Remains of the Dowager Empress Frederick Placed in the Tomb.

RESTS BESIDES HER HUSBAND

Hearse Drawn by Eight Splendid Black Horses—The Funeral Procession—Foreigners Present.

Potsdam, Aug. 13.—The remains of the Dowager Empress Frederick have been interred beside those of her husband, in the mausoleum of Friedenskirche, near Potsdam. Between 8 and 9 o'clock in the morning the bells of all the churches in Potsdam were tolled, with two intervals of rest. Shortly before 10:30 Emperor William, the other members of the imperial family and the visiting princes assembled in the royal hall at the Wild Park railroad station. The high court officials, military dignitaries, Count von Buelow and other members of the cabinet, the Knights of the Black Eagle, and the members of the reichstag assembled at 10:25 o'clock in an adjacent hall.

The Foreign Ambassadors. Soon after 1 o'clock the special train ordered by the emperor to bring the invited guests from Berlin reached Wild Park station. Among the guests the foreign ambassadors made a striking figure, wearing their highest official uniforms. The United States ambassador, Andrew D. White, however, was attired in simple black. He looked pale and weak and showed traces of his recent bereavement by the death of his son. At 10:30 the signal was given that the funeral train was approaching. Conversation, which had hitherto been carried on in suppressed tones, entirely ceased and an air of solemnity possessed the assembly. The train rolled in slowly and noiselessly. Twenty non-commissioned officers of the dowager empress' hussar regiment No. 2 came forward and bore the coffin to the royal hearse, which had in the meanwhile arrived from the new palace. Chamberlains and courtiers with the royal insignia participated in the transfer of the coffin from the funeral car to the hearse.

The Procession Formed. Slowly and solemnly the procession formed. Eight staff officers seized the reins of the eight splendid black horses attached to the hearse and four Knights of the Black Eagle took hold of the points of the pall-d cloth, while twelve royal chamberlains held the supports of the canopy covering the hearse and four other courtiers held the cords from the corners. Flanking these, to the right and left, were two staff officers and twelve captains. The procession formed in the shady avenue extending from Wild Park to the new palace. The public had there the only opportunity to see the procession, but got only the slightest view of it, although immense crowds had assembled upon the streets intersecting the road at right angles, and the people strained their necks to get a glimpse of the cortege. Preceding the hearse were squadrons of soldiers, and marshals bearing the various insignia and orders of the dead empress.

Waldesee Carries the Crown. Among them were General Von Waldesee, who carried the dowager empress' crown. Numerous members of the imperial court and the court of the deceased empress also marched in the procession. Following the hearse came Emperor William, King Edward, the crown prince of Germany, and the other royal princes and royal personages. Then came the foreign ambassadors and ministers and personages from the emperor's and empress' entourage, members of the government parliamentary bodies. The procession moved through the tree-arched avenue to the new palace, and then through the park to the San Souci garden, all of which were closed rigidly against the public, though a few newspaper men were admitted by card. When the procession started the bells in the Friedenskirche (Church of Peace) began tolling and all the other bells in Potsdam joined in.

Arrival at the Mausoleum. When the procession reached the mausoleum, adjacent to the Friedenskirche, all those in the procession in advance of the hearse took up positions opposite the church. When the coffin was borne across the threshold of the mausoleum the cathedral choir from Berlin intoned a solemn strophe. Only the emperor and empress, the other members of the imperial family—King Edward, Queen Alexandra and the other members of the British royal party and the princes of the highest rank—entered the mausoleum, which is small. Dr. Persius, the chaplain, offered a prayer, after which the choir again sang. When their majesties left the mausoleum the procession dissolved. The empress, Queen Alexandra, and the other ladies went in carriages direct from Wild Park to the mausoleum.

Ridgely to Succeed Dawes. Springfield, Ills., Aug. 10.—It is stated in Cullom headquarters here that the appointment of William Barret Ridgely as comptroller of the currency, vice Dawes, has been practically determined upon by the president.

Had Royal Blood in His Veins. Mattoon, Ills., Aug. 12.—The Rev. William Barker, a descendant of King Charles II, has retired after fifty years' service in the ministry. He is the best-known pioneer minister in this section.

ITALIAN STATESMAN IS DEAD

Signor Crispi, Whose Name Is Part of Italy's History, Has Passed Away.

Naples, Aug. 12.—Signor Crispi died at 7:45 o'clock last evening. He was surrounded by the members of his family and several intimate friends. The news was immediately telegraphed to King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena. The papers assert that the body will be conveyed by steamer to Palermo, where the municipality will arrange for a great public funeral.

It is rumored that Signor Crispi will authorize a prominent Italian politician to examine his papers and to publish his memoirs.

DID IT ALL HIMSELF

Winters Alone Robbed the Selby Smelter—Money Recovered.

San Francisco, Aug. 12.—Jack Winters, who was arrested on suspicion of having committed the theft of $250,000 worth of gold bullion from the Selby Smelting works, confessed Saturday that he, unaided, carried out the robbery. He then took the officers to a point in the bay near the smelting works where he had sunk his plunder, and after working in the water up to his neck for over an hour recovered $141,000 of the bullion. The finding of the remainder is believed to be only the matter of a careful search of the waters at the place indicated by Winters.

The prisoner had been subjected to merciless sweating for nearly three days without showing signs of weakening. Finally the strain, the confident assertions of the officers that they had a good case against him and the fear of an excessive prison sentence that would deprive him of a chance to enjoy the proceeds of the crime told upon him, and he sent for Superintendent Kopp, of the smelting works, who, he said, was his only friend, and confessed to him.

It is understood that the robber has been promised not only his liberty but $25,000 in cash for giving up. Officers say it would have been impossible to convict him on testimony "sweated" out of him.

REPRIMAND FOR EVANS

"Fighting Bob" Has Been Reprimanded on Charge of New Hampshire.

Washington, Aug. 12.—"Fighting Bob" Evans, rear admiral in the United States navy, has been reprimanded by the navy department for strictures on ex-Secretary William E. Chandler contained in his book, "A Sailors' Log." The reprimand is administered in response to a complaint of Chandler. Admiral Evans' criticism of the former head of the department is declared to be offensive, discourteous and subversive of discipline.

As far as the navy department is concerned, this action is supposed to close the incident, and anything further will have to be in the nature of a demand either from Admiral Evans or Chandler for a court of inquiry.

Attack Was an Ambuscade.

Manila, Aug. 9.—Captain Brown, of the First United States Cavalry, with Troops L and M, of that regiment, and a company of the Twenty-first infantry, had a five hours' fight in Batangas province yesterday with an insurgent force commanded by Malvar. Two cavalrymen were killed. The insurgents escaped.

The insurgents were in considerable force, and allowed the advance guard to pass before attacking. Captain Brown ordered the cavalrymen to dismount. The troop drove the enemy from several positions and burned a number of quarters. The report says the enemy is believed to have lost several men, but no dead were found.

Terrible Death of a Mother.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 13.—Mrs. Robert Pringle, while temporarily insane, from illness, shot her 13-year-old daughter Mildred three times, then fired a single bullet into her own abdomen and without knowing that the weapon was empty, aimed it at her 11-year-old son, Berton, and pulled the trigger. The boy grappled with his mother and took the weapon from her, after which she fell to the floor unconscious and died at 8 o'clock at night. Mrs. Pringle was the wife of Captain Pringle of the lake steamer Helena.

Driven Out of the Trade.

Chicago, Aug. 9.—Ruinous discrimination in insurance rates, according to officials of the Northwestern Steamship company, has decided them to withdraw from the trans-Atlantic route the company's steamships. The withdrawal will be made on the return of the two steamships to Chicago from Liverpool.

FAMILY IN VERY HARD LUCK.

Illness and Death Come Down on the Wells—Very Heavily.

Hesperia, Mich., Aug. 12.—Members of the Wells family attracted attention here last week. Dr. William Wells, 78 years of age, was not expected to live Monday. At the same time Billy Wells, about the same age, was at death's door. Wednesday the father of Mrs. John Wells, born in 1817, died. While friends were gathered at the house for the funeral word was brought that the father of John Wells, 87 years of age, had just died of an operation performed in a sanitarium in Reed City.

After the funeral John Wells started to drive sixty miles to get his mother to attend the funeral here. The old man's body came, the funeral was held, and they held the body without burial till the mother and son returned. The first two Wells are getting well. For a time it was difficult to tell which Wells was well and which was not well.

BIG ROW IN THE DRUG TRADE.

Suit for $10,000 Damages by a Cut-Rate Medicine Seller.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Aug. 9.—W. N. Salisbury, a local druggist, started a $10,000 damage suit against the Michigan Drug company, of Detroit, the Saginaw Drug company and ten local retailers. In his declaration Salisbury says the defendants conspired and conspired together to prevent the sale of drugs, medicines, druggists' sundries and proprietary medicines at less than a scale of prices agreed upon, and the wholesalers agreed to refuse to sell stock to any whole sale or retail druggists who offered to sell at less than that scale.

He claims as a part of a conspiracy the defendants and other persons organized the National Wholesale Druggists' association and the National Proprietary Remedy Men's association for the purpose of preventing cut-rate druggists from obtaining supplies and to drive them from the business.

BRUGLAR WHO WAS DELETED.

Ran Off With What Was Not the Roll of Money He Wanted.

St. Charles, Mich., Aug. 10.—A masked burglar entered the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Winters, of Brant, at midnight. He entered the couple's sleeping room and was ransacking a bureau drawer where the couple's savings, $250, had been deposited for safe-keeping, when Mrs. Winters awakened. She stole noiselessly to the side of the burglar and snatched the money from under his hand.

She had a large handkerchief tightly rolled in the other hand, and when the thief made a grab for her he caught the hand with the handkerchief. Evidently thinking it was the roll of money, he made off with it. Mrs. Winters saved her money, but she is in a critical condition from fright.

Passenger and Freight Collide.

Charlotte, Mich., Aug. 10.—A west-bound passenger train on the Grand Trunk railroad crashed into a freight train at a siding near here yesterday, and the engines and tenders of both trains were completely demolished. Engineer Charles Lane, of Battle Creek, who was running the passenger train, had an arm and a leg broken, but will recover. The crew of the freight train jumped and escaped injury. None of the passengers was injured.

Got Out from Under the Lien.

Bay City, Mich., Aug. 10.—There was a dispute over the handling charges for the lumber cargo of the steamer J. D. Marshall, and the secretary of the longshoremen's union refused the offer made by the captain of the steamer and started to tie up the boat through the assistance of the United States marshal. Learning of this, the captain of the Marshall took a hurried start with his boat and got away before the lien could be made.

SIXTY THOUSAND OUT

That Number of Men Have Struck Under Both the Amalgamated Orders.

STRIKE LEADERS ARE CONFIDENT

That They Will Materially Gain as the Strike Grows Older.

Appeal for Funds Issued—Federation Not To Be Asked to Strike—Claims of the Contending Parties.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 13.—From the most reliable figures obtainable the following shows the strikers and those likely to be idle:

National Steel—Now out, 3,500; likely to be idle, 1,300.

National Tube—Now out, 6,427; likely to be idle, 4,810. Grand total—10,037.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 13.—The struggle for mastery between manufacturers and men in the steel industry is now fairly launched, and on the first show-down the advantage is with the former. The general strike order issued by President Shaffer has so far been obeyed by only about 14,000 men, according to the best figures obtainable here. The first two preliminary calls was answered by about 45,000 men, so that the total number now out is in the neighborhood of 60,000. The strikers made gains here yesterday over the showing of Sunday night and their prospects for further accessions at both McKeesport and Wheeling during the week are very favorable.

Some Disappointments Develop.

The action of the Amalgamated men at Chicago, Joliet and Bay View in refusing to come out, and their failure to secure any recruits in the Carnegie group, throughout the Kiskiminetas valley, and the big plants at Youngstown and Columbus, O., have been markedly disappointing to them. They are keeping up the fight, however, in a spirited manner, and claim that they have strength in reserve which will surprise their opponents. They assert that they have gained a foothold in the Carnegie mills in this city, and at the time desired the men will come out. They are pressing their advantages at McKeesport and Wheeling, and their organizers are still at work in those two cities.

Appeal for Funds Issued.

An appeal for financial aid has been made to organized labor, and the general public, and it is expected that the responses to it will be liberal. The Amalgamated leaders were not disposed to do much talking yesterday. They would not discuss the desertion of their western fellows. A declaration by Shaffer in an interview was regarded as highly significant. It was to the effect that no effort would be made to call out members of the American Federation of Labor, and that any action on their part must be voluntary. The appeal for financial assistance was prepared on Friday last, but was not sent out until today. It gives a short history of the events leading up to the strike and appeals for funds from all who are friends of organized labor.

CLAIMS OF THE STEEL CORPORATION

Summary of the Reports Its Strike Managers Have Received.

The men who are directing the fight in the field for the steel corporation and its constituent companies would give no indication of their plans for the future, and would only discuss the situation generally. Their reports showed that the Carnegie group, South Chicago, Bay View, Joliet, Youngstown, Columbus, the Kiskiminetas Valley group, Wellsville and Monessen were moving along full handed. Bellaire, their advice showed, was badly crippled, but had held on until 5 o'clock in the afternoon, and would be started up again today. They admitted the loss of the National rolling mill at McKeesport, which they had expected to hold, and that the Boston mill and Monongahela Steel works at McKeesport, and the Republic and Elba were tied up.

Their tube workers at McKeesport and here were still at work, but menaced by a possible shortage of material. Their tube men at Wheeling were out, but the furnace and coke men there were at work, and their steel men there showed an inclination to stay on unless intimidated. They also claimed that many of their men at McKeesport desired to work, but were being terrorized by the disorderly element. They also charged that many of their men were being frightened from their places at Wheeling, and insisted that adequate protection for the men there would insure continued operations. It was also stated by the steel officials that Clark's mill here was moving along with its non-union crews engaged last week, and that another mill manned by old Amalgamated men had started up at Wellsville, representing a gain of one there since Saturday.

LUCK FOR GEO. H. PHILLIPS

He as Good as Finds the Nest Little Sum of $134,000.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—The George H. Phillips company has found itself better off by $134,000 than it thought by the discovery of two errors in the books, found since the firm suspended business to have its housecleaning. One was an error of an even $100,000. The firm deposited in the bank $133,000 in cash, for which it received credit by the bank, but which appeared on the books of the firm as a deposit of $33,000.

Another mistake of the bookkeeper was the failure to credit the firm for $84,000 of warehouse receipts deposited in the bank early in April. The deposit of these receipts is the same as deposit of cash, and the failure to account for them caused a reduction of the working capital of the firm by that additional amount.

Rather Extraordinary Verdict.

Fort Scott, Kan., Aug. 10.—A jury of prominent men in a justice court here found Rev. Price, presiding elder of the Methodist church in this district, guilty of malicious prosecution in a liquor case. The defendant was acquitted and the costs were assessed against the clergyman. The defendant had been running a saloon in violation of the law.

Shamrock II Arrives.

New York, Aug. 12.—The yacht Erin, with the Shamrock II in tow was off Sandy Hook at 11:30 p. m. yesterday.

Direct by the Liverpool and London and Globe and the Royal Insurance companies of Liverpool. The policies were on their stock of dry goods destroyed by the collapse of the Luce building. The insurance companies refuse to pay on the ground that the fire was caused by the collapse. The Friedmans claim the fire preceded the fall.

Many Marriages at St. Joe. St. Joseph, Mich., Aug. 13.—County Clerk Church reports the marriage of 107 Chicago couples during the last week and a new record for St. Joe is thus established. Two ministers and two justices, who constitute all the authorized persons within call of the county clerk, have been exceptionally busy with the ceremonies.

Alpena to Have a Street Fair.

Alpena, Mich., Aug. 9.—Alpena will give its first street fair Sept. 2, 3 and 4, under the auspices of Alpena Lodge, No. 505, B. P. O. Elks. In addition to the usual carnival, midway, floral parade, industrial and mercantile processions, etc., the Modern Woodmen and Knights of Columbus will have special features of their own.

Marriage That Waxes Religious.

Coldwater, Mich., Aug. 9.—Miss Grace Palmer, teacher in the city schools, Wednesday became the bride of John J. Manning, of Detroit, manager of the Collier publishing interests at Montreal. The bride is a Methodist and the groom a Roman Catholic, and a Roman Catholic priest performed the ceremony.

May End His Base Ball Career.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 13.—Left Fielder McCarthy, of the Cleveland club, was so badly injured by Pitcher Katoll's inshoot in last Saturday's game that he will be unable to play again this season, and fear is expressed that his kneecap is permanently injured, so badly so that he may have to quit the game entirely.

Contemptuous Striker Sent to Jail.

Kansas City, Aug. 13.—Judge Hook in the federal court at Leavenworth, Kan., sentenced W. Barry, a striker, to four months' imprisonment in jail for contempt of court for trying to prevent Isaac Turner, a non-union man, from working at the Riverside Iron works in this city after having been ex-joined from interfering.

Struck in Defiance of the Union.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 13.—Two hundred and fifty butt-welding helpers came out last night and crippled the great butt-welding department of the National Tube works at McKeesport. The strikers are nearly all boys under 18, and their strike will make 4,800 men idle. The boys came out against the wishes of the Amalgamated officials. The young fellows are turbulent, and it was their strike that began the great strike and riots of 1894.

TRAIN BANDITS AT WORK

Dynamite Express and Baggage Cars and Rob Passengers.

St. Louis, Aug. 13.—Information received at the offices of the general superintendent of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad in the city in regard to the hold-up of the passenger train (No. 4), near Caney, I. T., at 1 a. m., is meagre. All that is known there is that five men boarded the train, which is a local, at Caney, while the engine was watering. Caney consists of little else than a telegraph station and a water tank. The men forced an entrance into the baggage car and express car with dynamite, but it is not known how much booty they obtained.

The American Express safe only contained a small amount of money, it is thought by the officials. After looting the baggage car the robbers turned their attention to the passenger coaches, robbing the occupants. No statement as to the amount obtained from them is to be had. When the robbers left the train it proceeded south. The United States marshal was notified and immediately raised a posse and went after the robbers. It is believed by the officials of the road that the robbers mistook the local for the "Katy Flyer," which follows a little later. This train usually carries a big safe in the express car and a large number of through passengers.

HAD A CORNER IN CORN.
"Durndest experience I ever had," said the old farmer, who was cautioning his son against speculation. "Come mighty nigh ruining me. You fellows here in Detroit don't know nothin' 'bout it. You kin squirm an' wriggle an' git on yer feet some ways, but there me an' Jim was out there in the las' row o' townships with no bank fur to draw on an' both our farms mortgaged up to the han'le."

"How did it happen, dad?" inquired the son, who had been on the right side of the market often enough to make himself comfortable.

"Me an' Jim started in fur to corner corn. I see a piece in the county paper tellin' how the thing was done, an' I read it to Jim. Jim was the all-fired excited man you ever saw, and calculated that there wasn't nuthin' anybody else could do that me an' him couldn't do. So we slips round an' bought in all the corn in the county, payin' an average of 35 cents a bushel. We only give out cash where we had to and the rest got our j'int notes. It jest 'bout filled up Jim's double-decker barn, and when the stuff was all cornered there we sat back and counted up what we was a goin' to make.

"Ike Simmons kin 'round and wanted ter git ten bushels ter keep fer seedin'. I asked him a plum dollar a bushel and told him he needn't take it less he liked. We argued and then we clinched, and he was wrapping me 'round a apple tree when yer maw interfered. Me an' Jim had four or five pitched battles like that and was figurin' on gittin' shotguns at wholesale by takin' two when we found out that all the farmers were up there buyin' corn from the counties j'inin'. They were so dinged mad they wouldn't give us nothin' fur ours, an' we had to haul it sixteen miles and sell it to a banker with a elevator fur twenty cents a bushel. Took me ten years' hard labor ter git even, and I never had no use fur corners or speculators, or bankers since. Keep outen it, me boy."—Detroit Free Press.

HAVE YOU A FIBULA?

A New Pin Which Women Wear to Hold Their Fibulas.
Women are just now putting money aside to buy themselves fibulas, as are called the new and fascinating pins which are worn to hold their fichus, bits of drapery and neckties together. So few, comparatively, have as yet been seen that it may not be amiss to describe a fibula. One of gold wire, a scroll similar to a large S, is made, or it may, perhaps, be better described as similar to the design of the treble which is placed at the beginning of a bar of music. At its back is a very long and firm pin, which, after it has passed horizontally through the material on which it is worn, comes out again and goes over the bottom part of the scroll before finally hiding its point in the gown. Now the greatest point in favor of this new pin is that after it has been so fastened it cannot be jerked out by any extraneous force. In fact, to get it out at all a little manipulation is necessary. The S, as it may be called for convenience, has to be turned upward to as to unfasten itself from the pin, which has passed over it, and not until this is done can the long part be drawn out. This idea, a most excellent one, is not really new. Long ago the Romans devised fibulas to hold their togas together, slippery, sliding garments, which made some such contrivance of importance. In style there is a vast difference in these pins, some of them being very simple and others representing almost a king's ransom. Those made of gold wire without further ornamentations are pretty and useful, and are to be had for about $3, the lowest round of the ladder. Again they are seen with one semiprecious stone set at the end of the coil. These are hardly more costly, the medium-sized ones averaging about $4 or $5. The truly pretty ones, however, have a little bunch of irregular pearls, turquoises, moonstones or even diamonds dangling from the larger part of the S. Each one of these stones is suspended by a little chain and the whole bunch measures not over an inch and a half long.

EXPLAINED.

He—Why does a woman always hold up her skirt in that manner when out walking?
She—"Because she has no trouser pockets, I suppose."

FORECAST OF FASHIONS.

The white pique skirt is still considered indispensable to the summer girl's wardrobe.

The low coiffure with parted hair is being revived, and is especially pretty for young girls.

A fashionable trimming is quilted satin ribbon, to take place of the mouseline de soie ruchings.

Plaited skirts are everywhere and many of the satin, taffeta and peau de soie boleros are plaited to correspond.

Crepes veils are made of a much lighter weight of crepe than formerly, and they are worn on hats as well as on bonnets.

The bolero has become a prominent feature of the dinner and ball gown, and, in fact, figures on all sorts and conditions of gowns.

Varying shades of one color are more sought by modistes and milliners this season than striking contrasts of other description.

Linon lawn, butcher's linen, linen duck, pique and grass linen are among the list for dresses and fancy jackets to be worn by the up-to-date summer girl.

In making collars of pique, linen, or wash materials, an interlining of lawn should be used and an outer lining of thin sateen, fine lawn or any soft, washable fabric.

The straight front corset is undoubtedly the thing for stout women. There are many makes, and great care should be taken in fitting, by the woman who desires to be comfortable as well as attractive.

There are many new and beautiful patterns in batiste, India mull, nainsook and lawn embroideries, and added to these are the Irish point, Swiss renaissance, and countless gipure designs, which appear to have lost none of their popularity.

HE SOMETIMES MIS-SEES IT.

He had given up his seat in the street car to a woman and stood holding on to a strap for a couple of minutes. Then a puzzled look came to his face, and he turned and queried:

"Did I give up my seat to you, ma'am?"
"You did, sir, and I'm much obliged," she replied.

"I thought I did, but I wasn't quite sure, I'm rather absent-minded at times, you know. Did I get up at once?"

"Yes, sir."
"And the seat is all right?"

"Yes, sir."
"I am glad. Do you know that out home the other day I was sitting on the fence and a cow came up and stood before me for ten minutes, and my wife was telling me afterward that I neither raised my hat nor asked her to take my seat?"

The New Horse Millinery.

Pinned to the front of one of the picturesque straw hats worn this year by horses was a big artificial red rose, making this horse's cone-crowned, red-trimmed slouch hat more striking still; but yet more striking, seen on a horse's head, was a woman's old discarded bonnet, that looked as though it might have been found in the old stuff stored away in some closet or fished out of some such refuse set out on the sidewalk to be carted away.

This bonnet was of some sort of skeleton construction, that the wind would blow through, and it was trimmed with artificial flowers. Old as it was, this was the most novel thing in horse millinery seen in a day, and it suggested how the street might look if all such cast-off and discarded but not yet thrown-away hats of one epoch and another could now be brought out to be worn by horses.—New York Sun.

Default having been made in the terms and conditions of a certain mortgage dated the 13th day of June A. D. 1898, executed by Ephraim W. Sanders and Lonisa Sanders his wife, of the village of Buchanan, county of Berrien, state of Michigan, to Cass C. DeArmond, of the county and state aforesaid, which mortgage was duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds of said county of Berrien, in Liber 75 of Mortgages, on page 27, on the 10th day of June, A. D. 1898; on which mortgage there is claimed to be due on the date of this notice the sum of four thousand and ninety-three dollars and fifty cents, to which is to be added the further sum of thirty dollars as an attorney fee stipulated for in said mortgage, and no suit or proceeding at law having been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Therefore by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage and of the statute in such case made and provided.

Notice is hereby given that on the 23 day of November A. D. 1901, at one o'clock in the forenoon, for purpose of foreclosing said mortgage, the premises therein described will be sold at public vendue, to the highest bidder at the front door of the Court House in the City of St. Joseph in said county of Berrien; said premises being situated in the village of Buchanan, county of Berrien, State of Michigan, as described as follows:—Commencing fifty (50) feet west of the south-east corner of lot forty-three (43) of Hamilton's plat of the village of Buchanan, thence west twenty-six (26) feet, thence north ninety-nine (99) feet, thence east twenty six (26) feet, thence south ninety-nine (99) feet to the place of beginning.

Qualat San Antonio.

"San Antonio is one of the quaintest cities in the country," declared John F. Cunningham of Austin, Tex. "The sidewalks are so narrow that it is difficult for two people to pass without stepping into the streets, and the streets hardly permit of two vehicles moving abreast. But the buildings are modern and substantial, and there is much wealth within the municipality. The ancient structure of the Alamo where Davy Crockett, Col. Bowie, inventor of the bowie knife, and other early heroes of Texas gave up their lives, is well preserved. It was built as a church, but at the same time was surrounded by a wall for purposes of defense. Bullet holes, made at the time of the siege of the Mexicans, are still visible."—Washington Post.

Peach Orchards around Benton Harbor Have the Yellows

Owing to the hot weather that prevailed in this vicinity during the month of July the much feared yellows has appeared in orchard after orchard of the Pearl Grange peach district, a few miles east of Benton Harbor.

The yellows was imported into this section of the fruit belt through affected nursery stock. Where commissioners have been appointed and made semiannual inspections of orchards they often found affected trees and ordered them removed, but in many cases the inspectors' orders were not observed by the fruit grower and the trees remained in the ground until entire orchards in near-by districts had been subjected to the disease.

It may be said that nearly all the great orchards in the Pearl Grange, Benton, Sodus and Bainbridge districts contain more or less diseased trees. Commissioner Rodney Pearl of the Pearl Grange district has ordered hundreds of trees removed from orchards. It is estimated that the crop will be lessened 10,000 bushels by the removal of diseased trees. Great fear has been entertained by leading fruit growers that the entire peach belt will be ruined in the next few years by yellows unless the state law is rigidly enforced by the township commissioners.

The orchards around this city are entirely free from yellows and with the drouth broken a big crop of peaches will be harvested.—St. Joseph Press.

More Papers for Chicago

Two new newspapers are already talked of for Chicago. When the Tribune building is finished it is asserted that that company will put out an evening edition to compete with the News for the afternoon field. When Lawson, the owner of the News was publishing the Record he had an understanding with the Tribune that in case he would not issue a Sunday paper that the Tribune would leave the afternoon field to the News. When the Record went into the consolidation it became a part of the Sunday Record-Herald and the old agreement was off. The best paying paper in Chicago is the News, and the Tribune will try to secure a part of that business. New York capitalists will start the second newspaper, an afternoon sheet to be patterned after the New York Evening Post.

ABOUT POSTAGE STAMPS.

Stupendous Totals of Number Used in the United States.

A statement going to show the marvelous increase in the use of postal facilities by the American people is that of the director of the bureau of engraving and printing at Washington, just issued, in which it appears that the number of postage stamps sent out for use during the current fiscal year includes 1,300,000,000 one-cent stamps, 3,500,000,000 two-cent stamps, and 309,236,000 of higher denominations. The total, including special-delivery ten-cent stamps, is 5,116,236,000, against 4,377,727,000 for the previous fiscal year, an increase of over one and a half billion stamps. It is not easy to grasp the full significance of these stupendous totals. A few calculations may help. According to these figures sufficient stamps will be issued this year to supply every man, woman and child in the United States with at least sixty stamps each. Distributed among the population of the entire globe they would supply each person with postage for not less than three letters. Placed side by side in a continuous line the total would girdle the entire earth three times, forming a variegated ribbon around it nearly three inches in width. If spread in the same manner across the United States the stamps would form a paper sidewalk from New York to San Francisco three feet wide. Pasted into a stamp-collector's book of the conventional size, the issue for the year would fill half a million volumes, which, placed one upon another, would form a solid column over twenty-five miles high. If it is true, as Edward Everett Hale says, that the United States postal system is the greatest of popular educators, these figures will serve to show the extent of Uncle Sam's present service as a school teacher.—Leslie's Weekly.

Telegraphy and Inventions.

The Abbe Barthelemy seems to have had a prevision of the practical use to be made of electricity in sending messages. Writing to Mme. du Defand in 1772, he observes: "It is said that with two timepieces, the hands of which are magnetic, it is enough to move one of these hands to make the other take the same direction, so that by causing one to strike 12 the other will strike the same hour. Let us suppose that artificial magnets were improved to the point that their virtue could communicate itself from here to Paris; you have one of these timepieces, we another of them; instead of hours we find the letters of the alphabet on the dial. Every day at a certain hour we turn the hand, and M. Wiard (Mme. du Defand's secretary) puts together the letters and reads. * * * This idea pleases me immensely. It would soon be corrupted by applying it to spying in armies and in politics, but it would be very agreeable in commerce and in friendship."—Notes and Queries.

BERRIEN SPRINGS TO HAVE A COLLEGE

Students Will be Given the Chance to Pay Their Way Through College by Working on the Farm.

BATTLE CREEK, MICH., Aug. 1.—Prof. P. T. Magan of this city secretary of the circulation department of the Seventh Day Adventist general conference, has made his final report regarding the removal of the college from this city and its establishment at Berrien Springs. The association has bought 200 acres on the banks of the St. Joseph river. Of this land a peach and pear orchard take up sixty-five acres and a vineyard ten acres. The grounds contain a beautiful park for camp meeting purposes. A stream runs through the grounds which will be utilized in irrigating the lands. There are also several beautiful springs. It is intended to give sufficient employment to the students to enable them to pay their way through college. Buildings costing $100,000 will be erected. The citizens of Battle Creek are sorry to have the college leave the city.

DRIFTING TOWARD CITIES.

Census Bulletin No. 65 Suggests that by 1910 One-Half the Population of the Country Will be Living in Towns.

According to Census Bulletin No. 65, nearly half the population of the United States in 1900 live in incorporated towns. There were 10,602 of these towns showing 35,849,516 inhabitants—that is 47.1 per cent of the total population. The bulletin states that the drift of population to cities and incorporated places is greatest in the northern division and least in the south and central divisions. New York, as might be supposed, has the largest percentage of population living in incorporated places, the percentage being 77.6, closely followed by New Jersey with a percentage of 76.2. Illinois leads the western states with a percentage of 66.5 living in towns, and Ohio comes second with 57.1 per cent. Michigan has 50.1 per cent living in towns, Wisconsin 46.9 per cent, Minnesota 49.1 per cent and Iowa 48.6 per cent. An analysis of the figures contained in the Bulletin shows that 19,757,618 of the population reside in 161 cities having a population of 25,000 or over. A comparison of the 1900 census figures with those of 1890, suggests the probability that by 1910, one-half of the population of the United States will be living in incorporated towns.

LARGE FEES OF DOCTORS.

Distinguished Men Have Paid Their Medical Attendants Liberally.

The doctor who charged the estate of the late Christopher Magee of Pittsburgh $180,000 for attendance upon the deceased millionaire has been roundly abused from one end of the country to the other, and yet his bill was not extortionate when compared with others of a similar nature. The length of time involved in the service, as well as the other sacrifices, have much to do with forming a just opinion as to the bill. When Samuel J. Tilden died his physician, Dr. Charles E. Simmons, presented a bill for daily attendance during seven years and eleven months, which the papers of the day said aggregated $143,000, a report which neither Dr. Simmons nor the trustees would contradict. Jay Gould paid his physician, Dr. Munn, $15,000 a year, sick or well, and thus his heirs escaped a postmortem surprise. Dr. George F. Shradly records in a magazine article a physician's fee of $87,000 for attending a millionaire's daughter for two months, another of $60,000 for attendance on a yachting cruise of less than six months, and $25,000 for a flying trip from New York to San Francisco. Cases almost without number might be cited of rich men who have had similar bills presented to them. In many cases they have been protested, but it is quite likely that most millionaires reflect that eminent service is often bestowed by kind-hearted physicians upon the poor for nothing. In some countries the most eminent practitioner, who would not scruple to tax the nobility a small fortune for service, dares not refuse a summons from a beggar unless he can furnish good excuse. Otherwise he is open to the charge of the manslaughter if the patient dies of neglect. The Chinese have a very ingenious arrangement. In China if the patient is restored to health the doctor can collect a reasonable fee. But if the patient dies under his treatment he is not allowed to collect anything.

Her Charm for the Boys.

"Just see! They are just like grown-up men," whispered the woman on the excursion boat, calling her friend's attention to three small boys who were admiringly eyeing a dainty young woman wearing a waist of such filmy open work that arms, neck and shoulders were all on view. But the woman did not understand boy nature. From where she was sitting the woman who thought she was shocked couldn't see what the boys saw. It was a picture of a cavalier, with drawn sword on the liveliest kind of horse, beautifully tattooed on the dainty young woman's arm.—New York Sun.

OLD EGYPTIAN BOATS.

Some Older Than the Ark of Noah Have Been Found.

For centuries it has been supposed that Father Noah was the first ship-builder of the world, and that the ark in which he saved his family from drowning was the first vessel that "plowed the raging main." This supposition has been found to be erroneous, for there exist paintings of Egyptian vessels immensely older than the date, 2840 B. C., usually assigned to the ark, being, indeed, between seventy and eighty centuries older. Moreover, there are now in existence in Egypt boats which were built about the period the ark was constructed. These are, however, small craft, about 38 feet long, seven or eight feet wide, and two and a half to three feet deep. They were discovered six years ago by the eminent French Egyptologist, M. J. de Morgan, in brick vaults near Cairo, and were probably funeral boats. They were constructed of three-inch acacia and sycamore planks, dovetailed together and fastened with trenails. They have floors, but no ribs, and though nearly 5,000 years old, they held together after their supports had been removed. These boats may be considered side by side with the better known, but much more modern, viking ship, which is now to be seen in a shed at Christiania. This craft was discovered in 1880 in a funeral mound, so that we owe both these existing examples of extremely ancient ships to the funeral customs of countries so dissimilar as Egypt and Norway.

Science Reveals the Past.

To construct a whole animal from a thigh bone or toe joint has been the achievement of archaeologists in many cases. But to learn the food and habits of stone-age gentlemen from the tartar on their teeth is comparatively a new feat of science. An English journal gives an interesting account of the experiments of the ex-president of the Royal Odontological society of Great Britain in this direction. Upon the teeth of ancient skulls he noticed a thick coating of tartar, and, dissolving this in acid, he discovered minute cornhusk particles, vegetable substances, particles of starch, the point of a fish tooth, oval cells from fruit and portions of wool, also mineral fragments probably left by the rough stones used in grinding the corn. Thus the mode of life and sustenance of people living some 400 years ago were clearly laid bare to the investigator and archeology could achieve what not all the printed records of history could unfold to us.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A large number attended the Odd Fellows Picnic at Berrien Springs yesterday.

A 9 pound girl arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Binns at nine o'clock Sunday night.

It is said that a pack of wolves are destroying a large number of sheep in Northern Indiana.

Burglars made an attempt to enter several houses on south Oak and Day's avenue, Tuesday night.

Mrs. Carl Rose, Mrs. F. E. Newbury, Misses Kintiegh and Beardsley picnic at Clear Lake Tuesday.

Windows have been placed in the M. E. church directly above the front doors to give more light in the gallery.

The young man that made the balloon ascension at Berrien Springs picnic day was a St. Joseph boy and that was his first trial.

The House Decorators have been at work remodeling Dr. Curtis' office, and they changed things entirely from what they formerly were.

About 30 of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Andrews jr. gave them a surprise Tuesday night. Two elegant rockers were left as reminders.

The S. S. Club met out at Mr. W. Ingalls' Tuesday night and from appearances all had a very enjoyable time. Refreshments were served.

Elder J. H. Paton will preach at the Larger Hope Church next Sunday morning at 10:30 and in the evening at 7:30. All are cordially invited to attend.

Senator Blakeslee of Galien was severely though not seriously burned about the face and eyes by the breaking of a tube containing sulphuric acid, which he was using in a test at the creamery.

M. J. Kelling of Buchanan, formerly with Comestock Brothers at the old Galt house, has accepted a permanent position as clerk for Alfred Earl. Mr. Kelling is a first-class caterer, having had much experience in the business.—Niles Star.

Considerable excitement was created last Wednesday at Berrien Springs by the grass catching fire from the M. B. & C. engine. Although nothing of importance was destroyed some lively work was done to save a couple of barns.

The largest cargo of lumber which has ever crossed the bar at the mouth of the St. Joseph harbor entered that port Thursday night on the barge, Santa Maria. The cargo consisted of one million feet, as much as is carried by five ordinary lumber barges running into St. Joseph.

A young man by the name of Brown living in St. Joseph, had quite an experience late last Friday. He was riding a horse across the Napier bridge when the horse became frightened and jumped over the railing into the water 60 feet below. The boy and horse were unharmed and both swam to the shore.

Messrs Wenger & Hathaway have a unique way of keeping their name before the public. At their farm near Bakertown there is a spring over which they have a nicely painted sign reading "Willow Spring take a drink on Hathaway & Wenger. The sign attracts much attention and is a good method of keeping their name before the people.

Mrs. J. Fender who had a stroke of paralysis last week is improving.

The Ladies Aid of the Larger Hope church will meet with Mrs. Aaron Miller tomorrow afternoon.

The horse belonging to Tom Brown ran away again Monday breaking the buggy without injuring any one as usual.

The Berrien county medical society have postponed their bi-monthly meeting and will not meet until the second Thursday in October.

The First National Bank of Niles is just paying a third dividend to depositors, amounting to 10 per cent. This makes 50 per cent in all which depositors are sure of.

Testimony is being taken in the case of Dushane and Coffield vs. McFallon and Buchanan township relative to the tearing out of the bulk heads at Gazley's mill last fall.

Mr. Jakway living east of Rittingers on Terre Coupe Prairie has a double headed calf. The calf was born Monday night but died soon after. It had two perfect heads and necks with four shoulder blades. Mr. Jakway took it to South Bend to have it stuffed and mounted.

Depositors in the defunct First National bank declare that in case Chas. Johnson, the defaulting cashier, is able to show at his trial that the bank was insolvent when he became cashier, 15 years ago, they will sue the stockholders for the amount of dividends they have received all these years.

The Niles City Bank of Niles has purchased one of Burroughs' Registering Accountant Machines and Chas. F. Pears of the First National Bank of this place has it here for a few weeks. The machine is one of the most complicated ever brought to town. It will add a column of any length of figures and the sum is always correct.

Rural Free Delivery Mail Wagons to Carry Big Placards.

Washington, Aug. 13.—Arrangements have been made by the Post-office Department for the display of weather signals from the wagons of the rural free delivery and the innovation will shortly go into effect.

Reports from the Weather Bureau will be forwarded to each rural free delivery center before the departure of the carrier on his route, and large signals in accordance will be displayed on the sides of the wagon, so that all farmers along the route may be able to read them, at a considerable distance. The signals will be carried daily, where the delivery service is such, and on all routes of the rural delivery.

The time of the departure on all routes is to be carefully noted, and the weather report forwarded to each in ample time for use. Where the regular time for departure happens to be before the report can reach the point, the carrier will be instructed to wait for it.—Tuesday's [Chicago American

WHAT THE LAW DECIDES.

A loan made to, a married woman on her credit, although she gave notes therefor payable to her husband, which are void, is held in National bank vs. Tyndale (Mass.), 51 L. R. A. 447, to sustain an action at law against her estate upon the common counts for money lent or money had and received.

Bona-fide residence of the plaintiff in a suit for divorce is held, in Bell vs. Bell, U. S. Adv. Sheets 551, to be necessary to give jurisdiction of a suit for a divorce against a resident of another state, and a recital of facts necessary to give jurisdiction is held not to be conclusive on the courts of another state.

Actual notice of proceedings for divorce in a court of the state which has always been the domicile is held, in Atherton vs. Atherton, U. S. Adv. Sheets 544, not to be necessary to bind a non-resident defendant if reasonable efforts to give her actual notice are required by the state statutes and are actually made.

Discomfiting Comment.

A quack doctor stood on his wagon in Chamberlain, selling his cure-all. A group of people gathered about him, and he undertook to explain to them the construction of the throat. "My dear friends," he began, "perhaps you don't know it, but there are two passages in the throat. One is called the esophagus, and the other the esophagi. Now, the solid victuals go down the first, the liquids down the second. Over the top of the passage is a cover, with a hinge down the middle, and when you swallow beefsteak the little door over the esophagus flies open and the little door over the other drops down, and vice versa when you take a drink of coffee." This description proved too much for a farmer, who, shaking with laughter, called out in a loud voice: "Gosh! but those doors go flipper-flopper when a fellow eats bread and milk."—London Answers

ALL BUT FORGOTTEN.

Brokers of Today Wonder if Jay Cooke is Alive.

It was during the semi-panic on Wall street on a recent Thursday morning when values went tobogganing that a veteran in one of the big brokerage offices remarked: "It recalls to me the Jay Cooke panic of 1873" only to be unanimously interrupted with—"And you know what happened to Jay Cooke. Fortune gone, reputation ruined, he occupies a dishonored bit of ground in some cemetery—" "Hold on, you! Jay Cooke isn't in any cemetery. He's fishing today in Lycoming county, Pennsylvania, and I'll bet on it."

The tape was forgotten for a few minutes in the heated discussion that followed as to whether Cooke was alive or dead, and bets were freely making when a Philadelphia gentleman connected with the Reading road road dropped in.

"Is Jay Cooke alive or dead?" shouted a half dozen at the astonished newcomer, who expected to find every one absorbed in the dirge the tape was singing.

"Very much alive," he responded promptly. "And he's fishing out in Lycoming county, or in a well-stocked stream on his place near Sandusky, O. He is in perfect health, worth close to a million, does little but fish, and wouldn't care a snap of his fingers if every stock ticker in New York permanently went out of business, even in such a market as this."—New York Times.

SABBATH THOUGHTS.

Home is the truest interpreter of life. What one is at home is what he will be in eternity. There character reveals itself, and the real man is as he seems.—Presbyterian.

He who contracts debts which he knows he cannot pay is just as dishonest and less honorable than the highwayman who holds up citizens on street corners.—Catholic Universe.

The song of the whip-poor-will out of the darkness of the evening twilight is sweeter than the song of the robin in the early dawn. The sweetest of all songs is the song in the night.—Lyman Abbott, D. D.

There are some lessons which can only be learned in the Garden and beneath the shadow of the Cross. The most deeply taught Christians are generally those who have been brought into the searching fires of deep soul anguish.—Rev. F. B. Meyer.

I find the greatest thing in this world is, not so much where we stand as in what direction we are moving. To reach the port of heaven we must sail sometimes with the wind and sometimes against it—but we must sail and not drift—nor lie at anchor.—Oliver Wendell Holmes

MORE VOTES FOR PRESIDENT.

New Apportionment Act Adds Twenty-Nine to Electoral College.

It will take fifteen more votes to elect the next president than were required at the last election of McKinley. Under the reapportionment act, which goes into operation on March 4, 1903, the membership of the House of Representatives and the electoral college is increased to the extent of twenty-nine. There were 477 members in the electoral college which chose President McKinley. There will be 476 in the body which will choose his successor in 1904, and this number will be further increased if any of the territories should be admitted to statehood in the interval. The states of the North Atlantic seaboard gain nine votes in the electoral college by the new allotment (three of which go to New York), the sixteen ex-slave states gain ten and the middle west and the far west also gain ten.

As the states increase and the electoral college expands the chance for the dominance of any particular state grows less and less. New York was "pivotal" in 1844, 1848, 1880, 1884, and 1888, but Cleveland in 1892 and McKinley in 1896 and 1900 would have been elected if New York, which they carried, had gone against them. In 1876, however, when Hayes had a lead of only one vote in the electoral college and when Tilden carried New York the little state of Colorado, which was admitted that year—which the Democrats could easily have kept out, and which they probably would have kept out had they thought it would be on the other side in the election—may be said to have been "pivotal." The electoral college had 369 members in 1876. It had 447 in 1900. It will have 476 in 1904, while if Oklahoma or any other territory be admitted to statehood before then the number will be greater. Manifestly, as the electoral college increases in size the margins for the successful candidates for president will have a tendency to broaden, and no single state, however large, will ordinarily be able to claim for itself any special dominance in dictating the result.—Leslie's Weekly.

LITERARY NOTES.

John Gilmer Speed, writing in the Literary Era, predicts that the craze for historical novels is on the wane.

Ruddy Kipling has lost another copyright suit. Between the copyrights and the brothers-in-law Ruddy is having a hard time.

Jean Coquelin, a son of the great actor, is giving promise of high work as a dramatist and his version of "Quo Vadis" has just been most successful in Paris.

Admiral Evans has written a book under the title of "A Sailor's Log: Recollections of Forty Years of Naval Life," which cannot be surpassed for interest. It is a delightful book.

Mary E. Wilkins has in a volume compiled a number of short stories which are not without interest. Her idea is an original one. She has taken certain animals and flowers and used their characteristics as the material for short love stories to show that there are men and women of the world who resemble such flowers and animals.

It is understood that Mr. E. S. MacLay has nearly completed the work upon the new edition of his standard "History of the Navy," which has occupied him for the last three years. It is stated that he has had co-operation not only of the high officials of the Navy Department, but also of the leading naval commanders in the war with Spain.

THE EARTH A DYNAMO.

Elmer Gates Promulgates a New Meteorological Theory.

Elmer Gates, the Washington scientist, has recently finished a series of experiments which prove that electricity is primarily the cause of all meteorological phenomena, from the calm of a summer's day to the tempestuous storms of the equinox, are nothing more or less than manifestations of electricity. Our world, in common with the sun and other planets, is not only a vast generator of electricity, but is also kept in motion and controlled by electrical forces. "I proved by experiment," says Gates, "that when an insulated body is revolved before a magnet it produces electricity upon itself. Now, the earth is an insulated body and revolves in an intense magnetic field produced by the sun, the great central magnet of our solar system. The earth is insulated because the air that envelopes it is a nonconductor, and for that reason the electricity is generated by the revolution of the earth is thrown off, but is retained and manifests itself in what we call the weather."

"And you say that the rotation of the earth on its axis is an electrical phenomenon also?" "Yes; such a conclusion is rendered probable by my experiments. Not only the rotation on its axis, but its revolution, too, about the sun is the result of electricity or electro-magnetic action. We know that the sun rotates on its axis. Now, I find by experiment that when a magnet rotates it causes magnetic bodies within its influence to revolve about it. The nearer they are to the magnet the faster they revolve, and this is precisely what we observe in the case of the planets, and I have also discovered that a sphere revolving about a magnet turns on its axis. This is due to the fact that the side nearest the magnet is slightly retarded by the effect of the attraction, and this causes the globe to rotate while moving in its orbit around the magnet. So we see that the sun by its own motion causes the earth to revolve about it, and that this in turn produces the rotation of the earth on its axis, which gives us our atmospheric electricity.—Everybody's Magazine.

First-Born Children Strongest.

It would seem that first born children excel later-born children in height and weight. This may be due to the greater vigor of the mother at the birth of the first child. We are reminded of a fact, mentioned later, that out of fifty great men of this country 30 per cent were the youngest sons. In England it was found that growth degenerates as we go lower in the social scale, there being a difference of even five inches in height between the best and worst-fed classes in the community. An investigation of 10,000 children in Switzerland showed that children born in summer are taller for their age than those born in winter; as a majority of children in the public schools are poor, in winter their parents are forced to economize more on account of expense of heating; their rooms are also liable to be small and poorly ventilated, while in the summer they are out in the fresh air; food is also cheaper and more varied. The influence of unhealthy conditions on a very young child would be much greater than when it is older and better able to resist them.—Everybody's Magazine.

A DOG WHO DIDN'T GOLF.

From the Cleveland Plain Dealer.—The first contest of the crack players of a newly opened golf field out West was sadly interrupted by the obstinate conduct of a mean bull terrier. He took possession of the second hole, and defied dislodgment. As he is a robust terrier, with a full set of large and well preserved teeth, it was deemed unwise to attempt to dislodge him by force. Diplomacy was substituted, but it didn't work. He resisted all the usual terms of endearment, as well as the promises of tender steaks and seductive bones. In addition to guarding the hole, he took possession of a ball that happened to roll near him, and which he worried from time to time with low guttural remarks.

At last accounts the dog was still holding the fort, and the discouraged golfers were debating whether they had better engage a skilled marksman to shoot the brute or at once take measures to lay out a new golf field.

Death Trap of Alpinists.

M. Fahrni and Mlle. Urweider, accompanied by two guides, have accomplished a truly magnificent performance in climbing the Simelstok, the death trap of many an experienced Alpinist. This peak is among the six most difficult and dangerous summits to ascend in the Alps, and the achievement of the tourists, especially that of the lady, is warmly eulogized in Alpine circles.

HE WAS ACCOMMODATED.

From the London Tit-Bits—He was a duds little man, but he had a loud voice, and evidently wanted everyone to know what he said. He and a companion, who, he it said to his credit, seemed ashamed of the company he was in, stood in the hotel rotunda last Saturday night. The little fellow was talking about Ireland, and he said many hard things about the country and the people. A great big man stood near by listening to the little fellow's vapourings. He merely smiled until the little fellow said in a very loud tone: "Show me an Irishman and I'll show you a coward."

Then the big fellow slipped up and, touching the little fellow on the shoulder, said in a heavy, bass voice: "What's that you said?"

"I said show me an Irishman, and I'll show you a coward," said the little fellow, whose knees were shaking under him.

"Well, I'm an Irishman," said the big fellow.

"You are an Irishman? Well," and a smile of joy flitted over the little fellow's countenance as he saw a hole through which he could crawl, "I'm a coward."

WONDERFUL DOLL HOUSES.

How They Are Built and Furnished Most gorgeously.

Some of the doll houses that are built these days leave little to the imagination of the children fortunate enough to possess them. Very often they cost a small fortune and the workmanship expended on the furniture and other accessories is of the highest order. Doll houses of this kind are not to be bought ready made in a toy shop, but are built to order and often on specifications, in which the smallest detail is considered. One which was presented recently to a little girl of the upper west side was built and furnished on such a scale of magnificence as fairly to stun the recipient. This house is of the colonial style of architecture and is 4 feet high, 5 feet wide and 3 feet deep. There are four ample windows in the rear and five in the front. Two tall chimneys painted in imitation of red brick surmount the roof. In each room save the kitchen there is an elaborate brass chandelier suspended from the ceiling. Each room also contains a fireplace and parlor. In the parlor, dining room and bed room are hung little pictures, resembling oil paintings, and framed artistically in gilt. All the front windows have lace curtains tied back with blue satin ribbons. Just inside the door there is a metal card receiver and a brass umbrella rack has three bright colored sun umbrellas in it. The baby carriage is of most modern French build, with high body, movable top and easy moving springs. A brass bird cage containing a miniature parrot hangs from one of the second story windows. There is a brass clock with glass face in each room, the one in the parlor being flanked on either side by a tall candlestick. The family that occupies this wonderful mansion is French, if one is to judge by the dress of its members. Besides the father and mother, there are four children, a nurse, a chef and two maids.—New York Sun.

MERELY WANTED PIGS' FEET.

Vernacular O' Gutter Amuses a Writer at Table.

"Slang may sometimes be used under very embarrassing conditions," remarked a bachelor who had spent his life in boarding houses, "and I have frequently had occasion to observe some very unhappy results on account of the use of the vernacular of the gutter. I know what Hugo said about slang, and its great force in conveying ideas, and all that sort of thing, but this does not alter my opinion of slang one iota. Slang is an abomination, that is until the words become so universally used that they find a place in the dictionary, or can be used in print without quotations. But I had in mind an incident that amused me very much last winter in a boarding house in Prytania street. There was a duds fellow, scarcely out of his teens, who prided himself on being the first always in picking up the latest in the way of slang. One night during the dinner hour he had been particularly loquacious, and, in fact, had converted himself into a conversational Gatling gun, if I may say it. With an air of self-sufficiency, and much dignity, he turned to a gentleman sitting by him and said: 'I will thank you for the Triblys.' The point landed, and he succeeded in confusing his friend, who did not understand at first. But the joke was quickly shifted, for the gentleman to whom he addressed the remark turned to him and said with frigid politeness: 'O, excuse me, you mean the Cinderellas,' and as he said this he passed the young fellow-use slang again while at my boarding house. In fact, he never seemed to recover from the shock, and generally ate his meals in crates.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

I am a farmer located near Stony Brook, one of the most malarious districts in this State, and was bothered with malaria for years, at times so I could not work, and was always very constipated as well. For years I had malaria so bad in the spring, when engaged in plowing, that I could do nothing but shake. I must have taken about a barrel of quinine pills besides dozens of other remedies, but never obtained any permanent benefit. Last fall, in peacetime, I had a most serious attack of chills and then commenced to take Ripans Tablets, upon a friend's advice, and the first box made me all right and I have never been without them since. I take one Tabule each morning and night and sometimes when I feel more than usually exhausted I take three in a day. They have kept my stomach sweet, my bowels regular and I have not had the least touch of malaria nor splitting headache since I commenced using them. I know also that I sleep better and wake up more refreshed than formerly. I don't know how many complaints Ripans Tablets will help, but I do know they will cure any one in the condition I was and I would not be without them at any price. I honestly consider them the cheapest-priced medicine in the world, as they are also the most beneficial and the most convenient to take. I am twenty-seven years of age and have worked hard all my life, the same as most farmers, both early and late and in all kinds of weather, and I have never enjoyed such good health as I have since last fall; in fact, my neighbors have all remarked my improved condition and have said, "Say, John, what are you doing to look so healthy?"

WANTED.—A case of bad health that R I P A N S will not benefit. They banish pain and prolong life. One gives relief. Note the word R I P A N S on the package and accept no substitute. R I P A N S is 10 for 5 cents or twelve packets for 40 cents, may be had at any drug store. Ten samples and one dozen testimonials will be mailed to any address for 5 cents, forwarded to the Ripans Chemical Co., No. 25 Spruce St., New York.

THE GREAT TONIC LAXATIVE

If you have sour stomach, indigestion, biliousness, constipation, bad breath, dizziness, inactive liver, heartburn, kidney troubles, backache, loss of appetite, insomnia, lack of energy, bad blood, blotched or muddy skin, or any symptoms and disorders which tell the story of bad bowels and an impaired digestive system, Laxakola Will Cure You.

It will clean out the bowels, stimulate the liver and kidneys, strengthen the mucous membranes of the stomach, purify your blood and put you "on your feet" again. Your appetite will return, your bowels move regularly, your liver and kidneys cease to trouble you, your skin will clear and freshen and you will feel the old time energy and buoyancy.

Mothers seeking the proper medicine to give their little ones for constipation, diarrhea, colic and similar troubles, will find Laxakola an ideal medicine for children. It keeps their bowels regular without pain or griping, acts as a general tonic, assists nature, aids digestion, relieves restlessness, clears the coated tongue, reduces fever, causes refreshing, restful sleep and makes them well, happy and hearty. Children like it and ask for it.

For Sale by DR. E. S. DODD & SON
W. N. BRODRICK

Laxakola is not only the most efficient of family remedies, but the most economical, because it combines two medicines, viz: laxative and tonic, and at one price, 25c. or 50c. At druggists. Send for free sample to THE LAXAKOLA CO., 122 Nassau Street, N. Y., and mention the name of your druggist. We will express to any address on receipt of 50c. in stamps or post note, all charges prepaid, a large family size bottle of Laxakola, sufficient to last for a long time.

PROSPECTS OF VIOLENCE ARE GOOD

Workers Jeered at McKeesport—Trouble at Bellaire Expected.

Officials of the National Tube company and Mayor Black clashed yesterday over the question of protection for non-strikers and property. A large crowd of strikers assembled around the works yesterday morning, and their pickets intercepted tube workers on their way to the mills. There was some excitement, and the mill officers claimed that their men were being threatened and in danger of violence, and called on Mayor Black to clear the streets and protect them. The mayor said that he would only interfere to stop actual rioting and assault. Other appeals were made to him later in the morning, but he insisted that there was no danger of an outbreak. Another crowd gathered at noon, when the tube men were leaving the plant, and while the workers were jeered no violence was offered.

Two men who claimed that they were seeking work were ordered out of McKeesport as suspicious characters yesterday. They insisted that they were not vagrants, but had come to town to work. The police decided that they must leave, however.

Reports from Wheeling and Bellaire indicate that there may be trouble there. At the latter place an attempt is to be made to keep the plant in operation, and the mill officials say that if they or the men who did not go out are interfered with they will ask for state militia to protect them. At Wheeling reports that men were to be imported brought out crowds bent on preventing their admission, and it is predicted that there will be serious clashes there before the strike is settled.

The superintendent of the tin mill at Canal Dover, O., has notified the men that unless the plant is reopened within a reasonable time he has orders to commence dismantling it. The manager of the sheet mill has made the same announcement.

WROTH WITH WESTERN MEMBERS

Action of the Illinois Steel Trust Lodges To Be Investigated.

The executive committee of the Amalgamated Association will probably make an exhaustive investigation of the action taken by the lodges at South Chicago, Bay View and Joliet in refusing to make the strike. President Shaffer has been urged to go west and personally investigate the matter, but it is unlikely that he will be able to spare the time for the present. A radical element in the local lodges bitterly denounces the western members, and insists that there was something irregular about the matter. Others intimate that influences that would not bear investigation were used on the men.

It is claimed that a canvass made a week ago showed a majority in favor of striking, and that no reasonable explanation of the change of front has been made. President Shaffer refrains from any direct criticism of the act of the western men, but it is known he deeply regrets the loss of their support. He says that he will await official reports before acting, and that he can do nothing until he returns from Wheeling.

BODY BLOW AT STRIKE.

Men in Western Mills of Federal Steel Company Refuse to Quit.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—The steel mills at South Chicago are running full blast. Nor will they close. The smoke pours forth in dense clouds from the tall chimneys, and the South Chicago merchants smile as they watch the black, sooty clouds. By an overwhelming vote Sunday the union men decided not to strike. They decided that their word was pledged to live up to the contract with the mill owners. They decided, too, to extend financial aid to their brother workmen in the east. The men at the Bay View mills at Milwaukee took the same action. Workmen in the Joliet steel mills deferred final action. They will in the end follow the action of the South Chicago and Milwaukee workmen.

As a result of that decision 6,012 men at Bay View, and 2,300 men at Joliet will not strike. The action in these western mills of the Federal Steel company is a body blow for the strike. The situation is so serious that President Shaffer is expected to come west and attempt to persuade the men at Joliet to strike and possibly to try and get the men at South Chicago to reconsider their action.

The decisive action of Sunday, however, makes the west friendly territory to the steel manufacturers, and it is likely that mills which are being dismantled in eastern hostile territory will be established in South Chicago and other western territory.

Subject to Special Tax.

Washington, Aug. 10.—Commissioner Yerkes, of the internal revenue bureau, holds that a dealer in "puts," "calls" and "spreads" is subject to special tax and stamp tax.

FOR MICHIGAN PEOPLE.

State Items Which Will Be of General Interest.

Principal Events of the Past Few Days Which Have Occurred in Our Great State.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Aug. 12.—Representative Henry C. Smith was in the city on legal business, and speaking of his plans for rural mail delivery, said: "A good many farmers are impatient because of the apparent slowness in establishing rural mail delivery. The real fact is that the appropriation is not big enough to warrant an increase and take care of the increase that is wanted. The item in the appropriation bill was carried as experimental, and therefore the department is not loading down the service with non-paying routes."

Government to Supply the Boxes.
"Another thing I am going to do, which is, at the next session, to introduce a bill to have the rural delivery boxes furnished by the government. It may be good advice to wait until the bill passes and save paying for individual boxes. There are two arguments in favor of the government furnishing the boxes. If the boxes are set up in the city they are never meddled with or broken into, and the citizens do not have to pay for them, the government doing so. I think, therefore, it would be better if the government would furnish the boxes, as they would be less likely to be tampered with."

Comes to Michigan for Pointers.
Ann Arbor, Mich., Aug. 12.—The University of Michigan has just received a high compliment from the University of Missouri. J. S. Maddox, of the latter institution, has come to Ann Arbor to get pointers on the administration of the affairs of a great university. He was sent here after the president of his own institution had corresponded with the presidents of the larger institutions over the country.

Higher Commercial Education.
Ann Arbor, Mich., Aug. 12.—The detailed announcement for the studies in higher commercial education in the university for the coming year has appeared. It is descriptive of eighty-eight courses. Of this number twenty-eight are in history, ten in government, fifteen in political economy, ten in industry and commerce, seven in general and commercial law, three in Roman law and institutions, two in international law, two in hygiene and eleven in social philosophy.

Marine Disaster Off Au Sable.

Au Sable, Mich., Aug. 12.—Saturday the steamer Waverly, with the schooner Sheldon in tow, struck the Baltimore wreck two miles off this port. Captain Kerby, of the steamer, signaled the schooner to steer out, but the latter's course could not be changed before she struck the Waverly's stern, crushing it in and breaking her own bow. The Sheldon sank. The Waverly is leaking badly but probably can be saved. No lives were lost.

Spared the Sleeping Child.

Menominee, Mich., Aug. 9.—During a terrific thunder storm lightning struck the house of Levi Doe, of Marinette, setting it on fire. The bolt went through the roof and down the wall into a room in which several small children were asleep. It struck a bed occupied by a 2-year-old boy and set it on fire. The child was thrown out of bed and rendered unconscious, but escaped serious injury. The house was saved from destruction.

Think They Have Albert Ryan.

Au Sable, Mich., Aug. 9.—A man answering the description of Albert Ryan, wanted on a charge of shooting his wife at Litchfield on July 24 last, has been arrested here. He refuses to acknowledge his identity, but the officers say they are sure they have the right man. A dispatch from Litchfield says that Mrs. Litchfield is still improving and Ryan may escape trial on a charge of murder.

Postoffice Robber Confesses.

Lapeer, Mich., Aug. 9.—Deputy United States Marshal Thomas M. Lomasney, of Port Huron, was here Wednesday and took in charge Charles Darley, accused of an attempt to rob the Dryden postoffice. He was taken to Port Huron, where he will be arraigned before United States Commissioner Harris. Before leaving the jail here Darley made a written confession declaring that he was guilty.

Michigan Banks Are Prosperous.

Lansing, Mich., Aug. 12.—Reports from the 204 state banks and three trust companies of the state show remarkable growth and prosperity. The total resources, $145,036,929, show an increase of $11,450,000 over the February report. Commercial deposits of $42,000,000 are shown, an increase of $5,022,000, while savings deposits have increased $6,916,220.

Amalgamated Strike at Muskegon.

Muskegon, Mich., Aug. 13.—The 400 employees of the American Tinplate company's plant here, all of whom belong to the Amalgamated Association, are on strike. If the struggle continues long it will affect the independent mill of the American Rolling Mill company, which employs about 300 men, all members of the Amalgamated Association.

Great Week of Cycling at the Pan.

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 13.—A great week of cycling was ushered in yesterday at the Stadium in the Pan American exposition. This is known as L. A. V. week. Though this is cycling week there are still other attractions sufficiently important to promise several crowded days at the exposition. Thursday will be known as Red Men's day. Lieutenant General Miles will be here for military day, which comes on Saturday.

Bloody Fight in a Church.

London, Aug. 13.—"A murder resulting from a vendetta of twenty years' duration," says a dispatch to The Daily Mail from Vienna, "occurred in a church at Obotti Sunday. A general fight ensued in the church between the respective partisans, with the result that seven persons were killed and twenty-three wounded."

Change the Dictionaries.

There is a teacher in the Brooklyn public schools who has an item of information she thinks may be of interest to lexicographers. This young woman had just been drilling a class of young hopefuls on the variations of the masculine and feminine forms of nouns. "Now," said she, "who can give me the feminine of 'horseman'?" Up went the hand of an 11-year-old lad. "Well, what is it, Johnnie?" "Please, ma'am," he answered, "mare-lady."—New York Mail and Express.

Qualifications of Sea Captains.

On some of the foreign steamship lines the captains are naval officers, and, in case of war, would retain their commands. On the German steamers the officers must first serve a year or so in the naval reserve. On the French line each member of the crew must serve for a time on a vessel of war. On the majority of ships, however, the officers are men of the sea, who have fought their way up, step by step, entirely by merit, and not at all by favor. On the American line, even after a man has reached the rank of captain, he must pass a rigid examination every five years.—Collier's Weekly.

Amusements of Boer Prisoners.

The Boer prisoners at St. Helena amuse themselves in many ways. They are very fond of cricket and football. They have a recreation hall, in which their musical club frequently gives concerts. They have among them a musical composer named Schumann, who claims to be a collateral descendant of the great composer. He has written a Boer hymn since his captivity. There are many tradesmen among them, and they are constantly encouraged to ply their trades. They carve napkin rings from beef bones, and make fine walking sticks, for which they are granted material from the government forests.—Photographic Times.

The Gallant Cabman.

Nothing, perhaps, produces quite so much wit from a cabman as a sense of being underpaid, which in most cases means that he has been justly paid. A lady who had been guilty of this kind of justice experienced the usual sense of discomfort when her driver straightened the palm into which she had dropped her shilling and looked at her speechlessly. She was weakly about to add another sixpence when the cabby's sense of humor prevailed. He transferred the shilling to his pocket and smiled sweetly down at her embarrassed fare, "Course, missy," he remarked, "there was the pleasure o' drivin' you!"—London Chronicle.

Greeks, but Not in Speech.

A very curious occurrence is reported from a village only twelve miles away from Athens, writes a correspondent. A schoolmistress, who was recently appointed to the village of Salei, on assuming her duties, discovered that her pupils could not understand a single word of Greek, which was also a foreign language to their parents. The one language they spoke was Albanian. She immediately telegraphed how matters stood to the ministry, who sent an interpreter to her rescue. It is a common thing for the villagers of the Greek mainland to employ Albanian as their chief language, but this is the first and only instance where the Greek language is not spoken or understood at all in a place so near the capital.

Depends on the Students.

Mr. Schwab, the bright young man who gets the biggest salary ever known, and Mr. Thomas, who recently became president of a New York bank at the age of 28, both agree that time in colleges is a handicap on earthly success. And yet the old men who are employing these young men and paying them handsomely for their work are giving millions to colleges and universities because they find in these places the best training quarters for the boys and girls who want to make a winning race in life. It is almost as easy to waste time in college as it is outside. It all depends upon the person. If he does not greet opportunity it is not likely that opportunity will wake him up and dress him in fine raiment and fill his pocket with bank notes.—Philadelphia Times.

THE STRENUOUS ERA.

"Public writers and speakers who are followed by the general public, catch on to a certain word or phrase at certain periods as a boy catches the measles," said a well-known Washingtonian, according to the Star of that city.

"It is 'strenuous' now. For the last few words the prime favorite has been 'passing.' If a man died a headline to his death notice was like this: "The Passing of Hoodie Fuddle." "The passing of the old century was an opportunity seized upon as a girl seizes a peach ice cream on a warm day. Epochs, periods, ideas, modes of dress, customs, cowboy, frontier bad men, comic opera, and pretty much everything else was 'passed.' "It's all right, proper and grammatical, and I call attention to the habit not for the purpose of criticism. But a new child is born. Everything and everybody is 'strenuous' now, from a man's vigorous temperament to a dog fight."

"We'll have a strenuous administration, a strenuous president, a strenuous vice-president, a strenuous foreign policy, a strenuous campaign, a strenuous new congress, and we will lead strenuous lives. But it does not alter the frigid fact that some of us have a chase for the strenuous copper cent, all right."

THE IRON MAN'S STORY.

Reminiscences by a Bridge Builder at Cornwall, Ont.

"Do you remember the span over the South Channel at Cornwall, Ontario, in 1898? I can tell you exactly the time—it was almost noon on the 6th of September, on a Tuesday—when the pier gave way. There were sixteen men killed in that. The bridge was almost finished, and was ready to turn over to the railroad people in a week or two. It had three camel-back spans, and its piers were supposed to be on blue hardpan. A coffer dam had been built over one of these and filled up with concrete and cement. Big, solid blocks of stone had been put upon that. We had been given the foundations for it all right, and we'd put our iron work on that. There was a big traveler up, and when the pier gave, and two spans crumbled with a crack, the traveler, of course, came down. One man on it never tried to jump, and rode the traveler as it fell, hanging on to a cord (of steel). He was never hurt. That particular steel bar happened to stop ten feet away from the water, and he simply climbed off. Once," said Billy, returning to his reminiscences, "a man I knew, who was working on the ridge of an iron house roof, lost his hold and commenced to slide down the corrugated iron. It was a slide of about twenty-five feet to the edge, and then came a drop of fifty feet, as he knew, on some heaps of scrap iron. Down he went, and just at the edge a rivet caught his corduroys and held him there."—Leslie's.

DUCK'S BATTLE WITH HAWK.

She Bravely Defended Her Newly Hatched Brood, Then Dived.

A green-winged teal is the heroine of Ernest Seton-Thompson's new story in the Ladies' Home Journal. After her brood was hatched she started to take them across a pond. "This was a mistake," Mr. Seton-Thompson writes. "For it exposed them to enemies. A great marsh hawk saw them, and he came swooping along sure of getting one in each claw. 'Run for the rushes!' called out the mother greenwing, and run they all did, patting over the surface as fast as their tired little legs could go. 'Run! run!' cried the mother, but the hawk was close at hand now. In spite of all their running he would be on to them in another second. They were too young to dive; there seemed no escape, when just as he pounced the bright little mother gave a great splash with all her strength, and, using both feet and wings, dashed the water all over the hawk. He was astonished. He sprang back into the air to shake himself dry. The mother urged the little ones to 'Keep on!' and keep on they did. But down came the hawk again; again to be repelled by a shower of spray. Three times did he pounce, and three times did she drench him. Now all the downlings were safe in the friendly rushes, the angry hawk made a lunge at the mother, but she could dive and, giving a good-by splash, she easily disappeared."

ODDS AND ENDS.

There are now fifty-eight factories, with 250,000 horse-power in the French Alps.

The number of Japanese at present living in the United States is estimated at 35,000.

The population of the German empire includes 3,000,000 who use the Polish language.

The Neodesha (Kas.) Register has a report of a shale bed that shows the prints of horses' feet, shod.

In New Hampshire the state government pays a bounty on dead grasshoppers at the rate of $1 a bushel.

"Tartar" morocco is the leather of which the new card cases and purses are made. The colors are delicate and artistic.

Although the letter carriers have been ordered to wear shirt waists, they are not forbidden to deliver mail in wrappers.

Germany's foreign commerce during the calendar year 1900 shows an increase of $61,728,632 in imports and $91,437,696 in exports.

Now the great North American sunstroke has reached London. No wonder the Britishers think this American invasion is being carried too far.

Working for the St. Louis Exposition. Berlin, Aug. 10.—Richard Bartholdi and J. Brucker have begun work here in the interest of the St. Louis exposition of 1903. They will see the officials and leading editors and explain the plans and scope of the undertaking.
