Ends His Fight with Jeffries the Fifth Time They Come to the Scratch.

JEFF THINKS IT WAS TOO EASY.

But Gus Thinks He Got a Dose of "Rum" Punch in the Fourth Round.

San Francisco, Nov. 16.—In one of the most unsatisfactory prize fights ever witnessed in this country James J. Jeffries proved the victor last night over Gus Ruhlin, the Akron Giant. In the fifth round of what was to have been a twenty-round struggle Ruhlin wilted and then surrendered, to the utter amazement and disgust of the assembled thousands. No one was more surprised at the outcome than Jeffries Ruhlin's sole ex- perature. Most of them are more or planation of the outcome of the fight less damaged, but no lives were reportis that he received a chance blow which utterly disabled him, and that Jeffries persisted in fighting him low. Imputation of Unfairness.

While Ruhlin will make no absolute charge of Jeffries having committed a foul he intimates that he was unfairly andled and injured as a result. Ruhlin received the support of his seconds in this stand, who say that his was a hopeless case after the second round. KEITH PAYS THE PENALTY. Murderer of Nora Kifer Hanged by the Prison Warden at Midnight.

Michigan City, Ind., Nov. 15.-Joseph Keith was hanged at 12:10 this morning. Keith was a farmer in Warrick county. His relations with Nora Kifer, so the evidence showed, were not of the best. On April 3 Keith sent her a note asking her to be at an old bridge that night. This is the last time she was seen alive. Her dead body was found some time afterward in a creek near Evansville, Ind. Later evidence was discovered that she was murdered near Keith's home and that the body was first placed in a well, from which it was taken by Keith when he became alarmed at threats of search, and thrown into a creek

At the Head of the Scheme, Which Is Discovered.

Startling Story Printed by a San Francisco Paper — Authorities on Both Sides Conferring Together.

San Francisco, Nov. 18.—The Call prints an unconfirmed story from Skagway, Alaska, under date of Nov. 6, telling of the discovery of what is McLaughton, burned about face and alleged to be a huge conspiracy existing in Dawson, and ramifying to Skagway, Victoria, Vancouver and Seattle. for the overthrow of the local government of the Northwest Territory and the establishment of a republic, with Dawson as its capital. According to the deatils of the story, arms, ammunition and provisions have been taken in over the railroad and cached at stragetic points. Prominent American residents of Shagway are said to be ringleaders in the conspiracy. Miners to the number of 5,000 are said to await the summons to arms, ready to fight for the independence from Dominion rule of the gold fields, camps and towns.

How the Plot Was to Work.

The plan is to overpower the mounted police, arrest the civil authorities, and take the government into their own hands. The rigors of the arctic winters would give the insurgents six venturous arch-conspirators hope for lated republic.

NINE SCORE LIVES LOST.

Thal Is the Record of the Storm on the British Coasts-Snow.

London, Nov. 15.—It is still impossible to estimate with any exactitude the total loss of life and property resulting from the protracted gale, and probably the full extent of the damage will never be known.

Much wreckage of unidentified vessels is still being thrown up. Altogether it is known that many vessels have been wrecked along the British coasts; thirty-four of these have been absolute wrecks, involving, it is believed, a loss of more than 180 drowned. The Yarmouth lifeboat disaster alone leaves forty-four fatherless children.

A winter snap has succeeded the gale, which subsided yesterday, while a severe blizzard, which is raging over Scandinavia, is expected to strike the shores of Great Britain today. Yesterday there was a heavy snow storm in Scotland and a fall of snow generally throughout the United Kingdom, especially in the hilly districts, where several shepherds lost their lives.

THE MICHIGAN BOOK

Silas Farmer has Issued Another Indispensable Work on this State.

Mr. Silas Farmer, the well-known authority on Detroit and Michigan, has just issued a little work which will prove itself indinpensable to those who wish to be informed about Michigan.

It is a small volume printed on thin, though opaque paper, but within its 350 pages can be found pretty nearly every fret that anyone is likely to care to inquere for concerning our state, and the reputation of the author is sufficient warrant for the accuracy of the statements.

Under the head of each county will be found an accurate map with the townships and sections marked out. Every farm of 40 acres in the state can thus be accurately located without difficulty.

One of the more valuable special points is the population figures of unincorporated villages, some of them having as high as 3,000 people which are not enumerated in the United

Another is the careful statement of the amendments to the constitution, showing at a glance not only what the reading now is, but what it used

Along with the book Mr. Farmer is publishing a map of the state prepared on paper with cloth back which is likely to supersedes all others. Like the county maps in the book, it shows section as well as township lines and indicates accurately not only railroads but interurban elecaric lines, the latter is red. It is the only map that shows the whole state, including Isle Royale, in its proper geographical position. It gives the exact area of cities, and in many other minor matters is a distinct improvement in map-making over any thing hitherto prepared for the state. It is sure of a wide circulation.

The size of the map is 35x40 inches, with cloth back. The price for both book and map is $1.00. Agents are

When you go to your place of business early Monday morning, find a what you are going to advertise that week. After making up your mind what you are going to advertise proceed immediately to prepare the copy for the printer. This part of the matter is a very important one, as it gives you, as well as the printer, more time to work on the adv. I you dont believe the foregoing is can long enough, and look around and see who the men are that are enjoying the best business, then look into the local papers and see if they and perhaps while there you will see people buying goods who were once your customers. - Wyandotte Republi-

OF COURSE IT PAYS.

Newspaper Readers Have a Watchful Eye for a Bargain

It pays to advertise. Everybody in this day and age of the world know it, and none but the antiquated deny it. It pays to advertise because the public demands it, and the merchant who is unwilling to tell the people of the extra inducements he is offering as a means of securing trade is indeed net justified in complaining if business, is dull. If a man sees others enlarging their stores and drawing great crowds of people to the special sales through the medium of printer's ink judiciously used and will not himself adopt the ways of modern merchandising, he should not complain if he is distanced by his rivals. The world moves, and he who moves with it succeeds, but he who is faint hearted is cast aside and left to die. It is push and publicity that makes business; it is mildew and lack of ambition that kills it.

We desire to say to our readers that in the stores of our industrious advertisers will be found the best bargains. They are the ones who are hustling for a share of your trade, and they know that the best way to secure and keep it is to offer none but dependable goods at prices within the limit of reason. It pays to advertise, and it pays to trade with those who advertise.

* * * The Christmas Number of the Delineator

The fitting climax to a year of remarkable advancement is the Delineator for December, between the cov ers of which is contained a rare collection of special features of varied interest. The winter fashions are pictured and described in detail; there is a delightful article on the Floral Fetes of Japan, illustrated in colors; the home snrroundings of several stage favorites are entertainingly presented and described; there are three splendid stories by wellknown authors, together with illustrated articles on holiday fancy-work and home-made gifts; new recipes, entertainments, and a wealth of other materials of a seasonable nature, devoted to the pleasure and profit of every member of the household.

 *  The artistic features of the Christmas number of Scribner's will include an elaborate colored cover by Maxfield Parrish and a frontispiece in color by the same artist, drawings by Castaigne and Jessie Wilcox Smith, reproduced in their original colors, and snow scenes in the Adirondacks by Guerin, printed in tints which suggest the winter landscape. Another notable art feature will be the collection of portraits of American children from paintings by Sargent, Miss Beaux, Kendall, Alexander, Chase, Miss Cassatt, Thayer, Bruch, Lockwood and others.

Hannis Taylor, who represented the United States at Madrid at the most critical stage of the negotiations between the Spanish and American governments before the Spanish-Americ an war, and who has made a life-long study of constitutional law and constitutional history, discusses the relations between "Conquered Territory and the Constitution" in a learned and lucid article contributed to the November number of the North American Review. Mr. Taylor finds, neither in historical precedent nor in the pronouncements of the Supreme Court, any support for the theory that the guarantee of the Constitution extend to the inhabitants of territory belonging to the United States, "even when these inhabitants are white men of American birth Jefferson himself with the words of the Declaration of Independence fresh upon his lips, was unwilling to concede representative government in any shape nice quiet place and figure out just to the people ef a Territory until there were at least five thousand free white males living in it, and even then the representative government granted to them was of a very restricted character. The high tension to which the nervous system is constantly subjected, has a depressing effect, and soon headache, backache, neuralgia, rheumatism, sciatica, etc., develop in severe form. Such was the case of Mail Carrier S. F. Sweinhart, of Huntsville, Ala., he says:

Such a system never shocked the sensibilities of liberty-loving statesmen like John Bright, Wilberforce and Macaulay. Why should any American eitizen feel called upon to become a more advanced champion of the rights of man than Thomas Jefferson, whose foreign policy rested upon two defined principles; first, that territory shall be annexed as rapidly as the growth of the nation demands; second, that such territory shall be governed by Congress under appropriate systems, framed without reference to the special plan of liberty embodied in the

It is Warden Vincent

Genial Alonzo Vincent of St. Jo seph will change his place of resi dence to Jackson having been selected Tuesday as Warden of Jackson State Piison to succeed the late Wm. Chamberlain.

The prison board have made a good selection and there is no question as to Warden Vincent's ability to manage the institution in a manner that will reflect credit upon the state as well as himself.

The Bonus Idea

The collapse of the Schwabach Garment Co. of Niles is a lesson that should be taken seriously to heart, showing as it does the usual result of most bonus seeking concerns. The citizens of the various towns are beginning to realize that it is natural shipping and business advantages that will attract desirable industries to a town and not bonuses. Where the inhabitants of a town are progresive and wide awake, and keep their taxes down to the lowest possi ble notch, the resultant conditions are bound to attract the kind of concerns that benefit a town.

Detroit's Lesson

The recent election in Detroit where a rock ribbed republican ward elected a democratic alderman, and another ward barely saved its nom inee for the party, has a lesson that no thinking republican can afford to lightly toss aside.

That the people will not as a people stand for dictatorial methods in any party is the salvation of this republic. No party can ruthlessly and openly ignore the will of the people without some day finding to its cost that such a course is wotse than political suicide.

We do not speak thus against organization, for the RECORD believes in party organization as an absolute essential for success, but the Republican party has men enough of broad and liberal views, that its policies should be to benefit mankind in general and its candidates should be chosen for their fitness for office and not because they happen to have, or control a "barrel."

The J. C. Club were very pleasantly entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Wells last Friday evening. The next regular meeting will be held with Mr. and Mrs F. A. Tichenor Friday evening Nov. 20.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

Items Which Are of Special Interest to Our Readers.

Happenings Throughout the State Received by Telegraph and Put in Type.

Escanaba, Mich., Nov. 18.—There is much excitement here over the discovery of several beds of live asphalt near Rapid River, a village at the head of Little Bay Denoquet, in this county. It is said the quality of the asphalt is equal to the far-famed Trinidad product. The first of the beds was found by C. C. Phelps, of Green Bay, Wis., an expert in the employ of the Michigan Oil and Improvement company, who was prospecting for oil. An analysis by Professor F. Ruschaupt, an expert minerologist of Milwaukee, proved the deposit to be composed of forty parts of a high grade lubricating oil and sixty parts of pure asphaltum. He estimates the value of the product at from $15 to $20 a barrel.

Fluid That Can Be Pumped. The Michigan Oil and Improvement company is composed almost entirely of Wisconsin capitalists, residing in Milwaukee, Green Bay and Marinette, who have secured leases on 5,000 acres of land immediately surrounding the find. The deposits of lubricating oil, which led to the organization of the company, have long been known to exist, many of the farmers having used it as substitute for axle grease. "I have found the asphalt beneath the waters of Rapid river in a layer six inches thick, while on the surface of the land are a number of pools contained in fissures in the rock," said M. D. Kelly, of Milwaukee. "The asphalt has been forced into these pockets from the bowels of the earth and will have to be pumped out."

Makes a Very Good Varnish. The crude article just as it was found, it is stated, makes a splendid asphaltum varnish for preserving wood, painting shingles and railroad ties and other purposes.

SUIT FOR ALIENATION FAILS.

Jury Says "No Cause of Action"—The War-

denship Campaign. Lansing, Mich., Nov. 16.—The trial of the sensational suit in which Professor W. F. Zimmerman sought to recover $50,000 from Mrs. Elizabeth Whiteley, his mother-in-law, for alienating his wife's affections, terminated with a verdict of no cause of action. There was some applause in the court room when the result was announced. The jury was out two and a half hours. The defeated professor is now a church organist and choir master in Pontiac, a position similar to that which he held here when he married Miss Whiteley.

Indians Threaten Vengeance on Those Who Kill Men Instead of Deer.

Menominee, Mich., Nov. 19.—A special from Marinette, Wis., says: It is learned from Superintendent John Burke, of the Peshtigo Lumber company, that there is great excitement among the Indians on the headwaters of the Eagle river, in the northern part of Marinette county, over the disappearance of one of the Indians, who has been missing for a week. Charles Keshena, one of the best known Indians in that part of the country, appeared at one of the Peshtigo company's camps Saturday and said that his brother Indians were greatly excited over the disappearance of one of Trass, a trusted watchman, and Charles Kipp have been arrested here on charge of having systematically robbed the West Michigan furniture factory. It is charged that his stealing has gone on for years. Valuable chiffoniers and dressers which Superintendent Hadden identified as property of the company were found in the Trass home. Trass, his wife and Kipp confessed.

Salsbury's Trial for Boodlery. Grand Rapids, Mich., Nov. 18.—In the waterworks boodle trial Saturday Chairman Slocum, of the special water committee of the council, was further examined. He said the committee met often in Salsbury's office, and Garman was frequently present. He drew up the report to the council without advice from Salsbury, except as to form, Alderman Forbes, of the committee, gave similar testimony.

"Do you follow, sir," my father asked, laying down the letter, "or shall I read it again?"

"Nay, the words are plain. But, Mr. Pentecrosse, they are serious words. The captain cudgeled him handsomely, They concern very deeply a certain lady whom we love. Lord Fylingdale has in part. It is reported, I know not with what truth, that he is actually to marry the captain's ward, Molly. There is, however, no doubt that Molly's fortune has grown so large as to make her a match for any one, however highly placed."

"I fear that it is true." "Then, what foundation has this gentleman for so scandalous a report?" "Indeed, I do not know. My cousin, the bookseller, expressly says that he has no knowledge of Sam Semple."

"Mr. Pentecrosse, I am uneasy. I hear that the gentlemen of the company are circulating ugly rumors about one Colonel Lanyon, who has been playing high and has won large sums —larger than any of the company can afford to lose. They have resolved to demand and await explanations. There are whispers also which concern Lord Fylingdale as well. These things make one disgusted. Then I also have received a letter. It is in reply to one of my own addressed to an old friend at Cambridge. My questions referred to the great scholar and eminent divine who takes Greek for Hebrew.

"You ask me if I know anything about one Benjamin Purden, clerk in holy orders. There can hardly be two persons of that name, both in holy or- ward the Crown, with hanging head. ders. The vicar read parts of this letter twice over so as to lend the words greater force. "The man says publicly that he was tutor to Lord Fylingdale on the grand tour. I have myself heard him. On one occasion he proclaimed with loud voice the private virtues of his patron. Sir, I very much fear that we have discovered a nest of villains. Pray God we be not too late."

"Amen." said my father. "But what | prison." can we do?"

"Aye, what can we do? To denounce Lord Fylingdale on this evidence would be impossible. To allow this marriage to take place without warning the captain would be a most wicked thing." "Let me send Jack," said my father. "The boy is only a simple sailor, but he loves the girl. He will now be aboard his ship." It is not far from the Crown to the quay, nor from the quay to any of the ships in port. I was sitting in the cabin, melancholy enough, about 8 o'clock or so, just before the sunset gun was fired from the redoubt, when I heard a shout, "Lady of Lynn, ahoy!" You may be sure that I obeyed the summons with alacrity.

gambler, a rake, one who has wasted his patrimony, to marry Molly-our Molly! Sir. you will interfere. You will do something. It is the villain, Sam; he was always a liar, a cur, a villain!"

"Steady, boy, steady," said my father. "It helps not to call names." "It is partly revenge. He dared to make love to Molly three years ago. and I was there to see. It is revenge noble lord to marry an heiress, knowing the misery he is preparing for her. Oh, Sam, if I had been there!"

"Steady, boy," said my father again. "Who spread abroad the many vir-

She at least had nothing to do with this marriage. So far, however, there was much explained. "What shall we do?"

"We must prevent the marriage of tomorrow. The captain knows nothing of it. Lord Fyling:lale persuaded Molly. He cannot marry her publicly, because he cannot join a wedding feast with people so much below him. Molly shall not keep that engagement if 1 have to lock the door and keep the key."

"Better than that, Jack," said the vicar. "Take these two letters. Show them to Molly and ask her to wait while the captain makes inquiries. If Lord Fylingdale is an honorable man, he will court inquiry. If not, then we are well rid of a noble knave."

I took the letters and ran across the empty market place. On my way I saw the captain. He was walking to-Let us first deal with the captain.

The vicar read it: "Captain Crowle-Sir, you are a very simple old man. You are so ignorant of London and of the fashionable world that you do not even know that Lord Fylingdale, to whom you are about to give your ward, is the most notorious gambler, rake and profligate in the whole of that quarter where the people of fashion and of quality carry on their profligate lives. In the interests of innocence and virture make some inquiry into the truth of this statement before laying your lovely ward in the arms of the villain who has come to Lynn with no other object than to secure her fortune."

"It is an anonymous letter," said the vicar, "but there is something to be said in support of it. From what source did you derive your belief in the virtues of this young nobleman?"

OCTOBER SESSION, 1901

AFTERNOON SESSION

At the adjourned hour the Board was called to order by the Chairman.

The following report was submitted:

REPORT OF JUDICIARY COMMITTEE.

Your Committee to whom was referred No. 605: Being a bill of J. R. Collier of $75.00 for damage by quarantine, have had the same under consideration and find in our opinion that the bill is not a legal charge, for the following reasons:

1st, It not certified to or authorized by the local board of health. 2nd. We cannot find any law for the payment of damages for closing such a place of business, under such circumstances, but as for the justness of the claim we respectfully refer it back to the Board for their consideration.

HOME DEPARTMENT

Cheap Cuts of Beef.

Since cookery has become one of the fine arts, we have learned to utilize the so called cheap cuts of beef instead of always demanding for our tables the higher-priced and often, as far as nutriment goes, inferior pieces. When we consider that there are only 180 pounds of "choice beef" to 1420 pounds of coarser meat, we see how becoming it is that if cookery can do anything for us, it should have solved the problem of how to make cheap meat palatable. It is a little more trouble to prepare chuck, rump, the best parts of the round, the flank, plate and brisket pieces, but the great variety of really tempting dishes which they offer, to say nothing of their economy, more than compensate

FLANK STEAK STEW-The greatest authority on culinary matters in the country has pronounced flank steak more savory and quite as tender, when rightly cooked, as the tenderloin. It seldom costs more than 9 or 10 cents a pound, but its excellence must depend on the quality of the beef-it must come from well fed and not from half-starved animals. It is a boneless strip of flesh about half an inch thick, tapering to wedge-shaped ends, found between the inner and outer layer of creamy fat in the flank. Cut a pound or two of this into half inch dice; toss it into a frying-pan with a tablespoonful of butter for a few minutes; add half as much raw potatoes cut into small dice, a gill of water, broth or gravy, half a minced onion, salt, pepper and a teaspoonful of chopped parsley; stew gently for fifteen minutes, and serve garnished with bits of toast.

BEEF PIE—You can make a pie of a flank steak that will be a delicious cold dinner. Cut two pounds of flank steak into two inch squares, season each piece with salt, pepper and parsley and dredge with flour; have also half the quantity of potatoes peeled and cut into slices a quarter of an inch thick, and an ounce of salt pork | n w 1 Watarvliet $1600. cut very small. Line a dish with good paste; put in meat, pork and potatoes in alternate layers, covering with hot water or broth as you go along; cover with paste a quarter of an inch thick, cut a hole in the top and bake in a moderate oven for two hours If the crust browns too rapidly, cover with a greased brown paper, SPICED RUMP—This is another good cut, as it is delicious cold. This is how it is cooked by a scientific chef: Choose a piece weighing at least six pounds from the part of the rump that joins the loin; it must be from good, well-hung and not freshly killed beef. Put it into a large saucepan, pour lover boiling water (about a quart) and boil rapidly for 15 minutes. Meantime put into a braising pan if you have one, if not, a saucepan with a tight cover, a thin slice of pork, an onion, two carrots, two young turnips, cut in quarters, a bit of bay-leaf, three whole allspice, six cloves, some celery, parsley, salt and pepper, add the joint, the broth, strained, in which it was boiled for the 15 minutes, and cover tightly; lot 44 John Cox add New Troy $200. place where it will simmer very slowthe sauce over it at the end of that coln $1000. time and glaze it in the oven, or you may eat it without. Surround it with the vegetables which were cooked with it.

Broiled Round-The top round cut an inch and a half thick and $325. about three inches long, is very sweet and juicy if dropped in melted butter and broiled rare; pour a little more melted butter over and season, sending to table at once.

A PLAIN PROPOSITION.

This paper has arranged with The Weekly Inter Ocean whereby both papers may be secured for one year at the specially low rate of $1.35. Separately, The Weekly Inter Ocean's annual subscription price is invariably $1.00.

If you are already a paid-up subscriber to either or both papers, your order may be credited to you in extending your subscription period with either or both publications.,

THE WEEKLY INTER OCEAN

Is acknowledged to be the best weekly newspaper published. It gives you the news by telegraph and cable from every point in the universe where anything of news value transpires, in addition to which its regular serial and short stories and many special departments of interest to all progressive homes have so endeared it to the hearts of its subscribers as to make it as much a household necessity as a clock or the family Bible.

$30,000 IN PRESENTS TO BE GIVEN AWAY ABSOLUTELY FREE.

The Weekly Inter Ocean offers you an opportunity of estimating: "How many pounds of paper will be used in printing The Chicago Sunday Inter Ocean of December 15, 1901?" To each of its subscribers it extends the privilege, absolutely without cost, of estimating what the total pounds will be.

It does not ask you to guess "for fun." It gives you something decidedly more substantial than that as a reward to good estimators. It has arranged an array of $30,000 worth of beautiful and useful presents which will be distributed free among the nearest successful guessers. Everything is exactly and precisely as described and worth to the penny the value claimed.

THE GIFTS INCLUDE

- 5 Pianos from $400 to $1,175 in value.
- 10 Organs from $65 to $150 in value. 5 Apollo Self Piano Players, from $250 to $300 in value.

The illustrated list of presents gives you every detail of the contest and answers every question which you may wish to ask. Be sure to get one.

The Conditions—Briefly Outlined.

You estimate as to how many pounds of paper will be used in printing The Chicago Sunday Inter Ocean of Dec.

The paper of that date will be 52 pages in size and each paper will weigh 14 ounces, within a fraction of an ounce. The circulation today is 100,000. Guess what it will be Dec. 15. We hope it will be 150,000. The guesses must be made on the coupons attached to the subscription blank printed below.

The contest closes at midnight Dec. 14. The judges will be three of Chicago's most respected and honored business men.

No employe of The Inter Ocean will be allowed to participate. And no matter where you live or how far away you may be from Chicago, the awards will be honestly and carefully made and your chances of success are always even in every respect.

Never Before a Chance Like This.

Never before in the history of the newspaper world was such a generous opportunity afforded the public to secure one or more gifts of actually big value, absolutely free of cost. Do not pass this chance by. Think of what it means, and think also of those truest of true words from the pen of John James Ingalls, under the caption of-

OPPORTUNITY.

"Master of human destinies am 1! Fame, Love, and Fortune on my doorsteps wait. Cities and fields I walk; I penetrate Deserts and seas remote, and, passing by Hovel and mart and palace—soon or late I knock unbidden once at every gate! If sleeping, wake; if feasting, rise before

I turn away. It is the hour of fate, And they who follow me reach every state Mortals desire, and conquer every foe Save death; but those who doubt or hesitate, Condemned to failure, penury and woe, Seek me in vain and uselessly implore. I answer not, and I return no more!"
