THE MYSTERY OF AN INVENTOR

[Original.]

Winslow Fairchild was an inventor. He had worked a number of years before striking anything of actual value. Then he happened to fall in love. There is nothing to settle a man down to steady practical effort so much as love and marriage. The first invention Fairchild made after his engagement he sold for $3,000. On this he married.

His workshop was a single room on an upper floor in a business block in the city. There he used to go at 9 o'clock in the morning and work all day at his inventions. In a few months he had perfected a machine which he believed would make his fortune. He made a very excellent model of the choicest wood, with brass fittings, keeping it a secret and locking the model in his shop when not there, so that no one could get at it. When, however, his lawyer came to ask for a patent, he was informed that the same machine had been perfected a few days before.

Great was Fairchild's disappointment, but greater was his surprise that some one else had been working on the same plan as himself and at the same time. Nevertheless he applied himself diligently and in the course of a year had another novelty ready for patenting. What was his astonishment to find that in this also some one had got ahead of him. This time he began to suspect that his plans had been copied. But who could have done so? He kept them locked in a safe in his shop, and there was no evidence of the safe ever having been opened by any one except himself. He made an inspection of the entrances to his shop, but there was only one door, on which he had placed a lock that no one would be likely to pick. There was nothing about the room that gave any evidence of having been tampered with. However, before completing other plans and another model, every night before leaving he placed a seal on the door and on each of the two windows. The seals were never broken except by himself when he returned to work in the morning. Nevertheless when he applied for a patent on his next machine he found that he had been forestalled.

Hoping to get rid of the trouble by changing his shop, Fairchild rented a room in another building. Here he made a new machine. Giving the plans to his lawyer, he awaited the result with feverish anxiety. The report came, as usual, that the invention had been patented.

By this time he had spent every cent he had received for his first invention and had made nothing more. A child had been born to him, and his necessary expenses were increased. There was something so irritating, so wearing on him that some mysterious person or spirit was taking advantage of his brain work, leaving him and his family to starve, that he at last broke down with nervous prostration. He applied to a detective agency, but as he could not give the slightest clew to the mystery and had no money to pay for having the matter followed up they declined to take the case.

Meanwhile as his spirits sank his wife rose to the occasion. She contended that there was no way for any one to steal the plans except at the shop and determined to keep a watch there herself. Her husband was too discouraged to make a new invention, but he wrote out a bogus plan and set up a former model. While it was approaching completion Mrs. Fairchild, leaving their little one in care of her husband, went to the shop. She entered it stealthily, so as not to put any one on guard. She sat in the dark till long past midnight, but saw nothing unusual. The next night she went again to the shop and sat in the dark. It was a forlorn hope sitting there with only the dim model to see against the window. It was perhaps 11 o'clock when she began to feel sleepy. She shook off the temptation, but despite her efforts her eyes became heavy. She pinched herself to keep awake. Suddenly there was a flash so blinding that she was forced to close her eyes for a second, and when she opened them all was darker than ever.

Mrs. Fairchild waited awhile so as not to alarm any one, then stealthily left the shop and, going to the nearest police office, told the officers she thought there were robbers in the building where her husband had his shop. Several of them accompanied her, she having the good sense to warn them to make a search with great caution. They searched every floor, at last coming to the one where the shop was located. One man stationed himself on the landing above, one below. There were but two rooms on a floor, and the men directed their search to the rear room back of the shop. The door was locked, and there was no appearance of a light within. At Mrs. Fairchild's request the policeman broke open the door. Directing a bullseye lantern into the apartment, a man was seen cowering in a corner. In a table drawer was found a number of photographs in different stages of finish, on the table a camera. Near the ceiling in the wall between the room and the shop was a hole so carefully made and stopped when not used that it would never be observed unless sought for. Holding the light to the photographs, Mrs. Fairchild recognized at once pictures of her husband's models.

The man was arrested and confessed that he had been photographing Fairchild's models ever since the inventor had been making them by means of the flashlight process of photography. He was convicted, and all of his patents were transferred to Fairchild, who is now enormously wealthy.

TRACEY THE TERRIBLE

Continues to Defy the Whole Power of the State of Washington.

SLIPS PAST THOSE HUNTING HIM

Takes Possession of a Ranch and Enjoys Himself.

Leaving There with the Family Bound and Gagged, Himself Supplied Generously and the Hired Man to Row.

Seattle, Wash., July 7.—Harry Tracey, the Oregon convict, has again eluded his pursuers, after a display of great daring. His last act was to impress a farm hand into embarking on the sound in a rowboat late Saturday, and at noon yesterday Sheriff Cudihoe chartered the tug Sea Lion and with a posse started in pursuit. According to information received at the sheriff's office here yesterday Tracey slept in a graveyard on the outskirts of Seattle after his battle Thursday night with Seattle officers. On Friday morning he proceeded to the ranch of a man named Fisher, secured food and slept, and rested in the woods all that day and night. Early Saturday morning he appeared at Meadow Point, on the water front three miles north of Seattle, his original point of landing.

There he compelled a Japanese fisher boy to row him to Madison Point, twelve miles across and down the sound from Seattle. He dismissed the boy, declaring that the latter would be killed by Tracey's pal if he told of the trip. They landed near the home of Rancher Johnson, and Tracey watched the house for an hour to make sure of the number of men there. Finding but two, he entered and announced that he intended to kill every one on the ranch and take charge of the place for a few days. He added: "But after seeing your pretty little girl I will kill no one if you all mind me. I will be here all day."

Why He "Had to Kill" Two Officers. The family prepared breakfast for Tracey and put one plate on a table against the wall. "This is not right," declared the convict. "Put the table in the middle of the room and all sit down with me." This was done. Tracey then read Friday evening's papers, and after learning how Mrs. Van Horn had betrayed his presence in her house to the butcher boy said he had been careless in not keeping every one in that house constantly under his eye. "My carelessness in this respect made it necessary to kill two officers," he said.

Went Away Well Fixed. He forced the Johnsons to give him a bundle of clothing and hats and six days' supplies of food, cooked for him; put on Johnson's suit of Sunday black, and had the food, clothing and blankets made into bundles. At 8 p. m. he bound and gagged the Johnson family, made their hired man, Anderson, carry the bundles to Johnson's rowboat, put Anderson in the boat at the oars and started down the sound. Mrs. Johnson released herself and the others two hours later, and notified Deputy Sheriff McKay, who lives at Madison Point. And that is how Sheriff Cudihoe comes to have "taken water" in this case fifteen hours behind the man he wants.

CHICAGO POLICE HAVE CLUES

They Also Have a Lot of Silverware Stolen by Train Thieves.

Chicago, July 7.—The detectives of the Rock Island railroad claim to have several clues to the identity of the men who held up the passenger train near Dupont. They assert that the robbers were "Dutch" Cassidy and Harry Longbaugh, who are said to have belonged to the gang that held up a Union Pacific train some time ago.

Watches, knives, spoons and jewelers' supplies, part of the plunder secured by the bandits, have been found, and the indications are that the desperadoes are near Chicago. A sack containing the plunder was discovered yesterday on the farm of Henry Schultz, three miles and a half north of Tinley Park, by Dexter Manard, a farmer who lives within half a mile of the place where the train was held up.

L. P. Moss, a farmer living a few miles from the scene of the robbery, has furnished the police with a description of a young man who called at his house on the morning of the robbery and inquired the way to Chicago. Moss was suspicious, and in company with his hired man followed the stranger a short distance. The man, seeing he was followed, ran into the woods and escaped.

China Wants Tientsin Evacuated.

Washington, July 7.—The Chinese government has appealed to the government of the United States to use its good offices to cause the allied powers who still retain their soldiers in Tientsin, to evacuate that place in conformity with the spirit of the agreement of Peking, which settled the Boxer troubles. The appeal was made by Minister Wu directly to Secretary Hay in the shape of a cablegram from Viceroy Yuan Shih-Kai of Chih-Li, which the minister supplemented with a long verbal explanation.

BET SUGAR MEN WONDERING

Would Like to Know if the Trust Is After Their Factory.

Bay City, Mich., July 8.—Minority stockholders in the Michigan Sugar company are wondering if there is any truth in a rumor that the trust intends getting control and uniting the factory with that of the Bay City company. An agent of the Havemeyers was here a few days ago and held a conference with the officers of the Michigan company. This is the pioneer sugar factory of Michigan. It was capitalized at $200,000 and bonded for enough more to complete the factory.

Its earnings have been sufficient to pay off the bonded indebtedness and a fair interest each year to the stockholders, so that they are very well pleased with the investment and would be satisfied to leave matters as they stand. The Michigan and Bay City factories adjoin, and according to the report they are to be united so that the steam of the Bay City factory can be applied to the Michigan. President Churchill, of the Bay City factory, denies the rumor.

DURAND SEEMS RECEPTIVE

Owens That There Is "A Time When a Man Ceases to Be His Own Boss."

Flint, Mich., July 7.—Judge George H. Durand, who has been prominently mentioned for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, was seen by a correspondent shortly after his morning mail had been delivered. Masses of letters were stacked upon his desk, which he was slowly opening. "This is only one mail," he said to the newspaper man. "I receive a flood of it every day, and don't know when it will end." "Will you accept the nomination on the Democratic ticket?" he was asked.

The judge did not answer immediately, but paced his office slowly as he said: "I cannot tell you now. I can only say that there comes a time when a man is no longer his own boss. Roosevelt found that out. I can only say to you that should this demand become too great, why, a man must be a gentleman. I cannot give you a direct answer as to my acceptance at this time."

Ready to Close in on Sutton.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., July 7.—State Attorney General H. M. Oren, who is in this city, said that the state had detectives searching for Colonel Eli R. Sutton, who is charged with having committed perjury while on trial for complicity in the state military clothing frauds, ever since his disappearance, which occurred immediately after the warrant was issued for his arrest. The detectives have just reported, Oren says, that they believe they have discovered Sutton's whereabouts, and are about ready to close in on him.

Large Drydock at the Soo.

Detroit, Mich., July 7.—W. C. Barr, of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., who is prominently identified with the F. H. Clergue interests at the Soo, announces that one of the Clergue projects is to build a large drydock at the Soo. It will be what is known as a gravity dock, being so located between the levels of Lake Superior and the Power canal that no pumping will be necessary in emptying the dock. Barr said the dock would be about 500 feet long, and that work on it would be begun this fall or next spring.

Celery Crop Is in Danger.

Kalamazoo, Mich., July 4.—Kalamazoo and vicinity were visited Wednesday night by the heaviest rainfall of the season. It commenced to rain about 8 p. m. and continued for an hour. It is estimated that two inches of rain fell. Many of the celery fields were completely flooded, and in some instances crops were washed away. Loss to the celery growers alone will be thousands of dollars. If the wet weather continues another week the growers claim it will mean a loss of $150,000.

Unloaded Pistol Does Its Work.

Detroit, Mich., July 5.—Mrs. Anna Mach, of 290 Garfield avenue, was the victim of an early morning Fourth of July fatality. Her husband, John Mach, at midnight went out into the street and fired his revolver several times, and says he supposed he emptied all the chambers; but half an hour later when he returned to the house and was handling the gun another chamber was discharged, the bullet taking effect in Mrs. Mach's left breast.

Tried to Beat His Way.

Kalamazoo, Mich., July 4.—Just before the thorough American express train from New York to Chicago arrived here last night an 18-year-old boy was found concealed in a dry goods box in the Boston express car. The box was tagged to Cheney, Wash. The parcel was put off here and the boy was taken to jail. He gave his name as William Edmondson, of Boston. He said he had a friend ship him from Boston as express.

On the Board of Pension Appeals.

Eaton Rapids, Mich., July 7.—C. O. Markham, of this city, has been appointed to a place on the board of pension appeals. Markham's birthplace is Ashtabula, O., but he has spent most of his life in this city. He is a graduate of Olivet college. He has been city attorney and city treasurer of Eaton Rapids.

Has a Personal Interest Now.

Marquette, Mich., July 5.—State Legislator John R. Gordon had a hole torn through his hand last night by a sky rocket. At the last session of the legislature Gordon presented a bill to prevent the use of fireworks, but was induced to withdraw it before action was taken. He says he will reintroduce the bill at the next session.

NEWS OF THE STATE.

Telegraphic Reports of Matters of General Interest to Our Readers.

MICHIGAN HAPPENINGS BY WIRE

Items Prepared with Special Care for the Convenience of Our Own Readers.

Clare, Mich., July 8.—Anna B. Curtis, the 12-year-old girl who is to be tried during the September term of court for the alleged murder of 1-year-old Pennel Parodie, has been taken to the county jail at Harrison. The mother of the dead child, Mrs. George Parodie, her husband and baby boy were boarders at the Curtis home. The Curtis family is well-to-do, apparently, the family consisting only of husband, wife and the little daughter who stands charged with an atrocious murder. The babe, the afternoon of June 19 last, had been left on the bed in the Paradies' room, while Mrs. Parodie helped Mrs. Curtis pick over berries on the back porch. Anna, the accused girl, was playing on the front porch with a neighbor's little boy.

Evidence of the Child's Mother.

Says Mrs. Parodie: "I happened to go up stairs, and on the first landing I heard the baby crying. The door to the room was closed, while I had left it open. The odor of carbolic acid was strong in the room. I found that the baby's lips and throat were white, as though cooked. I brought the baby down stairs, and saw Anna on the inside of the screen door, with her hand on the hook. There was a boy out on the front stoop. Anna was up stairs at the time I put the baby to sleep, and asked to take him over to the laundry, but I refused to let her, as the cart was not safe."

Looked at Anna's Tongue.

The babe was taken to a neighbor's and a doctor summoned, but the little one died in convulsions, from the obvious effects of carbolic acid poisoning. There was a bottle of carbolic acid on a high shelf in the Curtis house. It is claimed that after the tragedy a chair was found before this shelf. Mrs. Parodie says she looked at Anna's tongue and found it burned, as though the girl had tasted the acid.

Suspected Girl a Wonder.

The suspected girl is a wonder of intelligence. She recites with rare skill, plays the piano brilliantly for a child of her age, is a great reader of the Bible, and something of a poet. If her teachers displeased her she satirized them in storming verse. If they pleased her she lauded them in flowery rhyme. Her mother is a thin little woman with light hair and piercing blue eyes. She protested that Anna is innocent, and said that only the night before the girl had read the Bible into the night. It is stated that the girl has a natural dislike for babies and had tried to drown Mrs. Parodie's baby.

TERRIBLE SIGHT FOR A MOTHER

Stands on Shore and Sees Her Son and Two Other Boys Drown.

Detroit, July 8.—Three young boys, Tony Henkel, Oscar Rosenberg and Conrad Bride of Detroit, were drowned in the middle channel at the St. Clair flats by the capsizing of a sailboat. The accident occurred about 200 feet from Savages hotel, where young Henkel and Rosenberg were stopping. The boys were endeavoring to come about with their boat and run back to the hotel dock when a puff of wind capsized it.

The boys clambered on the bottom of their boat as shewent over. A naphtha launch started to their rescue, but its engine broke down before the wreck was reached and the launch drifted helplessly about. Witnesses on the hotel dock could not see the only rowboat at the dock and the boys slipped off and sank. Mrs. Henkel, Tony's mother, saw them perish. The water in the channel is forty feet deep, and the current very strong. The boys did not come to the surface again after they sank for the first time.

THEN ROY WENT TO HIS LUNCH

After Playing a Joke on Some Fair Michigan Schoolma'ams.

Bay City, Mich., July 4.—The genial and bald city clerk of the west side enjoys a joke as well as any mortal in this end of Michigan. A bevy of schoolma'ams came to his office to sign the agreement for the ensuing year. All of them signed off-hand, without reading the document. Clerk Roy then asked them if they knew what they had signed. Why, certainly; the same contract as the old one.

"But you are not sure the marriage clause is the same, are you? The board does not want you to get married during the school term." Four of the six said that was all right, but the other two blushed and stammered, and finally sat down to read the contract, saying they would never have signed had they known of this clause. They actually heaved a sigh of relief when they failed to find that clause, but then they also failed to find John. He had concluded it was time for lunch.

Has a Cannibal for a Son.

Mesick, Mich., July 7.—The home of Hugh Griffith, living northwest of this place, was the scene of a terrible affair. Alexander Griffith, his son, becoming enraged at his father, assaulted him, and during the heat assaulted his teeth upon his father's ear, and jumping back literally tore the ear from his head.

Child's Body in the Tan.

Ovid, Mich., July 7.—When the rural mail carrier for this district drove up to the windmill tank on the farm of a Mr. Maynard, near Chapin, he found the body of Maynard's 5-year-old son in the tank. The child had fallen in while at play and drowned.

Indian Trading Post Destroyed.

Guthrie, O. T., July 8.—The town of White Horse, an old Indian trading post off the railroad in Woods county, was destroyed by fire. The loss is estimated at $100,000. A. Phillips, a farmer, was fatally burned.

FIRE COSTS HALF A MILLION

Which Insurance Companies Will Have to Pay Swift & Co.—Great Stock Yards Blaze.

Chicago, July 7.—By a fire which broke out in their plant at the stock yards Saturday night Swift & Co. suffered a loss which is estimated by the officials of the company at $500,000. The fire was confined to one building standing at the intersection of Packers avenue and Broadway. This structure was four stories high, built of brick, and was 300 feet square. The first floor was occupied by the wholesale meat market of the company, the second by the shipping department, and the third and fourth by the general offices of the company. Part of it was saved.

The first arrivals of the fire department were unable to check the fire, and repeated calls were sent in for assistance, but all the engines that the department could gather were not able to prevent the destruction of part of the building. A fire wall prevented entire destruction. Within an hour after the fire was discovered the damage was done. The burned building adjoins portions of the plants of Armour & Co. and Libby, McNeil & Libby, and the firemen had to work hard to save them. Insurance will cover the loss.

Chicago, July 7.—Fire destroyed the buildings at 505, 307-9 and 311-13 Wash-bash avenue, causing losses aggregating over $325,000. For a time the fire threatened widespread destruction, as it was only through the utmost efforts of the firemen that the flames were prevented from spreading to the department store of Siegel, Cooper & Co., fronting on State street and separated from the burning buildings by only a narrow alley. Much excitement was caused among the guests at the Auditorium hotel and Annex, across Washash avenue from the burning buildings.

DR. O'MALLEY QUITE ILL

Notre Dame Professor Said to Be in a Critical Condition, Owing to His Wife's Conduct.

Philadelphia, July 7.—Professor Austin O'Malley, whose wife was arrested a few days ago charged with the theft of jewels from her husband's brother, is in a critical condition at St. Agnes' hospital. It was feared that he could not live through the day. He suffered a severe relapse during the morning, and his family was summoned to his bedside. He subsequently rallied somewhat, but his condition is such that the gravest fears are felt by his physicians.

The information regarding the arrest of Mrs. O'Malley and the story of her alleged intended elopement with William J. Hearn are believed to have been responsible for Professor O'Malley's serious condition. It is authoritatively stated that the only charge that will be made by the local police against Mrs. O'Malley will be the one on which she was arrested—larceny. If the accused woman is called upon to face the charge of attempting to poison her husband, as it has been rumored she may, it must be brought by the authorities of South Bend, Ind.

DEAD NUMBER TWELVE

Baird, Miss Electa Baird, Fred Cronin, Edward Davis, Mrs. Ornan Eastman, Miss Margaret Main, Isadore Rothberg, Joseph Saloy, Mrs. Joseph Saloy, Edward L. Joseph Chamberlain Injured.

London, July 8.—The colonial secretary, Joseph Chamberlain, was somewhat severely cut on the head as the result of a cab accident in Whitehall. The secretary's hansom was passing through the Canadian arch when the horse slipped and Mr. Chamberlain was precipitated forward with great violence. His head struck and shattered the glass front of the cab. When extricated it was seen that Mr. Chamberlain's head was badly lacerated and bleeding profusely. A policeman helped the secretary into a cab and accompanied him to a surgeon's office.

That on good authority it has been stated that there are now 3,400,000 telephones in use throughout the U. S., and that over 200,000 instruments have been put in farm houses since 1890?

That Miss Susan Quay, youngest daughter of Senator Quay of Penn., will act as sponsor for the new U. S. cruiser Pennsylvania, the fastest war ship in the navy which is soon to be launched?

That the navy department has its plans practically complete for the four big warships just authorized by the new naval law and to bear the names, Louisiana, Connecticut, Tennessee and Washington?

That the empress dowager of China has issued a series of edicts completely upsetting the hoary educational system there and substituting in its place modern schools and colleges, the edict affecting this year about 1,000 civil service students?

That there were gathered large crowds each day last week in front of one of the big department stores in New York City to see fac similes of the crowns worn by most of the crowned heads in Europe which looked far less like bejeweled cooking utensils than one would suppose from the illustrations?

A household necessity. Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil. Heals burns, cuts, wounds of any sort; cures sore throat, croup, catarrh, asthma; never fails.

The opening occurs on Sunday July 27th when Evangelist W. E. Biedewolf will preach, and from that day on till the close of the assembly Aug. 16, each day will present a program varied and entertaining enough to please the most critical.

Rev. George L. McNutt, the clergyman who doffed his ministerial garb and donned the overalls of the "dinner-pail brigade" will make several addresses from his experience of two hundred different "jobs" as ditch digger, miner, glass blower, mill hand, etc. He has many interesting things to tell concerning the temptations and circumstances of the men among whom he worked.

The D. W. Robertson Edison Projectoscope Co. are among the list of entertainers for the first week, being down on the program for Monday evening July 28.

The others are Lieut. Hobson, Montville Flowers, Miss Ellen Stone, Prof. R. B. Welbourn, Rev. Geo. Jackson, Miss Katharine Eggleston, W. W. Pfimmer, The McGibbens, Rev. Sam P. Jones, Prof. T. H. The dates and subjects of the various entertainers will be announced in these columns from time to time.

The M. B. H. & C. R. R. as well as the other railroads will issue excursion tickets for the assembly and every effort is being made to accommodate a large crowd.

SPLENDID SUCCESS

Our Band's First Efforts Pleas'd the People.

Thursday evening came and with it the crowds of people along the streets, who patiently waited to hear our band in their maiden efforts. The minutes fled along and an hour was gone. Nine o'clock was nearing and the look of disappointment was settling on the faces of some for it was reported there would be no concert and the Record had been premature in its announcement, but soon the word passed along, they were coming and the boys came marching down the stair way into the street under the electric light at Main and Front streets.

As we passed along we heard nothing but praise. They played four selections and all did well, they kept good time and too much praise can not be given the band. Mr. George East, baton in hand, acted as leader and splendid success was the result of their first effort. Boys, we hope to hear you soon again, and you reflect credit on your permanent leader Mr. Dickinson who unfortunately was out of town Thursday evening.

OUR PHUNNY COLUMN.

Hope Springs Eternal

The patience of fisherman who really love the sport is the theme of many stories. One is told by a man who, travelling on foot through part of England, came upon a solitary fisherman, who looked as if time and the world might pass away without disturbing his content.

"Have you fished long in this stream?" asked the traveller.

"Eighteen years," was the calm reply.

"Get many bites?" was the next question. The fisherman scarcely turned his gaze from the rod in his hands.

"Five years ago in this very spot I had a fine bite," he answered hopefully.—Youth's Companion.

What he Wanted to say.

A few days ago Mr. Taylor was absent from his drug store for a few minutes and left his wife in charge. A large Norwegian who spoke English with difficulty entered and said:

"Hi owe de firm 10 cents"

"Very well" replied Mrs. Taylor "just pay it to me and it will be all right."

The Norwegian made no attempt to produce the coin, but gazed steadily at Mrs. Taylor and repeated:

"Hi owe de firm 10 cents."

"Yes, I heard you say that before. Now if you are afraid, I will give you a receipt for it."

In astonishment the man from Norway looked at her and walked out without a word. Pretty soon he returned with a fellow country man whose command of English was a little better and who interpreted the remarks to Mrs. Taylor by explaining: He wants 10 cents worth of iodoform—Michigan Tradesman.

POULTRY

There is one point upon which the best success in poultry-keeping depends, in respect to which not enough is known of the best methods actually adopted by those who may be called professional adepts. It is so often forced upon the attention of those who take some pride in small successes in this field, and so little is learned that satisfies the amateur chicken raiser, that information as to the methods of the experts is earnestly desired for further enlightenment.

The crying want is, in a general way, a want of cleanliness. With say 50 fowls, confined during the joyful season of gardens and lawns to a house conveniently arranged with proper roosts and laying room, and a sufficiently large yard, fenced with wire netting, high enough to defy the most flighty of libberth-loving hens, what are the very best methods of insuring cleanliness? What is the daily habit of care which gives the most reliable protection against these three serious and obstinate evils: (1) Vermin, (2) foul odors, (3) scabby legs and feet?

A bright eye, plumage in fine feather, smooth, clean legs and feet, and neat quarters are all so necessary to the comfort of the owner of poultry, and presumably to the feathered biped also, that an exact knowledge of the actual, practical system that secures them would doubtless be hailed and adopted with great satisfaction by many. Cannot we have a little symposium on this precise point giving up the explicit rules of those who are most successful in this regard with fowls in close confinement?

As whatever effects health, comfort and high condition has an important bearing upon production, no doubt the highest cleanliness will also tell in a fuller egg basket. But it often happens that while a moderate stock of poultry gives an average or rather more than an average product in the number of eggs laid, there is an uncomfortable consciousness that in this matter of cleanliness, especially during the summer months, we fail to come up to the desired standard.

Will not the expert come to the assistance of the rank and file.—The Country Gentleman.

THEFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT FOR CONSTIPATION

Constipation is nothing more than a clogging of the bowels and nothing less than vital stagnation or death if not relieved. If every constipated sufferer could realize that he is allowing poisonous filth to remain in his system, he would soon get relief. Constipation invites all kind of contagion. Headaches, biliousness, colds and many other ailments disappear when constipated bowels are relieved. Theford's Black-Draught thoroughly cleans out the bowels in an easy and natural manner without the purging of calomel or other violent cathartics.

Be sure that you get the original Theford's Black-Draught, made by The Chattanooga Medicine Co. Sold by all druggists in 25 cent and $1.00 packages.

Morgan, Ark., May 25, 1901. I cannot recommend Theford's Black-Draught too highly. I keep it in my house all the time and have used it for the last ten years. I never gave my children any other laxative. I think I could never be able to work without it on account of being troubled with constipation. Your medicine is all that keeps me up.

A GOOD SAFE INVESTMENT!

Beaumont Oil Stock For Sale.

W. L. Murphy President of the Trenton Rock Oil Company of Beaumont Texas, and Cashier of the Citizens National Bank of that city, who is at present in Buchanan on a recreation trip, offers for sale a limited amount of the stock of the Trenton Rock Oil Co., at 50 cents on the dollar. The capital stock of the company is $300,000.00 divided into 800,000 shares of the par value of $1.00 each. The stock is full paid and non-assessable.

The directors and officers of the company are composed chiefly of prominent bankers and business men of the state of Texas. The holdings of the company consist of 320 acres of land near Beaumont in one tract. Another tract of 15 1/2 acres 4 miles northwest of the oil fields and immediately between "Spindle Top" and "Sane Lake" two of the largest oil fields in the world; another tract of 1 acre within 1,500 feet of the largest gusher in Spindle Top; also 1-16 on an acre in the very heart of the oil field, on which the company has a magnificent flowing well of an estimated capacity of 40,000 to 50,000 barrels per day. The company also owns its own tank cars and has access to all railroads and to deep water at Port Arthur through pipe lines. The company is now filling contracts for about 400,000 barrels of oil at fair figures, and could contract to sell three times as much oil at once, but owing to the rapidly advancing prices and increasing demand for Beaumont oil the management has deemed best to make no further contracts for the present, believing that within a short time much higher prices will prevail, probably 50 cts. to $1.00 per barrel.

Mr. Murphy will guarantee to purchasers of the stock a 10 per cent dividend on the par value of same. The dividend will probably be much larger. The Trenton Rock Oil Co. is no Wild Cat concern, but a solid business corporation chartered under the Texas laws, and officered and conducted by some of the best business men in that state. Mr. Murphy invites the closest scrutiny and inquiry as to who he is and the standing of the company he represents. He refers those interested to the City National Bank and National Exchange Bank, both of Dallas Texas; also to the Citizens National Bank and the American National Bank of Beaumont, Texas. For further information call on or address W. L. Murphy, now stopping at Clear Lake near Buchanan, or Mr. Chas. Pears cashier of the First National Bank of Buchanan.

Democratic County Convention. The Democrats of Berrien county will meet in convention at Berrien Springs in the Town Hall on Wednesday July 23, 1902, at eleven o'clock a. m. for the purpose of selecting twenty-four delegates to attend the State Convention to be held at Detroit July 30, and 31, 1902; to select delegates to attend the Congressional, the Senatorial and Representative Convention yet to be called; to elect a county committee and chairman to serve for the ensuing two years, and to transact such other business as may properly come before it.

TROUBLESOME TIMES

CHICAGO FREIGHT HANDLERS OUT

Chicago, July 8.—Nearly 9,000 freight handlers, at a signal given by members of a secret committee, stopped work and went on strike at 9:30 a. m. yesterday. Four hours later vigorous steps were being taken looking toward a settlement. Meantime, officials of the Interior Freight Handlers and Warehousemen's union say every depot in the city is tied up and that not a pound of freight will be delivered or taken away from the various houses until the railroad companies concede the demands of the men. There were exciting scenes around the union headquarters after the action. Throngs of men gathered in Randolph street, paraded to the lake front and there held an open-air meeting.

State Arbitrators Offer Their Services. At 1 p. m. the state board of arbitration, through Frederick W. Job, chairman, and W. A. Mathis, secretary, made a formal offer to both the freight handlers and the roads concerned to arbitrate the questions on which they are at variance. It will be the duty of the state board, under a recent amendment to its rules, to make an investigation of the strike. It is the wish of the board to settle the impending trouble, but should either side refuse its good offices it will doubtless be called upon to investigate the matter anyway.

Cause of the Strike Order. The strike order came as the result of a refusal on the part of the various railroads entering Chicago to concede a wage scale contained in a schedule presented by the unions recently. The companies declared themselves ready to make concessions to the men in the wage scale, but the increase was small and in some cases, according to officials of the union, really amounted to a decrease. As soon as the strike was ordered the "picket" appeared in force at all the freight depots.

How the Roads Meet the Emergency. The roads are meeting the emergency in part in the manner described in the following from Bloomington, Ill., yesterday: "Railroads are rushing section men into Chicago to take the places of striking freight handlers. The Chicago and Alton sent fifty, mostly colored, from this city on a special train tonight. More are being sent for."

NEW JERSEY TOWN PARALYZED

Because the Shoe Factory Owners Object to Union Labor. Burlington, N. J., July 8.—For the first time in twenty years the six shoe factories of this place, employing about 1,500 men and women, are idle as the result of a conflict between the manufacturers and their employees. More than half the population of the town is dependent upon the shoe-making industry for a livelihood. The firms affected are J. F. Budd & Co., R. T. Wood & Co., J. W. Lewis & Son and Garner & Carman.

Recently the shoemakers, men and women, organized, under the name of the Burlington Boot and Shoe Workers' union No. 1. The manufacturers objected to this proceeding, and last Thursday posted notices in their factories that beginning yesterday only non-union labor would be employed. The union at that time numbered about 400 members, but since then, it is said, all of the employees have become members.

The shoe workers held a meeting Saturday night, with the result that not one of the union workmen appeared at the factories yesterday. The employees made no demands on the manufacturers.

ULTIMATUM IN MICHIGAN

Mine Operators Charge the Strikers with Playing in Bad Faith. Bay City, Mich., July 8.—Mining operators of Michigan met in this city yesterday afternoon and presented an ultimatum to the miners, notifying them through President Williams that the propositions submitted at the recent meeting in Saginaw must be accepted by July 12, or they would be withdrawn. At the Saginaw meeting the operators and miners' committees agreed upon a scale which was to be submitted to the local unions.

The operators say they supposed this scale was to be voted on at once, but instead the miners deferred action until July 20—after the national convention. This, the operators declare, is bad faith on the part of the miners, and they want action before that date. A letter embodying their ultimatum will be sent to the state president at once.

RADICAL MEN ARE NUMEROUS

Among Those Elected as Delegates to the Miners' Convention. Indianapolis, Ind., July 8.—Practically all the credentials of delegates selected by the bituminous miners in Indiana, Illinois, Iowa and other states to represent the miners in the coming national convention have now been received at the headquarters in this city, and the committee appointed to examine and pass upon them will meet here this week and make the final arrangements for the convention, which will decide the question of a general suspension.

Many of the delegates selected are the same men who attended the convention here in February in a similar capacity, and there is a feeling at headquarters that many of them will vote for suspension, especially as they voted for raising the strike fund and urged extreme measures to compel the recognition of the union by the anthracite operators.

Union Pacific Shop Strike. Kansas City, Mo., July 8.—Yesterday 233 men were working in the Union Pacific shops at Armstrong. The force has been gradually increased day by day since Wednesday, when 263 men were employed inside the fence. All the gates to the big yard are guarded, and watchmen see all who enter or leave. The union men have an unusually strong system. These pickets watch the gates as closely as the railway guards, and if a non-union man is seen he is at once approached and asked to join the strikers. Thus far there has been no violence at Armstrong and no threats.

Why Mitchell Went to New York. New York, July 8.—President Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers, spent yesterday in company with H. M. Taylor, of Braidwood and Coal City, Ill. Taylor is a soft coal operator, and he said that he had telegraphed Mitchell at Wilkesbarre to meet him in New York. He denied that their meeting had anything whatever to do with the strike in any of its phases. Taylor and Mitchell both asserted that they were together simply as boyhood friends, and were enjoying each other's society after seeing friends off for Europe.

Wilson Defies the Courts. Clarksville, W. Va., July 8.—W. B. Wilson, secretary and treasurer of the United Mine Workers, addressed 1,500 people here in the opera house last evening. He took occasion to "recast" the federal court and state courts for their injunctions.

Offers Aid to the Miners. Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 8.—Harry White, of New York, national secretary of the Garment Workers' union arrived here yesterday for a conference with Mitchell to offer to the miners the co-operation of organized labor.

Molders Are in Council. Toronto, Ont., July 8.—The twenty-second international meeting of the Iron Molders' Association of North America convened here yesterday and promises to be the most important in the history of the organization.

DISCHARGED THE JURY PANEL

Judge Murphy Received Information Which Caused Him to Let the Ventremen Go.

Detroit, July 8.—Judge Alfred J. Murphy of the recorder's court created a sensation in the early proceedings for the trial of Frank C. Andrews, former vice president of the wrecked City Savings bank, by dismissing the entire panel of jurors drawn for the July term of court.

Judge Murphy said in explanation of his action: "Owing to the fact that I have received certain information affecting members of the jury summoned to appear in court this morning, I consider it proper in the interests of justice, for the sake of the defense as well as for the people, to discharge all the jurors summoned for the rest of this term. I believe this action will be approved by all the honest and intelligent jurors. It will relieve them from all suspicion that might be aroused through the information to which I have referred."

While it has not developed in court, it has been rumored that several of the men on the jury were very friendly with some of Frank C. Andrews' close political associates. These are the rumors that Judge Murphy undoubtedly referred to. However, he will not go into particulars.

DITCHED BY WASHOUT

Double-Header Freight on the Michigan Central Railway Wrecked Near Thomas.

Rochester, Mich., July 4.—A double-header Michigan Central freight train was ditched by a washout near Thomas at 2 o'clock in the morning. Engineer William S. McGregor and four tramps were killed.

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 4.—A tremendous downpour of rain early in the day, which was almost a cloudburst in severity, has done great damage throughout southwest Michigan. The fruit crop has suffered tremendous loss. Wires are down to the north and south, where the storm was most severe and information is hard to obtain. All railroads running out of Grand Rapids, except the Pere Marquette east, are tied up by washouts and damage to wires and track. Grand Rapids and Indiana passenger train No. 3, which left here at 11 o'clock at night for the north, ran into a washout at Belmont, and the engine and several cars left the track. Engineer Coleman of this city was seriously injured.

Conflagration at Hartford, Conn.

Hartford, Conn., July 4.—Three alarms of fire between 2 and 3 o'clock in the morning called out the entire department to fight a blaze in the big plant of the Capewell Horse Nail company. Fanned by a brisk wind the fire spread with such rapidity that when the general alarm was sounded, the blaze seemed beyond the control of the firemen, and threatened to sweep many buildings in that part of the city. The entire plant of the Capewell company was destroyed. The estimated property loss is between $300,000 and $400,000.

Dead of a Drink-Crazed Man.

Chicago, July 8.—Theodore Oelfener, 27 Twenty-first place, Chicago, murdered his wife, Adeline, in her sleep, fatally wounded his baby boy, shot a 17-year-old stepdaughter and attempted to shoot two stepsons and two police officers. Oelfener had been drinking heavily of late. He was arrested and during the night hanged himself in his cell.

Ohio Chief Justice Dead.

Columbus, O., July 8.—Chief Justice Marshall J. Williams of the Ohio supreme court died early in the morning at his home in this city of diabetes, aged 65 years. He was four times elected to the supreme bench, having served in all about sixteen years. He recently declined a renomination on account of failing health.

Many Victims of the Fourth.

Chicago, July 7.—The Chicago Tribune prints the following statistics of fourth of July casualties throughout the country due to gunpowder: "With many cities yet to hear from the total of dead, including the three in Chicago, is twenty-one, the injured number 2,172, while the fire loss was $80,155."

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

For Governor HON. A. T. BLISS, of Saginaw.

For Congressman HON. EDWARD L. HAMILTON, of Niles.

Half a million people greeted the president at Pittsburg July 4th where he made an address.

The two busy B's, Beveridge and Bailey, have had their share of notoriety the past few days.

On Tuesday afternoon July 1 at 5:30 the senate and house of representatives adjourned, thus the 57th session of congress was ended.

The glorious old Fourth is over, the eagle has screamed himself hoarse, and we are entering on our 127 years of national life.

Queen Wilhelmina's restoration to health is a source of pleasure not only to her own people in Holland but the nations at large.

King Edward's recovery seems now reasonably certain, his improvement having been uninterrupted and rapid.

The edict recently issued by Tsu Hsi, empress dowager of China, abolishing the ancient system of military education, and substituting essays and articles on modern matters and western laws and political economy, is an innovation which must have amazed the slow going orientals.

It is worthy of note that the largest and most influential educational organization in the world, the National Educational Association, is in convention this week at Minneapolis.

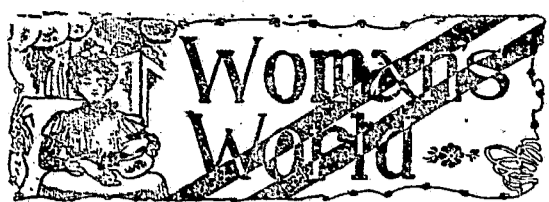

Three Fall Congresses.

At the Pan-American Conference which met at the City of Mexico last winter plans were made for meetings in this country next fall.

Nov. 1st in New York also, there will be a coffee congress composed of delegates from coffee growing countries, and will discuss ways and means for promoting this industry.

Peace Is Proclaimed. Washington, July 5.—The president has formally declared the restoration of peace in the Philippine archipelago.

Charles K. Adams Very Ill. Redlands, Cal., July 8.—Dr. Charles Kendall Adams, former president of the University of Wisconsin, is so seriously ill in his home in this city that there is little hopes of his recovery.

MRS. URQUHART LEE.

She Teaches Parliamentary Law at the University of California.

Mrs. Urquhart Lee of Chicago, who holds the chair of parliamentary law at the University of California, is the first woman in the country to undertake the teaching of parliamentary law.

Mrs. Lee is no novice at her present work. She was president of the Post Parliamentary Law club of Chicago, before she took her present position in the California university and through her efforts in that organization became well known to the bench.

Mrs. Lee went to the Pacific coast with high indorsements and with ex-Speaker Reed's recommendation.

Members of congress, bishops, mayors of large cities, clergymen, attorneys at law, women of note, leaders of commercial bodies, high officials of secret societies who had been led by Mrs. Lee through the mazes of parliamentary law and who had been instructed by her in the science of conducting an assembly were all enthusiastic in their praise of her.

Hon. Thomas B. Reed, besides speaking in the highest terms of her skill as a parliamentarian, also indorsed her little book on parliamentary practice, which is high praise indeed, coming from one who himself is the author of a manual of parliamentary rules of order.

MRS. URQUHART LEE.

"Women are peculiarly fitted to correct parliamentary usage," says Mrs. Lee.

"Part of the work is quickness and keenness of mind, qualities in which women excel. There is also a positive value to women in parliamentary practice."

"In the women's clubs it is absolutely necessary for the expeditious disposal of business; but, outside of that, parliamentary law gives women the just and judicial mind; it teaches them to do things in order; it corrects the tendency to personal prejudice and does away with the possibility of star chamber proceedings."

From under Mrs. Lee's tutelage have emerged some of the most expert women parliamentarians of this or any other age.

For some years Mrs. Lee was president of the Chicago Post Parliamentary club, which numbered among its members Mrs. Potter Palmer, Mrs. Ellen M. Henrotin, Mrs. Franklin MacVeagh, Mrs. Daniel Manning and Mrs. Cyrus H. McCormick.

Since Mrs. Lee's advent upon the Pacific coast she has formed law classes outside of the university among the society women of the town.—Philadelphia Press.

Soft, Red Lips.

Soft, red lips add greatly to a woman's appearance, and when they part over even, pearly teeth a face cannot but be attractive, even though the rest of the features be not as faultlessly chiseled as those of a Greek goddess or the complexion be lacking in that white transparency so eagerly sought after by the beskirted multitude.

It is the girl with the full red lips and regular, white teeth, whose smiles chase one another across the landscape of her countenance as merrily as a firefly dances over the field of a summer's evening, who has the lovable disposition and a mind free from petty jealousies and spite. This is the girl we all love to look at.

When once the lips have permanently fallen into certain lines, it is difficult to change their shape. Still, whatever its shape or defects, a mouth may be improved upon and made more attractive, if in no other way, by cultivating a pleasing expression. That lift to the lips which Hardy gave to his Tess is bewitching, and in its quick upward movement expresses the same sentiment that a Parisienne voices in a shrug of the shoulders.

A mouth need not be small to be beautiful. Indeed, in a large mouth the lips are usually finer and more expressive, but they must be taken care of. Biting them to make them red will make them coarse and thick.

A Field For Women.

Cleansing wearing apparel is so simple that one has no excuse to wear soiled garments. For men there are companies which press and clean garments and make small repairs with regularity of time and payment. In time some enterprising woman will start a similar business for women, charging a monthly price for cleaning and pressing and needed stitches and perhaps something extra for repairs like bindings and belts, fresh hooks and loops and collar and sleeve facings. She would charge for the materials used, of course, and a sum pro-

Unprovoked Assault

Dept. Sheriffs Richards of Buchanan and Wansbrough of Galien, had quite an experience in Niles recently.

On Saturday afternoon as they were driving through Niles, going south on 2nd street near the Broadway bridge, a man named Prettyman who was somewhat under the influence of liquor began to heap abusive language upon the two officers. The attack was entirely unprovoked and Deputy Wansbrough followed by Mr. Richards jumped from the buggy after they had gone some little distance without giving any heed to the man's virulent language, and attempted to arrest Prettyman, the latter resisted and the two deputies had their hands full in attempting to secure submission. The crowd finally interfered and upon their assurance of being responsible for Prettyman's behavior, he was released.

Kindergarten.

In our rambles through the village as we passed the school building on Dewey Ave. we noticed signs of activity. Upon looking in we saw we were not mistaken, for Miss Bernice Lyon one of our bright, ambitious, young ladies was conducting a kindergarten. This ought to appeal to the parents with young children as the price is small and the grounds and room very pleasant for children to play and learn on these warm days. It will be far better than street play. We hope when we look in again to see a large number of little ones. Parents let this interest you.

Runaway.

On Sunday while Ed. Riffer and Skeet Rough were in the act of putting some cream into Riffer's buggy at Skeet's cream factory the horse became frightened and ran away. He ran to Front, up Front to Oak, up Oak to the R. R., then out to the M. B. H. & C. R. R., where he lost the buggy. A number of persons tried to stop him but failed; he ran all the way home, he made a wreck of the buggy. Pierce & Sanders sold Riffer a new one.

Free To All The Children

Mrs. Stebbins will give a magic lantern exhibition of over one hundred views of India illustrating the life and customs of the people, on Wednesday evening July 16 in the Presbyterian church. All the children of Buchanan are expected to enjoy this great treat. A number of the children will be dressed in India costumes.

Local Deaths at Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 8.—Six deaths and a score of prostrations is the heat record for the past twenty-four hours. At 10 o'clock in the morning the thermometer registered 85 degrees, with the mercury still rising and promising to pass the year's record. There was much suffering among the mill workers, and many were forced to return to their homes.

King's Progress Continues Good.

London, July 7.—King Edward's progress continues to be good. It is said that if his improvement proceeds at the present rate he will probably by the end of the month be well enough to be transferred to the royal yacht in Southampton waters.

Three Woodsmen Meet Death.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., July 8.—Three woodsmen met death near Gilchrist by being run over by Soo line passenger train No. 7. The dead are James Heath, Charles Cartwright and William Cushman.

Michigan Gets Her Big Check.

Lansing, Mich., July 7.—Governor Bliss has received from the general government a check for $32,167.62, the amount due Michigan on account of interest, etc., on civil war bonds.

Governor Visits Chattanooga.

Saginaw, Mich., July 7.—Governor Bliss has gone to Chattanooga to look after a land deal that will keep him there three or four days.

It takes only about one-third as much water to sprinkle the streets since the asphalt was laid.

The carnival is starting out well and draws a crowd every evening. There are 25 attractions including a Ferris wheel, a two-headed lady, glass blowers, a snake eater, etc. but instead of being as free as advertised it requires a little dime in order to see most of them.

There was an unusual number of fatalities in the Twin Cities last Saturday and Sunday Three persons from Chicago, Rudoff Steffick, his wife and his sister were drowned at Kings landing, up the river by stepping off a sandbar into deep water. Dynamite was used to recover two of the bodies, but at present writing has not succeeded in raising but one. Robert Wilson was drowned in the same way at the Three I bridge. James Riley of St. Joseph was instantly killed by falling from an elevator in Chicago. There was one death from heat and one from heart failure while bathing.

BAD ACCIDENT

At M. B. H. & C. Railroad Crossing on River Street, Wednesday Morning.

Wednesday morning at about 8:30 o'clock the team of J. R. White which was on the way to the river for a load of gravel was struck, by the M. B. H. & C. engine drawing passenger train No. 1 due here at 8:30, and terribly mutilated; one horse was dragged about 20 ft and was killed, the other was thrown to the side of the road so cut up that it was necessary to kill it. It seems almost a miracle that Rollie Bates a boy of about 15 who was driving, and Mr. White and his son of 3 years should have escaped without serious accident. The horses were struck in the rear and one front wheel of the wagon was smashed. The boy was thrown clear over the wagon into the street; while Mr. White and son had in some manner slipped from the wagon.

The families certainly have great cause for thankfulness at this wonderful escape.

There does not seem to be any particular blame on any one. The train coming south is almost entirely hid from view to a person going east by Mr. Hamilton's house and the trees around it, the road also makes a sharp curve on the north side of the street.

Mr. Hamilton says the engine gave the signal just beyond his house; the boy says he did not hear it. Altogether it can be said it might have been worse. Mr. White no doubt will be fully reimbursed by the railroad, although there may be no blame attached to them. It appears a man coming in the opposite direction endeavored to make them aware of the danger but they failed to understand.

Magic Lantern Missionary Meeting

The Ladies' Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. W. S. Wells and enjoyed a talk on India, given by Mrs. M. A. Stebbins, who is home for a short time from her work as a missionary in India.

The talk was illustrated by a magic lantern, showing various scenes in India also the pictures of some of the natives who have been converted to christianity.

There is some probability of this lecture being repeated next week Wednesday evening in the Presbyterian church.

The Stork in a Generous Mood

The boom of fire crackers and the surprises contained in the mysterious bundles of fireworks were as nothing compared to the three-layer bundle presented by his wife to Mr. Bushby of 16th St. Detroit by his wife on Friday evening. A patriotic trio quite unexpected made their appearance in the home on that day and now the father and mother are wondering how a wardrobe prepared for one can be made to meet the necessities of three.

The father is a barber and a painter and members of the family say he will now have to take up another business to support his rapidly growing family.

Saturday evening as the hours were speeding toward the middle of the night a representative of the RECORD was startled by a terrific noise in the vicinity of Cayuga and Front Sts. Hastily repairing to the place he soon discovered it was a shiveree; we were discovered by some of the boys about as quickly as we discovered them. The boys promised as we left them, to report but they failed to do so. BENTON HARBOR FAIR

Street Fair July 7 to 12 Very Interesting

The Street Fair of Benton Harbor is on and is in charge of the Robinson Carnival Co. of Cincinnati.

The merchants who inaugurated the movement guarantee the various features to be first class and free from vulgarity or immorality.

The railroads will run excursions to Benton Harbor during the week and have fixed the rate of one fair for the round trip from all towns within a radius of 50 miles.

Happenings.

In the presence of 4,000 persons the corner stone of the Ryerson public library at Grand Rapids was laid July 4th under the auspices of the Masonic grand lodge of Michigan.

Half a million of London's slum dwellers were guests of King Edward July 5 when in 400 halls, schools and parks, they were given a good full dinner. A message from the king was read.

A party of four adults from Chicago who went in bathing at Benton Harbor Saturday were all drowned but one. They were unacquainted with the beach and were carried under the water.

The list of honors bestowed by King Edward has been issued in London, and it transpires that knight-hoods have been conferred upon Gilbert Parker, author of "The Right of Way," and upon Dr. Conan Doyle, author of "The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes." The reason in each case, however, may be political rather than literary. Mr. Parker is a member of parliament and Dr. Doyle is the chief defender of England's course in the Boer war.

Mrs. Root wife of Secretary Root has gone to Europe for the benefit of her daughter's health. Attorney General and Mrs. Knox are to spend a month or so at Atlantic City, and later with the children they will make a two months' European trip. Mrs. Miles, wife of Gen. Nelson Miles, who is recovering from a recent illness will summer at Hot Springs, Va. Mrs. Geo. B. Cortelyou, has gone to Hempstead L. I. Justice Gray of the Supreme Court and Mrs. Gray are established for the summer in their Mass., home. Justice Harlan and family are in Canada at Murry Bay. Secretary Hay and family have their summer home on Lake Sunapee in New Hampshire.

President Roosevelt has gone to Oyster Bay for a few weeks. When the train approached the little station of the Long Island railroad every whistle in the village, through a prearranged signal, was set going and the old friends and associates of the president gathered on the platform to extend their greetings. When he alighted they completely surrounded him and for a time prevented his children, Kermet, Ethel and Archie, who had been awaiting his coming, from getting to him. When finally they did so he embraced them in a manner that gave unmistakable evidence of his delight at being "home."

Swift & Co. meat packers of Chicago have had a big fire which broke out in the stock yards Saturday night. The officials of the company estimate the loss at $1,000,000. The fire was confined to one building standing at the intersection of Packers avenue and Broadway. This structure was four stories high, built of brick and was 300 feet square. The first floor was occupied by the wholesale meat market of the company, the second by the shipping department and the third and fourth by the general offices of the company. The latter are said to have been the largest single offices in the United States, more than 800 employes working on one of the floors in a single room. The cause of the fire is not known, but it was discovered in the engine room. The insurance carried by the company will cover all losses.

A bronze tablet commemorating the three murdered presidents—Lincoln, Garfield and McKinley, has been unveiled at the west side branch of the Y. M. C. A. of Chicago.

Dr. and Mrs. Elmer Beistle of South Bend are the proud parents of a baby boy weighing 8 pounds which made his appearance on July 3rd. It is a matter of speculation who are the happier, the parents or grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Beistle. This is the first event giving them the right to this title and they bear their honors proudly.

A Continent Under Water.

It is held by those who have studied carefully into the matter, that many thousand years ago—so long ago that history has well nigh forgotten it, even in the times that we call ancient—a great country called Atlantis sunk beneath the sea, in a convulsion of nature, to which the recent one in the West Indies was a very small affair. Only a few of the inhabitants are said to have escaped, in ships and on rafts.

For thousands of years this "persistent rumor" of the generations was supposed to be merely a fable. When Plato started it as a fact, he was called a liar. He said that his ancestor, Solon, the great Athenian lawgiver, and one of the seven sages, visited Egypt, some two hundred years before his (Plato's) time, and heard from wise men there, concerning some of the glories of the lost continent.

This country seems to have grown into a great and powerful empire, which carried its power both into Europe, and the western regions of what now is Central and South America. It is even said to have ruled over the Mound Builders—that strange silent race whose ghosts haunt large portions of our country, as evidenced by their many wonderful engineering remains in our Western and Southwestern states.

The vast empire, it is contended, finally covered the whole of the then known world. It was before the time of the Assyrians, the Persians, the Greeks, and the Romans. The Azores, now mere rocky isles, whose farthest inland point is almost within sound of the breaking waves, are supposed to have once been the mountain-peaks of this mighty continent, proudly rearing their crystal faces to the silence of the sun and stars; and when, in the awful cataclysm, the land of rolling hills and sweeping valleys was sunk from sight they were permitted to remain, humble witnesses of the lost Atlantis.—Extract from "A Continent under Water," in Will Carleton's Magazine Every Where for July.

The Progeny of One Criminal

At the annual meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union of New York Mrs. M. J. Annable published the record of the descendants of a female criminal who died in 1827. Of 800 persons whose descent from the woman has been traced, 700 have been convicted of crime or misdemeanors, and of these 37 were convicted of murder. The list included 342 drunkards and 127 immoral women. The trials and execution of sentences of these persons have cost the public $3,000,000. No more startling figures are contained in the records of criminology. Not only is the number of criminals descended from the woman enormous, but the percentage of depravity is extraordinary. There must have been a considerable admixture of honest of at least non criminal, blood in these people, yet the little leaven of evil leavened the whole lump. Society might well be appalled at its impending degeneracy if the vital force of crime were always so great. It is unfortunate that Mrs. Annable has withheld the name and history of the ancestress of the dreadful brood, because the significance of the figures can only be estimated after a thorough investigation of the circumstances in which the criminals were reared and the efforts that were made to correct them.—Chicago Tribune.

TROUBLE BEGINS.

At the Same Point with Buchanan People as Elsewhere.

Trouble begins with the first backache. Tis serious trouble too, kidney trouble. Neglect means other pains more dangerous. Urinary disorders quickly follow. Doan's Kidney Pills cure all kidney ills. Mr. George W. Closson, prop of the large Livery Stable and Hack Line, at 187, 189 West Main St., and residing at 320 Territorial St., Benton Harbor, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills procured at Harry L. Bird's drug store have been used in my family and undoubted results were obtained. My wife first heard of them through her brother-in-law Mr. J. P. Mitchell employed as Mail Clerk on the Michigan Central R. R., between Detroit and Chicago. He advised her to use them and they proved to be an excellent remedy. I heartily join Mrs. Closson in endorsing this valuable medicine. To anyone complaining of backache or any of the incidents which follow in the wake of that far too prevalent complaint kidney disease, my advice is, use Doan's Kidney Pills."

Just such emphatic endorsement is plentiful in Buchanan. Call at W. N. Brodick's drug store and ask him what his customers report.

For sale by all dealers, price 50c. Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

A BERRIEN CO. HOLD UP

Two Ladies Returning From South Bend are Frightened and Robbed.

On returning home from South Bend last Thursday evening, Mrs. Clacence Spaulding and Miss Sarah E. Miller were held up and robbed just beyond the gravel pit about two miles north of town.

The weather was so intensely warm they waited until early in the evening to start back and reached the spot where the robbery occurred about 10:30.

Just after crossing the creek this side of the gravel pit the horse shied almost collided with a rig commanding South.

As they passed the rig Mrs. Spaulding heard a noise in the grass and bushes on the right side, and asked Miss Miller if she heard it. On turning to look Miss Miller saw a man walking right back of their carriage. They tried to hurry the horse but it, being tired from its long journey and the road being sandy at this place, failed to respond. This gave the man an excellent chance which he improved and jumping on the step on the right, grabbed Mrs. Spaulding with one hand and Miss Miller with the other. He was without coat and hat and had a kerchief tied over the lower part of his face, which did not disguise him for when they succeeded in knocking him almost free from the rig this dropped down. He immediately leaped in again and grabbed Miss Miller by the arm and Mrs. Spaulding's throat to stop her screaming.

Miss Miller wrenched herself free and ran up the hill to get Mr. Thomas for assistance.

Then he succeeded in stopping Mrs. Spaulding's cries for help by choking her with both hands and demanded money. Mrs. Spaulding knowing that help would be there soon parleyed, until almost exhausted from choking, she gave him her silk and straw shopping bag. This contained her pocket book, new gloves, three kerchiefs, new veil and some embroidery. As soon as he got the pocket book he leaped from the buggy and ran toward town. Mrs. Spaulding whipped up the horse and was at the top of the hill as Mr. Thomas was ready to start down.

Neither of the ladies are any the worse for the encounter except for the freight which will effect their nerves for sometime.

Mr. Thomas kindly brought the ladies home as soon as they had recovered sufficiently, and was accompanied to town by Mr. Will Russell to notify the authorities.

The ladies are yet puzzled to know why the man they passed previous to the attack did not come to their assistance.

The front cover and the numerous color plates presented in the Designer for August are of remarkable beauty and should be seen to be appreciated. The fashion and millinery features are daintily appropriate for summer. Worthy of special mention are the articles on Ribbon Decorations, How to Make a Picturesque Summer Hat and Bathing Suits. Open-air Life for Women is contributed by a well-known writer, Waldon Fawcett, and is handsomely illustrated, and M. Buzelle supplies what is sorely needed at this season, via: Entertainments for Summer Evenings, Interesting Hall Furnishings, by Mary Kilsyth; The Latest in Embroidery, and What Women are Doing, are of unusual interest. The two short stories of the number are An Aunt in the Way, by Edwin L. Sabin, and Little Stefano, by Anna Oculich; both will hold the reader's attention to the end. The Girl and the Miner, by L. O. Lennart, is a short and snappy drama for production by amateurs, and Selections for the Recitationist, supplies choice verse culled from the best poets. The Apology of Ayliffe, a love story of marked merit by Mrs. Ellen Olney Kirk, is now running in the Designer, and the chapters presented in this issue are brimful of vitality. Toilet Table Chat discourses on Keeping Cool, Sensitive Feet, The Price Beauty, Acquiring Plumpness, and The Teeth versus Dyspepsia. The best in current literature is discussed in Book Notes and Etiquette Hints, All Around the House, In Motherland, and the Kitchen Kingdom cater to the fancies of all members of the family.

CHARACTER BUILDING

Selfishness in Prayer.

Some think that prayer is always commendable. But we sometimes show the worst side of ourselves in prayer. A spirit that does not commend itself to God is no better in the form of prayer than in the form of comment on our fellows. There are too many who pray the familiar prayer:

"O Lord bless me and my wife
Our son and his wife
Us four, and no more."

That spirit is not God-like and cannot commend itself to God. It may be well for us to test our prayers with the question, "Is this a God-like spirit."—Sunday School Times.

Whether any particular day shall bring to you more happiness or of suffering is largely beyond your power to determine. Whether each day of your life shall give happiness or suffering rests with yourself.—Sabbath Reading.

Constant Companionship

By AMOS R. WELLS

A man is, largely, what his friends are. It is almost impossible to retain purity of character if your friends are vile, and quite impossible to live an evil life if your friends are all noble.

Recognizing this fact, who would not leap at the chance of having for his intimate companion a strong, true soul like Phillips Brooks, a beautiful spirit like Florence Nitengale, a great genius like Tennyson, a masterful leader like Gladstone? Would not all of us sacrifice much, of time and thought and energy and money, in order to enjoy such companionship?

And here is open to our constant companionship the Creator of all these great men and women, the source of their noble impulses, the fire of their genius, the maintenance of their courage! There is nothing which one could desire of an earthly companion that is lacking in Him, while He has infinite resources that are beyond any worldly friendship. Is it not incomprehensible that we should slight such an opportunity, and sometimes neglect it altogether?

It is like accepting a post-office when we might as well have a kingdom.

No one that has ever made trial of this companionship but rejoices in it above all other joys. The misery of the world is because that companionship is lacking.

The basis of the companionship is prayer. But it is not all prayer. Much of it is merely listening, to hear God speak to the soul. Much of it is merely meditating on the loftiest themes. Much of it is merely living with God and working with Him.

When, in looking at a beautiful sunset, your heart turns adoringly to Jehovah, you are enjoying this companionship.

When, obeying an inward prompting, you go to some house of death to comfort the mourners with talk of the Lord of life, you are enjoying this companionship.

When in your Bible-reading, you stop, filled with sudden, glad amazement at some vast truth, you are enjoying this companionship.

When, in talking with a friend, you two hold sweet discourse of God, and a peace steals over your spirits, and the sense as of an Emmaus benediction, you are enjoying this companionship.

Thus you may have this companionship at all times, when you are by yourself, or with man or nature, as when you are consciously and purposefully alone with God. If any one thing could be said to be synonymous with Christianity, it would be this companionship.

And, alas! you may also forego this companionship, annul it, and drive it from you. God is visible and audible; but the eyes and ears of the soul are so easily closed! The world is so interesting; alas, that it should destroy our interest in the One who makes it interesting!

You wish and expect to spend eternity with God. Think what it means, then, if you are losing the sense of His presence, the joy of His companionship! It means what it signifies to the young artist to become blind, the young musician to become deaf, the young orator to become dumb. It destroys your occupation for eternity, when you lose your companionship with God!—Sabbath Reading

LITERARY CLIPPINGS

What makes the happy relation between man and woman, is an eternally interesting question, and a clever discussion of why marriages fail, presented by Rafford Pyke in his article "The Woman's Side," is certain to receive the very wide consideration which has been given to that author's previous articles on the discussion of woman versus man. The July Cosmopolitan seems to be almost equally divided in interest between women and men. "An Experiment in Domestic Finance" is another entirely novel article which will appeal to women, while some twenty pages devoted to the "Captains of Industry" will receive the consideration of man in all classes of business. The Cosmopolitan has undertaken to present a series of brief sketches of the men who are leaders in finance, manufactures, and commerce, not prepared in an offhand way, but by writers of the greatest ability who have an exact knowledge of their subjects. The series thus far produced has attracted the widest attention. The industrial changes which have of late been occurring with such rapidity have the widest possible interest for all classes. The knowledge of these men, their derivation, leading characteristics and weaknesses throw much light upon the news of the day in which their names constantly recur.

Hints on Advertising.

Well advertised articles are sure to be in large demand. No danger of their becoming dust covered or having to remain long upon the shelves.—Progressive Advertiser.

"I have a horror of being buried alive," said the easy-going storekeeper.

"Well, for gracious sake, why don't you advertise?" replied his friend.—New England Grocer.

Usually, the more advertising a person does the more he can afford to do.—Printers' Ink.

There is a trade in summer as well as in the fall and spring, not so much of it, to be sure, but trade there is, and trade is what every advertiser wants. If there is not so much going during the heated term, then there is so much the greater reason why dealers should advertise to catch what is going.—Printers' Ink.

Asbestine Fabrics

Dr. W. H. Perkins of Manchester, after something like two thousand experiments extending over many months, has succeeded in making a discovery of far-reaching importance, particularly to the cotton-manufacturing industry.

The discovery reveals a process whereby cotton and other similar highly inflammable materials can be rendered permanently fireproof.

With the exception of explosives there are no articles that blaze up so quickly as cotton, especially those styles which are "combed out" on both sides in order to give the appearance of flannel. The fire proofing process consists of "asbestinizing" the fabric by which means permanent immunity from burning is assured.

"Asbestined" cloth is perfectly hygienic and may be worn safely next to the skin.

American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Last year under the shadow of the Rocky mountains in Denver, the Am. Association for the Advancement of Science had their annual meeting, this season it meets in Pittsburg, the great commercial center.

Prof Asaph Hall, the great scientist, is one of the prime movers in this organization, he is well known as an astronomer his most famous contribution to this science being the discovery of the moons of Mars, which he named Deimos and Phobos (Wrath and Fear) from the passage in Homer's Iliad where these two divinities are mentioned as the attendants of the good of war.

Advertisements or change of advertisement must be in the office by noon Tuesday.

Fashions.

Irish lace is much used for trimming flouards forming the entire circular flounce on one model, but so covered with interserting bands of silk that the effect of a lace flounce is lost.

Any and all of the fabrics which are light and thin and more or less transparent have the precedence this season, without any question. Dainty, rather small patterns are the rule and a great improvement on the large sprawling designs of past seasons.

One of the pretty new fancies for muslin is a combination of muslin and net, either dotted or plain, but strong and not too fine. The net may form the greater part of the gown.

White gowns, trimmed with gold braiding are coming into fashion again and the gold on the white is always a good contrast.

A return to silk for street wear is much spoken of as forming entire toilets. Whether this will become a settled mode or die in the attempt to become accepted remains to be seen.

In some of the white gowns you see an endless amount of herring-bone stitching done in colored silk, joining groups of tucks or bands.

No one style of trimming prevails, and at present it does not seem to matter much what it is, so long as it elaborate and suggests no end of work.

Bordered dimities are among the many stylish thin goods shown this season.

Three-piece or tripled skirts, made by three circular flounces are among the new designs that are gaining popularity this season.

For the important demi-toilette this summer, nothing is more popular and modish than thin black over silk.

The use of buckram and canvas for interlining has fallen into disuse, flounces being attached to the drop skirt or lining instead.

Plaited skirts are to be used in the heavy woolen materials this fall, box plaits being the most stylish.

Crepone is a material which holds its popularity. This seasons goods being softer and more finely wrinkled than last years patterns.

M. Cutcheon's Famous Cartoons.

The art of newspaper illustration in its present form is a development of recent years. Newspaper cartoons have become a most popular feature of up-to-date metropolitan newspapers. The unique and "catchy" drawing by John T. McCutcheon now appearing daily on the front page of the Chicago Record-Herald is one of the many special features of that great paper. McCutcheon's prominence in the newspaper world makes newspaper readers generally familiar with his history. He came to Chicago in 1889 when he immediately became identified with the Chicago Record. His work in connection with that paper soon attracted public notice. His illustrations of the World's Fair scenes were of a particularly high class. It was latter, however, associated with George Ade, illustrating Ade's well-known sketches, "Stories of the Streets and of the Town," "Artie," etc., and during the presidential campaign of 1896, when his political cartoons attracted such widespread attention that McCutcheon was generally acknowledged a leader in his profession. During the Spanish-American war he was with Admiral Dewey at the time of the destruction of the Spanish fleet in Manila Bay, and was the first one to give the world a complete account of that great fight. During his subsequent stay in the Philippines he blossomed out as a correspondent of no mean ability, and he came into view as a writer of merit, with the faculty of keen observation and faithful descriptions that have made the work of his pen of double value. His two years' stay in a tropical climate shattered his health, and after his return to the United States he was forced to take a long rest. However he has fully recovered, and readers of The Record-Herald will be glad to learn that he has resumed work and that his cartoons now appear in both its daily and Sunday editions.
