FRIENDS FAR AWAY.

Letter From Mrs. Stebbins on Her Way to India.

NEARING QUEENSTOWN, Sept. 23.
My Dear Friends:—We may mail letters tomorrow so will make attempt to write. Until yesterday and today this would have been impossible. The sailors say, "Unusual fair friends, fair weather and smooth sea." Nevertheless our party of eleven have been slimly represented at the table and some days not seen on deck. There are four in our cabin. Can you imagine our difficulties in trying to dress in a space of about 6x8—knocking against each other and the woodwork, in our efforts, against the rolling of the ship, to maintain equilibrium? I cannot say how much worse I might have been but for the preventative remedies. Anyway have not found it as hard as the first crossing the Atlantic nine years ago.

Our only excitement has been an occasional ship in sight, appearance of a whale or the porpoises. Saturday when we were off the coast of Newfoundland the fog horn was constantly sounding a note of alarm.

Sabbath very few were able to attend the services held in each the first and second class saloons. We are second class, and I believe our tickets were about $40 each. We have had a few little song services on deck when we could not hold up our heads.

One of our party, Miss Johnson, who has been the best sailor, sprained her foot and hops about on the well one. The boards have been on the sides of the table for several days, and glasses, cups, &c., are fastened down. When the ship rolls everything not stationary is off on the floor and broken, and our deck chairs have to be tied to the sides of the ship. Our ship has a capacity of over 2,000 persons, but is carrying between 400 and 500.

The problem that confronts us now is how to divide the week on the continent. We would like to spend Sunday in Switzerland, but to get there will mean passing by London and Paris with only a bird's eye view.

They tell us that an express train will be awaiting the arrival of this ship and that all our baggage labeled for London will be put aboard with us and examined by the Custom House officer while en route. This will save us almost a whole day in Liverpool Custom House. We would like a day to rest before beginning the next voyage.

Friday, Oct. 3, from Trieste—The Adriatic has the reputation of being always stormy. These are days when we live over and appreciate the many tokens of friendship of the home friends. Mizpeh.

Sincerely yours,

ABBIE M. STEBBINS.

BUCHANAN'S OPPORTUNITY.

Mr. Chapin Makes an Offer to the Village.

LARGE MEETING FRIDAY EVENING.

To Consider the Offer and Arrange for Carrying Out Its Provisions.

For several days previous to Friday evening it was known that Charles A. Chapin had made a proposition to the village of Buchanan and that the call for a meeting of the citizens was to consider the offer and if possible accept it and make arrangements for carrying out the provisions of the offer. When the hour came there were gathered at the opera house a large number of the business men of the village. The letter from Mr. Chapin having been addressed to W. A. Palmer, as president of the Buchanan Improvement Association, Mr. Palmer announced to the meeting its object and he was unanimously chosen to preside, while John C. Dick was made secretary, he being the secretary of the improvement association. The secretary then read the following letter from Mr. Chapin:

CHICAGO, Sept. 30, 1902.

Wm. A. Palmer, Esq., President Buchanan Improvement Association, Buchanan, Mich.

Dear Sir:—The power plant at Buchanan is now so nearly completed that I am certain that on or about the first day of January next I shall be able to furnish power created by it. The work there, however, will be pushed to completion, as I am very desirous of utilizing the power at the earliest possible moment.

I suppose that the citizens of Buchanan are also interested in having the power project become a reality.

Because of the fact that I take an interest in the welfare of Buchanan, beyond the success of my own enterprise, I hereby authorize you to submit to those concerned the following proposition:

To any industry locating in Buchanan after the first day of January, 1903, consuming not less than 100 horse power and employing at least one man per horse power, I will furnish power free for one year, and for the next successive year at one-half the current rates, at Buchanan, for like power, provided that the aggregate consumption of power of such institutions is not more for any one year than one thousand horse power. During all subsequent years the above mentioned power will be furnished at reasonable rates, which rates will be established hereafter as the occasion arises.

After you have secured enough institutions to consume the one thousand and horse power I shall be pleased to consider the matter of the disposition of the remainder of the power created by the dam. But if for any reason beyond my control I should be unable to furnish power created by the dam at Buchanan, it is understood that I am not to be held responsible for such inability.

This proposition, of course, does not become effective until the completion of the entire power plant.

I had hoped to be in such a position that I could have submitted the proposition some time ago, but uncertainty as to the time of completion of the plant prevented me from so doing.

With the very kindest regards I am Very sincerely,

CHAS. A. CHAPIN.

After the reading of the above letter remarks were made by W. A. Palmer, Myron Mead, Dr. Henderson, E. S. Roe, Dr. C. B. Roe, George W. Noble and A. A. Worthington.

It was moved and supported that the president acknowledge the receipt of the proposition. Adopted. The matter of raising $500 to advertise the proposition was then taken up. A motion by E. S. Roe to raise it by subscription was lost.

Frank Whitman then moved the chair appoint a committee of five to

COAL STRIKE

Letter from Friend in Coal Regions in Pennsylvania.

The coal miners' strike has become a serious question. There are no doubt two sides to the question as the following letter from a friend in the mining region shows:

LUZERN, PA., Oct. 1, 1902

D. F. Bower,

Dear Friend:—We are hoping for an ending of the anthracite strike for it has demoralized business.

I have a ton of coal picked from the culm banks; it cost $2.50. We can purchase enough at $3.00 or $3.50 but what will the poor in the cities do?

It is a many sided question and living right here on the ground I find it difficult to decide where the weight of justice lies. Here are two instances: A widow living at Broderick had several sons working at the mines, and upon the advice of a relative traded at the cash store in N. B., thus saving 20 per cent on company store prices. This was in the days of company stores. She was notified to buy at the company's store or her sons would lose their positions. This she did and bought as sparingly as possible. A month or two afterwards she found, written on one of the monthly pay slips, "you do not buy enough."

Now on the other hand, summer before last a driver boy at the same mine killed a valuable mule through sheer carelessness, drove it over an unknown route, lost control of the cars and squeezed it to death between two cars. Soon after he drove another mule over an old lattice work where he had been warned not to go, and where the brute itself objected to going till the whip forced it to and one of the sharp sticks pierced its head. For this he was discharged and immediately the whole mine goes out on a strike.

So you see there are two sides to the question. I hope you are near the lumber region so you will have something to burn.

It is true that the miners are sometimes in the wrong but how often, as we see are they oppressed and by those who claim "divine appointment." Let the mine presidents show less arrogance and more of the divine spirit and there will be no strikes of any account.

ACCEPTED BY DURAND

Extracts from the Letter of the Democratic Nominee for the Governor's Chair.

GOULD PLAN RAILWAY EXTENSION

According to a Toledo Editor, Who Predicts Great Things for Northern Michigan.

Saginaw, Mich., Oct. 7.—L. T. Durand, in his letter accepting the Democratic nomination for governor to fill the vacancy caused by the illness of his brother, says in part: "The issue squarely presented is between plutocracy or machine politics controlled by corporate and individual wealth and ambitions upon the one hand and the people or the sacred political rights and privileges of the citizen upon the other.

"What the people demand is less partisanship and less legislation for class and partisan purposes. What they demand of their public servants is honest attention to public duty, and less attention to politicians.

Michigan Central and Politics.

"Among other things it has been openly asserted that the Michigan Central railroad is one of the most powerful financial factors in Michigan politics; that for a half century it has been blessed with special franchise privileges, the gift of the state, and has been reaping the rich benefactions and opportunities incident thereto, and that when the effort is made for a just reduction of its carrying rates, to apply to that enterprise the principles of equal and just taxation, and to place it upon the same basis as the other railroads of the state are placed, it will counter upon the state by a claim for damages amounting to many million dollars. The platform calls attention to the subject.

Will Fight the Suit to the End.

"If this be true, the enormity of the demand calls for the immediate and most vigorous preparation, and the putting forth of the best energies of men, regardless of party, to protect the people of this state from a burden which, if consented to or established, will rest upon and vex them for years to come. If elected to the high office for which I have been named, I shall make it my first business to vigorously safeguard the interests of the state in this matter." Durand promises that the "so-called ripper legislation" of the last legislature, "shall be undone."

REPORT OF A GOULD SCHEME

Ann Arbor Railway To Be Extended, One Line To Be Bld to Cheboygan.

Detroit, Oct. 7.—A dispatch from Toledo says: "It is learned here that the Goulds are to further invade the north Michigan territory. The Times says: 'A Toledo man has just returned from the Clergue country, and brings the news that Wabash engineers have toured the upper Michigan peninsula and are preparing blueprints of several proposed extensions of the Ann Arbor railway, a Gould line.

"One of the new projected routes planned is an extension of the Ann Arbor railway to Cheboygan, it is said. This extension was to be brought about either by building a new road or buying the Detroit and Mackinac, and extending that line to Cheboygan. At that city a line of car ferries would connect with Detour. From Detour the track would extend to the Sod."

Great Business in Peaches.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 7.—The prediction made at the opening of the present season that a million bushels of peaches would be shipped out of the Grand Rapids market this year has been verified by reports from the railroads. While the local roads have not made up a complete statement on the season's peach business, as they are still handling late varieties, careful estimates furnished up to the present time show that the million estimate has been reached.

Grand Trunk Meeting at Detroit.

Detroit, Oct. 7.—The annual meeting of those corporations of the Grand Trunk railroad system that are chartered in the state of Michigan was held here yesterday. All the old directors were re-elected, the late DeForest Skinner being succeeded as director of the Grand Trunk Western by his son, who lives at Valparaiso, Ind. It was reported that the line between Port Huron and Chicago has been double tracked for 153 miles.

They Want Foley Arrested.

Albion, Mich., Oct. 7.—As the result of a street fight complaint has been made by the night police against "KID" Foley, the puglist, and six others. Foley is said to have broken one man's nose in the scrimmage. The "parties in interest" beside Foley are: Harry and Ross Green, brothers; Roy and Robert Streator, brothers; Louis Cronin and Frank Van Aatta.

Badly Hurt by a Thresher.

Charlotte, Mich., Oct. 7.—Robert Spiney, who was working around a threshing machine, became entangled in the belt. It tore the flesh from his right arm and threw him against the machine with such force that a deep cut was inflicted on his face extending from the right eye across the face. It is feared he will lose the sight of his right eye.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

Elder Van Shoick Preached at M. E. Church, and Advent People Welcome New Pastor, Rev. C. Shook.

Last Sunday morning Presiding Elder Van Schoick, preached the first sermon since his recent series of sorrows. He has recently lost wife and mother, and was the unfortunate victim of an accident in which both arms were broken. He has just recovered sufficiently to resume his duties as presiding elder, and was here Saturday evening to hold the first quarterly conference of the year.

His sermon Sunday morning displayed a most beautifully submissive will to an over-ruling Providence, and those who heard him speak said that both words and face were a benediction to the listeners.

At the Advent church the congregation welcomed a new pastor, a former Buchanan boy, now Rev. Chas. Shook. His sermons both morning and evening were very helpful, and the church feel much encouraged at again having a regular pastor. The people of the church and of the village extend a cordial welcome to the new pastor and wish for him abundant success.

Elder J. H. Paton will preach in the Larger Hope church next Sunday morning and evening at the usual hours.
