Gov. Bliss Issues Proclamation for Thanksgiving Day.

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 12.—Gov. Bliss to-day issued the following Thanksgiving proclamation:

To the People of the State of Michigan, Greeting:

The year 1902 will soon have passed into history. It has been a year of wonderful prosperity for the nation, a prosperity in which Michigan has fully shared, in evidence of which is the development of new and the expansion of old industries, the general employment and contentment of her citizens, and the advancement of every material interest in which this state is concerned. It is meet that we dedicate a day to Thanksgiving and prayer, in recognition of the manifold blessings received from the hands of Almighty God; therefore, in pursuance of the custom handed down by the fathers of the Republic, and in accordance with the authority vested in me, I do hereby designate and set apart Thursday, the 27th day of the present month, as a day in which to give praise to the divine Father for His mercies and to pray that He will continue, as in the past, to direct the destinies of this people, and aiding them in their great work as a liberty loving and liberty giving nation. Around the Thanksgiving altars in the churches and homes of Michigan let reunited families assemble to renew home ties and associations, so that the day may increase in its value for good.

MUSIC AND READINGS

High Grade Concert Company Booked for Saturday Night at the Presbyterian Church

The Gill—Johnstone Concert Co. are a rare treat and it would be a real deprivation not to hear them Saturday night at the Presbyterian church. What sweeter music is there than the harp? The program on this occasion gives harp solos, and Mrs DeBarrie Gill's reading are most delightful.

Monday Club.

A full attendance of the M. L. club met at the home of Mrs Williams. Much was told of the "Noted Characters of the Eighteenth Century." The papers written and read by the members of the club showed thorough and careful study. The first paper was by Mrs. E. S. Dodd, on "Robert Fulton," artist, author, constructor of locks, canals and submarine torpedo boats, and inventor of the first steamboat in the world. "George Rogers Clark," by Mrs. Smith,— noble character beautifully described in "Alice of Old Vincennes," and Mrs. Smith made it very interesting. A story written by Mrs. Worthington and read by Mrs. Stryker, on the "Cotton gin." Macauley said, "What Peter the Great did to make Russia dominant; Eli Whiting's invention of the cotton gin has more than equaled in its relation to the power and progress of the United States." Mrs. Henderson's paper was about Alexander Hamilton, one of the writers of the political classic of the United States and the first secretary of the treasury, and many other interesting features were given. "The Life of Patrick Henry," as told by Mrs. Hinman, was most excellent. Mrs. E. S. Roe had charge of the music and gave "The Legend of the Moon" in fine style. Mrs. Worthington read an amusing poem, "Fourteen Ninty-Two," by Nixon Waterman. Mrs. Johnson gave conundrums instead of questions.

The club will meet with Mrs. Johnson next Monday promptly at two o'clock.

Magazine Club.

Do you like to look over the current magazines each month?

By paying 15 cents at the RECORD office every month you can have a large number of magazines to take home with you, look over the contents, return when through, or buy at half price at the end of each month.

Among this group are, McClure's, Ladies' Home Journal, Munsey, Frank Leslie, Delinator, Designer, Cosmopolitan, Ladies' World, Woman's Home Companion, Youth's Companion, Amateur Photographer, Four Track News, The Oaks, Michigan Farmer, and a number of less widely known reputation.

The more expensive magazines may be had by paying proportionately higher each month.

Those privileges are free to all RECORD subscribers.

30 Club.

The 30 Club met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs Bertie Smith. Mrs. Hattie Blake had charge of the history lesson. Miss Searls' well prepared paper on the Rivers of Michigan was enjoyed by all. Mesdames Pears and Blake played a beautiful duet at Mrs Julia East's request. The original story scene St Joseph river by Miss Florence Hall was very interesting. Current events were given in answer to roll call.

The next meeting will be with Mrs Hattie Kingery.

The South Haven & Eastern and the Milwaukee, Benton Harbor & Columbus will furnish their elegant Lincoln Calendars for 1903 through their agents and the heads of the department. They will probably be ready for distribution within the next ten days and can be obtained upon personal applications.

Accident.

Mrs Wade and her son Willard were coming to town Wednesday morning and saw an aged gentleman along the road side and at first thought nothing of it but before passing the man they discovered he was badly hurt, having fallen from a bicycle. With some difficulty they lifted him into their wagon and brought him to town.

He was able to direct them to where he lived. He proved to be Mr Gunner aged 70 years, father of Mrs. Elder Shepard. He refused to have a physician, saying he would be out again in a day or two.

COUNTY SEAT NEWS

Prosecuting Attorney Riford is looking up the case of Alex. McDonald, the jail breaker, who voluntarily gave himself up at Pittsburg and was brought back by Sheriff Collins.

The assault for which McDonald was arrested being now such a long past affair, with the complaining witness gone and the evidence so hard to get that probably that charge will be abandoned and McDonald be arraigned on the charge of breaking jail, to which he will plead guilty and for which he may serve a term and thus be relieved of the character of a hunted fugitive from justice.

The case will probably come on for hearing next Saturday.

The board of county election canvassers, Messrs. James O'Hara, of St. Joseph, R. J. Ernsberger, of Bainbridge, and S. E. Pletcher, of New Troy, on Tuesday began the work of canvassing the votes of the election in Berrien county Nov. 4.

They find the results practically as given in this paper. The canvass will probably be finished Thursday night.

The board selected the Palladium and the Times of Benton Harbor and the Herald of St. Joseph as the papers to publish the official table.

DIVORCE PROCEEDINGS.

Through his attorney, Ralph W. Shauman, John L. Bunch has begun suit for divorce against his wife, Jessie Bunch. The couple were married in Port Lampton, Canada, in May, 1902, and lived together but eight days when, the complainant says, his wife deserted him. He alleges that during their short matrimonial career his wife called him derisive names, such as "old fool," "long legs" and other epithets unbecoming in a wife. He returned home one evening from work to find all his effects upon the doorstep and his wife gone.

Bertha North has filed a suit for divorce from her husband, Albert North, on the grounds of non-support and desertion. They were married at Council Bluffs, Iowa, in 1895, and lived together until 1898.—Palladium.

Electric Light Poles.

Some people are very ready to be frightened, but it takes more than a few load of poles to frighten us.

These are Mr. Chapin's words in his communication to Mr. Palmer Sept. 30: "Because of the fact that I take an interest in the welfare of Buchanan beyond the success of my own enterprise, I hereby authorize you to submit to those concerned the following proposition."

Wm. A. Palmer, as president of the village association, has been intrusted by the people to further the project, and as far as we know has done all in his power to advance the interests of Buchanan, but what has been done has not been made public.

Buchanan people do not often have a chance to hear as good talent as has been engaged for Saturday night without going out of town.

Thanksgiving Day will be observed on Thursday, Nov. 27. The president's and the governor's proclamation are to be found elsewhere in this edition.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.
LESSON VII, FOURTH QUARTER, INTERNATIONAL SERIES, NOV. 16.
Text of the Lesson, Judg. II, 7-19. Memory Verses, Is. 19—Golden Text, Ps. cxvii, 19—Commentary Prepared by the Rev. D. M. Stearns.
[Copyright, 1902, by American Press Association.]
7. And the people served the Lord all the days of Joshua and all the days of the elders that outlived Joshua.
So it is also written in Josh. xxiv, 31, and it seems to be given as a reason for this that they had seen all the great works of the Lord that He did for Israel. But now we come to a different story. The book of Joshua tells of victory in the land. This book tells of sin, judgment, repentance and deliverance. Their sin was disobedience in making a league with the heathen rather than manifesting the true God, the God of Israel to them. The great sin of those who bear the name of Christ today is that instead of being separated unto Him and honoring Him they are in league with the world lying in the wicked one (I John v, 19; Rom. xii, 1, 2).
8-10. There arose another generation after them which knew not the Lord nor yet the works which He had done for Israel. Joshua and all that generation having passed away from this present scene, their successors must have known of the Lord, who brought their fathers into the promised land, but they had no heart for Him. They did not like His ways, His righteousness, His dominion over them. Like their descendants long afterward, they acted as if their hearts said, "Speak unto us smooth things; prophesy deceits; cause the Holy One of Israel to cease from before us" (Isa. xxx, 10, 11). They are represented today by a vast multitude of churchgoers, many of them church members, who will not endure sound doctrine (II Tim. iv, 3), yet profess loyalty to Christ. They profess that they know God, yet in works they deny Him.
11-13. They forsook the Lord and served Baal and Ashtaroth. The Lord God who brought them out of the land of Egypt, who led them through the Red sea on dry land, who overthrew the host of the Egyptians, their enemies, who fed them with manna all through the wilderness journey, who divided Jordan before them and gave them the good land with vineyards and olive yards and homes for which they labored not—God, who did all this for them and gave them life and breath and all things, Him they forsook and fell into the idolatry of the people round about them, who knew not God. Thus they worship demons and not God (I Cor. x, 20; Deut. xxxii, 17), for it is the devil who turned Adam and Eve from God and even asked the Son of God to worship him, who is back of all this turning away from God and His truth and His worship and who is working so hard in our day in many theological seminaries and pulpits to turn people away from God.
14, 15. Whosoever they went out the hand of the Lord was against them for evil, as the Lord had said, "... and they were greatly distressed.
The testimony of one of their rulers about a thousand years after this was, "The hand of our God is upon all them for good that seek Him, but His power and His wrath is against all them that forsake Him" (Ex. viii, 22). In Lev. xxvii and Deut. xxviii God gave an abundant warning as to what He would do if they forsook Him, but for all this they sinned still and believed not for His wondrous works. They believed not in God and trusted not in His salvation (Ps. lxxxviii, 32, 22). The whole Bible teaches that since sin entered the carnal mind is enmity against God; the heart is deceitful and desperately wicked; every imagination of his heart is only evil continually (Rom. vii, 7; Jer. xvii, 9; Gen. vi, 5).
16. Nevertheless the Lord raised up judges which delivered them out of the hand of those that spoiled them.
We have just referred to the wonderful sinfulness of man and his rebellion against God, but the Bible is full of the more wonderful love of God, who loved us even when we were dead in sins, who commended His love toward us in that while we were yet sinners Christ died for us (Eph. ii, 4, 5; Rom. v, 8). That "God is Love" is the great foundation truth of Scripture, and, being such, He is not willing that any should perish (I John iv, 8, 10; I Pet. iii, 9). Many a time He turned His anger away from this people, and, being full of compassion, He forgave their iniquity and destroyed them not (Ps. lxxxviii, 38). He sought and found Adam and Eve when in their sin they turned away from Him, and He has ever since been seeking and saving the lost.
17-19. They ceased not from their own devices nor from their stubborn way. With many sins and repentings they went from bad to worse. "They mocked the messengers of God and despised His words and misused His prophets until the wrath of the Lord arose against His people till there was no remedy" (II Chron. xxxvi, 16). Very long He bore with them, but finally He sent them into captivity for seventy years. After He restored them from Babylon and they again became a people, though not as before, He sent to them His own Son, but they rejected Him and crucified Him, and now they are scattered among all nations until He shall come again in His glory, and then they will receive Him and be a righteous nation from that time forth. They will blossom and bud and fill the face of the earth with fruit (Matt. xxiii, 38, 39; Isa. xxv, 8; xxvii, 6; Ix, 21). How wonderful is the purpose of God and how sure of fulfillment (Isa. xiv, 24; Ps. xxxiii, 11). How much of heaven upon earth every child of God might have if only willing to walk humbly with Him! (Deut. xi, 21; Ps. lxxxix, 13-16.) We enter into rest when we cease from our own works.

FREE TRADE FIGURES
ATTEMPT TO SHOW THAT THERE IS A DECLINE IN WAGES.
In Return For Larger Cost of Living Wage Earners Are Being Paid Several Billions More Than Under Previous Economic Conditions.
For some time we have been begging the American Free Trade league to give us some figures, some real statistics, upon which they base their contention that protection is bringing ruin to our industries and our labor. Well, at last we have one of their syndicated articles, which really bristles with figures. The statistics are supposed to be taken from the census reports, but the writer is either a fool or a knave, for the whole article is one of the most dishonest and inaccurate presentations of figures that ever emanated from a free trade mill. This is stamping it as pretty rank, for the free traders of this country have sent out some of the most dishonest compilations that it could be possible to put together.
This article bears the caption "Prices and Wages," and the author is one Byron W. Holt. His contention is that prices have gone up and wages have gone down. We admit that the prices of some things have increased, particularly as compared with the free trade period from 1893 to 1897, but we know and everybody else knows but Mr. Holt—and we even think he knows—that wages have gone up since 1890 or 1897 in every industry and in every state and territory. But let us see just what Mr. Holt says. Referring to the census reports, he says:
"The last and largest manufacturing state reported is New Jersey. Its 120,000 wage earners in 1890 got average daily wages of $2.24, while its 241,581 wage earners in 1900 got average daily wages of $1.52. These figures, if correct, show a phenomenal decline of 32.2 per cent in wages in New Jersey from 1890 to 1900."
"These figures, if correct," says Mr. Holt. But they are not correct. The census of 1890 gave the average wage earners in New Jersey as 157,808, which is quite different from 120,092, and slanders Mr. Holt's "decline in wages" to smithereens. Why, the number of wage earners in New Jersey in 1890 was more than Mr. Holt gives for 1890. Then this column of false figures takes thirty-three states and pretends to show that wages have declined 6 per cent from 1890 to 1900. And yet the census bulletins show a large increase in every one of these states. For instance, let us take the New England states, except Massachusetts, the bulletin of which has not yet been issued:
Increase, per cent.

Maine 6.3 24.2
New Hampshire 11.1 28.0
Vermont 33.2 45.2

TARIFF MODIFIERS.
Uneasy Spirits Always Looking For a Chance at the Schedules.
There is a class of persons, wise in their own conceit, always seeking to modify in some way every tariff that embodies the protective principle. It may fairly be said of these individuals that no protective tariff yet devised has ever pleased them or subdued their desire to rip it up at some point. When once the work of alteration is begun, no one can tell where it will stop. Behind these uneasy persons are massed the whole forces of the free trade army eagerly urging them forward and ready to add their votes to every movement whose object is disintegration. The tariff law now in force in the United States had for its authors some of the ablest tariff students of their time. Its chief architect and spokesman was Nelson Dingley. He had the full concurrence of President McKinley, who signed the law without objections to any of its provisions or doubt as to its practical results. These two men have passed away while in the faithful service of the people. The law they largely molded has worked well. It is identified with a period of high prosperity succeeding one of great depression. It has yielded revenue to an adequate extent, and that includes the repeal of the war taxes.

G. E. SMITH LEADING ...GROCER.

A Library for Four Dollars.

Four dollars is a small sum with which to supply a family for a year with the best pictures and literature: "The high-water mark of color reproduction," as Howard Pyle characterizes the exquisite color reproduction of his painting in the December Century; history, current topics of vital interest, the best verse and fiction of the day.

The most striking successes of The Century Magazine have been made in the field of history, witness the famous Century War Papers, Nicolay and Hay's Life of Lincoln, etc.; and it is to return to the field of historical literature this year. A striking series of illustrated articles on the early campaigns of the Revolution, written by Professor Justin Harvey Smith of Dartmouth College, will be one of the features, especially covering the picturesque march of Arnold through the Main woods. Important articles on the "Truth" will be printed from time to time, not attacking or defending, but simply telling the inside history of the great trust and how they are conducted.

Richard Whiteing, the author of that popular book "No. 5 John Street," is to write one of the serials for The Century in 1903, "The Yellow Van," the story of an American "schoolma'am" who marries an English duke. Another serial, by the author of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," the most popular book of the year, will begin to appear in the December Century. Papers by "Mr. Dooley," giving his unique "Opinions" on literature; new light on the lives of Edgar Allen Poe and Sir Walter Scott; richly illustrated articles on the great exchanges of the world, and the best short stories that can be procured from the leading writers,--all these are coming in The Century. Beautiful pictures in color will appear from time to time.

The pictures are richly worth framing and a place in every home. The reading means wide information, culture, and rich intellectual pleasure from month to month. The bound volumes should have permanent place in every library. Big return, all this, on the small investment of four dollars.

The Christmas number of The Designer is unusually attractive. Its fashion department illustrates and describes the latest in winter wearing apparel and millinery, and under "Points on Dress-making" is furnished most useful instruction for the making of juvenile garments. A Christmas Cantata by Frederic Van Rensselaer Dey, entitled "Santa Claus' Busy Day," is giving prominent place among the literary features, and Christmas poems are supplied by Cora A. Matson Dolson, Francis H. Tabor, Frank Farrington and Florence Gertrude Ruthven. John De Morgan furnishes an interesting illustrated paper on Christmas customs and superstitions. Olive C. Tobey is the author of a story for adults, "From the Peyton Letter," while Alice Josephine Johnson writes the Christmas story for juveniles, entitled "What a Christmas Glove Brought." "When Christmas Comes" is the name of a contribution in which numerous dainty and pretty suggestions for gifts are pictured. "Selections for the Recitationist" are appropriate to the season, and "Hints for the Holiday" gives some unique ideas for the distribution of presents. An attractive feature which the children will appreciate is a full-page illustrated poem, "An International Christmas Party," by Bertha Stine. Several strong chapters of "The Apology of Ayliffe," by Ellen Olney Kirk, are given this month, and the pages of "What Women are doing" grow noticeably in importance. A new department makes its appearance in the December Designer, entitled "Helps Along the Way." Like "What Women are doing," it is edited by the readers of The Designer, and bids fair to be all that its name implies. "Toilet Table Chat," Book Notes, "Etiquette Hints," "In Motherland," "Floriculture" and "The Kitchen Kingdom" are included in the list of good things which appear in The Designer for December.

The special meetings at the Evangelical church which were to take place this week have been postponed for one week on account of the absence of the pastor during part of this week. The meetings will be continued from next Sunday evening through the succeeding week.

Buchanan Record

Thanksgiving.

The following is President Roosevelt's proclamation Nov. 27, being designated as a day of National Thanksgiving:

According to the yearly custom of our people, it falls upon the president at this season to appoint a day of festival and thanksgiving to God.

Over a century and a quarter have passed since this country took its place among the nations of the earth, and during that time we have had on the whole more to be thankful for than has fallen to the lot of any other people. Generation after generation has grown to manhood and passed away. Each has had to bear its peculiar burdens, each to face its special crises, and each has known years of grim trial. When the country was menaced by malice, domestic or foreign levy, when the hand of the Lord was heavy upon it in drought or flood of pestilence, when in bodily distress and anguish of soul it paid the penalty of folly and forward heart.

Nevertheless, decade by decade, we have struggled onward and upward, we now abundantly enjoy material well being, and under the favor of the Most High we are striving earnestly to achieve moral and spiritual uplifting. The year that has just closed has been one of peace and of overflowing plenty. Rarely has any people enjoyed greater prosperity than we are enjoying. For this we render heartfelt and solemn thanks to the Giver and God; and we seek to praise, not by word only, but by deeds, by the way in which we do our duty to ourselves and to our fellowmen.

Now, therefore, I, Theodore Roosevelt, president of the United States, do hereby designate as a day of general thanksgiving, Thursday, the twenty-seventh of the coming November, and do recommend that throughout the land the people cease from their ordinary occupations and in their several homes and places of worship render thanks unto Almighty God for the manifold blessings of the past year.

In witness thereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington this 25th day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and two, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and twenty-seventh

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

By the President.

JOHN HAY, Secretary of State.

...THE REASONABLE JEWELER...

A representative of this office made a brief call on Miss Ella Hahn one day this week and found a delightful display of hand painted china; among the most beautiful articles was a lemonade jug painted in black berries and wild roses. Another exquisite piece was a fruit compote and perhaps prettiest of all were the cream soup sets, painted in shells and pink tinted. Miss Hahn is an artist of much ability along this line and most of the pieces are done for special orders.
