DEEPLY IMPRESSIVE

Was the Service at the Presbyterian Church Sunday Morning.

A large number of the members of the Presbyterian church gathered on Sunday morning to observe the sacrament of the Lord's Supper and of baptism. There were five persons baptised—four infants and one adult, and the ceremony was a very solemn and impressive one.

After a sermon by the pastor, Rev. W. D. Cole, there were three infants and one adult received into membership in the church. Following this, communion was observed and the service closed with a deep impression on those present.

In the evening there was a larger congregation than usual and a fine sermon on the subject: "The Love of Christ Constrains us."

A. W. Roe Received Commission.

A. W. Roe writes from Encampment, Wyoming that he has just received commission of first Lieutenant of the Wyoming light guards, with addition to his salary of $50 per month there by, and he attributes his good fortune to his practice in drilling with Buchanan M. W. A. Forrester team. His friends here are not one bit sorry for him. Perhaps in view of Arthur's large family they expect him to furnish the entire company for service in the near future.

Death of Miss Anna Deering.

Miss Anna Deering, who has resided in Buchanan for many years, died at her home on Front street last Sunday, from organic heart disease and dropsy.

The people of Berrien township defeated the proposition to build a steel bridge over the St. Joseph River to the Oronoko township bank.

Heavy Rains.

The heavy rains of Friday night were very acceptable to most of the farmers; some few who had not all their wheat in were not so pleased but the majority of the people welcomed the rain as the most thorough that had come to this community for many moons.

In certain localities especially south and east of town the oats were leveled by the wind and the corn blown over.

SLIGHT BLAZE

Fire Company Respond to Call in Second Ward.

Monday morning at 10:50 the fire whistle blew, giving to the village the usual excitement and alarm; two blasts from the water works whistle, notified everybody that the blaze was in the second ward, and it was located at the home of Eli Metz, on north Fourth street.

When the fire company reached there they found a bed burning, the mattress blazing in a lively manner. It is said that gasoline had been used in the room, and the fumes ignited from a match struck in the room. A small stream of water from the garden hose, put the fire out, and as the house did not catch, the affair was soon over, and no great damage done.

They Need the Tonic of the Woods.

Notice the average business man, at the end of a year's strain. How irritable and exacting he becomes as the long hot days still find him sweltering in his city office! How the anxious lines deepen on his face, and the driven, worried expression grows more and more pronounced! Observe the writer who has been working for months "on his nerves." His pen lags; the thought behind his pen lags still more; his ideas no longer flow spontaneously; his physical and mental machinery are out of gear; and no longer respond readily to his will; he has become so irritable and "touchy" that even his friends avoid him. Look at the hard-working lawyer and physician. Exhaustion is plainly written on every feature, nervous energy sustains them; but Nature is calling loudly for repayment of overdrafts. Notice the busy wife and housemother, who has been confined in the close air of the home, coping with the exactions of family life, day in and day out, for the past twelve months. Worn out and nerve racked by the incessant petty cares and annoyances that fall to the lot of even the most capable and cheerful housewives, it is plain that she needs to go to the great Mother for a season of rest and healing. Watch the pale student and clerk, as they pore over books or wearily add rows of figures, or bend over counters. How they droop like flowers and plants after a long period of drought! Notice the toilers in every trade and avocation in our city streets, and see how they languish and fade for need of the tonic of woods and fields.

A Bargain.

It was in the raspberry season, and a freckled, barefooted little girl in a torn blue calico gown came to the door of a country boarding-house to sell some berries she had gathered.

"How much are your berries?" asked the mistress of the house.

"They are fifteen cents a quart, ma'am. But," she added, in the same breath, "if you don't want them, you can have them for ten."

"I don't want them, so you may give me three quarts," replied the lady, merrily.—August Woman's Home Companion.

Struck By a Heavy Hay Fork

H. A. Dahlman, of Bainbridge, Narrowly Escapes Fatal Injuries.

While unloading hay at his home in Bainbridge Wednesday afternoon, H. A. Dahlman was nearly killed by being struck on the head by a heavy hay fork.

Mr. Dahlman was standing near the fork, which is a heavy article, weighing about twenty pounds, when the hay rope by which it is controlled became loosened, and it swung outward and downward with terrific force. It struck Mr. Dahlman a glancing blow and stretched him senseless on the ground. Early yesterday afternoon he came to Benton Harbor and went to Dr. George Bell, who dressed the wound, which is a very severe one on the side of the head. Had Mr. Dahlman been struck fairly by the fork it would have killed him out right, and he is exceedingly thankful that the results are no more serious than they are.—Daily Post.

Terpeneless Lemon Extract.

In the prosecution instituted by the Pure Food Inspector against Charles W. Jennings, the Muskegon Circuit Court has decided that the terpeneless extract of lemon as prepared and labeled by the Jennings Flavoring Co. violates the pure food law of the State.

The real issue in the case is a very simple one: The United States Pharmacopoeia, which is a collection of formulae prepared for the use of druggists, contains a recipe for making spirits of lemon by dissolving lemon oil in alcohol. The statutes of this State do not define lemon extract, nor do they direct that the Pharmacopoeia formula shall apply to food preparations. The Food Commissioner contends that a lemon extract is necessarily a spirit of lemon and that the pharmacopoeia formula for making spirits of lemon must be followed in making lemon extract. Lemon oil contains a large amount of terpenes, so called, which, after standing, give the lemon extract a bitter, disagreeable and "turpentine" taste. To remove this trouble many leading manufacturers have for several years made lemon extracts by eliminating the terpenes, retaining but the flavoring substance of the oil. Terpeneless extracts are in demand as being better and as preserving more distinctly the lemon flavor than when made according to the Pharmacopoeia formula. The purity of these extracts and their superiority over the Pharmacopoeia process are substantiated by the testimony of the most prominent experts upon the subject.

Dr. Kremers, Professor of Pharmaceutical Chemistry in the Wisconsin State University, highly educated both in this country and in Germany, the managing editor of the Pharmaceutical Review, published in Milwaukee, a writer of authority upon essential oils and the author of the Pharmacopoeia articles on that subject, testified that the Pharmacopoeia formula for spirits of lemon had no necessary relation to extract of lemon for food purposes; that the Pharmacopoeia for spirits of lemon was retained not on account of its superiority over other processes, but because it was so simple that any druggist could use it; that terpeneless extracts were in demand and were considered superior as being free from the bitter and disagreeable taste of the terpenes.

Dr. Vaughan, Professor of Pharmaceutical Chemistry in the University of Michigan and probably the foremost expert upon food products in the United States, testified to his analysis of Mr. Jennings' extract; that it contains the complete flavoring principle of the lemon oil, and that it is in every way superior, both for medicinal and pharmaceutical purposes, as well as for food flavors, to the Pharmacopoeia spirits of lemon. He declared that so great is the superiority of the terpeneless lemon extract for all these purposes that there is no room for comparison between the two products.

These propositions were absolutely undisputed. The Circuit Judge held, in effect, that lemon extract for food purposes must contain all the elements of the Pharmacopoeia product, thus including the terpenes, without regard to their actual desirability or usefulness, unless the manufacturer should choose to label the extract as a compound.

No claim was made by the Food Department that terpeneless extract, either in the coloring employed, or otherwise, contains anything harmful. On the contrary, it was expressly admitted by the Chemist of the Food Department that terpeneless extract contains no injurious ingredient. The real questions are thus those of science and of law. The public is not not only injured, but is actually benefited by the method of manufacture employed by Mr. Jennings.

An appeal will be taken to the Supreme Court from the decision of the Muskegon court. Should the decision of the latter court be sustained, the manufacture of the extract according to the improved and scientific method would not be prevented. The public demands a terpeneless extract and, under appropriate labels, such extract can, in any event, be sold.—Michigan Tradesman.

CHICAGO IN DARKNESS

That Is What a Strike Leader Threatens Unless the Edison Company Will Aid a Strike.

Chicago, July 17.—When efforts of the teamsters and their sympathizers failed to prevent the delivery of freight from the Kellogg Switchboard and Supply company to the railroad warehouses President Albert Young, of the Teamsters' National union, declared he would darken the city unless the strike was settled. He announced that he would demand of the Chicago Edison company that it shut off the power at the Kellogg plant. Should he receive a refusal he declared that he would shut off all the Edison company's supplies and force the company to shut down.

The police had another all-day fight with rioters while guarding Kellogg company product to the railways, but not so fierce as before, the rioters being more careful of themselves. At night a mob gathered around the factory of the Kellogg company and attempted to wreck the building. Many of the windows were smashed, and damage amounting to $2,000 was done to the plant before the crowd was dispersed by the police.

RUSSIA WILL NOT RECEIVE

Nor Consider the Proposed Petition Relative to the Kischeneff Atrocity—This Seems Official.

Washington, July 17.—It is learned that the state department has received a reply from Russia stating that it neither will receive nor consider the matter of the Jewish petition on the subject of the Kischeneff incident. This information came in the form of a cablegram from Riddle, the United States charge at St. Petersburg, to whom was committed the delicate task of inquiring of the Russian government as to its attitude with respect to the presentation of the petition.

It is believed that this will end the matter, and that no further steps will be taken by this government to bring the views of the petitioners to the attention of Russia, although as yet no consideration has been given by the president to the course to be pursued in the light of Russia's response to our inquiry.

CORN CROP IS TO BE SHORT

According to the View of Secretary of Agriculture Wilson from Personal Observation in Six States.

Washington, July 17.—Secretary Wilson, who has just returned from a trip that included Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota and South Dakota, said that while the farming conditions are generally good, and some of the crops have a large yield, the corn crop will be short. "The abnormally cool weather," he said, "has retarded the development of the corn crop. Along the valleys subject to floods the crop has been destroyed, and on the level lands that have been saturated the corn will not mature."

"The best corn is along the dry rolling lands, but even there the cool season has prevented the crop from being what it should be at this time. We may have an average crop, if the weather in the future is favorable, but if it continues cold it is hard to say to what extent there will be a shortage. The grass crop will be the finest for many years."

VENEZUELA FIGHT PUT OFF

But Red War Looks Likely to Continue Because Castro Will Not Par-don Ferrera.

Soledad, Venezuela, July 17.—The attack on Ciudad Bolivar by the Venezuelan government troops, which appeared imminent, has been deferred at the request of United States Consul Henderson; Herr Brokman, the German consul, and the bishop, who transmitted to President Castro a long telegram asking him to show mercy to all if the revolutionists surrender. Later.—Correspondence between Rolando and Castro shows that Rolando offered to surrender if Castro would agree to amnesty for all, including General Ferrera. This Castro refused and hostilities are again imminent.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contains Mercury.

Mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is tenfold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio.

Sold by Druggists, Price 75c per bottle. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Mrs. S. C. Cook has procured some beautiful souvenir spoons of Clear Lake, at the request of many of the Clear Lake Farm guests, and they are proving a great attraction.

A Very Close Call.

"I stuck to my engine, although every joint ached and every nerve was racked with pain," writes C. W. Bellamy, a locomotive fireman, of Burlington, Iowa. "I was weak and pale, without any appetite and all run down. As I was about to give up, I got a bottle of Electric Bitters, and after taking it, I felt as well as I ever did in my life." Weak, sickly, run down people always gain new life, strength and vigor from their use. Try them. Satisfaction guaranteed by W. N. Brodbeck. Price 50 cents.

Potato Worm.

A potato worm, which has done much damage to potato tops this season, has recently been discovered by Mr. J. G. DeViney. In examining the stalks a few days ago he found a tiny green worm crawling out from the stalk which he had broken, and upon further investigation found the parent, a large green worm, about an inch long.

This worm is doubtless the cause of the blight in the potato fields, this year.

ninety-four years old.

CHURCH SOLD FOR TAXES

Tax Title Shark Gets Title to Trinity Church.

Lots 58, 54 and 55 of E. Lacey's addition to the city of Niles, on which stand Trinity church and Trinity church rectory, a property worth not less than $15,000 have been bought in,
at the recent tax sales by an investor in such titles for the trifling sum of $95.80, which represents the special sidewalk taxes with accrued charges, which were assessed against the property in 1898.

The first known of this condition was when a letter was received by the vestry of the church from C. C. & A.
DeCamp, attorneys at Lansing, Mich., stating that a client of theirs had bought the title that a reconveyance of the property to the trustees could be secured upon the payment of the sum of $196.92, if paid at once.

The vestrymen of the church will hold a special meeting tonight to consider the troublesome question and determine upon a course of action.

It is asserted that when the sidewalk builders were laying the walk on the Fifth street frontage of the church property they were informed by Vestryman Beeson that payment of the special tax could not be enforced.
The Presbyterian property adjoining was in the same boat, but the special sidewalk tax assessed against this property, was compromised and paid.

The Trinity church case is slightly different than the Armstrong property on north Fifth street which has been Church property is not taxable under the general laws of the state, but whether a special tax such as the one can be made to stick is a matter that will have to be investigated.

The fact that a shrewd tax title

it must possess a real value in his LATEST FASHION NOTES.

A CREPE DE CHINE BODICE.

Many waists in crepes de Chine, Louisine, and peau de soie are seen beautifully embroidered with Corticelli filo silk, which is always found the most suitable for this work. The mode shown has the popular mutton-leg sleeves displaying novel pointed cuffs, and the sloping shoulder is admirably produced by a cape-like device extending well out over the shoulder. Embroidery plays a conspicuous part in the making of this pretty little waist.

The fashion in sleeves changes with great rapidity, and new designs are being constantly produced. Shirring which is now rapidly gaining in popularity, is used on sleeves to good advantage. This work always lends itself best to soft materials. One of the new coat sleeves is the pagoda or flowing style.

BILL FILED AT LAST.

Michigan Central Shows How it Was Affected by Repeal of Charter.

The Michigan Central railroad company has filed that long expected bill of particulars, for which Attorney General Blair has made several demands, in its suit against the state for $600,000,000 damages, alleged to have been sustained by the repeal of its special charter.

It is not the long and imposing array of figures, totaling $6,000,000, which has been looked for, but the same general statement, in fuller phraseology and paragraph subdivisions, with which the public is familiar. The company alleges damages in the following particulars:

For the value of the charter repealed, for abrogation of certain fixed and indefeasible rights, privileges and franchises; for increase in taxes; for the change in the method of imposing taxes; for the reduction of the maximum of passenger rates from 3 to 2 cents per mile; for change in the power of the company with respect to taking and holding right of way and construction of railroad; for change in power to acquire and hold real and personal property; for change in respect to liability for property in deposit in depots awaiting delivery; for depreciation and loss of value of franchises, rights and privileges possessed under the repealed charter. All these things, it is alleged, arose from the repeal of the charter.—Niles Star.

IN MEMORIAM

JANE ADELAIDE DENNO.

Jane Adelaide Jones, daughter of John and Permilia Jones, first looked upon the light of day on May 25, 1843, in Albion, Mich.

She came to Buchanan when about 20 years of age; shortly after she was united in the holy bonds of wedlock, to Oscar Mason. This union began on Aug. 6, 1864. On June 19, 1865 Sadie came to bless their home and increase their happiness, but in the following March, Sadie went back to God who gave her. Four other children, Edith, John, Mina and Herbert were given them, but in February of 1876 all four were stricken with scarlet fever, and passed into the great eternity.

In the following January Oscar Mason was stricken with typhoid fever and passed over the river of death. So Jane Adelaide Jones Mason, was left a widow and all her children taken away by death.

Our deceased sister was again united in marriage on May 21, 1878 to William S. Denno. The departed became the stepmother of four children in this union, and also the mother of four children. The first child James, of this last union lived only 21 days. The last three children two sons and one daughter survive the mother. The husband departed this life on October 13, 1895.

Deceased has thus been the mother of nine children, six of them having gone before her to the spirit land. It is said of her that she was a faithful wife, a loving and tender mother and a kind and good neighbor and friend. She was mother, not only to her own children, but also to several others and to all who knew her and needed a mother.

The deceased confessed her faith in Jesus the Christ a short time after her first marriage and was baptized into Him. She became a member of the Church of Christ at Buchanan in February of 1897. She has been in many ways an exemplary Christian. Only a few hours before her death she wrote a letter to her children praying the Heavenly Father's blessing upon them, and exhorting them to live righteously. The children reached her however, in time to receive her blessing and farewell from her own lips. She lived only a few minutes after her they came to her, and passed into the spirit land at 8 o'clock a. m., July 19, 1903. She lived 60 years, 1 month and 24 days.

Her life was one of many sorrows and many joys. It was a life of usefulness and helpfulness, and we can say we believe she "Fought a good fight, that she finished her course, that she kept the faith, and that there is a crown of life for her."

The funeral was held from the late residence this morning at 10 o'clock, Rev. E. L. Veach officiating, and interment was made in Oak Ridge cemetery.
