CAPITAL OF BOERS IS CAPTURED

Plumer Takes Pietersburg with Slight Opposition-Boers Evacuate During the Night.

> London, April 8.—Both Japan and Russia have emerged from cover and their preparations for war are being made so openly it is clear that both nations expect an early outbreak of hostilities. In Yokohama public proclamations were issued today that indicate Japan's attitude only too clearly. Orders were transmitted to shipping companies, according to cable dispatches to The Daily Mail, to hold all their vessels in readiness for transport service.

> Pekin, April 9.-The Russian minister to China. M. de Giers, responding to the letter from Prince Ching and Li Hung Chang regarding Manchuria. merely refuses to hold further communication with them upon the subject. The Mongolian prince, Olaskan, father-in-law of Prince Tuan, proves to be an important factor in the rebellion now in progress. He urges the rebellious troops to march on Sianfu.

Chinese knowing General Tung-Fu-Sian say the emperor brought the rebellion upon his own head when he published the edict threatening the general with future punishment. On account of his present power and influence General Tun-Fu-Sian would not permit this and naturally desired to prove that power. He has the entire Mohammedan population with him. Prince Tuan also has a large following, while Prince Olaskan controls the entire province of Mongelia.

NO MORE NEWSPAPER STRIKES Typographical Unions Vote for Arbitration with Publishers. Chicago, April 9.-Word has been received from Indianapolis, Ind., that the referendum vote of the subordinate unions of the International Typographical union had resulted in the adoption of the arbitration agreement between the unions and the National Publishers' association, by which strikes, lockouts or boycotts in the great daily papers of this country will be avoided in the future. In all 16,074 votes were cast, of which 12,544 were for the proposition and but 3,530 against.

The agreement as ratified provides for a national board of arbitration, to consist of the president of the International Typographical union and the commissioners of the National Publishers' association. In the event of their failure to agree upon any question submitted to them these two shall select a third member in each dispute who shall be chairman of the board. The finding he served so well, has been unveiled. of the majority of this board is to be final, and under the agreement will be accepted by the parties to the dispute under consideration. A form of contract between the unions and employers is also provided for.

The agreement covers linotype operators, compositors, stereotypers, writers, mailers, photo engravers and zinc etchers in newspaper offices. It is the last of a series of similar agreements made or renewed in the last few years, and now places the whole of the 35,000 members of the International union in line with contract agreements with employers. About 14,-000 members will be directly affected and benefited by it. The proposition had been ratified by the Publishers' association at its meeting in New York city last February.

BLEW OPEN THE SAFE

Failed to Reach Apartment Where $50,-000 Was Stored.

Chardon, O., April 5,-Six men blew open the safe of the Citizens' Savings bank early yesterday and after a desperate fight with Night Watchman Pomeroy and a citizen, whom they overpowered, succeeded in making their escape. It is believed the robbers secured less than $200. Th night watchman discovered the men at work in tor, General Dodge presented the the bank. He was seized, bound and Young Master Tucker then released gagged, but not until he had shot one Dr. Madison, who of the burglars, lives near the park, was aroused by the noise and came to the scene. He also was seized and tied hand and foot. Ie required three big charges of dynamite to blow the safe door off. After completing their work the robbers left town on a handcar. Two men have been arrested at Willoughby on suspicion. The robbers enly succeeded in gaining entrance to the one compartment of the big safe. In another part, which was not reached, it is said, nearly $50,000 was stored. Pomeroy, the night watchman, was badly injured. After he shot one of the burglars he was unmercifully clubbed over the head. After being bound and gagged the watchman was dragged into the bank where he witnessed all the operations. At each explosion the robbers retired to a place of safety. Pomeroy lay in an exposed place and no attention was paid to him, except that one of the robbers whose arm evidently had been broken by the shot, occasionally gave him a kick. The robbers were a long time getting into the vault. They gathered up the loose coins lying about and then went at the strong box, against which they exploded several charges without result.

U. cf M. Underclassmen Pay no Attention to President Angell's Manifesto.

Ann Arbor, Mich., April 8.---University of Michigan underclassmen are still playing Samson and eDlliah with each other, and shaven pates keep springing up over night like so many mushrooms. The stunt when effective is done quietly and without ostentation. A certain student who is duly or unduly prominent in his class is picked out by the opposite faction. A committee of half a dozen of the nerviest members, selected or self-appointed, wait upon the candidate at his room and inform him of his fate. Shears are produced, and the victim visits the barber chair at an early hour the following morning.

So far this year the rule holds good in several instances. As yet the authorities in University hall have made no definite move to stop proceedings beyond the annual manifesto, and no abashed culprits have yet appeared "on the carpet" of President Angell's office.

The German minister, Dr. Mumm von Schwartenstein, entertained all the ministers at a dinner in honer of Count von Waldersee.

Several Boxer leaders have lately been beheaded in the section in charge of the British under Captain Barrow. One of these was a notorious Boxer who instiga d the attack on Lang Fang, which was repelled by the force under Vive-Admiral Seymour. Some of the associates of this man are supposed to have been implicated in the murder of Missionary Stonehouse recently near Tientsin. The governor of Mukden, who was among the sumber sentenced to be decapiated in the new list prepared by the ministers, has managed to make his escape. This is the second of four provincial officials sentenced to death who has managed to get away.

Description of the Statue.

The equestrian statue of General Logan just unveiled represented seven years of labor on the part of Franklin Simmons, the sculptor, and marks a departure in sculpture in Washington, in that it rests upon a pedestal of bronze. Congress appropriated $50,-000 for the statue and $15,000 was contributed by the Grand Army of the Republic. The pedestal is twenty feet high. On its west face is a group representing General Logan in consultation with leading officers in the Army of the Tennessee. In this group are portrait bronzes of Generals Dodge, Slocum, Leggett, Mower, Hazen, Blair and Captain Strong. On the east face of the pedestal is a group representing General Logan taking the oath as United States senator, which is being administered by Vice President Arthur. In this group are portrait bronzes of Senators Cullom, Evarts, Conkling, Morton, Miller, Voorhees and Thurman. The south front of the pedestal is embellished with an allegorical figure of war and the north with another of peace. The equestrian statue rises above the pedestal fourteen and a half feet. General Logan, facing south, is represented as riding along a line of battle, his horse moving forward at a gentle trot, his hat on and sword drawn. The statue produces an impression of dignity, beauty and power. Humbert, late king of Italy, after a private view of the monument, knighted Mr. simmons.

Work.

Chicago, April 6.-Frank Coburn, a telephone lineman, stood on the platform at the top of a telephone pole cutting out a connection, and the hundreds of people watching him did not know he was dead till they saw smoke ascending from the platform. It was at Garfield buolevard and Halsted street. Coburn ascended the pole at 2 o'clock. Several men were in the gang working in the vicinity. The pole had a platform surrounded by an iron railing under the crossarms. As the linemen reached the platform he seized a wire with the cutters and remained standing in that position. A current of 2,000 volts passed through his body when his cutters touched the wire. The soles of his shoes took fire and it was with difficulty that they were loosened from the platform. The body was supported partly by the iron railing and partly by the grip on the wire overhead. The body was lowered to the ground by the other workmen.

burning a fire at one end of the range, and at one side of furnace and parlor heater during mild weather.

We simply rake out one end or side, leaving the ashes in the other. We thus practically get a smaller fire-pot. In the range we sometimes improve on this, and obtain an added advantage by letting the fire burn out at one end of the fire-box keeping the other in good shape. Then we thoroughly rake both ends at bed-time and fill with coal.

The fire is all at one end, but it slowly extends to the other end during the night, one end burning at a ime. We thus get the advantage of a self-feeder. There is no danger of the fire's burning out during the night although the one end may do so.

I am a farmer located near Stony Brook, one of the most malarious districts in this State, and was bothered with malaria for years, at times so I could not work, and was always very constipated as well. For years I had malaria so bad in the spring, when engaged in plowing, that I could do nothing but shake. I must have taken about a barrel of quinine pills besides dozens of other remedies, but never obtained any permanent benefit. Last fall, in peach time, I had a most serious attack of chills and then commenced to take Ripans Tabules, upor a friend's advice, and the first box made me all right and I have never oeen without them since. I take one Tabule each morning and night and sometimes when I feel more than usually exhausted I take three in a day. They have kept my stomach sweet, my bowels regular and i have not had the least touch of malaria nor splitting headache since l commenced using them. I know also that I sleep better and wake up more refreshed than formerly. I don't know how many complaints Ripans Tabules will help, but I do know they will cure any one in the condition I was and I would not be without them at any price. I honestly consider them the cheapest-priced medicine in the world, as they are also the most beneficial and the most convenient to take. I am twenty-seven years of age and have worked hard all my life, the same as most farmers, both early and late and in all kinds of weather, and I have never enjoyed such good health as I have since last fall; in fact, my neighbors have all remarked my improved condition and have said, "Say, John, what are you doing to look so healthy?"

THE COLOR SCHEME.

TINTS OF PAN-AMERICAN BUILDINGS WILL BE SYMBOLICAL.

Varying Tones Will Indicate the Development of Man's Color Sense and Its Refinement-Director Turner Writes of His Plan.

The color scheme of the Pan-American Exposition follows the plan of sculptural embellishment conceived and being executed by Mr. Karl Bitter, the Director of Sculpture of the Exposition, and supplements his work. As the sculpture will symbolize the progress of the race so the color scheme will represent in epitome the growth of the color sense of the race. The colors at the main entrance to the grounds and about the Triumphal Bridge will be exceedingly warm, suggesting a welcome to visitors, and this part of the

CHARLES Y. TURNER, N. A.

[Director of Color, Pan-American Exposition.] Exposition has very appropriately been dedicated to our neighbors in the Western Hemisphere.

All the savage races have manifested a great fondness for strong, crude colors, and these will be found on the buildings nearest the main entrance. The advancement of man in intelligence and civilization has been marked by a desire for more refined color comsubtlety and grace of color being in the Electric Tower, which, representing the highest advance in material civilization and occupying the leading position architecturally and sculpturally of the whole Exposition, naturally enoug has come in for the finest color notes. resented the entire Exposition in miniature. Each model was colored in accordance with the general scheme, and its relationship to surrounding buildings carefully studied. Many of them had to be painted several times before suitable results were secured.

Once the structures of the miniature city were all harmonious colored. drawings of the individual buildings were made, and the decorations accurately worked out to the last detail until they were in readiness to be placed in the hands of the intelligent painterdecorator.

When the time arrived to begin painting, it was found that the buildings in the middle of the grounds were the only ones on which work could be done, and then the value of my model was demonstrated. Mr. Washburne was enabled to readily translate from the model to the buildings without danger of breaking the harmony of the scheme.

The coloring of exposition buildings has been undertaken a number of times, but in most cases has been abandoned before taking real shape. White has been most popular, though it is severe on the eyesight. After the numerous failures it required considerable courage on the part of the Pan-American Exposition builders to take up the color scheme. Having started out, however, they are determined not to turn back. If the color scheme proves successful, as I have every reason to believe it will, it will be a novelty and mark a new era of improvement in the treatment of architecture. The advisability of applying color to large buildings has always been questioned. The matter needs a great deal of care and thought. All coloring is the subject of more or less criticism of an unfavorable character. We will do remarkably well if we escape it at this Exposition.

However, we have put our hands to the plow, as it were, and we must not look behind. The time for the work is limited, and all must be done during the most unfavorable period of the year. We must employ a large force, bring all our ingenuity into action and push forward. After the painters have done their work I shall go carefully over it, and skilled artists will supply tone if necessary. This will be equivalent to the "varnishing day" of the artist. Then the result of our efforts to produce a harmonious and pleasing color scheme will go before the public. binations, and the culminating point of and it is to be hoped that our critics will bear in mind the novelty of the undertaking and all the adverse circumstances under which we have la-C. Y. TURNER, bored. Director of Color.

Arrangements have been made to accommodate 25,000 animals on the grounds. Liberal prizes in all classes will be offered. The closing of the Nineteenth Centuary has witnessed marvelous strides in the improvement of methods in the dairy world. Formerly the whole dairy business was conducted largely by "rule of thumb." Instead of a vocation requiring a certain apprenticeship it is fast becoming an exact science, in which chemistry and bacteriology play no insignificant part. The increasing interest and attendance at the various dairy schools throughout the United States and Canada and the existence of great co-operative and commercial organizations for the manufacture and sale of dairy products are an indisputable testimony to the achievements of modern science. In this great industry the Government has appropriated vast sums of money to help the dairyman in his work, and this is indicative of its importance as a factor of the great food problem of the world.

The territorial lines of the dairy belt have long since been annihilated. A few States and Provinces in the East no longer enjoy the exclusive distinction of being in the dairy sections. In the Dairy building at the Exposition space has already been asked for by Maine and California, Manitoba and Texas. The supposed disadvantages of soil, water, climate and food in portions of North America have largely

As an essential means of promoting harmony green, in at least a few notes, is employed in the adornment of every building of the Exposition. The beautiful translucent green of Niagara has been fitly chosen as the dominant color of the whole scheme. Appearing in its fullness in the recesses of the Electric Tower and in the restaurant group behind, it is everywhere repeated. Not a building but bears its echo mark of Niagara green.

The color schemes of a few of the buildings may be noted:

- Machinery-Greenish gray.
- Restaurant Group-Ivory, accented with green and gold.

Electric Tower-Ivory, cellow, gold and green.

The roofs of the Exposition are for the most part covered with red tiles. though prominent towers and pinnacles will be in many cases decorated with green or blue green or with gold. All the buildings will have a play of colors about their entrances, balconies, pinnacles and towers. My idea is to have the sharpest and freshest green known carried throughout the entire scheme, and that will be my reference to power. Green is one of the more recent and refined colors. It has not long been used in art. Pick up any picture painted long ago, and you will look in. vain for a suggestion of green in it.

Pan-American Mining Exhibit.

Mines and mining will be represented at the Pan-American in a manner intended to illustrate the importance and great progress of this industry. Modern improvements in metallurgy and the science of mining have advanced so rapidly and have attained such proportions that the task is not an easy one.

The Mines building is one of a group of three handsome buildings which have been arranged in the general form of a horseshoe. The Mines building occupies a position of a heel calk in the group. It is connected with the Horticulture building, which would correspond to the toe calk, by means of one of the two handsome conservatories that flank the Horticulture building north and south. The Mines building is 150 feet square, having four corner pavilions, each reaching to a height of 100 feet.

tives of dairy animals are found wherever the wholesomeness and nutritive value of milk products are known, and the increasing consumption of milk and its products bespeaks much for the future of the dairy business.

Few people have any adequate conception of the present magnitude of the dairy industry. In the United States and Canada there is one dairy cow to every four persons, or 20,000,000 cows. 'The annual milk production is estimated at $550,000,000. Add to this the value of dairy cows, $650,000,000, and we have $1,200,000,000. To this add the investments in dairy appliances, and we reach a grand total of $2,000,000,000 invested in this great industry in the United States and Canada.

A large, beautiful building located near the Agricultural building will be devoted exclusively to Dairy Products and Dairy Apparatus.

All the milk products will be exhibited in glass cases, properly refrigerated for the purpose of maintaining as far as possible the texture and quality of the products on exhibition. Exhibitors whose products form a portion of their State or Provincial displays will not be charged for exhibit space, but individual exhibitors will be charged $1.50 per square foot for space occupied.

The exhibit of Dairy Appliances will embody all the recent inventions and improvements made in this industry, including sterilizers, pasteurizers, separators, coolers, churns, etc.

Electric power will be furnished in the building should exhibitors desire to demonstrate the work of their machines for the benefit of the visitors.

The exhibit in the Dairy Division will be a seductive one, and in point of attractiveness, interest and utility will surpass anything ever before attempt-

Empty Greenhouses Utilized With Vegetables That Like Heat.

Greenhouses, more particularly forcnumber throughout the northern states. present it is a valuable source of income. During the summer months it is the prevailing custom to clean out the forcing houses, allowing them to lie idle until time to prepare for the fall campaign.

Some time ago it occurred to Frank W. Rane of New Hampshire that there should be some tropical or other plants of seconomic importance that would adapt themselves to the utilization of the empty houses. Eggplants, peppers, sweet potatoes and tomatoes were selected for trial. The house is an even span, 25 by 100 feet, and the beds, with

From tomato plants the seed of which was sown on March 10 and the plants set into the ground beds between lettuce on April 9 we began picking fruit on July 10. The plants were set 1S inches apart each way and trained to one stem. The varieties used were Early Acme, Beauty, New Liber-

Kinds More or Less Grown In Kansas-Common Practice In Sowing. The clovers are among our most valuable forage plants, having a high feeding value and serving as excellent soil renovators. The following facts about some of them, though especially relating to Kansas, may have interest in other states also: Red Clover (Trifolium Pratense).ing houses, are rapidly increasing in This is the commonest species in Kansas, but can be grown successfully This may be overdone in time, but at | only through the eastern fourth of the state. As far west as Riley county it is uncertain. It is a short lived perennial, or often scarcely more than a biennial, with red flowers and dark spots upon the leaflets. It is a common practice to sow clover with timothy for both meadow and pasture. The timothy tends to hold the clover upright, and the mixture is considered to make better feed. The timothy is usually sown in the fall, often with wheat by a special attachment to the drill, and the clover sown in the following spring, or the timothy is sown early in the spring and the clover in April or after danger from frost is passed. There should be about six to eight quarts of timothy to eight or ten pounds of clover per acre.

Mammoth Clover (Trifolium Medium).—This resembles red clover, but has no spots upon the leaves. It is adapted to more moist land than is red clover and under favorable conditions is said to give a larger yield than that species.

Alsike Clover (Trifolium Hybridum). -A perennial clover whose appearance suggests a hybrid between red and white clover, but it is not a hybrid. It will thrive on soil too wet for red clover, but on ordinary soil is probably not to be so highly recommended. It should be sown with grasses to give the best results.

White Clover (Trifolium Bepens) .-low growing perennial, spreading by creeping stems. Flowers white, the older ones more or less purplish tinged. It is of no value as a hay crop, but is quite useful in pastures through the eastern part of the state. It is usually associated with Kentucky blue grass for this purpose. It endures drought fairly well and will grow on soil too poor to support other tame pasture constituents. It is the shamrock of Ireland.

Crimson Clover (Trifolium Incarnatum).-An erect annual a foot or two high. Flowers scarlet in oblong heads. It is much used in the southern states as a soiling crop. It is susceptible to drought, but may do well in the southeastern part of the state. It seems not to have been grown much in Kansas. So Called Clovers.—There are several other legumes which go under the name of clover, but are not true clovers, though they may be allied to them. Of these may be mentioned sweet or Bokhara clover (Melilotus albus) and Japan clover (Lespedezatstriata).—A. S. Hitchcock.

GARDENING TOOLS.

Weeding Implements That Apply Labor to the Best Advantage. Among conveniences that may be made and atilized in gardening operations are some weeding tools illustrated and described in Ohio Farmer:

angular shaped handle clip shown by A, Fig. 1. Rivet on this clip a mower knife section, B, on the side next the handle socket and fit the tool with a handle of suitable length. The edges of the weeder may be ground or filed as sharp as required.

The tool shown by C is intended for use in removing suckers and weeds from raspberry patches and may be useful for other weeding purposes. It is made by removing the middle tines of an old manure fork, cutting off somewhat shorter the two outside tines and flattening and bending them into the position shown. A piece of the blade of an old bush scythe is riveted on the tines, and after sharpening the implement it is ready to use.

We have found what we call a "push hoe" very convenient for cutting up weeds in the garden or in gravel paths. It is made by heating the shank of a common hoe and bending it out so that the hoe will stick forward as shown in Fig. 2 and lie nearly flat when the han-the knee can help the pushing-that is, the upper hand holds the upper end of the handle against the leg. It strains the loins and stomach less to push than to pull the hoe, and you get more power; also by pushing forward and backing up you do not tramp the sveeds, but leave them loose upon the surface to wilt or to be raked into piles.

Bell, Ignotum, Fordhook First and Bond's Early Minnesota. These varieties from past experience had proved very valuable for forcing.

On examination of data at hand it was found that Aug. 10 could safely be counted upon as about the ripening period of the outdoor crop in New Hampshire. Figuring the yield per average plant for each variety to Aug. 10 and then taking the average of the whole the yield figured 2 pounds 61/2: ounces per square foot. The average price which tomatoes have brought between July 10 and Aug. 10 has been at least 7 cents per pound. Two pounds 6½ ounces at 7 cents a pound equal nearly 16.8 cents, the incomefrom one square foot. Multiplying this

NEW YORK IMPROVED EGGPLANT. by the number of square feet available for tomatoes, or 1,440 square feet, the area of our center bed, we have a return of $241.92.

Eggplants and peppers find ideal conditions in the summer greenhouse. Possibly this may not apply with equal force to states farther south, but it is a subject worthy of consideration in the more temperate sections and in New England.

A Notion Worth Attention. Prevention of oat smut by hot air treatment of the seed is a new idea advanced by the Oregon station. Seed was heated in a laboratory hot air sterilizer. It was found that exposure to heat in a wide range (from 130 degrees to 200 degrees F.) for ten minutes did not affect germination. It is suggested that hop and fruit driers could be used for this purpose. It does away with all the apparatus needed in the hot water and chemical solution treatment and obviates trouble of drying the seed and the danger of injury to the seed through germination, mold or decay, which may occur with the wet method. In one instance seed so treated produced but a single head affected with smut, and this might have come from one kernel of accidentally untreated seed.

Hairy vetch is just novy much talked of as a forage plant. It is a leguminous annual and is reported. as resisting drought excellently and very adaptable to climate in Washington, Nebraska, Georgia, New Mexico, South Dakota, Montana and Penmsylvania. It has also done well in ot her sections. Hairy vetch may be sown in spring from the latter part of April to the middle of May or in autumn from the middle of August to middle of September. It should be sown broadcast or with a grain drill at the rate of 1 to 1½: bushels of seed per acre. The latter method will require less seed. When the seed is put in broadcast a bushel of rye, oats or wheat should be sown at the same time so as to furnish a support to keep the vines up off the. ground.

DISKING ALFALFA.

Thirkens the Stand, Kills Weeds-Is Like Cultivation to Corn.

Our first experience in disking alfaifa was in 1898. A field had been seeded to alfalfa in the dry year of 1894 and a poor stand secured. In 1897 this alfalfa was heavily pastured by hogs. The hogs were taken off early in the fall, and a heavy growth of crab grass came up. The crab grass was so thick and the stand of alfalfa so thin that it was not worth keeping.

Late in March, 1898, this field was harrowed with a disk harrow, the disks sharp and set at as great an angle as possible. It was immediately cross disked with the disks set the same way. The ground was thoroughly pulverized and the alfalfa apparently destroyed. It soon started, branched out thickly, and we made three good cuttings from that field that summer.

In 1900 we went a step further in disking alfalfa. The season was very dry at Manhattan. Two fields of alfalfa two years old were disked.

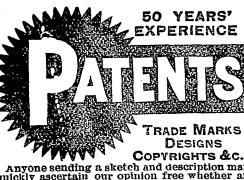

One field was disked March 28, the first cutting for hay made May 31, disked June 6, the second cutting for hay made June 25, disked June 27, the third cutting of alfalfa made Aug. 13, and the alfalfa disked for the fourth time Aug. 20. The last cutting of alfalfa was made Sept. 13. This shows four diskings and four cuttings of alfalfa on upland in a dry year.

Another field of alfalfa was disked and cross disked March 27. The first cutting of alfalfa was made on June 4 and the second disking June 6. Through July and the early part of August the alfalfa was cut from day to day and fed green to dairy cows to help out dried up pastures. Aug. 20 the field was disked, and Oct. 3 the last cutting of alfalfa was made.

The alfalfa in both fields made fine A ste fall growth and went into the winte r in good condition.

The stand of alfalfa on both fields dis ked in 1900 was good. A harrow with \ sharp 16 inch disks was used, the disks being set at a slight angle just sufficient to turn the soil over, and the harrow was weighted to make the disks split the alfalfa crowns to a depth of two inches. The disking split the alfalfa roots, and this made them throw Aut many new shoots. The disking made an earth mulch over the field and prevented the evaporation of water, so rapid in a dry time from an alfalfa field just after being cut. The disks were set so that they barely turned the soil over, and, running at a depth of two inches, they turned the roots of the crab grass and weeds up to the sun which killed them. These disked fields were clean and free from crab grass in the fall.

We have not disked alfalfa a year old. From these experiments we feel safe in recommending disking all alfalfa of two years or more standing.

One important feature about these wheats is that, although they need some moisture to bring them up and then one rain later on, afterward the drier it is it seems the better for them at this stage." # Feeling

That's the way it begins. Little things disturb you. You are irritable, restless and worry over trifles. Your heart jumps and palpitates at every sudden noise, you can't concentrate your mind on your work, your memory fails and you do not sleep well at night. In the morning you feel weak and exhausted, with no appetite for food and no ambition for exertion of any kind. Nervous prostration has no terrors for those who use

THE BEAUTIFUL ORIENT.

It Is One of the Midway's Interesting Attractions.

Nearly $3,000,000 will be required to construct and equip the wonderful Midway at the Pan-American Exposition. The greatest care has been taken to prevent any approach toward the "fake" show, and the visitor may rest assured that he will not be submitted to fraud or extortion so long as he remains upon the Exposition grounds. It is difficult to single out any attraction in this section as more prominent or worthy than another, for all have their special merit and novelty.

The Beautiful Orient will represent life as it existed in the East before the advent of the modern tourist. Gaston Akoun, director of this concession, is arranging to have native representative characters to convey proper impressions of oriental customs and manners of living. He will have plenty of room in which to display the different salient features that would appeal in the strongest terms to people accustomed to our western civilization. A holy Mecca will be the meeting place of tired and worn pilgrims who will constantly arrive, make their offerings in the various mosques or religious temples and disperse. Eight streets will diverge from this objective point, each representing a distinctive local section of the orient. A street in Constantinople will be thoroughly Turkish, even to the vagabond dogs. Morocco will be represented by a street which will illustrate the life and habits of the Moors. Algerian life will receive attention, and a street will be borrowed from Algiers for the purpose. Typical illustrations in a like manner will be taken from Egypt, Tunis, Persia, Tripoli and Turkey in Asia. While looking through these sections visitors could easily imagine themselves in the midst of the ancient city the counterpart of which they are visiting. A Bedouin Arab encampment will lend variety, and Sahara Desert nomads will live in their interesting characteristic way. Natives from all countries will live on the grounds with their camels and different domestic oriental taurants, tea houses, shops and fruit stands for the sale of oriental goods of great variety will be provided. The Beautiful Orient is under the same management as the Streets of Cairo. which was so popular at the World's Fair, though it will be three times as large. About 300 orientals will be employed in different ways with this attraction, a conglomerate eastern city with distinct local features-a history in a nutshell.

It is exceptional to find a musical farce comedy playing to increase receipts on a return engagement, for the reason that much of the fun in pieces this kind is derived from surprises in the situations and lines, while few people care to look at any particular specialty more than once. An exception to this rule, however, may be observed in The Rays' Big Eastern "A Hot Old Time," which will come to the Opera House on Tuesday night April 16. A reason for this in not far to find. Not only is the farce continously snappy throughout the length of its three acts, but the enterprising management has adopted the policy of constantly improving it and keeping up-to date. This is the fourth year of "A Hot Old Time" and without a single exception night in and night out, the audiences have been larger and more enthusias-

When people read that over 300.000 incandescent lamps will be used to illuminate the grounds of the Pan-American Exposition, few will stop to consider that electric lighting has made about all its growth during the last 20 years.
