Sadder Death of a Farmer at Fairland.

Tuesday morning Niels Olsen, a fruit farmer residing northwest of Fairland, hitched his team to a harrow and went to the back part of his farm to work. At about 9:30 a. m. he went to the house, ate a lunch, and in apparent good health returned to his honest toil.

Customarily Mr. Olsen went, at 11:20, to the house for the noon meal; but all things have an end and Mrs. Olsen, perceiving that her husband had not returned from the field, went at 11:30 to discover what had caused him to err in habits long since settled in the quiet tenor of advanced life.

Going thither she saw the team afield lazily nodding their heads in the noonday sun. The faithful wife had the first warning that the last meeting—the meeting that is a parting that comes to all terrestrial friend ships—was over when she saw, lying face downward behind the harrow with the lines still in his grasp, the sharer of her life's joys and sorrows.

Stricken with horror, she rolled the form over and gazed into the lifeless face, she drew the body some distance to the sodden turf; then ran to the neighbors, imparting to them the distressing news.

Dr. Green, of Berrien Springs, arriving soon in response to a telephone call, made a hasty examination of the remains, now borne by neighbors to the home, and pronounced the death a resultant of heart failure.

Deputy sheriff Allen and justice of peace Marquisee arriving later a jury was impaneled consisting of Messrs. Porter, Simmons, Steinbauer, Villocock and Kuppernues. After a thorough examination of the case the jury returned a verdict of death from natural causes.

The deceased was a native of Denmark, and a resident for sometime in Germany before coming to the United States, in several of which he has lived. He was 58 years of age and leaves, of relatives but one, a widow, to mourn loss of one in whose somewhat nomadic life she had been a companion.

Funeral services were held in the South Berrien Centre church Thursday, April 30, at 10:30 a. m., and the interment was made in the cemetery adjoining the church grounds.

Whence came? Why? Whither flown? Dust to dust, the old problem, life's story is retold when the dew drop slips into the shining sea.

MAKING PROGRESS

Business Men of Buchanan Meet on Tuesday Evening and

INDUSTRIAL PROPOSITIONS

Are Discussed—One was Within the Reach of Buchanan.

On Tuesday evening the Buchanan Improvement Association held a meeting in the Commercial Club rooms to consider propositions, etc. Quite a large number were present and all entered into the business before them with spirit and as if they ment to do something.

Owing to the absence of the President, Wm. A. Palmer, John Morris called the meeting to order and moved that W. H. Keller preside in the absence of Mr. Palmer who was not well enough to be present. J. C. Dick permanent secretary, was present and filled the position. After stating the amount of money already subscribed, a board of five directors were elected whose duty it will be to direct affairs, see to raising money and securing such industries as are within reach. The following gentlemen were elected as members of this board; Chas. Pears, chairman; John Morris, Henry Adams, White Redden and H. H. Hosford.

Three propositions were then read from parties wishing to locate here, but there was only one that it was thought would come within the possibility of the association to manage, and it was decided that the board of directors should go ahead and complete arrangements with them as soon as possible.

A committee of G. A. R. veterans presented to the meeting an invitation to join in making Decoration Day one appropriate for the occasion. B. R. Desenberg, E. S. Roe and Glenn E. Smith were appointed to co-operate with the G. A. R.

The meeting then adjourned to meet at the call of the president.
