesburg continues, which is taken as a pretty sure sign that the Boers' mind is fully made up for war.

New York, Sept. 29.-The greatest sailor in the world today reviewed the greatest parade in American history. It was a triumph for Dewey, for the navy and for the nation.

The Admiral stood for hours beneath the ensign of Farragut and lifted his cap to the hundreds of thousands who cheered him. It was a trying day for the fighter, but he proved equal to the test.

READY TO SAIL FOR THE CUP

Columbia and Shamrock in First Race of Series, on Tuesday.

New York, Oct. 2.-Beginning Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock and continuing Thursday and Saturday of this week and Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday of next week, if so many trials shall be necessary, a series of races will be sailed between the British sloop yacht Shamrock and the American sloop yacht Columbia for the yachting championship of the world, the emblem of which is the old silver cup, weighing 100 ounces, won, by the famous schooner yacht America in 1851.

That this will be the most notable series of races in the history of the old cup is apparent. In the first place, the two yachts are known to be far and away the best that have ever competed for the trophy. That is to say, Shamrock is conceded to be the swiftest yacht ever produced by British designers, as Columbia is the swiftest yet built from American ideas.

the Columbia and Shamrock was declared no contest because of the failure of either wacht to finish in the prescribed time of five and a half hours.

After the fingers are worked on the thumb is inserted, and then the upper part of the glove receives attention. Both gloves should be put on before either is buttoned. Begin at the second button and fasten the glove, and then return to the first and no trouble will be found in closing it.

In removing gloves they should be pulled off from the wrist, thus turning them inside out and giving them an opportunity to dry and air.

Light-colored gloves give the hand a larger appearance than when dressed in darker shades.

One Day in Bernhardt's Life. In the preface to a book by Jules Huret, Edmund Rostand sketches the portrait of Mme. Bernhardt, as follows:

"A cab stops before the door of the theater and a lady wrapped in a fur pelisse alights quickly, passes the crowd assembled in the causeway with a smile, runs lightly up a stair, enters a room full of flowers and well warmed, throws here a satin bag containing innumerable things and there her white satin lined pelisse, tosses off her hat, ornamented with birds' wings, rushes on to the dark stage, electrifying a shadowy crowd by her appearance, comes, goes, fills all that she touches with fever, takes her place on the guignol, teaches by gestures, by intonations, rises and demands a repetition, trembles with rage, sits down again, smiles, takes some tea, repeste aloud certain phrases and by her voice moves the feelings of old actors, who stand in the side scenes.

I am a farmer located near Stony Brook, one of the most malarious districts in this State, and was bothered with malaria for years, at times so I could not work, and was always very constipated as well. For years I had malaria so bad in the spring, when engaged in plowing, that I could do nothing but shake. I must have taken about a barrel of auinine pills besides dozens of other remedies, but never obtained any permanent benefit. Last fall, in peach time, I had a most serious attack of chills and then commenced to take Ripans Tabules, upon a friend's advice, and the first box made me all right and I have never been without them since. I take one Tabule each morning and night and sometimes when I feel more than usually exhausted I take three in a day.
