WAX WORKS.

Letter From Mrs. Stebbins Written
From London.

Dear Friends:—Never having seen anything of its kind, this exhibition of Madam Tussand & Son's was to me a wonderful revelation of art. A bus ride followed by ten minutes in the underground railway brought us a party of eight to Barker street station. A ticket was bought for a shilling, and we were soon ushered in to the midst of life like figures representing every and all ages. These exhibits are over half a century old. All the old kings and notables with many modern ones were there, so very life-like. Some familiar figures were there such as, George Washington, Presidents Roosevelt, Cleveland, Grant, Lincoln, McKinley, the Empress Dowager of China, Mr. Marconi, his late excellency Li Hung Chung, Sir Thomas Lipton, Rudyard Kipling. I feared to go to the Chamber of Horrors lest I should have bad dreams for some time to come, but there seemed no other way but to keep together as the time to close was nearing and we must make our exit by that entrance near the underground railway. After all I did not find it as horrible as the Tower of London and was glad I went.

True there were enough horrible things such as the execution, of criminals in various manners, hanging, chopping heads off, guillotine. In the electric chair was Giteau. Criminals with criminal faces and tableaux of the execution of Mary Queen of Scots and the murder of the princesses in the Tower. There were others better, such as babes in the woods, ciuderella, exposition to the north pole and there were three scenes from the Transvaal.

At exactly ten o'clock the policeman shouted "All out." So we hustled "oot." And thankful we were for the enjoyment and benefit of that most enjoyable hour at Madam Tussand's Wax Works.

A Soliloquy.

I sat by an open window
At the close of an autumn day,
Watching the leaves fall from the trees
In a most peculiar way.

And I thought how like people
Are those messengers so still;
All going different ways,
Some mission to fulfill.

It seems to me the shrunken ones
Were like the misers—small;
He would cling to a twig with a firm grip,
But finally wiggle and fall.

The tiny ones brought to my mind
A lass of sweet sixteen,
Miniature in size, but perfect in form,
And just a little bit green.

Others reminded me of a dude
Clothed in gorgeous array;
They would soar, and soar, and soar again,
And then would flow away.

The withered ones looked like old maids.
Whose gay companions had flown;
They were always willing to catch on,
But they could not fly alone.

In nature what curious lessons,
A close observer finds.
The rest I saw—I dare not tell,
I will pull down the blinds.

—Mrs. T. H. MERRILL.

Miss Mabel Currier Entertains.

On Friday evening at the home of Miss Currier, there occurred a delightful social gathering, when all the teachers of the village responded to an invitation to spend the evening as guests of Miss Currier, Miss Abbey who taught here last year, but who is now engaged in the Mishawaka schools, was in town the guest of Miss Lindsley, her friends were delighted to see her at the social. Progressive games were enjoyed, dainty refreshments were served, and all expressed themselves as having had a delightful evening.

FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.

What Secretary of State Warner Says
about Rail Road Taxation.

"What about railroad taxation?" he was asked.

"The showing is very favorable to the people," said Mr. Warner. "The gross amount of taxes paid by the railroads of Michigan Jan. 1, 1890, was $757,234.94. This amount has increased steadily, except for the years 1898-45, when the whole country was suffering from the stagnation in business. A little later came Republican legislation raising the rate of taxation on railroads and the gross amount paid by those corporations jumped. First to one million dollars, then to a million and a quarter, and on Jan. 1, of this year the amount was $1,483,906.84, nearly double what it was 10 years ago. During this ten years the taxation per mile increased from $113.32 to $167.85. The benefit of this increase in railroad taxation brought about by the Republican party, is felt by every taxpayer in every school district in Michigan. The specific tax paid by railroad corporations goes into what is popularly called the primary school fund and is distributed among the districts according to the number of children. In 1891 the total amount thus distributed was $916,587.85 being $1.42 per capita. In 1899, as a consequence of Republican legislation, the amount was $1,053,050.50 the next year about the same, while last year the school districts of the state received nearly a million and a half dollars, the exact figures being $1,464,013.20. This was $2.05 for every person of school age in Michigan. I haven't the figures at hand showing the gross amount of the primary school fund for 1902, but it is largely increased over that of a year ago the per capita amount being $2.52 as against $1.42 in 1891."

"This is a state issue of some consequence. It isn't imaginary, nor is it guesswork. In very many school districts, yes, in a majority of the counties, the primary school moneys paid back to the people to help them maintain their public schools exceeds the entire amount of state taxes levied in such districts and counties."

"Here are some more figures that have a direct bearing on state issues: Jan. 1, 1891—

State Treasury revenue balance $504,426.13

Jan. 1, 1903—

State Treasury revenue balance $237,046.06

"The first date marks the time when the Democrats assumed full control in Michigan, the second date marks the end of their administration. During that two years the United States government paid into the state treasury $420,895.66. If the opportune payment had not been received the treasury revenue balance on January 1, 1893, when the Democrats relinquished control would have been overdrawn by $188,820. The full effect of Democratic mismanagement was not felt, however, until later, for during their two years of power no public improvement was made, nor were repairs even kept up in state institutions. There was no provision made by them for the increasing needs of our rapidly growing state. This duty devolved upon the Republican administration which followed."

"In this same connection it is interesting to remember that on the first day of August, this year, the revenue balance in the state treasury was very close to $5,000,000. Republican officials seem to be managing the business affairs of the people in a business like manner. The money of the people is economically expended not squandered. Every department of the state government is honestly administered and is worthy of the confidence and approval of the people."

"It seems to me," concluded the secretary of state, "that the more the people learn about the conduct of their state affairs by the Republican party the larger will be the Republican majorities on election day."—Detroit Journal

Death of Mrs. Mary Blowers.

News has been received here that Mrs. Mary Blowers, widow of the late Wm. M. Blowers, and mother of Geo. Blowers, of Albion, this state, and of Wm. Blowers, of our village, had died of abscess of the liver, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. E. Lough, in Tampa, Florida. The remains are expected to arrive Wednesday for interment.

Those who were fortunate enough to have known Mrs. Blowers speak in highest praise of her fine character. No greater monument can be reared above one's ashes than to leave the memory of a well spent life.

The funeral will be held Thursday, 2 p. m. from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Blowers, on Dewey Ave. Elder Black, assisted by Rev. Douglass will preach the funeral sermon.

Called Home.

Again the grim reaper has called, and this time he has taken Master Frank Willard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bosworth and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. French, who, receiving a message yesterday morning of his death, have gone to Plymouth, Ind., the home of Mr. and Bosworth, to attend the funeral.

A Three Cornered Situation

Mrs. E. Parkinson bought some show cases from A. Jones & Co. She sent Mr. Frank Barnes for the cases. In delivering them the glass in the door of one of them was broken. Who is responsible? Mr. Jones had sold the cases in perfect condition, Mrs. Parkinson had not received them, and Mr. Barnes says he is not responsible for the breakage. Who will stand the loss, is the question now interesting all concerned.

BURNS DELIGHTS HIS HEARERS.

Gallen People Treated to an Excellent
Talk Which Caused Much Enthusiasm.

Edward N. Burns, the well-known young orator, of Bay City, opened the republican campaign with a whoop at Gallen last night. The town hall was filled to its utmost capacity with as enthusiastic an audience as ever assembled within its walls.

The issues of the day were handled in a masterful way by Mr. Burns, whose eloquence is at once vigorous and elegant. The reputation which the young man enjoys throughout the state was ably sustained last night, and the republican committee is to be congratulated upon securing the services of Mr. Burns, who wins golden opinions wherever he is heard.

The past four weeks Mr. Burns has been touring the state under the auspices of the republican State Central Committee. Tonight he speaks at New Buffalo, tomorrow night at Benton Harbor, where a monster demonstration has been planned; and Thursday night he speaks at Tanas, Isosco county, finishing his tour at Bay City on next Monday night.

At Gallen last night Mr. Burns paid Congressman E. L. Hamilton a glowing tribute. He dwelt at length upon the genial character of the man and the great national reputation he has achieved in Washington. He dwelt upon the great work he has done for river and harbor improvements in this district, securing during his three terms the magnificent sum of $880,000, $80,000 of which came to Berrien county. He spoke of the great work accomplished by him in securing free rural delivery routes the district being today a perfect net work of these great avenues of news, numbering at present some 82, where three years ago there none. "His work," he said, "for those old boys in blue who answered the great call of the immortal Lincoln and went down on southern battlefields to fight beneath the stars and stripes for the priceless gift of human freedom. During his term of office he has secured over 900 pensions, and is pushing the claims of over 1,200 more. In the securing of these pension claims his efforts have been indefatigable, and happy we are to stop crowned with an unusual success. The percentage obtained by him being far in excess of that obtained by any other representative in congress, the other congressmen being satisfied with 12 per cent while Mr. Hamilton secured 20 per cent."

"The colored voters of this district E. L. Hamilton has been particularly interested in, and never has any of them asked him a favor, never has one of them gone to him with a request, never has any portion of them petitioned him, that he has not been ever eager to hear them and struggle to secure and grant them their every wish. And in those great halls of national legislation, when bitter southern partisans arose and tried to wrest from our colored brethren the right of election franchise granted to them under our constitutional rights, this great congressman of ours, of whom we are so justly proud, arose and lifted his mighty voice in their defense. His name is throughout this district and this great state a synonym for all that is befitting a gentleman and an orator."

The ladies of the Eastern Star gave

J. P. Beistle and wife returned on Tuesday morning from an extended visit to the east. They spent a week in and around Washington and the remainder of the time in Pennsy-

and had a delightful time during the entire trip.

Saturday while Mrs. L. R. Hamilton was arranging a curtain, she stepped backward from a couch to the floor and stepped on something which threw her. She fell on her hand, drawing up her wrist and breaking several of the smaller bones.
Dr. Garland dressed the fracture.

The regular weekly teachers' meeting was held Monday night at the

FLAG EVENING.

Thirty Club as Hostesses to their Friends
Monday Evening.

The members of the 30 club invited their husbands and a few friends to meet with them Monday evening at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Marvin, and enjoy a social hour. About sixty guests assembled, listened to an excellent program and indulged in some pleasant games.

The committee who planned the evening's entertainment were Mesdames Roe, Desenberg, Garland, Brodrick, and Miss Searls.

The program consisted of two selections by the ladies' quartette, who sang as always, very sweetly; an enjoyable recitation by Mrs. Kingery, who rendered it in response to request; an excellent paper on "The First Flag," by Mrs. S. C. Cook, president of the club, and a very interesting paper on "Flag Lore," by Miss Artie Logan. The program concluded by all singing America. A flag game, with guessing to be done, was next indulged in, and Mrs. Harvey Rough won first prize in this,
Mrs. Glenn Smith winning consolation prize.

Two course lunch was then served, consisting of sandwiches, pickles and coffee, sherbit and cake.

The club colors, green and white,
were displayed in the candelabra,
and the flag was used as decorations.

Death of Father and Mother.

On Friday morning E. W. Sanders returned home from Washington and from a visit in Pennsylvania with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sanders, and other relatives, where he had been three weeks. When he first went to see his parents they were quite well, but after visiting elsewhere and returning again they were not very well, and both had quite a severe sick spell before he left, but when he left them last Thursday morning they seemed to be fairly well again. Monday, at dinner, he remarked that it was about time he heard from his parents, when there was a ring at the door bell. His son answered the call and returned with a message, saying father and mother were dead.

They lived at Oline, Penn., and were aged 80 and 83 years. Mr. Sanders took the 5:19 train on Monday
for Pennsylvania.

Engine Jumped the Track.

Sunday morning as the M. B. H. & C. passenger engine pulled into the yard the air brake refused to work and the engine ran into the rear end of a freight car, smashing the cow-catcher and derailing the two front wheels of the engine. The engine was not seriously damaged nor was the freight car. In fact the engine was soon placed on the track and everything moved along in the usual order.

MRS. BAIRD'S TRIP EAST.

Visit to Washington Described by One of the Ladies of the G. A. R.

We left Buchanan Oct. 4, at 1:30
p. m., and arrived in Detroit at 6:30
p. m., where we were met by Post
No. 483, of Detroit, who gave us a hearty welcome and each of us a badge. We arrived in Washington, D. C., at 12 p. m. Sunday night.
We spent the day Monday at headquarters, getting located. In the evening we viewed the city decorations by electricity, in the national colors, which were beautiful. We also attended the camp fire.

On Tuesday, the 7th, visited the several buildings of note—pension building, capitol, library, Smithsonian institute. The evening was spent receiving delegates who had arrived
during the day.

Wednesday, the 8th, we viewed the grand march of the old veterans along Pennsylvania avenue. All street cars were stopped and business houses closed during the day. As the several bands played the National airs, had you seen the old Vets keeping step to the march time, with old glory floating over them, you would have thought them back in '61 to '65.
This was a grand sight, ever to be remembered, and to fill one's heart with patriotism. The evening was spent in receiving our friends at our headquarters.

Thursday, the 9th, convention was called to order in the Lutheran Memorial church at 9:30 a. m., by the National president, Mrs. Emma Wall, of Kansas. The day was spent in hearing reports from the different committees. Convention adjourned at 4 p. m. to attend the reception given by Mrs. Roosevelt in the Corcoran Gallery of Art, to the several patriotic organizations of women.
This being the 51st birthday anniversary of the Department President of Michigan, the delegates had prepared a reception for her, and a surprise.
In the evening at their headquarters,
after refreshments, she was presented with a sterling silver souvenir spoon,
with the capitol building engraved in the bowl and the Grand Army badge on the handle. After which a pleasant evening was spent in speech and songs, wishing their president many happy returns of her birthday anniversary.

Friday morning, Convention called to order at 9:30 a. m. At noon Gen.
Grant Circle served dinner to delegates. The convention closed at 11
p. m. San Francisco, Cal., was the place chosen for the next convention in 1908.

We left Washington Saturday evening at 6:20 p. m. After a very pleasant journey arrived home Sunday,
Oct. 12.

Important Real Estate Transfers.

Three farms near Buchanan have recently changed hands, which involved the transfer of large sums of money.

The Turner farm has been purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Vanderville, and they will make their home there in a short time. They are well known in this community and many friends are ready to extend them a welcome.
The Kelsey and Zerbe farms have been bought by J. Jaquays & Co., of Benton Harbor, and they will start a nursery there at once. A car load of peach stones will be unloaded on the place and thirty men will be employed there.

These changes bring increased activity near Buchanan and will, no doubt, tend to the general good.

Pleasant Visitors.

Thomas J. Tormey, city editor of the Niles Daily Star, and Edward F.
Burns, of Bay City, were guests of the Misses Alta Wright and Nina Holliday on Monday evening. They drove to Galien in the evening, where
Mr. Burns made a political address.
The drive was delightful, with the exception of rain on the return trip.
Before leaving town they made a call at the RECORD office, and we were pleased to meet Mr. Burns and are indebted to Bro. Tormey for the courtesy.

Notice.

O. H. Fuller will make regular trips to South Bend each Thursday with the 'bus, which leaves promptly at 7 o'clock. Prompt and careful attention given to parcels. Leave orders at Harry Rough's.

A Praiseworthy Act.

Through the personal efforts of John Wenger about $100 has been raised to help pay the expense of special treatment for Burnette Peters.
The cabinet works raised $25 for the same purpose.

From Our Exchanges.

Washington, Oct. 25.—The large sums of money which are being expended in Michigan in the construction of dams for electric and other power plants have increased the demand for a more careful survey of the water power possibilities of the state than has hitherto been undertaken.

Many owners of undeveloped powers have made requests to the hydrographic branch of the United States Geological Survey for information of this nature, with the result that a systematic survey of the streams and water powers of the state have been begun by the Geological survey. H. A. Pressey, hydrographer in charge of the hydrographic field work of the survey in the east, and Robert E. Horton, resident hydrographer for New York and Michigan, have recently made an inspection of a number of power streams in both the upper and lower peninsulas of Michigan, and have arranged for the establishment of gaging stations upon them. Mr. Horton remained in Michigan about six weeks to complete the arrangements.

Streams which will be studied are the St. Joseph, Grand, Kalamazoo, Muskegon and Thunder bay rivers, on which government records have been kept for some time.—Benton Harbor News.

Mrs. G. A. Conrad was compelled to resign as teacher of the primary department in the Galien school Friday of last week on account of ill health and Wednesday she left for her former home in Calumet on a visit. The doctor accompanied her as far as Chicago. Miss Lillie Jannasch has been teaching the primary in the meantime, no teacher as yet having been secured for the place. The board regrets very much to lose the valuable services of Mrs. Conrad.—Galien Advocate.

Sunday Services.

U. B. CHURCH.

The Rev. W. J. Tarrant filled the U. B. pulpit Sunday for the first time. The audience was not large, but they were attentive and carried away with them good impressions.

Rev. Tarrant took for his text, "Ye are the light of the world." Before preaching he made a few introductory remarks, which were to the point and of a Christ like spirit.

He said, "I do not want you to tell me anything about my predecessor, for if you talk about him I will have reason to believe you will talk about me. So if you do not want me to believe you will talk about me do not talk about him. I suppose he has faults; so have I, and if I am not very much mistaken, so have you."

Rev. Tarrant then gave a very able discourse from the text, which could have been heard with profit by any one. He asked, "About whom was the text spoken? The Pharisees, the rich man, the educated man? No, these are all shedding forth light, but they are not the ones spoken of. It is the one with the Christ spirit, of whom this was spoken. What are you doing to shed light on the world? It means action. I hear some people talking about their home in heaven that they are working for. There is something better. What, better than a home in heaven? Yes, heaven in your home. Get heaven in the homes and you will have no difficulty with the church."

We predict for Rev. Tarrant a useful work in Buchanan, and his first sermon has prepossessed his hearers in his favor.

M. E. CHURCH.

The evening services at the Methodist church last Sunday was given up to the Epworth League and proved very interesting and helpful.

The newly elected officers were charged with the responsibility of their various offices, by the pastor, Rev. Douglass, in a few well chosen words addressed to each incumbent. The music was delightful. Dr. J. A. Garland presided at the organ. Mesdames Mercer and Garland sang a duet, assisted in parts by the entire choir, and Mrs. Crossman sang "Calvary" as a solo.

Forecast For November.

Rev. Irl R. Hicks, of St. Louis, gives weather predictions in Word and Works.

The first storm movements for this month will be central on the 3rd and 4th. On and touching these days a rise in temperature, falling barometer, cloudiness and rain will pass eastwardly from western extremes to the Atlantic. The western and northern sides of this and all storm areas at this season, will most likely turn to snow, and as the high barometer pushes it from the northwest behind the storms, high, cold winds and freezing clearing weather will succeed. Remember that, as a rule, the cold, clearing weather begins in the northwest before the storm areas reach central and eastern extremes of the country. A-tual storms of rain and snow, as well as the warm, fair weather before and the cold, fair weather behind them, always pass, like great railroad trains, from west to east across the states. By watching your barometer and the heavens during the storm periods, you may know with great precision when the storms and changes will arrive at your longitude or locality.

The second storm period for November will be central on the 9th extending from the 7th to the 12th. This is a regular Vulcan period, with moon at first quarter on the 7th, and on the celestial equator on the 11th. As we enter well into this period a marked change to warmer will move out of western parts, falling barometer will follow, and wide areas of autumnal rain will move eastward from about the 9th to the 12th. These storms will reach the culminating stage about the 11th with possible lightning and thunder southward, all followed from the northwest by change to snow, rising barometer and cold, clearing weather. Watch and see.

The anti-storm conditions following the preceding period will break down about the 15th and 16th, which are reactionary storm days. The moon is full on the 15th and at her perigee on the 16th, also at her highest point northward in the sky on the 17th. Therefore on and touching the 15th and 16th low barometer, rising temperature and wide areas of renewed rain, turning to snow generally to northward, will pass eastwardly from the far west over the country. Be on the watch, first for warmer, pleasant weather, then for cloudiness and rain, then for shift of temperature and wind with snow, then for high barometer, stiff northerly gales and cold, clearing weather—not all at once on your patch, but each in regular rotation. One of the marked storm periods of the month falls in and near the center of a Mercury period. This Vulcan period covers the 19th to the 23rd. Be prepared at this time for all the progressive phenomena of a very active storm period. Low barometer and warmer will end in general rains, rains will lead to snow and sleet—look for sleet—and snow and sleet will be attended and followed by a change amounting to a cold wave. This period will come to its crisis about the 22nd and 23rd. If vessels are navigating the lakes at this time, great suffering and probable disaster will result. Let all concerned take heed!

On and touching the 26th and 27th, the cloudy, unsettled weather, resulting from the Mercury equinox, will end in decided autumnal rain storms, wind and snow. In all northern sections look for heavy sleet. High northwesterly winds and change to quite cold will follow these storms. Let all outdoor work be in good shape for winter storms and weather before this time. Frosts and freezing will penetrate far into the south, along with the high barometer behind these storms. On the north Atlantic rough seas and boreal weather will call for extra care and caution. Read telegraphic news and see. As the month goes out a storm period will be in its first stages; it will be turning warmer in the west, with falling barometer and other indications of approaching storms. This period will culminate in the opening days of December. See particulars in December Word and Works.

America's Famous Beauties.

Look with horror on Skin Eruptions, Blisters, Sores, Pimples. They don't have them, nor will any one who uses Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It glorifies the face. Eczema or Salt Rheum vanish before it. It cures sore lips, chapped hands, chilblains. Infalible for Piles. 25c at W. N. Brodrick's drug store.

It's worth your while to be particular about your collars; the difference between having them right and not quite right is small before you buy, and large after.

If you come here and get the Cluett or Arrow brands—the Cluett-Peabody kinds—you pay no more than any good collar costs; and you get real collar-comfort and value. You can easily get less for the same money elsewhere.

Are your shirts all right? New stock here—Cluetts and Monarchs; well worth seeing.

Magazine Reviews.

A Growing Magazine.

With the November number of the Four Track News that popular magazine has been increased to one hundred pages. The leading article is entitled "Early Rapid Transit in America," by N. Hudson Moore, and is especially unique from the fact that it is illustrated by reproductions of old blue china plates showing the early modes of travel that were perpetuated in chinaware. The frontispiece is reproduced from an old early railway scene in the Mohawk valley. Other interesting articles are The Birthplace of Ohio, by Jane W. Guthrie; Footprints on the Sands of Time (an appreciative tribute to Peter Cooper), by L. K. Becker; Among the Mexicans, by Marin S. Fenwick; Our old Brown Homestead (the Alice and Phoebe Cary home), by Celeste Bennett Dobbins; Niagara in Winter, by Orrin E. Dunlap; The Trappist Monks at Getsemane, by Page Walter Sampson; The Northwest Corner (the Puget Sound Country), by R. Donan; Herkimer's Great Victory, by John O. Collins; The Vineyard of California, by Charles Wood; Joseph Brant, the Indian, by Helen Rathbun Parry; and An Historical and Industrial City (Fulton, New York), by B. W. Bennett.

The usual number of "Little Histories," poems and humor intersperse the pages.

The illustrations in this number are specially striking; the full pages embracing some of the most beautiful illustrations that have yet appeared in the magazine. They include, beside the one already mentioned, a railway scene in the Mohawk Valley at the present day, a street scene in a Mexican village, Niagara in the grasp of mid-winter, an impressive view of Celilo Falls, Oregon; one of California's fruitful valleys, and an exquisite picture of Autumn on Creek. Besides these the usual profusion of smaller cuts embellishes the magazine from cover to cover.

The Four-Track News is fifty cents a year and five cents a copy, and can be had of George H. Daniels, General Passenger Agent, Publisher, Grand Central Station New York.

Good Housekeeping for November

The November Good Housekeeping while it recognizes Thanksgiving with two excellent dinners, a bright story by Julia Ditto Young and some curious anecdotes, offers its readers a rich feast aside from the holiday. The immense service which the parcel post renders the European housekeeper is described by Anna Woodward, with illustrations. The Colonial Dame, as she really was, is the subject of a charming paper by Ella Morris Kretschmar. How to set the table for family and formal luncheons and dinners is told very explicitly, with the aid of illustrations. The dainty fashion drawings are supplemented with photographic likenesses of a very pretty actress in some of the new costumes. The favorite cooking recipes of many prominent Michigan women are given, an illustrated description of a model kitchen, an illustrated article on candy making for children, and a wide variety of other timely material.

Ten cents a copy, one dollar a year. The Phelps Publishing Co., Springfield, Mass., New York, Chicago.

A Newspaper Platform That Has Been Ratified by the People.

ADOPTED OCT. 1, 1900.

To-Day will be made up of nothing but news and an opinion or two. To-Day will do the editing and the pruning for busy readers. Terse form; large type. To-Days proposes to give as it proposes to get—for value received. To-Day prefers the office of annalist to the role of alms-maker.

To Day will be content to be a cheerful and independent chronicler of the events of the passing day.

To-Day will have a strong and genuine consideration for the forgotten man.

To-Days's highest aspiration, is to deserve and secure the distinction of being the peoples paper.

To-Day will fly the legend, "Do it today!" as a stimulus to instant and well-directed action.

To-Day will use its name as a protest against procrastination and a title consonant with a strenuous age. To-Day will tell the truth no matter whom it helps or hurts.

Mr. James B. Connolly's article in the November Scribner's, "In the Paths of Immigration," describes how the great European transportation companies deal with the thousands of human beings that they annually ship to this country. It gives the fullest information regarding the way the immigrants are treated by steamship and railroad companies, and of the careful manner in which they are inspected before they are allowed to go aboard ship. Mr. Connolly has written with appreciation of the many-sided human interests of the subject and tells of many little scenes, humorous and pathetic, attending the leaving of home for a strange country.
