PRINCE IS IN CHICAGO

Royal Visitor Welcomed to the Garden City by Mayor
Harrison.

UNIQUE FEATURE OF RECEPTION

Prince Henry Drives Between Rows of German Veterans Bearing Torches
—The Grand Ball.

Chicago, March 4.—Prince Henry arrived at Union station in St. Louis at 7:05 in the morning, his train being seven minutes behind schedule time. He was met at the station by a party of distinguished St. Louisans, headed by Mayor Wells, who spoke the formal welcome to St. Louis and presented a handsomely embossed and engraved address.

"Your Royal Highness: I have the honor in the name of the German military societies of St. Louis and Springfield, Mo., to extend to you their heartfelt greetings and a hearty welcome. At the same time will your highness greatly oblige us by accepting the address?"

An address was also presented on behalf of the German military societies of the city. By 8 o'clock the prince was at the St. Louis club, on Lindell avenue. Here the prince and each of the 125 guests ate a $25-a-plate breakfast, and listened to a few short speeches of welcome.

At 10 o'clock the party left the club, and, accompanied by mounted policemen and military guards, drove to Forest park, where the prince obtained a panoramic view of the world's fair site. At Forsythe Junction the prince's train, under full steam, awaited his arrival, and at 11 o'clock bore him away to Chicago.

Arrival in the Windy City.
Prince Henry's train reached Chicago at 6:30 p. m. The German ambassador was the first to leave the train. He presented Prince Henry to Dr. Wever, the Chicago consul. The Chicago representative of the German empire in turn presented the royal guest to Mayor Harrison and the other members of the reception committee.

From the station to the Auditorium was an avenue of light lined with black-braided German veterans, 1,400 Chicago bluecoats and a regiment of the finest park policemen. The United German veterans, under command of August Eschemann, lighted the way with torches, pockets red fire, and other renewals.

Prince Henry, as he drove along the boulevard could with slight imagination believe himself within the borders of the fatherland. He saw the uniform of Germany, scarred veterans who upheld the throne of his family, men of the stock which carried the eagles of Frederick the Great to victory, Chicago policemen, whose towering statures would have won for them places in the ranks of the world famous Potsdam guards. The Auditorium front and side was a mass of bunting and light.

At the Auditorium.
The prince and suite proceeded at once to apartments prepared for them on the second floor of the hotel. Furniture and hangings had been put in place with lavish, but skillful hands. At 7 o'clock, fifteen minutes after the arrival at the hotel, the dinner at the Auditorium began. Owing to the shortness of the time this function did not rise to the dignity of the banquet, but a brilliant affair, nevertheless. It cost $10 a plate. One hundred and seventy-four were provided for, and these were occupied by the members of the various committees which arranged for the reception of the prince. The Chicagoans and other guests were seated when the prince and Mayor Harrison entered. Upon the coming of the royal guest the orchestra played patriotic airs and rose in honor of the guest.

DR. VON HOLLEBEN, THE GERMAN AMBASSADOR
After the last course Arthur J. Eddy chairman of the associated committees, proposed a toast to the president of the United States. Then he proposed a toast to the German emperor. Mayor Harrison then proposed a toast to the royal guest and made the first speech. He spoke in a few words Chicago's welcome to the prince. The ambassador Count von Holleben responded to Chicago's greeting. At 8:30 p. m. the royal party started for the choral festival which was given by the United German Singing societies at the First regiment armory.

BALL CLOSES THE PROGRAMME

Most Imposing of the Entertainments Provided for the Kaiser's Brother.

From the First Regiment armory, after expressing his gratification at the entertainment there, the prince was driven back to the Auditorium, where he prepared to "take in" the concluding number of the programme and the most imposing thereof during his stay here—the grand ball. Invitations had been sent to 2,500 of Chicago's most representative citizens, and of the number who accepted the first 800 were selected. Each man was accompanied by one or more fair companions, and the full attendance was in the neighborhood of 2,000. The ball room was the Auditorium theater with the whole parquette floored and a box magnificently decorated for the prince and his escort.

In all parts of the ball room the emblems of Germany and the United States were freely mingled. These formed the basis for the other decorations. Especial emphasis had been given to the nautical features in honor of the prince's recent promotion to the rank of admiral in the German navy. There were eight ship prows placed at different points. Each of these was sixteen feet high and projected about eight feet. All were ornamented with sails. Shields bearing the German standards also were conspicuous.

The prince marched to the ball room from the men's parlor in the hotel, escorted by members of the ball committee. Just inside the entrance the members of the ball committee stood aside and left the way clear for the prince to advance to Mayor Harrison and the receiving party. The mayor greeted Prince Henry and then presented him to Mrs. Harrison and to Governor and Mrs. Yates. After that he was presented to the rest of those who were standing in line. After a few minutes of informal chatting the prince was taken to his private box, escorted Mrs. Harrison, while Mayor Harrison followed with Mrs. Yates. As the royal visitor reached his box the music changed from the preliminary to the dance programme.

The prince entered his box, escorting Mrs. Harrison to the seat of honor beside him, and watched the dancing of several hundred couples with interest. He remained in his box for the greater part of the evening, talking for the most part with Mrs. Harrison and the other ladies who were presented to him. There was a constant throng about the box and if Prince Henry exchanged more than a few words with all who came to greet him it kept him talking almost without interruption.

At 12 m. supper was served to Prince Henry and ball guests at the Auditorium hotel banquet room. It was nearly 2 o'clock when the prince returned to his apartments.

Next morning at 9 o'clock the prince received Governor Van Zant, of Minnesota, with an address; at 11 he visited the Chicago public library; at 11:30 he was at the Lincoln monument and deposited a wreath thereon; at 12 he arrived at the German club house near the monument, and stays there until 2 p. m., luncheon and holding a reception. At 2 p. m. he departs on route to Milwaukee.

MILWAUKEE IN GALA ATTIRE

Lavish Decorations in Honor of Prince Henry of Prussia.

Milwaukee, March 4.—Prince Henry of Prussia arrived in Milwaukee at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and remained six hours. An elaborate programme was arranged. He was escorted in a carriage through the principal business and residence streets of the city, reviewed 1,000 German war veterans, who passed through the two wars in the fatherland, attended a public reception at the exposition building, witnessed a fire run, and was the guest of honor at a banquet at the Hotel Pfister given by the citizens of Milwaukee.

The city had a holiday appearance. German flags floated from many buildings. On the city hall the American and German flags floated side by side. The decorations at the exposition building, where the public reception was held, was lavish. The great display of decorations was in the line of electric arches, the effect of which was shown after nightfall.

SIX DIE IN THE FLOOD

They Go Down in the Roaring Waters at Passaic, N. J., With a Bridge—Water Pirates.

Passaic, N. J., March 4.—Six lives are known to have been lost in the flood Sunday. The old Outwater bridge connecting Passaic with Outwater's lane in Bergen county went out, carrying with it six men whose identity is unknown. The men were standing on the bridge watching the flood when the structure parted in the middle and went down stream in fragments. There is still fear that the Erie bridge will give way. The great danger to the railroad bridge is that the county bridge will be swept away. Against the latter structure, which is out of plumb, there has lodged an enormous mass of wreckage, and the pressure is very great. Wrecking crews are at work trying to save both bridges.

Numerous cases of suffering and distress are reported here. It is said that men are going about in boats robbing houses in the Wallington district. The report has aroused great indignation, and if the thieves are caught by the people it will go hard with them. A force of constables is out trying to capture the plunderers. The river has somewhat subsided, and it is hoped the worst is over.

The damage caused by the flood has been very great. The Algonquin mill, the Passaic Print works, the Dundee Chemical works, the Pentecost mills, Onamilo mills, and all the other factories and mills which line the river bank through Passaic are heavy losers. The Atkinson-Hardin Handkerchief factory has three feet of water over the lower floor. Reed & Perry's mill is nearly all submerged, and thousands of yards of cloth which were in readiness for shipment are soaking in the muddy water.

In the Dundee district Eighth, Ninth and Tenth streets have been deserted. This is the thickly settled section of the city and all the families living there have been driven from their homes. It is said that in Wallington at least 300 houses have been made uninhabitable. Business in Passaic is at a standstill. The newspapers have been compelled to shut down owing to lack of gas and electricity, and for the same reason many stores are closed. Very few of the schools are open.

CONGRESS IN BRIEF

Synopsis of the Proceedings in the Senate and the House—Bills and Resolutions.

Washington, Feb. 28.—The senate yesterday, after attending the McKinley memorial exercises in the chamber of the house, took up the Tillman-McLaurin case. The presiding officer announced that he had restored the two senators' names to the roll, and that he had a letter from Tillman stating that he desired to address the senate on a question of the highest privilege. The Tillman protest was ordered into the record.

The house did nothing yesterday except prepare for and hold memorial exercises in honor of the late William McKinley, president of the United States, at which all official Washington was present, including Prince Henry of Prussia and his suite.

Washington, March 1.—The senate yesterday settled the Tillman-McLaurin trouble by adopting a resolution severely censuring them both and declaring them purged of contempt. The conference report on the permanent census bill was agreed to, and a conference committee was appointed on the Philippine tariff bill. The irrigation bill was considered without action, as was the omnibus claims bill, and an executive session was held.

The house broke all its records in the matter of private pension legislation, clearing the calendar and passing 159 bills in a little over three hours. The conference report on the census bill was adopted. Adjourned until Monday.

Washington, March 3.—Considerable important business was disposed of by the senate Saturday. What is known as the omnibus claims bill and the measure providing for the irrigation of public lands were passed, the conference report on the Philippine tariff bill was agreed to, and the shipping bill was made the unfinished business.

Washington, March 4.—The senate has begun consideration of what is popularly known as the shipping bill—a measure to provide subsidies to ships built and owned in the United States. Frye, chairman of the committee on commerce, made the opening statement in support of the bill. An executive session was held.

The house began consideration of the bill to classify the rural free delivery service and place the carriers under the contract system.

COLLAPSE OF A BUILDING

Cleveland, O., March 3.—The fourth floor of the Cleveland Banking company's plant, on Central avenue, fell beneath the weight of a large number of barrels of flour, crashing through the three under floors into the basement. There are five persons missing, four girls and a man. They are buried beneath the mass of debris in the basement, and are undoubtedly dead. Their names are: May Kelly, Mollie Deemer, Florence McGrath, Maggie Heiser and Joseph Voelker.

A SHOE CLASSIC

WE commend to our trade the PEDALIS Ladies' Shoes as embodying every valuable essential which makes a shoe a thin of beauty, perfect grace and utility.

As maintained by the manufacturer of this shoe, the PEDALIS is the result of an ambition to make a perfect shoe—one, in which, is embraced the highest artistic construction and best material, and a shoe which conforms to the foot so as to give the wearer the utmost ease and comfort. That the manufacturer has fully succeeded in his aims, we have only to mention that the PEDALIS is frequently referred to as a classic in schoolcraft.

A NEW AND ORIGINAL FEATURE

A novel addition to the many superior points in the PEDALIS and one which meets with the warmest approval of ladies, is that of a patented pocket for containing the shoe laces. By means of this original idea, untidy, straggling shoe laces are a thing of the past. Only a moment's time is required to unfasten the clasp and tuck the laces within and to refasten the clasp, but when this is done the natty, stylish appearance of the shoe is a source of much gratification to every lady who has an eye for the artistic.

CARMER & CARMER

School Notes.

HIGH SCHOOL

The teachers and juniors are unanimous in their praise of the reception given by the seniors last Friday night. We do not see how the decorations, the refreshments or the entertainment could have been improved.

The members of the physics class are experimenting with the dynamo which has been repaired by Arlin Clark. By the aid of the power wheel they are able to get an electric current sufficient to run two motors and an electric lamp at the same time. It is a very good working model of an electric power plant.

Plan Was a Failure.

"I would give a good deal if I wasn't absent-minded," said a well-known businessman with a sigh. "I have tried all the so-called cures without success, and I suppose I must make the best of the situation, although it is awfully aggravating to have such a poor memory. The other day I read of a man who, from his account, often was placed in the same embarrassing position that I find myself so many times, through a poor memory. In his case he solved the difficulty by writing himself a postal card, thus jogging his memory.

"It struck me as being a mighty good idea, and I resolved to try it myself. It so happened that I had an important engagement to keep the day following, so I wrote a postal card: 'Don't forget engagement with Blank.' Then I addressed it to myself and thought no more of it.

"The next day passed, and I failed to keep the appointment. I had forgotten to mail the postal."

RELIGIOUS NOTES.

We cannot do everything; we can not belong to every thing and do justice to each. We are limited in time and strength. Somethings must be left undone.—Very often the things left undone are the things connected with the church and the Christian life. Jesus said "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness." We are reversing it by seeking first the things of the business and social life, and then if there is any time left it is given to Christ. What shall I leave undone? is an important question.

God is often left out of the calculations of men; they wonder why they do not get a correct solution of life; why at the end of life there is such a failure. He is an important factor, essential to the successful life. For without Him ye can do nothing.

The papers bring to us every day, the many dark things of life. If a man prominent in church circles grows lax in his belief and presents some skeptical doctrines it is heralded throughout the land. These things are held up as evidences that the world is growing worse, and that the church is losing its faith, etc. We do not hear of the thousands of good things that are done every day; so numerous that they pass unnoticed. Nor do we hear much concerning the hundreds of earnest men whose faith remains unshaken; who zealously pray and work believing in the Bible as the "Supernatural Book," The Word of God.

Admiral and Mrs. Schley conditioned their acceptance of social honors in Nashville on the non-use of wine at banquets and dinings.

American missionaries in western India have assumed responsibility for the support and training of 16,000 of the rescued 25,000 famine children. This burden, assumed in the name of humanity, involves a cost of at least $320,000 a year, aside from the industrial plants needed.

Happy those who throw themselves, as it were, headlong, with their eyes shut, into the arms of "the Father of mercies and the God of comfort." Their whole desire then is to know his will, and as soon as they behold a new light in his law they are transported with joy, like a miser at the finding of a treasure.—FENELON.

Jesus Christ, the comforter of sorrow. He is the comforter of sorrow. For he knew and knows what sorrow is. In his own crucifixion, in that which came before his crucifixion, he knew the suffering of this earthly life. There is no human being who ever has known the misery of man as Jesus knows it, and so he comes to all sorrows with tender consolation.—PHILIPS BROOKS.

The power to prevail in prayer depends primarily upon the revelation of the Father, the meditation of the Son, the inspiration of the Spirit. The Father must be revealed to the praying soul, otherwise there is no desire and yearning to pray. But the confronting of God's holiness would make prayer impossible but for the meditation of the Son; and even then we need the inspiration of the Spirit, for we know not what we should pray for as we ought.—G. CAMPBELL MORGAN.

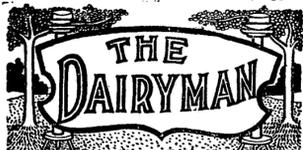

The annual inquiry into the religious status of the Normal students at Ypsilanti reveals the fact that of 1084 students, 702 are church members. The Methodists have 407 students, the Congregationalists 132, the Presbyterians 139, the Baptists 114, Roman Catholics 87, Episcopalians 50, other denominations 77. The Methodists, though so far in the lead have lost strength. A few years ago they numbered over half the total enrollment. The Congregationalists, Catholics and Episcopalians are on the increase.

EARTHQUAKE IN MEXICO

Volcano Becomes Active—Chilpancingo's Death Roll Exaggerated.

City of Mexico, Jan. 20.—A telegram to the government observatory announces that the volcano of Colima is again active, and scientific men connect this fact with the prevalence of seismic phenomena. Renewed earthquake shocks were reported from various parts of the country Saturday afternoon, and a slight tremble of the earth was felt here Saturday afternoon. Governor Mora, of Guerrero, has personally taken charge of the ruined city of Chilpancingo. The populace is camping out, guarded by troops, and perfect order reigns. The city will have to be thoroughly rebuilt. More bodies continue to be found as the debris is examined by soldiers.

Up to this writing the list of dead has not been given out, but it will not come near the 300 at first reported. No one was killed in the church, all escaping before the roof fell. Four young men and two young girls are among the dead recovered. Other towns suffered severely those being partly wrecked being Ojipa, Tixtla, Marichitan, Iguala and Zumpango del Pio. In these towns three were killed and seven injured.

Sore teats is rather vague. It may mean almost anything, as reference to the definition of sore in a dictionary will show you, and an ointment that would be good for sore teats arising from one cause is not necessarily good for all. The term is perhaps most frequently applied to chronic erythema, a disease of the skin of the teats in which there are chaps or cracks. It may occur under a variety of circumstances, but the trouble is mainly confined to newly calved animals. In cows with very delicate skins this disorder is very liable to develop and is difficult to cure owing to the necessity for regular milking. Sometimes imperfect removal of the milk on account of the soreness of the teats gives rise to a worse trouble in the shape of mammitis and loss of one or more quarters. Wet milking and leaving the teats wet in cold weather is a fertile cause of soreness. The proper thing to do is to treat each case on its merits, but perhaps the most useful dressing to keep on hand for general purposes is camphor and elder ointment. Any chemist will supply you with such a compound, or it may be made by mixing half an ounce of finely powdered camphor with four ounces of elder ointment. Another useful dressing, especially when flies are troublesome, is glycerin and carbolic acid. In many cases it is necessary to draw off the milk by means of a heat tube or siphon. A laxative dose, twelve to sixteen ounces of epsom salts, is useful in cases of Erythema mammillarum.—Farm and Home.

New Creameries For Iowa.

We are advised by several creamery supply salesmen traveling in Iowa that the prospects for new creamery buildings this spring are better than for several years, says Creamery Journal. A number of new factories are now under way, and as soon as spring opens it will keep the salesmen busy visiting the points which are good "prospects." No one seems to understand the cause of the boom which is surely coming, as it would seem that the high price of feed would be a discouraging feature. But the farmers have the creamery fever, and there is good business in sight for the creamery supply houses.

Digest These Facts.

The heavy producing cow is what concerns the dairyman most, says an exchange. Suppose you have a cow that produces 158 pounds of butter a year at 17 cents a pound, she would bring $25.50. This is almost the cost of the feed. On the other hand, if you keep a cow that will produce 300 pounds of butter in a year at 17 cents a pound she will net you $51. Think about this and read, mark, learn and digest these facts.

A Barn For the Cows.

Don't keep cows in same barn with other stock. Time is money, therefore the barn should be convenient for cleaning out, for feeding and for getting cows in and out. It should allow an abundance of sunshine.

Cost of Oleomargarine.

There is a great lack of knowledge regarding the cost of making oleomargarine. The Armour company of Chicago put in evidence a sworn formula for manufacturing the stuff, says Dairy and Creamery. Taking this formula and the market cost of the materials, the estimate of the cost of 100 pounds of oleomargarine is as follows: Thirty-four pounds of neutral lard at 3 1/2 cents a pound, $1.32; 27 pounds of oleomargarine oil at 3 1/2 cents a pound, 84 1/2 cents; 12 pounds of cottonseed oil at 4 cents a pound, 48 cents; 18 pounds of milk at 1 cent a pound, 18 cents; 9 pounds of salt at about 1 cent a pound, 8 1/2 cents, making 100 pounds cost only $2.91. Adding the cost of tubs and tax, the net cost at Chicago for each 100 pounds manufactured is $6.41. It is bad enough when such stuff is sold at 12 cents a pound in competition with good butter at 18 and 20 cents, but when the oleomargarine is palmed off as real butter serious injury is done to the dairy business. In Holland the oleomargarine men go so far as to argue that the manufacture of their stuff makes a market for milk, just as they argue in this country that it helps the beef cattle industry by making a market for tallow. Think of 100 pounds of alleged butter from eighteen pounds of milk!

Best Time For Calving.

Cows that calve on grass are coming in at the most natural period of the year, but it is rarely profitable to have them fresh then, says Dairy and Creamery. The ledger accounts show a much larger profit from cows calving from July 1 to Dec. 1. Prices then for dairy produce are up or rapidly going up, for even a quarter or half a cent a pound of butter or cheese does wonders in changing the aspect of the year's accounts. Besides, the cows that come on to grass in the spring after milking all winter usually increase their production. A cow that is dry in baying, when everybody is driven with work and when milk products are cheap, is a wise cow for her owner's pocket.

Tainted Milk.

The following experiment shows to what extent the surroundings may influence the product of the factory. Milk allowed to stand near cow stable or pigpen over night showed but little, if any, injurious flavor, but when cheese was made from such milk it only scored twenty-seven in flavor at the end of eight weeks, selling for 5 cents per pound, while cheese made from the same milk kept free from taint sold for 11 cents.

A FAIR BACKSLIDER
By James Arthur Cook
Copyright, 1901, by A. S. Richardson

It was Saturday afternoon, and Miss Meeson, the good looking schoolteacher of district No. 4, was at the school house to secure a book she had left the day before. She was sitting down to rest after her walk of a mile or more when a shadow darkened the open door and she looked up to find a tramp on the threshold. There was a mistaking his avocation; he was lean and ragged and hungry looking; he was sunburned and tough. It was half a mile to the nearest farmhouse, and yet after the first thrill of alarm the schoolma'am was not frightened. On the contrary, she saw the opportunity to read a fellow being a moral lesson and she was rather pleased. Miss Meeson had ideas. They were Puritanical and more. If she had been the governor of Connecticut she would have vigorously enforced all the blue laws on the statute books and sought to enact a dozen more.

"Come in here and sit down," she said to the tramp, to show him she was not afraid.

"Yes'm," he humbly replied as he timidly advanced and took a seat.

"Now, then," she continued after looking him over, "you are a lazy good for nothing and wouldn't work if work was offered."

"K'rect, miss," he answered.

"You go tramping up and down the country, and you do not hesitate to steal as well as beg."

"Perfectly true, miss."

"You've probably been in jail?"

"A dozen times."

"I thought so. You have a red nose, and I've no doubt you drink."

"Like a fish, miss, when I can get it."

"A pretty specimen of a man you are!" she continued as she warmed to her subject. "A vagrant, a beggar, a thief and a drunkard! You are also a jailbird, and I don't suppose you ever speak the truth except by accident."

"You've hit it, miss," replied the tramp, with a fleeting smile.

"Cast in the mold of a man, yet witness the degradation!" sighed the schoolma'am. "As if you hadn't got low enough, you have been fighting. No doubt you also used profane words!"

"I did, miss—I did. You see, it was this way: I meets a weary down here

"AFTER WHAT'S IN THE BOTTLE IS GONE" a mile or so and he has four turnups under his arm. I begs for one, but he turns me down. Then I tells him to go to the bad place. He sasses back and I puts up me dukes and lets fly. He gives me a black eye, but I knocks blazes out of him."

"Stop!" exclaimed Miss Meeson as she held up both hands. "I cannot listen to any such language. If my own father should talk that way I'd disown him!"

"But I had to tell you how I put up me dukes, ma'am," he protested.

"Dukes? Dukes? What do I know of dukes? I never heard such awful language in my life. You seem to have a bottle in your pocket. Is it possible that you carry the soul destroying liquid around you?"

"It's to keep off the chills, miss," he explained as he exhibited a pint bottle half full of whisky.

"And men can sink so low as this? I wouldn't have believed it. There is no heathen to compare with you. Do you think it possible that there is one little spark of goodness left in your soul?"

"I wouldn't bet on it, miss," ruefully replied the man as he gazed at his wayworn shoes.

"Perhaps there is. Do you want to reform?"

"Of course."

"If you made me a promise would you keep it?"

"I'd try me hardest."

"Then there is some faint hope. I want you to begin by repeating the Lord's Prayer after me."

He humbly repeated it, and when it was finished he seemed considerably affected. Miss Meeson took this as an encouraging sign and went on:

"Now promise me that you won't lie or steal again as long as you live."

"I promise."

"And you'll let whisky alone from this time on."

"After what's in the bottle is gone," think it will do any good."

"And me dukes, miss. I promise not to put 'em up again. I can't fight three wearies with me nose."

"Oh, don't fight," she wailed; "but if you must, then put up your dukes, or whatever they are! See! They are tearing the seats out!"

"And one thing more," continued the convert. "I've got to take a drink of whisky to brace me up. It's one to three, and I'll need a bracer."

"Then take it—take it!" she exclaimed as the trio began to crowd closer.

"And can I leave out the bath and wash up and work?"

"Yes, yes! Protect me!"

"I'll do it, miss, and here goes."

Her tramp reached for his bottle and took a hearty swig, and as he restored it to his pocket he opened on the enemy at the rate of seventy-five swear words a minute. He swore and swore till the schoolma'am held her hands over her ears. Then he pushed up his greasy sleeves, "put up his dukes," and while Miss Meeson prayed he sailed in and slam banged. He got many a bang in return before victory perched upon his banner, but his cause was just and he finally put the last one to sleep and stood over his body and took the half dead girl that the way was open. She hurried to the door, but paused there to turn and say:

"I think I—I backslid."

"You did, miss," he replied.

"And you'll continue to swear and fight and drink whisky and—"

"I think I'd better, ma'am—for the cause of eddecashuu. 'Pears to be the other way all holler."

And as the schoolma'am hurried down the road with her heart in her mouth she couldn't help but think the same thing.

A Sporting Parson.
Miss Mary Louise Boyle, who counted Dickens, Lever, Browning, Low, and Tennyson among her friends, records in her "Book" a story about a sporting parson she knew, the Rev. Loraine Smith, who hunted in purple instead of pink because the form was the correct episcopal color:

"His reverence was always well mounted and was a keen sportsman. He had a pretty living and a good church in the neighborhood, but he surprised his parishioners very much altering the whole disposition of the tombstones. He thought they looked awkward and untidy in their actual position, so he had them all taken up and rearranged according to his fancy lines, crosses, squares, etc. One Sunday morning, a very cold winter's day he had performed the service to scanty congregation, and on going into his pulpit, instead of opening his sermon book, he pronounced the following address: 'My dear friends, you require it I will preach with me, but if you are as cold and hungry as I am I think you will prefer going with me to the rectory, where you will find some cold beef and some good ale.'"

Men of Few Words.
A traveler in the Bolivian Andes says that at one time, while his cart was making its progress through passes and over dizzy heights, he had a chance to learn how two taciturn persons may show their satisfaction at meeting another than the conventional way.

It was midday, and under the glaring vertical sun drowsiness had invaded them. They slept until they were awakened by the approach of the mail cart coming in the opposite direction, the first civilized vehicle he had encountered. Both drivers stopped and gazed at each other long in silence.

They were evidently pleased to meet but had nothing whatever to say. A last one inquired:

"What news?"

"Nothing," replied the other.

"What did he say?" asked the first, doubtless continuing a conversation fortnight old.

"Nothing."

"Good!" And they drove on.

No Woman Wrote Them.
"Why did the court refuse to accept that woman's letters as evidence?"

"It was decided that they were genuine."

"Didn't the handwriting experts declare that she wrote them?"

"Yes, but there was evidence to the contrary."

"What was it?"

"The letters contained no per scripts."—New York Herald.

OBITUARY
Mrs. Lura Bunker
"Grandma" Bunker as she is so well known by almost every inhabitant of this township, died at the home of her son Hiram Bunker just across the river, Tuesday night at the advanced age of 90 years, 6 months and 2 days.

The deceased was one of the earliest settlers in Buchanan township and has resided here all her life.

She is survived by five sons Leander L., Samuel and Hiram of Buchanan and J. D. of Akron, O. The funeral will be held on Friday.

JULIA HARRIS RAYMOND
Was born in Paw Paw township, near Decatur, Mich. on December 19, 1866 and died at her home in Buchanan, March 4, 1902.

The deceased was married to Frank L. Raymond Dec. 19, 1886, and after a residence of a few years in Decatur, ten years ago Mr. and Mrs. Raymond moved to Buchanan where they have since resided. Mrs. Raymond has been an invalid for the past four years but not until about two weeks ago did her malady assume a serious condition, and despite all loving care and skillful medical treatment could do she passed away leaving to mourn her death, her husband, two children, Cecil aged 18, and Harley aged four, her mother, brother, J. A. Harris of Chicago; and sister, Mrs. Goecke of Petoskey.

Brief services will be held at her residence Friday morning at 8:30 o'clock the remains being taken to Decatur for burial.

Deceased was a member of East-Hive No. 19, L. O. T. M. and Primrose Chapter Royal Neighbors.

VERDICT SURPRISES PEOPLE
Jury in the Burnett Case Says "Guilty and Fifteen Years in the Penitentiary."
Chicago, March 2.—The jury in the case of Dr. Orville S. Burnett, who has been on trial charged with the murder of Mrs. Charlotte S. Nichol of Nashville, Tenn., rendered a verdict of guilty and recommended that Burnett be sent to the penitentiary for fifteen years. Burnett's attorneys will ask for a new trial. The verdict was a surprise, as Judge Baker's instructions to the jury were considered favorable to the defendant.

The case was one of the most unusual that has ever been tried in the Cook county criminal court. Burnett, who is a young dentist, was charged with being accessory before and after the act to the death of Mrs. Nichol, even though it was admitted by the prosecution that Mrs. Nichol had committed suicide. The state endeavored to establish the point that Burnett and Mrs. Nichol agreed to commit suicide together and that the man weakened, allowing the woman to go to her death alone.

BRITISH WERE HARD HIT
Loss of a Lot of Men in Killed and Wounded and Two of Their Guns—Lord Kitchener's Report.
London, March 3.—An apparently incomplete list of the casualties sustained by the British when the Boers attacked and captured the convoy of a train of empty wagons at Vondonop, southwest of Klerksdorp, Feb. 24, published yesterday says five officers and forty-five men were killed and six officers and 116 men were wounded.

A report from Lord Kitchener made public last week said that sixteen officers and 451 men of the British forces were taken prisoners during this engagement. Of these, one officer and 105 men were released. Two British guns were also captured with the convoy.

Twenty-four of the rescuers were caught, two being killed. They were Henry A. Chase and L. D. Stanley. The others were more or less injured, but none is fatally hurt.

At 8:30 o'clock Superintendent Chase of the Liberty Bell mine, ordered the work of rescue suspended, declaring that it was useless to endanger life further while slides were running. Several parties started at once for Telluride. Two of these parties were overtaken by slides. In one Gus von Fontel, John R. Powell and Paul Dalphres were killed, and in the other George Rowher and W. S. Gregory lost their lives.

A large number of men are missing, and it is thought probable that the death list will be swelled to twenty, and possibly thirty, when the bodies are taken from the snow mass. Several other slides are reported in this vicinity. One at the Camp Bird mine in the Smeffels district, resulted in the death of one man and the probable fatal injury of three others.

Mysterious Assassination.
Carlinville, Ills., Feb. 27.—Woodford Hughes, a prominent citizen of Scottville, a small town northwest of this city, was murdered in his bed at 1 o'clock in the morning by three unknown men. Hughes was spending the night with Balar Seymour, and when the three men entered the house he arose in bed, startled, only to be filled full of bullets. The men made their escape and bloodhounds from the city were at once put on the trail. The men made no attempt at robbery and it is believed they can be identified. The greatest mystery surrounded the affair. Hughes never spoke and died instantly.

Etruria Breaks Her Propeller.
London, March 4.—The British steamer Ottawa, from Philadelphia in London, has arrived at Fayal, Azores islands, and reports having sighted the Cunard line steamer Etruria, in tow of the British steamer William Chiff, 400 miles west of Fayal. The Etruria had lost her propeller.

The Ticket That Wins

The republicans have placed in nomination an excellent ticket and one that will receive the unqualified endorsement of the voters of Buchanan on Monday next.

President Geo. H. Black has given the village a good and business like administration and the voters should see to it that he is returned to his position by an increased majority, thereby giving the seal of emphatic approval of his administration. For Clerk Glenn E. Smith the present incumbent is again a candidate and his uniformly courteous conduct of the business of his office has added many friends to his already large circle, and the voters have already decided to give Mr. Smith a bigger vote than ever for another term as clerk. For treasurer, Willis W. Treat will fill this responsible position in an excellent manner, and his past experience in similar positions will prove of value to him in filling his duties as treasurer. For Assessor, John C. Wenger will receive a large vote and has had much previous experience for performing the exacting duties of this important office. For Trustees, the republican nominees are Messrs. C. D. Kent, Chas. Bishop and Dr. R. Henderson all of whom will make excellent members of the board, and can be trusted to look after the interests of the village as carefully as if they were their own personal business.

The entire ticket is a good one and the Record offers just this suggestion, be sure to go to the polls early, and when you get there vote this ticket and vote it straight.

FELL FROM HIS TRAIN

Miraculous Escape of Conductor Carmer

Conductor Emmett Carmer of Michigan Central extra freight going east Tuesday night had a singular experience here and a narrow escape from death.

His train passed Buchanan about 7 o'clock Tuesday night running about 35 miles an hour, operator May Godfrey getting his ticket report all right as was the custom. About fifteen minutes later Carmer walked into the Michigan Central depot in a dazed condition, carrying his lantern which was out and had the globe broken. He came up to the ticket window and spoke to Mrs. Godfrey asking her for some matches which she handed him, and as he lit the lantern she saw the broken globe and suspecting he had fallen from his train began to question him, but could get nothing but incoherent replies. She immediately called her husband and telephoned Dr. Peck who responded, and the dazed man was made as comfortable as possible, until the midnight train when he left for home accompanied by one of his train crew.

Dr. Peck found no injuries upon the man except a few slight bruises, but thinks he must have landed squarely on his head, the heavy cap he wore undoubtedly saving his life. Carmer has no recollection of falling, the last he remembers being that he was starting to look after a hot box in the middle of the train.

RELIGIOUS NOTES.

We cannot do everything; we can not belong to every thing and do justice to each. We are limited in time and strength. Some things must be left undone.—Very often the things left undone are the things connected with the church and the Christian life. Jesus said "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness." We are reversing it by seeking first the things of the business and social life, and then if there is any time left it is given to Christ. What shall I leave undone? is an important question.

God is often left out of the calculations of men; they wonder why they do not get a correct solution of life; why at the end of life there is such a failure. He is an important factor, essential to the successful life. For without Him ye can do nothing.

The papers bring to us every day, the many dark things of life. If a man prominent in church circles grows lax in his belief and presents some skeptical doctrines it is heralded throughout the land. These things are held up as evidences that the world is growing worse, and that the church is losing its faith, etc. We do not hear of the thousands of good things that are done every day; so numerous that they pass unnoticed. Nor do we hear much concerning the hundreds of earnest men whose faith remains unshaken; who zealously pray and work believing in the Bible as the "Supernatural Book," The Word of God.

Admiral and Mrs. Schley conditioned their acceptance of social honors in Nashville on the non-use of wine at banquets and dinings.

American missionaries in western India have assumed responsibility for the support and training of 16,000 of the rescued 25,000 famine children. This burden, assumed in the name of humanity, involves a cost of at least $320,000 a year, aside from the industrial plants needed.

Happy those who throw themselves opposite in purpose from the above, yes, as it were, headlong, with their eyes shut, into the arms of "the Father of mercies and the God of comfort." Their whole desire then is to know All who are anxious that Mr. Chas. his will, and as soon as they behold a new light in his law they are transported with joy, like a miser at the finding of a treasure —PENELON.

Jesus Christ, the comforter of sorrow. He is the comforter of sorrow, for he knew and knows what sorrow is. In his own crucifixion, in that which came before his crucifixion, he knew the suffering of this earthly life. There is no human being who ever has known the misery of man as Jesus knows it, and so he comes to all sorrows with tender consolation.—PHILIPS BROOKS.

The power to prevail in prayer depends primarily upon the revelation of the Father, the meditation of the Son, the inspiration of the Spirit. The Father must be revealed to the praying soul, otherwise there is no desire and yearning to pray. But the confronting of God's holiness would make prayer impossible but for the meditation of the Son; and even then we need the inspiration of the Spirit, for we know not what we should pray for as we ought.—G. CAMPBELL MORGAN.

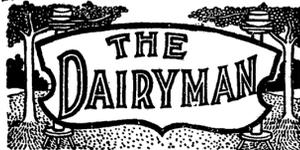

The annual inquiry into the religious status of the Normal students at Ypsilanti reveals the fact that of 108 students, 702 are church members. The Methodist had 407 students, the Congregationalists 182, the Presbyterian 139, the Baptists 114, Roman Catholics 87, Episcopalians 50, other denominations 77. The Methodist though so far in the lead have lost strength. A few years ago they numbered over half the total enrollment. The Congregationalists, Catholics and Episcopalians are on the increase.

EARTHQUAKE IN MEXICO

Volcano Becomes Active—Chilpancingo Death Roll Exaggerated.

City of Mexico, Jan. 20.—A telegram to the government observatory announces that the volcano of Colima again active, and scientific men connect this fact with the prevalence of seismic phenomena. Renewed earthquake shocks were reported from various parts of the country Saturday afternoon, and a slight tremble of the earth was felt here Saturday afternoon. Governor Mora, of Guerrero has personally taken charge of the ruined city of Chilpancingo. The populace is camping out, guarded by troops, and perfect order reigns. The city will have to be thoroughly rebuilt. More bodies continue to be found as the debris is examined by soldiers.

Up to this writing the list of dead has not been given out, but it will come near the 800 at first reported. No one was killed in the church, escaping before the roof fell. Four young men and two young girls among the dead recovered. Other towns suffered severely those being partly wrecked being Chilpa, Tixtla, Matatlan, Iguala and Zumpango del Pico. In these towns three were killed and seven injured.

Sore teats is rather vague. It may mean almost anything, as reference to the definition of sore in a dictionary will show you, and an ointment that would be good for sore teats arising from one cause is not necessarily good for all. The term is perhaps most frequently applied to chronic erythema, a disease of the skin of the teats in which there are chaps or cracks. It may occur under a variety of circumstances, but the trouble is mainly confined to newly calved animals. In cows with very delicate skins this disorder is very liable to develop and is difficult to cure owing to the necessity for regular milking. Sometimes imperfect removal of the milk on account of the soreness of the teats gives rise to a worse trouble in the shape of mammitis and loss of one or more quarters. Wet milking and leaving the teats wet in cold weather is a fertile cause of soreness. The proper thing to do is to treat each case on its merits, but perhaps the most useful dressing to keep on hand for general purposes is camellia oil.

Chapin Has a Petition

Mr. J. P. Beistle is circulating for Mr. Chas. A. Chapin the following petition:

We, the undersigned legal voters of Berrien county, Michigan, respectfully represent that the St. Joseph river has not ceased to be of value for navigation, and that it may remain navigable and still be used for the development of power.

In our opinion, Congress should authorize one company only to dam said river at any one location. We endorse the action of the Board of Supervisors in this matter and therefore ask that the bill introduced by Hon. E. L. Hamilton to permit the Berrien Springs Power and Electric Company to dam the St. Joseph river at Berrien Springs be reported and so introduced.

Many of us have signed a petition opposite in purpose from the above, not having given the subject careful thought or not understanding it. All of which is respectfully submitted.

REV. J. F. BARTMESS

Doing Nicely at the Hospital

Mr. Albert Nutt received a letter from Mr. E. A. Bartmess of Yonkers, N. Y. last Saturday which conveys the pleasing intelligence that his father stood the journey to Yonkers remarkably well and is comfortably settled in his quarters at the St. John's Riverside Hospital, and many hopes are being entertained that he will be wholly restored to his usual good health. Rev. Bartmess' many friends will be much gratified with this good news.

Mr. Claude K. Couse who is visiting relatives at this place is a compositor on the Indianapolis Sentinel and is an expert operator on the Mergenthaler Linotype machines run in that office.

Mr. Couse holds the world's record for speed on machines, having on February 12 set in 8 hours a total of 01,052 ems, beating all previous records by 6,552 ems, and it is confidently predicted that he will soon reach the 100,000 mark.

VERDICT SURPRISES PEOPLE

Jury in the Burnett Case Says "Guilty and Fifteen Years in the Penitentiary."

Chicago, March 2.—The jury in the case of Dr. Orville S. Burnett, who has been on trial charged with the murder of Mrs. Charlotte S. Nichol, of Nashville, Tenn., rendered a verdict of guilty and recommended that Burnett be sent to the penitentiary for fifteen years. Burnett's attorneys will ask for a new trial. The verdict was a surprise, as Judge Baker's instructions to the jury were considered favorable to the defendant.

The case was one of the most unusual that has ever been tried in the Cook county criminal court. Burnett, who is a young dentist, was charged with being accessory before and after the act to the death of Mrs. Nichol, even though it was admitted by the prosecution that Mrs. Nichol had committed suicide. The state endeavored to establish the point that Burnett and Mrs. Nichol agreed to commit suicide together and that the man weakened, allowing the woman to go to her death alone.

BRITISH WERE HARD HIT

Loss of a Lot of Men Killed and Wounded and Two of Their Guns—Lord Kitchener's Report.

London, March 3.—An apparently incomplete list of the casualties sustained by the British when the Boers attacked and captured the convoy of a train of empty wagons at Vondonop, southwest of Klerksdorp, Feb. 24, published yesterday says five officers and forty-five men were killed and six officers and 116 men were wounded.

A report from Lord Kitchener made public last week said that sixteen officers and 451 men of the British forces were taken prisoners during this engagement. Of these, one officer and 105 men were released. Two British guns were also captured with the twenty-four of the rescuers were caught, two being killed. They were Harry A. Chase and L. D. Stanley. The others were more or less injured, but none is fatally hurt.

At 8:30 o'clock Superintendent Chase, of the Liberty Bell mine, ordered the work of rescue suspended, declaring that it was useless to endanger life further while slides were running. Several parties started at once for Telluride. Two of these parties were overtaken by slides. In one Gus von Pontel, John R. Powell and Paul Dalphres were killed, and in the other George Rowher and W. S. Gregory lost their lives.

A large number of men are missing, and it is thought probable that the death list will be swelled to twenty, and possibly thirty, when the bodies are taken from the snow mass. Several other slides are reported in this vicinity. One at the Camp Bird mine, in the Sneffels district, resulted in the death of one man and the probable fatal injury of three others.

Mysterious Assassination.

Carlinville, Ills., Feb. 27.—Woodford Hughes, a prominent citizen of Scottville, a small town northwest of this city, was murdered in his bed at 1 o'clock in the morning by three unknown men. Hughes was spending the night with Balar Seymour, and when the three men entered the house he arose in bed, startled, only to be filled full of bullets. The men made their escape and bloodhounds from the city were at once put on the trail. The men made no attempt at robbery, and it is believed they can be identified. The greatest mystery surrounds the affair. Hughes never spoke and died instantly.

Etruria Breaks Her Propeller.

London, March 4.—The British steamer Ottawa, from Philadelphia to London, has arrived at Funchal, Azores islands, and reports having sighted the Cunard line steamer Etruria, in tow of the British steamer William Cliff, 400 miles west of Fayal. The Etruria had lost her propeller.

STRAIN TOO GREAT

Hundreds of Buchanan People Find it so.

The hustle and worry of business men; the hard work and stooping of workmen; the woman's household cares, are too great a strain on the kidneys. Backache, headache, sideache, kidney troubles, urinary troubles follow. A Benton Harbor citizen tells you how to cure them all. Mr. Jas. F. Higbee, broker, of 297 Britain Ave., Benton Harbor, says: "I have had marked symptoms of kidney trouble for some time off and on and although I used a good many remedies I received little if any benefit from them. Noticing Doan's Kidney Pills endorsed by some of the most prominent people in Michigan, I concluded to try them and procured a box at Harry L. Bird's drug store. This I cheerfully say about them. They did me more good than all other remedies put together I ever used. I certainly can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as a remedy of great merit."

Just such emphatic endorsement is plentiful in Buchanan. Call at W. N. Brodick's drug store and ask him what his customers report.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

ST. JOSEPH, MICH., FEB. 20TH, 1902.

To the Board of Supervisors of Berrien County, Mich.:

GENTLEMEN:

Your Building Committee in pursuance of the instructions issued to it by this Board at its January session, beg leave to report that they have carefully investigated and considered the matter of the cost of operating the County plant for heating and lighting the County buildings after the expiration of the present contract with the St. Joe & B. H. E. Ry. & Light Co. and from the best information at their command believe that if the County plant is placed in a proper location it can be operated, and furnish all necessary light and heat for said buildings within the following estimates, viz:

300 tons coal at 2.50 per ton	500 00
Engineer's salary $50 per mo. 7 mo.	350 00
Fireman's salary $35 per mo. 7 mo.	245 00
Renewals and sundry supplies	75 00
Gas for 5 months	75 00
Total for 1 year	1245 00

We believe an actual test will prove that these figures are higher than the actual cost necessary.

We also submit herewith plans, specifications and estimated cost of erecting an engine house and removing the County plant from its present location and installing it into the new building. We make no recommendation to the Board in the matter as we do not understand that the matter was referred to us for that purpose but simply for such report as above given.

The following report was submitted:

Your Committee to whom was referred the matter of furnishing office room for the Berrien County Circuit Court Stenographer, have had the same under careful consideration and beg leave to make the following report:

The "Consultation" room could be used for said purpose and upon consulting with Mr. Atkinson we find that he wishes a small book case or shelves and writing desk; chairs and a table are now in the room. It would necessitate an expenditure of forty or fifty dollars to buy such furniture. It is our opinion, that at present, the County can do without the said expense.

Mr. Stemm moved that the Court Stenographer be allowed to use the room in the Court House known and designated as the "Consultation" room, which motion prevailed.

NEWS OF THE STATE.

Telegraphic Reports of Matters of General Interest to Our Readers.

MICHIGAN HAPPENINGS BY WIRE

Items Prepared with Special Care for the Convenience of Our Own Readers.

Ypsilanti, Mich., March 4.—The mysterious horse thief who has been engaging the attention of the Washtenaw county authorities for some time, the police now believe, has been identified. A dramatic spectacle occurred in the office of Chief of Police Warner Saturday afternoon, when Ernest Forsyth, the 19-year-old farmer lad who is charged with stealing four horses, burst into tears. The crowd in the office had been inclined to make sport of the young suspect, but as he buried his head in his hands and began to sob as if his heart would break, a silence settled upon those around.

He Protested His Innocence.
Forsyth strenuously protested his innocence. It is charged that he sold one of the stolen animals at Inkster Saturday afternoon, and under an assumed name was attempting to dispose of another on Friday. His story was that both horses were turned over to him by a thick-set stranger, who promised a liberal commission if he would sell them; but although he was able and willing to repeat the tale with considerable glibness when questioned by different persons, he contradicted himself as to the details.

Could Lie With a Straight Face.
Ernest Forsyth has always been regarded as a peculiar boy by the neighborhood about the Forsyth farm, one of his talents being the ability, so the farmers say, to tell most elaborate and impossible tales with a perfectly straight face. Last summer he quarreled with his father, left the farm with a few dollars he had earned by working by the day, and a young colt, and came to Ypsilanti and rented a room. He was arrested some time later at the instigation of his father, who charged him with having stolen the colt; but he claimed that the horse was his own property, and an Ypsilanti young man who purchased it of him is still in possession.

Thief is a Bold One.
The boldness of the operations of the mysterious horse thief almost exceeds belief. In less than ten days he stole four horses from the streets of Ann Arbor, and openly attempted to sell them in the county, making his headquarters in Ypsilanti and driving out to the surrounding farming communities and small towns. Young Forsyth is a son of Ernest Forsyth, who lives a short distance from this city, and is one of the farmers the mysterious thief entered into negotiations with for the purchase of the stolen animals.

HIS SKIN WAS PEELING OFF

Health Officers Said It Was Smallpox, and Many Have Been Exposed.

Bay City, Mich., March 4.—Joseph Lutkowski, who works at Handy's mill, walked into a store near his home in Salzburg, with some apparent skin disease, as the article was peeling off. Fearing smallpox, the storekeeper promptly ordered him out, and Health Officer Dr. Hargadorn pronounced it a well advanced case of the contagion. Lutowski's sisters have been attending school regularly, and he himself has been working as usual around the house and neighborhood. His father was found working at Handy's, and was vaccinated, with his whole family.

Divorced at a Night Session.

Owosso, Mich., March 1.—Mrs. Washington Bingham, of Venice township, has been granted a divorce from her aged husband. Her attorneys worked a surprise by having a special session of court held at night, and the terms of the decree are suppressed. However, it is known that she gets $4,000 of the old man's money, so that with what his son Clare has squandered he has little left. Mrs. Bingham will live in Owosso.

Carnival Coming at Bay City.

Bay City, Mich., March 3.—M. J. Morley, of New Orleans, is here completing arrangements for the grand carnival to be given here the week of March 10 for the benefit of the new armory and auditorium fund, under the auspices of Company B, Third Infantry.

MICHIGAN SOCIALISTS

Nominates a Complete State Ticket and Adopts the National Platform.

Flint, Mich., March 3.—The State Socialist convention was held here with ninety delegates in attendance. A permanent organization was secured and E. A. Higgins, of Flint, was made chairman, and D. J. Jeanerette, of Ann Arbor, secretary. Several hours were taken up by a debate on the platform to be adopted. The national Socialist platform was finally agreed upon.

The following nominations for state officers were made: Governor, W. E. Walters, Detroit; lieutenant governor, J. J. Spuse, St. Charles; secretary of state, D. J. Jeanerette, Ann Arbor; treasurer, W. A. Klaser, Grand Rapids; auditor, General F. G. Barnes, Kalamazoo; state land commissioner, J. D. Hunt, Jonesville; attorney general, J. H. McFarlan, Flint; superintendent of public instruction, W. A. Smith, St. Clair; member board of education, S. R. Hoobler, Arenac.

MAN AND WOMAN ACCUSED

Death of a Wife Laid at Her Husband's Door—Other Woman Interested.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Feb. 28.—The coroner's jury which has been investigating the death of Mrs. Nellie Leet, whose charred body was found at 87 South Market street last Saturday night, decided that she was murdered and brought in a verdict recommending that warrants be issued for William Leet, her husband, and Mary Morse, charging them with the crime. They are both in the custody of the police.

Jealousy is said to have been the cause of the alleged crime, both women being interested in Leet, who draws a large pension, and who shortly expects to become heir to an estate of $20,000. Leet was in the house at the time the supposed crime was committed, but appeared helplessly intoxicated. Until Tuesday it was thought the burning of Mrs. Leet was purely accidental. Now it is believed that it was intended to cover up the alleged crime.

IS ASKED TO RESIGN HIS POSITION

Official Alleged to Have Put His Father in the Poor House.

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 1.—In response to demands of citizens of this city and the village of Rockford, County Treasurer Woodworth asked for the resignation of his chief accountant, Charles N. Hyde. Hyde lives at Rockford, and has been employed in the county treasurer's office for nearly two years. He is the only son of Oscar F. Hyde, of Rockford, once one of the wealthiest citizens and a banker in that village.

Some years ago, it is alleged, the father deeded all of his property, including two farms at Rockford, to his son, with the understanding that he should be cared for in his old age. The demand for Hyde's resignation grew out of the alleged fact that he placed, or caused to be placed, his aged and infirm parent in the county poor house.

Was It Accident or Murder?

Paw Paw, Mich., March 4.—Caleb France, a wealthy farmer living near Paw Paw, came to a sudden death as a result of a bullet wound under the left arm. His wife and sons say that in a fit of insanity he tried to commit murder, but that in a scuffle he shot himself. France's relatives claim that he has been foully dealt with. The coroner rendered a verdict of death by an unknown hand and the county authorities have taken up the matter for a full investigation. All suspected parties are under surveillance.

He Hasn't See Deveau.

Saginaw, Mich., March 3.—Ex-City Treasurer J. W. Messner, at present engaged in gold mining near Spokane, Wash., sends an emphatic denial to the story that the defaulting police judge, O. F. Deveau, is in that vicinity. Messner says he has not seen or heard from Deveau in a long while. Meanwhile the city is looking to Deveau's bondsmen, O. J. Demers and Leonard F. O'bear, to make good the claimed $700 shortage.

Ice Combination at Detroit.

Detroit, March 3.—The Consolidated Ice company, limited, has filed articles in the register of deeds' office. It is a combination of seven of the leading ice companies of the city. The capital stock is but $6,000, but this will be increased later. President Dean says that prices will not be increased by the combination, which he says was made principally to save expense in delivering.

New Summer Resort Hotel.

Ludington, Mich., Feb. 28.—Carter & Helling, of Jackson, have let a contract to A. Tiedman & Co., of this city, for a $7,000 summer resort hotel at Pine Ridge resort. There will be forty bed rooms, and among other conveniences a dark room for the use of the camera lenses.

Accused of Murder, but Defiant.

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 4.—William Leet and Mary Morse were arraigned in the police court, charged with the murder of Mrs. William Leet. Mrs. Leet was burned to death in her own home last Saturday week. Each of the prisoners pleaded not guilty and appeared defiant.

DEATH CLAIMS THIRTY WITH THE JESTERS.

Snow the Winding Sheet of People Who Live in the Colorado Mountains.

MINING PROPERTY IS SWEEPED AWAY

Rescuers at Work Are Engulfed by a Second Avalanche; Two Others Follow—Known Dead Are Fourteen.

Telluride, Colo., March 1.—The most terrible snowslide accident ever known in Colorado caused the deaths of possibly thirty men employed at the Liberty Bell mine, on Smuggler mountain, yesterday. Although the scene of the disaster is scarcely two miles from this town, information is difficult to obtain on account of the precipitous character of the roads and the vast amount of snow. Nearly all the buildings of the Liberty Bell mine were carried down by the slide, all the books which show the number and names of the men employed being lost, so that the death list can hardly be known for many hours, possibly not before the rescuers have removed the immense quantity of snow, rocks and logs from the canyon where the victims lie buried.

Names of the Known Lost.
No less than four distinct slides occurred, each one claiming two or more victims. Several bodies have been recovered, but quite a number of the known dead are still buried under the tons of snow, rocks and timbers by which they were carried down. The death list of the first slide, so far as known, follows: Gus Swanson, crusher feeder; H. S. Summerland, tram brakeman; Harry Golden, waiter in boarding house; Gus Kraul, miner; J. F. Clemmer, steward; Wade Crowe and R. Bishop, miners.

The victims of the second slide were Harry A. Chase, assayer, and L. D. Stanley, carpenter.

Those who met death in the third slide were Gus von Fintel, carpenter; John R. Powell, surveyor, and Paul Dalphrese, miner.

In the fourth slide the following were killed: George Rowher and W. S. Gregory.

There Was Luck in Absence.

The first slide occurred at 7:30 a. m. and carried away the boarding and bunk houses and the tram house of the mine. About 250 men are regularly employed in the mines and mill of the Liberty Bell mine, but a large number of men from the night shifts had come to Telluride and were prevented from returning to the mine by the terrible storm which was raging. The day shift had just gone to work, leaving but comparatively few underground workmen at the bunk house. The slide came without warning. The three large buildings were carried down the steep mountain side a distance of about 2,000 feet and literally ground to splinters, not a board being left intact.

WOUNDED ARE SERIOUSLY HURT

Avalanche No. 2 Comes Down On Those Working for Rescue.

The snow and debris piled in the bottom of the canon is 25 feet deep. Those who escaped the slide at once began the work of rescuing their less fortunate companions. A dozen or more were taken out alive, some of them badly injured, however. The most seriously hurt are: Jacob Golden, arm cut off and serious internal injuries; James Goplon, ribs broken and arm badly cut; John Isaacson, leg fractured; Henry Pauer, leg broken and serious internal injuries. Word was sent to Telluride and a number of citizens left for the scene of the disaster to aid in the rescue of the victims.

Shortly after noon, while the work of digging out bodies was going on, the second slide came down almost in the track of the first. The mountain side is very steep, and the descent of the snow mass was so swift that

HUMOROUS SIDE OF LIFE AS DEPICTED BY THE WITS.

How Uncle Joey Kept His Promise to Little Ebenezer—Judge Who Saw His Chance to Get Even, and Seized It—Some Pleasing Paragraphs.

A prominent business man was recently treated by Dr. Cyrus Edson for a peculiar growth in his throat.

"Dr. Edson seemed very much preoccupied at times," said the patient. "I was much surprised when I called on him one day without being recognized. I thought it rather odd, having paid him a small fortune in fees, that I had to explain that I wished him to look at my throat."

"Open your mouth," said the doctor. "I did so, and the doctor seized my hand cordially. 'My dear Mr. X.," he exclaimed, '
