Monday Club.

Nov. 17 was "Indian Day" with the Monday Literary Club. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. M. Johnson, and proved unusually interesting. The members were surprised to learn, from the paper prepared by Mrs. Dodd, that "Lo! the poor Indian" is not a "disappearing race," but one rapidly increasing. Statistics also show a corresponding improvement in education and industry. The wise and thoughtful should now consider the adjustment of the rights of this native race, even the wisest of which are denied the privileges of the ballot.

Mrs. Johnson related the trials of the early settlers of our own state, the destruction of their towns and forts, the terrible massacres and the work of the pioneer missionaries.

Mrs. Roe read a selection from the "Last of the Mohicans," and Mrs. Kent an article on Indian basketry, describing the enormous grain baskets, the wonderful water baskets and many others, some specimens being valued at hundreds of dollars.

A "lightning blanket," loaned to the club by Prof. Mercer, contrived toward making the paper on Navajo blankets, prepared by Miss Lemon, a fascinating topic.

Mrs. East read an article prepared by Mrs. Runner. Subject, "The Death of Custer."

Mrs. Redden presented one of the most wonderful characters of American history, the greatest of his race—Tecumseh.

Miss Flora Carrier entertained the club with music, which was warmly applauded.

Anagrams from Indian names closed a profitable and enjoyable afternoon.

The club will meet with Mrs. Hinman Nov. 24 at 8 p m

Western Friends.

The friends of Mr. Burnett Peters will be sorry to know that he was much disappointed in his stay in California, as the change of climate did not seem to benefit him any. He is now in Los Vegas, New Mexico, making a temporary home in a house near Mrs. Studebaker. He will remain for a time, hoping to be benefited.

In a letter received by Mrs. Howard Smith this week from Mrs. Studebaker she says, on Sunday morning, when the people of Los Vegas awoke, they found an inch of snow on the ground. For a mild, delightful autumn why not recommend Michigan?

Many people will be interested to know that Rev. Carson Geyer, formerly of this place, who was known as the "boy orator" some time ago, but who went from the pastorate of the M. E. church at Lafayette to Los Vegas, is now being very successful as the pastor of the Methodist church there, and draws large congregations morning and evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster, of Niles township, who started west a few days ago, have reached their destination in Los Vegas and joined the colony of Michigan people, who are much enjoying each other's companion ship

30 Club.

The 30 Club met with Mrs. Hattie Kingery Wednesday afternoon. The history lesson was conducted by Mrs. Fannie Wells; Miss Grace French played an instrumental solo that was highly enjoyed by all; a well prepared paper on "The Islands of Michigan" was read by Miss Florence Redden; current events were given. The ladies will meet next Wednesday, Nov. 26, with Mrs. Julia East.

Cake Sale

People contemplating baking cake for thanksgiving will be wise to attend the Fair, Wednesday evening as there will be a Cake Sale This is for the benefit of the Band, and these cakes are furnished by the best cake bakers in town.

Three Oaks Man Leaves.

Garfield Rivette who recently started a restaurant in Three Oaks, left there Monday night, and several residents of the place are his creditors. He signed some checks and got them cashed, aggregating about $100, mortgaged for about the same amount a piano on which he paid but $15.00 and then disappeared. The officers are trying to locate him.

Mrs. Fred Unrath, President Country Club, Benton Harbor, Mich.

"After my first baby was born I did not seem to regain my strength although the doctor gave me a tonic which he considered very superior, but instead of getting better I grew weaker every day. My husband insisted that I take Wine of Cardui for a week and see what it would do for me. I did take the medicine and was very grateful to find my strength and health slowly returning. In two weeks I was out of bed and in a month I was able to take up my usual duties. I am very enthusiastic in its praise."

Wine of Cardui reinforces the organs of generation for the ordeal of pregnancy and childbirth. It prevents miscarriage. No woman who takes Wine of Cardui need fear the coming of her child. If Mrs. Unrath had taken Wine of Cardui before her baby came she would not have been weakened as she was. Her rapid recovery should commend this great remedy to every expectant mother. Wine of Cardui regulates the menstrual flow.

Statement.

We are sorry that we are compelled to make a statement to "a report" we got from Mr. Graffort himself and which he characterizes this week as false. He made no secret of it. While in our office doing work he could not do in his own, as he frequently does, he spoke to us about Mr. Greenwood going away, and then added, "he would have to go, too." Of course we were surprised, and said: "How is that?" and he said, "On account of my wife's health." We then asked him what he would do with his office, and he replied, "I will sell or lease it." If the story is false he started it himself.

What's Coming?

The band fair. It is quite a while since our readers have heard about the band and we are positive all are interested in its welfare, some more and some less, but we are thoroughly convinced that the band is a good thing for Buchanan. The boys have shown pluck, perseverance and ability and deserve to be encouraged. Let us do our best to help them do their best. We ought to be proud of the boys, not only because of their pluck, ability and perseverance, but because they are young men of good habits and good looks. These two go together. Bad habits will sooner or later show in the looks. The boys are also generous. We have never known them to be asked to play anywhere and refuse. Sometimes we have thought they were too generous, but we hope we were wrong, for if there is any characteristic we despise it is selfishness.

There are many things to demand our attention these busy evenings, but if you are so busy that you cannot go to the fair you can send in your donation—just the same.

Again we vouch for the boys that they will thank you for it. One and all, whoever is willing to listen to their sweet music, do something to make the fair a financial success, and let the amounts be generous so that a good sum may be added to their treasury.

Unappreciated.

How many wives and mothers in this village, yea in every town and village are wearing away their lives scrubbing, brewing, baking, mending and saving, and when they want a few cents or dollars find it necessary to meekly ask their liege lord and master, who very patronizingly doles out a mere pittance of the money he earns.

He earns! That mother and wife helps earn that money just as truly as though she labored for pay instead of love and home. The woman who works away from home and at other than home duties is far more independent and need beg of no one, notwithstanding she does not earn any more than the home body; the difference is that the one case she is independent and in the other dependent. Ye noble men earning good money, considerable of which you spend on yourselves, do not forget that your wife, mother or daughter helped to earn what you get, as much as you even if she did not work in a factory, a printing office, or a store, and you ought to give her her share of it.

Union Teachers' Bible Study.

There was a very interesting session of the teachers' meeting on Monday night in the Presbyterian church. There were 18 persons present, 10 of whom were men, and the lesson was presented by Supt. Mercer.

Each Sunday school teacher in the village is missing much who does not attend these Bible study meetings, as they are a great aid in getting the subject well in hand to present to a class on Sunday.

Next Monday evening in the basement of the Presbyterian church the meeting will be held to discuss the lesson for Sunday, Nov. 30. The hour will be in charge of Rev. Tarrant and A. C. Roe. Every teacher is invited.

SOCIAL TIME.

Comrade Thomas and Family Open Their Hospitable Home for G. A. R. Reunion.

Wednesday evening the members of the G. A. R., their wives and sons and daughters, with many friends, gathered at the home of Theodore Thomas, on Front street, to enjoy a social time.

The evening was a delightful one, so far as the weather was concerned, and the 64 people present had a most enjoyable time. The following program was rendered:

Scotch song, Mrs. Baird; solo, Mrs. Griffith; recitation, Mrs. Howard; solo, Mrs. Perrott; duet, Mrs. Griffith and Bessie Thomas; reading, Mrs. Baird; song, Bessie Thomas; music, by Conrad young people, Miss Emma, piano; Jay, violin; Clem, mandolin.

Refreshments were served, consisting of sandwiches, coffee, doughnuts, all kinds of cake and various other good things.

When the soldiers broke camp the Conrad family played the national airs, in which they all joined, making a most impressive leave taking.

Foot Ball.

Benton Harbor high school foot ball team defeated Ann Arbor high school foot ball team on last Saturday at Ann Arbor in a score of 6 to 15. The following is from the Benton Harbor News in regard to the Buchanan committee:

"The Booster Special" left this city over the M. B. H. & C. road at 8:30 to meet the "Rooter Special" at Buchanan. The special train was furnished by the railroad free of charge to the reception committee. When the trains met at Buchanan there was a wild scene. The two trains were joined and the men marched through the cars singing and cheering and embracing one another.

Upon arriving at Buchanan it was found that the reception committee would have to wait about two hours, and it is thought that Buchanan spent the liveliest two hours in her experience as a village.

The committee marched down the main street, giving a high school yell learned on the train, and bumped into the town marshal. The marshal waved his arms frantically in the air and ordered silence. "Ain't that a shame," sang the committee louder than ever.

"It's the town marshal, walk up and shake hands with the town marshal, boys," ordered Henry Mason, who was in temporary command of the outfit. The committee pressed around the official and shook his hand for many minutes and then passed up the street singing, the official threatening to place the whole committee under arrest.

A bonfire was kindled in the street and there was a war dance. The next move was to buy up all of the tin horns in town. By this time the town marshal was frantic, but when he got to the point of arresting somebody the committee would go and shake hands with him all around. The next maneuver was to buy out a restaurant and eat everything in the place. The committee consumed a whole pail of oysters, a dozen loaves of bread and nine pounds of boiled ham.

The committee then formed and marched back to the depot in splendid order, followed by a hundred or so of Buchanan's citizens. With the committee went a live lobster. Nobody knew how this lobster left the restaurant or why he chose the Benton Harbor crowd instead of his cozy nest in the quiet Buchanan restaurant. The committee had been at the station about fifteen minutes when the Buchanan police department came tearing down the pike in search of the lobster, which is a rare bird in Buchanan and highly prized. The police department began to look over the committee to see who had the lobster, but the lobster was passed from one to another so rapidly that the police department had hard time in locating it. Finally one member of the committee was caught with the goods and the police department took a firm grip on the committeeman's shoulder and started to take him down town. Then the committee suddenly had a desire to shake hands with the police department once again. Every member of the committee shook hands with the officer, and when this was over, the committeeman with the lobster had vanished like a pleasant dream.

"Well, I dew declare," said the police department, "this is the beat-inest crowd I ever see."

There were one or two small scraps but the committee got home with no bones broken.

THE HONOR OF YOUR PRESENCE IS REQUESTED AT THE FORMAL OPENING OF MY NEWLY REMODELED SHOE STORE

On Saturday, Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 15, 17 and 18

On these days we will exhibit all the new styles in men's, ladies' and children's footwear decreed by fashion for the coming Fall and Winter season. The work of putting in an entirely new front will be completed, and I beg to present to the public one of the finest Shoe Stores in the state of Indiana. The success that my enterprise has met with in the past is sufficient proof of the fact that the public is in sympathy with my method of doing business, and the constant increase in my sales is a further proof that my goods please and give satisfaction in every way. Saturday, Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 15, 17 and 18, a beautiful present, a work of art, will be given with every purchase of $1.50 and over, it will pay you to come miles to get one of these handsome souvenirs. I have engaged a number of extra sales people to wait on you, so I will not be handicapped in coping with the rush that I expect on these days. Hoping to have the honor of your presence at my opening, I am yours,

LESSON VIII, FOURTH QUARTER, INTERNATIONAL SERIES, NOV. 23.

Text of the Lesson, Isa. xxviii, 1-13. Memory Verse, 7—Golden Text, Isa. xxviii, 7—Commentary Prepared by the Rev. D. M. Stearns.

[Copyright, 1902, by American Press Association.] 1. Woe to the crown of pride, to the drunkards of Ephraim, whose glorious beauty is a fading flower.

Samaria stood upon a beautiful swelling hill which commanded the whole country round—the hill terraced to the top, the surrounding country splendid and fruitful; symbol of excessive worldly luxuriance and pleasure. Not recognizing that God did all this for them and gave them all that they had, they became proud and self-sufficient. They were like the Babel builders, who said: "Let us build us a city. Let us make us a name lest we be scattered abroad" (Gen. xi, 4). They are also described in Rom. i, 21, "When they knew God, they glorified Him not as God, neither were thankful, but became vain in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was darkened."

2-4. The crown of pride, the drunkards of Ephraim, shall be trodden under feet, and the glorious beauty which is on the head of the fat valley shall be a fading flower.

One commentator says that as a first ripe fig, a dainty morsel, might be swallowed without chewing, so should Ephraim pass from sight, the fading flower of his glorious beauty be gone. The tempest of hail and the destroying storm are mentioned again in verses 17, 18, "The hail shall sweep away the refuge of lies, and the waters shall overflow the hiding place, and your covenant with death shall be disannulled, and your agreement with hell shall not stand." (Compare verse 15. The warning of chapter ii, 11, 17, stands and will stand till the kingdom comes. "The lofty looks of man shall be humbled, and the haughtiness of men shall be bowed down, and the Lord alone shall be exalted in that day." Therefore "Cease ye from man" (22). Those whom God chooses for Himself must find their all in Him.

5, 6. In that day shall the Lord of Hosts be for a crown of glory and for a diadem of beauty unto the residue of His people.

What He will be to them they will also be to Him in that day, because of His beauty which will be upon them. He speaks of their righteousness and their glory which the nations shall see and says, "Thou shalt also be a crown of glory in the hand of the Lord and a royal diadem in the hand of thy God" (Isa. lxii, 2, 3). This is spoken of the true people of God, the remnant of Israel who will truly trust in Jehovah. He Himself will be to them a true, divine, eternal glory in the eyes of all nations. It is written, "The Lord shall be unto thee an everlasting light and thy God thy glory" (Isa. lx, 19). "The glory in the midst" (Zech. ii, 5).

7, 8. But they also have erred through wine and through strong drink are out of the way. The priest and the prophet have erred through strong drink.

Those appointed to be watchmen, to deliver His people, are blind, ignorant, loving to slumber, talking in their sleep, looking to their own gain, saying, We will fill ourselves with strong drink, and tomorrow shall be as this day and much more abundant (Isa. lvi, 10-12). The priests were forbidden to drink wine or strong drink (Lev. x, 8, 9; Ezek. xliv, 21). All believers are priests, and our ordinals are, "Be not drunk with wine wherein is excess, but be filled with the Spirit" (1 Pet. ii, 9; Eph. v, 18). In Song i, 2, it is written, "Thy love is better than wine." The vine has its roots in the earth, but the True Vine is He who came down from heaven.

9, 10. Whom shall he teach knowledge, and whom shall he make to understand doctrine? Them that are weaned from the milk and drawn from the breasts?

These wine loving, worldly wise, self-sufficient, God despising people sneer at the teaching of the prophet and ask if he thinks they are children just weaned from the breast? Does he think they will endure his useless repetitions and unceasing clatter? They do not want his preaching. They want to be let alone and to have the Holy One of Israel cease from before them (Isa. xxx, 11). The carnal mind is no better today, and the time has come when many will not endure sound doctrine (II Tim. iv, 3), and many teachers in theological seminaries consider those who believe the whole word of God to be unlearned and ignorant in their estimation. In a letter just to hand from South Africa the writer says that a minister remarked to him that the trouble was too much theology and too little Christianity.

11-13. This is the rest wherewith ye may cause the weary to rest, and this is the refreshing, yet they would not hear.

As they stammer in their drunkenness so He will speak to them by those who in their estimation are stammerers. The word of God, to them a series of trivial commands, will be turned into a series of painful sufferings—a stone to break them, a net to snare them, a trap to take them (chapter viii, 14, 15). All the prophet can do is to keep at them with the Lord's offers if perchance some will turn to Him. In verses 5, 12, 16, we have glory and beauty, rest and refreshing and a sure foundation, but to all His offers they would not give heed (verse 12). Compare Isa. xxx, 15; Matt. xxii, 3; xxiii, 37; John v, 40, and note that the great hindrance on man's part is simply that he will not come to God, will not submit to God, will not accept His love. There is nothing between the greatest drunkard or sinner of any kind and full salvation in Christ but his own will, his stubborn unbelief. They love their evil ways, and their doings will not suffer them to turn unto their God (Hos. v, 4, margin), yet He loves and pleads and continues to say, "Him that cometh to Me I will in no wise cast out (John vi, 37).

A fine program was rendered after which the guests were treated to popcorn balls and conundrums. The next meeting will be with Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Rough, Monday evening, Dec. 1 1902, the subject for discussion will be, "The farmer and the telephone."

Presented Farm.

J. E. Miller's grandson, Miller Jennings, wife, three boys and his father, Jasper Jennings, have arrived from Denver, Colorado, and will occupy a fine farm in Weesaw township, presented to him by his grandfather, J. Kidnaped in Benton Harbor.

Pearl Graham, a sixteen year old girl, who has been living with an aunt in Benton Harbor, was brought into court on a charge of being a truant and disorderly child. She claimed to have been kidnaped and told a pitiable tale of being grabbed by two young men and taken to a strange house and kept for several days. She managed to escape. She was sentenced to the Adrian industrial school, sentence being suspended for 30 days; in the mean time she has been placed in a suitable home and an effort will be made to have the right kind of influence about her.

Masquerade.

The Bethany Sunday school class, A. A. Worthington teacher, gave a very novel and interesting entertainment at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Wright on Wednesday evening. There were 85 persons present and all were dressed to represent some character. The sport in guessing the person who represented a character was immense fun. After which the evening was filled with good and attractive features not the least among which was refreshments.

Among the characters represented were: hospital nurses, Uncle Sam, Li Hung Chang, wild Irishman, school girls, ancient matrons, Topsy and fire chiefs. All were profuse in their assertions of a delightful time.

Cannery.

There has been considerable talk the past few days in regard to starting a cannery here. There need be no difficulty in getting one on the same condition as the creamery was started, and if a good manager is put into the work it will succeed. The farmers of this community would find it a good investment provided each man did not want to run it his way or kill it if he couldn't. One good manager and it will pay. A number of the merchants and business men are favorably inclined and all it needs is to have some one push it.

It is thought that legal difficulties have now been settled, so that work can be resumed next week on the new Union depot.

The big steamboat trust, which is forming on the great lakes, has offered J. H. Graham, of our G. & M. line, the presidency, but he positively refuses it.

Considerable merriment was occasioned last Monday by the arrest and trial, in Justice Hammond's court, of Chas. T. Welchans, proprietor of Hotel Benton. He was charged with stealing a lobster from a Buchanan restaurant the previous Saturday evening, was found guilty and given $117 and costs and 76 days in jail, and the conspirators had plenty of fun before he caught on to the fact that it was a put up job.

Rev. E. A. Hoffman, his sister and daughter narrowly escaped death from asphyxiation last Sunday afternoon. Gas escaped from some gas stoves' being used while the furnace was in repair and they were rapidly becoming unconscious, when a friend felt impelled to call them up by telephone, though she had nothing special to say. This intervention of Providence saved their lives, as the bell aroused the daughter sufficiently to realize the impending danger.

Benton Harbor never had such a time as last Saturday night, in celebrating the victory of our foot ball team at Ann Arbor. Buchanan got some of the hurrah when the train passed through there. Our streets were kept lively from nightfall till 2 a. m., by tin horns, class yells, and even old oil cans, lard cans, large pieces of metal roofing, a circular saw, etc., were used as gongs to augment the general din, and a stranger coming to town would have thought the people had gone daft. It seemed as if half the town had turned out to welcome the boys. On their arrival a large cannon belched forth a greeting; bonfires, Roman candles and red and green fires were ignited, and a brilliant spectacle it was, all the way to Hotel Benton. The boys were put into a hack, to which was attached a great length of rope, and a hundred men and boys drew it through the streets to the hotel, where they were tendered a banquet. The championship of lower Michigan is won, and now they must play the upper champions (either Ishpeming or Escanaba) at Ann Arbor next Wednesday, to settle the state supremacy. A special train will be run, as before.

Mrs. Lillian File started for Cedar Rapids, Iowa Thursday morning. Her father Mr. Al. Griswold accompanied her as far as Chicago.

Mrs. Lucy Harrison left Thursday evening for Connersville, in the southern part of Indiana, where she expects to spend some time with her daughter.

Mrs. E. S. Hopkins of Tacoma Wash. who has been in town a guest of Mrs. Hamlin and Mrs. Harry Perrot, has gone to Egin, Ill. for a few weeks.

Miss Edythe Long who has been with her cousin Mrs. R. E. Jenning in Paw-Paw for some time and who visited in Kalamazoo and Lansing before her return home, arrived Thursday.

PROVE ALL THINGS.

This Old Old Command Is Easy to Fulfill in Buchanan.

To win a wager, an English Marquis stood on Loudon Bridge and offered for an hour, British sovereigns ($5) for five shillings ($1.25) He could not find a customer. There are several good reasons why the ordinary mortal could not be induced to buy, but no reason can be given why Buchanan people will not accept the following convincing proof about Doan's kidney Pills. Read this.

Mrs. C. J. Hempstead, wife of C. J. Hempstead, Grocer, living at 215 Cortland Street, Dowagiac, says: "My back troubled me for a long time and the aching was so severe that at times I could hardly attend to my household duties for the pain went clear through my shoulders. I doctored and tried different remedies but none seemed to do me any good. This was my condition previous to going to Sherwood & Burlingame's drug store for Doan's Kidney Pills.

I could notice the good effect of the treatment at once and it was only a short time till my back was as strong as it ever was and as free from pain. To say I endorse the preparation mildly expresses what I think of it."

Just such emphatic endorsement is plentiful in Buchanan. Call at W. N. Brodrick's drug store and ask him what his customers report. For sale by all dealers. Price 50c Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Sole agents for the United States. Remember the name, Doan's and take no other.

Startling, But True.

"If every one knew what a grand medicine Dr. King's New Life Pills is," writes D. H. Turner, Dempseytown, Pa., "You'd sell all you have in a day. Two weeks' use has made a new man of me." Infallible for constipation, stomach and liver troubles. 25c at W. N. Brodrick's drug store.

Dr. C. B. Roe gave his usual talk to the pupils of the various grades of our school Thursday. His object was to get the children to understand and take better care of their teeth. It is a kind of education the public needs and its value can scarcely be estimated.
