ENGLAND REJOICING.

King Edward's Physicians Say That He Is Out of Immediate Danger.

PATIENT IS QUIET CHEERFUL

Condition Much Improved by a Good, Natural Sleep and Able to Sit Up—Royal Visitors Depart.

London, July 1.—The bulletin on the king's condition issued by the physicians at Buckingham palace at 10 o'clock in the morning says:

"His majesty has slept well. The dressing of the wound gives much distress, but there is no bad symptom of any kind."

London, June 30.—The king was removed from his bed to a couch in the afternoon, earlier than expected, and was placed in a sitting posture. He was feeling decidedly better.

London, June 30.—At 10:45 o'clock in the morning the following official bulletin was issued from Buckingham palace on the condition of King Edward:

"The king had a good night and his improved condition is maintained. We are happy that we are able to state that we consider his majesty to be now out of immediate danger and the general condition is satisfactory."

"The operation wound, however, still needs constant attention and such concern as attaches to his majesty's condition is connected with the wound. Under the most favorable condition his majesty's recovery must, of necessity, be protracted. The 2 p. m. bulletin will be discontinued."

The bulletin was signed by Drs. Lister, Treves, Barlow, Smith, and Laking.

News spreads rapidly.

"The king is now out of immediate danger." This announcement spread quickly throughout the metropolis and caused general rejoicing. The verdict upon which the nation had so anxiously waited caused a longer consultation than usual. Lord Lister, Sir Frederick Treves and the other doctors discussed the patient's condition for nearly an hour before they committed themselves to the important pronouncement. It was read at Buckingham palace by only a small crowd, the public being practically assured, by the previous evening's reports that everything was going well. Yet, to use the words of The Westminster Gazette, the bulletin was "full of intense relief."

The underlying suspicion that the doctors might fear more than they wrote, the sensational rumors of his majesty's death which continued even so late as yesterday, and the lack of definite unofficial news all combined to create intense nervousness.

Sensational Reports to America.

Such hopeful statements as The Associated Press had been able to make were not available to the British public, who, however, were spared the sensational reports, now so palpably absurd, which were cabled to America. The reference to the wound in the morning's bulletin it is authoritatively set forth, can be regarded without any misquoting. By June 30 the doctors are expected to announce that all danger of any complications has passed.

The king was very cheerful after four or five hours' sleep, and his temperature was normal. His majesty will probably be transferred from his bed in a day or two to a couch, where he will be able to recline. He is already able to slightly raise himself by the aid of a pulley. When he first made an attempt to do so the queen adjusted the pillows so as to form a back rest, and with a sigh of intense relief the king exclaimed: "Ah, that is better."

Departure of Prince Henry.

In view of the king's rapid recovery it is small wonder that the group of members of the royal family which gathered at Victoria station during the morning were happy and cheerful. The prince of Wales went there to bid farewell to his cousin, Prince Henry of Prussia, and to Crown Prince Louis Philippe of Portugal and others who were leaving London, including the grand duke of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, Frederick Francis, and the Egyptian and Moorish envoys.

A week which has witnessed emotions of such conflicting and intense character as to be without parallel in the nation's history ended as it began in rejoicing. Englishmen themselves can scarcely realize that in the brief space of five days the country has gone through the most acute stages of jubilation, fear, doubt and hope. Now they are all talking of the festivities, many of which will occur as planned.

BONFIRES TOUCHED OFF

From the Lizard to the Orkneys They Burn in Great Britain.

London, July 1.—The general feeling of relief as a result of the favorable reports of the condition of the king vented itself last night by the touching off of the 3,000 bonfires throughout the United Kingdom which were originally prepared to celebrate coronation night. The signal to light the fires was given at five minutes past 9 o'clock. A rocket was sent up from the top of the great wheel in Earl's court and burst in a cloud of stars 1,000 feet overhead.

In response to this signal bonfires rose from every elevation of any consequence from the Lizard to the Orkneys. London was not officially illuminated, but Dublin was brilliant with light, while the streets were full of cheering people. A slight disturbance was created by a crowd of Nationalists, but the police quelled the same.

Brothers Killed by Lightning.

Brownstown Depot, Ind., June 27.—George and Harry Kuehnelt, aged 30 and 36 years, brothers, were killed by lightning while fishing in White river, near here. Their horse was also killed.

Death of a Northwestern Pioneer.

Holena, Mont., June 28.—James Fergus, a pioneer of Minnesota, Wisconsin and Montana, who founded the towns of Fergus Falls, and Little Falls in Minnesota, and for whom Fergus county in this state was named, is dead at his home near Lewiston, this state, aged 89 years. He once refused land in the heart of Chicago offered him at $8 an acre.

Revenue Collections at Peoria.

Peoria, Ill., July 1.—The revenue collections for the fiscal year which closed June 30 at midnight were the heaviest in the history of the Peoria office. They were $1,000,000 in excess of the year 1901, the total figures for the year being $31,266,923.04.

BIG STRIKE PROBABLE

Railways Centering in Chicago Present Their Ultimatum to the Freight Handlers.

WILL NOT RECOGNIZE UNION

If a Strike Comes 10,000 Workmen Will Be Affected—Life Lost in Miners' Strike.

Chicago, July 1.—At any moment a strike of the freight handlers and clerks of the warehouses may be called that will demoralize traffic. The railways have presented their ultimatum and refused to give the men any further answer. If the strike comes it will affect 10,000 workmen in the railroad sheds and warehouses, in addition to the outsiders who stand ready to assist in the fight. Not the least powerful of the latter are the teamsters, who will refuse to haul freight from the yards until the union is fully recognized.

Present a Counter Proposition.

The railroads have presented a counter proposition to the schedule presented by the union, but although it purported to concede an advance in the wage scale, officials of the union declared it altogether insufficient and rumors of a strike were current in labor circles. It was said the officials of the companies would be given another opportunity to present a proposition acceptable to the union and that failure to do so would result in a strike.

Officials of the Chicago Federation of Labor, however, advised the men to act in a conservative manner and expressed the opinion that the freight handlers and the companies would come to an amicable understanding. The business agents of the union were actively engaged in keeping the men in line. Many of them favored immediate action, but were cautioned to go slow and leave the matter in the hands of the officials.

What President Curran Says.

President Curran of the union said while the proposition granted an advance in wages in some cases, it was far from being satisfactory and in the cases of the delivery clerks, callers, scalers and coopers really meant a reduction. Under the present scale delivery clerks receive from $45.50 to $52.50 a month, while the proposition of the companies provides for only $50 a month. The callers and scalers are now paid at the rate of 17 1/2 cents an hour and the companies offer them 17 cents an hour from July 1. Coopers who now receive from $40 to $60 a month under the new schedule would receive only $44.20 a month and truckers who now receive from 15 to 16 cents an hour will practically receive no benefit from the proposed increase.

LIFE LOST IN MINERS' STRIKE

Italian Shot Dead by Coal and Iron Police at Duryea, Pa.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 1.—The first loss of life during the anthracite strike occurred at the William A. colliery at Duryea. Antonio Guiseppe, an Italian, was shot dead by one of the coal and iron policemen from behind the stockade of the colliery. Reports differ as to the cause of the shooting. The friends of the dead man say he was walking on the road near the stockade when he was fired upon. The man was on his way from Scranton to Duryea at the time.

Another report is that the Italian tried to get over the fence and would not heed the warning from the policemen to go away. He insisted on making his way into the stockade and was fired upon.

There is much indignation over the shooting and the sheriff of Lackawanna county was summoned to take steps to preserve order, as it was reported that there would be an uprising among the foreigners and that they would attack the stockade before night. The body lay in the roadway for some time. The coal and iron police would not venture outside the stockade to remove it, and the people living in the vicinity did not want to take it away until the arrival of the coroner. When the sheriff of Lackawanna county reached the scene he ordered the body removed to an undertaking establishment.

RAIN SCARES THE FARMERS

Crops Are Threatened and as a Result Prices Boom on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Chicago, July 1.—Great alarm exists all over the wheat, corn and oats region over the never-ending rains. For forty-eight hours rains have been heavy and have put millions of acres under water. Early harvests are threatened in a half-dozen big winter wheat states. Over the big corn states all lowlands are under water and the crop is threatened. Already overrank outfields are nearly ruined by the rainstorms.

Letters and messages from the whole grain region express great fear of the results if the country does not get clear, warm days at once. This is not in sight. The forecast is for more rain.

Strike of Machinists.

Omaha, Neb., July 1.—The machinists of the Union Pacific railroad, in accordance with their decision last Saturday, have struck in all the large and many of the smaller shops of the system. All the men in the North Platte (Neb.) shops, with three exceptions, laid down their tools and walked out. About 1,700 men are affected by the strike if they all go out.

Caught Robbing the Mail.

Chicago, July 1.—Caught robbing a mail package in the city division of the postoffice Harry A. Sawyer was arrested and after a short hearing before United States Commissioner Humphrey was held to the federal grand jury. Sawyer lives at 330 Twenty-second street and is married. He has been in the postal service about ten years.

CONGRESS IN BRIEF

Synopsis of the Proceedings in the Senate and the House—Bills and Resolutions.

Washington, June 28.—In the senate yesterday Teller delivered a speech in opposition to Cuban reciprocity of any kind, seeing a trust behind the move. The District of Columbia appropriation bill was disposed of finally and $100,000 appropriated for a monument to the ship martyrs of the revolutionary war. The general deficiency bill was sent to conference. A resolution was passed inquiring whether Russia excludes United States citizens on religious grounds. The Cherokee Indian bill was passed, and an executive session was held.

The house sent the general deficiency bill to conference and agreed to a conference report on the Philippine bill. Moon of Tennessee gave notice that he would block unanimous consent business until he was permitted to move the passage of the bill making the Indian "territory" a real territory. The Horton-Butler contested election case was taken up but not acted upon.

Washington, June 30.—The senate Saturday passed the bill authorizing railway bridges across the Calumet at Hammond, Ind., and Cummings, Ills. Teller presented a petition from Estes G. Rathbone asking an investigation of his case in Cuba; referred. Morgan's resolution for an investigation of an alleged Panama lobby went to the calendar. Hale stated that it was possible to adjourn Tuesday, as the conferences were proceeding favorably. An executive session was held.

The house declared the seat vacant from the Twelfth Missouri district, owing to alleged vitiation of corruption. A resolution giving the Porto Rican commissioner the privilege of the floor was adopted. The house adjourned to 11 a. m. yesterday, at which time eulogies were pronounced on the late Amos J. Cummings, and then the house adjourned.

Washington, July 1.—The senate yesterday passed bills prohibiting the use of explosives in the capture of marine animals of any kind in United States waters, and to give Admiral Schley the pay of his rank on the active list instead of that of the retired list. Elkins made a speech favoring annexation of Cuba, and Platt of Connecticut and Hanna spoke in criticism of Elkins' idea. Principally the senate talked, the talk resulting in an assault in the chamber after adjournment of Bailey upon Beveridge in which no one was hurt, friends interposing. Two executive sessions were held.

The house (as well as the senate) adopted conference reports as they were reported agreed upon, among them the report that sends the Philippine government bill to the president, by a party vote except McCall, who voted with the Democrats, nay. There was a number of bills of no great importance passed. At the night session the house finally, after once voting no, agreed to give the Charleston exposition $100,000.

Washington, July 1.—Both houses of congress adjourned sine die at 5:30 this afternoon.

CONVICTED ONCE MORE

Jessie Morrison Found Guilty of Murder in the Second Degree for Killing Mrs. Castle.

Eldorado, Kan., June 30.—Jessie Morrison, on trial here for the third time for the murder of Mrs. Olin Castle in June, 1900, has been found guilty of murder in the second degree. The case may be appealed again. The first trial resulted in a disagreement and at the second trial Miss Morrison was found guilty of manslaughter and given a five years' sentence. She spent but two months in the penitentiary, being released on bond on the day her case on appeal was taken up by the state supreme court. She was granted a new trial last February.

Jessie Morrison and Clara Wiley Castle fought with a razor. Mrs. Castle was slashed in a horrible manner, gashes being cut in her arms and breast, while her windpipe was almost severed. Jessie Morrison was also cut about the arms and breast. The quarrel took place eight days after Mrs. Castle had been married to Olin Castle with whom both women had been in love.

In a death statement Mrs. Castle said that Miss Morrison had first attacked her and the theory of the state has been that Miss Morrison, in a spirit of revenge, armed herself with a razor and went to Mrs. Castle's house intent on killing her. The defense pleaded self-defense, and Miss Morrison in the three times that she has gone over the details of the bloody fight has insisted that her antagonist called her into the house, accused her of writing to Castle and opened the fight. The Wileys, the Castles and the Morrises are leading families in the community, and Miss Morrison is the daughter of H. M. Morrison, formerly a circuit judge.

NATION IS PROSPEROUS

Treasury Figures Show a Surplus Amounting to $90,000,000—All the Officials Are Surprised.

Washington, July 1.—Uncle Sam has had a good year and the treasury figures will show a surplus for the twelve months of nearly $90,000,000. Notwithstanding the large appropriations by congress and the heavy expense of the war in the Philippines, the receipts during the year will show almost that great sum in excess of expenditures. Last year's surplus was about $75,000,000.

All the officials of the treasury are surprised at the way in which the receipts have piled up during the last few months. Sixty days ago they estimated the surplus for this year at only $77,000,000. But June alone has added nearly $13,000,000 to the right side of the ledger. As Secretary Shaw says: "The prosperity of the country is so great that all calculations are likely to be upset. If congress reduces taxes it seems to make little difference in the income of the government. The money comes rolling in faster than we know what to do with it."

Chance for American Cattle.

Washington, July 1.—Frank W. Bicknell, special agent and agricultural explorer of the agricultural department, writing from Buenos Ayres to the bureau of animal industry, says that if it is possible for some of the breeders of the United States to send some really first-class animals to that place now is a good time to do so, as British cattle have been barred, owing to an outbreak of foot and mouth disease in England.

Two Young Men Drowned.

Detroit, July 1.—Herman Kolch and John Lenkeitus, both young men, were drowned off the steamer Tashmoo as she lay at her dock. The men were scrubbing one of the paddlewheel boxes when the plank they were standing on gave way, throwing them into the river. Lenkeitus leaves a family.

Man-Hunt in Indiana.

Washington, Ind., July 1.—Joe Herbert, on trial for his life; Bill Edson, the Vincennes rapist, and other prisoners broke jail early in the morning. The whole country has been aroused in the pursuit. Edson is the prisoner who narrowly escaped lynching recently at Vincennes.

A GOOD SAFE INVESTMENT!

Beaumont Oil Stock For Sale.

W. L. Murphy President of the Trenton Rock Oil Company of Beaumont Texas, and Cashier of the Citizens National Bank of that city, who is at present in Buchanan on a recreation trip, offers for sale a limited amount of the stock of the Trenton Rock Oil Co., at 50 cents on the dollar. The capital stock of the company is $300,000.00 divided into 800,000 shares of the par value of $1.00 each. The stock is full paid and non-assessable.

The directors and officers of the company are composed chiefly of prominent bankers and business men of the state of Texas. The holdings of the company consist of 320 acres of land near Beaumont in one tract. Another tract of 15 1/2 acres 4 miles northwest of the oil fields and immediately between "Spindle Top" and "Sane Lake" two of the largest oil fields in the world; another tract of 1 acre within 1,500 feet of the largest gusher in Spindle Top; also 1-16 on an acre in the very heart of the oil field, on which the company has a magnificent flowing well of an estimated capacity of 40,000 to 50,000 barrels per day. The company also owns its own tank cars and has access to all railroads and to deep water at Port Arthur through pipe lines. The company is now filling contracts for about 400,000 barrels of oil at fair figures, and could contract to sell three times as much oil at once, but owing to the rapidly advancing prices and increasing demand for Beaumont oil the management has deemed best to make no further contracts for the present, believing that within a short time much higher prices will prevail, probably 50 cts. to $1.00 per barrel.

Mr. Murphy will guarantee to purchasers of the stock a 10 per cent dividend on the par value of same. The dividend will probably be much larger. The Trenton Rock Oil Company is no Wild Cat concern, but a solid business corporation chartered under the Texas laws, and officered and conducted by some of the best business men in that state.

Mr. Murphy invites the closest scrutiny and inquiry as to who he is and the standing of the company he represents. He refers those interested to the City National Bank and National Exchange Bank, both of Dallas Texas; also to the Citizens National Bank and the American National Bank of Beaumont, Texas. For further information call on or address W. L. Murphy, now stopping at Clear Lake near Buchanan, or Mr. Chas. Pears cashier of the First National Bank of Buchanan.

The much talked of Dowagiac young man, Harry Adonis, who is pushing a wheelbarrow from that city to San Francisco on a wager, has won a wife in the person of Miss Jewel Smith of Argentine Mo. Adonis met Miss Smith in St. Louis and they have been corresponding. Miss Smith made the proposal of marriage as Adonis could not ask for any thing on his trip according to the terms of the contract.

side of the lake. At the extreme point of this bank you can, on clear days, see in the shadow of the trees on the lake, the outline of a woman's face. It is called "The Lady of the Lake."

NOTE IS NATIONAL

Strong Speakers for the C. E. Convention at Ludington.

The annual convention of the Christian Endeavor societies of Michigan will be held at Ludington, July 23, 24 and 25. The program which is now being given finishing touches, it is said has never been equalled at a similar convention in the state. Among the prominent speakers will be Rev. P. D. John, ex-president of DePaul university and one of the best known men on the lecture platform today. Shailer Mathews of Chicago university, Rev. E. B. Allen of Toledo, Ohio; Rev. C. B. Newman of Christ church, Detroit; Oliver H. Stewart of Chicago, and others. The last named man is known throughout the United States as a result of the work along good citizenship lines he has done in Chicago, he will talk on that subject. There is indication of an unusually large attendance because of the summer resort character of the city in which the convention is to be held.

Foreign Affairs. (By A. Maurice Low in the July-September Forum.

The German Emperor is undoubtedly the cleverest politician in Europe at the present time. Any one who makes a close study of his character must be impressed by the fact that the man whom not so many years ago it was the fashion to call impetuous, rash, and undisciplined is really one of those extraordinarily clever men who do nothing on the spur of the moment, although their methods create the contrary impression, and who, when they do a thing, do it because they have a definite object in view. It is frequently supposed by spectators who take a long-view range of the game, who are unable to follow all the moves or to estimate their correct value, that the German Emperor is a rash and reckless player. Nothing could be more false. He plays the game of politics with unusual deliberation, and he makes each stroke tell. Germany, scarcely more than a second-rate power when he came to the throne, is today one of the greatest powers in the world. Germany was feared for its army and its military prestige, and the rest of the world dreaded that this young man—who had never submitted himself to restraint, who had dismissed Bismark without a moment's hesitation, who had shown his ill concealed dislike for his mother's relatives and his contempt for the German across the seas, the United States—would soon plunge into war merely for the pleasure of putting his huge army in motion.

He has done none of the things the world anticipated. He has kept the peace, although there was provocation to break it. He has established a fairly good entente with France; he has won the hearts of the English by the emotion he displayed at the grave of their Queen and his grandmother; he has remained on cordial terms with Russia; he has renewed the triple alliance with Austria and Italy, and, doubtless remembering Bismark even although he dismissed him, has a secret agreement with Russia; he has won the friendship of the Sultan and has been given a free hand in Asia Minor; he forced Lord Salisbury into making a convention as to China which gave Germany everything and Great Britain nothing; he ranged himself on the side of France and Russia after the Chinese-Japanese war and wrested from Japan the spoils of victory, he had Count Waldersee made commander-in chief of the allied forces in China; and, quite recently, he has discovered the United States and wiped out the memories of the past by his exuberant expressions of good will. In a word, nothing is done these days without the German Emperor first being consulted. In every quarter of the globe the hand of Germany is seen and felt. Germany is not the greatest manufacturing and commercial nation in the world, but she is one of the greatest politically. And this position has been won by the "impetuous" man without his having fired a shot or mobilized an army corps. The man who was to set all the world aflame has been one of the greatest preservers of peace.

SANTOS DUMONT AT MONTE CARLO.

Some Remarkable Photographs in the July McClure's.

"The Oversea Experiments of Santos Dumont," by Sterling Beilig in the July McClure's is, with its splendid photographs, a most fascinating story of the famous flights and final catastrophe at Monte Carlo. It is also the best popular exposition of the principal of dirigible ballooning we have seen. It shows Santos Dumont, like every other inventor, working from one model to another, perfecting each part in the light of its shortcomings, as shown in actual trial, and taking advantage of the lesson of every failure to bring about ultimate success. After reading it one can have no doubt of the young Brazilian's thoroughly scientific purpose and methods, even if one still doubts that his experiments will turn out practicable; and one will follow with more interest and intelligence the trials soon to be instituted in his new "Santos Dumont No. 7," a much larger balloon than the old one, and made to carry two persons instead of one. In succeeding numbers of the magazine Santos Dumont will tell in his own person how he became an aeronaut.

The Eloquence of M. Waldeck-Rousseau.

M. Waldeck-Rousseau's chief means of influence and his supreme fascination is his eloquence. I have often heard him speak, upon the most widely differing subjects, and always, however dry the question under discussion, the charm and the pleasure have been the same. His eloquence is, above all, modern, discarding idle ornament and antiquated rhetoric. There are no tall phrases or showy metaphors, but there is precision, clarity and logic. His reasoning is clothed in a language so pure and a style so harmonious; he coins such felicitous phrases and such telling formulas; he introduces into his discourse so many striking observations and so many flashes of wit; his irony is so keen and polished; he speaks with such conviction, such ease and such art, that each of his addresses is a delight to his auditors, whether supporters or opponents.

A half dozen of his speeches as prime minister have been posted in all the communes of France, an honor which the Chamber and the Senate confer only on rare occasions. One of his most admired addresses was that in which he defended before the Senate the terms of the law of amnesty, and in which he branded with ignominy the crimes and the wrongs committed in the course of the Dreyfus-affair and its sequels—From "Two French Premiers: Waldeck-Rousseau," by Otho Guerlac, in the American Monthly Review of Reviews for July.

Tramps and Criminals.

The county, as well as the jail, especially the northern part seem to be filled with tramps and criminals. The murder of Parks last week seems to have aroused the authorities to the need of doing something to rid the county of them, but it seems to us that the plan of loading them up on a train and hauling them out to some thinly settled section and dumping them is the worst thing that could be done; the lives and property of those who are least able to protect themselves are thereby endangered. No do not drive them out to prey on others, gather them together and put them to work under good overseers if it takes one to a man, on the road and you will confer a lasting blessing on them and on the county. There certainly is some way to abate the tramp and hobo nuisance without driving them out on others.

We desire to express our heartfelt thanks to the many friends who so kindly and thoughtfully sympathized with us during our recent bereavement.

Mrs. W. S. VANMETER, WM. VANMETER.

Ladies Calling on President Thought he had Reason to be Pleased

"Just send in your cards," said a well known army officer to two New York state women who were wondering how they could arrange "just to shake hands with the president."

The advice was followed next day, and much to their surprise and delight they were at once shown into the reception room, where the president was busily engaged in refusing the request of a prominent senator who had called on the ever-present and everlasting topic of offices.

"Very sorry, senator, but this is impossible; I cannot do it," the president was heard to say.

"Please think it over, Mr President" said the senator, "and I shall call again tomorrow."

"Absolutely final. I cannot do it. I cannot do it."

"My," said one lady to the other, "but wouldn't we better be going? That man is a senator and we don't know what may happen."

The next moment the president was shaking hands with both.

"I am delighted to see you, delighted," said he.

"Well, you ought to be," said one of the women recovering from the whirlwind of cordiality.

The president looked embarrassed. "We don't want anything, you know."

Comparison.

"Would you like to trade your mule for this automobile?" asked the factious tourist.

"No, suh," answered Mr. Erastus Pinkley. "Ef a mule gits contrary, you kin allus deepen' on him to move when he gits hongry. But when a automobile balks de case is hopeless."

"How did you happen to insure in that particular company?"

"I consulted the wishes of my wife."

"Of course that's very praise worthy. But—does she know anything about life insurance companies?"

"Yes, she investigated, and found that this one always issues the prettiest calendars."—McCall's Magazine.

Little Elsie—But do they always come in the same pattern, mamma?—The Oaks.

Guest—Why did you say to Johnnie, "Here is Napoleon" when you passed his plate of meat?

Host—Because I gave him the bony-part.

In his sketch of the quarter's "American Politics" in the July-September Forum Mr. Henry Lichfield West deals with the questions of the congressional campaign; the Philippine issue, the Isthmian canal, ship subsidies, Chinese exclusion, trusts, reciprocity with Cuba, the election of senators by the people, and the relations between the President and Congress.

MARKET BASKET CENTERPIECES.

Old-fashioned market baskets in various shapes, sizes and varieties of wicker are now being used as the basis of pretty table decorations. The basket is filled with bouquets to be distributed among the guests as they leave the table. There are large corsage bouquets for the women and smaller boutonnières for the men.

The baskets having a lid or lids is a special favorite, as the lids can be thrown back and the flowers arranged so that they appear to be peeping out. One of the new combinations in flowers for the table is mignonette, yellow orchids and some white flowers of a delicate type such as white sweet peas. The effect is exquisitely "Frenchy." I saw a market basket filled with these flowers in a fashionable shop the other day which was a delight to the eye. Pansy bouquets are often used for the purpose. So are nosegays violets or primroses or cosmos. —Good Housekeeping.

The illustrated prose articles in Scribner's for July represents the best work of such artists as Will H. Low, Walter Appleton Clark, A. B. Frost, and others among the younger men. Mr. Low is represented in an unusual way, in that he furnishes both text and the pictures, and moreover the pictures are reproduced in colors. His article, "In an old French Garden," chronicles a unique experience. Mr. Low and his friend MacMonnies, the sculptor (who has recently taken up painting), decided to take a house together in rural France in order to spend nine months in painting direct from nature. To their delight they found a house with an old garden which furnished within its bounds all the subjects for their art, and this article reproduces the emotional and aesthetic side of an artist's life while creating his works directly from nature. The paintings reproduced give many phases of life in the old garden,

Panama Canal

The American people will rejoice that the isthmus canal question is settled, and wisely too; both houses have voted by large majorities in favor of the Panama route for which the government is to pay $40,000,000 for all the rights, privileges, franchises, concessions, etc. owned by this new Panama Canal Co. of France on the Isthmus of Panama. The Panama route is 49 miles; the Nicaragua 183 miles. An Isthmian canal commission of seven persons will be appointed by the president four of whom must be skilled in the science of engineering, one an officer of the navy, one of the army. $10,000,000 has been appropriated to begin work and 130,000,000 will be secured by an issue of 2 per cent 20 year gold bonds exempt from taxation in denominations of $20 or a multiple of that sum to be sold at par and open to popular subscription.

While the press has presented an endless number of illustrations of the Mont Pelée disaster, the illustrations in the July Cosmopolitan, printed on fine paper with the most careful art, give a clearer idea of just what that disaster means than anything hitherto presented.

BLISS IS THE MAN

Nominated on the First Ballot at Convention Held at Detroit Last Thursday.

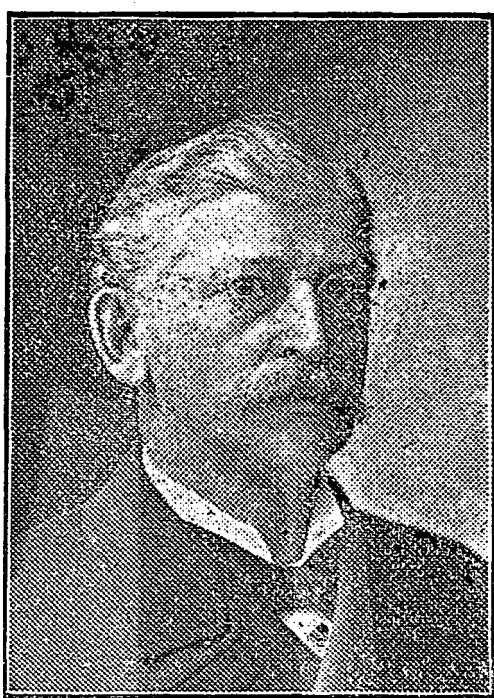

RECEIVED 811 BALLOTS

Of the 1089 Cast, a Majority of 553 Votes Over All Candidates.

As it seems to us, the convention went just as any one could have seen it would go. There was no vital question at issue and Governor Bliss had given no occasion for any general feeling against him.

The ballot stood:

Aaron T. Bliss 811
Justus S. Stearns 218
George B. Horton 40
John Patton 22
Frank W. Gilchrist 3

GOV. AARON T. BLISS

It was one of the most lively and good-natured conventions ever held in the state, and the ticket nominated was as follows:

For Governor—
Aaron T. Bliss of Saginaw
For Lieutenant Governor—
Alex. Maitland of Marquette
For Secretary of State—
Fred M. Warner of Oakland
For State Treasurer—
Daniel McCoy of Kent
For Auditor General—
Perry F. Powers of Wexford
For Attorney General—
Charles A. Blair of Jackson
For Commissioner State Land Office—
Edwin A. Wildly of Van Buren
For Sup't Public Instruction—
Delos A. Fall of Calhoun
For Mens State Board of Education—
Patrick H. Keeley of Wayne
L. L. Wright of Gogebic
Mr. Hammond presented the name of E. A. Blakslee for Lieutenant Governor and received 161 votes.

The following platform was unanimously adopted.

In common with the citizens of all the states of our Union and the members of all parties, we mourn the great loss which came to our country through the tragic death of President

William McKinley. His public life was dominated by the highest patriotism and honesty and his life was pure and gentle. The addition of his name to the list of departed heroes who gave to their country and our party high and noble service adds incentive for continued efforts in behalf of the principles and the policies they so worthily represented.

We mourn in common with all the people of the state the untimely death of Hon. Hazen S. Pingree, whose public service will long live in the highest esteem of our state. We extend to his bereaved widow and family our sincere expression of sympathy and sorrow.

We unreservedly pledge to President Theodore Roosevelt our sympathy and support in his administration of the great trust which came to him through the death of President McKinley. We realize the great problems and serious questions of state, foreign and domestic, with which he has to do and hereby express our sincere admiration and approval of the ability, integrity and desire for justice which he has brought to bear on all public affairs.

We cordially approve of the record of Michigan's senators and representatives in congress on matters pertaining to the advancement of our country's welfare and in the fulfillment of our party's pledges, and we especially desire to note our appreciation of their zealous and able work in behalf of Michigan's important industries and to thank them for the services rendered.

We congratulate both the president and congress upon the successful establishment of the new republic of Cuba, thus fulfilling to the letter the second pledge of the nation.

We gladly express again our loyalty to the broad principles and national policies of our party as last affirmed in the platform adopted by the national republican convention in Philadelphia in 1900.

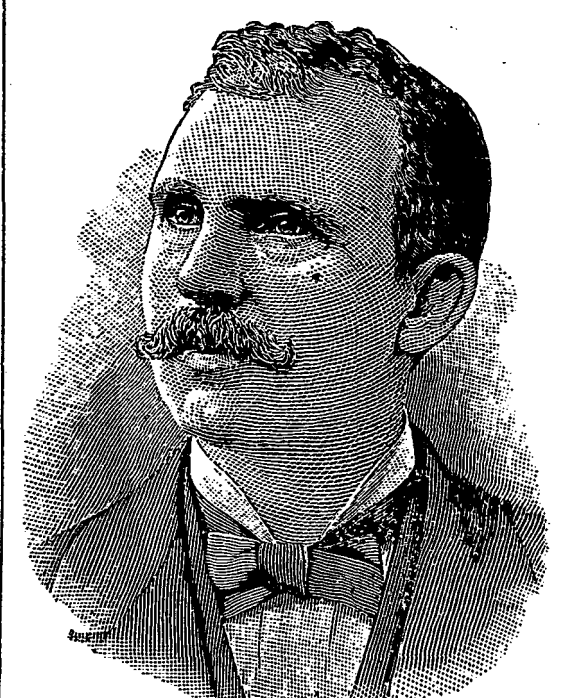

We continue our abiding faith in the protective tariff and are opposed to all efforts to destroy it or weaken its beneficent operation. We favor no plan that would interfere with the industries of the United States and would lesson the legitimate fruits of American labor.

We denounce all unwarranted and disgraceful attacks upon the defenders and upholders of our flag in the Philippines and we pledge faithful support to the government in the efforts to establish good government and personal liberty in these islands.

The honest and economical administration of state affairs under Governor Aaron T. Bliss and the zealous and businesslike conduct of the several state department, meets with our cordial approval and indorsement.

We favor such amendments to the ax laws of our state as will justly and efficiently relieve the owner of real estate from double taxation by reason of the tax on outstanding mortgages.

We favor a safe, equitable and effective primary election law by which the nomination of all candidates for office will be so directly controlled by the people as to secure absolute purity in politics, and we commend this subject to the careful, painstaking and conscientious consideration of the next legislature.

We are glad to note the advancement of American industries in federal markets and realize that large combinations of capital may be necessary to successfully compete with aggregated capital in disinterested industrial fields as well as for the purpose of advancing operations of great cost in our own country, but we do desire to express our condemnation of all conspiracies and combinations to restrict business, to create monopolies, to limit production or control prices, and we favor such legislation as will effectually restrain and prevent all such abuses.

We cordially approve and commend the efforts of President Roosevelt to enforce the laws against illegal combinations in restraint of trade.

ing the house wrong side out, if it was so desired. He was a little surprised to find his suggestion carried to such a small extent.

At the solemn hour of mid-night the revelry was broken up, each pronouncing Mr. May an excellent host, Mr. James an unequalled ex-president and Mr. Stearns, the toast-master, one of the few who can fill such a position in so congenial a manner.

Besides those whose names appear on the program were, Ida Corwin, Winnifred Sprague, Sophia Warner, Catherine Hamilton, Cora Seabury, Bessie Hill, Myra Gardener, Ora Barnum, Wm. Devoe Miss Davis, and Mr. Dyer.

It is hoped that each year will find as enthusiastic a crowd from Berrien county as has been here in years past, ever reaching out for the best and giving the best to the dear old Ferris Institute.

The Olivet College scholarship, established in our high school in recognition of superior work, has been awarded this year to Mr. Walter Scott Best of this place.

The terms of the scholarship have been accepted by Mr. Best who expects to enter Olivet next September. We congratulate Mr. Best upon winning the prize, and the colleg upon securing so excellent a student from our high school.

Farmers Indignant.

Farmers in the vicinity of Buchanan are indignant with the prosecuting attorney for allowing a man to escape, who was accused of stealing some three or four hundred bushels of wheat, also chickens, hogs, sheep, etc. The fellow carried on his depredations for months and it was only after a long and tedious search that he was finally run down. The man who bought the stolen grain identified the prisoner as the man from whom he had bought it. A Buchanan justice placed the men under $500 bonds. The prisoner was given a hearing and was bound over to the circuit court for trial. Then it was that the justice, who had been censured for placing the bonds at only $500, inquired of the prosecutor after the examination, as to what bail should be required. The prosecutor replied that $500 was enough, and the prisoners, father put up the money, and it is said, the prisoner lit out. And who wouldn't forfeit a paltry $500 rather than serve a long term in state prison?—Niles Star June 28

The person referred to above was on the streets of Buchanan a couple of days ago, and the person arrested with him was discharged, by the prosecuting attorney, so there seems not to be much of a case. A man is innocent in the eyes of the law till proven guilty.

BERRIEN COUNTY STUDENTS

The Association Banqueted by A. J. May of Big Rapids.

Friends of the Big Rapids Ferris Institute, will be pleased to know that the identity of Berrien county students, is not lost, while attending the school.

The first meeting and banquet was held during the summer of 1900, and again in 1901, when an association was organized for the purpose of co-operating with the Ferris Institute, and for keeping before each representative of good old Berrien county the principles of friendship and intellectual improvement.

Saturday evening, June 21, this association met at the home of A. J. May of this city, to enjoy an excellent program and feast. Order was called by the President L. L. Janes who stated briefly our duties, as an organization.

After this, the toast master, H. E. Stearns presided and the following program was rendered very proficiently.

After the program, a business meeting was held for the purpose of electing new officers and transacting such other business as might be best before the association. The officers for the ensuing year are—President, Chas. Schaus; Vice President, Chas. Rodeen; Secretary, Caroline Richardson; Treasurer, E. L. Able.

President Schaus then took the chair, making the long looked for suggestion that the refreshment committee retire to the kitchen to prepare the feast. Ere long the summon came for each to take his respective place.

The rattling of tongue and clattering of dishes were above the din of organ's roar until the spread was over.

Mr. May kindly gave to his honorable assembly, the privilege of turn-

On Thursday evening after the lecture at the Evangelical church, when Rev. Niergarth and his guest Rev. Strough were preparing to retire, Rev. and Mrs. Niergarth noticed the absence of their little son Milton, and upon inquiry found he had been locked in the church where he had been attending the services, and was sleeping when the church was closed. With haste and great anxiety Rev. Niergarth ran to the church and to his delight found his son quietly asleep in one of the pews not having awakened when the audience dispersed.
Much merriment was provided one of our families last Sunday when a young couple of Niles who wished to enjoy a picnic at Clear Lake and lost their way, finally found the home of this friend. The young people started Sunday morning with their lunch and not being familiar with the route followed a buggy in front of them, from which protruded a fishing pole, which they concluded was bound for Clear Lake. When they had passed the Wagner school they realized they were on the wrong trail and retracing their way, made a second start. But the mud was so deep they grew discouraged and reaching town remained here visiting friends for the day.

MAGNIFICENT VIEWS

Lecture by Rev. Strough a Great Treat to the Audience.

A trip through Yellowstone National Park was so thoroughly realistic that the audience assembled at the Evangelical church, on last Friday evening, could easily imagine the views placed on the canvas were real scenes and not mere stereopticon pictures. The colors were reproduced as they appear in nature and the effect was entrancingly beautiful.

The lecturer Rev. Francis Strough of Albany N. Y., presented the subject of a trip through the great northwest, showing Puget sound and views up the Columbia River. The pictures of the geysers and boiling springs, and the many wiered and strange formation of nature were reproduced as the traveller conducted his party from place to place, talking in a very interesting way as the views appeared and reappeared on the canvas.

On Thursday evening Rev. Strough gave an exceedingly interesting discourse on the Prodigal Son showing also many stereopticon views.

Altogether the people agreed that the pictures were by all odds the finest ever shown in our village.

Wedding

Los Angeles Herald of June 20th, has the following: Miss Clea Strong daughter of Mrs. G. H. Strong of 217 East Fifth street was married on Wednesday evening to Nicholas Baker of Chicago, at the bride's home. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock in the evening by Rev. Fisher, pastor of the Union Avenue M. E. Church. The rooms were prettily decorated with flowers and foliage. In the front parlor, where the marriage took place, the decorations were of white and pink carnations, and the bridal couple stood beneath a bell composed of tiny white daisies and having a magnolia bud for a clapper. The bride's gown was of white velours over taffeta, trimmed with point de Medici. She wore orange blossoms in her hair and carried a graceful bunch of white carnations. She was attended by two little flower girls in white, Gail and Bernice Hammel, and a ring bearer, Hazel Strong. The bride has lived here nearly all her life. She is a very handsome young woman, and possesses much musical talent. She has been for some time a student at the Los Angeles Conservatory of Music. The groom is the son of a wealthy stock dealer of Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Baker have gone to Coronado on a wedding journey, and upon their return will reside at 127 Ave. 58 Highland Park.

The bride is a niece of our townsmen, James M. Rose.

Civil Service Examination.

The U. S. Civil Service Commission will hold examinations, during September and October, in several places in each state to secure young men and women for the government service. There are now 126, 428 position in the classified civil service, being an increase of 46, 736 in six years. There were 7,972 persons appointed between July 1, 1901, and April 15, 1902, being at the rate of 10,070 for the year. There will probably be 11,000 appointments next year. Salaries at appointment vary from $660 to $1,200 a year with liberal promotions afterward. All appointments are for life and for most positions only a common school education is required. Politics or religion is not considered. Those desiring to take examinations of this kind can get full information about them free by writing to the Columbian Correspondence College, Washington, D. C., and asking for its Civil Service Catalogue for 1902.

Niles Star Says—The city ordinance relative to fire-works is harshly criticised by dealers in Fourth of July supplies. The ordinance prohibits the shooting of firecrackers or any explosive in the city limits except on the Fourth of July, and even on that day fireworks are not to be exploded within the fire limits—not a firecracker nor a toy pistol shall be allowed to ring out under pain of a fine, not to exceed $20 days in the county jail. The same penalty applies to merchants who may barter or sell any explosives in a window lighted by gas, kerosene or gasoline. The ordinance further says it is unlawful to use a toy pistol, slingshot or any other dangerous toy implement within the city limits. Our village would profit by following the example set by our neighbor,

Fashions.

Lace boleros are still much used and promise another season's popularity.

Pongee is steadily gaining in favor and will be much used for early fall frocks and coats.

Box plaits in back, front and sleeve of bodice are much seen and something newer than tuck.

White linen floss embroidery on white linen is one of the smart styles for this season's waists.

Wash materials are more fashionable than ever this year and there are more thin fabrics than ever.

All white may be worn for first mourning, but not the popular combination of black and white.

Soft chou or cabbage rosettes of three or four yards of ribbon are much used for corsage bows.

Small capes in design and material to match the gown are among the pretty novelties of the summer costumes.

The "Gibson" effects are still popular and are especially effective made in summer goods, pique, linen or duck.

Events Around the County.

Berrien County Young People's Picnic Association will hold their picnic at Berrien Springs, Aug. 6.

Anton Pasino a section hand at New Buffalo shot at the boss and was landed in the county jail.

According to Niles Star of June 28 says Emancipation Day will be a big event among the colored folks of Niles. What has become of the Buchanan effort?

C. Rozelle took the Royal Arch degree in Masonry at Niles on last Friday.

Grand Haven is to be a rival for St. Joe in the matrimonial business.

The list of those who passed the teachers' examination has not been announced.

Ten marriage licenses were issued last Sunday at St. Joseph.

Irving Jaqua Co., nurserymen of Benton Harbor has filed articles of incorporation, capital stock $3,500.

Do You Know

That the first class in the science of forestry graduated from Yale last week?

That the daughter of Mrs. Lily Langtry will soon be married to Ian Malcolm, M.P.?

That in the annual rowing contest between Yale and Harvard, Yale won this year by four boat lengths?

That Sir Thomas Lipton, so well known in this country as a yachtman has been elevated to a baron by King Edward?

That the board of education of Chicago, for the present at least, have unfortunately suspended the 89 kindergarten department of the public schools?

That Walter Damroch has been placed at the head of the New York Philharmonic society, and plans to make it the most famous musical organization in the world?

That the Emperor of Germany in his speech recently made at Aix La Chappelle appealed to all to uphold the Christian religion that the country may preserve its strength?

That President Roosevelt and Sec. of State Hay received the degree of L. L. D., from Harvard last week, and James Whitcomb Riley the degree of Master of Arts from Yale?

That the longest run ever made by a passenger train without stopping has just been accomplished by the Pennsylvania R. R., in running 430 miles. from Pittsburg to New York?

That King Humbert of Italy is the most heavily insured man in the world? The amount of insurance he carries is over $6,000,000. The late Czar Alexander III was insured for $15,000,000 and King Edward VII carries policies on his life to the amount of $3,250,000.

BAND CONCERT

Thursday Evening by the Buchanan Band

SHOW APPRECIATION

Of the First Effort. Don't Expect as Much as you Would From Older Band.

The boys of the band have decided to make their debut on Thursday evening by giving a public concert on the streets. We hope the weather will be favorable and we are sure the people will appreciate their first effort. The boys are doing well and they need your encouragement not only by your words but by being ready to help by going down in your pockets and help them when they need. Let us not forget that everything has to have a beginning, and if they do not meet your idea of a band do not go around depreciating them; let us make every effort to cure defeat and speak well of every good effort. Let every one lend a hand and boys do not be discouraged when some of your number have to leave. You will find difficulties. You can and will win if your are determined and Buchanan will boast of as good a band as any town of her size and we believe as good as many larger towns.

UNFORTUNATE

The Rain Falls on the Just as well as the Unjust

It is wise and good that we have emigration laws that prevent our country from being overrun with paupers and criminals, but sometimes the just law, causes the innocent to suffer.

There are a number of Syrians now at work on the new M. C. R. R. between Buchanan and Niles, they are a peaceful, industrious and economical class of foreigners.

Some time ago a number employed here sent $100 to four companions at Montreal to bring them to Buchanan, where work was awaiting them. The money was received by one of their countrymen, who, it seems committed some irregularity in getting them to this country; whether it was ignorance or for gain is not known. The four men have been arrested at Oydensburg, N. Y., one sent back to Montreal the other to N. Y. to be sent back to Syria.

Mr. Dick has been consulted by the men sending the $100 and is making every effort to prevent the men from being sent back. The effort is right for they are neither paupers nor criminals as far as can be discovered.

Restoration of White House.

The restoration of the White House has begun. Congress appropriated $360,000 for the repairs and increased accommodations necessary, and the work is begun with a view to make the place more suitable as a residence and for state functions. A small brick building connected with the White House by a passage-way will be built for an office for the president and his clerks, this is a temporary structure to be replaced later by executive offices north of the White House.

The dining room will be enlarged 50 percent, and porticoes will be added east and west of the building.

BROUGHT TO LIGHT

Buchanan People Receiving the Full Benefit

There have been many cases like the following in Buchanan. Every one relates the experience of people we know. These plain straightforward statements will do much toward relieving the suffering of thousands. Such testimony will be read with interest by many people.

Mr. L. M. Vincent, retired farmer, of Oak street, says: "For years I have had trouble with my kidneys more especially with the kidney secretions which were at times very irregular and highly colored. I used several remedies strongly recommended but got little if any results. I had so often seen and heard Doan's Kidney Pills recommended that I had made up my mind to try them, went to W. N. Brodick's drug store and got a box. I do not hesitate to say that I derived a good deal of benefit from the treatment."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

Benton Harbor Street Fair.

Benton Harbor following the precedent set by other cities in all parts of the country, has decided to give a free Street Fair and Carnival, to be held during the week of July 7-12 inclusive. Merchants all over the country have adopted this means of giving their patrons a treat, and incidentally having a week of revelry and fun, and the merchants of Benton Harbor not to be outdone have taken a hand in the Street Fair and Carnival game. They have contracted with the famous Robinson Carnival Co., to furnish attractions for the coming gala event, and it is intended to make this week of the Fair an event in the history of outdoor amusements.

Geo. Alfred Gohen a well known newspaper man of Cincinnati, who is not new in the field of amusements, is now in Benton Harbor arranging the details for the event. It is not intended to enclose the Fair, or to charge any entrance fee. The various shows will be given in tents and on platforms, and on the street of Benton Harbor so that visitors who attend will not be asked to pay 25cts, or any other price for the privilege of spending their money. The rail roads have already granted the petition of the merchants to run excursions to Benton Harbor during the week of the Fair, and rates of one fare for the round trip have been fixed by all roads. Under the provisions of the contract made by the merchants with the Robinson Carnival Co., the latter binds itself to bring to Benton Harbor two absolutely free performances twice each day during the Fair.

Matt Gay the champion high diver of the world, at 1:30 and 7:30 each day, will take a back somersault from a pedestal 90 feet high into a tank of water four feet deep. This performance is said to be one of the most desperate acts of the kind ever exhibited in public. At the Benton Harbor Street Fair and Carnival, Gay will make his somersault every afternoon and evening free to every man, woman or child who desires to see it. Gay's performance, however interesting as it is, constitutes only a part of the features and attractions that will be presented by the Robinson Carnival Co.

Among other features that will be shown will be "Aimne," "Lunett" the flying girl is another attraction that will keep the public guessing. With-out visible support of any kind, she glides through the air in the most mysterious manner. In the palace of music will be seen "Lotta" in poses plastique, also a moving picture reproduction of President McKinley, at the Buffalo Exposition, as well as the arrest and electrocution of Ozo-goz. The electric palace contains an exhibition of black art as practiced by the Yogi in East India also an animated picture of the battle of San Juan Hill and a Trip to the Moon, which was one of the features and sensations of the Pan American Exposition at Buffalo. "Osco" who actually eats snakes alive; "Hannah" the nearest thing yet discovered to the missing link between man and monkey; "Ula" the leopard child is a mystery which the medical science has failed to solve, as in "George" the turtle boy, whose body from the angle of his jaws down is moulded more like the form of a turtle than a human being. Big Joe is without a doubt the heaviest man in the world. In addition to the foregoing attractions the Robinson Carnival Co., will offer the English Caroussel, the Pan American Ferris Wheel, the largest portable Ferris wheel in America, glass engravers, confetti battles, and what-not, all calculated to entertain and mystify the public. It is guaranteed that all shows are absolutely clean, moral, and high class and can be attended by ladies and children without escorts. The Robinson Carnival Co. tolerates neither drinking nor gambling in any of its attractions, so that good behavior will be guaranteed. It is hoped that the Benton Harbor will sustain its reputation for successful amusement events.

A Dog's Attachment to his Master.

One reads of rare instances where a dog displays unusual affection for his master, but there is not often a more remarkable illustration than that of the late W. B. Croxon's dog. At the time of his master's death he acted so unaccountable that he was imprisoned in a wood shed. A few days after the funeral when he was released he began searching continuously for his late friend, and one day last week he was found in the cemetery at the grave of his master.

Brocksburg, Neb. June 17.
To the Editor of the Buchanan Record, and friends:

I wish to find space in your paper for a word to friends in Buchanan. I am here at Brocksburg, in the midst of revival services. This place is 25 miles from a railroad in the sand hills, where the people live mostly in sod-houses of 2, 3 or 4 rooms. Fleas claim the best right to the country, and the government has not been able to oust these natives yet. They are a caution, to say the least.

Our meetings are held in a tent. People are coming to Christ; three came out in one meeting and the conviction is deepening and more will soon find his pardoning grace.

Many are coming out in the light of the grand Bible doctrine of "Life eternal only through Christ," and the final destruction of all evil. They are learning that we are in the "Last days" of probation, and time, and soon Jesus is coming to raise the dead, and destroy all the wicked. We are looking for a grand work here for God, truth and the salvation of the lost.

Yours for truth,
E. WALLACE SHEPARD.

Mr. and Mrs. William Smith, have gone to their new home in New Troy Mich. Among the many beautiful presents received at their wedding last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Redden, were a full set of china dishes, a silver tea set, a silver butter dish, a cut-glass dish, rugs, towels, and bed spreads. The presents were both numerous and handsome.

Rev. S. L. Hamilton
Rev. S. L. Hamilton, who has been our Los Angeles correspondent for some months, has accepted the superintendency of the Shasta Retreat. The Association is to be congratulated upon the securing of his services. The public will find him a man of experience, integrity and business sagacity. Rev. Hamilton, though not in robust health, is full of energy and activity. The Los Angeles Preachers' Meeting, which he has served with such fidelity as committee on program, and in fact general bureau of information on all topics, passed most cordial and appreciative resolutions concerning his work in that part of the state, to the Methodistism of all parts of California, and everywhere he will find a most hearty welcome.
The above is from the California Christian Advocate. Rev. S. L. Hamilton is well known in this section of the country and his many friends will be glad to hear from him.

JEMMY'S ATONEMENT

By Martha McCulloch-Williams
Copyright, 1905, by the S. S. McClure Company

One is my love; two is my dove; three my heart's desire;
Four I love with all my heart; five I cast in the fire!

Lois ran over the mystic rhyme, dropping her apple seeds daintily in her cupped pink palm. Johnny Black, watching her intently, heaved a huge sigh, though his eyes twinkled as he said: "A clear waste of energy, Miss Lois, all that rigamarole! I've known from the beginning you'd cast me in the fire the minute I gave you the chance."

"Dear me! You must be a mind reader. How inconvenient!" Lois murmured, smiling at him as she flipped the fateful seed into the log fire's heart.

The fireplace was so broad it took up half the end wall. Lois, sitting in the chimney jamb, her Dresden china figure thrown into high relief by the dusk wainscot, fitted into her environment as a flower fits into a clefted rock. She had on a pale blue frock foamy with lace around neck and wrists. Her yellow head rose up from the foam much as a crocus might push through melting snowdrifts.

"DON'T LEAVE ME! LET HER GO BY HERSELF!" SHE CRIED.

Johnny counted his seeds sedulously. Seven of them showed plump and brown in his big hand. "Let's see! 'Six he loves, seven she loves.' Now, who on earth can that be?" he said reflectively, puckering his brows.

Lois laughed a tingling laugh. "You know—without the seeds to tell," she said, her eyes dancing. "And I know, too. Granddad told me about Miss Jenny Rose's kissing you nine times the night of the play party!"

"I'd like to know who told him!" Johnny growled, his face scarlet.

Lois laughed outright as she answered: "Why, Jenny herself stopped granddad in the road next day. He's a lawyer, you know, and she wanted to know if being kissed nine times wasn't good ground for a breach of promise suit."

"Oh, Lord! But you're making that up. Most likely the major got it at the store—the fellows were chaffing me unmercifully," Johnny broke in, his face flushed in both hands.

Lois sat up very straight and said primly, "You can believe me or not, as you please, but my news did come straight from Miss Jenny."

"Then I wish she was in—Halifax, and married at that," Johnny cried, getting up as he spoke—"married to some six foot athletic Christian who would thrash her about once a week for the first six months! That she'd make a fine woman of her. Now she's simply a healthy, keen witted animal, with $200,000 in its pockets."

"She must be great fun. I'd like to talk to her, only she hates me like poison," Lois said.

Johnny sighed—a true sigh this time. "She is great fun until you stop to think," he said. "Poor thing! When you remember how her mother is in a madhouse, her father a roaring old rip and that in all her life she has never been crossed—why, you can't help but be sorry for her."

"I always thought you had leanings to missionary work. She is exactly the field for it," Lois said, dimpling. Johnny got up precipitately.

"I'm going home," he said. "Come along with me. I know you want a ride, and I'll bring you back safe to your own gate."

"I do want to see the creek while it is so high. Granddad says this is the biggest freshest ever known," Lois answered. Then, with smiling malice: "We will go around by Rose's mill. If Miss Jenny sees us, she can do no more than murder me."

"Take care. Don't ride too near the edge," Johnny cautioned as they reined in on top of the bluff overlooking the flooded lowlands. A week of pouring rain had left the whole world sodden. Shallow rooted trees heavy with new leaves toppled before little ruffling winds. Here and there a big bough broke with its burden of sappy growth, and everywhere caving banks and scarred hillsides told of treacherous footholds.

The bluff of gray limestone overhung

the mill pond proper. Rose's mill stood stark and idle, the race swallowed in the whelming flood. A little way off, upon a green swell, the big fire-new Rose house flaunted gay walls and staring tower. The doors stood wide; otherwise there was no sign of habitation.

Lois waved her hand toward it, saying: "Johnny, when you are master there you'll let me go up in that tower, I hope. I have wanted to ever since I watched the men building it, and unless you take me up I know I shall never get there."

"No, you won't never get there!" a woman's voice half screamed, half sobbed behind them. Jenny had pounced upon them, mounted like themselves, her black curls streaming free, eyes blazing, lips narrowed to a scarlet line in a death white face. She rode straight at Lois, crying shakily: "I hate you so I'd kill you—ef 'twant that you're on my ground! Go way, and don't you never come nigh me no more!"

Lois listened, her glance of superb scorn softening to pity as the wild tirade ran on. Silently she reined her horse aside, making to pass Jenny. Johnny pushed in between the two girls. Jenny caught his arm, with a shrill, sobbing cry: "Don't leave me! Let her go by herself!"

"You are crazy or worse," he said angrily, wrenching himself free. Jenny reined her horse upon its haunches, wheeled and spurred it madly at Lois. Lois swerved, backing her horse. Then all in a twinkling the ground crumbled beneath the animal's feet. He went rolling and crashing downward, to land in the deep water with a mighty, sickening splash.

"I have a great mind to fling you after!" Johnny shouted hoarsely, springing down and rushing to the crumbling verge.

Jenny wrung her hands. "I—I never meant ter kill! 'Twas my devil done it," she said, dropping down beside him to peer below. Instantly she sprang up and began scrambling downward, swinging agilely from ledge to ledge and shouting back: "I see her—on the shelf half way! Ride, ride! Git ropes and men! I'll hold her safe tell you come! I will, oh, I will!"

"I shall not trust you," Johnny cried, scrambling after her. But in a trice his head swam. He saved himself from fainting and falling only by clinging fast to shrubs rooted in the bluff face. Lying along a ledge, he watched with fascinated gaze the slim, upright figure creep and writhe perilously downward. When it leaped beside the other one, a huddled heap upon the narrow shelf, he could watch no longer.

The huddled figure stirred and held out its hands. Lois had freed herself and leaped off as her horse went down. By almost a miracle she had landed in leafy shrubbery, to rebound as from an air cushion to the mossy shelf, unhurt save for scratches, bruises and nervous shock.

"I'm goin' to take you back," Jenny said, nodding upward. "Not the way I come—by a sorter path pap had made fer me, so's I could come when I please. Jest shet your eyes and foller blindfold. I won't hurt you. I know it ain't wuth while."

Lois did as she was bidden. In ten minutes, that seemed like ten hours, she found herself again on the upper level. Johnny was there to seize upon her as though he would never let her go. He did not mean to be cruel. Lois' danger had driven everything else out of his mind.

Jenny watched him through a tense half minute, then with a low, choked "Goodby!" sprang out and down, to end in the gray depths. At sundown they found her, dead and beautiful, with the beauty of peace after stressful storms.

Marriage In Italy.

No maiden can witness the marriage of an Italian woman, no matter how intimate she has been as a friend, but matrons accompany her to the church. Neither can a girl enter the house of her lover, so emphatic is this rule that it is considered necessary for a woman to pass by the house of her lover in such a public way that all can be satisfied that she does not enter it. The lover gives presents according to the season—cake at Easter, rosebuds at the feast of St. Mark and almond paste at Christmas. In addition to bonbons and confectionery, the groom sends the future bride all the jewelry he can afford, especially finger rings. Sunday is the only lucky day in the week for weddings, as all others have some ominous meaning. If the wedding is on Monday, insanity is threatened; Thursday is witches' day; a Tuesday wedding will bring great suffering, etc. In Venice the bridegroom must furnish the gondolas for the marriage procession, four candles for the mass and plenty of coppers for the swarming beggars.—Woman's Home Companion.

French Fact.

A pleasant story is told of how one of the Dukes de Nivernois showed himself willing to forgive and forget. His olive branch was extended with characteristic French wit and grace.

The Count de Tressan was elected to the French academy in 1780. He was surprised to learn that the Duke de Nivernois, whose enemy he had been and against whom he had once directed a scathing epigram, had spoken in his favor. He hastened to call on him and thank him.

The conversation turned on general subjects, and De Tressan found no opportunity to refer to the past or to make the embarrassed apology which he would no doubt have offered but for his host's tact. Just as he was leaving the duke said, with a mischievous but kindly smile:

"Ah, monsieur, you see how in growing old I have lost my memory."

Dr. Tonkin of Edwardsburg was in town Saturday, treating a cancer on Jack Crandall's face.

LIBERTY TREE ★ ★

By Thomas Paine

Written In 1775

IN a chariot of light from the regions of day
The Goddess of Liberty came;
Ten thousand celestials directed the way
And hither conducted the dame.
A fair budding branch from the gardens above,
Where millions with millions agree,
She brought in her hand as a pledge of her love,
And the plant she named Liberty Tree.

The celestial exotic struck deep in the ground,
Like a native it flourished and bore;
The fame of its fruit drew the nations around
To seek out this peaceful shore.
Unmindful of names or distinction they came,
For freedom like brothers agree;
With one spirit induced they one friendship
pursued,
And their temple was Liberty Tree.

Beneath this fair tree, like the patriarchs
of old,
Their bread in contentment they ate, Unweary with the troubles of silver and gold.
The cares of the grand and the great,
With timber and tar they old England supplied
And supported her power on the sea;
Her battles they fought, without getting a groat.
For the honor of Liberty Tree.

But hear, oh, ye swains, 'tis a tale most profane.
How all the tyrannical powers,
Kings, commons and lords, are uniting again
To cut down this guardian of ours.
From the east to the west blow the trumpet to arms;
Through the land let the sound of it
fly.
Let the far and the near all unite with a cheer
In defense of our Liberty Tree.

AFTER THE BATTLE.

His Only Regret Was That He Had Missed So Much.

It was the evening after the Fourth,
as the glorious sun was sinking to its gorgeous couch of red and white clouds and blue sky, and the small boy, packed in cotton lint and a splint or two,
was lying with his face to the west,
while his father sat by his side fanning him. He was doing as well as could be expected and was already able to talk.

"Papa," he said in a dreamy, languorous tone, "did they have a Fourth of July when you was a little boy?"

"Oh, yes, my son," answered the father.

"Just the same kind they have now?"

"Just the same."

"And did you celebrate when you
was a little boy?"

"Yes, but I was more careful than you were and didn't get hurt so."

"I guess you didn't have much fun, did you?" he asked, trying to turn toward his father.

The father looked at the combination of bandages and boy on the bed and smiled.

"I thought I did, but perhaps I was mistaken," he replied.

At this point the doctor came in and made it unpleasant for the boy for some minutes. Then he went away, and the boy sniffled awhile and resumed conversation with his father.

"Is the Fourth going to keep on every year?" he asked.

"There's nothing on earth can stop it, I guess," replied the father with patriotic pride.

"That's good, ain't it?"

"We all think so in this country."

"And how long since it started?" persisted the boy, who should have been trying to go to sleep.

"Ever since 1776—about 135 years."

A shade of disappointment swept over the boy's face.

"Gee, pop," he exclaimed, "how much I've missed!" And then the father insisted that he must stop talking and try to get some much needed rest.—Washington Star.

A Delicate Remonstrance.

"When I get to be a man," said the boy who has a good memory for phrases, "I'm going to strive to cultivate an unselfish nature."

"That's right," replied his father.

"How are you going about it?"

"Well, in the first place, if I have any little boys I'll let them shoot their own fireworks instead of telling them they must let me do it for fear they will hurt themselves."—Washington

A FOURTH OF JULY MENU.

Comfort and Patriotism Around the Festal Board.

In spite of the temperature at this season Fourth of July dinners, luncheons and similar festivities are always notable features of the day's celebration.

In many homes, whether the dinner is a special affair or not, the dinner table is always decked with the national colors. Then, too, so many pretty little decorations are now provided that one can give a festal air without much work or expense. Tiny flags, bonbon boxes in the form of giant firecrackers, drums, Liberty bells, wee maids in the guise of the Goddess of Liberty and numerous other devices help to make the table gay.

A pretty way to utilize the national colors is to arrange six or eight candlesticks with red, white and blue candles in a large circle on the table under the chandelier and to attach loosely to them from the chandelier red, white and blue ribbons. Groups of tiny American flags, with the emblems of the new possessions, should adorn the chandelier.

The following menu is suggested;

Little Neck Clams.
Cold Bouillon.
Broiled Whitefish, Sauce Tartare.
Pineapple Sherbet.
Roast Lamb, Green Peas.
Cucumbers, Radishes, Olives.
Lobster Salad.
Crackers, Cheese.
Watermelon, Coffee, Bonbons.

The pineapple sherbet can be served in the shell of the fruit. If this is to be done, care should be taken in selecting a large one with a full yellow top.
Cut a slice from the top, leaving the spines on, and carefully scoop the pulp from the interior. Set the shell with the top on the ice until time to serve.
Place a large grape leaf on the plate,
fill the shell with the sherbet and stand it on the leaf. Place the top on for a cover.

The watermelon should be cut in two and a thin slice taken from the end of each half, so that it will stand. The top edges can be decorated with the finest flags.

The best way to serve a melon is to scoop the interior out with a large spoon. Bonbon boxes in some patriotic device can be placed at each cover.—

John Jay's Vow For the Fourth.

Let us, standing by our fathers' graves, swear anew and teach the oath to our children that, with God's help, the American republic, claspings this continent in its embrace, shall stand unmoved, though all the powers of slavery, piracy and European jealousy should combine to overthrow it; that we shall have in the future, as we have had in the past, one country, one constitution and one destiny; that our sons may gather strength from our example in every contest with despotism that time may have in store to try their virtue and that they may rally under the stars and stripes to battle for freedom and the rights of man with our olden warranty, "Liberty and union, now and forever, one and inseparable."—
John Jay, July 4, 1861.

Finest Flag That Floats.

When we wake up on a Fourth of July morning, those of us who have passed beyond the delightful time of 4 a. m.
and firecrackers, we are often disposed to make sundry and pointed remarks about the noise that we hear, but when we gather ourselves together and get to the window and look out, when we see on the nearest flagstaff the stars and stripes, brilliant and beautiful as the debutante in the first flush of social success, we forget about the noise.
We only remember that we are citizens of the greatest republic the world ever knew, and we know that any disturbance we may hear is in honor of that flag which is floating above us. We are proud of it.

The Demand For Flags.

The manufacturers of flags say that it does not seem to make much difference how strenuously they seek to pile up stock by degrees in order to fill the Fourth of July demand. About a month before the Fourth so many orders come in they have all they can do to fill them. A curious fact is that no matter how hard times may be the demand for flags rarely lessens. We may have only a few dollars in our pockets, but that makes us none the less patriotic.

Millions of Flags.

Think of it! Every year the people of the United States buy 3,000,000 flags. During that same period 1,000-000 flags disappear. Nobody knows where they go to. Like Mr. Isaacs and Ram Lal, they go into the "cold, clear light," and that is all that anybody seems to know.

The Liberty Bell's Echo.

Like a voice of invocation
Rose the stirring incantation,
And the heart throbs of a nation
Timed them to the measure grand,
For the bell with eye of sages
Read unwritten history's pages;
Saw the glory that the ages
Should bestow on Freedom's land;

Saw the struggle fierce impending,
Man 'gainst man his right defending;
Saw the peace the combat ending,
Saw and shouted it abroad,

And the strong tones upward springing,
Note to note in triumph winging,
Seemed like angel voices singing Halleluiahs to the Lord!

Long ago it told that story
Rung by ringer bent and hoary;
Now, like prophet clothed in glory,
High it hangs, its mission done,
And it speaks its falling favors
In a voice that breaks and quavers
Like an old man's song that wavers
When life's thread is nearly run.

But through silent cycles reaching,
Pregnant with a soft beseeching
That our hearts should heed its teaching,
Comes a memory of its lay—
Comes an echoed bell note ringing,
And the quick tears upward leaping Show we shrine in reverent keeping Freedom's messenger today.

COUNTY SEAT NEWS

Annie Nellie Engberger of Chicago by her attorney, Judge Van Riper, has filed a foreclosure bill against Wm.
Wirt Stevens and wife Lillian Lacy
Stevens, Gertrude A. Lewis, and Joseph W. Selden, receiver of the First National bank of Niles to recover money due on mortgage for $4,000 on property situated in Niles. The writ is made returnable for July 24, 1902.

Albert A. Potter, a mail carrier, started suit against Frank Weber, a well known St. Joseph grocerman, in the circuit court, Wednesday morning for $1,000. Potter claims to have been bitten by a vicious dog kept by Weber and lost considerable time from his business beside suffering great bodily pain. Potter was bitten on June 9.

A decision has been rendered in the supreme court in the case of John Bays vs. the Warren Featherbone company. It will be remembered Bays was injured by an accident in the factory at Three Oaks and brought suit against the proprietors for damages. In the first trial in the circuit court the jury disagreed but in the second trial the plaintiff was given judgment for $11,500. For supreme court decided in favor of the defendant.

The Benton Harbor & St. Joseph artef railway company have filed a bond for $3,500 with the county clerk to appeal the LeClear case to the supreme court thereby refusing to pay $2,500 judgment granted LeClear by the circuit court. Judge Coolidge has granted a stay in the proceedings until the bill of exceptions is settled.

John H. Sparks, administrator of the estate of the late Burton Jarvis of Buchanan, has brought suit against the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance company for the amount of Mr.
Jarvis' $1,700 paid up insurance. The policy was made payable to the wife of Mr. Jarvis in 1878, but she died about five years before the decease of her husband. The heirs of each claim the money respectfully and the insurance company permits the suit to establish through the courts to whom they shall pay over the money.

Arthur H. Shoemaker has petstioned the circuit court to order that the books of the Threshermen's Review publishing company be examined and a settlement made. Plaintiff was formerly managing editor of the Review.

The case of Pears 'against Benton township has had three trials and the fourth is expected. In the first trial Pearl received a verdict of $5000, in the second $8700; in the third the defendant won.

Elsie A. Smith has commenced a suit for divorce against John Smith on the ground of cruelty.

John Jones and William Wood, the young boys who were arrested for robbing the home of Mrs. Stover in Arden, were sentenced to nine months at Ionia.

Ferdie D. Liscomb has been granted a divorce by Judge Coolidge from his wife Ellen Liscomb, on the ground of desertion.

Florence F. Hutchinson has sued for divorce from Hiram W. Hutchinson, alleging unkind, disrespectful and cruel treatment.

A suit by summons in which Daniel Cullinane is plaintiff and John Cullinane defendant, has been commenced in the Circuit court.

IN MEMORIAM

Death of Well Known Resident.

Sanford W. Van Meter was born in Sparta, Ohio Feb. 21st, 1842, and died in Buchanan June 25th, 1902. There are surviving him a brother and sister, the widow and her only son our respected townsfollo and business man, Wm. Van Meter.

While a young man our country was rent by civil war, he offered his services and was enlisted in the 86th Ohio volunteers, where he served his country faithfully until honorably discharged.

Thirty-eight years ago he was married to Miss Jessie C. Crawford, at Dayton Ohio, and in 1872 he removed to Michigan where he has resided ever since and was actively engaged in business. At the time of his death he was identified with his son in business. He was a kind, unassum-ing man going about his daily avocation in a manner that made all who knew him his friend. He was a member of the I. O. O. F.

The funeral services were held at his residence, and were attended by the Odd Fellows and the G. A. R.
The burial services were conducted by the G. A. R. Rev. C. E. Marvin preached the funeral sermon. The remains were buried in Oak Ridge cemetery by undertaker Perrott & Son.

JULIA VAUGHN DALRYMPLE

Mrs. Julia Dalrymple, nee Vaughn, was born in St. Joseph Co. Ind. and died, after four weeks illness, on June 28th at the home of her daughter, in Dayton, Mich.

In 1863 she was married to Wm.
Dalrymple, who preceeded her to the eternal world less than a year ago.

The family passed through many deep waters of affliction and sorrow
A few years ago the home was depleted through the death of seven children within a very short time.
There remain to mourn the departure of a daughter, mother and sister; an aged mother; three children, Mrs.
Allen Moyer and Georgia and Leo.
Dalrymple aged eleven and thirteen,
one brother, three sisters with many sympathizing friends and neighbors.

Brief services were held at the home in Dayton from which place
the body was removed to Hamilton Ind. for burial and where further services were conducted in the M. E.
Church by Rev. Niergarth.

Special Convocation

St. Joseph Valley Chapter No. 2 R.
A. M. of Niles held a special convention on Friday evening June 27, to confer the Royal Arch Degree. W.
C. Hovey High Priest of Calvin Chapter No. 72 of St. Joseph conferred the degree.

There were present from Buchanan
C. D. Kent, I. L. H. Dodd and B. H.
Desenberg and D. V. Brown.

TWELVE YEARS

Judge Coolidge Gives Four Hoboes Each
That for Heinous Crime.

Palladium: The jury in the case of the six tramps on trial for sodomy in the Circuit court, returned a verdict convicting four, James O'Brien, Thos.
Scanlon, Geo. Williams and Albert Hoffman, and disagreeing as to the guilt of the other two—Frank Gray and Thos. McMahon.

The four men, all of whom seemed to be deeply affected by the verdict, were at once arraigned before Judge Coolidge for sentence, and the court asked them what they had to say.

Only one, Thomas Scanlon, attempted to say anything. He asked the Judge to be as lenient as possible as he has a wife and family living in the northern part of the state.

Judge Coolidge told him the time to have thought of his wife and children was before the commission of the crime, which he said was one of the
