BECKHAM TO DURBIN

What the Governor of Kentucky
Has to Say to the Governor of Indiana.

TAYLOR EXTRADITION DISCUSSION.

Viewed from the Standpoint of One
Who Believes Taylor a Guilty Man.

Frankfort Ky., Nov. 12.—Governor Beckham last night addressed to Governor Durbin, of Indiana, a letter replying to the criticism by that executive of the courts and officials of Kentucky in his recent letter refusing to honor the requisition for Taylor and Finley, wanted for alleged complicity in the assassination of Governor Goebel. He severely arraigns Durbin for his refusal, charging that in doing so he violated his oath of office to support the constitution of the United States, and that he became "a party after the fact to the most infamous crime in the history of the state." The Kentucky executive also charges that Governor Durbin's action was the result of a political bargain made before his election to office, and characterizes his charges against the courts and officials of Kentucky as slanderous and inexcusable misrepresentations.

Beckham's View of the Constitution.
He takes the stand that the governor of a state has no discretionary powers, but only ministerial powers, in the honoring of legally drawn requisitions from other states, and this is taken here as an indication that steps will shortly be taken in the courts to compel Durbin by mandamus to honor the requisitions. If such proceedings are instituted they will be in the courts of Indiana, and taken on appeal to the supreme court. The letter is dated Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 9, 1901, and says in part:

Calls It a "Remarkable" Letter.
Beckham begins with the statement that Durbin's refusal to honor the requisition "was not unexpected, but the remarkable letter with which you accompanied the return of the papers was indeed a surprise to me. * * * It is true I had been reliably informed that you had incurred campaign obligations which committed you to the protection of these two valuable adjuncts to your political fortunes, and that they had been promised immunity from arrest under requisitions from Kentucky authorities in the event of your election as governor. * * * You are at least entitled to the credit of having faithfully carried out your reputed agreement with them.

Could Not Believe It of Him.
"However, in doing so you have violated your oath of office and brought discredit upon the high position you hold. But even with this understanding of your embarrassing position; confronted, as you were, on the one side by the law and justice and on the other by a miserable political bargain, I could not believe that you would so far forget the dignity and obligations of your office * * * as to go out of your way to offer a gratuitous insult to the people of Kentucky and to cast a reflection upon the courts and public officials of the state."

CHARGES PERVERTING A RECORD.
Says He Will Hold Durbin Up to the Scorn of the Public.

Governor Beckham then says that because they come from the governor of a state "these scandalous charges" will not be treated with "the silent contempt they deserve," but that their author shall be "held up to public scorn" for willful and inexcusable misrepresentations. Beckham declares that Durbin has "perverted the record" in the Powers trial in declaring that Judge Cantrell instructed the jury that "it might convict on the testimony of one alleged accomplice if that testimony was corroborated by that of another alleged accomplice; that it might convict the defendant for the act of another man, to which the defendant had never agreed, etc."

To show that this is untrue Beckham quotes "the exact instruction of the judge in that case on this point: 'Eight—The jury cannot convict the defendant upon the testimony of an accomplice or of accomplices unless the testimony be corroborated by other evidence tending to connect the defendant with the commission of the offense, and the corroboration is not sufficient if it merely shows that the offense was committed and the circumstances thereof.'"

Then Beckham adds: "Is this a manly way to attack any one? Is it right and proper to manufacture evidence to blacken, if possible, his character? You insinuate, too, that the judge has been influenced in his trials of these cases by his aspirations as a candidate for the United States senate. If rumor speaks true you are not above suspicion in that respect yourself, and the rancorous spirit of your letter shows that you are making a bid for the support of the implacables and radicals in your own party with a view to that end."

BECKHAM'S INDICTMENT OF TAYLOR
Reasons Why the Governor Believes the ex-Governor Implicated.

A summary of the state's charges against Taylor is then given, in which it is said that, after the assassination of Goebel "Taylor immediately had all entrances to the building guarded and forbade the admission of the peace officers who sought to enter and search for the assassin; that he threw every obstacle in his power in the way of preventing the arrest and conviction of any one suspected of the crime; that he was presumably the beneficiary in the death of William Goebel, who was contesting with him the title to the governorship of Kentucky; that he filled the state capitol with over 1,000 armed desperadoes and threatened the entire state with revolution and anarchy, and that today he is a cringing supplicant at your feet."

Governor Beckham declares that there would be no satisfaction to any one in punishing an innocent man for this crime; that no political advantage could be gained by any one or any party in convicting "the two self-confessed criminals now basking in the smiles of your protecting care;" that the object in appropriating $100,000 for the conviction of the suspected murderers was the same which prompts the government to pay secret service men and other detectives, and that only $7,000 has been spent of the reward fund, all in legitimate expenses.

He closes as follows: "The honored name of Kentucky needs no defense at my hands. Her history is one of which we are justly proud. * * * Her people are brave, generous, hospitable and obedient to the law. Life, liberty and property are as safe within her borders as anywhere on earth. * * * Such a people as these could neither be helped by your praise nor harmed by your scurrilous abuse, and such a people would never knowingly permit any one to be unjustly deprived of his life or liberty."

LETTER FROM MISS STONE.

Tone Is Hopeful, but She Does Not Dare Complain of Bad Treatment.
Sofia, Bulgaria, Nov. 12.—From another letter that has been received from Miss Ellen M. Stone, the abducted American missionary, it appears that she is enduring the trials of her hard experience with fortitude, forgetting herself in her anxiety for her companion, Mme. Tsilka. Miss Stone does not dare to complain of the treatment to which they are subjected, but she finds the confinement irksome and the weather extremely trying.

The tone of the letter is hopeful. The brigands, by dating the letters at places in Macedonia and delaying their delivery, seek to create the appearance of being far distant. The Bulgarian government continues to interfere in the negotiations, with the object of forcing a transference of them across the frontier.

GREAT TELEPHONE COMBINE.

It Is to Take in All the Independent Lines in the Wide West.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—The independent telephone system of Elgin, Joliet, and Aurora is to be used as a nucleus for combining all the independent lines in the west into one consolidation. The principal owners of the Northwestern Telephone company, operating lines in the Fox river valley, are among the incorporators of the Interstate Independent Telephone and Telegraph company, which has just received a charter in New Jersey, authorizing a capital of $3,000,000 and bonded indebtedness of $9,000,000.

The purpose of this company is stated to be the unification of all independent systems in the west. The Oskaloosa (Ia.) and other independent companies are interested in the venture, and it is expected to enlist similar concerns in the northwest.

Gale Sweeps Great Britain.

London, Nov. 12.—Violent winds, rain and snow storms are reported from all the coasts of the United Kingdom. A fierce gale is blowing in the channel and mountainous seas are running. No less than half a dozen small vessels within sight of Dover are flying signals of distress and the lifeboats are vainly attempting to go to their rescue. A rocket apparatus has been sent to the South Foreland, where an admiralty vessel is on the rocks, with the crew clinging to the rigging.

Two Boys Buried Alive.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., Nov. 12.—While playing in a sandbank Walter Kingsland and James Love, aged respectively 15 and 8 years, were buried alive near Bateman Station, six miles east of here on the Wisconsin Central railroad. A few minutes later, when the bank was dug out, the bodies were recovered, but life was extinct.

Seven Soldiers Drowned.

Manila, Nov. 8.—First Lieutenant Robert T. Crawford, of the First Infantry, a sergeant and five men, while attempting to cross the Babyon river in Samar, were drowned.

Those goods are new,
And good goods too:
They catch the eye
And people spy,
And people sigh,
And people cry
"How much?"
"How much?"
And when they learn
"How low"
"How low,"
Then people buy.

CONVICT HUNT IS HOT

It Is $60 Apiece for Each of the Fugitives Captured, Dead or Alive.

FARMERS ARE ON THE THUG TRAIL

Nine Have Been Rounded Up, Three of Them Dead, Killed in a Running Fight.

Leavenworth, Kan., Nov. 9.—Twenty-six convicts escaped from the new United States prison here. With two revolvers which had been smuggled in to them as weapons, they overpowered three of the guards, seized a number of rifles, fought a running fight with other guards, battered down the gate to the stockade and gained their liberty.

Forty armed guards from the prison and a number of troopers from the Fourth cavalry are in pursuit, and the whole region around this city is roused both for protection and to aid in the capture of the convicts. The following is a list of the killed and wounded during the fighting in the stockade: One convict was killed, Ford Quinn, Ryan, I. T. The wounded are: C. B. Burrows, guard, shot twice in neck, condition serious; Andrew Leonard, guard, slight wounds; Arthur Treelford, captain of guards, shot in leg; J. B. Waldrup, guard, shot in head and neck, probably fatally.

Leavenworth, Kan., Nov. 9.—Eleven of the twenty-six convicts who escaped from the stockade of the new federal prison here Thursday afternoon have been accounted for. Two of the eleven are dead—James Hoffman and J. J. Poffenholz, a soldier-convict. John Green and Willard Drake are wounded and recaptured, and the fifth, Fred Moore, aged 16 (a negro), is recaptured unhurt. Donald Norie and R. L. Davonport were captured yesterday in a field two miles north of Jarbalo. They were hiding in a ravine and, being unarmed they surrendered without resistance. The sheriff of Douglas county has captured two convicts at Lawrence, Kan., one being Ole Babo, a half-breed Indian, and the other Joseph H. Beckin, a soldier in for desertion and assault to kill, and two more were caught last night at Topeka.

Running Fight With a Posse.
The first five men were discovered in the barn of Fay Weishaar, a quarter of a mile from Nortonville, Kan., about 3 p. m. yesterday. Weishaar went into the barn and was ordered out at the points of guns. He rushed to Nortonville and gathered a number of men who, with revolvers, shotguns and a few Winchester, hastened to the scene. The convicts saw the men coming and rushed from the barn. They had two shotguns and revolvers. The posse pursued them, and a running duel resulted. The convicts were at a disadvantage and their shots had no effect, while at every volley from the posse one of the convicts fell. After two of them had fallen two of the others gave themselves up, one being wounded, the other unhurt.

Good Shot as a Boer.

The fifth was fully 200 yards away when a man with a Winchester drew a bead on him and fired. He was evidently hard hit, but tried to go on, when a volley was fired at him, and he fell dead. None of the citizens was hurt. Reports come from numerous points of the arrest of men supposed to be fugitive convicts, but none of the suspects has been identified. Warden McClaughley says he will capture every one of the men. In the districts around the city every road and river crossing that the fugitives might be expected to use is guarded by armed men, the farmers having turned out to earn the $50 reward that will be paid for the return of each convict. Those of the men that are armed are likely to be shot on sight.

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 11.—Sheriff Cook, of this county, and Deputy Sheriff Williams were captured by two escaped convicts from the Fort Leavenworth military prison yesterday afternoon at Paulina, five miles south of Topeka, and held prisoners in the farm house of a man named Wooster for several hours. The fugitive prisoners finally escaped through a line of police sent from Topeka to reinforce the sheriff, and are now at large. Both were slightly wounded. Wooster was badly wounded by one of the convicts when he tried to fire on them. Mrs. Wooster and Sheriff Cook were utilized by the convicts as a shield in making their escape. A posse is in pursuit.

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 12.—With the capture of Frank Thompson, the negro leader of the federal penitentiary mutiny of last Thursday, fourteen of the twenty-six fugitive convicts have been retaken. Thompson was captured near Council Grove last night by Deputy United States Marshal Prescott and a posse of farmers. He showed fight, but was brought down by a load of buckshot. Thompson is not dangerously wounded, and will be returned to the penitentiary today.

The twelve convicts yet at large are inspiring much fear among the inhabitants of the country districts. Last night officers were at work in a dozen different counties, and as some report that they have groups of convicts rounded up more captures will be made very soon.

Dunn Given a Life Sentence.

Port Wayne, Ind., Nov. 8.—Charles Dunn was found guilty of murder in the first degree, and sentenced to the penitentiary for life, after the jury had been out twenty hours. The crime with which Dunn was charged was the murder of ten-year-old Alice Cottrill, whose body was fished from a cistern beneath Dunn's kitchen at Wallen, this county, July 7 last.

Another Iowa Bank Robbed.

Des Moines, Nov. 12.—The Bank of Plymouth, Ia., was dynamited by robbers. The safe vault and building were badly wrecked. Fifteen hundred dollars was secured. The robbers escaped leaving no clew. This is the seventh bank robbery of the kind occurring in Iowa within a month.

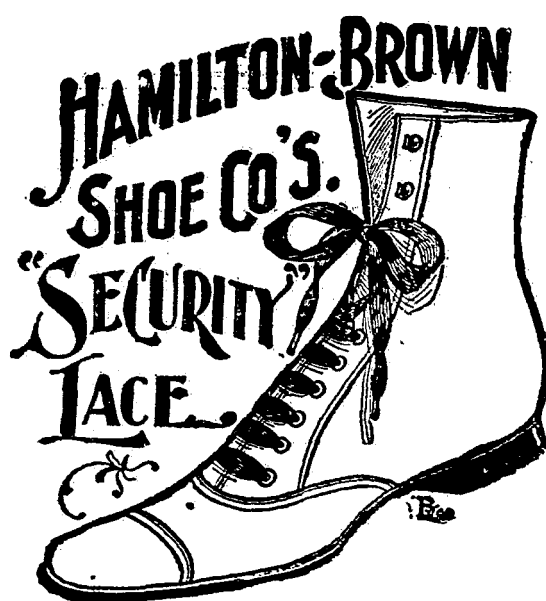

Smuggled Chinamen Arrested.

New York, Nov. 12.—Four Chinamen were arrested in Jersey City on complaint of a Chinese inspector of immigration, who alleges that they were brought into this country in violation of the Chinese exclusion act. It is alleged that the prisoners were rowed across the Niagara river from Canada by a man who was under contract to deliver them in New York for $150 a head.

Banker Lacey Is Freed.

Niles, Mich., Nov. 11.—At Grand Rapids Judge Warty took the W. K. Lacey case from the jury, directing that a verdict of "not guilty" be returned. This course was taken after Lacey had testified that he was elected president of the bank with the understanding that he was not to give bank matters his whole attention.

School Notes.

EIGHTH GRADE.

Spelling by sound is assisting the pupils in their articulation.

Mabel McGowan was the first to tell us that we choose electors the Tuesday after the first Monday in November.

A very satisfactory review exercise on the Thirteen Colonies was given Thursday. Only four stood below eighty. The following answered all questions correctly:—Lura Keller, Helen Weymouth, Edna Kean and Fanny Mead.

Lulu Brocous and Lucy Baker have volunteered to act as the teacher's private secretaries this week.

Miss Shaw selected Olive Reynolds to sit for profile drawing. As Olive feels that some of the papers were not very complimentary to her, yet they indicate an honest effort on the part of the pupils, who will doubtless greatly improve next time.

Prof. Mercer brought us three books on American Industries which we find very serviceable just now, as we study the productions of the Carolinas and Georgia.

SEVENTH GRADE.

Friday night the Seventh Grade, held a masquerade.

The first one to come was very loud, and that was Grandmother Proud.

The next to come was a party of two and the better half was Little Boy Blue.

And the one that with him did come thought that he was the only one.

Then next there came three unmasked, they looked at us like it was a hard task.

Soon after came a very large party who looked quite well and hearty.

And all of them were masked but two and certainly they did look blue.

Then came Gertrude Leonard with jingling bells.

And next Harold Peacock, "The Negro Swell".

Next pretty Miss Camp, who was as fine as any girl dressed in that line.

She had a yellow dress and a pink sash, she thought she'd surely make a mash.

Then came Lucile Brockett dressed in brown.

And she certainly was a clown.

Our hostess was Red Riding Hood and she was also very good.

Next came our teacher dear, whom we have no right to fear,

And on she had a Japanese suit, so everybody said, "She's extremely cute".

Then came Archie Rabin just fresh from New Haven.

And just when we were having fun what did happen but some more to come.

They were black, oh, black as night but they seemed to be very bright.

Then they sang, "Goo Goo Eyes," when we all looked in surprise,

Wondering next what would be our doom.

They started to sing "Coon, Coon, Coon."

And next Ward Hamilton did come, also to join us in our fun.

Then when we were playing games the door opened and spirits came.

They were white as white could be just like the foam upon the sea.

Now came grandmother Troutfetter, with white cap and lace,

Also a mask that hid the sweet smile on her face.

Now, Miss Georgia Rollins had a smiling wire face

And all of us did think it surely no disgrace.

Our party broke up at a quarter of nine. Everybody said, "I had a fine time."

We bid each other a hearty "Good Night."

And then we homeward took our flight.

SIXTH GRADE.

Miss Shaw drew a very pretty November calendar on our board.

Wheat has been a special study in connection with the geography work. Some good compositions have been handed in about it.

Mary Weisgerber spelled the school down in the spelling contest on Friday.

The study of the heart and the course of the blood through it has been quite interesting.

India and Pearl Shetterly furnished the school with specimens of gold, silver, copper, and lead as they are obtained from the mines.

FOURTH GRADE.

Our journeyings to and about Chicago have been profitable even though imaginary. We are studying the history of the place, and are indebted to Ralph Shetterly for a very helpful book on the subject.

Pupils of the B class are preparing for a contest in quick and accurate work in long division.

Mrs. Bainton called last Friday.

A live rabbit came before the drawing class to have his picture taken recently.

The A class met with several surprises in studying the formation of coal. Specimens of hard coal, soft coal and coke were brought in.

THIRD GRADE.

In a spelling contest Thursday, Bernadine Blake spelled the school down.

The A class is reading the Golden Touch.

The pupils are very much interested this week, in the story of "The Water Babies."

Topics for this week are, Study of the squirrel and nuts; Appearance and action of frost.

The children carried out a successful surprise on the teacher Thursday afternoon.

SECOND GRADE.

Maud Haslett, from the country entered school today.

Miss Helen Sparks of Valentine, Neb., visited our room Monday.

The A Div. will use for supplementary reading during the month. Child's stones and biography of Whittier.

FIRST GRADE.

Elmer Conrad has been absent a week on account of sickness in the family.

The children find the story of the First Thanksgiving very interesting.

Our new song this week is "Where do all the Daisies go?"

Preparations are being made for Thanksgiving Exercises.

Marion Peacock brought her little white rabbit to school Friday.

A review of all new words learned during the week was given on Friday.

Fourteen of the seventeen pupils in A class stood 100.

Nobility Recommends Nervine.

The above portrait is that of Countess Mogelstud, of Chicago, Ill., whose gratitude for the benefit received from the use of Dr. Miles' Nervine prompted her to make this statement:

"It affords me great pleasure to add my testimony to the very excellent merits of Dr. Miles' Nervine. Although I am past 80 years of age I find it soothes the tired brain, quiets the irritated nerves and insures restful sleep. I never feel contented without a bottle of it in the house." President Proclaims Thanksgiving.

A PROCLAMATION.

"The season is nigh when, according to the time-hallowed custom of our people, the President appoints a day as the special occasion for praise and thanksgiving to God.

"This Thanksgiving finds the people still bowed with sorrow for the death of a great and good President. We mourn President McKinley because we so loved and honored him; and the manner of his death should awaken in the breasts of our people a keen anxiety for the country, and at the same time a resolute purpose not to be driven by any calamity from the path of strong, orderly, popular liberty which as a nation we have thus far safely trod.

"Yet, in spite of this great disaster it is nevertheless true that no people on earth have such abundant cause for thanksgiving as we have. The last year in particular has been one of peace and plenty. We have prospered in things material, and have been able to work for our own uplifting in things intellectual and spiritual. Let us remember that, as much has been given us, much will be expected from us, and that true homage comes from the heart as well as from the lips, and shows itself in deeds. We can best prove our thanksgiving to the Almighty by the way in which on this earth and at this time each of us does his duty to his fellow men.

"Now, therefore, I, Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States, do hereby designate as a day of general thanksgiving Thursday, the 28th day of this present November, and do recommend that throughout the land the people cease from their wonted occupations and at their several homes and places of worship reverently thank the Giver of all good for the countless blessings of our national life.

"In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done at the City of Washington this second day of November in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and one and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and twenty-sixth.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

By the President: JOHN HAY,
Secretary of State."

Vincent for Warden.

A determined effort is being made by the friends of State Central Committeeman Alonzo Vincent of St. Joseph to secure his appointment as Warden of Jackson State Prison to fill vacancy caused by the death of Hon. MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

Items Which Are of Special Interest to Our Readers.

Happenings Throughout the State Received by Telegraph and Put in Type.

Allegan, Mich., Nov. 11.—Noah Barden, of Glenn, Allegan county, was shot and killed by Pearl Starkey, his cousin. Barden and his wife lived on a forty-acre fruit farm. They were awakened by the noise of some one trying to get into the house. They lighted a lamp and went to the back door, when a shot came through the window, hitting Barden. He went back to the bed room and fell on the floor. His wife saw Pearl Starkey coming into the house, got through a window, ran to a neighbor and gave the alarm. The neighbor met Starkey, who put his revolver to his head and said: "Go in and bring Mrs. Barden out or I will blow the top of your head off."

The neighbor ran into the house and closed the door. In a short time Jay Barden, father of Noah, came, and they started for Noah's when they saw the house on fire. Ten rods from the house they found the body of Starkey shot through the head. The house and contents were burned. Starkey was a cousin of Noah Barden and worked for him last spring, but was discharged for drunkenness. They had quarreled a few days ago and Starkey swore vengeance.

SAYS HE HAS BEEN BEWITCHED.

Laborer Asks the Police to Protect Him Against the Spell.

Bay City, Mich., Nov. 8.—A peculiar case of superstition has come to the notice of the police force, by the application of Carl Warsaw, a laborer, aged 40, for protection from the "witchcraft" of his neighbors. Warsaw came to the police station with a pitiful story of how his neighbors were trying to bewitch him, in order to drive him out of house and home.

He said his cow, his cat and every living thing about his household had at one time or another been bewitched, and unless something was done by the policemen to stop the evil influence he was sure it would be the death of him yet. The police assured him that they would break the witch's spell, so that no harm would come to him, and Warsaw returned to his home satisfied with this assurance.

Lacey Is Fully Exonerated.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Nov. 11.—William K. Lacey, former president of the First National bank, of Niles, walked out of the federal court fully exonerated from all charges of improper conduct in connection with the affairs of the wrecked bank. Judge Warty took the case from the jury and ordered a verdict of not guilty. The judge said that the government relied wholly on the count charging aiding and abetting Johnson in making false reports to the comptroller, which had not been shown by the evidence.

Babe's Remains Found in the Woods.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Nov. 11.—The remains of the 2-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kimball, of Brimley, which was lost two months ago while the parents were berry-picking, have been found in the woods near Wellsburg, in this county. A long but fruitless search was made immediately after the child was missed, and finally the parents decided that it had either been stolen or eaten by wild animals.

Loiterer on Unoccupied Hotel.

Owosso, Mich., Nov. 12.—W. H. Bigelow, guardian of Miss Romain Bramwell, the 15-year-old daughter of the late James Bramwell, has been investigating the alleged disappearance of the unoccupied Commercial hotel furnishings, at Corunna, the property of his ward. He says that furnishings which once represented many hundreds of dollars have disappeared until but very little is left.

Third Time Was Fatal to Him.

Bessemer, Mich., Nov. 9.—The fire in the Mikado mine was extinguished yesterday after a damage of $10,000. The body of Erick Johnson, one of the entombed men, was found clinging to a ladder 150 feet from the surface. Williams' body was found in the seventh level, where he died of asphyxiation. This was the third time Williams had been caught in a mine disaster.

Cedar Logs Get Away.

Menominee, Mich., Nov. 11.—With the breaking of a boom stuck about 20,000 cedar logs were carried into the bay from the Menominee Shingle company's mill. Several tugs were sent out to look for the logs. The strong northwest wind carried them to the east shore of Green bay, and it will be a big task to gather them together again.

Joke Was on the Bank.

Negaunee, Mich., Nov. 9.—The Savings Bank Merchandise company had a dummy in their show window dressed as a man and covered with one-dollar bills and with a card inscribed: "Dollars Saved by Trading Here." At night a thief got into the store by a rear entrance, stole the money and left a card inscribed: "Dollars Lost by Leaving Here." There were $65 in all.

Curious Case of Derailment.

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 8.—Passenger train No. 3, west bound on the Pere Marquette railroad, was derailed in a curious manner. A brake rod on the engine broke, the iron pounding the track. The rod connecting the switch was struck and the switch opened after the engine and tender had passed in safety. The baggage, smoker, parlor car and the day coach were derailed.

Looks Like He Had Warning.

Jackson, Mich., Nov. 12.—The officials at the prison presented the warden with a diamond pin last week. After the presentation he returned to his office and made a complete memorandum of his business affairs, which he gave to Mrs. Chamberlain, saying that if anything happened to him on the trip she would have a knowledge of his affairs.

Lee Bros. & Co. have an advertisement in the Record this week calling attention, especially to their Savings Department. This well known bank enjoys the distinction of having been the only bank in the county that has successfully weathered a "run." Miss Ethel Godfrey invited the teacher and pupils of her grade (seventh) to a masquerade party at her home, on last Friday evening. A most enjoyable time was had by all. Most of the pupils came masked and some were exceedingly "funny" especially Zell Riley and Earl Camp; three "children of a larger growth," dressed as darkey girls came in and made fun for all. Later part of the famous "spook club" stole silently in dressed in full costume, masks and all, and mystified the children, and as silently stole away whither or whence no man knoweth.

Howe to look after the creamery until the organization was completed. Representative Harris of the Hastings Creamery Supply Company was in town Wednesday closing up matters between the stockholders and his company.

Saturday evening was the twentieth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Beistle, and about forty of the members of the Ladies Circle and their friends assembled at the Post Rooms and marched to their home on Day's Avenue completely surprising them. A number of people were over from Galien and a delightful evening was spent with music, and conversation, a picnic supper provided by the surprisers being disposed of during the evening.

The 30 Club held a "Courtin' Bee" at the home of Mrs. E. S. Roe last Wednesday evening and a "right smart amount of courtin'" was done by the club and their guests. A string of hearts, and of mittens were given each lady present, and as each gentleman proposed he was either given a heart or a mitten as his courtin' impressed the fair lady. Robt. Blake showed his superiority in this line of work by receiving the largest number of hearts, and each lady who gave him a heart drew lots to see which was the one. The lot fell to Miss Florence Redden who was duly mock married to Mr. Blake, Mrs. Blake playing the wedding march and High Priest Harry Weaver performing the ceremony with much solemnity. After the ceremony refreshments were served. The committee in charge was Mrs. H. O. Weaver, Mrs. Clara Richards and Mrs. C. D. Kent.

The first prize a handsome heart was presented to Prof. Blake the most popular man of the evening. The booby prize a pair of mittens was awarded to Sig Desenberg.

BUCHANAN'S CREAMERY

Began Operations Friday Morning.

Buchanan's new creamery took in the first lot of milk on Friday morning taking in about eight hundred pounds from the following persons: C. H. French, J. H. Snodgrass, Rudolph Renkie, L. S. Bronson, Wm Conradt, F. W. Howe, Chas. Bishop, F. Nelson, A. G. Conradt, S. A. Ferguson and S. C. Cook.

The plant is a modern up-to-date creamery, and was installed by the Hastings Company, and has been accepted by the executive committee of the Creamery Company as in accordance with contract specifications, the work of installation being supervised by Mr. J. D. Lyon, who is also operating the plant pending the selection of a butter maker. The creamery building is finely located on the East side of Portage street near River street.

A visit made by the Record to the plant on Saturday was just in time to see the first butter made at the creamery packed in a tub and placed in the store room. Mr. Lyon very courteously showed the whole process from the receipt of the milk to the packing of the butter. The milk is first received in a tank in the weighing rooms, where each patron's milk is weighed and a sample from each can retained for testing which is done every two weeks by means of the Babcock test, and the result of this test determines the amount paid for the cream. Upon weighing the milk a metal check is given the man who brings the milk that corresponds in size to the amount of milk brought by him, and upon driving to another platform and putting this check into a machine an amount of skim milk equal to 85 per cent of the milk brought in automatically weighed out to him, and then the machine stops until another check is placed in the machine. When the milk and cream has been weighed it is run into a vat holding 500 gallons and fitted with a steam or water jacket where it is warmed slightly, then pumped into a tempering tank which raises the temperature to 85 degrees, when it is run through a DeLaval separator of a capacity for 2,500 lbs. an hour, and run at speed of 6,000 revolutions per minute, the cream passing through one outlet, down into the 400 gallon cream vat, and the skim milk going through another opening into a tank near the second platform, where it is drawn into the cans of the patrons as already described. The cream is allowed to stand in the vat to ripen, and is then pumped into a big Simplex Rotary churn which is run by power, and when the butter has arrived a butter worker is run into the churn which thoroughly works the butter when it is emptied upon the tray, salted and packed into tubs for shipment. The power is furnished by a ten horse power engine, and a fifteen horse power horizontal boiler, water being found in abundance within a short distance from the surface. The building is conveniently arranged and is as neat and clean as can be, a drain in the center of the floor carrying all water and rinsings away from the building. Taken altogether the Buchanan creamery is one to be proud of, and our farmers should see to it that it is well patronized for it will be a benefit not only to them and their farms but it will be a great help to our merchants as well.

THE LADY OF LYNN

By SIR WALTER BESANT

Copyright, 1900, by Sir Walter Besant

"You will take me to that country place and live there. I fear the world of fashion, and I have no wish to live in London. I have learned from the Lady Anastasia how the great ladies pass their time."

"Everything shall be as you wish, Molly—everything, believe me."

He then, by way of illustrating this assurance, proposed a thing which he himself wished.

"We must be married immediately, Molly, because I am called away by affairs of importance to Gloucestershire. I ought to leave this place not later than Saturday." The day was Thursday.

"Saturday? We must be married on Saturday?"

"Sooner than Saturday. Tomorrow. That will give us time enough to make what little preparations may be necessary."

"Tomorrow! But we cannot be married so soon."

"Everything is prepared. I have the license. We can be married tomorrow."

"Oh!" It was all she could say.

"There is another thing. Your guardian would like to make a public ceremony of the wedding. He would hang the town with flags and ring the bells and summon the band of the marrow-bones and cleavers, while all the world looked on."

"Yes. He is so proud of the marriage that he would like to celebrate it."

"And you, Molly?"

"I should like to be married with no one to look on and no one to know anything about it until it was over."

"Why, then, Molly—then we are agreed. I was in great fear that you would not think with me. My dear, if there is one thing which I abhor it is the public ceremony and the private feasting and merriment with which a wedding is accompanied. We do not want the town to be all agog. We do not want to set all tongues wagging, nor do we want to be a show with a grand triumphal march and a feast to last three days afterward."

"Can we be private, then?"

"Certainly. I can arrange everything. Now, Molly, my plan is this: We will be married privately in St.

or looking on. The coffee house attracted some of the members, the tavern others, the gardens or the long room others. It must be confessed that the irregularities of attendance and the absences and the many new topics of discourse caused the evenings to be much more animated than of old, when there would be long periods of silence, broken only by some reference to the arrival or departure of a ship, the decease of a townsman or the change in the weather.

This evening the meeting consisted at first of the vicar and the master of the school only.

"We are the faithful remnant," said the vicar, taking his chair. "The mayor, no doubt, is at the coffee house, the aldermen at the tavern and the doctor in the long room. The captain, I take it, is at the elbow of his noble friend."

The master of the school hung up his hat and took his usual place. Then he put his hand into his pocket.

"I have this day received!"

At the same moment the vicar put his hand into his pocket and began in the same words:

"I have this day received!"

Both stopped. "I interrupt you, Mr. Pentecrosse," said the vicar.

"Nay, sir; after you."

"Let us not stand on ceremony, Mr. Pentecrosse. What have you received?"

"I have received a letter from London."

"Mine is from Cambridge. You were about to speak of your letter?"

"It concerns Sam Semple, once my pupil, now secretary to the Lord Fylingdale, who has his quarters overhead."

"What does your correspondent tell you about Sam? That he is the equal of Mr. Pope and the superior of Mr. Addison, or that his verses are echoes, sound without sense, trash and pretense? Cost me a guinea."

"The letter is a reply I addressed to my cousin, Zackary Pentecrosse, a bookseller in Little Britain. I asked him to tell me if he could learn something of the present position and reputation of Sam Semple, who gives himself, I understand, great airs at the coffee house as a wit of the first standing and an authority in matters of taste. With your permission, I will proceed to read aloud the portion which concerns our poet. Here is the passage:

"You ask me to tell you what I know of the poet Sam Semple. I do not know, it is true, all the wits and poets, but I know some, and they know all those who frequent Dolly's and the Chapter House and the other coffee houses frequented by the poets. None of them at first knew or had heard of the name. At last one was found who had seen a volume bearing this name and published by subscription. 'Sir,' he said, 'tis the veriest trash. A schoolboy should be turned for writing such bad verses.' 'But,' I asked him, 'he is said to be received and welcomed by the wits.' 'They must be,' he replied, 'the wits of Wapping or the poets of Turnagain lane. The man is not known anywhere.' So with this I had to be contented for a time. Then I came across one who knew this would be poet. 'I was once myself,' he said, 'at my last guinea when I met Mr. Samuel Semple. He was in rags, and he was well nigh starving. I gave him a sixpenny dinner in a cellar, where I myself was dining at the time. He told me that he had spent the money subscribed for his book instead of paying the printer; that he was dunned and threatened for the debt; that if he was arrested he must go to the Fleet or to one of the Comptons; that he must then go to the common side and would then starve—in a word, that he was on his last legs. These things he told me with tears, for indeed cold and hunger—he had no lodging—had brought him low. After he had eaten his dinner and borrowed a shilling he went away, and I saw him no more for six months, when I met him in Covent Garden. He was now dressed in broadcloth, fat and in good ease. At first he refused to recognize his former companion in misery, but I persisted. He then told me that he had been so fortunate as to be of service to my Lord Fylingdale, into whose household he had entered. He therefore defied his creditors and stood at bed and board at the house of his noble patron. Now, sir, it is very well known that any service rendered to this nobleman must be of a base and dishonorable nature. Such is the character of this most profigate of lords. A professed rake and a most notorious gambler, he is no longer admitted into the society of those of his own rank. He frequents halls where the play is high, but the players are doubtful. He is said to entertain decoys, one of whom is an old ruined gamester named Sir Harry Malynes and another a half pay captain, a bully and a sharper, who calls himself a colonel. He is to be seen at the house of the Lady Anastasia, the most notorious woman in London, who every night keeps the bank at hazard for the profit of this noble lord and his confederates. It is in the service of such a man that Mr. Semple has found a refuge. What he fulfills in the way of duty I know not." I give you, cousin, the words of Nicholas' church at 6 in the morning, before the company are out of their beds. No one will see us. After the marriage you will come back here. I will return with you, and we will then inform the captain and your mother of the joyful news. Believe me, when they come to think it over they will rejoice to be spared the trouble and the preparation for a wedding feast."

"But I cannot deceive the captain."

"There is no deception. He has agreed to the match; he knows that you have agreed. There is one consideration, Molly, which makes a private marriage necessary. I could not consent to a public wedding or to a wedding feast, because my rank forbids. It would be impossible for me to invite any person of my own position to such a feast, and it would be impossible for me to sit down with those persons—worthy, no doubt and honest—whom the captain would certainly wish to invite."

This was certainly reasonable and certainly true. Rank must be respected, and a noble earl cannot sit down to feast with merchants, skippers, mates, parsons and the like.

"Then it shall be as your lordship pleases."

"Be at the church at 6," he said. "I will provide everything and see that everything is ready for you. Do not be recognized as you pass along the street. You can wear a domino with the pink silk cloak which you wore the other night at the assembly. Then I shall recognize you. No one else, Molly, need be considered. Are you sure that you understand?"

"Yes," she sighed; "I understand."

"Then, Molly"—He bowed low, and without offering to kiss her this wonderful lover left his mistress and was carried home in his chair.

LAXAKOLA

THE GREAT TONIC LAXATIVE

If you have sour stomach, indigestion, biliousness, constipation, bad breath, dizziness, inactive liver, heartburn, kidney troubles, backache, loss of appetite, insomnia, lack of energy, bad blood, blotched or muddy skin, or any symptoms and disorders which tell the story of bad bowels and an impaired digestive system, Laxakola Will Cure You.

It will clean out the bowels, stimulate the liver and kidneys, strengthen the mucous membranes of the stomach, purify your blood and put you "on your feet" again. Your appetite will return, your bowels move regularly, your liver and kidneys cease to trouble you, your skin will clear and freshen and you will feel the old time energy and buoyancy.

Mothers seeking the proper medicine to give their little ones for constipation, diarrhea, colic and similar troubles, will find Laxakola an ideal medicine for children. It keeps their bowels regular without pain or griping, acts as a general tonic, assists nature, aids digestion, relieves restlessness, clears the coated tongue, reduces fever, causes refreshing, restful sleep and makes them well, happy and hearty. Children like it and ask for it.

For Sale by W N BRODRICK and DR E S DODD & SON

Laxakola is not only the most efficient of family remedies, but the most economical, because it combines two medicines, viz laxative and tonic, and at one price, 25c. or 50c. At druggists. Send for free sample to THE LAXAKOLA CO., 132 Nassau Street, N. Y., and mention the name of your druggist. We will express to any address on receipt of 50c. in stamps or post note, all charges prepaid, a large family size bottle of Laxakola, sufficient to last for a long time.

Healthy Old People

say the main thing to do is to keep the stomach, liver and bowels in order if you want to keep well and live long. Good physicians say the same thing, too. The remedy called while not mysterious or miraculous in its curative qualities, is a simple formula prescribed by the best physicians for disorders of the digestive organs. Just little Tabules, easy to take, easy to buy and quick to act. If your trouble is Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Headache, Dizziness, Constipation, Heartburn, and the like, no need of calling a physician. Ripans Tabules contain exactly what he would tell you to take. Permanent cure follows a fair trial. No uncertainty about it.

RIPANS TABULES

ONE GIVES RELIEF.

There is scarcely any condition of ill health that is not benefited by the occasional use of a R. I. P. A. S. Tabule, and the price, ten for five cents, does not bear them from any home or justify any one in enduring the ill that are easily cured. A family bottle containing ten tabules is sold for 50 cents. For children the chocolate coated sort, 15 for 5 cents, are recommended. For sale by druggists.

COUNTY SEAT NEWS

The Terry will case is being sharply contested on both sides. No surprisingly new testimony has been introduced, the evidence being largely the same in this trial as in the first.

In the case of John Moyer, who was summoned to appear before the court to show cause why he should not support his child, a settlement is being negotiated, with the lump sum of $300 paid down as a release from further obligation.

THE CIRCUIT COURT
The Circuit court is still engaged with the Berrien township case.

The case against Albert Mutz for forgery will be taken up next. It is expected he will plead guilty and receive a light sentence.

Fred Wagner, one of the gang of thieves arrested for various robberies was arraigned before Judge Coolidge Friday and changed his plea to guilty.

Lewis Clay, the colored boy who was one of the trio, was arraigned and pleaded guilty.

Each was sentenced to 18 months in the state reformatory at Ionia.

Geo. A. Ford, of the police department of the Pere Marquette, is here looking up evidence against the same gang and more arrests will probably follow.

Albert Mutz charged with forgery, pleaded guilty and was given 40 days in the county jail.

John Mitchell, the colored burglar of Niles, changed his plea to guilty and received a sentence of seven years.

The case of Thomas Lawrence vs the township of Berrien went to the jury Friday forenoon after arguments by counsel and the jury at 3:30 returned a verdict for the defendant.

The trespass case of Geo. Ed. Mast against roadmaster Thomas Flood of Hagar is on trial. Mast deeded a road way to the township 18 years ago but it was not used and Mast occupied it as part of his farm. Last year the roadmaster started to open the road but as the land is now more valuable Mast sues for possession.

A motion for an arrest of judgment and for a decision for defendant in spite of the verdict of the jury has been made by the city's attorneys in the case of Edith Navarre against Benton Harbor. Judge Coolidge has the matter under advisement.

Sheriff Collins and deputy sheriff Irving Pearl took John Mitchell and Louis Clay and Fred Wagner to Ionia Monday morning.

Court adjourned Friday afternoon until Monday.

HAS NOT SHOWN UP.

Deputy Attorney General Chase, reported from Lansing as enroute to St. Joseph to look after the League of Eligibles, has not yet put in an appearance at the Court House.

WE PRINT SALE BILLS

The publishers of Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly are celebrating the twenty-fifth birthday of their magazine by issuing an extraordinarily large and handsome number. The magazine, which consists of 108 pages is profusely illustrated, no single page being left without a decoration of some kind, while scattered through the issue are several handsome full pages in colors. The text has a number of really notable features: an authoritative article by Nansen, on the half dozen expeditions now racing for the Poles, the opening chapters of a new novel by Maurice Hewlett, the first considerable work he has done since the publication of "Richard Yea and Nay," a new animal story by Charles G. D. Roberts, author of "In the Heart of the Ancient Wood," "How Tammany Wins," written curiously enough, by an outspoken spoilsman, "The Great Automobile Race from Paris to Berlin," and "The American Diary of a Japanese Girl," a wonderfully naive and spontaneous narrative which makes a brand new departure in Magazine literature. The number is sold at the usual price of ten cents.

WOULD STOP DIVORCE

Novel Bill Which Has Been Introduced in the Georgia Legislature.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 12.—The shortest bill of the Georgia legislative session, one of the most unmistakable in meaning, and one which has aroused great interest, is that introduced by Representative Thomas of Pierce county, which, if it becomes a law, will absolutely wipe all divorce laws off Georgia statute books. The bill in full is as follows:

"Be it enacted by the general assembly of Georgia, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, that from and after the passing of this act, there shall be no more divorce cases in Georgia for any cause.

"Be it further enacted, that all laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith be and the same are hereby repealed."

Mr. Thomas made no explanation whatever of his bill. Under the rules governing the legislature, debate will be in order in the house when the bill comes up for a third reading, when there will undoubtedly be a lively discussion over its merits. It has now been referred to the general judiciary committee.

Tied His Team to a Freight Car.

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 12.—George Rhody, a well-known farmer, drove to the railroad station with a load of cabbages, accompanied by his wife and three small children. Rhody tied his team to an empty freight car and leaving his family in the wagon, walked into the freight house. While absent a switch engine coupled on to the empty freight cars and with the team in tow started down the main track, the horses at a gallop. Mrs. Rhody and the three children were thrown out and badly injured, while the horses fell through a trestle and were killed.

Crowd Sees a Woman Burn.

St. Joseph, Mich., Nov. 12.—Mrs. John Stinson, who occupies a flat in the Burkhard block on Main street, was burned to death late at night in the presence of a crowd of neighbors. Her clothing had become ignited from the explosion of a can of kerosene with which she was kindling a fire. She ran into the street, ablaze from head to foot, and perished before anything could be done to save her.
