LITERARY CLIPPINGS

A "Book of joyous Children," is the title of a new volume of children's poems by James Whitcomb Riley, now being issued. It is in neat binding.

Paul Du Chaillier has written another of those very interesting books of adventure, and has called it "King Mumbo." It tells of perilous adventure in the great African forests, and is a true story.

Longfellow Near By.

In a posthumous paper by Wyatt Eaton in the October Century are these recollections of Longfellow as he appeared to the artist while his portrait was being drawn. Says Eaton:

Longfellow was then over seventy, and had recently had a severe illness; but he seemed wonderfully youthful and active, his mind always alert and his speech ready. His head, of course, gave the appearance of age, but his eyes were those of youth. His body seemed forty years younger than his head, never fatigued, always active. He would stand or walk about the table while eating his cold oatmeal and milk for luncheon. He took oatmeal and milk for breakfast, -- for he said one doesn't feel like eating much in the morning, -- and oatmeal and milk again in the middle of the day, for a hearty luncheon destroys one's appetite for dinner. Never did I see him walk up the steps leading from the lawn to the veranda; it was always a skip. His conversation was full of bright remarks and apt quotations. An English earl had just visited Cambridge. Longfellow spoke of his interest in the fine arts; but I complained of the unfortunate art that Lord -- had patronized in America, to which Longfellow replied: "He perhaps is like a certain other celebrity who was said to have had a great deal of taste, but, unfortunately, it was all bad."

The day of the last sitting was again, hot, but Longfellow put on a heavy coat, from which I hoped to get better lines for the shoulders. That I might have a little more time, he also allowed me to continue work in the afternoon. During the day a violent storm broke over us, and it became too dark for work. Longfellow went to some other part of the house to close windows, but I went out on a veranda, where I was sheltered from the rain, but could enjoy the storm to the fullest. The whole place seemed to be enveloped in the flashes of lightning, and the thunder was terrific.

GOOD-BYE!

Farewell Reception Wednesday Evening for Mr. and Mrs. Boardman.

Despite the inclement weather about seventy people, members of the Presbyterian church and their friends, met Wednesday evening at the spacious residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Wells, for a farewell reception for Mr. and Mrs. Boardman, and also to express their appreciation of the services of the other members of the choir, Mrs. H. D. Rough, Miss Clara Hubbell and Mr. Wm. Monro. A committee of three, Mesdames Myron Smith, George Howard and Fanny Devin, had the affair in charge, and its success reflects credit on their executive ability.

Mrs. Wells proved herself a charming hostess, and after an hour's social discourse groups of people were gathered in the dining room and were given a boutonniere of a white china aster, and served with cream and cake, by the Misses Blanche and Ethel Wells, Bessie Thomas, Vera Jennings, Georgia Beistle and Minnie Graham.

Later in the evening the male quartette, composed of Messrs. Boardman, Roe, Monro and East, sang so delightfully that one encore succeeded another till four numbers had been rendered.

All were sincere in their expressions of regret at Mr. and Mrs. Boardman's leaving, and as one by one the people bade them adieu they were convinced that they had many warm friends in Buchanan who had put "them in the watch-tower of their hearts, where they would keep them forever -- yes, forever and a day."

News From Capt. and Mrs. Peck.

Rev. Turner is in receipt of a letter of recent date from Capt. and Mrs. Peck, who are spending several weeks in the west. Their many friends will be glad to hear good news from them. The concluding part of the letter is as follows:

We are certainly enjoying the trip and we both feel it is doing us much good physically. Hope you have had much success in your protracted meetings. Have thought and prayed that you might have an abundant outpouring of the spirit. God bless you. Denver is quite a city; fine buildings and healthy; the climate is superb. Do not know at present when we will come back; possibly we may remain here several weeks yet. With best wishes,

Yours, J. F. PECK.

30 Club.

On account of the inclement weather the ladies of the 30 club met with Miss Mabelle Roe instead of with Mrs. Daisy Rough.

The history lesson was conducted by Mrs. Lura Pears. A beautiful instrumental solo by Mabelle Roe was enjoyed. Mrs. Hattie Kingery's excellent paper, "Father Marquette," was made even more interesting by some points given in connection therewith, by Mrs. Nannie Kent. In answer to roll call each member responded with a current event.

The meeting adjourned to meet next week with Miss Ella Hahn.

President Roosevelt.

The meeting Tuesday evening at Wm. Palmer's office, to make arrangements to welcome President Roosevelt, was not a very enthusiastic one, and what they were unable to decide was decided for them when next morning it was announced that the president would not be in Buchanan, having canceled all engagements on account of an injury received in the trolley accident some time ago.

Quick Work.

Last Tuesday Mrs. Franc E. Whitman received from the Woodman officers $2,000 insurance on her late husband. This was just seven days after the board of directors first saw the claim, and speaks volumes in regard to the promptness and soundness of the M. W. A. society.

EASTERN STAR

Lodge Install Officers and have a Banquet.

Wednesday evening there was a scene of revelry in the lodge rooms of the Eastern Star, when a new series of officers were installed with all due formality and ceremony.

The installing officer was Mrs. M. Knight and she presided with ease and grace. The elected officers were: Worthy Matron, Miss Carrie Williams; Worthy Patron, Ellis Roe; Associate Matron, Mrs. Jennie Wood; Secretary, Mrs. Millie East; Treasurer, Mrs. Louise Sanders; Conductresses, Mrs. A. J. Garland, Mrs. I. L. H. Dood. The appointed officers were: Mrs. P. Grafford, Ada; Mrs. Ellis Roe, Ruth; Miss Ella Hahn, Esther; Mrs. Harry Couse, Martha; Mrs. Ed. Baird, Electa; Mrs. Delia Scott, Chaplain; Mrs. M. M. Knight, Organist; Miss Clara Harper, Marshal; Mrs. Ed. Bir, I. Warder; Chas. Snyder, Sentinel.

There were present two visitors from the American Chapter of St. Joseph, Mrs. Stone, Grand Associate Conductress; and Mrs. Hutchinson. Mrs. Stone of the Grand Lodge made a very interesting address, along the line of lodge work. Miss Seymour, the teacher of music, was there and captivated her hearers by a beautifully rendered piano solo.

Cream and cake were served at the close of the installation and all enjoyed a delightful evening.

West Michigan State Fair.

Athletes of Grand Rapids have this summer been competing in a series of municipal games, the finals of which will be held Friday afternoon at the West Michigan State Fair next week. The prizes are gold and silver medals given by the city, the idea being to encourage athletics as did the ancient Greeks. The idea is further carried out by the events in which they contest, there being a pentathlon of five events so the victors must be strong and skilled in all muscles of the body.

The Michigan fish commission have had four men busy for a month gathering fish of all kind and arranging the fish exhibit at the West Michigan State Fair. The fish will be in glass cases so arranged that they can be seen swimming as in their native streams and lakes.

Should Old Acquaintance be Forgotten?

Robert Brisco and wife, of Parsons, Kansas, are visiting friends and relatives in Buchanan, where they lived many years ago.

Mr. Brisco's appearance among his old friends has revived many reminiscences, one of which is how he and John Perrott, Charlie Snyder and several others went to Capt. Richards on the day Sumpter was fired upon, and wanted him to command a company, but the captain, when he thought of their large family and his wife's desires, declined the command, much as he wished to have gone.

Serious Operation.

Mrs. Geo. Denno was operated upon Thursday afternoon for cancer of the breast. The removal was made by Dr. Curtis assisted by Dr. Baldwin, of Niles and Dr. Peck. The patient recovered very nicely from the anesthetic and there are hopes entertained for her permanent recovery.

Improvement.

Perrott & Son are making extensive improvements in their business place. It is known as the Jacob Hahn place and was built in the year 1857. Lumber those days was not of much value. In putting on a new roof they found walnut and cherry boards 20 inches wide used for sheeting.

The Michigan Central rail road will run a special train from Battle Creek to Michigan City and Chicago on Sunday Sept. 28th, passing Buchanan at 8:58 p. m., and arriving at Chicago at 11:45 a. m., and returning will leave Chicago at 6:30 p. m. and Michigan City at 8:15 p. m. Fare from Buchanan to Michigan and return 45c; Chicago and return $1.20. A. F. PRACOCK, Agt.

Crop and Climate Bulletin.

U. S. Department of Agriculture, climate and crop bulletin of the weather bureau, Michigan section, for the week ended September 22, 1902

The average total rainfall was .40 or .20 of an inch below normal.

Most of the week has been favorable to potatoes, buckwheat, pasture, and field work, but not warm enough for the best maturity of corn. Light and fairly well distributed showers have improved the soil for plowing and fall seeding and forwarded the germination of early sown wheat and rye.

Corn cutting is quite general in all parts of the state, but much of the cut is green and unripe. Late corn continues backward and uneven and it is doubtful whether much of it will ripen. Late potatoes still show considerable blight; some have been dug and develop a short yield of fair quality. Buckwheat harvest is quite general and a good crop is being secured. Beans have ripened rather slowly and unevenly; much of the crop has been pulled and secured.

Tomatoes are a poor crop. Although many apples have been blown down the crop will be of good quality and above the average.

Fall plowing has made good progress and much land is prepared for seeding; the soil is in fine condition and early sown wheat and rye are germinating nicely; considerable wheat and rye have been sown during the past week.

President Roosevelt.

The people's president has been compelled to discontinue his trip and return to Washington, on account of a very painful abscess on his leg between the ankle and knee, caused by the trolley accident some time ago in Massachusetts. There ought to be loyalty enough in every one to want to at least see the president of the United States, and as a nation we may well be proud of our president, Theodore Roosevelt. He may not please everybody, in fact we know he does not, but there have been greater of whom the same has been said before, but no one can point to anything that he has said or done that has been a discredit to him or the nation. As this is the second disappointment Buchanan has had we hope the next presidential reception will be a certainty.

Alger Endorsed.

The Republican Judicial Convention at Grand Rapids endorsed Gen Alger for U. S. Senator as successor to Senator McMillan in the following language:

This is the only state convention that our party will hold before the legislature elects a successor to Senator McMillan, and, as a gathering of representative Republicans fresh from the people, we desire to give expression to the positive sentiment of the regard of Republicans of Michigan in favor of the choice of our beloved ex-governor, the former secretary of war. We believe that the legislature should and will recognize the wish of the people by sending to the U. S. Senate Michigan's tried and distinguished citizen, Gen. Russell A. Alger.

Ill Breeding or Ignorance.

It seems to us that nothing but ill breeding or ignorance would allow any one to throw refuse, like banana skins, on the sidewalk. It would be far better to let bicycles on the walk; not half the danger that there is in banana skins, apple parings, &c. Then again, if some tobacco chewers have not enough respect for themselves and others not to flood the sidewalks there should be an ordinance passed making it a misdemeanor to spit on the sidewalks.

Judge Durand, of Flint, who was stricken with paralysis a few weeks ago, has withdrawn as the democratic candidate for governor.

The president has arrived at the White House in good condition and splendid spirits. His limb does not pain him and he is resting comfortably and Mrs. Roosevelt is with him. His natural determination and a few days of rest will no doubt bring him out all right.

This week has been a week of county fairs in a number of Michigan towns, and it has been a week of almost continuous rain; but if the accounts reported are correct the rain did not materially lessen the crowd, while it prevented carrying out some parts of the program. It only goes to show again that people do what they want to do regardless of conditions. When people say "can't," just put "don't want to" in place of it and in a very large percentage of cases you will be all right.

The Pumpkin contest is bound to be interesting, so do not fail to bring your pumpkins. There are five premiums announced and we are going to give a premium to the first pumpkin brought in, which is already to be seen in Treat Bros.' grocery store window. There was no promise for the first, and you may happen to get a prize not promised. So bring in your pumpkins. If not a subscriber to the Record come and subscribe at once.

With family around expecting him to die, and a son riding for life, 18 miles, to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, W. H. Brown, of Leesville, Ind., endured death's agonies from asthma, but this wonderful medicine gave instant relief and soon cured him. He writes: "I now sleep soundly every night." Like marvelous cures of consumption, pneumonia, bronchitis, coughs, colds and grip prove its matchless merit for all throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00. Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine

I have had occasion to use your Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine and am pleased to say that I never used anything for stock that gave half as good satisfaction. I heartily recommend it to all owners of stock.

J. B. BELSHER, St. Louis, Mo.

Sick stock or poultry should not eat cheap stock food any more than sick persons should expect to be cured by food. When your stock and poultry are sick give them medicine. Don't stuff them with worthless stock foods. Unload the bowels and stir up the torpid liver and the animal will be cured, if it be possible to cure it. Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine unloads the bowels and stirs up the torpid liver. It cures every malady of stock if taken in time. Secure a 25-cent can of Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine and it will pay for itself ten times over. Horses work better. Cows give more milk. Hogs gain flesh. And hens lay more eggs. It solves the problem of making as much blood, flesh and energy as possible out of the smallest amount of food consumed. Buy a can from your dealer.

LADIES OF THE G. A. R.
An Organization That is Doing Much Good in the State.

MRS. JULIET BAIRD,
President.

The Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic, a body organized in this state in 1893 are one of the multiplicity of organizations of these days that are doing much practical good.

This year the convention met at Pontiac in June, and plans were laid for a year's good work. In her opening address, the president, Mrs. Juliet M. Baird, said: "We are gathered here in response to one of the noblest attributes of the human heart, gratitude, and to imbibe again the spirit of Americanism and renew our pledge of loyalty to our noble order, to perpetuate the memory of heroes, to aid in securing and spreading reverence for the principles set forth in the constitution, to inculcate the spirit of patriotism in the rising generation, also to reverence and honor our flag—the first national flower to bloom upon the sturdy soil of American independence."

A FIGHTING ... WHALE

[Copyright, 1902, by C. B. Lewis.]

I was one of the crew of the whaling ship Crosby when I came across a gigantic whale that had often been seen before, that had destroyed many lives. He had come to be known as Tom Bowline and was recognized by a V shaped scar on his head. The Crosby was to the west of St. Helena when he was raised by the lookout. Tom Bowline came to the surface with a rush and then lay wallowing about. Three boats were lowered, and the whale was recognized by his scar. The mate's boat had the lead and got within striking distance first. As soon as the harpoon entered the whale settled away like a rock and went down 350 feet. Then he turned and rushed for the surface like a wild locomotive, breaching his full length out of water and filling and swamping the mate's boat with the waves kicked up by his fall. He rested a moment and then slewed around and started for the boat. He caught it with a swing of his jaw and made splinters of it and killed three men at the same time. For five minutes the mate, who was supporting himself by an oar, was alongside the fish and rubbing against his body, but he finally pushed himself clear and reached one of the other boats. The monster had the three boats at his mercy, but for some reason was satisfied with the destruction of the first. Perhaps it was because the others remained perfectly quiet while he seemed to be searching for them. Fifteen minutes after destroying the boat he moved slowly away, and those who had escaped his fury returned to the ship. We were at this time over half full of oil.

One hundred and fourteen days later, when 400 miles west of the island of Tristan d'Acunha, in the south Atlantic, we cut in our last whale, cleared the decks of the tryworks and set our course for Salem. We were full to the hatches and thus far had made one of the best seasons on record. In about three days we had the ship cleaned up and most of the smoke and grease washed off our bodies, and we were about to begin painting when at noon on the fourth or fifth day after turning on our heel for home a whale suddenly breached right astern of us and not more than 300 feet away. His fall raised three or four waves, which pitched the ship about as if we were lying in a gale, and, though the monster settled away out of sight at once, we had identified him as Tom Bowline. It may seem queer to you to read that every man aboard, from captain to apprentice, was badly frightened as soon as it was known that our old enemy had hunted us down, as it were. We had left him almost four months before at a point 2,000 miles away, and yet he had overhauled us as if he had been a steamer sent in search and posted as to our cruising ground. His breaching so near us was taken as evidence of his evil intentions, and some argued that he had meant to strike the ship.

All work was at once suspended, and the men were ordered to move around the decks on tiptoe. We hoped the leviathan had not seen us and that his breaching so close aboard was quite accidental, and after half an hour had passed away without further sight of him everybody began to feel easier. A man had just started aloft with a glass to scan the sea when the whale rose to the surface about a stone's throw to windward.

From that time on for five hours he swam with the ship, paying no attention to us, but maintaining his distance to a foot. Then of a sudden he settled down, and we all heaved a sigh of relief. We had not seen the last of him, however. An hour before midnight the odor of a whale suddenly saluted the nostrils of the men, and they looked to the windward to catch sight of a great black bulk on the water. It was Tom Bowline. Word was passed around and all hands turned up, and from 1 to 3 we were in a state of suspense. At about 3 o'clock the whale began lashing the water with his flukes. When he had churned an acre or more of surface to foam, he slewed around and headed straight for us, but miscalculated our speed and passed astern, though clearing the rudder by not more than five feet. As he rushed to leeward, swinging his head and thrashing the water, we luffed sharp up until we were heading due east. Whether he located us by sight or sound no man can say, but as he slewed around I saw that he would come head on for our stern. As he started on his mad rush the ship's head was brought due north again in hopes to avoid him, but he changed his course as well and came down on our port quarter.

Every soul aboard knew the ship was doomed. She was heeled to starboard until almost on her beam ends, and the instant she settled back there was a rush for the boats. No one gave the whale further attention, but every effort was put forth to get the boats into the water as the ship was luffed into the wind. Her decks were awash as the last one got away, and that was about fourteen minutes after she was struck. When we came to look around for Tom Bowline, he had disappeared from sight, and no whaler ever reported seeing him after that. It had always been generally believed that he received injuries in striking us that caused his death. We were picked up three days later by a Scotch whaler none the worse in health for our adventure, but the small fortune which that rich cargo would have given every man if safely landed had gone to the bottom of the Atlantic.

Kindness in the Treatment of Cows.

Cattle, like human beings, are as a rule very appreciative of any kindness bestowed upon them. Their susceptibility in this connection is one that is deserving of more general recognition and of more careful cultivation, especially in the case of the milk cows. It is well known that some cows will milk much more freely for some operators than for others. Cows have their likes and dislikes in this matter, and the farmer or dairyman will be well advised who makes it a point of having his cows treated with all the consideration possible by those who have to do with them, either as regards their feeding, their milking or general treatment.

Michigan Republicans in Convention Express Their Preference for U. S. Senator.

PRINCIPAL ISSUE OF THE MEETING

Judge Birdsell Named to Succeed Henderson in Iowa—Connecticut Democrats—Tariff Revision in Massachusetts.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 26.—After a long and laborious session, in which more oratory and enthusiastic partisan strife were in evidence than have been seen in the councils of the Republican party in this state for many years, the Republican state convention yesterday indorsed the senatorial candidacy of General Russell A. Alger and nominated Judge William L. Carpenter, of Detroit, for justice of the supreme court to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Justice Charles D. Long. The test of strength between Alger and Ferry was made on a motion to adopt the minority recommendation of the committee on resolutions, to the effect that no expression of the sentiment of the convention on the senatorial candidacy of any one be taken.

Alger Has a Majority of 161. The test vote by a roll call of counties rejected the minority report by a vote of 427 yeas to 588 nays. The majority report which indorsed General Alger was then adopted without an opposing vote, amid loud and continued cheering from the Alger supporters. At the opening session of the convention Representative Hamilton, of Niles, temporary chairman, made an address, devoting his time chiefly to the tariff and trusts along lines similar to those of President Roosevelt's recent speeches. He predicted that a reciprocity arrangement between this country and Cuba would be perfected by the Fifty-seventh congress.

Where the Great Fight Came In. The afternoon session opened at 2 p. m. The report of the resolutions committee eulogized the late Senator McMillan and Justice Long, and commended the state and national administrations. This portion of the report was unanimously adopted. The great struggle of the Alger and Ferry forces followed over the majority and minority reports on the matter of indorsing General Alger for the United States senate. Both factions were primed for the fight. Supporters of General Alger decided Wednesday night to put a resolution through the convention supporting the candidacy of the ex-secretary of war for the United States senate. The forces of Dexter M. Ferry, of Detroit, determined to vigorously oppose the consideration of the senatorial issue by the convention. The state central committee voted against the senatorial resolutions. When nominations were reached Judge Sheppard, of Bay City, was named against Carpenter, but his name was withdrawn later.

NAMED FOR HENDERSON'S SEAT

Republicans of the Third Iowa District Nominate Birdsell—Resolutions. Hampton, Ia., Sept. 26.—Judge B. P. Birdsell, of Clarion, Ia., was yesterday nominated for congress by the Third district Republican convention. The nomination was made on the second ballot by a vote of 88 to 26 for C. E. Ransier, of Buchanan. The Third district is at present represented by Speaker Henderson, who recently declined a renomination. The report of the committee on resolutions was adopted, as follows:

"We, the representatives of the Republicans of the Third congressional district of Iowa, heartily indorse the platform of principles adopted by the late Republican state convention at Des Moines. We deny that the Dingley tariff breeds and shelters trusts. We interpret the tariff plank in the Des Moines platform of 1902 to be nearly a reiteration of and to mean no more than the St. Louis plank of 1896, which recited: 'We are not pledged to any particular schedules. The question of rates is a practical question to be governed by the conditions of the times and of production. The ruling and uncompromising principle is the protection and development of American labor and industry.'"

The president's policy is then indorsed and the following said about Henderson: "We most earnestly regret the declination of the renomination which the Republicans of this district for the eleventh time unanimously tendered the Hon. D. B. Henderson. * * * We have faith in his patriotism and in his personal and political integrity. * * * We realize his superb leadership and commanding influence in governmental affairs and believe that his withdrawal means a great loss to the people."

D. C. Glasser, of Dubuque, resigned as chairman of the congressional committee, and George B. Wright, of Eagle Grove, was elected to fill the vacancy. Judge Birdsell is about 45 years old. The only office he has ever held is the judgeship of the district court, which he resigned a year ago to resume the practice of law in Clarion.

KANSAS CITY NOT MENTIONED

Connecticut Democrats Refuse to Indorse the 1900 Platform.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 26.—The Democratic state convention adjourned at 5:15 p. m. yesterday after a session lasting all day. A full state ticket was nominated and a platform adopted, and the convention, which had promised to be one of the most bitter in the history of the party in this state, closed in harmony. The ticket nominated follows: Governor, Melbert B. Cary, of Ridgefield; lieutenant governor, E. Kent Hubbard, Jr., of Middletown; secretary of state, Arthur B. Calkins, of Old Lyme; treasurer, Philip Hugo, of New Haven; comptroller, Edward G. Kilgus, of Waterbury; attorney general, Noble E. Pierce, of Bristol; representative-at-large, Homer S. Cummings, of Stamford.

The platform occasioned a heated debate in the committee room, but once presented to the convention as recommended by the committee it was adopted without debate. A strenuous struggle had been made in the committee for the indorsement of the Kansas City platform, and one delegate left the committee in anger because his views were not those of the majority. The committee refused to mention the Kansas City document or doctrine and the fight practically ended there. The platform, consequently, was standard Democratic, with the tariff and trust questions in front and anti-imperialism close up.

And He Stands for Revision.

Boston, Sept. 26.—Complete returns from the Republican caucuses in the Eleventh congressional district give Eugene N. Foss a total of fifty-six delegates and Melvin C. Adams fifty, thus apparently insuring the nomination of the former. The contest was waged on national issues. Foss, who is a brother of Representative Foss, of Illinois, favors a revision of the tariff along radical lines. Among his announced principles are free iron, free coal and free hides.

Littlefield Knows What He Wants.

Council Bluffs, Ia., Sept. 26.—Representative Littlefield, of Maine, passed through this city yesterday afternoon, en route to San Francisco from Denison, Ia. He thought that Henderson's declination would not affect the campaign in other states, and that here it would simply wake up the Republicans. He confirmed the report that he was an aspirant for the gavel of the house—"a favored candidate with very flattering prospects," he said.

Beveridge Speaks at Grand Rapids.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 26.—The Michigan campaign was opened in the Auditorium last evening by Senator Beveridge, of Indiana. After being introduced by Representative William Alden Smith, Senator Beveridge devoted his time to the trusts, tariff, "imperialism," etc., to the satisfaction of his audience, which expressed said satisfaction by frequent and enthusiastic applause.

Allied People's Leaders in Council.

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 26.—A secret meeting of several prominent leaders of the Allied People's party was held here yesterday. Among those present were Joe A. Parker, of Kentucky, chairman of the national executive committee of the party; Frank Burkitt, of Mississippi; Thomas C. Edwards, of Illinois; S. A. Wright, of Missouri, and W. S. Hardy, of Arkansas.

Heinze Threatens a New Party.

Butte, Mont., Sept. 26.—F. Augustus Heinze, whose delegation was turned down in the Democratic convention at Bozeman on Tuesday, has announced that he intends to form a new political party in Montana. It will be his aim, it is said, to fuse the Populists, the Labor party, the socialists and all others he can in an effort to overthrow Senator Clark.

WAS A VERY BRIGHT BOY

Got Much Notoriety First and Now Gets Pinched for Forgery.

St. Louis, Sept. 26.—Richard E. Murphy, of Jefferson, who while a resident of St. Joseph, Mo., gained considerable notoriety as the "boy editor," and who went to Washington and secured personal interviews from President McKinley and a number of other statesmen, which he published in his own paper, was arrested here last night on the charge of forgery. Recently a money order of the Pacific Express company was stolen at Campbell, Mo. Murphy acknowledged to detectives that he had filled out this order for $48.50 and had it cashed at the Germania Trust company. The boy claims his age to be 13.

French Miners to Mitchell.

Paris, Sept. 26.—The national congress of French miners in session at Commeny for the purpose of discussing important mining problems, including the question of a general strike, has cabled the following message to John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America: "The French national congress sends fraternal greetings to the striking Pennsylvania miners and forms sincere wishes for the success of the strike."

Progress of the President.

Washington, Sept. 26.—Dr. Lung remained at the White House throughout yesterday. At 4 p. m. Surgeon General Bixey came over from the navy department, and after he had seen the president it was announced that President Roosevelt had passed a comfortable day with no appreciable change in his condition. The doctors say that the president will be confined to his room a week or ten days, with two weeks as the outside limit.

Selection Suits Henderson.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 26.—Speaker Henderson, who is resting at his cottage on Pacific avenue here, said last night when informed of the nomination of Judge Benjamin P. Birdsell, in his old district, that he was much pleased with the selection.

Offered a College Presidency.

Chicago, Sept. 26.—Superintendent Edwin G. Cooley, of the Chicago public schools, has been offered the presidency of the University of the State of Washington. He said last night that he would ask for a short vacation in order to go to Seattle and see about it.

CASE OF IMMIGRATION

In Which the Law Seems to Have Worked Hardship That Was Cruel.

PARTS TWO VERY DEVOTED LOVERS

Ending in the Suicide of the Girl—What Judge Weist Said to Roos—State Items.

Detroit, Sept. 26.—Driven to desperation by the prospect of being forever separated from her lover, in the expectation of marrying whom she had nearly circled the globe, Alexandra Joseph, a young Syrian girl, in a supreme effort to escape from the United States immigration agent who was about to deport her, threw herself from the window of a Michigan Central passenger train running fifty miles an hour yesterday afternoon, and was instantly killed. The tragedy occurred two miles north of Newport, on the Toledo division of the Michigan Central, and was the culmination of years of effort on the part of Joseph Abodeedy, of Cedar Rapids, Ia., to lead his old world sweetheart to the altar.

When His Real Trouble Began.

But when he had saved enough money to pay the girl's passage to the United States, and she had come as far as Montreal, it appeared that the troubles of the young couple had just begun. In Montreal on May 16 last the iron hand of the United States immigration bureau reached out to separate the lovers and the plucky fight which the young man attempted against fate only ended yesterday in his sweetheart's death. The girl was refused admittance to the United States, on the charge that she was afflicted with trachoma, but Abodeedy thought this difficulty could be removed by medical treatment; so he had the young lady's eyes treated at the Montreal Marine hospital for three months.

Gets Into the Law's Iron Grip.

On Aug. 19, however, his funds having run low, he attempted to run the gauntlet of the inspectors at Detroit, and was caught. Both the young foreigners were detained by the United States authorities at Detroit, and Abodeedy narrowly escaped imprisonment for violating the immigration laws, the sympathy of the officers being aroused in his favor so that he was allowed to leave town. From that time the girl's fate hung in the balance, until yesterday Immigration Agent Cameron Miller took her in custody for the trip to New York with a warrant from the secretary of the treasury to have the girl deported to her home in Syria.

Preferred Death to Deportation.

The officer had allowed his charge to go to the toilet room, and in a moment was horrified to see the door fly open, revealing an empty room and an open window. The train was run back as soon as it could be stopped, and the young woman was found dead beside the track.

JUDGE WEIST'S ROAST OF ROOS

Last of the Military Boodlers Gets a Terrible Raking Over.

Lansing, Mich., Sept. 26.—"I would rather be dead, leaving an honorable name, than to stand where you are today, a living disgrace to the profession from which you have been cast out, and convicted of felony. If you have the instincts of a manly man, life can contain nothing but remorse for you in the future." That was what Judge Weist said to Elbert S. Roos, whom he designated as "the last of the military fraud criminals," then he fined him $2,000 for his share in the fraud.

The judge added: "Your sentence closes the military fraud case. When the people forget the criminals who plundered the people, then you may perhaps raise your head among men, but I apprehend that your name and the names of the others will, as long as you and they live, remind the people of the crime and the part you and they took in it, and this knowledge when you meet your fellows, I take it, will not be the least of your punishment."

Priest Resists His Bishop.

Houghton, Mich., Sept. 26.—The refusal of Rev. F. Sperlain, of the Rockland Roman Catholic parish, Ontonagon county, to obey the mandates or Bishop Elis, of Marquette, promises to be aired in the courts, as the priest refuses to give up his parish to his successor, and threatens to be found kneeling at the altar in his most sacred vestments when the sheriff shall attempt to dispossess him. He declares that he will appeal to Archbishop Messmer, and, as a last resort, to the pope, before he will be driven from his parish.

Big Lot of Medals on Hand.

Lansing, Mich., Sept. 26.—Assistant Adjutant General Turner says that about 1,500 of the 5,000 medals for Michigan soldiers and sailors of the Spanish war and Philippine campaign have been distributed, 500 at the state encampment; about 800 in Detroit this week and last, and the remainder of the above number by mail from the office in the capital. Several cities in the state are now planning public presentations to take place in their home armories.

Charged with Inhumanity.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 26.—A warrant is out for William Brown, of Kent City, charging him with whipping his 12-year-old daughter Anna inhumanly. It is alleged that a rawhide was used because the girl asked her mother to comb her hair and cried when refused.

As It Is Viewed by Alger.

Detroit, Sept. 26.—General Russell A. Alger declared last week that he felt his election "practically assured," adding: "I feel at liberty to confidently predict my success."

Goodenough for Congress.

Manistee, Mich., Sept. 26.—Daniel W. Goodenough, of Ludington, has been nominated for congress by the Democrats of the Ninth district.
