CANDIDATE RACKLIFF.

Capable and Efficient Register of Deeds Whose Work Speaks for Re-Election.

Henry A. Rackliffe was born in Lincolnville, Waldo county, Maine, lived on a farm with his parents, receiving his early education in the common schools of the township, and later becoming a student at Oak Grove Seminary, then finishing at the Maine State Seminary at Lewiston. After teaching in his home township he came to Chicago in 1865, and to Benton Harbor in 1866, where he purchased land, and has since engaged in farming and fruit growing, with the exception of a short period in the early seventies, when he was engaged in the grocery business in Benton Harbor, associated with S. G. Antisdale. After filling several minor offices in Benton township he was elected supervisor in 1897, which office he held three years, declining a unanimous nomination in 1900. He was at one time a stockholder and director in the West Michigan Nursery Co., and has always taken an active interest in the agricultural welfare of the county. He has been a republican and an active worker in the party from the time he cast his first ballot, often sacrificing his own political interests to serve a friend. Becoming a candidate for Register of Deeds his claims were recognized by the party and he was elected to the office two years ago, which he has filled as a careful and painstaking official, courteous and accommodating to all.

New Meat Market.

Mr. J. G. Corey, who for many years before moving from Buchanan was engaged in the slaughtering business, will again engage in the business. He is opening a market on Main street in the Arthur building and expects soon to be ready for business.

WANTED—Teams at the dam at once, $3.50 per day.

Monday Club.

The M. L. Club held one of the most profitable meetings of the season with Miss Samson. Each member was given a dainty bouquet of yellow (the club color) chrysanthemums. The subject for study was "The Growth of Patriotism," which certainly meant everything to our ancestors. "Remote and Direct Causes of Revolutionary War," was a well written paper, by Mrs. Kent. An interesting paper on the "Stamp Act," by Mrs. Morgan. Mrs. C. East had the "Boston Tea Party," and proved that tea could be made to mix with large quantities of "salt water." "The Boston Post Bill," by Mrs. E. S. Roe, and "The Continental Congress," by Miss Samson, were two papers full of the independent spirit that had taken possession of the colonists, as they hoped for liberty, and the right to levy taxes and to make all laws in their own colonial assemblies. Mrs. Rose read a good paper on James Otis. "Questions," conducted by Mrs. Johnson.

The club will meet next Monday with Mrs. Weaver.

A Jolly Crowd.

Mrs. Byron Brant was greatly surprised Monday evening on answering the call at the door. It seems that she had given an invitation to some of her friends to come and visit her at Paw Paw Lake, and the ladies being unable to go decided to call on her at her home, and went in full dress and gave her a surprise party. Styles, both in dress and hats, were far beyond the styles of today, and a jolly time was had by all.

After having spent an enjoyable evening the ladies departed for their homes, deciding to go again.

NOTED MEN ARE HERE

Prominent Berrien County Men Interested in the Sunday School Work.

80 DELEGATES IN CITY

The Programs Are Drawing Large Audiences at Every Session of the Convention

There is a wave of Sunday school enthusiasm spreading over this city, the result of the county Sunday school convention now being held in the First Baptist church of this city. Among the delegates are some of the most prominent business men in the county, Hon. E. K. Warren of Three Oaks, and Editor D. F. Bower of Buchanan being examples of this class. The politicians are represented by Hon. Joel H. Gillette of Niles, I. L. H. Dodd of Buchanan and Alva Sherwood of Three Oaks. In all the eighty delegates represent people in almost every walk of life.

This forenoon the annual report of Treasurer Gillette caused considerable discussion. The total receipts for the county work received during the past year amounted to about $100 and the expenses of the work have been $40 in excess of the receipts. There is now a balance of $25 but at the same rate another year the association will be $15 in debt. A committee was appointed to devise a plan for deriving a tariff for revenue only.—Benton Harbor Evening News.

W. A. PALMER

Good Prospects for His Being State Game Warden

Though there are some twenty aspirants for the office of state game warden, the chances for W. Palmer's finally securing it are growing. The Benton Harbor Evening News of Oct. 29, gives a good reason why he should be chosen for this office, in an article entitled, "Palmer Saving the State Expense." They speak as follows:

At the present time there is a mistake on the law books of the state. The last session of the legislature passed a bill making the open season on quail from October 20, but it was printed in the book as October 1. Justice Hammond took the law at its word and went hunting before October 20. He was arrested by Mr. Palmer and his trial set at Buchanan. Twice the hearing has been postponed and the case will probably be dropped.

In doing this Mr. Palmer will save the expense of many dollars and besides will not be sacrificing the game of the state.

Before another quail season there will be a session of the legislature and the defective law will be repaired. It would not be worth two cents to the state to have the supreme court pass upon the point whether a printed law is the law of the state or not. Besides, it would be very hard to find a jury that would convict a man because he kept within the law of the state, as they appear on the statute books pointed by the authority of the state.

Deer Shooting.

The prospects for deer shooting in Northern Wisconsin and the upper peninsula of Michigan the coming season are exceptionally good, and fine sport is assured. Reduced rates will be made for excursion tickets from Chicago and Milwaukee to points on and via the Chicago, Milwaukee & S. Paul Ry. A synopsis of the game laws now in effect may be obtained on application to Robt. C. Jones, Michigan Passenger Agent, Detroit, Mich.

Luck in Thirteen.

By sending 13 miles Wm. Spirey, of Walton Furnace, Vt, got a box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, that wholly cured a horrible Fever Sore on his leg. Nothing else could. Positively cures Bruises, Felons, Ulcers, Eruptions, Boils, Burns, Corns and Piles. Only 25c. Guaranteed by W. N. Brodrick, druggist.

ANNIVERSARY BANQUET.

A. O. U. W. Entertain and Banquet Their Friends.

On Tuesday evening of this week there assembled in the lodge room of the A. O. U. W. of Buchanan a large number of our best citizens to celebrate the 34th anniversary of the order. The lodge room was beautifully decorated with the lodge colors, pink and yellow, and beautiful pictures adorn the walls. The charter bears the date December 11, 1868, so that in December of this year the lodge will celebrate its seventeenth anniversary. The entire lodge room was filled with tables fairly groaning under the load of good things prepared by the Degree of Honor, so that it was necessary to procure the room of the Patricians adjoining them, where the anniversary services were held.

Besides those present from Buchanan a special train on the M. B. H. & C. railroad brought sixty additional guests from Benton Harbor and Berrien Springs. After the train arrived with the guests, and the greetings, which were many and warm, were over, Mr. F. A. Stryker called the meeting to order and welcomed all with a very appropriate address, after which the audience were entertained by a violin and piano duet, by Clarence and Ethel Stryker. The grand deputy of Michigan, John F. C. Hollings, then addressed the meeting.

He said many things of interest about the order. It had its birth at Meadville, Pa., Oct 27, 1868, and today numbers 25,000 members in Michigan and 440,000 members in the United States, with 85,000 members of the Degree of Honor. It paid out in benefits from Jan. 1, 1901, to Jan. 1, 1902, $9,473,274.68, and from its birth to Sept. 1, 1902, $121,733,618.66, and has reached 70,000 homes, to cheer those left behind, when the bread winner was gone.

W. J. G. Dean, district deputy of the six south western counties of the state, then addressed the meeting. He spoke largely of the good work the Degree of Honor was doing for the order. Dr. Claude B. Roe then entertained the audience with a vocal solo, which touched every heart, and when he had finished there was thunderous applause. He responded by a negro dialect song.

Miss Shiflet then gave a well rendered recitation, which was heartily encored.

The master workman of Benton Harbor then gave a brief but well worded address.

Susie Camp gave a recitation, followed by Freddie Shepardson.

Ethel and Clarence Stryker then gave another duet, when it was announced that the feast was ready and the guests were invited. Covers were laid for 74 and the tables were soon filled with hungry guests, who did ample justice to the feast.

The Benton Harbor and Berrien Springs people made many friends for themselves, who were delighted to know them.

Lady Maccabees Entertain.

Last Tuesday evening the Lady Maccabees had a jolly time with all the grandmothers of the last generation as hostesses, dressed in appropriate costumes.

The grand march was led by Grandmas Blimpkee and Penny bracker, and the following program was rendered: Quartette, Grandmas Blimykie, Witherspoon, Lightfoot and Doolittle; reading; Grandma Fitzdoole; reading; Grandma Tpitoe; solo; Grandma Lightfoot; recitation; Grandma Alton; duet; Grandmas Witherspoon and Doolittle; recitation; Grandma Dinwiddie. Mrs. Hershon sang a song in German and Miss Shiflet, who makes her home with Mrs. Harry Scott, gave several delightful recitations.

Startling, But True.

"If every one knew what a grand medicine Dr. King's New Life Pills is," writes D. H. Turner, Dempseytown, Pa., "You'd sell all you have in a day. Two weeks' use has made a new man of me." Infallible for constipation, stomach and liver troubles. 25c at W. N. Brodrick's drug store.

Messrs. Judge Ellsworth, County Treasurer McCracken, County Clerk Church, Prosecuting Attorney Riford and Clarence Blake, of St. Joseph, were a party who spent Thursday in and about Buchanan, making themselves generally agreeable and looking up their political interests.

John W. Bedford, democratic candidate for the legislature for the second district, made the Record a pleasant call. Mr. Bedford is interested in agriculture in Pipestone township, also connected with the West Michigan Nursery Co. and the Fruit Package Co. of Michigan and Alabama.

READ ALL OF THIS.

It Will Amply Repay Buchanan People to Make a Note of This Information.

Will the reader from morbid curiosity alone, if from no other reason, read carefully the statement published below, then compare it with similar statement made by other medicinal preparations which appear daily in Buchanan papers.

Mr. S. F. Snell, Sugar manufacturer, of Division Street, Dowagiac, says: "I found by personal experience that Doan's Kidney Pills procured at Sherwood & Burlingame's drug store is a medicine of rare virtue. I had a severe lameness which was something unusual and when on my feet I had an aching across the loins. Doan's Kidney Pills gave me almost immediate relief and it was only a short time till the lameness and backache was a thing of the past. Doan's Kidney Pills did for me all they claimed to do."

Just such emphatic endorsement is plentiful in Buchanan. Call at W. N. Brodriek's drug store and ask him what his customers report.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.

Notice.

J. G. Corey will open a meat market, Saturday morning, in the Arthur building. Fresh meat always on hand.

PATRIOT AND SOLDIER.

Sketch of the Hon. Nathan V. Lovell of Eau Claire.

Republicans of the second representative district of this county never bestowed a more deserving honor upon a candidate than by the nomination of N. V. Lovell, of Eau Claire, for the state legislature. The rise of Mr. Lovell from a poor boy is the common history of many pioneers who blazed the way for the greatness and possibilities of Berrien county.

Nathan V. Lovell was born in Livingstone county, New York, August 18, 1844, of poor but well educated and respectable parents. When a boy seven of age, he moved with his parents to Cass county, Michigan, settling in the woods among the Indians of Silver Creek township, which was then a dense wilderness and today has been transformed by the hardy pioneer into the richest and most fertile township in that county.

Mr. Lovell's boyhood was the common lot of the average boy in a new and rugged settlement, working on the farm in the spring, summer and fall and attending the district school a few short months of the winter; however, from this sort of training the nation has received its greatest leaders.

By hard saving he managed to secure enough funds to attend the Kalamazoo college, but had scarce spent a year in obtaining an education when the war broke out and the pioneer student, then a stripling under 18 years of age, enlisted June 12, 1861 in company B 9th Michigan Infantry and was in all the engagements in which his regiment participated, being wounded in an engagement July 13, 1862. At the memorable battle of Murfreesboro, or Stone River; was taken prisoner, being later exchanged and transferred to company B 7 Michigan Cavalry, the immortal Custer's old brigade. He also saw service under General Kilpatrick and Sheridan.

Mr. Lovell was honorably discharged August 25, 1865, having served his country for more than four years. Following the close of the war he moved to the west trying his fortune with varying success; finally in 1872, he moved back to Michigan locating at Berrien Springs to engage in the lumber and sawmill business. Ten years later he moved to Eau Claire where he has since resided.

That Mr. Lovell is entitled to the confidence and suffrage of his party is not based upon any claim of a most honorable war record, but upon his fidelity, trust, loyal and active support of the republican party and its principles for 40 years, and his undisputed ability as a soldier citizen, whose patriotism, does not consist merely of an appetite for office, having never held any office except that of the justice of the peace.

Such meritorious service to a party should not go unrewarded and if the republican voters of the second district do their duty next Tuesday they will send Mr. Lovell to the legislature with a good round majority.

Election Notice.

To the Electors of Buchanan Township:

Take notice, that the voting places for the electors of Buchanan township, at the general election to be held Nov. 4, 1902, will be at Engine House No. 1, for the first precinct, and at the Outlery building, on Main street, for the second precinct within said township.

G. H. BATCHELOR,
Township Clerk.

Ran Over by the 'Bus.

Thursday evening at the corner of Oak and Front streets the 'bus ran over Geo. Richards' dog, 'Mack.' It was really pathetic to see the poor dog with his back broken. Mr. Richards was summoned and took the crippled dog into his buggy. He moaned and looked up into his owner's face with a look that could be translated into words. It was wonderful how everybody sympathized with the poor dog; but after an examination it was found impossible to save his life, and with the use of chloroform he was relieved from his sufferings.

COMPROMISE OFFERED

M. A. C. Faculty Makes a Proposition to the University Student Body.

OPPORTUNITY TO GO BACK TO WORK

And Arbitrate Later—City Treasury Accounts Short About $16,000—State News Items.

Lansing, Mich., Oct. 31.—A mass meeting of the striking Michigan Agricultural college students was held yesterday at which a proposition to end the strike was presented from the faculty. It was to the effect that the students resume class work, that a new committee of the faculty will rehear their grievances and that if they can show that the former action of the faculty in suspending seventeen students for participating in the freshmen-sophomore class rush was unjust, the sentences will be materially altered. If the judgment of the committee is not satisfactory to the students they may have their right of appealing to the state board of agriculture.

Students Sustained at Home.
A visit from four leading citizens of Lansing is supposed to have influenced the faculty to make this proposition. Many of the students are receiving letters and telegrams from their parents. Senator Earle's son, one of the freshmen in the list of those suspended, received a telegram from the senator worded as follows: "Stand by your fellows, and I'll stand by you." Many students are told by their parents either to go back to their studies or come home.

All Anxious to Return.
Chairman Towar, of the students' committee, says: "The entire student body is anxious to return to studies, but we have pledged our faith to boycott the classes until those students unjustly suspended have been reinstated in college. It is for them we are fighting."

REPORTED SHORT ABOUT $16,000

What Is Said in the Case of a City Treasurer—Property Has Been Turned Over.

Monroe, Mich., Oct. 31.—The investigation into the shortage of City Treasurer S. W. Lauer, now being made by George L. Little in behalf of the bondsmen, may reveal a greater shortage than has been given out. The funds of the city in the treasurer's care at the end of the fiscal year, Oct. 1, were $32,824.50, and deducting from that the orders paid during the present month, leaves a balance of $28,248.70 which should now be in the treasury. Of this amount, however, only between $9,000 and $10,000 are now in Dansard's bank, where Lauer did his banking. Certain money loaned out by the treasurer is yet to be collected, but it is now believed by the sureties that the shortage will run over $16,000. The property of Sebastian Lauer, who was treasurer for the two years previous to last spring, together with the property of his son, the present incumbent, has been turned over to Joseph S. Hoffman, one of the bondsmen, who has been made trustee for the sureties.

Receiver for a Lumber Company.
Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 31.—Robert H. Munson, of Hall & Munson company, of Bay Mills, was yesterday appointed receiver of the company by Judge Wanty, and his bond was fixed at $300,000. The company operates several saw and planing mills at Bay Mills and is capitalized at $400,000. Its assets aggregate $1,000,000.

Old Man and Child Killed.
Ypsilanti, Mich., Oct. 31.—Josiah Finton, a retired farmer, and his 6-year-old grandson, Ford Finton, were struck and killed by a Detroit, Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor, and Jackson electric suburban car a few miles from here. They were on their way to the city and drove across the track directly in front of the approaching car.

New Ship Yard for Detroit.
Detroit, Mich., Oct. 31.—The Tribune says: "The American Shipbuilding company is to have a rival of no mean proportions on the great lakes. The Great Lakes Engineering company, of Detroit, is to build a large shipbuilding plant on the River Rouge about two miles outside the westerly city limits."

A Delightful Service.

The young people's society of the Evangelical church enjoyed a very pleasant gathering at the home of Rev. Kinn and family on Oak street, Thursday evening. The attendance was large and the reports of the past six months showed that the society is in a prosperous condition and is doing good work. After the business for the month of October had been transacted the semi-annual election of officers took place resulting in the following:

President, J. C. Rehm; vice president, Geo. Danno; secretary, John Lyddick; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. C. Rehm; treasurer, John Houseworth; librarian, Lurilla Kirn; organist, Bertha Houseworth; ushers Clayton Houseworth, Ed. Riffer.

After the rendering of an excellent program of readings, recitations and music by the members of the Alliance and a short address by Rev. Kinn, light refreshments were served and a short time spent in a social way.

The young people of the community are invited to our Sunday evening young people's services at the church beginning promptly at 6 o'clock.

How Congressman Hamilton Works.

Adam Hahn an old soldier, of Buchanan, who applied for an increase in pension, was too sick to go before the board. Dr. Henderson made affidavit to that effect before Justice John C. Dick. It was sent to Dr. Belknap, of Niles; he took it to Congressman Hamilton, who immediately wired to Washington asking for special orders in the case. Within a week the reply came and Dr. Belknap came here and examined Mr. Hahn, and there are prospects of getting the increase inside of 80 days.

Breaking into a blazing home, some firemen lately dragged the sleeping inmates from death. Fancied security, and daeth near. It's that way when you neglect coughs and colds. Don't do it. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption gives perfect protection against all Throat, Chest and Lung Troubles. Keep it near, and avoid suffering, death and doctor's bills. A teaspoonful stops a late cough, persistent use the most stubborn. Harmless and nice tasting, it's guaranteed to satisfy by W. N. Brodriek. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

A boon to travelers, Dr. Fowler's Extrait of Wild Strawberry, Cures dysentary, diarrhoea, seasickness, nausea. Acts promptly.

The opening article in the November Scribner's, "In the Paths of Immigration," is by James B. Connolly, who recently made a trip to Europe for the purpose of making a careful study of a problem that is of constantly increasing interest to America. He tells of the way the immigrants are dealt with by the great foreign transportation companies, whose business it is to deal with the largest possible human cargoes, how they travel on the railroads, how they are fed and housed at the great terminals at Hamburg and Havre, and of the treatment they receive on the long voyage across the Atlantic. With a sympathetic appreciation of the human interest of the subject Mr. Connolly relates many little incidents both pathetic and humorous attending the leaving of home and the ordeals of the various inspections that are necessary to safeguard the companies against loss by the deportation of inadmissible immigrants. The illustrations by Mr. Burns admirably supplement Mr. Connolly's text.

"If women would pay more attention to their health we would have more happy wives, mothers and daughters, and if they would observe results they would find that the doctors' prescriptions do not perform the many cures they are given credit for."

"In consulting with my druggist he advised McEire's Wine of Cardui and Thedor's Black-Draught, and so I took it and have every reason to thank him for a new life opened up to me with restored health, and it only took three months to cure me."

Wine of Cardui is a regulator of the menstrual functions and is a most astonishing tonic for women. It cures scanty, suppressed, too frequent, irregular and painful menstruation, falling of the womb, whites and flooding. It is helpful when approaching womanhood, during pregnancy, after childbirth and in change of life. It frequently brings a dear baby to homes that have been barren for years. LESSON V, FOURTH QUARTER, INTERNATIONAL SERIES, NOV. 2.

Text of the Lesson, Josh. xx, 1-9. Memory Verses, 1-4—Golden Text, Ps. xlvii, 1—Commentary Prepared by the Rev. D. M. Stearns.

[Copyright, 1902, by American Press Association.]
1. The Lord also spake unto Joshua.

How important and how wonderful a statement, but how little heed one is apt to give to it! That the only living and true God should talk with a mortal man should be enough to make all mortals give heed and earnestly inquire as to what He said. Men waste time talking of trivial matters, but not so the Lord. He never says anything unimportant. "Hear, O heavens, and give ear, O earth, for the Lord hath spoken" (Isa. i, 2; Deut. xxxii, 1). "God, who at sundry times and in divers manners spake in time past unto the fathers by the prophets, hath in these last days spoken unto us by His Son." "See that ye refuse not Him that speaketh" (Heb. i, 1, 2; xii, 25).

2. Speak to the children of Israel, saying, Appoint out for you cities of refuge, whosoever I spake unto you by the hand of Moses.

In Ex. xxi, 13; Num. xxxv, 6, 11; Deut. xix, 2, 9, we find that which God had said to Moses concerning these cities, three on each side of Jordan. Every purpose of the Lord shall be performed both for His people and against His enemies. This matter of these cities was in His purpose, as He had said to Moses, and now the time had come to perform His purpose. From all eternity everything that ever has come to pass or ever will come to pass was all foreseen or foreordained by God (Acts xv, 18; Eph. i, 11).

3. And they shall be your refuge from the avenger of blood.

The avenger or revenger of blood takes us back to Gen. ix, 6, "Whoso sheddeth man's blood by man shall his blood be shed," and this word to Noah was repeated to Israel in Ex. xxi, 12, 13, with the saving clause that if a man killed another unintentionally God would provide a refuge for such. Justice required that a willful murderer should forfeit his own life, but the same justice said that one killing another accidentally was not guilty of murder, and the city of refuge was for him to flee to. God giveth to all life and breath and all things (Acts xvii, 25), and He will not have His gifts despised or ill treated. Yet He is not willing that any should perish, and He has no pleasure in the death even of the wicked (I Pet. iii, 9; Ezek. xxxiii, 11). All mankind are guilty before God and sinners in His sight, and all deserve to die for their sins, but God has provided at infinite cost a refuge for every penitent sinner in His dear Son by virtue of His great sacrifice.

4. They shall take him into the city unto them and give him a place that he may dwell among them.

There was a way prepared to each city of refuge (Deut. xix, 8) and every facility to enable the unintentional murderer to reach the place of refuge, and this verse tells how the people of the city were to welcome and care for him; but these cities of refuge were only for those who were not really guilty, as described in Deut. xix, 4-6. Our refuge, the Lord Jesus Christ, is for the guilty, the lost, the unrighteous, the ungodly, for God commendeth His love toward us in that while we were yet sinners Christ died for us, and because of His sacrifice God can be just and yet the justifier of the ungodly who believe in Jesus (Rom. v, 8; iii, 26; iv, 5), assuring a welcome to every one who truly comes to Him (John iv, 37).

5. And if the avenger of blood pursue after him, then shall they not deliver the slayer up into his hand.

The man to be feared was "the avenger" (verses 3, 5, 9), or as it is in Num. xxxv, 19, 21, 24, 25, 27, "the revenger." The same word is translated "redeemer" in Job xix, 25; Ps. xix, 14; Isa. xli, 14; xliii, 14, and a dozen other places; in Ruth ii, 20; iii, 9, etc., it is "a near kinsman" or in the margin "one that hath right to redeem," all of which is at least suggestive of the precious truth that the Avenger whom the sinner has a right to fear has taken up on Himself our nature, made Himself one of us, sin excepted, and, having no sin of His own, suffered our sins to be laid upon Him, and by dying in our stead the just for the unjust has become our Redeemer, our true City of Refuge. He also is Himself the prepared way (John xiv, 6; Heb. x, 20), and He Himself welcomes all who come to Him and assures them of their eternal safety (John x, 27, 28).

6. He shall dwell in that city until the death of the high priest.

If at any time he was found outside of the city before the death of the high priest, the avenger was free to kill him if he found him (Num. xxxv, 26-28), and here is a suggestion of the truth that by the death of our High Priest on the cross in our stead we are made free from all condemnation. It is His resurrection from the dead that really makes us free, for if He be not risen we are yet in our sins (I Cor. xv, 17).

7-9. These were the cities appointed for all the children of Israel and for the stranger that sojourneth among them that whosoever killeth any person at unawares might flee thither.

Note God's appointed refuge for Israel and the stranger, and note also the blessed "whosoever" reminding us of John iii, 16; Rev. xxii, 17. According to Canon Fausset, the very name of each city is suggestive of the Lord Jesus Christ—Kedesh, holy (Heb. vi, 20); Shechem, shoulder (Isa. ix, 6); Hebron, fellowship (I Cor. i, 9); Bezer, fortress (Ps. xviii, 2); Ramoth, high (Acts v, 31); Golan, joy (Rom. v, 11; Ps. xliii, 4). While it is not possible for those who are truly in Christ ever to be lost, according to John x, 27-29, yet a truly saved person may not live in the fellowship which is his privilege and thus experience much loss here and hereafter (I Cor. iii, 14, 15).

NEW DECORATIVE FERN.

A Handsome Sport of the Boston. Likely to Be Very Popular.

A new decorative fern and one of most handsome appearance is now being introduced to notice under the name of Nephrolepis piersonii. Its history as given in American Gardening, which illustrates it, shows it to be a variety of the well known Boston fern. In decorative effect the new sport so far outdistances the original variety that there is positively no comparison to be made, according to the authority mentioned. The picture gives a good idea of the character of the fronds.

The new fern has all the characteristics of the Boston fern as far as ease of growth, general hardiness, usefulness, etc., are concerned, but is much more graceful and is entirely different from any other fern in general cultivation, the whole effect of the frond as it grows being something like moss curled parsley. The fronds, on account of their subdivisions, are very full and broad, and owing to their breadth and weight they assume a much more graceful appearance than the Boston fern, drooping low down on all sides in arching curves.

Like the Boston fern, it is suitable for house culture. It is a magnificent plant for greenhouse and conservatory decoration; in fact, it is a plant that appeals to every one, and on that account is likely to be considered more valuable than the Boston fern, a plant which has had the most phenomenal sale of any one plant that has ever been grown.

When to Prune.

An annual pruning should be given all grapevines at some time during the period of rest between the late fall frosts and the early movement of sap the following spring, but never prune when the wood is actually frozen. Good authorities agree upon this, though they may differ as to the exact time that is best to prune. The writer, in the latitude of central Illinois, has found it best, for several good reasons, to practice fall pruning. If done then, it is out of the way of the rush of spring work; also, the weather is usually pleasant, and the work may be done with less personal exposure to the operator. If pruned in the fall, there can be no danger from "bleeding," a term used to designate the waste of sap from the newly made wounds which follows late spring pruning. If pruned in the fall and the prunings are immediately burned, many disease germs and insects will be destroyed that would otherwise survive the winter and that would prey upon the vines the following season. Furthermore, fall pruned vines can be more easily protected from the severity of the ensuing winter.—W. H. Ragan.

Packing Flowers For Shipping.

Use wooden boxes for carnations and roses, light boxes 36 by 15 by 6 inches. For chrysanthemums boxes should be of heavier material, 8 by 15 inches wide and 4 to 6 feet long, according to the length of the stock. Before packing all flowers should be placed in water for from six to twelve hours. Roses should always be sorted into two or three grades, packing the longest in bottom of the box and at least one inch from end of box to avoid bruising. For short distance shipments sprinkle the foliage and place wet paper over the ends of the stems and clean firmly. On long distance shipments each box should be iced.

Fruit Tablets.

Foreign fruit tablets are made by boiling down the pulp mixed with sugar until the desired consistency is reached. The residue is then pored into pans and spread about one and a half centimeters thick, after which it is dried slowly, ten hours being about the time usually required. When finished, the mass is cut into circular tablets, which, it is said, will keep ten years. When the tablets are to be used, they are soaked in warm water from one to one and a half hours before cooking.

Effective Foliage Plants.

The richly colored and variously marked foliage of crotons renders them quite as attractive as flowering plants. The compost they thrive in best is a mixture of rich loam, peat, leaf mold and sand, three parts of loam to one of each of the others. Crotons require abundance of water, so the pots should be thoroughly drained. They can stand lots of syringing, and indeed it is necessary to keep in check red spider and thrip.

An Economical Prince

[Original.]

There was once a German principality—Sarvania—which has disappeared from the map of Europe, having been absorbed by the kingdom of Prussia. Its domain consisted of about 10,000 acres, its inhabitants of about 4,000 people. The prince who governed lived in a palace surrounded by a court, possessed an army, indeed was at the head of a miniature monarchy. His brothers and cousins were his ministers and chief officers, his female relatives dames of honor to his princess. The government was supported by a tax on the people which produced in our money about $6,500 a year. Of course it was necessary to be very economical.

The occupation of the inhabitants of Sarvania was growing grapes which produced a sour wine. After awhile the soil became barren, and there was no crop and no income. The people declared that since there was nothing to pay with they should not be taxed, but the prince argued: "If there is no tax, there is no government. That means anarchy. Anarchy means no more crops. The people will starve." That did not satisfy the malcontents, and there was a rebellion. Three hundred men armed with scythes and pitchforks stormed the palace. They were met by the regular army of fifty men under the general in chief, routed and their leader was captured.

The possession of this arch rebel occasioned the prince as much mental disquietude as the capture of Jefferson Davis caused President Lincoln. In the Sarvania case it was simply a matter of economy. There was no executioner in the principality, and to send for one from a distance would be very expensive. Considering that the royal revenue was cut off, this was not to be thought of. And yet if the man lived his keeping would be a drain on the exchequer. A cabinet council was called to consider what was to be done. The prince stated the case. It would require an expenditure of $2,500 to deprive the traitor of the necessity for food, and it would require $200 a year to feed him. The cabinet decided in favor of the smaller expense, hoping that the income to the people and consequently the government might be restored.

A jailer being expensive, the prisoner was put on his parole not to leave at first his jail, afterward the kingdom. He readily gave the required promise, since he had no means of support and his jail was a small house hired for his especial occupation, there being no other prisoners in the principality. Some makeshifts at fertilizing the soil were adopted which were partially successful, slender crops raised, and at the end of five years a sufficient sum of money was saved by the government to hire an executioner. But that year the prince desired to go on a tour and required all the means he could scrape together. When he returned, he received a petition from the prisoner, who stated that he was tired of life and desired that the sentence be carried out.

Here was an embarrassment. A cabinet council was called, and it was determined to attempt to secure the services of an executioner on credit. Europe was searched for one who would agree to accept a debenture of the principality, but none was found. Meanwhile the prisoner was taken ill with a fever, and the government was encouraged by a secret hope that he would die. Unfortunately he recovered. The physician who pulled him through was banished.

One day while the prince was hunting he became separated from his suit. His horse, stumbling, threw him, and his royal highness plunged headlong into a well. A man who was fishing in a stream near by heard his calls for help and, going to the well, leaned over the wellhouse and asked what was the matter.

"I am drowning," called a feeble voice.

The man above let down the bucket and then slid down the rope. Presently the prince's suit came up and, hearing sounds in the well, went there to find out whence they emanated.

"Wind up the rope!" cried a voice from below.

The crank was turned, the work requiring several men, and the prince was brought up in the arms of—"Great heaven—the prisoner!"

When the prince, who was more frightened than hurt, recognized his preserver, his heart beat with a new hope. Here was good cause for a pardon.

"You have saved our royal life," he said. "Ask any boon, and it shall be granted."

"I have only to beg that your highness will free me from an existence that has long been a burden."

The countenance of the prince fell, and the courtiers made no effort to conceal their displeasure. Taking the prime minister aside, the prince conferred with him.

"It will cost $2,500 to execute him," said the ruler. "May we not compromise with him for a less amount?"

"Try him," replied the minister.

"No," said the prince after reflection; "it will avail nothing." Then suddenly he added, "I want your resignation."

The minister bowed to his sovereign's will, and the prince, turning again, said to the prisoner:

"You are hereby appointed prime minister of our royal cabinet. Come with me to the palace that we may consult upon the innovation you suggest."

The new prime minister contracted for all the dead animals in the neighboring principalities, which he buried under the grapevines. The result was abundant crops and prosperity to the prince and people of Sarvania.

F. A. MITCHEL.

Buchanan Record

The feed for a cow costs more than half the entire expense for her maintenance, and any saving on this cost adds just so much to her profits. While no saving can be effected by putting her on short rations or by giving feed of inferior quality or unsuitable composition, it is quite possible to make an important reduction in cost by giving just the right kinds of feed—those containing the different food elements in the proportions in which the cow needs them for her own support and for the production of milk. It requires more skill and good judgment to feed economically than to make good butter and cheese. Whether the feed comes from pastures, soiling crops, silos or grain, it must be abundant, palatable and nutritious. It is always good economy to provide a cow with as much food as she can be induced to eat without becoming too fat, and a cow which is really a good dairy animal can rarely be made fat while she is giving milk. Pastures give a certain amount of roughage at the lowest cost, but need to be supplemented by soiling crops and silage, while no combination of such feeds will enable a cow to do her best without the addition of more or less concentrated food, like grain.—Farmers' Bulletin No. 151.

Benefit of Cultivating Pastures. Very few farmers ever think of cultivating pastures, and yet this may profitably be done.

The director of the Iowa experiment station says: The problem as our lands become more valuable will be not how to do with less grass, but how to get more of it. Pasture lands may become worn out or, what is more properly termed, "run out," quite as readily and completely as tillable lands. No part of the farm will yield better returns for careful attention and good treatment than the pasture. Some simple experiments conducted in the Iowa college farm pastures have furnished striking results in favor of pasture culture. The application of ten quarts of clover seed per acre, disked and harrowed into blue grass pasture in the early spring, increased the yield 65 per cent over pastures immediately adjoining that received no treatment. Pasture lands thus treated produce a heavier, denser growth and better variety of grasses and stand drought better, and the improvement extends over several seasons. This treatment should be alternated with top dressing, applied preferably during the fall or winter, following with the harrow in the spring. The best pastures are those that are never disturbed by the plow.

For Feeding the Dairy Calf.

The calf is what the dairyman has to build his future herd from. To neglect the calf and let it simply survive is poor economy. A very common type of calf has a stomach bloated and distended and a stunted frame. The calf is liable to gulp its milk, and the result is the milk lodges in the stomach in an indigestible cheeselike mass, and gases form which bloat the stomach. Scours are sometimes a result of this unnatural feeding. There is another type of calf, with a large stomach, but with a well developed frame. The latter result is accomplished by allowing the calf to take its milk in the natural way by means of the calf feeder. The calf, by taking its milk slowly, allows it to become mixed with the juices of the mouth and stomach and thus to digest readily. This sort of calf develops digestive capacity that is indispensable in the cow with which you expect to pay bills and send the children to school.—New York Tribune Farmer.

Alfalfa Meal.

Notwithstanding the high place which alfalfa already holds as a stock food, a Kansan claims to have discovered a method of greatly increasing its value. He has invented a mill to grind alfalfa hay into meal, effecting a saving, it is claimed, of 25 per cent of its value as a food product.

Geraniums in the House.

Single and double geraniums are among the best winter bloomers. But do not expect geraniums to bloom in winter without plenty of sunshine and warmth. They will grow and make thrifty plants in a cool room with very little sunshine, but bloom under such conditions? Oh, no!

Wyman & Co. of South Bend have in their carpet department on the third floor of their big building a mammoth collection of birds, insects and reptiles, consisting of 50,000 specimens, which they are showing this week as a drawing card. The exhibit will close Monday evening, but is free to all till then.

When you don't have a chance you want it. When you do you don't. Now the Sunday service on the Milwaukee, Benton Harbor & Columbus Ry. and the South Haven & Eastern Ry. will enable you to visit your friends in neighboring towns Sundays and return home in time for supper. You wanted it. Take advantage of it.

There was quite a little excitement at Marsh Meadow farm when O. F. Spaulding found, Old Jim, his family carriage horse in the ditch, but by the timely assistance of Charles Fuller and M. K. Spaulding he was rescued from a muddy grave, and will soon be ready to assume his accustomed place.

About 160 Feet Below the Surface the Strike Commission! Spends Some Hours.

IT SEES SOME PRACTICAL MINING

Even to Coming Next Door to Witnessing One of the Tragedies of the Pit—Interesting Details.

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 31.—The seven commissioners appointed by President Roosevelt to adjust the differences existing between the anthracite mine workers and their employers yesterday made a tour of the extreme upper coal field and saw every step taken in the production of coal, from the time it is blasted, hundreds of feet below the surface, up to the point where it is sent to market ready for the use of the consumer. The arbitrators had an interesting day, and returned to their hotel at 6:30 p. m. grimy from coal dust and tired after eight busy hours of observation and investigation.

GEN. JOHN M. WILSON.

They Put in a Good Day's Work.

The trip was quite a novelty to most of those in the party, some of them never having been in the hard coal regions. The commissioners displayed the greatest interest in every feature of coal mining, and went about their work in a manner that was pleasing to both the mining superintendents and the representatives of the mine workers who were along. The seven arbitrators had to endure many discomforts, make their way through wet places in the mines, almost crawl along some of the gangways in the workings, and pass through clouds of coal dust in the breakers. Notwithstanding this their eagerness for information was not diminished.

DETAILS OF THE DAY'S WORK

One Mine and a Coal Breaker Carefully Inspected.

Yesterday's tour consisted of an inspection of No. 2 mine of the Hillside Coal and Iron company, operated by the Erie company, and the coal breaker of the Delaware and Hudson company. The former is located at Forest City, twenty-two miles north of this city, and the breaker at Carbondale, four miles south of Forest City. On the run up the Lackawanna valley the commissioners viewed with interest the several mining towns situated along the Delaware and Hudson railroad. The start was made from this city at 10 a. m. In the party were the seven commissioners, Records Moseley and Neill and four stenographers.

Accompanying them were General Superintendent R. A. Phillips, of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company; General Superintendent E. E. Rose, of the Delaware and Hudson; General Manager W. A. May, of the Erie; General Superintendent J. R. Bryden, of the New York, Ontario and Western, and General Manager B. Thorne, of the Temple Iron company. These officials represented the companies, and the mine workers were represented by Thomas D. Nichols, president of this district U. M. W.; Henry Collins, national organizer for this district; Rev. Peter Roberts, of Mahanoy City, and James Marwick, of New York, the latter an expert. Besides these there was in the party about a dozen newspaper correspondents.

The rear car of the special train was used for observation purposes by the commissioners and they spent all their time in it, both going and coming. In the car was a large map showing the coal beds from Scranton up to the northern edge of the field at Forest City, which was examined with interest by all the commissioners, and explained by Watkins. When the party arrived at Forest City a short drive was taken through the town to give the commissioners an opportunity to view the homes of the mine workers and then the entire party was bundled into three small cars. What is known in the language of the miner as a "lokie," which is a small locomotive, drew the cars to the No. 2 shaft a mile distant down the valley.

LAI D TO REST. Mrs. Mary Blowers has Passed Within the Gates of Day.

At the home of W. B. Blowers Thursday afternoon a loving tribute was paid to the memory of his mother, Mrs. Mary A. Blowers, whose body lay in a casket there, but whose soul had joined that innumerable host who have laid their crowns at the feet of the Master.

There were no evidences in that home of unrestrained grief—"they sorrow not as those who have no hope;" but from the wreath of roses on the door, tied with lavender ribbon, which supplanted the usual gloomy crape, to the banks of beautiful flowers in the parlor, all bespoke the unselfish rejoicing at the mother's reward, rather than the morbid grief of the unreconciled mourner. The bay window was banked with flowers, cannas forming the back ground, and ostrich plume chrysanthemums and American beauty roses in the foreground, directly in front of which stood the casket. A number of palms and chrysanthemums were placed near, and asparagus ferns were twined about the chandeliers. Village friends, as well as others, had sent beautiful floral pieces.

Among the relatives who were in attendance at the funeral were Mrs. H. E. Lough, of Tampa, Florida; Geo. I. Blowers, wife and daughter, Miss Belle, of Albion, Mich., and Herrick Hodges, of South Haven, a brother of the deceased. Mrs. Torrence and Mrs. Isbell, friends of Benton Harbor, were also here.

Mrs. Blowers was one of the most sincere christians, whose rare beauty of character impressed all who knew her. She was born at Crown Point, in New York, near Lake Champlain, Nov. 26, 1832, and came to Michigan with her parents at the age of five years. In early life she became an active worker for Christ, and for over fifty years she found the greatest delight in the house of the Lord.

The greater part of her life was spent in Michigan, with the exception of a few years spent in the west, for the sake of her husband's health. The last three years of her life have been spent with her daughter in Tampa, Florida, where she died Oct. 25, 1902. Her husband, Warren M. Blowers, preceded her to the home beyond, Dec. 22, 1896.

She leaves two sons, Geo. I. Blowers, of Albion, Mich., and W. B.

Blowers, of Mansfield, Ohio, and one daughter, Mrs. H. E. Lough, of Tampa, Florida.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

Twenty-Fourth Annual Gathering of Berrien County Sunday School Workers.

Tuesday afternoon, in the Baptist church at Benton Harbor, there assembled a large and enthusiastic number of Sunday school workers.

The song service was conducted by Rev. E. A. Hoffman throughout the entire service, and under his capable leadership was one of the inspiring features of the session.

Devotional services were conducted by W. C. Pearce, of Chicago.

E. K. Warren, of Three Oaks, made a stirring speech on "A Backward and a Forward Look." Mr. Warren stated that only three of the original organizers of the association, 24 years ago, were present at this meeting. Mrs. Knowles, of this city, George Parsons, of Watervliet, chairman of the present executive board, and Mr. Warren, its present president. He further stated that he had never missed one of these meetings in all the 24 years, and no amount of money could purchase the experience of those meetings.

He gave some excellent points as a standard for a Sunday school worker, chief of which he believed to be a forgetfulness of self. No selfish person can be a successful Sunday school teacher.

W. C. Pearce then conducted the round table conference.

E. G. Knapp, of Ann Arbor, made a strong plea for teachers' meetings, and Alfred Day, state secretary, said he would as soon think of running a church without a prayer meeting as a Sunday school without a teachers' meeting.

The Baptist church was too small to comfortably accommodate the large audience that gathered at the sessions each evening. Chairs were placed in the aisles. Rev. Dr. Fowler gave a few words of welcome and President E. K. Warren made an earnest response. Alfred Day, one of the best known workers in the state, spoke on "Jesus Christ the Sunday School Teacher's Model."

He impressed the truth with great power upon the teachers that they were not teaching the gospel according to Matthew, Mark or John, but according to themselves. The greatest fault with the Sunday schools is that the teachers so often spend three minutes in preparing to teach for thirty minutes. Christ prepared thirty years for teaching three years, and Mr. Day believed that lack of preparations was the greatest lack of the teachers.

W. C. Pearce spoke on "Teacher Training."

Wednesday forenoon—Song service. Quiet half hour led by W. C. Pearce. Reports of committees and officers. Importance of township work, by Fred Washburn. Round Table Sunday School Management was conducted by Alfred Day, of Detroit.

After the song and devotional service Wednesday afternoon the following officers were nominated and elected:

President—E. K. Warren of Three Oaks.

Vice Presidents—E. A. Hossmon of Benton Harbor, J.H. Gillette of Niles.

Secretary—D. W. Kean of Buchanan.

Treasurer—Dr. J. C. Greenmeyer of Niles.

Superintendent Home Department—Fred Washburn of Niles.

Superintendent Primary Work—Mrs. A. B. Morse of St. Joseph.

Executive Committee—Geo. Parsons, Watervliet; Dr. J. C. Greenmeyer, Niles; Rev. E. D. Rundell, New Buffalo; George B. Ferguson, St. Joseph; I. L. H. Dodd, Buchanan.

The pledges were then taken and it seemed as if each school and township wanted to be first in giving!

$232.50 being the amount pledged. Mrs. Morse in the primary hour; Mr. Knapp on the Home Department; Mr. Day on The Big Boy in the Sunday School, were all interesting features.

The evening service was one of great interest, listening to reports of the Denver convention, by W. C. Pearce, E. C. Knapp; and the address, The Evangelization of the Sunday School, Alfred Day. The following resolutions were read and adopted:

RESOLVED, That the Berrien county Sunday School Association extend a unanimous vote of thanks to the following:

1 To the Baptist society for the use of this church.

2 To the people who have so cheerfully opened their homes.

3 To the committees who have so efficiently performed their labors

4 To those who furnished us such excellent music.

5 To the newspapers for so cheerfully giving us the announcements and faithfully reporting the meetings.

6 To the speakers who so instructive and entertainingly addressed the convention.

Signed by the committee.

Public Sale.

S. C. Cook has decided to devote his entire time to the summer resort business and in view of this will sell at public auction next Thursday his stock of cattle, hogs, farm implement, etc.

For more definite particulars see bill posters.

30 Club

The regular meeting of the 30 club was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Hattie Blake. In the absence of Mrs. Wood, Mrs. Cook read the history lesson. A large part of the time was spent in discussion of work to be taken up next year. It was finally decided to study English literature. Mrs. Pears and Mrs. Blake rendered a delightful piano duett, as the music of the day. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Grace Brodrick.
