Board of Supervisors.

The committee on salaries, (Supervisors Halliday, Clark, and Babcock.) reported an increase of $200 on the prosecuting attorney's salary. An effort was made to raise this to $2,000, but failed by a vote of 17 to 15. It was finally made $1,800. The committee also reported county clerk's salary $1,000; county treasurer's $1,500. The court house janitor's salary was raised from $40 to $45.

The committee on poor recommended the building of a barn at the expense of $500, on the county poor farm for fodder. The building was authorized by the board.

The board unanimously elected Chester A. Badger, of Niles, as County Superintendent of Poor, for three years from January 1, 1903, to succeed himself.

S. P. Phillips

Was born in New York State Oct. 1, 1840, and died at the home of his daughter, in Grand Rapids, Oct. 17, 1902.

He enlisted as a soldier in 1862, serving through the war, and was on his way to the old soldiers' home when he was taken sick. His papers of admittance to the home were incomplete and he was waiting for them to be finished and rectified when he was taken sick and died. He was buried at Galien Monday morning, Rev. W. J. Douglass of this place preaching the funeral sermon.

He was quite well known here, being the father of Ed. Phillips, of Smith street.

Out of Death's Jaws.

"When death seemed very near, from a severe stomach and liver trouble, that I had suffered with for years," writes P. Muse, Durham, N. C., "Dr. King's New Life Pills saved my life and gave perfect health." Best pills on earth and only 25c at W. N. Brodick's drug store.

CONGRESSMAN HAMILTON.

Splendid Record for the Rights of the Colored Voters.

It might be well for the colored voters of this congressional district to examine carefully the records before allowing themselves to be influenced by those who say that Congressman Hamilton has done nothing for the colored voters. The following is some of the record:

In 1897 Aldrich, republican, contested with Plowman, democrat, for the seat in the third Alabama district. On the face of the certified returns Plowman was elected, though it was found in the investigation that the colored vote was not counted. In the discussion of the matter the Congressional Record quotes Mr. Hamilton as follows:

"In the heroic days of this republic we passed the thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth amendments to the constitution by which we gave the slaves freedom, franchise and citizenship. The colored man is now counted in the apportionment of representatives in congress. The gentleman from Alabama comes here and claims a seat in this house based on colored population, and yet on election day these people are counted out at the polls. Now, there is a remedy for this. One remedy is that the house of representatives shall refuse to seat the man in the lawmaking branch of the government who claims his seat by virtue of such methods. There is another remedy, an effectual and radical cure, and that is education."

Aldrich was seated. In a contest from the same district two years later Mr. Hamilton was a member of the committee on elections and led the fight for the seating of Aldrich. Following are extracts from his brilliant address delivered March 8, 1900:

"But let it not be forgotten when the white regulars and rough riders marched up the [San Juan] hill that led to death and glory the black regulars were there also, side by side with them every step of the way, fighting with the steadiness and precision of machines and the courage and discretion of American citizens. Sir, I say that a man who is man enough to fight like that is man enough to vote in the elections of the country for which he fights and to have his vote counted."

"Why, my friends, it seems to me that all the members of this house on both sides, every man who helps to make public opinion, instead of trying to beat the colored man out of his vote, ought to try and stand with such men as Booker T. Washington to give the colored man the right to build himself up, to make an American citizen of himself and to act for his best interests."

"The important thing is that the colored man be permitted to vote and have his vote counted as cast and that the white man shall not be corrupted year after year by lying returns."

High School Pupils Reception.

Last Friday evening at the home of Miss Ethel and Blanche Wells there occurred a social gathering of the high school pupils now in the graduating class, and all those who are not now in attendance at school, but entered the high school with this present class. There were thirty present, about one-third of whom are now in school.

A program was given and games were enjoyed. Refreshments were served later in the evening and a general good time was experienced by all present.

UNUSUAL SUNDAY SERVICES.

Out of Town Preachers Fill Three Village Pulpits.

EVANGELICAL CHURCH.

A very impressive and unique service was held at the Evangelical church Sunday morning when the old people of the village were gathered to attend a service especially prepared for them. A very eloquent and impressive sermon was preached by Rev. S. E. Spreng, of Cleveland, Ohio, editor of the church paper, The Evangelical Messenger. He took for his text Psalms 92; 14, "They shall bring forth fruit in old age, they shall be fat and flourishing." This verse had been printed on cards to which had been tied autumn leaves, and these were given to the congregation as souvenirs of the occasion and much prized by the people who received them.

The church was decorated with autumn foliage, in large branches, and the service was very much enjoyed. At the close of Rev. Spreng's very excellent sermon, Rev. Niergarth spoke a few very earnest words to those present, exhorting them to lead a Christian life, if they were not then doing so.

METHODIST CHURCH.

The morning service at the M. E. church was opened as usual by Rev. Douglass, but the audience was surprised to have the pleasure of listening to a sermon by the newly elected moderator of the synod of Michigan, Rev. J. M. Rogers, pastor of the Presbyterian church in Marquette. Rev. Rogers was in town over Sunday the guest of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Dodd, and was invited to speak from the Methodist pulpit in the morning.

He preached a very able sermon, taking his text from Jeremiah. The choir furnished some excellent music with Dr. Garland as organist.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Rev. Marvin, pastor of the Presbyterian church, was requested to fill the pulpit of the Presbyterian church in Niles, in the absence of Dr. Lowry, so the pulpit here was filled by a seminary friend of Rev. Marvin, Rev. Calahan. He presented some most excellent thoughts on the Cross of Christ. In the evening, Rev. J. M. Rogers, of Marquette, spoke and delighted his hearers with his plain heart to heart talk on the "Mysteries of Prayer."

Some special music was furnished, Miss Seymour singing a solo.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

In the absence of the pastor, at the Christian church Sunday morning, there was a varied service, several people taking part.

Mrs. Black made a brief address and Miss Emma Wray, clerk of the church, read the resignation of Elder Black as pastor of the church. No action was taken by the congregation as the matter must first be placed before the board. As Elder Black has already accepted a call in Indiana his resignation will undoubtedly be accepted here.

The service further consisted in a scripture reading by Miss Lindsley, a prepared paper on scriptural references by Mrs. Walter Boone and a solo was sung by Mrs. Harry Perrott.

CAUGHT RED-HANDED.

Two Young Men Arrested While Out Shooting.

Woodcock are delightful and Monday was the opening of the season, but Fred Williams, of Elkhart, and Chas. Ritter, of South Bend, let their appetites for woodcock get the better of them, so they started for the marshes of Bertrand township, west of Buchanan, in Berrien county, Mich., and began the slaughter of the toothsome bird; but in the midst of it who should pop up but Wm. A. Palmer, deputy game warden, who had them taken before Justice J. C. Dick, of Buchanan, where they were each fined $10 and $4.85 costs. Pretty dear woodcock. It would have been more profitable to have waited one day longer.

WANTED—Teams at the Jam at once, $3.50 per day.

Coal Strike.

The prospects for an early settlement of the coal strike are very good. The convention opened at Wilkesboro, Penn., on Monday. There are present 636 delegates from the local unions. President Mitchell, of the mines union, seems to be endowed with more than human wisdom and tact. It is surprising how he is admired by all the people, and the miners adore him; not one is willing to do or say a word that he would not approve. Surely he is a great man and we hope the matter will soon be adjusted to the satisfaction of all.

Epworth League.

At the annual business meeting of the Epworth League, held Friday eve Oct. 17, 1902 at the home of Rev. W. J. Douglass, the following officers were elected: Pres. W. L. Mercer, 1st. Vice Pres. Mabel Currier, 2nd. Vice Pres. Lou Fydel, 3rd. Vice Pres. Nina Holliday, 4th. Vice Pres. Ruth Hunter, Sec. Stella Phelps, Treas. Mary Keller, Organist Elsie Anstiss, Chorister Mrs. Mercer, Chairman Missionary Dept. Mrs. Douglass.

Among other business four new names were presented making the roll number 45 active members.

Kith and Kin.

There occurred a family gathering over Sunday at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. I. L. H. Dodd which was a very enjoyable meeting.

There were present Mrs. Dodd's brother; Rev. J. M. Rogers, of Marquette; and sister, Mrs. H. C. Storms, of Benton Harbor; Mr. H. C. Storms, Miss Edith Storms and Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Niles.

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN.

Described by Dr. Henderson on a Recent Visit There.

Taking a patient of mine, Mr. Upham, to the university hospital at Ann Arbor gave me a chance to note the university now as compared with only two years ago. Since that time many beautiful buildings have been added. The new homeopathic hospital, wonderful in its architecture and shape, stands at the northeast corner of the university grounds, a lawn half an acre in size leading up to the building. In front of it is a large octagonal house, used as a home for nurses in the hospital. The second building south of it is a rectangular brick building of immense proportions, with a hollow court in the middle for the purpose of allowing sunshine in every room. It cost about $200,000 and will accommodate 800 medical students in each of its two large amphitheatres. Post mortem rooms on the third floor and anatomical rooms on the fourth. This belongs to the regular department.

There were beside these changes a magnificent new addition for the engineering department, costing thousands, said to be the best in the land, a $50,000 home for nurses at the university hospital, regular, the money being donated by Mrs. Dr. Palmer, in honor of her husband, who was for many years Dean of the medical department, and in fact the one who helped to found that department. Prof. Palmer was an uncle of our esteemed townsman, W. A. Palmer. There is also a large ward for the insane. A structure 150 feet long, just back of and fifty feet below the university hospital, is to hold a vast heating plant for the hospital, in which there is room for 600 patients in its various wards; also to heat the nurses' home, insane wards, etc. Many other things are being added.

But above all, 4,000 young men and women, earnest and eager for knowledge, are to be seen coming and going in all directions. One thing more is to be asked of the legislature—a large appropriation to build a hospital for the treatment of tubercular poor. No greater boon to its citizens could be given by our senators and representatives. The need is urgent.

Prof. Victor C. Vanhan, Dean of the medical department of the university, and known all over the world for his discoveries in bacteriological research and in hygiene, is one of the greatest friends of this hospital for tubercular poor.

Monday Club.

The Monday Club met with their president, Mrs. Whitman, and thought it was "Flower Day" as each member was given a beautiful bouquet. The subject for study was "Colonial Times" Mrs. P. N. Weaver gave a fine paper on "Inter-Colonial Wars"; Mrs. Crotser's paper described "Domestic and Social Life"; "Manufacturers and Commerce" was a history of small beginnings by Mrs. E. S. Dodd; "New England in the Colonial Period" by Mrs. Howard, was not half long enough. A reading by Mrs. East, a dream of olden times when railroads, matches and other conveniences were unknown, and last but not least a question bureau conducted by Mrs. Worthington. Music by Mrs. E. S. Dodd.

One cannot trace the early growth of the industries, or the wealth of the colonists without discovering that it is owing to the determination of the men and women, to use for the best, every living day as it came; and to their activities. Dating from the moment when the pioneer had first to make himself a home, the wealth and prosperity of the United States are due.

The club will meet with Miss Samson, October 27.

Bricks to Burn.

A new venture in the fuel line is being tried with apparent success. A terra cotta brick made more porous than the ordinary clay brick is saturated with oil and then ignited. It will burn from 30 to 35 minutes, after having absorbed about a penny's worth of oil. The Chicago Tribune recently had an article of some length on the subject, showing how a cent's worth of oil and one of these bricks would make one independent of the coal dealer.

Mr. Harry Couse has tried the experiment and finds it quite satisfactory and the oil brick will absorb will burn about 35 minutes.

It's Today's Way.

Independence shines in every line of the Detroit Today. Its contemporaries gave it two months to live, and it has already helped itself to two years. Its way this sprightly paper has of going straight ahead when it's sure that it's right. This policy has won many staunch friends for the fearless paper and a few robust enemies. Both are highly prized. Today says. The Pioneer Penny Paper began its third year on Wednesday, October 1, with a sixteen page edition that showed how firm a hold Today has already secured upon the advertisers of the city and the country. The paper passed the 80,000 mark in circulation before it was two years old and now stands in the list of the first hundred American dailies.

Immense Crowds.

J. Cohl & Co's opening drew a large number of people Saturday, and many beautiful pieces of goods were displayed and purchased by the crowds that thronged the store all day. New up-to-date goods and pretty patterns attracted many women purchasers and the furnishing goods proved attractive to the men.

The new paper seems to enlarge the room, and the arrangement of goods is to the best possible advantage.

World's Fair.

W. E. Pabor, of Pabor Lake, Florida, has visited the World's Fair to arrange for all independent exhibit showing the possibilities in fruit culture growing on a commercial scale in the central lake region of Southern Florida. Mr. Pabor well known as the poet laureate of the national editorial association, and for many years an editor in Colorado, is now publisher of the Pabor Lake Pineapple, a paper devoted to Florida fruit culture, and is a staff correspondent and department editor of other publications. He devotes much of his time to experimental fruit culture and it is the result of his labor that he will show at the World's Fair. He is growing at his place in DeSoto County for his exhibit, besides his specialty, pineapples, the rose apple, star apple, papaya, anona, otaheite and Barbadoes gooseberries, ginep or Spanish lime berry, surinam cherry, tamarind, queensland roselle, oranges, grape fruit, pomegranate, Japan persimmon. He will also have the deciduous fruits that may be grown in Florida, such as pears, peaches, plums and others. The new way of growing pineapples is to cover the field with slates three inches wide and three inches apart on posts eight feet high. The field is also boarded up on three sides, leaving only the south open. With this protection an even temperature is maintained and the plants flourish. Mr. Pabor says these investments pay 20 per cent net income.

October Strawberries.

Josiah S. Cadwell, of Hagar, picked two cases of strawberries from his farm about 12 days ago, shipped them to Chicago and received $3 per case in return.

Friday night last another case was shipped and two more went forward Monday night.

Mr. Cadwell and his family have been enjoying strawberry shortcake for the past three weeks, and he says if good weather continues he will be able to pick about 50 cases of this fruit from his patch.

This is a remarkable record, indeed in the strawberry line.—St. Joseph Herald.

Jerusalem Corn.

Some one while in Jerusalem sent some of the corn to a friend in Michigan City, who in turn, gave some to A. J. Lamport of New Buffalo, who gave some of it to B. D. Davis of Buchanan who planted six hills on what is known as the Lister place east of the depot. He had four ears mature. As you look at it, you would think it blighted corn, but it is not, our apprentice says, "It has whiskers," each seed is covered like oats or barley. A sample of two ears can be seen in the Record window, come in and see it.

Surprise Party.

Monday afternoon there was a delightful surprise party given to Mrs. A. N. Hamlin which had been planned by her granddaughter, Mrs. H. O. Perrott.

The occasion was Mrs. Hamlin's 79 birthday and there were present her daughter, Mrs. E. S. Hopkins, of Tacoma, Wash., and her niece, Mrs. Baker, of Adrian, Mich., beside the following Buchanan ladies, Mrs. Wray, Mrs. Griffin, Mrs. Birdsall, Mrs. Bird and Mrs. John Perrott.

Banquet.

The Odd Fellows had an initiation of four candidates on Saturday evening. They were: M. M. McGee, Claude B. Glover, Walter French, Chas. Ingless. A large number of members from the Glendora lodge were present. The Glendora team did the work of initiation. After which there was a banquet and music with a good time generally.

Pie!

The pretty, the popular, the persecuted and the prosaic people are persistently persuaded to perambulate up piety prominence to participate in a peculiar, prevailing pie performance at the M. E. parsonage.

Program prepared, partners provided, personages politely presented. Peach pie, pumpkin pie, printers' pie, etc. Wednesday, Oct. 23, 8 p.m.

Read on Castoria.

Vice Chancellor Reed sitting in the Court of Chancery at Trenton, N. J., has just rendered a decision of vital importance in the case of The Centaur Company against a party calling themselves the C. W. Link Drug Company.

It seems for the past year or more Mr. Charles H. J. Fletcher, president of The Centaur Company, the manufacturers of Castoria, has been fighting, through the courts, counterfeiters and imitators of their goods.

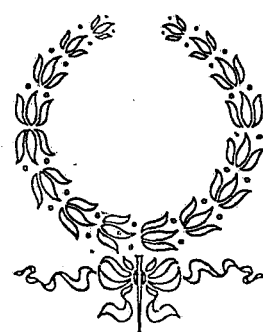

All of the fake goods are put up in a manner to lead the purchaser to think they are getting the same Castoria they have always bought, and the Chancellor dwells at length on this point, showing how easy it would be to inform the public of the difference between the packages if it were not their object to mislead the consumer. He says in part: "Every one of the packages put in evidence by the defendant show a persistent adoption of the size of the bottle and the label of the complainant. All these manufacturers knew, just as the defendant knew, that if the remedy was put up in round bottles or in bottles distinctively larger or smaller, or if the bottles were so differently wrapped, as to at once arrest the attention of the casual purchaser, the sale of the remedy in such packages would at once become substantially reduced. Citing numerous cases in line with this opinion, he gave Mr. Charles H. Fletcher the injunction asked for and C. W. Link Drug Company must seek new fields."
